No. 27. [717]

The Calcutta Gazette.

SATURDAY, APRIL 2, 1859.

Legislative Council of India.

THE 26TH MARCH 1859.

The following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Honorable the Governor General on the 22nd March 1859, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. VIII OF 1859.

An Act for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to simplify the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter, It is enacted as follows :—

CHAPTER I.

OF THE JURISDICTION OF THE CIVIL COURTS.

Civil Courts have cognizance of all suits unless specially barred.

1. The Civil Courts shall take cognizance of all suits of a Civil nature, with the exception of suits of which their cognizance is barred by any Act of Parliament, or by any Regulation of the Codes of Bengal, Madras and Bombay respectively, or by any Act of the Governor General of India in Council.

Unless suits previously heard and determined.

2. The Civil Courts shall not take cognizance of any suit brought on a cause of action which shall have been heard and determined by a Court of competent jurisdiction in a former suit between the same parties or between parties under whom they claim.

Revision of judgments of the Civil Courts.

3. The judgments of the Civil Courts shall not be subject to revision, otherwise than by those Courts under the rules contained in this Act applicable to reviews of judgment, and by the constituted Courts of Appellate Jurisdiction.

No person exempted from jurisdiction by reason of place of birth or of descent.

4. No person whatever shall, by reason of place of birth, or by reason of descent, be in any Civil proceeding whatever excepted from the jurisdiction of any of the Civil Courts.

Jurisdiction of Civil Courts.

5. Subject to such pecuniary or other limitations as are or shall be prescribed by any law for the time being in force, the Civil Courts of each grade shall receive, try, and determine all suits hereby declared to be cognizable by those Courts, if in the case of suits for land or other immoveable property such land or property shall be situate within the limits to which their respective jurisdictions may extend, and in all other cases if the cause of action shall have arisen, or the defendant at the time of commencement of the suit shall dwell, or personally work for gain, within such limits.

Court in which suit to be instituted.

Transfer of suits.

6. Every suit shall be instituted in the Court of the lowest grade competent to try it. But it shall be lawful for the District Court to withdraw any suit instituted in any Court subordinate to such District Court and to try such suit itself or to refer it for trial to any other Court subordinate to its authority and competent in respect of the value of the suit to try the same, whenever it may see sufficient cause for so doing. In like manner the Sudder Court may order that the cognizance of any suit or appeal which may be instituted in any Court subordinate to such Sudder Court shall be transferred to any other Court subordinate to its authority and competent in respect of the value of the suit or appeal to try the same.

Suit to include the whole claim.

Relinquishment of part of claim.

7. Every suit shall include the whole of the claim arising out of the cause of action, but a plaintiff may relinquish any portion of his claim in order to bring the suit within the jurisdiction of any Court. If a plaintiff relinquish or omit to sue for any portion of his claim, a suit for the portion so relinquished or omitted, shall not afterwards be entertained.

Joinder of causes of action in the same suit.

8. Causes of action by and against the same parties, and cognizable by the same Court, may be joined in the same suit, provided the entire claim in respect of the amount or value of the property in suit do not exceed the jurisdiction of such Court.

Court may in certain cases order separate trials of such causes of action.

9. If two or more causes of action be joined in one suit, and the Court shall be of opinion that they cannot conveniently be tried together, the Court may order separate trials of such causes of action to be held.

Claim for recovery of land & for mesne profits to be deemed distinct causes of action.

10. A claim for the recovery of land and a claim or the mesne profits of such land shall be deemed to be distinct causes of action within the meaning of the two last preceding Sections.

Suits for immoveable property situate within different jurisdictions of the same District.

11. If the suit be for land or other immoveable property situate within the limits of a single District, but within the jurisdiction of different Courts, the suit may be brought in the Court within the jurisdiction of which any portion of such land or other immoveable property is situate, provided the entire claim in respect of the value of the property in suit be cognizable by such Court; but in such case the Court in which the suit is brought shall apply to the District Court for authority to proceed with the same.

Suits for immoveable property situate in different Districts.

12. In like manner, if the property be situate within the limits of different Districts, the suit may be brought in any Court, otherwise competent to try it, within the jurisdiction of which any portion of the land or other immoveable property in suit is situate, but in such case the Court in which the suit is brought shall apply to the Sudder Court for authority to proceed with the same; if the suit is brought in any Court subordinate to a District Court, the application shall be submitted through the District Court to which such Court is subordinate.

Suits for immoveable property situate in Districts subject to different Sudder Courts.

13. If the Districts within the limits of which the property is situate, are subject to different Sudder Courts, the application shall be submitted to the Sudder Court to which the District, in which the suit is brought, is subject; and the Sudder Court to which such application is made, may, with the concurrence of the Sudder Court to which the other District is subject, give authority to proceed with the same.

Suit for land situate on the borders of the Court's local jurisdiction and alleged by the defendant to be within another local jurisdiction.

14. If, in a suit for land situate on the borders of the Court's local jurisdiction, the defendant object to the hearing of the suit on the ground that the land is not included within the local jurisdiction of the Court, the Court shall have power to determine the point; and if the Court shall find that the land is included within its local jurisdiction, it shall proceed to try the suit. Provided that, if it be shown that the land in dispute has been adjudged by competent authority to belong to an estate, village, or other known division of land situate within the local jurisdiction of another Court, the Court in which the suit is brought shall reject the plaint, or return it to the plaintiff in order to its being presented in the proper Court.

Proviso.

Declaratory suit.

15. No suit shall be open to objection on the ground that a merely declaratory decree or order is sought thereby, and it shall be lawful for the Civil Courts to make binding declarations of right without granting consequential relief.

CHAPTER II.

Preliminary Rules.

Parties may appear in person or by recognized agent or by pleader.

16. All applications to any Civil Court, and all appearances of parties in any Civil Court, except when otherwise specially provided by this Act, shall be made by the party in person, or by his recognized agent, or by a pleader duly appointed to act on his behalf.

Recognized agents.

17. The recognized agents of parties by whom such applications and appearances may be made are—

Persons holding powers of attorney.

1*st*. Persons holding general powers of attorney from parties not within the jurisdiction of the Court, authorizing them to make such applications and appearances on behalf of such parties.

Persons carrying on trade or business for absent persons.

2*ndly*. Persons carrying on trade or business for and in the name of parties not within the jurisdiction of the Court in matters connected with such trade or business only, where no other agent is expressly authorized to make such applications or appearances.

Persons authorized to act for Government.

3*rdly*. Persons being ex-officio or otherwise authorized to act for Government in respect of any suit or judicial proceeding.

Persons specially appointed to prosecute a suit for any Sovereign Prince.

4*thly*. Persons specially appointed by order of Government at the request of any Sovereign Prince, or Independent Chief, whether residing within or without the British Territories, to prosecute or defend a suit on his behalf.

Acts required to be done by a party to a suit in person may be done by his recognized agent.

Whenever the personal appearance of a party to a suit is required by this Act, such appearance may be made by his recognized agent, unless the Court shall otherwise direct; and anything which by this Act is required or permitted to be done by a party in person may be done by his recognized agent. Notices given to or processes served on a recognized agent relative to a suit shall be as effectual for all purposes in relation to the suit as if the same had been given to or served on the party in person, unless the Court shall otherwise direct; and all the provisions of this Act relative to the service of notices or processes on a party to a suit shall be applicable to the service of notices and processes on such recognized agent.

Service of notices, &c., on recognized agents.

Appointment of pleader.

18. The appointment of a pleader to make any such application or appearance as aforesaid shall be in writing, and shall be filed in the Court. When so filed, it shall be considered to be in full force until revoked by a writing filed in the Court. All notices given to, or processes served on the pleader of any party, or left at the office or ordinary residence of such pleader, relative to a suit, and whether the same be for the personal attendance of the party or not, shall be presumed to be duly communicated and made known to the party whom the pleader represents, and shall be as effectual for all purposes in relation to the suit as if the same had been given to or served on the party in person, unless the Court shall otherwise direct.

Service of notices on pleaders.

Officers or Soldiers who cannot obtain leave of absence may authorize any person to appear for them.

19. When an Officer or Soldier in the service of the Government is a party to a suit, and cannot obtain a furlough or leave of absence for the purpose of prosecuting or defending the suit in person, he may authorize any member of his family or any other person to commence, conduct, and manage the suit or the defence, as the case may be, in his stead. The authority shall be in writing, and shall be signed by the Officer or Soldier in the presence of his Commanding Officer, who shall countersign the same, and it shall be filed in the Court. When so filed, the counter-signature of the Commanding Officer shall be sufficient proof that the authority was duly executed, and that the Officer or Soldier by whom it was granted could not obtain a furlough or leave of absence for the purpose of prosecuting or defending the suit in person.

The person so authorized may appear personally, or appoint pleader.

20. Any person who may be authorized, as in the last preceding Section mentioned, by an Officer or Soldier to prosecute or defend a suit in his stead, shall be competent to prosecute or defend it in person in the same manner as the Officer or Soldier could do if present; or he may appoint a pleader of the Court to prosecute or defend the suit on behalf of such Officer or Soldier. And all notices or processes relative to the suit which may be served upon any person who shall be so authorized as aforesaid by an Officer or Soldier, or upon any pleader who shall be appointed as aforesaid by such person to act for or on behalf of such Officer or Soldier, shall be as effectual for all purposes relative to the suit as if the same had been served on the party in person or on a pleader appointed by him.

Exemption of certain women from personal appearance.

21. Women, who according to the custom and manners of the country ought not to be compelled to appear in public, shall be exempt from personal appearance in Court.

Government may exempt certain persons from personal appearance.

22. The Government may at its discretion exempt from personal appearance in Court any person whose rank in the opinion of the Government entitles him to the privilege of exemption, and may at its discretion withdraw such privilege. The names of the persons so exempted (if any) residing within the jurisdiction of the Principal Civil Court of each District shall from time to time be forwarded to such Court by the local Government, and a list of such persons (if any) shall be kept in such Court and in the several subordinate Courts of the District.

Cost of serving process.

23. Every process required to be issued under this Act, shall be served at the expense of the party at whose instance it is issued, unless otherwise specially directed by the Court; and the sum required to defray the cost of such service shall be paid into Court before the process is issued.

Requisite sum to be paid into Court before process issued.

Punishment for false verification of plaint, statement, &c.

24. If any plaint, written statement, or declaration in writing required by this Act to be verified shall contain any averment which the person making the verification shall know or believe to be false, or shall not know or believe to be true, such person shall be subject to punishment according to the provision of the law for the time being in force for the punishment of giving or fabricating false evidence.

CHAPTER III.

OF A SUIT TILL FINAL DECREE.

Of the institution of Suits.

Suits to be commenced by plaint.

25. All suits shall be commenced by a plaint which, except when otherwise specially provided by this Act, shall be presented to the Court by the plaintiff in person, or by his recognized agent, or by a pleader duly appointed to act on his behalf.

Particulars to be given in the plaint.

26. The plaint shall be distinctly written in the language in ordinary use in proceedings before the Court and shall contain the following particulars:—

1.—The name, description, and place of abode of the plaintiff.

2.—The name, description, and place of abode of the defendant, so far as they can be ascertained.

3.—The relief sought for, the subject of the claim, the cause of action and when it accrued: and, if the cause of action accrued beyond the period ordinarily allowed by any law for commencing such a suit, the ground upon which exemption from the law is claimed.

The following are instances:

If the suit be for money due on a bond or other written instrument:—Payment of due on (a bond or other written instrument as the case may be), for the sum of

If the suit be for damages for an injury done:—Payment of on account of injury done to the plaintiff, [here set out the nature of the injury, and state the particulars of the pecuniary loss (if any).]

4.—When the claim is for any property other than money, its estimated value.

The following is an instance:

If the suit be for an estate or for a share in an estate paying Revenue to Government:—Possession of the estate or of share in the estate, called , situate in the Zillah of the sudder jumma of which is and estimated value (of which the plaintiff was dispossessed (or forcibly or fraudulently dispossessed, if the case be so) on the day of ; or to which the plaintiff became entitled by inheritance from (or by gift, purchase, or otherwise, as the case may be) on or about the day of .

5.—When the claim is for land or for any interest in land, the nature of the tenure or interest must be specified; and if the claim be for land forming part of a village or other known division, or for a house, garden, or the like, its situation shall be described by the setting forth of boundaries, or in such other manner as may suffice for its identification.

6.—In all suits by or against the Government, or one of its Officers in his official capacity, or any Corporation, or any Company authorized to sue and be sued in the name of an Officer or Trustees, the words "The Government," or "The Collector of ," or otherwise as the case may be, or the name of the Corporation, or the name or names of the Officer or Trustees of the Company, shall be inserted in Nos. 1 and 2 instead of the name and description of the plaintiff or defendant. But in all other cases it shall be necessary to specify the names of all the parties.

Plaint to be subscribed and verified.

27. The plaint shall be subscribed by the plaintiff and his pleader (if any), and shall be verified at the foot by the plaintiff in the manner following or to the like effect:—

I (A. B.) the plaintiff named in the above plaint do declare that what is stated therein is true to the best of my information and belief.

If plaintiff by reason of absence be unable to subscribe and verify the plaint.

28. If the plaintiff, by reason of absence or for other good cause, be unable to subscribe and verify the plaint, the Court may allow the plaint to be subscribed and verified on behalf of the plaintiff by any person whom the Court may consider competent to make the verification.

In suits by a Corporation or Company, a Director or Secretary shall verify the plaint.

In suits by a Corporation or Company authorized to sue and be sued in the name of an Officer or Trustees, the plaint shall be subscribed and verified on behalf of the Corporation or Company by any Director, Secretary, or other principal Officer of the Corporation or Company who may be able to depose to the facts of the case.

Court may reject plaint, if it do not contain the required particulars, &c.

29. If the plaint do not contain the several particulars hereinbefore required to be specified therein, or if it contain particulars other than those required to be specified whether relevant to the suit or not, or if the statement of particulars be unnecessarily prolix, or if the plaint be not subscribed and verified as hereinbefore required, the Court may reject the plaint, or at its discretion may allow the plaint to be amended.

Plaint to be returned, if the claim is beyond the jurisdiction of the Court.

30. If the amount or estimated value of the claim, as stated by the plaintiff, be beyond the jurisdiction of the Court, the plaint shall be returned to the plaintiff in order to its being presented in the proper Court.

Plaint to be rejected, if improperly or insufficiently valued.

31. If it appear to the Court that the claim is improperly valued, or being properly valued that the plaint is written upon stamped paper of inadequate value, and the plaintiff, on being required by the Court to correct such improper valuation or to supply such additional stamp paper as may be necessary, shall not comply with the requisition, the Court shall reject the plaint.

Plaint to be rejected, if it appear to the Court that plaintiff has no cause of action or that right of action is barred by lapse of time.

32. If upon the face of the plaint, or after questioning the plaintiff, it appear to the Court that the subject matter of the plaint does not constitute a cause of action, or that the right of action is barred by lapse of time, the Court shall reject the plaint.

Amendment of plaint.

Provided that the Court may in any case allow the plaint to be amended, if it appear proper to do so.

Plaint to be returned, if it appear to the Court that it has not jurisdiction.

33. If it appear to the Court that the cause of action did not arise, or that the defendant is not dwelling or personally working for gain within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or, if the claim relate to land or other immoveable property, that such land or other property is not situate within such limits, the Court shall return the plaint to the plaintiff in order to its being presented in the proper Court.

Security for costs to be furnished by plaintiff at the time of presenting the plaint, if he resides out of the British territories in India.

34. A suit by a party ordinarily residing out of the British territories in India, and not possessing any land or other immoveable property within those territories independent of the property in suit, shall not be entertained unless the plaintiff, at the time of presenting the plaint or within such time as the Court shall order, furnish security for the payment of all costs that may be incurred by the defendant in the suit. In the event of such security not being furnished, the Court shall return the plaint to the plaintiff.

Plaint to be rejected if security be not furnished.

35. If in any stage of a suit it shall appear to the Court that the plaintiff (being sole plaintiff) is a person residing out of the British territories in India, the Court may order him, within a time to be fixed by such order, to furnish security for the payment of all costs incurred and to be incurred by the defendant in the suit. In the event of such security not being furnished within the time so fixed, the Court shall pass judgment against the plaintiff by default, unless he be permitted to withdraw from the suit under the provisions of Section 97.

Security for costs may be required in any stage of suit, if it appear that plaintiff resides out of India.

36. Whenever a plaint is rejected under any of the foregoing Sections, an appeal shall lie from the order rejecting the plaint. The rejection of a plaint on any of the grounds mentioned in Sections 29 and 31 shall not preclude a plaintiff from presenting a fresh plaint in respect of the same cause of action.

Appeal from order rejecting plaint.

37. If the suit be for land or other immoveable property situate partly within the jurisdiction of the Court and partly within the jurisdiction of some other Court or Courts, the Court shall proceed according to the rules contained in Section 11, Section 12, or Section 13, as the case may be.

Proceeding in a suit for immoveable property in different jurisdictions.

38. If the Court consider the plaint admissible, the particulars mentioned in Section 26 shall be entered in a book to be kept for the purpose, and called the Register of Civil Suits; and the entries shall be numbered in every year according to the order in which the plaint is presented. The Register shall be kept in the form contained in the Schedule (A) hereunto annexed.

When the plaint is admissible, particulars to be entered in a Register.

Form of the Register.

39. When the plaintiff sues upon any written document or relies upon any such document as evidence in support of his claim, he shall produce the same in Court when the plaint is presented, and shall at the same time deliver a copy of the document to be filed with the plaint; if the document be an entry in a shop-book or other book, the plaintiff shall produce the book to the Court together with a copy of the entry on which he relies. The Court shall forthwith mark the document for the purpose of identification; and after examining and comparing the copy with the original, shall return the document to the plaintiff. The plaintiff may, if he think proper, deliver the original document to be filed instead of the copy. The Court may, if it see sufficient cause, direct any written document so produced to be impounded and kept in the custody of some Officer of the Court, for such period and subject to such conditions as to the Court shall seem meet. Any document not produced in Court by the plaintiff when the plaint is presented, shall not be received in evidence on his behalf at the hearing of the suit without the sanction of the Court.

Written document to be produced in Court when plaint is presented.

And copy filed with plaint.

Original to be marked and returned.

If plaintiff wish, original may be filed instead of copy.

Court may order document to be impounded.

Document not produced when plaint filed, to be inadmissible in evidence.

40. If the plaintiff require the production of any written document in the possession or power of the defendant, he may, at the time of presenting the plaint, deliver to the Court a description of the document, in order that the defendant may be required to produce the same.

If plaintiff require production of document in possession of defendant.

Of Summoning the Defendant.

41. When the plaint has been registered, a summons under the signature of the Judge and the seal of the Court shall be issued to the defendant to appear and answer the claim, on a day to be therein specified, in person or by a pleader of the Court duly instructed and able to answer all material questions relating to the suit, or by a pleader who shall be accompanied by some other person able to answer all such questions. The Court shall determine at the time of issuing the summons whether it shall be for the settlement of issues only or for the final disposal of the suit, and the summons shall contain a direction accordingly.

On plaint being registered, summons to issue to defendant.

Summons to be either to settle the issues, or for the final disposal of the case.

42. If the Court see reason to require the personal attendance of the defendant, the summons shall order the defendant to appear personally in Court on the day therein specified. If the Court see reason to require the personal attendance of the plaintiff on that day, it may make an order for such attendance. Provided that no plaintiff or defendant shall be ordered to attend in person, who at the time is bonâ fide residing at a distance of more than fifty miles from the place where the Court is held, unless he be resident within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court.

Personal appearance of defendant or plaintiff.

If resident within 50 miles.

Or within the local jurisdiction of the Court.

43. The summons to appear shall order the defendant to produce any written document in his possession or power, of which the plaintiff demands inspection, or upon which the defendant intends to rely in support of his defence.

Summons shall order defendant to produce documents.

Form of summons.

44. The summons shall be in the Form contained in the Schedule (B) hereunto annexed or to the like effect.

45. The day for the appearance of the defendant shall be fixed by the Court with reference to the place of residence of the defendant, and the time necessary for the service of the summons; and the day shall be so fixed as to allow the defendant a sufficient time to enable him to appear and answer in person or by a pleader on such day.

The day for appearance of defendant how to be fixed.

Court may order personal appearance of a Director or Secretary in suits against a Corporation or Company.

46. In suits against a Corporation or a Company authorized to sue and be sued in the name of an Officer or Trustees, the Court may, if it think proper, require the personal attendance of any Director, Secretary, or other principal Officer of the Corporation or Company who may be able to answer all material questions relating to the suit.

SERVICE OF SUMMONS ON THE DEFENDANT.

Summons shall be served by Officer of Court.

47. The summons shall be delivered to the Nazir or other proper Officer of the Court to be served by himself or one of his subordinates, and such Officer shall be responsible for its due service.

How service shall be made.

48. Service of the summons shall be made by delivering or tendering a copy thereof under the signature of the Judge and seal of the Court; and when there are more defendants than one, service of the summons shall be made on each defendant.

When there are several defendants.

Service to be on defendant in person, when practicable.

Service on agent sufficient.

49. Whenever it may be practicable the service shall be on the defendant in person, unless he have an agent empowered to accept the service, in which case service on such agent shall be sufficient.

Who may be an agent to receive service.

50. Besides the recognized agents described in Section 17, any person residing within the jurisdiction of the Court may be appointed an agent to receive the service of summonses and other processes.

Appointment of such agent to be in writing and to be filed in Court.

51. The appointment of such agent shall be in writing, and the original appointment, or a copy thereof if the appointment be a general one, shall be filed in the Court.

Agent of Government.

52. The Government pleader in each Court shall be accounted the agent of the Government for the purpose of receiving services of summonses and other judicial processes against the Government, issuing out of the Court in which he may be the pleader of Government.

If defendant cannot be found, and has no agent, service may be made on a male member of his family.

53. When the defendant cannot be found, and has no agent empowered to accept the service of the summons, it may be made on any adult male member of his family residing with him.

In all cases the person served is to be required to endorse the summons.

54. In all cases where the summons is served on the defendant personally or any agent or other person on his behalf, the serving Officer shall require the signature of the person on whom the service may be made, to an acknowledgment of service, to be endorsed on the original summons or on a copy thereof under the seal of the Court. If such person refuse to sign the acknowledgment, the service of the summons shall nevertheless be held sufficient, if it be otherwise proved to the satisfaction of the Court.

But service is sufficient without.

If the summons cannot be served, a copy shall be fixed to the door of the dwelling house.

55. When the defendant cannot be found, and there is no agent empowered to accept the service, nor and other person on whom the service can be made, the serving Officer shall fix the copy of the summons on the outer door of the house in which the defendant is dwelling; and if he is not dwelling in the place mentioned in the summons, the serving Officer shall return the summons to the Court from whence it issued with an endorsement thereon that he has been unable to serve it. Provided that, if the serving Officer is informed that the defendant is to be found or has his dwelling in a place within the jurisdiction of the Court other than that indicated in the summons, the Officer may proceed to that place to serve the summons.

If defendant do not dwell in the place mentioned, the summons shall be returned with an endorsement of non-service.

Proviso.

If served, time and manner of service to be endorsed on summons.

56. The serving Officer shall, in all cases in which the summons has been served, endorse on the original summons or on a copy thereof under the seal of the Court, the time when and the manner in which it was served.

When summons is returned unserved, Court to order substituted service, if satisfied that the defendant is avoiding service.

57. When a summons is returned to the Court without having been served, if the plaintiff shall satisfy the Court that there is reasonable ground for believing that the defendant is keeping out of the way of its Officer for the purpose of avoiding the service of the summons, the Court shall order the summons to be served by fixing up a copy thereof upon some conspicuous place in the Court-house, and also upon the door of the house in which the defendant shall have last resided, if it be known where he last resided; or that the summons shall be served in such other manner as the Court shall think proper. And the service which shall be substituted by order of the Court, shall be as effectual to all intents and purposes as if it had been effected in the manher above specified.

When service is substituted, the time for appearance to be fixed.

58. Whenever service shall be substituted by order of the Court by virtue of the power contained in the last preceding Section, the Court shall fix such time for the appearance of the defendant as the case may require.

How the summons is to be served when the defendant is resident within the jurisdiction of another Court and has no agent to accept service.

59. If the defendant be resident within the jurisdiction of any Court other than that in which the suit is instituted, and have no agent empowered to accept the service, the Court in which the suit is instituted shall transmit the summons, either by an Officer of the Court or by post, to any Court having jurisdiction at the place where the defendant resides, by which it can be most conveniently served, and shall fix such time for the appearance of the defendant as the case may require; and the Court to which the summons is transmitted, shall, upon receipt of the summons, deliver the same to the Nazir or other proper Officer of such Court, to be served in the manner above directed; and upon the return of the summons by the serving Officer, it shall be re-transmitted to the Court from whence it originally issued.

How the summons is to be served when the defendant resides out of the British territories in India and has no agent to accept service.

60. If the defendant be resident out of the British territories in India, and have no agent empowered to accept the service, the summons shall be addressed to the defendant at the place where he may reside, and forwarded to him by post: in such case the time for the appearance of the defendant shall be regulated by the time which may be required for communication by post between the place at which the Court is held and the place where the defendant resides; and if, on the day fixed for the hearing of the suit or on any day to which the hearing may be adjourned, the defendant shall not appear in person or by pleader, the plaintiff may apply to the Court, and it shall be lawful for the Court to direct that the plaintiff shall be at liberty to proceed with his suit in such manner and subject to such conditions as to the Court may seem meet.

Time for appearance.

In case of non-appearance of defendant, Court may direct suit to proceed subject to conditions.

In suits for immoveable property, service may in certain cases be made on agent in charge of such property.

61. When the suit is for land or other immoveable property, and the summons for any reason cannot be served on the defendant in person, and the defendant has no agent empowered to accept the service, the summons may be served on any agent of the defendant in charge of such land or other immoveable property.

How service may be made on Government Servants.

62. When the defendant is in the service of the Government, the Court may transmit a copy of the summons to the head Officer of the Office in which the defendant is employed, for the purpose of being served on him, if it shall appear to the Court that the summons may be most conveniently so served. If the defendant be an Officer or Soldier, the Court shall transmit a copy of the summons to the Commanding Officer of the Corps to which the defendant belongs, for the purpose of being served on him. The Officer to whom the summons is transmitted, after causing the summons to be served on the person to whom it is addressed if practicable, shall return it to the Court with the written acknowledgment of such person endorsed thereon. If from any cause the summons cannot be served upon the person to whom it is addressed, it shall be returned to the Court by which it was transmitted with information of the cause which has prevented the service. In such case the Court shall adopt such other means of serving the summons as it may deem proper.

Service on Officers and Soldiers.

Service on a Corporation or Company.

63. When the suit is against a Corporation or a Company authorized to sue and be sued in the name of an Officer or Trustees, the summons may be served by leaving the same at the registered Office (if any) of the Company, or sending it through the Post Office by a letter addressed to such Office, or by giving it to any Director, Secretary, or other principal Officer of the Corporation or Company.

In what case a letter may be substituted for a summons.

64. Nothing contained in the preceding rules shall be construed to prevent the Court from substituting for the summons, a letter or other appropriate communication under the signature of the Judge and seal of the Court, when the person whose appearance is required is of a rank which entitles him to such mark of consideration. The letter or other communication shall contain all the particulars required to be stated in the summons, and shall be treated in all respects as a summons.

Service how to be made in such case.

65. When a letter or other communication is substituted for a summons under the authority of the last preceding Section, it may be transmitted through the Post Office, or by a special messenger selected by the Court, or in any other manner which the Court may deem sufficient; unless the party shall have an agent empowered to accept service of judicial process, in which case delivery to such agent shall be deemed sufficient service.

Proof of due service and delivery of summons, letter, &c. transmitted through the post.

66. Whenever it is provided that any summons, letter, or other communication may be transmitted to the person to whom it is addressed through the Post Office, proof that the same was correctly addressed to such person at his place of residence, and that it was duly posted and registered according to Section XXXVIII of Act XVII of 1854 (for the management of the Post Office, for the regulation of the duties of Postage, and for the punishment of offences against the Post Office), shall be sufficient proof of the due service and delivery of the summons, letter, or other communication, in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

Of Suits against Government and Public Officers.

In suits against Government, summons to be served on Government Pleader.

Appearance and answer.

67. If the suit be against the Government, the summons shall be served on the Government Pleader. The Court, in fixing the day for the Government to answer to the plaint, shall allow a reasonable time for the necessary communication with the Government through the proper channels, and for the issue of instructions to the Government Pleader to appear and answer on behalf of the Government, and may extend the time at its discretion on the application of the Government Pleader. The Court may also, if it think proper, direct the attendance of a person who may be able to answer all material questions relating to the suit.

In suits against Government Officers for alleged official acts, summons to be served on them.

68. If the suit be against an Officer of the Government for an act which the plaintiff alleges to have been done by such Officer in his official capacity, the summons shall be served upon such Officer in the manner hereinbefore provided.

Court may grant extension of time to enable Officer to make a reference to Government.

69. If the Officer on receiving the summons shall consider it proper to make a reference to Government before answering to the plaint, he may move the Court to grant such extension of the time fixed in the summons as may be necessary to enable him to make such reference and to receive orders thereon through the proper channels; and the Court upon such motion may extend the time for so long as shall appear to it to be requisite.

70. If the Government shall undertake the defence of the suit, the Government Pleader shall be furnished with authority to appear and answer to the plaint; and, upon motion made by him, the Court shall order a note to that effect to be entered in the Registor.

If Government undertake defence, Government Pleader to appear and move that a note of his appearance be entered in the Register.

71. If such motion shall not be made by the Government Pleader on or before the day fixed in the notice for the defendant to appear and answer to the plaint, the case shall proceed as in a suit between private parties except that the defendant shall not be liable to arrest before judgment.

If no such motion be made, case to proceed as in a suit between private parties.

But defendant not liable to arrest before judgment.

72. If in any such suit the Court shall require the personal appearance of the defendant, and the defendant shall satisfy the Court that he cannot absent himself from his duty without injury to the public service, the Court shall exempt him from such appearance, but he shall be liable to be examined in any way in which an absent witness may be examined.

Defendant may in certain cases be exempted from personal appearance.

How Persons not before the Court may be made Parties to a Suit.

73. If it appear to the Court, at any hearing of a suit, that all the persons who may be entitled to, or who claim some share or interest in the subject matter of the suit, and who may be likely to be affected by the result, have not been made parties to the suit, the Court may adjourn the hearing of the suit to a future day to be fixed by the Court, and direct that such persons shall be made either plaintiffs or defendants in the suit as the case may be. In such case the Court shall issue a notice to such persons in the manner provided in this Act for the service of a summons on a defendant.

Court may adjourn hearing and direct that parties appearing to be interested in a suit shall be made parties to the suit.

Of Arrest before Judgment.

74. If in any suit, not being a suit for land or other immoveable property, the defendant, with intent to avoid or delay the plaintiff, or to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree that may be passed against him, is about to leave the jurisdiction of the Court, or has disposed of or removed from the jurisdiction of the Court his property or any part thereof, the plaintiff may, either at the institution of the suit, or at any time thereafter until final judgment, make an application to the Court that security be taken for the appearance of the defendant to answer any judgment that may be passed against him in the suit.

In suits for moveable property, when defendant is about to leave the jurisdiction, &c., plaintiff may apply that security be taken.

75. If the Court, after examining the applicant and making such further investigation as it may consider necessary, shall be of opinion that there is probable cause for believing that the defendant is about to leave its jurisdiction with the intent of avoiding or delaying the plaintiff, or that he has disposed of or removed from the jurisdiction of the Court his property or any part thereof with the intent to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree, it shall be lawful for the Court to issue a warrant to the proper Officer, enjoining him to bring the defendant before the Court, that he may show cause why he should not give good and sufficient bail for his appearance.

Court may issue warrant to bring up defendant to show cause why he should not give bail.

76. If the defendant fail to show such cause, the Court shall order him to give bail for his appearance at any time when called upon while the suit is pending, and until execution or satisfaction of any decree that may be passed against him in the suit; and the surety or sureties shall undertake, in default of such appearance, to pay any sum of money that may be adjudged against the defendant in the suit, with costs. Any order made by the Court, under the provisions of this Section, shall be open to appeal by the defendant.

If defendant fail to show cause, Court may order him to give bail.

Appeal.

77. Should a defendant offer, in lieu of bail for his appearance, to deposit a sum of money or other valuable property sufficient to answer the claim against him, with the costs of the suit, the Court may accept such deposit.

Deposit in lieu of bail.

78. In the event of the defendant neither furnishing security nor offering a sufficient deposit, he may be committed to custody until the decision of the suit, or if judgment be given against the defendant until the execution of the decree, if the Court shall so order.

Defendant to be committed to custody if he cannot give security.

79. If it shall appear to the Court that the arrest of the defendant was applied for on insufficient grounds, or if the suit of the plaintiff is dismissed or judgment is given against him by default or otherwise and it shall appear to the Court that there was no probable ground for instituting the suit, the Court may (on the application of the defendant) award against the plaintiff in its decree such amount, not exceeding the sum of one thousand Rupees, as it may deem a reasonable compensation to the defendant for any injury or loss which he may have sustained by reason of such arrest. Provided that the Court shall not award a larger amount of compensation under this Section than it is competent to such Court to decree in an action for damages. An award of compensation under this Section shall bar any suit for damages in respect of such arrest.

Compensation to defendant arrested on insufficient grounds.

Proviso as to amount.

80. If in any suit the defendant is about to leave the British territories in India with intent to remain absent so long that the plaintiff will or may thereby be obstructed or delayed in the execution of any decree that may be passed against the defendant, the plaintiff may make an application to the Court to the effect and in the manner aforesaid, and the procedure thereupon shall be in all respects the same as hereinbefore provided.

When the defendant is about to leave India, the application to be made to the Court.

OF ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENT.

In what cases plaintiff may apply before judgment for security from defendant to fulfil decree, and in default for an attachment of defendant's property.

81. If the defendant, with intent to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree that may be passed against him, is about to dispose of his property or any part thereof, or to remove any such property from the jurisdiction of the Court where the suit is pending, the plaintiff may apply to the Court, either at the time of the institution of the suit or at any time thereafter until final judgment, to call upon the defendant to furnish sufficient security to fulfil any decree that may be passed against him in the suit, and, on his failing to give such security, to direct that any property, moveable or immoveable, belonging to the defendant, shall be attached until the further order of the Court.

Application how to be made.

82. The application shall contain a specification of the property required to be attached, and the estimated value of each article or item thereof; and the plaintiff shall, at the time of making the application, declare that the defendant is about to dispose of or remove his property with such intent as aforesaid.

Form of warrant to be issued.

83. If the Court, after examining the applicant and making such further investigation as it may consider necessary, shall be satisfied that the defendant is about to dispose of or remove his property, with intent to obstruct or delay the execution of the decree, it shall be lawful for the Court to issue a warrant to the proper Officer, commanding him to call upon the defendant, within a time to be fixed by the Court, either to furnish security in such sum as may be specified in the order to produce and place at the disposal of the Court when required the said property or the value of the same or such portion thereof as may be sufficient to fulfil the decree, or to appear and show cause why he should not furnish security. The Court may also in the warrant direct the attachment until further order of the whole or any portion of the property specified in the application.

If cause be not shown or security be not furnished, property may be attached.

84. If the defendant fail to show such cause or to furnish the required security within the time fixed by the Court, the Court may direct that the property specified in the application, if not already attached, or such portion thereof as shall be sufficient to fulfil the decree, shall be attached until further order.

Withdrawal of attachment.

If the defendant show such cause or furnish the required security, and the property specified in the application or any portion of it shall have been attached, the Court shall order the attachment to be withdrawn.

How the attachment is to be made.

85. The attachment shall be made according to the nature of the property to be attached, in the manner hereinafter prescribed for the attachment of property in execution of a decree for money.

Appeal.

Any order for the attachment of property under the preceding Section shall be open to appeal by the defendant.

Claims to property attached before judgment, how to be investigated.

86. In the event of any claim being preferred to the property attached before judgment, such claim shall be investigated in the manner hereinafter prescribed for the investigation of claims to property attached in execution of a decree for money.

Attachment may be removed when security is furnished.

87. In all cases of attachment before judgment, the Court which passed the order for the attachment shall at any time remove the same, on the defendant furnishing security as above required, together with security for the costs of the attachment.

Compensation for attachment applied for on insufficient grounds, &c.

88. If it shall appear to the Court that the attachment was applied for on insufficient grounds, or if the suit of the plaintiff is dismissed or judgment is given against him by default or otherwise and it shall appear to the Court that there was no probable ground for instituting the suit, the Court may (on the application of the defendant) award against the plaintiff in its decree such amount, not exceeding the sum of one thousand Rupees, as it may deem a reasonable compensation to the defendant for the expense or injury occasioned to him by the attachment of his property.

Proviso.

Provided that the Court shall not award a larger amount of compensation under this Section than it is competent to such Court to decree in an action for damages. An award of compensation under this Section shall bar any suit for damages in respect of such attachment.

Attachment not to affect the rights of persons not parties to the suit, or bar the execution of decrees.

89. Attachments before judgment shall not affect the rights of persons not parties to the suit, nor bar any person holding a decree against the defendant from applying for the sale of the property under attachment in execution of such decree.

Court may stay the sale of property already under attachment, when execution of a decree fraudulently obtained is applied for.

90. If it shall appear to the Court by whose order the property may have been attached before judgment, that there is reasonable ground for supposing that the decree, in satisfaction of which the sale of the property is applied for, was obtained by fraud or other improper means, the Court may refuse to allow the property to be sold in execution, if the decree be a decree of that Court; or if it be a decree of another Court, may stay the proceedings for a reasonable time to enable the plaintiff in the pending suit to adopt proceedings to set aside the decree.

Special case in which party may be put in immediate possession of land the subject of suit.

91. Whenever lands paying revenue to Government or a tenure liable to summary sale under the provisions of Regulation VIII. 1819 of the Bengal Code (to declare the validity of certain tenures and to define the relative rights of Zemindars and Putnee Talookdars &c.) form the subject of a suit, if the party in possession of such lands or tenure shall neglect to pay the Government revenue or the rent due to the proprietor of the estate, as the case may be, and a public sale shall in consequence be ordered to take place, the party not in possession shall, upon payment of the revenue or rent due previously to the sale (and with or without security at the discretion of the Court), be put in immediate possession of the lands or tenure; and the Court in its decree may award against the defendant the amount so paid, with interest thereupon at such rate as to the Court may seem fit, or may charge the amount so paid, with interest thereupon, at such rate as the Court may order, in any adjustment of accounts which may be directed in the final decree upon the suit.

Of Injunctions.

92. In any suit in which it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Court that any property which is in dispute in the suit is in danger of being wasted, damaged, or alienated by any party to the suit, it shall be lawful for the Court to issue an injunction to such party, commanding him to refrain from doing the particular act complained of, or to give such other orders for the purpose of staying and preventing him from wasting, damaging, or alienating the property, as to the Court may seem meet. And in all cases in which it may appear to the Court to be necessary for the preservation or the better management or custody of any property which is in dispute in a suit, it shall be lawful for the Court to appoint a receiver or manager of such property, and, if need be, to remove the person in whose possession or custody the property may be from the possession or custody thereof, and to commit the same to the custody of such receiver or manager, and to grant to such receiver or manager all such powers for the management or the preservation and improvement of the property, and the collection of the rents and profits thereof, and the application and disposal of such rents and profits, as to the Court may seem proper. If the property be land paying revenue to Government, and it is considered that the interests of those concerned will be promoted by the management of the Collector, the Court may appoint the Collector to be receiver and manager of such land, unless the Government shall by any general order prohibit the appointment of Collectors for such purpose, or shall in any particular case prohibit the appointment of the Collector to be such receiver.

Cases in which an injunction to stay waste &c. may be granted.

Or in which a receiver or manager may be appointed.

When the Collector may be appointed receiver or manager.

93. In any suit for restraining the defendant from the committal of any breach of contract or other injury, and whether the same be accompanied with any claim for damages or not, it shall be lawful for the plaintiff, at any time after the commencement of the suit, and whether before or after judgment, to apply to the Court for an injunction to restrain the defendant from the repetition, or the continuance of the breach of contract or wrongful act complained of, or the committal of any breach of contract or injury of a like kind arising out of the same contract or relating to the same property or right; and such injunction may be granted by the Court on such terms as to the duration of the injunction, keeping an account, giving security, or otherwise, as to such Court shall seem reasonable and just, and in case of disobedience such injunction may be enforced by imprisonment in the same manner as a decree for specific performance: provided always that any order for an injunction may be discharged or varied or set aside by the Court, on application made thereto by any party dissatisfied with such order.

In suits to restrain breach of contract &c.

Injunction to restrain repetition or continuance of breach.

Proviso.

94. Any order made under either of the last two preceding Sections shall be open to appeal by the defendant.

Appeal.

95. The Court may in every case before granting an injunction direct such reasonable notice of the application for the same to be given to the opposite party as it shall see fit.

Before granting injunction, Court may direct reasonable notice to be given to the opposite party.

96. If it shall appear to the Court that the injunction was applied for on insufficient grounds, or if the claim of the plaintiff is dismissed or judgment is given against him by default or otherwise and it shall appear to the Court that there was no probable ground for instituting the suit, the Court may (on the application of the defendant) award against the plaintiff in its decree such sum, not exceeding one thousand Rupees, as it may deem a reasonable compensation to the defendant for the expense or injury occasioned to him by the issue of the injunction. Provided that the Court shall not award a larger amount of compensation under this Section than it is competent to such Court to decree in an action for damages. An award of compensation under this Section shall bar any suit for damages in respect of the issue of the injunction.

Compensation to defendant for needless issue of injunction.

Proviso.

Of the Withdrawal and Adjustment of Suits.

97. If the plaintiff at any time before final judgment satisfy the Court that there are sufficient grounds for permitting him to withdraw from the suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit for the same matter, it shall be competent to the Court to grant such permission on such terms as to costs or otherwise as it may deem proper. In any such fresh suit the plaintiff shall be bound by the rules for the limitation of actions in the same manner as if the first suit had not been brought. If the plaintiff withdraw from the suit without such permission, he shall be precluded from bringing a fresh suit for the same matter.

Court may allow plaintiff to withdraw from a suit, with liberty to bring a fresh suit.

98. If a suit shall be adjusted by mutual agreement or compromise, or if the defendant satisfy the plaintiff in respect to the matter of the suit, such agreement, compromise, or satisfaction shall be recorded, and the suit shall be disposed of in accordance therewith. On the application of the plaintiff reciting the substance of such agreement, compromise, or satisfaction, the Court, if satisfied that such agreement, compromise, or satisfaction has been actually entered into or made, shall grant a certificate to the plaintiff authorizing him to receive back from the Collector the full amount of stamp duty paid on the plaint if the application shall have been presented before the settlement of issues, or half the amount if presented at any time after the settlement of issues and before any witness has been examined. Provided however that no such certificate shall be granted if the adjustment between the parties be such as to require a decree to pass on which process of execution can be taken out.

Adjustment or compromise.

Court may grant certificate for refund of stamp duty on plaint, if suit be adjusted.

Proviso.

Of the Death, Marriage, and Bankruptcy or Insolvency of Parties.

Suit not to abate by death in certain cases.

99. The death of a plaintiff or defendant shall not cause the suit to abate if the cause of action survive.

Proceeding in case of death of one of several plaintiffs or defendants, if the cause of action survives.

100. If there be two or more plaintiffs or defendants and one of them die, and if the cause of action survive to the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs alone, or against the surviving defendant or defendants alone, the suit shall proceed at the instance of the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs, and against the surviving defendant or defendants.

Proceeding in case of death of one of several plaintiffs, where the cause of action accrues to the survivor and the representative of the deceased.

101. If there be two or more plaintiffs, and one of them die, and if the cause of action shall not survive to the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs alone but shall survive to them and the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff jointly, the Court may, on the application of the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff, enter the name of such representative in the Register of the suit in the place of such deceased plaintiff, and the suit shall proceed at the instance of the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs and such legal representative of the deceased plaintiff. If no application shall be made to the Court by any person claiming to be the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff, the suit shall proceed at the instance of the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs; and the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff shall be interested in and shall be bound by the judgment given in the suit in the same manner as if the suit had proceeded at his instance conjointly with the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs.

Proceeding in case of death of sole or sole surviving plaintiff.

102. In case of the death of a sole plaintiff or sole surviving plaintiff, the Court may, on the application of the legal representative of such plaintiff, enter the name of such representative in the place of such plaintiff in the Register of the suit, and the suit shall thereupon proceed; if no such application shall be made to the Court within what it may consider a reasonable time by any person claiming to be the legal representative of the deceased sole plaintiff or sole surviving plaintiff, it shall be competent to the Court to pass an order that the suit shall abate, and to award to the defendant the reasonable cost which he may have incurred in defending the suit, to be recovered from the estate of the deceased sole plaintiff or surviving plaintiff; or the Court may, if it think proper, on the application of the defendant, and upon such terms as to costs as may seem fit, pass such other order for bringing in the legal representative of the deceased sole plaintiff or surviving plaintiff, and for proceeding with the suit in order to a final determination of the matters in dispute, as may appear just and proper in the circumstances of the case.

Proceeding in case of dispute as to who is the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff.

103. If any dispute arise as to who is the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff, it shall be competent to the Court either to stay the suit until the fact has been duly determined in another suit, or to decide at or before the hearing of the suit who shall be admitted to be such legal representative for the purpose of prosecuting the suit.

Proceeding in case of death of one of several defendants or of a sole or sole surviving defendant.

104. If there be two or more defendants, and one of them die, and the cause of action shall not survive against the surviving defendant or defendants alone, and also in case of the death of a sole defendant or sole surviving defendant, where the action survives, the plaintiff may make an application to the Court specifying the name, description, and place of abode of any person whom the plaintiff alleges to be the legal representative of such defendant, and whom he desires to be made the defendant in his stead; and the Court shall thereupon enter the name of such representative in the Register of the suit in the place of such defendant, and shall issue a summons to him to appear on a day to be therein mentioned to defend the suit; and the case shall thereupon proceed in the same manner as if such representative had originally been made a defendant and had been a party to the former proceedings in the suit.

Marriage of a female plaintiff or defendant not to abate the suit.

105. The marriage of a woman, plaintiff or defendant, shall not cause the suit to abate, but the suit may notwithstanding be proceeded with to judgment, and the decree thereupon may be executed upon the wife alone; and if the case is one in which the husband is by law liable for the debts of his wife, the decree may, with the permission of the Court, be executed against the husband also; and in case of judgment for the wife, execution of the decree may, with the permission of the Court, be issued upon the application of the husband, where the husband is by law entitled to the money or thing which may be the subject of the decree.

Bankruptcy or insolvency when not to abate the suit.

106. The bankruptcy or insolvency of the plaintiff in any suit which the Assignee might maintain for the benefit of the creditors shall not be a valid objection to the continuance of such suit, unless the Assignee shall decline to continue the suit and to give security for the costs thereof within such reasonable time as the Court may order; if the Assignee neglect or refuse to continue the suit and to give such security within the time limited by the order, the defendant may, within eight days after such neglect or refusal, plead the bankruptcy or insolvency of the plaintiff as a reason for abating the suit.

Of Notices to produce, and how they are to be served.

Two notices in writing to be delivered to the proper Officer of the Court.

107. Whenever any of the parties to a suit is desirous that any document, writing, or other thing, which he believes to be in the possession or power of another of the parties thereto, should be produced at any hearing of the suit, and the production of such document, writing, or other thing has not previously been required, under the provisions of Sections 40 and 43, he shall at the earliest opportunity deliver to the Court two notices in writing to the party in whose possession or power he believes the document, writing, or other thing to be, calling upon him to produce the same; and one of such notices shall be filed in Court, and the other shall be delivered by the Court to the Nazir or other proper Officer, to be served upon such party.

Service of notices and other judicial process how to be made on a party who has not appointed a pleader to act for him.

108. In all cases in which a party to a suit has not appointed a pleader to act for him, all notices and other judicial processes shall be served upon such party in the manner hereinbefore provided for the service of a summons upon a defendant to appear and answer.

OF THE APPEARANCE OF THE PARTIES, AND CONSEQUENCES OF NON-APPEARANCE.

Parties must appear in person or by pleader.

109. On the day fixed in the summons for the defendant to appear and answer, the parties shall be in attendance at the Court-house in person or by a pleader, and the suit shall then be heard unless the hearing be adjourned to a future day which shall be fixed by the Court.

If neither party appear, suit to be dismissed with liberty to the plaintiff to bring a fresh suit.

110. If, on the day fixed for the defendant to appear and answer, or any other day subsequent thereto to which the hearing of the suit may be adjourned, neither party shall appear either in person or by a pleader when duly called upon by the Court, the suit shall be dismissed. Whenever a suit is dismissed under the provisions of this Section, the plaintiff shall be at liberty to bring a fresh suit unless precluded by the rules for the limitation of actions; or if he shall within the period of thirty days satisfy the Court that there was a sufficient excuse for his non-appearance, the Court may issue a fresh summons upon the plaint already filed.

Or if sufficient excuse for non-appearance, a fresh summons may be issued.

If plaintiff only appear, Court may proceed ex parte if due service of summons be proved.

111. If the plaintiff shall appear in person or by a pleader, and the defendant shall not appear in person or by a pleader, and it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the summons was duly served, the Court shall proceed to hear the suit ex parte. If the defendant appear on any subsequent day to which the hearing of the suit is adjourned, and shall assign good and sufficient cause for his previous non-appearance, he may, upon such terms as the Court may direct as to payment of costs or otherwise, be heard in answer to the suit in like manner as if he had appeared on the day fixed for his appearance.

If defendant appear on day of adjourned hearing, and assign good cause for his previous non-appearance, he may be heard.

If plaintiff only appear and due service of summons be not proved, Court may order issue of second summons.

112. If the plaintiff shall appear in person or by a pleader and the defendant shall not appear in person or by a pleader, and it shall not be proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the summons was duly served in any of the modes of service hereinbefore provided, the Court may direct a second summons to the defendant to be issued in any of the said modes.

If plaintiff only appear, and service of summons be proved, but the service was not in due time, Court may adjourn hearing and direct notice to be given to defendant.

113. If the plaintiff shall appear in person or by a pleader, and the defendant shall not appear in person or by a pleader, and it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the summons was served on the defendant but not in sufficient time to enable the defendant to appear and answer on the day fixed in the summons, the Court shall postpone the hearing of the suit to a future day to be fixed by the Court and may direct notice of such day to be given to the defendant.

If defendant only appear, Court to pass judgment by default against plaintiff, unless defendant admit the claim.

114. If the defendant shall appear in person or by a pleader, and the plaintiff shall not appear in person or by a pleader, the Court shall pass judgment against the plaintiff by default, unless the defendant admit the claim, in which case the Court shall pass judgment against the defendant upon such admission.

No fresh suit after such judgment.

When judgment is passed against a plaintiff by default, he shall be precluded from bringing a fresh suit in respect of the same cause of action.

When there are several plaintiffs or defendants, each may authorize the other to appear for him.

115. When there are two or more plaintiffs, any one or more of them may be authorized to appear, plead, and act for the other or others of them; and in like manner, when there are two or more defendants, any one or more of them may be authorized to appear, plead, and act for the other or others of them; provided that the authority shall in all cases be in writing, and shall be filed in the Court; when so filed, it shall be as effectual to all intents and purposes as if the person so authorized to appear, plead, and act, were a pleader of the Court.

Consequence of non-appearance of one or more of several plaintiffs.

116. If there are two or more plaintiffs, and one or more of them shall appear in person or by a pleader or by a co-plaintiff duly authorized, and the other or others of them shall not appear in person or by a pleader or by a co-plaintiff duly authorized, it shall be competent to the Court to proceed with the suit at the instance of the plaintiff or plaintiffs who shall have appeared, in the same way as if all the plaintiffs had appeared, and to pass such order as may be just and proper in the circumstances of the case; and if there are two or more defendants, and one or more of them shall appear in person or by a pleader or by a co-defendant duly authorized, and the other or others of them shall not appear in person or by a pleader or by a co-defendant duly authorized, the Court shall proceed with the suit to judgment, and shall at the time of passing judgment give such order with respect to the defendant or defendants who shall not have appeared as shall be just and proper in the circumstances of the case.

Consequence of non-appearance of one or more of several defendants.

117. If any plaintiff or defendant who shall have been ordered or summoned to appear personally under the provisions of Section 42, shall not appear in person, or show sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Court for failing so to appear, such plaintiff or defendant shall be subject to all the provisions of the foregoing Sections applicable to plaintiffs and defendants respectively, who do not appear either in person or by pleader.

Consequence of non-appearance, without sufficient cause shown, of any party to a suit summoned or ordered to appear in person.

118. In support of the cause shown by a plaintiff or defendant for failure to appear in person, the Court shall receive any declaration in writing on unstamped paper, if signed by such plaintiff or defendant and verified in the manner hereinbefore provided for the verification of plaints.

Court to receive declaration in support of cause shown.

119. No appeal shall lie from a judgment passed ex parte against a defendant who has not appeared, or from a judgment against a plaintiff by default for non-appearance. But in all cases in which judgment may be passed ex parte against a defendant, he may apply, within a reasonable time, not exceeding thirty days after any process for enforcing the judgment has been executed, to the Court by which the judgment was passed, for an order to set it aside; and if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the summons was not duly served, or that the defendant was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the suit was called on for hearing, the Court shall pass an order to set aside the judgment, and shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit. In all cases of judgment against a plaintiff by default, he may apply, within thirty days from the date of the judgment, for an order to set it aside; and if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the plaintiff was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the suit was called on for hearing, the Court shall pass an order to set aside the judgment by default, and shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit. But no judgment shall be set aside on any such application as aforesaid, unless notice thereof have been served on the opposite party. In all cases in which the Court shall pass an order under this Section for setting aside a judgment, the order shall be final; but in all appealable cases in which the Court shall reject the application, an appeal shall lie from the order of rejection to the tribunal to which the final decision in the suit would be appealable, provided that the appeal be preferred within the time allowed for an appeal from such final decision, and be written upon stamp paper of the value prescribed for petitions to the Court where a stamp is required for petitions.

No appeal from judgments passed ex parte or by default.

When and how judgment ex parte against a defendant may be set aside.

When and how judgment by default against a plaintiff may be set aside.

No judgment to be set aside, without notice to opposite party.

Order for setting aside judgment shall be final.

In appealable cases, an appeal from order of rejection.

Proviso.

Of Written Statements.

120. The parties or their pleaders may tender at the first hearing of the suit written statements of their respective cases, and the Court shall receive the same and put them on the record. Such statements shall be written on the stamp paper prescribed for petitions to the Court where a stamp is required for petitions.

Written statements may be tendered by the parties at the first hearing of the suit.

Written statements to be on stamp paper.

121. If in a suit for debt the defendant desire to set-off against the claim of the plaintiff the amount of any debt due to him from the plaintiff, he shall tender a written statement containing the particulars of his demand, and the Court shall thereupon enquire into the same. Provided that, if the sum claimed by the defendant exceed the amount cognizable by the Court, the defendant shall not be allowed to set-off the same unless he abandon the excess.

Particulars of set-off to be given in a written statement.

Abandonment of excess of set-off over claim.

122. No written statement shall be received after the first hearing of the suit, unless called for by the Court. But it shall be competent to the Court, at any time before final judgment, to call for a written statement, or an additional written statement from any of the parties. When such statements are called for by the Court, they shall be received on plain paper.

No written statement to be received after first hearing unless called for by the Court.

Court may at any time call for a written statement.

123. Written statements shall be as brief as the nature of the case will admit, and shall not be argumentative, nor by way of answer one to the other; but each statement shall be confined, as much as possible, to a simple narrative of the facts which the party by whom or on whose behalf the written statement is made believes to be material to the case, and which he believes he will be able to prove if called upon by the Court. Written statements shall be subscribed and verified in the manner hereinbefore provided for subscribing and verifying plaints, and no written statement shall be received unless it be so subscribed and verified.

How written statements are to be framed.

Written statements to be subscribed and verified.

124. If it shall appear to the Court that any written statement presented by or on behalf of a party, whether the same have been spontaneously tendered or have been called for by the Court, is argumentative or unnecessarily prolix, or that it contains matter irrevelant to the suit, the Court may reject the same, and return it to the party with the order of rejection endorsed thereon; and it shall not be competent to a party whose written statement has been rejected for any of these causes to present another written statement, unless it shall be expressly called for or allowed by the Court.

Court may reject a written statement which is argumentative, prolix, or irrelevant.

Of the Examination of the Parties.

Oral examination of party &c.

125. At the first hearing of the suit, and if necessary at any subsequent hearing, any party who appears in person or is present in Court, or the pleader of any party who appears by a pleader, or if the pleader be accompanied by another person able to answer all material questions relating to the suit, then such other person, may be examined orally by the Court. Such examination shall (unless the pleader be the person examined) be upon oath or affirmation or otherwise according to the provisions of the law for the time being in force in relation to the examination of witnesses. The substance of the examination shall be reduced to writing and form part of the record.

Oath.

Substance of the examination to be written.

Consequence of refusal of a party to answer.

126. If any party who appears in person or is present in Court shall without lawful excuse refuse to answer any material question relating to the suit which the Court may think proper to put to such party, the Court may pass judgment against him, or make such other order in relation to the suit as it may deem proper in the circumstances of the case.

Consequence of refusal or inability of pleader to answer.

127. If the pleader of any party who shall appear by a pleader shall refuse or be unable to answer any material question relating to the suit which the Court is of opinion that the party whom he represents ought to answer, and is likely to be able to answer, if interrogated in person, the Court may postpone the hearing of the suit to a future day and direct that such party shall attend in person on such day; and if the party so directed to attend shall without lawful excuse fail to appear in person on the day to be so appointed, the Court may pass judgment against him, or make such other order in relation to the suit as it may deem proper in the circumstances of the case.

Documentary evidence to be produced at first hearing.

128. The parties or their pleaders shall bring with them, and have in readiness at the first hearing of the suit to be produced when called upon by the Court, all their documentary evidence of every description which may not already have been filed in Court, and all documents, writings, or other things which may have been specified in any notice which may have been served on them respectively within a reasonable time before the hearing of the suit; and no documentary evidence of any kind, which the parties or any of them may desire to produce, shall be received by the Court at any subsequent stage of the proceedings, unless good cause be shown to its satisfaction for the non-production thereof at the first hearing.

Exhibits to be received and inspected by the Court.

Rejection of exhibits.

129. All exhibits produced by the parties shall be received and inspected by the Court; but it shall be competent to the Court, after inspection, to reject any exhibit which it may consider irrelevant or otherwise inadmissible, recording the grounds of such rejection.

Documents insufficiently stamped may be received on payment of deficient duty and penalty.

130. If the exhibit be a deed, instrument, or writing, chargeable with stamp duty under any Regulation or Act for the time being in force, and it shall appear to the Court that the deed, instrument, or writing, although written on stamp paper, does not bear a sufficient stamp, the Court shall nevertheless receive the same in evidence, saving all just exceptions on other grounds, if the party producing it or requiring its production shall pay into Court the deficiency of the stamp duty and a penalty equal to ten times the amount of the deficiency. Provided that, if it shall appear to the Court that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the deed, instrument, or writing was not properly stamped with the intention of evading the stamp laws, the Court may reject the same.

Proviso.

Account of monies so received to be kept.

131. An entry of the fact of such payment and of the amount thereof shall be made in a book to be kept in the Court, and shall also be endorsed on the back of such deed, instrument, or writing under the signature of the Judge of the Court. The Court shall at the end of every month make a return to the Collector of Revenue of the District of the monies (if any) which it has so received by way of duty or penalty, distinguishing between such monies, and stating the number and title of the suit, and the name of the party from whom such monies were received, and the date (if any) and description of the document, for the purpose of identifying the same; and the Court shall pay over the said monies to the Collector of Revenue, or to such person as he may appoint to receive the same; and the Collector of Revenue or other proper authority shall, upon production of the deed, instrument, or writing, with the endorsement hereinbefore mentioned, cause such additional stamp as may be necessary to be affixed to such deed, instrument, or writing in respect of the sums so paid as aforesaid.

Monthly return to be made to Collector.

Admitted exhibits to be marked and filed.

132. When an exhibit is received by the Court and admitted in evidence, it shall be endorsed with the number and title of the suit, the name of the party producing it, and the date on which it was produced, and shall be filed as part of the record. Provided that, if the exhibit be an entry in any shop book or other book, the party on whose behalf such book is produced shall furnish a copy of the entry, which copy shall be endorsed as aforesaid, and shall be filed as part of the record, and the book shall be returned to the party producing it.

Proviso.

No stamp duty in respect of the production or filing of exhibits.

133. No stamp duty shall be leviable in respect of the production or filing of any exhibit, anything contained in any Regulation or Act notwithstanding.

Rejected exhibits to be marked and returned.

134. When an exhibit is rejected by the Court, it shall be endorsed in the manner specified in Section 132 with the addition of the word "rejected," and the endorsement shall be subscribed by the Judge. The exhibit shall then be returned to the party who produced it, unless the Court shall think proper, for special reasons (as on suspicion of forgery), to detain it.

Unless detained by the Court.

135. When the time for preferring an appeal from the decision passed in the suit has elapsed, or if an appeal has been preferred from such decision, then after the appeal has been finally disposed of, any person, whether a party to the suit or not, who may be desirous of receiving back any exhibit produced by him in the suit, shall be entitled, on application to the Court in which such exhibit may be, to receive back the same unless the further use of such exhibit has been superseded by the terms of the decree, or the Court has directed it to be detained for purposes of public justice.

After the time for appeal has elapsed, exhibit admitted in evidence may be returned.

136. Any exhibit may be returned before the time mentioned in the last preceding Section, if the Court in which the document may be shall think proper, for special reasons, to order its return. But in every case a copy, properly certified, and made at the expense of the applicant, shall be substituted for the original in the record of the suit.

Exhibit may be returned before the time limited for special reasons.

Certified copy to be kept.

137. Whenever an exhibit once received by a Court of Justice and admitted in evidence is returned, a receipt shall be given by the party receiving it in a receipt-book kept for the purpose.

Receipt to be given for returned exhibit.

138. Any Civil Court may of its own accord, or upon the application of any of the parties to a suit, send for, either from its own record or from any other public Office or Court, the record of any other suit or case, or any other official papers (not being documents relating to affairs of State the production of which would be contrary to good policy) and inspect the same, when the inspection of such record or papers shall appear likely to elucidate the facts of the suit before the Court, and to promote the ends of justice.

Court may send for papers from its own records or from other public Offices or Courts.

Except State papers.

Of the Settlement of Issues.

139. At the first hearing of the suit the Court shall enquire and ascertain upon what questions of law or fact the parties are at issue, and shall thereupon proceed to frame and record the issues of law and fact on which the right decision of the case may depend. The Court may frame the issues from the allegations of fact which it collects from the oral examination of the parties or their pleaders, notwithstanding any difference between such allegations of fact and the allegations of fact contained in the written statements, if any, tendered by the parties or their pleaders.

Framing of issues.

140. If the Court shall be of opinion that the issues cannot be correctly framed without the examination of some person other than the persons already before the Court or without the reading of some document not produced by any of such persons, it may adjourn the framing of the issues to a future day, to be fixed by the Court, and may compel the attendance of such person, or the production of the document by the person in whose hands it may be, by summons or other suitable process.

Court may examine witnesses or documents before framing the issues.

141. At any time before the decision of the case, the Court may amend the issues or frame additional issues on such terms as to it shall seem fit, and all such amendments as may be necessary for the purpose of determining the real question or controversy between the parties shall be so made.

Amendment of issues.

Additional issues.

Of Issues by Agreement of Parties.

142. When the parties to a suit are agreed as to the question or questions of fact or of law to be decided between them, they may state the same in the form of an issue, and enter into an agreement in writing, which shall not be subject to any stamp duty, that upon the finding of the Court in the affirmative or the negative of such issue, a sum of money specified in the agreement, or to be ascertained by the Court upon a question inserted in the issue for that purpose, shall be paid by one of the parties to the other of them, or that upon such finding some property specified in the agreement, and in dispute in the suit, shall be delivered by one of the parties to the other of them, or that upon such finding one or more of the parties shall do or perform some particular legal act, or shall refrain from doing or performing some particular act, specified in the agreement, and having reference to the matter in dispute.

Questions of fact or law may by agreement be stated by the parties in the form of an issue.

143. If the Court shall be satisfied, after an examination of the parties or their pleaders, and taking such evidence as it may deem proper, that the agreement was duly executed by the parties, and that the parties have a bonâ fide interest in the decision of such question, and that the same is fit to be tried and decided, it may proceed to record and try the same, and deliver its finding or opinion thereon in the same manner as if the issue had been framed by the Court, and may, upon the finding or decision on such issue, give judgment for the sum so agreed on or so ascertained as aforesaid, or otherwise according to the terms of the agreement; and upon the judgment which shall be so given, decree shall follow and may be executed in the same way as if the judgment had been pronounced in a contested suit.

Court, if satisfied that the agreement was executed bonâ fide, may decree accordingly.

When the Suit may be disposed of at the First Hearing.

144. If at the first hearing of a suit it shall appear that the parties are not at issue on any question of law or fact, the Court may at once give judgment.

If the parties are not at issue on any question of law or fact.

145. When the parties are at issue on some question of law or fact, and issues have been framed by the Court as hereinbefore provided, if the Court shall be satisfied that no further argument or evidence than such as the parties or their pleaders can at once supply is required upon any such of the issues of law or fact as may be sufficient for the decision of the suit, the Court, after hearing such argument and evidence, may proceed to determine such issue or issues, and if the finding thereon is sufficient for the decision, may pronounce judgment accordingly, whether the summons shall have been issued for the settlement of issues only or for the final disposal of the suit; otherwise the Court shall postpone the further hearing of the suit, and shall fix a day for the production of such further evidence or for such further argument as the case may require. Provided that if the summons shall have been issued for the final disposal of the suit and either party shall fail without sufficient cause to produce the evidence on which he relies, the Court may at once give judgment.

If the parties are at issue on questions of law or fact.

Court if satisfied may determine the issues and give judgment.

Proviso where summons is for final disposal.

Of Adjournments.

146. The Court may, if sufficient cause be shown, at any stage of the suit, grant time to the parties, or to either of them, and may from time to time adjourn the hearing of the suit; and in all such cases the Court shall fix a day for the further hearing of the suit. Provided that in all such cases the party applying for time shall pay the costs occasioned by such adjournment, unless the Court shall otherwise direct.

Court may grant time, or adjourn to a future day.

Proviso.

147. If, on any day to which the hearing of the suit may be adjourned, the parties or either of them shall not appear in person or by pleader, the Court may proceed to dispose of the suit in the manner specified in Section 110, Section 111, or Section 114 as the case may be, or may make such other order as may appear to be just and proper in the circumstances of the case.

How Court is to proceed if the parties fail to appear on the day fixed.

148. If either party to a suit to whom time may have been granted shall fail to produce his proofs, or to cause the attendance of his witnesses, or to perform any other act for which time may have been allowed, the Court shall proceed to a decision of the suit on the record, notwithstanding such default.

Court to proceed if either party fail to produce proofs or witnesses.

Of summoning Witnesses.

149. The parties or their pleaders may, at any time after the issue of the summons to the defendant, if the summons be for the final disposal of the suit, or after the issues have been recorded if the summons to the defendant be for the settlement of issues only, obtain, on application to the Court, summonses to witnesses or other persons to attend either to give evidence or to produce documents, and in any such summons the names of any number of persons may be inserted.

Application for summons.

150. No stamp duty shall be leviable in respect of any application for the summons of a witness or other person to attend either to give evidence or to produce a document, anything contained in any Regulation or Act notwithstanding.

No stamp duty on application for summons.

151. The person applying for a summons shall pay into Court such a sum of money as shall appear to the Court to be reasonable, to defray the travelling and other expenses of each witness, or other person mentioned in the summons, in passing to and from the Court in which he may be required to attend, and for one day's attendance. If the Court be a subordinate Court, regard shall be had, in fixing the scale of such expenses, to the rules (if any) established by the Court to which such Court shall be immediately subordinate. The sum so paid into Court shall be tendered to the witness or other person at the time of serving the summons, if it can be served personally. If it shall appear to the Court that the sum paid into Court on account of the travelling and other expenses of the witness or other person in passing to and from the Court is not sufficient to cover such expenses, the Court may direct such further sum to be paid to the witness or other person as may appear to be necessary on that account, and, in case of default in payment, may order such sum to be levied by attachment and sale of the goods of the person ordered to pay the same, or may discharge the witness without requiring him to give evidence. If it shall be necessary to detain the witness or other person summoned for a longer period than one day, the Court may from time to time order the party at whose instance he was summoned to pay into Court such sum as may be sufficient to defray the expenses of his detention for such further period, and, in default of such deposit being made, may order the witness to be discharged without requiring him to give evidence.

Expenses of witnesses to be paid before issue of summons.

Scale of expenses.

Tender of expenses to witness.

If sum be not sufficient.

Expenses if witness is detained.

152. Every summons for the attendance of a witness or other person shall specify the time and place at which he is required to attend, and also whether his attendance is required for the purpose of giving evidence or to produce a document, or for both purposes; and any particular document, which the witness or other person may be called on to produce shall be described in the summons with convenient certainty.

Time, place, and purpose of attendance to be specified in summons.

153. Any person whether a party to a suit or not may be summoned to produce a document, without being summoned to give evidence; and any person, summoned merely to produce a document, shall be deemed to have complied with the summons, if he cause such document to be produced instead of attending personally to produce the same.

Summons to produce a document.

Service of Summons on a Witness.

154. Every summons to a witness or other person shall be served by exhibiting the original, and delivering or tendering a copy; and the service shall in all cases be made a sufficient time before the time specified in the summons for the attendance of the witness or other person, to allow him a reasonable time for preparation, and for travelling to the place at which his attendance is required.

How and when the summons shall be served.

155. Whenever it may be practicable, the service of the summons shall be upon the person thereby required to attend; but when he cannot be found, the service may be made on any adult male member of his family residing with him.

Service to be on the witness, or a male member of his family.

156. When the person required to attend cannot be found, and there is no adult male member of his family on whom the summons can be served, the serving Officer shall return the summons to the Court from whence it issued, with an endorsement thereon that he has been unable to serve it.

When the summons cannot be served, it is to be returned to the Court.

157. The serving Officer shall, in all cases in which the summons has been served, endorse on the original summons the time when, and the manner in which it was served.

Time and manner of service to be endorsed on the summons.

158. If the person required to attend be resident within the jurisdiction of any other Court than that in which the suit is pending, the summons shall be transmitted by the Court in which the suit is pending, to any Court having jurisdiction at the place where the witness resides by which it can be most conveniently served; and the Court to which the summons is sent shall, upon receipt thereof, deliver the same to the Nazir or other proper Officer of such Court, to be served in the manner above directed; and upon the return of the summons by the serving Officer, it shall be transmitted to the Court from whence it originally issued.

How a summons on a witness who resides in another jurisdiction is to be served.

159. If the summons for the attendance of any person either to give evidence or to produce a document, cannot be served in either of the ways hereinbefore specified, the Court, on being certified thereof by the return of the serving Officer, and upon proof that the evidence of such witness or the production of the document is material, and that the witness or other person absconds or keeps out of the way for the purpose of avoiding the service of the summons, may cause a proclamation requiring the attendance of such person to give evidence, or produce the document, at a time and place to be named therein, to be affixed in some conspicuous place upon his house or place of abode; and if such person shall not attend at the time and place named in such proclamation, the Court may, at the instance of the party on whose application the summons was issued, make an order for the attachment of the moveable and immoveable property of such person, to such amount as the Court shall deem reasonable, not being in excess of the amount of the costs of attachment and of any fine to which the person may be liable under the provisions of the following Section.

When a witness absconds, his property may be attached.

160. If, on the attachment of the property, such witness or other person shall appear and satisfy the Court that he did not abscond or keep out of the way to avoid service of the summons, and that he had not notice of the proclamation in time to attend at the time and place named therein, the Court shall direct that the property be released from attachment, and shall make such order in regard to the costs of the attachment as it shall deem fit. If such witness or other person shall not appear, or appearing shall fail to satisfy the Court that he did not abscond or keep out of the way to avoid service of the summons, and that he had not such a notice of the proclamation as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the Court to order the property attached, or any part thereof, to be sold for the purpose of satisfying all costs incurred in consequence of such attachment, together with the amount of any fine which the Court may impose upon such witness or other person under the provisions of any law for the time being in force for the punishment of a witness who may abscond or keep out of the way in order to avoid the service of a summons. If the witness or other person shall pay into Court the costs and fine as aforesaid, the Court shall order the property to be released from attachment.

How the Court is to proceed with the witness on his appearance.

Of the Examination of Parties as Witnesses.

161. When a party to a suit appears in person at any hearing of the suit, he may be examined as a witness, either in his own behalf or on behalf of any other party to the suit, in the same way as if he were not a party thereto.

A party to a suit appearing in person may be examined either in his own behalf or on behalf of any other party.

162. If any party to a suit shall require to enforce the attendance of any other party thereto as a witness, he shall, by himself or his pleader, make a special application to the Court for an order requiring the attendance of the party, and shall show to the satisfaction of the Court sufficient grounds in support of such application, otherwise a summons shall not be issued.

Special application to be made for the examination of a party as a witness.

163. The Court, if it think fit, may, before making such order, cause notice to be given to the party or his pleader, fixing a day for such party to show cause why he should not attend and give evidence; and may also, from time to time, if necessary, for good and sufficient reason, enlarge the time for such purpose.

The Court may first issue a notice to show cause.

164. In support of the cause shown, the Court shall receive any declaration in writing of the party, on unstamped paper, if signed by him and verified in the manner hereinbefore provided for the verification of plaints, and delivered into the Court by himself or his pleader.

Court shall receive a written declaration in support of the cause shown.

165. If no sufficient cause be shown on the day fixed, or upon any subsequent day to which the Court shall enlarge the time for that purpose, the Court shall issue its order requiring the party to attend and give evidence.

If no sufficient cause be shown, summons to issue.

166. If the Court shall think it necessary for the ends of justice to examine any party to the suit or to inspect any document in his possession or power, the Court may of its own accord in any stage of the suit cause such party to be summoned to attend as a witness to give evidence or to produce such document if in his possession or power on a day to be appointed in the summons, and may examine such party as a witness in open Court, or may cause such party to be examined in such other manner as the Court may direct.

Court may of its own accord at any time summon a witness.

ATTENDANCE OF WITNESSES, AND CONSEQUENCE OF NON-ATTENDANCE.

Persons summoned to give evidence must attend.

167. Any person who shall be summoned to appear and give evidence in a suit shall be bound to attend at the time and place named in the summons for that purpose.

Consequences of non-attendance by a witness.

168. If any person, on whom any summons to give evidence or produce a document shall have been served in either of the ways specified in Section 155, shall, without lawful excuse, fail to comply with the summons, the Court may order such person to be apprehended and brought before the Court. If such person abscond or keep out of the way, so that he cannot be apprehended or brought before the Court, his property shall be liable to attachment and sale in the manner and subject to the rules provided in Sections 159 and 160 with respect to a witness or other person on whom the service of a summons cannot be effected.

Consequences of refusal to give evidence.

169. If any witness, attending or being present in Court, shall, without lawful excuse, refuse to give evidence, or to produce any document in his custody or possession named in such summons as aforesaid, upon being required by the Court so to do, the Court may commit such witness to close custody for such reasonable time as it may deem proper, unless he shall, in the meantime, consent to give his evidence, or to produce the document. If after the expiration of such time the witness shall persist in his refusal, the Court may proceed to deal with him according to the provisions of any law for the time being in force for the punishment of persons refusing to give evidence.

Consequence of non-attendance or refusal of a party to give evidence.

170. If any person, being a party to the suit, who shall be ordered to attend to give evidence or produce a document, shall, without lawful excuse, fail to comply with such order, or, attending or being present in Court, shall, without lawful excuse, refuse to give evidence, or to produce any document in his custody or possession named in such summons as aforesaid, upon being required by the Court so to do, the Court may either pass judgment against the party so failing or refusing, or make such other order in relation to the suit as the Court may deem proper in the circumstances of the case.

Any person present in Court may be called upon to give evidence though not summoned.

171. Any person present in Court, whether a party to the suit or not, may be called upon by the Court to give evidence and to produce any document then and there in his actual possession or in his power, in the same manner and subject to the same rules as if he had been summoned to attend and give evidence or to produce such document, and shall be liable to be dealt with by the Court as a party or witness, as the case may be, would, under any of the preceding provisions, be liable to be dealt with for any refusal to obey the order of the Court.

WHEN AND HOW WITNESSES ARE TO BE EXAMINED.

Witnesses to be examined at the hearing of the suit in open Court.

172. On the day appointed for the hearing of the suit or on some other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, the evidence of the witnesses in attendance shall be taken orally in open Court, in the presence and hearing, and under the personal direction and superintendence of the Judge. In cases in which an appeal lies to a higher tribunal, the evidence of each witness given upon such examination shall be taken down in writing, in the language in ordinary use in proceedings before the Court, by, or in the presence and under the personal direction and superintendence of the Judge, not ordinarily in the form of question and answer but in that of a narrative, and, when completed, shall be read over in the presence of the Judge and of the witness, and also in the presence of the parties to the suit or their pleaders, or such of them as are in attendance, and shall, if necessary, be corrected, and shall be signed by the Judge. If the evidence be taken down in a different language from that in which it has been given, and the witness does not understand the language in which it is taken down, the witness may require his deposition as taken down in writing to be interpreted to him in the language in which it was given. Where all the parties to the suit present, and the pleaders of such as are absent, consent to have such evidence as is given in English taken down in English, the Judge may so take it down in his own hand. It shall be in the discretion of the Court to take down, or cause to be taken down, any particular question and answer, if there shall appear any special reason for so doing, or any party or his pleader shall require it. If any question put to a witness be objected to by either of the parties or their pleaders, and the Court shall allow the same to be put, the question and answer shall be taken down, and the objection, and the name of the party making it, shall be noticed in taking down the depositions, together with the decision of the Court upon the objection. The Court shall record such remarks as it may think material respecting the demeanor of the witness while under examination. In cases in which the evidence is not taken down in writing by the Judge himself, he shall be bound, as the examination of each witness proceeds, to make a memorandum of the substance of what such witness deposes, and such memorandum shall be written and signed by the Judge with his own hand, and shall accompany the record. In cases in which an appeal does not lie to a higher tribunal, it shall not be necessary to take down the depositions of the witnesses in writing at length; but the Judge, as the examination of each witness proceeds, shall make a memorandum of the substance of what such witness deposes, and such memorandum shall be written and signed by the Judge with his own hand, and shall

If the Judge shall be prevented from making a memorandum as above required, he shall record the reason of his inability to do so, and in cases not appealable shall cause such memorandum to be made in writing from his dictation in open Court, and shall sign the same, and such memorandum shall form part of the record.

If Judge be unable to make a memorandum of the evidence, reason of inability to be recorded.

173. If a witness be about to leave the jurisdiction of the Court, or other good and sufficient cause can be shown to the satisfaction of the Court why his examination should be taken immediately, it shall be competent to the Court, upon the application of either party or of the witness, at any time after the institution of the suit, to take the examination of such witness forthwith, or on any day that may be fixed for that purpose, of which due notice shall be given to the parties if the day be fixed in their absence. The witness shall be examined, and his deposition shall be taken down in writing, in the manner hereinbefore prescribed; and the deposition so taken down may be read in evidence at any hearing of the suit.

A witness may for sufficient cause be examined immediately.

174. All witnesses shall be examined upon oath or affirmation or otherwise according to the provisions of the law for the time being in force in relation to the examination of witnesses.

Witness to be examined upon oath or affirmation, or according to the law for the time being in force.

Of Commissions to examine absent Witnesses and make Local Enquiries.

175. When the evidence of a witness is required who is resident at some place distant more than a hundred miles from the place where the Court is held, or who is unable from sickness or infirmity to attend before the Court to be personally examined, or is a person exempted by reason of rank or sex from personal appearance in Court; the Court may, of its own motion, or on the application of any of the parties to the suit, or on the representation of the witness, order a Commission to issue for the examination of such witness on interrogatories or otherwise; and may, by the same or any subsequent order, give all such directions for taking such examinations as may appear reasonable and just. If the witness be resident within the jurisdiction of the Court issuing the Commission, the Commission may be issued to any Officer of the Court, or to any subordinate Court, or to any other person or persons whom the Court issuing the Commission may think proper to appoint. If the witness be resident at some place which is beyond the jurisdiction of the Court issuing the Commission, and not within the local jurisdiction of Her Majesty's Supreme Court, but within the jurisdiction of the Sudder Court, the Commission shall ordinarily be issued to the Court within whose jurisdiction the witness may reside, and which can most conveniently execute the same; but, under special circumstances, the Commission may be issued to any other person or persons whom the Court issuing the Commission may think proper to appoint.

Cases in which Court may issue a Commission to examine witnesses.

When the witness resides within the Court's jurisdiction.

When the witness resides beyond the Court's jurisdiction, and not within the Supreme Court's jurisdiction, but within the jurisdiction of the Sudder Court.

176. If the witness be resident within the local jurisdiction of Her Majesty's Supreme Court, the Commission shall ordinarily be issued to the Court of Small Causes held under Act IX of 1850 (for the more easy recovery of small debts and demands in Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay), but may, under special circumstances, be directed to any person or persons whom the Court issuing the Commission may think proper to appoint.

When the witness is within the local jurisdiction of the Supreme Court.

177. When the evidence of a witness is required, who is resident at some place not within the jurisdiction of the Sudder Court or of Her Majesty's Supreme Court, but within the British territories in India or within the territories of a Native Prince or State in alliance with the British Government, the Court, if it be satisfied that the evidence of such witness is necessary, may, of its own motion or on the representation of any of the parties to the suit, issue a Commission for the examination of the witness; provided that, if the suit be pending in any Court subordinate to the principal Civil Court of a District, such subordinate Court shall not issue the Commission, but the principal Civil Court of the District may issue the Commission on the application of the subordinate Court.

When the witness is not within the jurisdiction of the Sudder Court or the Supreme Court, but within the British territories or the territories of any Native Prince or State in alliance with the British Government.

178. When the evidence of a witness is required, who is resident at some place beyond the said territories and not within the territories of a Native Prince or State in alliance with the British Government, the Sudder Court, if the suit in which the evidence of the witness is required be pending in that Court and the Court be satisfied that such evidence is necessary, may, of its own motion or on the application of any of the parties to the suit, issue a Commission to examine the witness; if the suit be not pending in the Sudder Court, that Court may issue the Commission on the application of the Court in which the suit is pending. In all such cases, the Commission may be issued to any person or persons whom the Sudder Court may think proper to appoint.

When the witness is beyond the said territories and not within the territories of any Native Prince or State in alliance with the British Government.

179. After the Commission has been duly executed, it shall be returned, together with the deposition of the witness who may have been examined there-under, to the Court out of which the Commission issued, unless otherwise directed by the order for issuing the Commission, in which case it shall be returned in terms of such order, and the Commission and the return thereto and the deposition of the witness who may have been examined under such Commission shall in all cases form part of the record of the suit. But no deposition taken under a Commission shall be read in evidence without the consent of the party against whom the same may be offered, unless it be proved that the deponent is beyond the jurisdiction of the Commission to be returned with the depositions of the witnesses.

When depositions may be read in evidence.

Court, or dead, or unable from sickness or infirmity to attend to be personally examined, or distant, without collusion, more than a hundred miles from the place where the Court is held, or exempted by reason of rank or sex from personal appearance in Court, or unless the Court shall, at its discretion, dispense with the proof of any of the above circumstances, or shall authorize the deposition of any witness being read in evidence, notwithstanding proof that the causes for taking such deposition have ceased at the time of reading the same.

Commission for local investigations.

180. In any suit or other judicial proceeding in which the Court may deem a local investigation to be requisite or proper for the purpose of elucidating the matters in dispute, or of ascertaining the amount of any mesne profits or damages, the Court may issue a Commission to an Officer of the Court appointed to execute such Commissions, or, if there be no such Officer, to any suitable person, directing him to make such investigation and to report thereon to the Court. In all such cases, unless otherwise directed by the order of appointment, the Commissioner shall have power to examine any witnesses who may be produced to him by the parties or any of them, the parties themselves, and any other persons whom he may think proper to call upon to give evidence in the matters referred to him; and also to call for and examine documents and other papers relevant to the subject of enquiry; and persons not attending on the requisition of the Commissioner, or refusing to give their testimony or to produce any documents or other papers, shall be subject to the like disadvantages, penalties, and punishments, by order of the Court on the report of the Commissioner, as they would incur for the same offences in suits tried before the Court. The Commissioner, after such local inspection as he may deem necessary, and after reducing to writing, in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for taking the depositions of witnesses in the presence of the Judge, the depositions taken by him, shall return the depositions, together with his report in writing, subscribed with his name, to the Court. The report and depositions shall be taken as evidence in the suit and shall form part of the record; but it shall be competent to the Court, or to the parties to the suit or any of them, with the permission of the Court, to examine the Commissioner personally in open Court, touching any of the matters referred to him or mentioned in his report, or the manner in which he may have conducted the investigation.

The report and depositions to be taken as evidence in the suit, but the Commissioner may be examined in person.

A Commissioner may be appointed to investigate and adjust accounts.

181. In any suit or other judicial proceeding in which an investigation or adjustment of accounts may be necessary, it shall be lawful for the Court to appoint such Officer or other person as aforesaid to be a Commissioner for the purpose of making such investigation or adjustment, and to direct that the parties or their attorneys or pleaders shall attend upon the Commissioner during such investigation or adjustment. In all such cases, the Court shall furnish the Commissioner with such part of the proceedings and such detailed instructions as may appear necessary for his information and guidance and the instructions shall distinctly specify whether the Commissioner is merely to transmit the proceedings which he may hold on the enquiry or also to report his own opinion on the point referred for his investigation. The proceedings of the Commissioner shall be received in evidence in the case, unless the Court may have reason to be dissatisfied with them; in which case the Court shall make such further enquiry as may be requisite, and shall pass such ultimate judgment or order as may appear to it to be right and proper in the circumstances of the case.

In cases of local investigation or investigation into accounts, expenses of Commission to be paid into Court, before issue thereof.

182. Whenever a Commission is issued either for taking evidence or for a local investigation or an investigation into accounts, the Court, before issuing the Commission, may order such sum as may be thought reasonable for the expenses of the Commission to be paid into Court by the party at whose instance or for whose benefit the Commission is issued.

Of Judgment and Decree.

When judgment is to be pronounced.

183. When the exhibits have been perused, the witnesses examined, and the parties heard in person or by their respective pleaders, the Court shall pronounce its judgment. The judgment shall be pronounced in open Court either immediately or on some future day of which due notice shall be given to the parties or their pleaders.

Judgment to be written in the vernacular language of the Judge.

Proviso.

184. The judgment shall be written in the vernacular language of the Judge. Provided that if the vernacular language of the Judge be not English and the Judge be sufficiently conversant with the English language to be able to write a clear and intelligible decision in that language, and prefer to write his judgment in it, the judgment may be written in English.

Judgment what to contain.

185. The judgment shall contain the point or points for determination, the decision thereupon, and the reasons for the decision, and shall be dated and signed by the Judge in open Court at the time of pronouncing it. Whenever the judgment is written in any other language than that which is in ordinary use in the Court, the judgment shall be translated into the language in ordinary use in the Court, and the translation shall also be signed by the Judge.

Judgment to be translated.

Court to state its decision on each issue.

Proviso.

186. In all suits in which issues have been framed, the Court shall state its finding or decision on each separate issue, unless the finding upon any one or more of the issues be sufficient for the decision of the suit.

Judgment to direct by whom costs are to be paid.

187. The judgment shall in all cases direct by whom the costs of each party are to be paid, whether by himself or by another party, and whether in whole or in what part or proportion; and the Court shall have full power to award and apportion costs in any manner it may deem proper.

What is included under the denomination of costs.

188. Under the denomination of costs are included the whole of the expenses necessarily incurred by either party on account of the suit, and in enforcing the decree passed therein, such as the expense of stamps, of summoning the defendants and witnesses, and of other processes, or of procuring copies of documents, fees of pleaders, charges of witnesses, and expenses of Commissioners either in taking evidence or in local investigations or in investigations into accounts.

Decree.

189. The decree shall bear date the day on which the judgment was passed. It shall contain the number of the suit, the names and descriptions of the parties, and particulars of the claim, as stated in the Register of the suit, and shall specify clearly the relief granted or other determination of the suit. It shall also state the amount of costs incurred in the suit and by what parties and in what proportions they are to be paid, and shall be signed by the Judge and sealed with the seal of the Court.

Decree for the recovery of a portion of immoveable property.

190. When the suit is for land or other immoveable property with specified boundaries, if the decree be for the recovery of a portion only of such property, it shall specify the boundaries of the land or property adjudged.

Decree for the delivery of moveable property.

191. When the suit is for moveable property, if the decree be for the delivery of such property, it shall also state the amount of money to be paid as an alternative if delivery cannot be had.

Decree for damages for breach of contract.

192. When the suit is for damages for breach of contract, if it appear that the defendant is able to perform the contract, the Court with the consent of the plaintiff may decree the specific performance of the contract within a time to be fixed by the Court, and in such case shall award an amount of damages to be paid as an alternative if the contract is not performed.

In suits for money, decree may order certain interest to be paid on the principal sum adjudged.

193. When the suit is for a sum of money due to the plaintiff, the Court may in the decree order interest to be paid on the principal sum adjudged from the date of suit to the date of payment at such rate as the Court may think proper.

Payments by instalments.

194. In all decrees for the payment of money, the Court may for any sufficient reason order that the amount shall be paid by instalments with or without interest.

If set-off be allowed.

195. If the defendant shall have been allowed to set-off any demand against the claim of the plaintiff, the decree shall state what amount is due to the plaintiff and what amount (if any) is due to the defendant, and shall be for the recovery of any sum which shall appear to be due to either party. The decree of the Court with respect to any sum awarded to the defendant shall have the same effect and be subject to the same rules as if such sum had been claimed by the defendant in a separate suit against the plaintiff.

When the suit is for land, the Court may provide in the decree for payment of mesne profits with interest.

196. When the suit is for land or other property paying rent, the Court may provide in the decree for the payment of mesne profits or rent on such land or other property from the date of the suit until the date of delivery of possession to the decree-holder with interest thereupon at such rate as the Court may think proper.

Court may determine amount of mesne profits prior to passing decree or may reserve enquiry.

197. When the suit is for land and for mesne profits which have accrued thereon during a period prior to the date of suit, and the amount of such profits is disputed, the Court may either determine the amount prior to passing a decree for the land, or may pass a decree for the land and reserve the enquiry into the amount of mesne profits for the execution of the decree according as may appear most convenient.

Certified copies of the decree and judgment to be furnished.

198. Certified copies of the decree and judgment shall be furnished to the parties or their pleaders on application to the Court, and on the production of the necessary stamps where stamps are required by any law for the time being in force. The application may be made either orally or by writing on unstamped paper.

CHAPTER IV.

Execution of Decrees.

Decree for immoveable property.

199. If the decree be for land or other immoveable property, the same shall be delivered over to the party to whom it shall have been adjudged.

Decree for moveable property, performance of contract, or alternative.

200. If the decree be for any specific moveable, or for the specific performance of any contract, or for the performance of any other particular act, it shall be enforced by the seizure, if practicable, of the specific moveable and the delivery thereof to the party to whom it shall have been adjudged, or by imprisonment of the party against whom the decree is made, or by attaching his property and keeping the same under attachment until further order of the Court, or by both imprisonment and attachment if necessary; or if alternative damages be awarded, by levying such damages in the mode hereinafter provided for the execution of a decree for money.

Decree for money.

201. If the decree be for money, it shall be enforced by the imprisonment of the party against whom the decree is made, or by the attachment and sale of his property, or by both if necessary; and if such party be other than a defendant, the decree may be enforced against him in the same manner as a decree may be enforced under the provisions of this Chapter against a defendant. When the decree is against Government or against any Officer acting on behalf of Government, if the Officer whose duty it is to satisfy the decree neglect or refuse to satisfy the same, the Court shall report the case through the Sudder

Court for the orders of Government, and execution shall not issue on the decree unless the same shall remain unsatisfied for the space of three months from the date of such report.

Decrees for execution of conveyances, or endorsement of negotiable instruments.

202. If the decree be for the execution of a conveyance or for the endorsement of a negotiable instrument, and the party ordered to execute or endorse such conveyance or negotiable instrument shall neglect or refuse so to do, any party interested in having the same executed or endorsed may prepare a conveyance or endorsement of the instrument in accordance with the terms of the decree, and tender the same to the Court, for execution upon the proper stamp (if any is required by law), and the signature thereof by the Judge shall have the same effect as the execution or endorsement thereof by the party ordered to execute.

Decree against representatives of deceased persons.

203. If the decree be against a party as the representative of a deceased person, and such decree be for money to be paid out of the property of the deceased person, it may be executed by the attachment and sale of any such property, or, if no such property can be found and the defendant fail to satisfy the Court that he has duly applied such property of the deceased as shall be proved to have come into his possession, the decree may be executed against the defendant to the extent of the property not duly applied by him, in the same manner as if the decree had been against the defendant personally.

Decree against sureties.

204. Whenever a person has become liable as security for the performance of a decree or of any part thereof, the decree may be executed against such person to the extent to which he has rendered himself liable, in the same manner as a decree may be enforced against a defendant.

What property liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree.

205. The following property is liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree, namely, lands, houses, goods, money, bank-notes, cheques, bills of exchange, promissory notes, Government securities, bonds, or other securities for money, debts, shares in the capital or joint-stock of any Railway, Banking, or other Public Company or Corporation, and all other property whatsoever, moveable or immoveable, belonging to the defendant, and whether the same be held in his own name or by another person in trust for him, or on his behalf.

Payment of monies under decrees &c.

206. All monies payable under a decree shall be paid into the Court, whose duty it is to execute the decree, unless such Court or the Court which passed the decree shall otherwise direct.

Adjustment of decree to be made through the Court.

No adjustment of a decree in part or in whole shall be recognized by the Court unless such adjustment be made through the Court or be certified to the Court by the person in whose favor the decree has been made or to whom it has been transferred.

Application for Execution.

Application for execution how to be made.

207. When any party in whose favor a decree has been made is desirous of enforcing the same, he shall apply to the Court whose duty it is to execute the decree either in person or through his pleader in the suit or some other pleader duly appointed to act for him in that behalf. If there be two or more decree-holders, one or more of them may make the application, if the Court shall see sufficient cause for allowing him or them to make such application; and the Court shall in such case pass such order as it may deem necessary for protecting the interests of the other decree-holders.

Application by whom to be made, if decree be transferred from original decree-holder to another person.

208. If a decree shall be transferred by assignment or by operation of law from the original decree-holder to any other person, application for the execution of the decree may be made by the person to whom it shall have been so transferred or his pleader; and if the Court shall think proper to grant such application, the decree may be executed in the same manner as if the application were made by the original decree-holder.

Cross-decrees.

209. If there be cross-decrees between the same parties for the payment of money, execution shall be taken out by that party only who shall have obtained a decree for the larger sum, and for so much only as shall remain after deducting the smaller sum, and satisfaction for the smaller sum shall be entered on the decree for the larger sum as well as satisfaction on the decree for the smaller sum, and if both sums shall be equal, satisfaction shall be entered upon both decrees.

The above rules shall apply to decrees sent to a Court for execution as well as to decrees in the same Court.

Whenever a suit shall be pending in any Court against the holder of a decree of such Court, by the person or persons against whom the decree was passed, the Court may, if it appear just and reasonable to do so, stay execution on the decree either absolutely or on such terms as it may think just, until a decree shall be passed in the pending suit.

If the person against whom a decree is made shall die before execution, application may be made against his legal representative or estate.

210. If any person against whom a decree has been made shall die before execution has been fully had thereon, application for execution thereof may be made against the legal representative or the estate of the person so dying as aforesaid; and if the Court shall think proper to grant such application, the decree may be executed accordingly.

Decree how to be executed against legal representative.

211. If the decree be ordered to be executed against the legal representative it shall be executed in the manner provided in Section 203 for the execution of a decree for money to be paid out of the property of a deceased person.

Form of application for execution of a decree.

212. The application for execution of a decree shall be in writing, and shall contain in a tabular form the following particulars, namely, the number of the suit, the names of the parties, the date of the decree, whether any appeal has been preferred from the decree, and whether any and what adjustment of the matter in dispute has been made between the parties subsequently to the decree; the amount of the debt or damages due upon it, or other relief granted by the decree; the amount of costs, if any were awarded; the name of the person against whom the enforcement of the decree is sought; and the mode in which the assistance of the Court is required, whether by the delivery of property specifically decreed, the arrest and imprisonment of the person named, or attachment of his property, or otherwise as the case may be.

Further particulars when the application is for an attachment of immoveable property.

213. When the application is for an attachment of any land or other immoveable property belonging to the defendant, it shall be accompanied with an inventory or list of such property, containing such a description of the property as may be sufficient to identify it, together with a specification of the defendant's share or interest therein, to the best of the applicant's belief and so far as he has been able to ascertain the same. And where the property is an estate paying revenue to Government or any portion of such estate, the application for an attachment shall be accompanied with an authenticated extract from the Register of the Collector's Office, specifying the revenue of such estate, and the names and (where registered) the shares of the registered proprietors.

The application for an attachment of moveable property may be general, or may be accompanied with an inventory of the property to be attached.

214. Where the application is for an attachment of the defendant's moveable property or any part thereof, it may be accompanied with an inventory or list of the property to be attached, containing a reasonably accurate description thereof; or the applicant may apply for a general attachment of the defendant's moveable property wheresoever the same can be found, to the amount of the judgment and costs.

Procedure on receiving the application.

215. The Court, on receiving any application for execution of a decree, containing the particulars above mentioned, or such of them as may be applicable to the case, shall cause the same to be compared with the original decree contained in the record of the suit, and if they shall be found to correspond therewith, shall enter a note of the application, and the date on which it was made in the Register of the suit. If the particulars shall not be found to correspond with the original decree, the Court shall either return the application for correction to the person making it, or shall, with the consent of such person, cause the necessary correction to be made. If the application be admitted, the Court shall order execution of the decree according to the nature of the application.

Measures required in certain cases preliminary to the issue of the Warrant.

In certain special cases, notice to show cause why the decree should not be executed shall be issued.

216. If an interval of more than one year shall have elapsed between the date of the decree and the application for its execution, or if the enforcement of the decree be applied for against the heir or representative of an original party to the suit, the Court shall issue a notice to the party against whom execution may be applied for requiring him to show cause, within a limited period to be fixed by the Court, why the decree should not be executed against him. Provided that no such notice shall be necessary in consequence of an interval of more than one year having elapsed between the date of the decree and the application for execution, if the application be made within one year from the date of the last order passed on any previous application for execution; and provided further that no such notice shall be necessary in consequence of the application being against an heir or representative, if upon a previous application for execution against the same person, the Court shall have ordered execution to issue against him.

Proviso.

Procedure after issue of notice.

217. When such notice is issued, if the party shall not attend in person or by a pleader, or shall not show sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Court why the decree should not be forthwith executed, the Court shall order it to be executed accordingly. If the party shall attend in person or by a pleader, and shall offer any objection to the enforcement of the decree, the Court shall pass such order as in the circumstances of the case may appear to be just and proper.

Application for a general attachment of moveable property.

218. Where the application is for a general attachment of the moveable property of the defendant, it shall be competent to the Court, if it shall think proper, before issuing an order for such attachment, to require the applicant to give security to the satisfaction of the Court, in such sum as may be considered adequate, for any injury that may be occasioned by the attachment of property belonging to any other person than the defendant.

Before granting order, Court may make certain enquiries as to the property to be attached.

219. Before granting the order for a general attachment or at the instance of the plaintiff at any time after judgment and before complete execution of the decree, the Court may summon the person against whom the application is made and examine him as to the property liable to be seized in satisfaction of the judgment. The Court may also, of its own motion or at the instance of any person interested in the enquiry, summon any other person whom it may think necessary and examine him in respect to such property, and may require the person summoned to produce all deeds and documents in his possession or power relating to such property.

Rules applicable to the summoning and examination of parties and witnesses after judgment.

220. In all cases in which a summons may be issued for the attendance of a party to a suit or any other person at any time after judgment, the rules applicable to the summoning and examination of parties and witnesses after issues recorded, shall apply to the party or witnesses so summoned.

Issue of the Warrant.

Warrant when to issue.

221. When all necessary preliminary measures have been taken, where any such are required, the Court, unless it see cause to the contrary, shall issue the proper warrants for the execution of the decree.

Latest day of execution to be written in warrant, and time and manner of execution to be endorsed.

222. Every warrant for the execution of a decree shall bear the date of the day on which it is issued, and shall be signed by the Judge and sealed with the seal of the Court, and delivered to the Nazir or other proper Officer of the Court. A day shall be specified in the warrant on or before which it must be executed, and the Nazir or other proper Officer shall endorse upon the warrant the day and the manner in which it was executed, or if it was not executed the reason why it was not executed, and shall return it with such endorsement to the Court from which it issued.

Of the execution of Decrees for Immoveable Property.

How immoveable property is to be delivered when in the occupancy of a defendant or of some person under him.

223. If the decree be for a house, land, or other immoveable property in the occupancy of a defendant or some person on his behalf, or of some person claiming under a title created by the defendant subsequently to the institution of the suit, the Court shall order delivery thereof to be made by putting the party to whom the house, land, or other immoveable property may have been adjudged, or any person whom he may appoint to receive delivery on his behalf, in possession thereof, and if need be, by removing any person who may refuse to vacate the same.

How it is to be delivered when in the occupancy of ryot.

224. If the decree be for land or other immoveable property in the occupancy of ryots or other persons entitled to occupy the same, the Court shall order delivery thereof to be made by affixing a copy of the warrant in some conspicuous place on the land or other immoveable property, and proclaiming to the occupants of the property by beat of drum, or in such other mode as may be customary, at some convenient place or places, the substance of the decree in regard to the property.

Division of estate or separation of share how to be made.

225. If the decree be for the division of an estate or for the separate possession of a share of an undivided estate paying revenue to Government, the division of the estate or the separation of the share shall be made by the Collector under the orders of the Court according to the rules in force for the partition of an estate paying revenue to Government.

Obstruction to execution of decree for immoveable property.

226. If in the execution of a decree for land or other immoveable property, the Officer executing the same shall be resisted or obstructed by any person, the person in whose favor such decree was made may apply to the Court at any time within one month from the time of such resistance or obstruction. The Court shall fix a day for investigating the complaint and shall summon the party against whom the complaint is made to answer the same.

Obstruction by defendant.

227. If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Court that the obstruction or resistance was occasioned by the defendant or by some person at his instigation on the ground that the land or other immoveable property is not included in the decree, or on any other ground, the Court shall enquire into the matter of the complaint and pass such order as may be proper under the circumstances of the case.

How defendant may be dealt with, if he persists in obstructing the complainant.

228. If the Court shall be satisfied, after such investigation of the facts of the case as it may deem proper, that the resistance or obstruction complained of was without any just cause and that the complainant is still resisted or obstructed in obtaining effectual possession of the property adjudged to him by the decree, by the defendant or some person at his instigation, the Court may, at the instance of the plaintiff and without prejudice to any proceedings to which such defendant or other person may be liable under any law for the time being in force for the punishment of such resistance or obstruction, commit the defendant or such other person to close custody for such period not exceeding thirty days as may be necessary to prevent the continuance of such obstruction or resistance.

Obstruction by a bonâ fide claimant other than the defendant.

229. If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Court that the resistance or obstruction to the execution of the decree has been occasioned by any person, other than the defendant, claiming bonâ fide to be in possession of the property on his own account or on account of some other person than the defendant, the claim shall be numbered and registered as a suit between the decree-holder as plaintiff and the claimant as defendant, and the Court shall, without prejudice to any proceedings to which the claimant may be liable under any law for the time being in force for the punishment of such resistance or obstruction, proceed to investigate the claim in the same manner and with the like power as if a suit for the property had been instituted by the decree-holder against the claimant, under the provisions of this Act, and shall pass such order for staying execution of the decree, or executing the same, as it may deem proper in the circumstances of the case.

Procedure in certain cases if person dispossessed of immoveable property disputes the right of decree-holder to be put into possession of such property.

230. If any person other than the defendant shall be dispossessed of any land or other immoveable property in execution of a decree and such person shall dispute the right of the decree-holder to dispossess him of such property under the decree on the ground that the property was bonâ fide in his possession on his own account or on account of some other person than the defendant, and that it was not included in the decree, or, if included in the decree, that he was not a party to the suit in which the decree was passed, he may apply to the Court within one month from the date of such dispossession; and if, after examining the applicant, it shall appear to the Court that there is probable cause for making the application, the application shall be numbered and registered as a suit between the applicant as plaintiff, and the decree-holder as defendant, and the Court shall proceed to investigate the matter in dispute in the same manner and with the like powers as if a suit for the property had been instituted by the applicant against the decree-holder.

Appeal from decision under the last two Sections.

231. The decision passed by the Court under either of the last two Sections shall be of the same force as a decree in an ordinary suit, and shall be subject to appeal under the rules applicable to appeals from decrees; and no fresh suit shall be entertained in any Court between the same party or parties claiming under them in respect of the same cause of action.

Of the Execution of Decrees for Money by Attachment of Property.

Attachment of property in execution of decree for money, to be as follows.

232. If the decree be for money, and the amount thereof is to be levied from the property of the person against whom the same may have been pronounced, the Court shall cause the property to be attached in the manner following.

Attachment of moveable property in possession of defendant, by seizure.

233. Where the property shall consist of goods, chattels, or other moveable property in the possession of the defendant, the attachment shall be made by actual seizure, and the Nazir or other Officer shall keep the same in his own custody, or in the custody of his subordinates, and shall be responsible for the due custody thereof.

Attachment by prohibitory order of moveable property, to which defendant is entitled subject to a lien.

234. Where the property shall consist of goods, chattels, or other moveable property to which the defendant is entitled subject to a lien or right of some other person to the immediate possession thereof, the attachment shall be made by a written order prohibiting the person in possession from giving over the property to the defendant.

Attachment of immoveable property by prohibitory order.

235. Where the property shall consist of lands, houses, or other immoveable property, the attachment shall be made by a written order prohibiting the defendant from alienating the property by sale, gift, or in any other way, and all persons from receiving the same by purchase, gift, or otherwise.

Attachment of debts not being negotiable instruments, and of shares in public Companies &c., by prohibitory order.

236. Where the property shall consist of debts not being negotiable instruments, or of shares in any Railway, Banking, or other public Company or Corporation, the attachment shall be made by a written order prohibiting the creditor from receiving the debts, and the debtor from making payment thereof to any person whomsoever, until the further order of the Court, or prohibiting the person in whose name the shares may be standing from making any transfer of the shares or receiving payment of any dividends thereof, and the Manager, Secretary, or other proper Officer of the Company or Corporation from permitting any such transfer or making any such payment until such further order.

Attachment of money or securities in deposit in a Court of Justice or with a Government Officer, by notice.

237. Where the property shall consist of money, or of any security, in deposit in any Court of Justice or in the hands of any Officer of Government, which is or may become payable to the defendant or on his behalf, the attachment shall be made by a notice to such Court or Officer requesting that the money or security may be held subject to the further order of the Court by which the notice may be issued. Provided that, if such money or security is in deposit in any Court of Justice, any question of title or priority which may arise between the decree-holder and any other person, not being the defendant, claiming to be interested in such money or security by virtue of any assignment, attachment, or otherwise, shall be determined by the Court in which such money or security is in deposit.

Proviso.

Attachment of negotiable instruments by seizure.

238. Where the property shall consist of a negotiable instrument, the attachment shall be made by actual seizure, and the Nazir or other Officer shall bring the same into Court, and such instrument shall be held subject to the further orders of the Court.

When the attachment is by prohibitory order, how the order is to be made known.

239. In the case of goods, chattels, or other moveable property not in the possession of the defendant, the written order shall be fixed up in some conspicuous part of the Court-house, and a copy of the order shall be delivered or sent registered by post to the person in possession of the property. In the case of lands, houses, or other immoveable property, the written order shall be read aloud at some place on or adjacent to such lands, houses, or other property, and shall be fixed up in some conspicuous part of the Court-house; and when the property is land or any interest in land, the written order shall also be fixed up in the Office of the Collector of the Zillah in which the land may be situated. In the case of debts, the written order shall be fixed up in some conspicuous part of the Court-house, and copies of the written order shall be delivered or sent registered by post to each individual debtor. And in the case of shares in the capital or joint-stock of any Railway, Banking, or other public Company or Corporation, the written order shall in like manner be fixed up in some conspicuous part of the Court-house, and a copy of the order shall be delivered or sent registered by post to the Manager, Secretary, or other proper Officer of the Company or Corporation.

Any private alienation of property after attachment to be null and void.

240. After any attachment shall have been made by actual seizure, or by written order as aforesaid, and in the case of an attachment by written order after it shall have been duly intimated and made known in manner aforesaid, any private alienation of the property attached, whether by sale, gift, or otherwise, and any payment of the debt or debts or dividends or shares to the defendant during the continuance of the attachment, shall be null and void.

Payment by a debtor who has been prohibited from making payment to his creditor.

241. In every case in which a debtor shall be prohibited from making payment of his debt to the creditor, he may pay the amount into Court and such payment shall have the same effect as payment to the party entitled to receive the debt.

The Court may direct money or bank-notes to be paid to the plaintiff.

242. In all cases of attachment under the preceding Sections, it shall be competent to the Court, at any time during the attachment, to direct that any part of the property so attached as shall con-

Or other attached property to be sold, and proceeds to be paid to him.

243. When the property attached shall consist of debts due to the party who may be answerable for the amount of the decree, or of any lands, houses, or other immoveable property, it shall be competent to the Court to appoint a manager of the said property, with power to sue for the debts, and to collect the rents or other receipts and profits of the land or other immoveable property, and to execute such deeds or instruments in writing as may be necessary for the purpose, and to pay and apply such rents, profits, or receipts towards the payment of the amount of the decree and costs; or when the property attached shall consist of land, if the judgment debtor can satisfy the Court that there is reasonable ground to believe that the amount of the judgment may be raised by the mortgage of the land, or by letting it on lease, or by disposing by private sale of a portion of the land or of any other property belonging to the judgment debtor, it shall be competent to the Court, on the application of the judgment debtor, to postpone the sale for such period as it may think proper to enable the judgment debtor to raise the amount. In any case in which a manager shall be appointed under this Section, such manager shall be bound to render due and proper accounts of his receipts and disbursements from time to time as the Court may direct.

Where the property attached consists of debts or immoveable property, a manager may be appointed.

Court may postpone sale of land if satisfied that amount of judgment may be raised by mortgage, &c.

Manager to render accounts.

244. When in any District, where land paying revenue to Government is ordinarily sold by the Collector, as provided in Section 248, the property attached shall consist of any such land, or of a share in any such land, if the Collector shall represent to the Court that the public sale of the land or share is objectionable, and that satisfaction of the decree may be made within a reasonable period by a temporary alienation of the land or share, the Court may authorize the Collector, on security for the amount of the decree or for the value of such land or share being given, to make provision for such satisfaction in the manner recommended by the Collector, instead of proceeding to a public sale of the land or share.

When Court may authorize Collectors to stay public sale of land.

On security being given.

245. If the amount decreed with costs and all charges and expenses which may be incurred by the attachment be paid into Court, or if satisfaction of the decree be otherwise made, an order shall be issued for the withdrawal of the attachment; and if the defendant shall desire it and shall deposit in Court a sum sufficient to cover the expense, the order shall be proclaimed or intimated in the same manner as hereinbefore prescribed for the proclamation or intimation of the attachment; and such steps shall be taken as may be necessary for staying further proceedings in execution of the decree.

Order for withdrawal of attachment after satisfaction of the decree.

Of Claims to Attached Property.

246. In the event of any claim being preferred to, or objection offered against the sale of lands or any other immoveable or moveable property which may have been attached in execution of a decree or under any order for attachment passed before judgment, as not liable to be sold in execution of a decree against the defendant, the Court shall, subject to the proviso contained in the next succeeding Section, proceed to investigate the same with the like powers as if the claimant had been originally made a defendant to the suit, and also with such powers as regards the summoning of the original defendant as are contained in Section 220. And if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Court that the land or other immoveable or moveable property was not in the possession of the party against whom execution is sought, or of some other person in trust for him, or in the occupancy of ryots or cultivators or other persons paying rent to him at the time when the property was attached, or that, being in the possession of the party himself at such time, it was so in his possession not on his own account or as his own property, but on account of or in trust for some other person, the Court shall pass an order for releasing the said property from attachment. But if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Court that the land or other immoveable or moveable property was in possession of the party against whom execution is sought, as his own property, and not on account of any other person, or was in the possession of some other person in trust for him, or in the occupancy of ryots or cultivators or other persons paying rent to him at the time when the property was attached, the Court shall disallow the claim. The order which may be passed by the Court under this Section shall not be subject to appeal, but the party against whom the order may be given shall be at liberty to bring a suit to establish his right at any time within one year from the date of the order.

How claims and objections to sale of attached property are to be investigated.

247. The claim or objection shall be made at the earliest opportunity to the Court which shall have ordered the attachment; and if the property to which the claim or objection applies, shall have been advertized for sale, the sale may (if it appears necessary) be postponed for the purpose of making the investigation mentioned in the last preceding Section. Provided that no such investigation shall be made if it appear that the making of the claim or objection was designedly and unnecessarily delayed, with a view to obstruct the ends of justice. The order disallowing the investigation shall not be subject to appeal, and the claimant shall be left to prosecute his claim by a regular suit.

Claims and objections should be preferred at the earliest opportunity.

Of Sales in execution of Decrees.

248. Sales in execution of decrees shall be conducted by an Officer of the Court or by any other person whom the Court may appoint, and shall in all cases be made by public auction in manner hereinafter mentioned. Provided that if the property to be sold shall consist of negotiable securities or of shares in any Railway, Banking, or other public Company or Corporation, it shall be competent to the Court, instead of directing the sale to be made by public auction, to authorize the sale of such securities or shares through a broker at the market-rate of the day. If the property to be sold shall be land paying revenue to Government and the Government shall so direct, the sale shall be conducted by the Collector on the requisition of the Court.

Sales to be by public auction.

Exception as to negotiable securities and shares in public Companies.

Sale by Collector of lands paying revenue to Government.

249. In all cases of intended sale by public auction, whether of moveable or immoveable property, in execution of a decree, a proclamation of the intended sale, specifying the time and place of sale, the property to be sold, the revenue assessed upon the estate when the property to be sold is an estate or a part of an estate paying revenue to Government, and the amount for the recovery of which the sale is ordered, together with any other particulars that the Court may think necessary, shall be made in the current language of the District. The proclamation shall also declare that the sale extends only to the right, title, and interest of the defendant in the property specified therein. Such proclamation shall be made on the spot where the property is attached by beat of drum or in such other mode as may be customary; and a written notification to the same effect shall be affixed in the Court-house of the Judge who shall have ordered the sale, and in some conspicuous spot in the town or village in which the attachment may have taken place. When the property ordered to be sold may consist of land or of any right or interest in land, the written notification shall also be affixed in the Office of the Collector of the District in which such land is situate and in the Court-house of the principal Civil Court of the District where the Court which ordered the sale is subordinate to such Court. The sale shall not take place until after the expiration of at least thirty days in the case of immoveable property, and of at least fifteen days in the case of moveable property, calculated from the date on which the notification shall have been affixed in the Court-house of the Judge ordering the sale.

Notification of sales by public auction.

Time of sale.

250. The usual process for attachment and sale when the property to be attached consists of goods, chattels, or other personal estate other than debts, may be issued either successively or simultaneously as the Court directing the sale may in each instance think proper.

The process for attachment and sale may in certain cases be issued simultaneously.

251. In all cases of sale of moveable property, the price of every lot shall be paid for at the time of sale or as soon after as the Officer holding the sale shall direct, and in default of such payment the property shall forthwith be again put up and sold. On payment of the purchase money, the Officer holding the sale shall grant a receipt for the same, and the sale shall become absolute.

Mode of payment on sale of moveable property.

252. No irregularity in the sale of moveable property under an execution, shall vitiate the sale; but any person who may sustain any injury by reason of such irregularity may recover damages by a suit in Court.

Irregularity not to vitiate sale of moveable property, but any person injured may recover damages by suit.

253. In all cases of sale of immoveable property, the party who is declared to be the purchaser shall be required to deposit immediately twenty-five per centum on the amount of his bid, and in default of such deposit the property shall forthwith be again put up and sold.

Deposit by purchaser in case of sale of immoveable property.

254. The full amount of purchase money shall be made good by the purchaser before sunset of the fifteenth day from that on which the sale of the property took place, or if the fifteenth day be a Sunday or other close holiday, then on the first office day after the fifteenth day; and in default of payment within such period, the deposit, after defraying the expenses of the sale, shall be forfeited to Government, and the property shall be resold and the defaulting purchaser shall forfeit all claim to the property or to any part of the sum for which it may subsequently be sold. If the proceeds of the sale which is eventually consummated be less than the price bid by such defaulting purchaser, the difference shall be leviable from him under the rules for enforcing the payment of money in satisfaction of a decree of Court.

When full amount of purchase money to be made good.

Procedure on default.

Defaulting purchaser answerable for loss by re-sale.

255. Every re-sale of immoveable property in default of payment of the purchase money shall be made after the issue of a fresh notification in the manner and for the period prescribed for original sales.

Notification on re-sale of immoveable property.

256. No sale of immoveable property shall become absolute until the sale has been confirmed by the Court. At any time within thirty days from the date of the sale, application may be made to the Court to set aside the sale on the ground of any material irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale, but no sale shall be set aside on the ground of such irregularity unless the applicant shall prove to the satisfaction of the Court that he has sustained substantial injury by reason of such irregularity.

Confirmation of sale.

257. If no such application as is mentioned in the last preceding Section be made, or if such application be made and the objection be disallowed, the Court shall pass an order confirming the sale; and in like manner if such application be made, and if the objection be allowed, the Court shall pass an order setting aside the sale for irregularity. If the objection be allowed, the order made to set aside the sale shall be final; if the objection be disallowed, the order confirming the sale shall be open to appeal; and such order, unless appealed from, and if appealed from, then the order passed on the appeal, shall be final; and the party against whom the same has been given

The sale, if not objected to for irregularity, or if the objection is disallowed, shall become absolute.

When the order to set aside a sale shall be open to appeal.

shall be precluded from bringing a suit for establishing his claim.

If the sale be set aside, price to be returned to purchaser.

258. Whenever a sale of immoveable property is set aside, the purchaser shall be entitled to receive back his purchase money with or without interest, in such manner as it may appear proper to the Court to direct in each instance.

Certificate to be granted to the purchasers of land.

259. After a sale of immoveable property shall have become absolute in manner aforesaid, the Court shall grant a certificate to the person who may have been declared the purchaser at such sale, to the effect that he has purchased the right, title, and interest of the defendant in the property sold, and such certificate shall be taken and deemed to be a valid transfer of such right, title, and interest.

Certificate to state the name of actual purchaser.

260. The certificate shall state the name of the person who at the time of sale is declared to be the actual purchaser, and any suit brought against the certified purchaser on the ground that the purchase was made on behalf of another person not the certified purchaser, though by agreement the name of the certified purchaser was used, shall be dismissed with costs.

Delivery of moveable property in the possession of defendant.

261. Where the property sold shall consist of goods, chattels, or other moveable property in the possession of the defendant, or to the immediate possession of which the defendant is entitled, and of which actual seizure has been made, the property shall be delivered to the purchaser.

Delivery of moveable property to which defendant is entitled subject to lien.

262. Where the property sold shall consist of goods, chattels, or other moveable property to which the defendant is entitled subject to a lien or right of any person to the immediate possession thereof, the delivery to the purchaser shall as far as practicable be made by giving notice to the person in possession prohibiting him from delivering possession of the property to any person except the purchaser thereof.

Delivery of immoveable property in the occupancy of defendants, &c.

263. If the property sold shall consist of a house, land, or other immoveable property, in the occupancy of a defendant or some person on his behalf or of some person claiming under a title created by the defendant subsequently to the attachment of such property, the Court shall order delivery thereof to be made by putting the party to whom the house, land, or other immoveable property may have been sold, or any person whom he may appoint to receive delivery on his behalf, in possession thereof, and, if need be, by removing any person who may refuse to vacate the same.

Delivery of immoveable property in the occupancy of ryots, &c.

264. If the property sold shall consist of land or other immoveable property in the occupancy of ryots or other persons entitled to occupy the same, the Court shall order delivery thereof to be made by affixing a copy of the certificate of sale in some conspicuous place on the land or other immoveable property, and proclaiming to the occupants of the property by beat of drum, or in such other mode as may be customary, at some convenient place or places, that the right, title, and interest of the defendant has been transferred to the purchaser.

Delivery of debts not being negotiable instruments, and of shares in public Companies.

265. Where the property sold shall consist of debts not being negotiable instruments or of shares in any Railway, Banking, or other public Company or Corporation, the delivery thereof shall be by a written order of the Court prohibiting the creditor from receiving the debts and the debtor from making payment thereof to any person or persons except the purchaser, or prohibiting the person in whose name the shares may be standing, from making any transfer of the shares to any person except the purchaser, or receiving payment of any dividends thereon, and the Manager, Secretary, or other proper Officer of the Company or Corporation from permitting any such transfer or making any such payment to any person except the purchaser.

Delivery of negotiable securities of which actual seizure has been made.

266. Where the property sold shall consist of negotiable securites of which actual seizure has been made, the same shall be delivered to the purchaser thereof.

Transfer of securities and shares.

267. If the endorsement or conveyance of the party in whose name any negotiable security or any share in a public Company or Corporation is standing, shall be required to transfer the same, the Judge may endorse the security or the certificate of the share or may execute such other document as may be necessary for transferring the same. The endorsement or execution shall be in the following form or to the like effect—"A. B. by C D. Judge of the Court of (or as the case may be); in a suit by E. F. versus A. B." Until the transfer of such security or share, the Judge may, by order, appoint some person to receive any interest or dividend due thereon, and to sign receipts for the same; and any endorsement made or document executed or receipts signed as aforesaid shall be as valid and effectual for all purposes, as if the same had been made or executed or signed by the party himself.

Resisting or obstructing purchasers in obtaining possession of property.

268. If the purchaser of any immoveable property sold in execution of a decree shall be resisted or obstructed in obtaining possession of the property, the provisions contained in Sections 226, 227, and 228 relating to resistance or obstruction to a party in whose favor a suit has been decreed in obtaining possession of the property adjudged to him, shall be applicable in the case of such resistance or obstruction.

Obstruction by claimants other than defendants.

269. If it shall appear that the resistance or obstruction to the delivery of possession was occasioned by any person other than the defendant claiming a right to the possession of the property sold as proprietor, mortgagee, lessee, or under any other title, or if in the delivery of possession to the purchaser any such person claiming as aforesaid shall be dispossessed, the Court, on the complaint of the purchaser, or of such person claiming as aforesaid, if made within one month from the date of such resistance or obstruction or of such dispossession as the case may be, shall enquire into the matter of the complaint and pass such order as may be proper in the circumstances of the case. The order shall not be subject to appeal, but the party against whom it is given shall be at liberty to bring a suit to establish his right at any time within one year from the date thereof.

Attaching creditor to be first paid out of property attached.

270. Whenever property is sold in execution of a decree, the person on whose application such property was attached shall be entitled to be first paid out of the proceeds thereof, notwithstanding a subsequent attachment of the same property by another party in execution of a prior decree.

Surplus to be rateably distributed among decree-holders who have taken out execution prior to the order for distribution.

271. If, after the claim of the person on whose application the property was attached has been satisfied in full from the proceeds of the sale, any surplus remain, such surplus shall be distributed rateably amongst any other persons who prior to the order for such distribution may have taken out execution of decrees against the same defendant and not obtained satisfaction thereof. Provided that, when any property is sold subject to a mortgage, the mortgagee shall not beentitled to share in any surplusarising from such sale.

Proviso where property is sold subject to a mortgage.

Court may on application order another decree-holder to be satisfied out of proceeds of property attached under a decree obtained fraudulently.

272. If it shall appear to the Court, upon the application of a decree-holder, that any other decree under which property has been attached was obtained by fraud or other improper means, the Court may order that the applicant shall be satisfied out of the proceeds of the property attached so far as the same may suffice for the purpose if such other decree be a decree of that Court, or, if it be a decree of another Court, may stay the proceedings to enable the applicant to obtain a similar order from the Court by which the decree was made.

Of Arrest in execution of Decrees for Money.

On what grounds, application for discharge may be made.

273. Any person arrested under a warrant in execution of a decree for money may, on being brought before the Court, apply for his discharge on the ground that he has no present means of paying the debt, either wholly or in part, or, if possessed of any property, that he is willing to place whatever property he possesses at the disposal of the Court. The application shall contain a full account of all property of whatever nature belonging to the applicant, whether in expectancy or in possession, and whether held exclusively by himself or jointly with others, or by others in trust for him (except the necessary wearing apparel of himself and his family and the necessary implements of his trade), and of the places respectively where such property is to be found, or shall state that, with the exceptions above-mentioned, the applicant is not possessed of any property, and the application shall be subscribed and verified by the applicant in the manner herein before prescribed for subscribing and verifying plaints.

Form of application.

Verification.

Procedure on application.

274. Upon such application being made, the Court shall examine the applicant in the presence of the plaintiff or his pleader as to his then circumstances, and as to his future means of payment, and shall call upon the plaintiff to show cause why he does not proceed against any property of which the defendant is possessed and why the defendant should not be discharged; and should the plaintiff fail to show such cause, the Court may direct the discharge of the defendant from custody. Pending any enquiry which the Court may consider it necessary to make into the allegations of either party, the Court may leave the defendant in the custody of the Officer of the Court to whom the service of the warrant was entrusted, on the defendant making the necessary deposit for paying the fees of such Officer; or if the defendant furnish good and sufficient security for his appearance at any time when called upon while such enquiry is being made, his surety or surties undertaking in default of such appearance to pay the amount mentioned in the warrant, the Court may release the defendant on such security.

Defendant liable to be again arrested if proved guilty of fraudulent concealment of property, &c.

275. The discharge of the defendant under the last preceding Section shall not protect him from being arrested again and imprisoned if it should be shown that, in the application made by him, he had been guilty of any concealment or of wilfully making any false statement respecting the property belonging to him, whether in possession or in expectancy or held for him in trust, or had fraudulently concealed, transferred, or removed any property, or had committed any other act of bad faith; nor shall such discharge exempt from attachment and sale any property then in the possession of the defendant, or of which he may afterwards become possessed.

Of the execution of Decrees by Imprisonment.

Subsistence-money of a defendant in gaol how fixed and furnished.

276. When a defendant is committed to prison in execution of a decree, the Court shall fix whatever monthly allowance it shall think sufficient for his subsistence, not exceeding four annas per day, which shall be supplied by the party at whose instance the decree may have been executed, to the proper Officer of the Court or of the gaol where the defendant may be in custody, by monthly payments in advance, before the first day of each month; the first payment to be made for such portion of the current month as may remain unexpired before the defendant is committed to prison.

Court may vary the allowance in case of illness or for other special cause.

277. The Court may, in case of illness or for other special cause, fix the monthly allowance at such sum not exceeding six annas per day as shall appear necessary. The order fixing such allowance may from time to time be revised and altered on due cause being shown.

Release of defendant.

278. A defendant shall be released at any time on the decree being fully satisfied, or at the request of the person at whose instance he may have been imprisoned, or on such person omitting to pay the allowance as above direct-

ed. No person shall be imprisoned on account of a decree for a longer period than two years, or for a longer period than six months if the decree be for the payment of money not exceeding five hundred Rupees, or for a longer period than three months if the decree be for the payment of money not exceeding fifty Rupees.

Imprisonment not to be longer than 2 years.

6 months if decree for money not exceeding 500 Rs.

3 months if not exceeding 50 Rs.

279. Sums disbursed by a plaintiff for the subsistence of a defendant in gaol shall be added to the costs of the decree and shall be recoverable by the attachment and sale of the property of the defendant under the foregoing rules; but the defendant shall not be detained in custody or arrested on account of any sums so disbursed.

Subsistence-money to be added to amount of decree.

280. Any person in confinement under a decree may apply to the Court for his discharge. The application shall contain a full account of all property of whatever nature belonging to the applicant, whether in expectancy or in possession, and whether held exclusively by himself or jointly with others, or by others in trust for him (except the necessary wearing apparel of himself and his family and the necessary implements of his trade), and of the places respectively where such property is to be found; and such application shall be subscribed and verified by the applicant in the manner hereinbefore provided for subscribing and verifying plaints.

Application may be made for discharge on a surrender of the whole of the debtor's property.

281. On such application being made, the Court shall cause the plaintiff to be furnished with a copy of the account of the defendant's property, and shall fix a reasonable period within which the plaintiff may cause the whole or any part of such property to be attached and sold or may make proof that the defendant, for the purpose of procuring his discharge without satisfying the decree, has wilfully concealed property, or his right or interest therein, or fraudulently transferred or removed property, or committed any other act of bad faith. If within such period the plaintiff shall fail to make such proof, the Court shall cause the defendant to be set at liberty. If the plaintiff shall within the time specified or at any subsequent period prove to the satisfaction of the Court that the defendant has been guilty of any of the acts abovementioned, the Court shall, at the instance of the plaintiff, either retain the defendant in confinement, or commit him to prison, as the case may be, unless he shall have already been in confinement two years on account of the decree; and may also, if it shall think proper, send the defendant to the Magistrate to be dealt with according to law.

Procedure on such application.

Defendant to be discharged on plaintiff failing to prove fraud or concealment by defendant.

If guilty of fraud or concealment, debtor's imprisonment may be extended to two years; and he may be further dealt with criminally.

282. A defendant once discharged shall not again be imprisoned on account of the same decree, except under the operation of the last preceding Section, but his property shall continue liable, under the ordinary rules, to attachment and sale until the decree shall be fully satisfied, unless the decree shall be for a sum less than one hundred Rupees and on account of a transaction bearing date subsequently to the passing of this Act. When the decree shall be for a sum less than one hundred Rupees, and on account of a transaction bearing date as above, the Court may declare a defendant who shall be discharged as aforesaid absolved from further liability under that decree.

Though the defendant be discharged, his property is liable for the decree.

283. All questions regarding the amount of any mesne profits which by the terms of the decree may have been reserved for adjustment in the execution of the decree, or of any mesne profits or interest which may be payable in respect of the subject matter of a suit between the date of the institution of the suit and execution of the decree, as well as questions relating to sums alleged to have been paid in discharge or satisfaction of the decree or the like, shall be determined by order of the Court executing the decree and not by separate suit; and the order passed by the Court shall be open to appeal.

How questions regarding amount of mesne profits and interest, and sums paid in satisfaction of decree, are to be determined.

Of Execution of a Decree out of the Jurisdiction of the Court by which it was passed.

284. A decree of any Civil Court within any part of the British territories in India, or established by the authority of the Governor General of India in Council in the territories of any Foreign Prince or State, which cannot be executed within the jurisdiction of the Court whose duty it is to execute the same, may be executed within the jurisdiction of any other such Court in the manner following.

How a decree of one Court may be executed within the jurisdiction of another Court.

285. The plaintiff in such case may apply to the Court whose duty it is to execute the decree, to transmit a copy thereof, together with a certificate that satisfaction of such decree has not been obtained by execution within the jurisdiction of the said Court, and a copy of any order for execution of such decree that may have been passed, to the Court by which the applicant may wish the decree to be executed.

Application for such execution.

286. The Court, unless there be any sufficient reason to the contrary, shall cause such copies and certificate to be prepared: and the same, after being signed by the Judge and sealed with the seal of the Court, shall be transmitted to the Court indicated by the applicant if that Court be within the same District, otherwise to the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in the District in which the applicant may wish the decree to be executed; and the Court to which such copies and certificates are transmitted shall cause the same to be filed therein, without any proof of the judgment or order for execution, or of the copies thereof, or of the seal or jurisdiction of any Court, or of the signature of any Judge, unless it shall, under any peculiar circumstances to be specified in an order, require such proof.

Copy of decree and order for execution to be transmitted.

287. The copy of any decree, or of any order for execution, when filed in the Court to which it shall have been transmitted for the purpose of being executed as aforesaid, shall for such purpose have the same effect as a decree or order for execution made by such Court, and may, if the Court be the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in the District, be executed by such Court, or any Court subordinate thereto, to which it may entrust the execution of the same.

Decree or order transmitted, to be executed as that of the Court.

288. When application shall be made to any Court to execute the decree of any other Court as aforesaid, the Court to which the application shall be made or referred shall proceed to execute the same according to its own rules in the like cases; provided that such Court shall have no power to inquire into the validity of the decree unless it appear upon the face of the decree that the Court by which it was made had no jurisdiction to make the same.

Execution how to be enforced by Court applied to.

289. The Court to which such application is made or referred for execution as aforesaid, shall take cognizance of and punish all wrongful acts or irregularities done or committed in executing such decree; and all persons disobeying or obstructing the execution of such decree shall be punishable by such Court in the same manner as if the decree had been made by such Court.

Wrongful acts or irregularities in executing decree to be punished by Court applied to.

290. The Court to which such application is made may, upon good and sufficient cause being shown, stay the execution of the decree for a reasonable time, to enable the defendant to apply to the Court by which the decree was passed or to any Court having appellate jurisdiction in respect of the decree or the execution thereof, for an order to stay the execution, or for any other order relating to the decree or the execution thereof, which such Court of first instance or Court of Appeal might have made if execution had been issued by such Court of first instance, or if application for execution had been made to such Court; and in case the property or person of the defendant shall have been seized under an execution, the Court which issued the execution may order the restitution of the property or the discharge of the person of the defendant pending the result of such application.

Court applied to may in certain cases stay execution or order restitution of property or discharge of defendant.

291. Before making an order to stay execution or for the restitution of property or the discharge of the defendant under the last preceding Section, the Court may require such security from or impose such conditions upon the defendant as it may deem reasonable.

Before staying execution, Court may require security from, or impose conditions upon defendant.

292. Any order of the Court in which the decree was passed or of such Court of Appeal as aforesaid, shall be binding upon the Court to which the application for execution was made, and shall be a sufficient indemnity for all persons acting in execution of process issued by such last mentioned Court.

Order of Court passing decree or of Appellate Court to be binding upon Court applied to.

293. No discharge of a defendant under the provisions of Section 290 shall prevent him from being re-taken in execution of the decree.

Liability of defendant discharged, to be re-taken.

294. All orders of a Court for executing the decree of another Court shall be subject to the same rules, in respect to appeal, as if the decree had been originally passed by the Court making such order.

What appeal from orders for execution under this Act.

295. If, in execution of a decree, a warrant of arrest or other process is to be enforced within the limits of a Garrison, Cantonment, Military Station, or Military Bazar, the Officer entrusted with the execution of such warrant or other process shall carry the same to the Commanding Officer, or in his absence to the Senior Officer actually present in the Garrison, Cantonment, Station, or Military Bazar; and the Commanding Officer or such Senior Officer, upon such warrant or other process being produced to him, shall back the same with his signature, and, in the case of a warrant of arrest, shall cause the person named in the warrant to be arrested if within the limits of his command and delivered, according to the exigency of the warrant, to the Civil Officer charged with the execution thereof.

Warrant of arrest or other process in execution of decrees, how to be enforced in Military Cantonments, &c.

296. The rules contained in this Chapter shall be applicable to the execution of any judicial process for the sale of property or for the payment of money which may be ordered by a Civil Court in any Civil proceeding.

Rules contained in this Chapter to be applicable to all Civil process.

CHAPTER V.

Of Pauper Suits.

297. A suit may be brought in formâ pauperis in the Court having jurisdiction over the claim, subject to the following rules.

Suits may be brought in formâ pauperis.

298. No pauper suit shall be brought for the recovery of any sum of money on account of damages for loss of caste, slander, abusive language, or assault.

What suits excepted.

299. The application to the Court for permission to sue in formâ pauperis shall be by petition, which shall be written on a stamp paper of the value of eight annas.

Application to be by petition on stamp paper.

300. The petition shall contain the particulars required by Section 26 of this Act, in regard to plaints, and shall have annexed to it a Schedule of any moveable or immoveable property belonging to the petitioner, with the estimated value thereof, and shall be subscribed and verified in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for the subscription and verification of plaints.

Petition what to contain.

301. The petition shall be presented to the Court by the petitioner in person; but if the petitioner satisfy the Court that he is prevented by sickness from attending the Court in person, or if the petitioner be a female, who, according to the custom and manners of the country ought not to be compelled to appear in public, the petition may be presented by a duly authorized agent who may be able to answer all material questions relating to the application and who shall be liable to be examined in the same manner as the party represented by him might have been examined had such party attended in person.

How to be presented.

Examination of petitioner, if a female; how to be taken.

302. If the petition be not framed or presented in the manner laid down in the last two preceding Sections, the Court shall reject the petition.

Petition to be rejected if not in form.

303. If the petition be in form and duly presented, the Court shall proceed to examine the petitioner, or the agent of the petitioner as the case may be, regarding the merits of the claim and the property of the petitioner. When the petition is presented by an agent, the Court may also, if it think proper, order that the petitioner be examined in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for the examination of absent witnesses.

If in form, Court how to proceed.

If presented by an agent, Court may order petitioner to be examined in like manner as an absent witness.

304. If it appear to the Court upon such examination that the defendant, or the matter of the suit, is not within the jurisdiction of the Court, or that the claim is barred by the Statute of Limitations, or that the allegations of the petitioner do not constitute a reasonable ground of action, or (if none of the objections above stated exist) that the petitioner has failed to show that he is not possessed of sufficient means to enable him to pay for the stamps required for the institution and prosecution of the suit, or that the petitioner has recently disposed of any property fraudulently or with a view to obtain the benefit of this Chapter, the Court shall refuse to allow the petitioner to sue as a pauper.

Court may reject the application.

305. If upon such examination the Court shall see no reason to refuse the application on any of the grounds stated in the last preceding Section, it shall fix a day (of which at least ten days' previous notice shall be given to the opposite party) for receiving such evidence as the petitioner may adduce in proof of his pauperism, and for hearing any evidence which the opposite party may bring forward in disproof of the pauperism of the petitioner.

Notice to opposite party.

306. On the day appointed for the hearing, or as soon after as the business of the Court will permit, the Court shall consider any objections made by the opposite party, and shall examine any witnesses produced by either party and make a memorandum of the substance of their evidence, and shall either allow or refuse to allow the petitioner to sue as a pauper.

After a summary enquiry, the Court to pass a final order.

307. Previously to passing a final order in the case, the Court may, if it deem fit, institute a local enquiry, in the manner laid down in Section 180 of this Act, regarding the property of the petitioner or regarding the amount or value of any property claimed.

Court may direct a local enquiry.

308. If the application of the petitioner be granted, it shall be registered and shall be deemed the plaint in the suit, and the suit shall proceed in all other respects as an ordinary suit, except that the plaintiff shall not be liable to any further stamp duty in respect of any petition, appointment of a pleader, or other proceeding connected with the suit or with the execution of any decree passed in it.

Course of proceeding to be observed, if application be admitted.

309. On the decision of the suit, the Court shall calculate the amount of stamps which would have been paid by the plaintiff if he had not been permitted to sue as a pauper, and such amount shall be recoverable by Government from any party ordered by the decree to pay the same, in the same manner as costs of suit are recoverable.

On the decision of the suit, costs how to be calculated.

310. The refusal to allow the petitioner to sue as a pauper shall be a bar to any subsequent application of the like nature in respect of the same cause of action; but the plaintiff shall be at liberty to institute a suit in the usual manner in respect of such cause of action, unless precluded by the rules for the limitation of suits.

Refusal to allow to sue as a pauper, to bar any subsequent application of the like nature.

311. The orders passed by the Court under the provisions of this Chapter shall not be subject to appeal.

No appeals from orders under this Chapter.

CHAPTER VI.

Reference to Arbitration.

312. If the parties to a suit are desirous that the matters in difference between them in the suit, or any of such matters, shall be referred to the final decision of one or more arbitrator or arbitrators, they may apply to the Court at any time before final judgment for an order of reference.

Reference to arbitration on application of the parties.

313. The application shall be made by the parties in person or by their pleaders specially authorized in that behalf by an instrument in writing, which shall be presented to the Court at the time of making the application, and shall be filed with the proceedings in the suit.

Application how to be made.

314. The arbitrator or arbitrators shall be nominated by the parties in such manner as may be agreed upon between them. If the parties cannot agree with respect to the nomination of the arbitrator or arbitrators, or if the person or persons nominated by them shall refuse to accept the arbitration, and the parties are desirous that the nomination shall be made by the Court, the Court shall appoint the arbitrator or arbitrators.

Nomination and appointment of arbitrators.

315. The Court shall, by an order under its seal, refer to the arbitrator or arbitrators the matters in difference in the suit which he or they may be required to determine, and shall fix such time as it may think reasonable for the delivery of the award, and the time so fixed shall be specified in the order.

Order of reference.

316. If the reference be to two or more arbitrators, provision shall be made in the order for a difference of opinion among the arbitrators, by the appointment of an umpire, or by declaring that the decision shall be with the majority, or by empowering the arbitrators to appoint an umpire, or otherwise as may be agreed upon between the parties; or if they cannot agree, as the Court may determine.

When the reference is to two or more, the order shall provide for difference of opinion.

317. When a reference is made to arbitration by an order of Court, the Court shall issue the same processes to the parties and witnesses whom the arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire may desire to have examined, as the Court is authorized to issue in suits tried before it; and persons not attending in consequence of such process, or making any other default, or refusing to give their testimony, or being guilty of any contempt to the arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire during the investigation of the suit, shall be subject to the like disadvantages, penalties, and punishments, by order of the Court on the representation of the arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire, as they would incur for the same offences in suits tried before the Court.

Powers of arbitrators.

318. When the arbitrator or arbitrators shall not have been able to complete the award within the period specified in the order from the want of the necessary evidence or information or other good and sufficient cause, the Court may from time to time enlarge the period for the delivery of the award, if it shall think proper. In any case in which an umpire shall have been appointed, it shall be lawful for him to enter on the reference in lieu of the arbitrators, if they shall have allowed their time or their extended time to expire without making an award, or shall have delivered to the Court or to the umpire a notice in writing stating that they cannot agree. Provided that an award shall not be liable to be set aside only by reason of its not having been completed within the period allowed by the Court, unless on proof that the delay in completing the award arose from corruption or misconduct of the arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire, or unless the award shall have been made after the issue of an order by the Court superseding the arbitration and recalling the suit.

Extension of time for making award.

319. If, in any case of reference to arbitration by an order of Court, the arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire shall die, or refuse or become incapable to act, it shall be lawful for the Court to appoint a new arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire, in the place of the person or persons so dying, or refusing or becoming incapable to act. Where the arbitrators are empowered by the terms of the order of reference to appoint an umpire and do not appoint an umpire, any of the parties may serve the arbitrators with a written notice to appoint an umpire; and if within seven days after such notice shall have been served, no umpire be appointed, it shall be lawful for the Court, upon the application of the party having served such notice as aforesaid, and upon proof to its satisfaction of such notice having been served, to appoint an umpire. In any case of appointment under this Section, the arbitrator or arbitrators, or umpire so appointed, shall have the like power to act in the reference, as if their name or names had been inserted in the original order of reference.

In case of death, incapacity, or refusal to act of arbitrators or umpire, Court may appoint others in stead.

320. When an award in a suit shall be made either by the arbitrator or arbitrators, or by the umpire, it shall be submitted to the Court under the signature of the person or persons by whom it may be made, together with all the proceedings, depositions, and exhibits in the suit.

Award how to be submitted to Court.

321. It shall be lawful for the arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire, upon any reference, by an order of Court if he or they shall think fit, and if it is not provided to the contrary, to state his or their award as to the whole or any part thereof in the form of a special case for the opinion of the Court.

Arbitrator may state special case.

322. The Court may on the application of either party modify or correct an award where it appears that a part of the award is upon matters not referred to the arbitrators, provided such part can be separated from the other part and does not affect the decision on the matter referred; or where the award is imperfect in form or contains any obvious error which can be amended without affecting such decision. The Court may also on such application make such order as it thinks just respecting the costs of the arbitration, if any question arise respecting such costs and the award contain no sufficient provision concerning them.

Court may, on application, modify or correct an award in certain cases.

And make order respecting the costs of arbitration.

323. In any of the following cases the Court shall have power to remit the award or any of the matters referred to arbitration to the re-consideration of the same arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire, upon such terms as it may think proper (that is to say)—

In what cases Court may remit the award or any of the matters referred to arbitration, for re-consideration.

If the award has left undetermined some of the matters referred to arbitration, or if it determine matters not referred to arbitration.

If the award is so indefinite as to be incapable of execution.

If an objection to the legality of the award is apparent upon the face of the award.

324. No award shall be liable to be set aside except on the ground of corruption or misconduct of the arbitrators or umpire. Any application to set aside an award shall be made within ten days after the same has been submitted to the Court.

Award not to be set aside except on ground of corruption.

Application to set aside the award.

325. If the Court shall not see cause to remit the award or any of the matters referred to arbitration for re-consideration in manner aforesaid, and if no application shall have been made to set aside the award, or if the Court shall have refused such application, the Court shall proceed to pass judgment according to the award or according to its own opinion on the special case if the award shall have been submitted to it in the form of a special case; and upon the judgment which shall be so given decree shall follow and shall be carried into execution in the same manner as other decrees of the Court. In every case in which judgment shall be given according to the award, the judgment shall be final.

Judgment to be according to the award.

326. When any persons shall by an instrument in writing agree that any differences between them or any of them shall be referred to the arbitration of any person or persons named in the agreement or to be appointed by any Court having jurisdiction in the matter to which it relates, application may be made by the parties thereto or any of them that the agreement be filed in such Court. On such application being made, the Court shall direct such notice to be given to any of the parties to the agreement, other than the applicants, as it may think necessary, requiring such parties to show cause, within a time to be specified, why the agreement should not be filed. The application shall be written on a stamp paper of one-fourth of the value prescribed for plaints in suits, and shall be numbered and registered as a suit between some or one of the parties interested or claiming to be interested as plaintiffs or plaintiff, and the others or other of them as defendants or defendant, if the application have been presented by all the parties-or, if otherwise, between the applicant as plaintiff and the other parties as defendants. If no sufficient cause be shown against the agreement, the agreement shall be filed and an order of reference to arbitration shall be made thereon. The several provisions of this Chapter, so far as they are not inconsistent with the terms of any agreement so filed, shall be applicable to all proceedings under an order of reference made by the Court and to the award of arbitration and to the enforcement of such award.

Agreement of parties to refer to arbitration may be filed in the Court.

Provisions of this Chapter applicable.

327. When any matter has been referred to arbitration without the intervention of any Court of Justice, and an award has been made, any person interested in the award may within six months from the date of the award make application to the Court having jurisdiction in the matter to which the award relates, that the award be filed in Court. The Court shall direct notice to be given to the parties to the arbitration other than the applicant, requiring such parties to show cause, within a time to be specified, why the award should not be filed. The application shall be written on the stamp paper required for petitions to the Court where a stamp is required for petitions by any law for the time being in force, and shall be numbered and registered as a suit between the applicant as plaintiff and the other parties as defendants. If no sufficient cause be shown against the award, the award shall be filed and may be enforced as an award made under the provisions of this Chapter.

Filing in Court an award when the matter was referred to arbitration without intervention of Court.

Enforcement of such award.

CHAPTER VII.

OF PROCEEDINGS ON AGREEMENT OF PARTIES.

How questions may be raised for the decision of a Civil Court by any Persons interested.

328. Parties interested or claiming to be interested in the decision of any question of fact or law, may enter into an agreement, which shall be subject to the same stamp duty as prescribed for plaints in suits, that upon the finding of a Court in the affirmative or negative of such question of fact or law, a sum of money fixed by the parties, or to be determined by the Court, shall be paid by one of the parties to the other of them; or that some property, moveable or immoveable, specified in the agreement, shall be delivered by one of the parties to the other of them; or that one or more of the parties shall do or perform some particular legal act or shall refrain from doing or performing some particular act specified in the agreement. Where the agreement is for the delivery of some property moveable or immoveable, or for the doing or performing, or the refraining to do or perform any particular act, the estimated value of the property to be delivered, or to which the act specified may have reference, shall be stated in the agreement.

Questions of fact, or of law or equity, may be raised by agreement for the decision of any Court having jurisdiction.

329. The agreement may be filed in any Court having jurisdiction in the matter, and, when so filed, shall be numbered and registered as a suit between some or one of the parties interested or claiming to be interested as plaintiffs or plaintiff, and the others or other of them as defendants or defendant; and notice shall be given to all the parties to the agreement other than the party or parties by whom it was presented.

Agreement to be filed and numbered as a suit.

330. After the agreement shall have been filed, all the parties to it shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the Court, and shall be bound by the statements contained therein.

Parties to be subject to the Court's jurisdiction.

331. The case shall be set down for hearing as an ordinary suit; and if the Court shall be satisfied, after an examination of the parties or their pleaders, or taking such evidence as it may deem proper, that the agreement was duly executed by the parties, and that they have a bonâ fide interest in the question of fact or law stated therein, and that the same is fit to be tried or decided, it shall proceed to record and try, or hear the same, and deliver its finding or opinion thereon, in the same way as in an ordinary suit; and shall, upon its finding or deciding upon the question of fact or law, give judgment for the sum fixed by the parties, or so ascertained as aforesaid, or otherwise, according to the terms of the agreement, and upon the judgment which shall be so given, decree shall follow and may be executed in the same way as if the judgment had been pronounced in a contested suit.

Hearing and disposal of the case.

CHAPTER VIII.

Of Appeals.

332. Except when otherwise expressly provided in this or any other Regulation or Act for the time being in force, an appeal shall lie from the decrees of the Courts of original jurisdiction to the Courts authorized to hear appeals from the decisions of those Courts. If the appeal lie to the Sudder Court it shall be heard and determined by a Court consisting of three or more Judges of that Court.

Appeal to lie from all decrees except when expressly prohibited.

Appeal to Sudder Court to be heard by three or more Judges.

HOW APPEALS ARE TO BE PREFERRED.

Appeal to be preferred by a memorandum to be presented to the Appellate Court within specified time.

333. Appeals shall be made in the form of a memorandum which shall be presented in the Appellate Court within the period hereinafter specified, unless the appellant shall show sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Appellate Court for not having presented it within such limited period; that is to say, within thirty days if the appeal be to a District Court, and within ninety days if the appeal be to the Sudder Court. The days shall be reckoned from and exclusive of the day on which judgment was pronounced, and also exclusive of such time as may be requisite for obtaining a copy of the decree appealed against.

What the memorandum is to contain.

334. The memorandum of appeal shall set forth concisely, and under distinct heads, the grounds of objection to the decision appealed against, without any argument or narrative, and such grounds shall be numbered consecutively. The appellant shall not without the leave of the Court urge or be heard in support of any other ground of objection, but the Court in deciding the appeal shall not be confined to the grounds set forth by the appellant.

Form of memorandum.

335. The memorandum of appeal shall be in the following form, or to the following effect, and shall be accompanied by a copy of the decree appealed against—

Memorandum of Appeal.

(Name, &c. as in Register.) Plaintiff.
(Name, &c. as in Register.) Defendant.

[Name of Appellant] Plaintiff [or Defendant] above-named appeals to the Sudder Court at [or Zillah Court at be], against the decree of as the case may in the above suit, dated the day of ; for the following reasons, namely, [here state the reasons.]

If memorandum be not in form or duly presented.

336. If the memorandum be not drawn up in the manner hereinbefore prescribed, the Court may reject it or may return it to the party for the purpose of being corrected. If the memorandum be not presented within the prescribed period and no sufficient cause be shown for the delay, the appeal shall be rejected.

One of several plaintiffs or defendants may appeal and obtain a reversal of the whole decree if it proceed on a ground common to all.

337. If there be two or more plaintiffs or two or more defendants in a suit, and the decision of the Lower Court proceed on any ground common to all, any one of the plaintiffs or defendants may appeal against the whole decree, and the Appellate Court may reverse or modify the decree in favor of all the plaintiffs or defendants.

OF STAYING AND EXECUTING DECREES UNDER APPEAL.

Execution of decree not to be stayed by appeal; but if sufficient cause be shown, execution may be stayed.

338. Execution of a decree shall not be stayed by reason only of an appeal having been preferred against such decree; but the Appellate Court may, for sufficient cause shown, order that execution be stayed. If application for execution be made before the time allowed for appeal has expired, and the Lower Court has not received intimation of an appeal having been preferred, the Lower Court, if sufficient cause be shown, may stay the execution. Before making an order to stay execution, the Court making the order shall require security to be given by the party against whom the decree was passed for the due performance of the decree or order of the Appellate Court.

Court, before making order to stay execution, shall require security for due performance of decree or order of Appellate Court.

Court making an order for execution of a decree against which an appeal has been preferred, may require security for restitution of property, &c.

339. When an order is made for the execution of a decree against which an appeal has been preferred, it shall be lawful for the Court which pronounced the decree to require security to be given for the restitution of any property which may be taken in execution of the decree or of the value thereof, and for the due performance of the decree or order of the Appellate Court.

No such security to be required from Government or any Public Officer.

340. In suits instituted or defended under the authority and at the expense of Government, no such security as is mentioned in the last two preceding Sections shall in any case be required from Government or from any public Officer.

OF PROCEDURE IN APPEALS FROM DECREES.

How the appeal is to be entered.

341. When a memorandum of appeal is presented in the prescribed form and within the time allowed, the Appellate Court, or the proper Officer of that Court, shall endorse thereon the date of presentment, and shall register the appeal in a book to be kept for the purpose, and called the Register of Appeals. Such Register shall be in the form contained in the Schedule (C) hereunto annexed.

Form of the Register.

Appellate Court may, at its discretion, require security for costs from appellant.

342. It shall be in the discretion of the Appellate Court to demand security for costs from the appellant or not, as it shall see fit, before the respondent is called upon to appear and answer. Provided that the Court shall demand such security in all cases in which the appellant is residing out of the British Territories in India and is not possessed of any land or other immoveable property within those territories independent of the property to which the appeal relates; and in the event of such security not being furnished at the time of presenting the memorandum of appeal or within such time as the Court shall order, the Court shall reject the appeal.

Proviso.

Appellate Court to send intimation to Lower Court of appeal being registered.

343. When the memorandum of appeal has been registered, the Appellate Court shall send intimation thereof to the Lower Court. If the appeal be from a Court the records of which are not deposited in the Appellate Court, the Lower Court shall, upon the receipt of the intimation, transmit to the Appellate Court with all practicable despatch all material papers in the suit, or such papers as may be specially called for by the Appellate Court. Either party may give notice in writing to the Lower Court specifying any exhibits of which he requires copies to be made and deposited in the Lower Court, and copies of such exhibits shall be prepared at the expense of the party giving the notice and shall be deposited in the Lower Court.

Either party may give notice of exhibits of which he requires copies to be made and deposited in the Lower Court.

344. A day shall be fixed by the Appellate Court for the hearing of the appeal. The day shall be so fixed, with reference to the place of residence of the respondent and the time necessary for the service of the notice of appeal, as to allow the respondent a sufficient time to enable him to appear in person or by a pleader on such day.

Day for hearing the appeal, how to be fixed.

345. Notice of the day which has been fixed for hearing the appeal shall be affixed in the Appellate Court, and a like notice shall be sent by the Appellate Court to the Lower Court and shall be served on the respondent in the same way as hereinbefore provided for the service of a summons to a defendant to appear and answer, and all rules applicable to such summons and to proceedings with reference to the service thereof, shall apply to the service of such notice. The notice to the respondent shall contain an intimation that, if he does not appear in the Appellate Court on the day so fixed for the hearing of the appeal, the case will be heard and decided ex parte in his absence. Provided that, if the respondent has appointed a pleader to appear in his behalf in the Appellate Court, the service of the notice on such pleader shall be sufficient.

Publication and service of notice of the day fixed for hearing the appeal.

Form of notice.

346. If on the day fixed for hearing the appeal or any other day subsequent thereto to which the hearing of the appeal may be adjourned, the appellant shall not appear in person or by a pleader, the appeal shall be dismissed for default. If the appellant shall appear in person or by a pleader, and the respondent shall not appear in persón or by a pleader, the appeal shall be heard ex parte in his absence.

Consequence of non-appearance.

347. If an appeal be dismissed for default of prosecution, the appellant may, within thirty days from the date of the dismissal, apply to the Appellate Court for the re-admission of the appeal; and if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the appellant was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the appeal was called on for hearing, the Court may re-admit the appeal.

Re-admission of appeals dismissed for default of prosecution.

348. Upon the hearing of the appeal, the respondent may take any objection to the decision of the Lower Court which he might have taken if he had preferred a separate appeal from such decision.

Respondent may object to decision of Lower Court in the same manner as if he had preferred a separate appeal.

349. The Appellate Court, after hearing the appeal, shall proceed to give its judgment in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for giving judgment in Courts of original jurisdiction.

The Appellate Court how to give judgment.

350. The judgment may be for confirming or reversing or modifying the decree of the Lower Court. But no decree shall be reversed or modified nor shall any case be remanded to the Lower Court on account of any error, defect, or irregularity either in the decision or in any interlocutory order passed in the suit not affecting the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court.

No decision to be reversed for irregularity.

351. If the Lower Court shall have disposed of the case upon any preliminary point so as to exclude any evidence of fact which shall appear to the Appellate Court essential to the rights of the parties, and the decree of the Lower Court upon such preliminary point shall be reversed by the decree in appeal, the Appellate Court may, if it think right, remand the case, together with a copy of the decree in appeal, to the Lower Court, with directions to restore the suit to its original number in the Register and proceed to investigate the merits of the case, and pass a decree therein.

When a case may be remanded by Appellate Court.

352. It shall not be competent to the Appellate Court to remand a case for a second decision by the Lower Court, except as provided in the last preceding Section.

Power to remand limited as above.

353. When the evidence upon the record of the Lower Court is sufficient to enable the Appellate Court to pronounce a satisfactory judgment, the Appellate Court shall finally determine the case, notwithstanding that the judgment of the Lower Court has proceeded wholly upon some other ground.

When the evidence is sufficient, the Appellate Court must determine the case though the Lower Court has decided on other grounds.

354. If the Lower Court shall have omitted to raise or try any issue or to determine any question of fact which shall appear to the Appellate Court essential to the right determination of the suit upon the merits, and the evidence upon the record is not sufficient to enable the Appellate Court to determine such issue or question of fact, the Appellate Court may frame an issue or issues for trial by the Lower Court and may refer the same to the Lower Court for trial. Thereupon the Lower Court shall proceed to try such issue or issues and shall return to the Appellate Court its finding thereon together with the evidence. Such finding and evidence shall become part of the record in the suit; and either party may, within a time to be fixed by the Appellate Court, file a memorandum of any objection to the finding; and after the expiration of the period so fixed, the Appellate Court shall proceed to determine the appeal.

Trial of issues by Lower Court on reference from Appellate Court.

355. It shall not be competent to the parties in an appeal to produce additional evidence in the Appellate Court, whether of exhibits or witnesses; but if it appear that the Lower

When the Appellate Court may call for fresh evidence.

Court refused to admit competent evidence, or if the Appellate Court require any exhibits to be produced or witnesses examined to enable it to pronounce a satisfactory judgment, or for any other substantial cause, the Appellate Court may allow additional exhibits to be received and any necessary witnesses to be examined, whether such witnesses shall have been previously examined in the Court below or not; provided that, whenever additional evidence is admitted by an Appellate Court, the reasons for the admission shall be recorded on the proceedings of such Court.

How additional evidence is to be taken.

356. Whenever additional evidence is permitted to be received, it shall be competent to the Appellate Court to take such evidence before itself, or to require the Lower or any other Court or to empower any person to take such evidence, and to transmit the evidence so taken to the Appellate Court. It shall also be competent to the Appellate Court to prescribe the manner in which such evidence shall be taken.

Points to be defined.

357. In all cases where additional evidence is permitted to be taken, the Appellate Court shall define the point or points to which the evidence is to be confined, and record the same on its proceedings.

Powers of Appellate Court.

358 The Appellate Court shall have all the like powers in regard to the granting of time, adjourning the hearing of the suit, examining the parties or their pleaders, and awarding costs, or otherwise, as are hereinbefore contained in regard to Courts of original jurisdiction.

Judgment of the Appellate Court. In what language it is to be written.

359. The judgment of the Appellate Court shall be pronounced in open Court. It shall contain the point or points for determination, the decision thereupon, and the reasons for the decision, and shall be dated and signed by the Judge or by the Judges concurring therein at the time of pronouncing it. The judgment shall be written in the English language; but if the Judge shall not be able to write an intelligible judgment in that language, the judgment shall be written in the vernacular language of the Judge. When the language in which the judgment is written is not the language in ordinary use in proceedings before the Court, the judgment shall be translated into such language, and the translation shall be signed by the Judge or Judges. Any Judge dissenting from the judgment of the Court shall state his opinion in writing, which shall form part of the record.

Dissent to be recorded.

What the decree is to contain.

360. The decree of the Appellate Court shall bear date the day on which the judgment was passed. It shall contain the number of the suit, the names and description of the parties appellant and respondent, and the memorandum of appeal, and shall specify clearly the relief granted or other determination of the appeal. It shall also state the amount of costs incurred in the appeal, and by what parties and in what proportions such costs and the costs in the original suit are to be paid. The decree shall be signed by the Judge or Judges who passed it and shall be sealed with the seal of the Court. If there be a difference of opinion among the Judges of the Court, it shall not be necessary for any Judge dissenting from the judgment of the Court to sign the decree, but the opinion of such Judge shall be recited in the decree. Certified copies of the decree shall be furnished to the parties in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in regard to the decrees of Courts of original jurisdiction.

A certified copy of the decree to be transmitted to the Lower Court.

361. A copy of the decree or other order disposing of the appeal, certified by the Appellate Court or the proper Officer of such Court, and sealed with the seal of the Court, shall be transmitted to the Court which passed the first decree in the suit appealed from, and shall be filed with the original proceedings in the suit, and an entry of the judgment of the Appellate Court shall be made in the original Register of the suit.

How to be executed.

362. Application for execution of the decree of an Appellate Court shall be made to the Court which passed the first decree in the suit, and shall be executed by that Court, in the manner and according to the rules hereinbefore contained for the execution of original decrees.

Appeals from Orders.

No appeal from order passed before decree, but error or defect therein may be set forth as an objection if the decree be appealed against.

363. No appeal shall lie from any order passed in the course of a suit and relating thereto prior to decree; but if the decree be appealed against, any error, defect, or irregularity in any such order affecting the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court, may be set forth as a ground of objection in the memorandum of appeal.

No appeal from order passed after decree and relating to the execution thereof except as provided.

364. No appeal shall lie from any order passed after decree and relating to the execution thereof except as is hereinbefore expressly provided.

Appeal from orders as to fines or imprisonment.

365. All orders as to fines or the levying thereof or as to imprisonment under this Act (except when the imprisonment is in execution of a decree) shall be subject to appeal.

Procedure in appeals from orders.

366. When an appeal from any order is allowed, the period for preferring the appeal and the procedure thereon shall be in all respects the same as in an appeal from a decree.

CHAPTER IX.

Of Appeals in Forma Pauperis.

Who may appeal as pauper.

367. Any party to a suit who may be unable to pay for the stamps required for the prosecution of an appeal from the decision passed therein, may be allowed to appeal as a pauper from such decision subject to all the rules contained in the last preceding Chapter and in Chapter V in so far as they are applicable.

Application to whom and when to be presented.

368. The application to be allowed to appeal in formâ pauperis shall be written on a stamp paper of the value of one Rupee if the appeal lie to the District Court, and on a stamp paper of the value of two Rupees if the appeal lie to the Sudder Court, and shall be presented in the Appellate Court within the period allowed for the presentation of a memorandum of appeal.

Form of application.

369. The application shall contain the particulars required to be set forth in the memorandum of appeal and shall be drawn up in the like manner. It shall have annexed to it a Schedule of any moveable or immoveable property belonging to the applicant with the estimated value thereof, and shall also be accompanied by copies of the judgment and decree from which the appeal is made.

Procedure.

370. If the Appellate Court, upon a perusal of the application and of the judgment and decree of the Court below, shall see no reason to think that the decision of that Court is contrary to law or to some usage having the force of law or is otherwise erroneous or unjust, it shall reject the application. If the application be not rejected upon any of the grounds abovementioned, enquiry shall be made into the alleged pauperism of the applicant, and such enquiry may be conducted either by the Appellate Court or by the Court from whose decision the appeal is made under the orders of the Appellate Court. Provided that, if the applicant was allowed to sue in formâ pauperis in the Court below, no further enquiry in respect of his pauperism shall be necessary, unless the Appellate Court shall see special cause to direct such enquiry.

Effect of order by Appellate Court.

371. The order passed by the Appellate Court on an application to be allowed to appeal in formâ pauperis, whether for the admission or rejection of the application, shall be final; but, if the application be rejected, the Appellate Court may, if it think proper, allow the applicant a reasonable time for preferring an appeal on a stamp of the value prescribed for appeals from decrees.

CHAPTER X.

Of Special Appeals.

Special appeals allowed on what grounds.

372. Unless otherwise provided by any law for the time being in force, a special appeal shall lie to the Sudder Court from all decisions passed in regular appeal by the Courts subordinate to the Sudder Court, on the ground of the decision being contrary to some law or usage having the force of law, or of a substantial error or defect in law in the procedure or investigation of the case which may have produced error or defect in the decision of the case upon the merits, and on no other ground.

Application to be presented to the Sudder Court.

373. The application for the admission of a special appeal shall be presented in the Sudder Court within the period prescribed for the presentation of a memorandum of appeal, and shall be accompanied by copies of the judgments and decrees of the Lower Appellate Court and of the Court of first instance. The application shall be written on a stamp paper of the value prescribed for regular appeals; but if the applicant be unable to pay for the stamps required for the prosecution of the appeal, the Sudder Court may admit him to appeal as a pauper, subject to all the rules contained in Chapter IX in respect to appeals from decrees in formâ pauperis in so far as the same may be applicable.

Form of application.

374. The application shall set forth concisely the grounds of objection to the decision appealed against without argument or narrative, and such grounds shall be numbered consecutively. The applicant shall not, without the leave of the Court, be heard in support of any other ground of objection; but the determination of the Court may be upon any ground on which a special appeal would lie.

Application how to be dealt with.

375. If the application be not drawn up in the manner hereinbefore prescribed, the Court may reject it or may return it to the party for the purpose of being corrected. When the application is correctly drawn up, it shall be registered in a book to be kept for that purpose, which shall be in the form contained in the Schedule D. hereunto annexed and the case shall proceed in all other respects as a regular appeal, and shall be subject to all the rules hereinbefore provided for such appeals so far as the same may be applicable.

CHAPTER XI.

Review of Judgment.

Review of judgment.

376. Any person considering himself aggrieved by a decree of a Court of original jurisdiction, from which no appeal shall have been preferred to a Superior Court—or by a decree of a District Court in appeal, from which no special appeal shall have been admitted by the Sudder Court—or by a decree of the Sudder Court from which either no appeal may have been preferred to Her Majesty in Council, or an appeal having been preferred, no proceedings in the suit have been transmitted to Her Majesty in Council—and who from the discovery of new matter or evidence which was not within his knowledge, or could not be adduced by him at the time when such decree was passed, or from any other good and sufficient reason, may be desirous of obtaining a review of the judgment passed against him—may apply for a review of judgment by the Court which passed the decree.

On discovery of new evidence &c.

Within what time and on what paper the application should be made.

377. The application shall be made within ninety days from the date of the decree unless the party preferring the same shall be able to show just and reasonable cause, to the satisfaction of the Court, for not having preferred such application within the limited period. If the application be made within the period above-mentioned, it shall be written on the stamp paper prescribed for petitions to the Court where a stamp is required; but if made after the expiration of that period, it shall be written on the stamp paper prescribed for plaints.

The order of the Court for granting or refusing the review is final.

378. If the Court shall be of opinion that there are not any sufficient grounds for a review, it shall reject the application, but if it shall be of opinion that the review desired is necessary to correct an evident error or omission, or is otherwise requisite for the ends of justice, the Court shall grant the review, and its order in either case, whether for rejecting the application or granting the review, shall be final. Provided that no review of judgment shall be granted without previous notice to the opposite party to enable him to appear and be heard in support of the decree of which a review is solicited.

Proviso.

Application for a review in the Sudder Court must be made to the Judge or Judges that passed the decree.

379. If the Court to which the application for a review of its judgment has been presented by a Court consisting of two or more Judges, whenever the Judge or Judges who may have passed the decree, or if the decree have been passed by two or more Judges, when any of such Judges shall continue attached to the Court at the time when the application for a review is presented, and shall not be precluded by absence or other cause, for a period of six months after the application, from considering the judgment to which the application refers, it shall not be competent to any other Judge or Judges of the same Court to enter upon a consideration of the merits of the application, and record an order or opinion thereon.

Procedure on application for a review being granted.

380. When an application for a review of judgment is granted, a note thereof shall be made in the Register of Suits or appeals (as the case may be), and the Court shall give such order in regard to the re-hearing of the suit as it may deem proper in the circumstances of the case.

CHAPTER XII.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Sudder Court empowered to make rules of practice &c., for the Subordinate Civil Courts.

381. The Sudder Court shall have power to make and issue general rules for regulating the practice and proceedings of the Subordinate Civil Courts, and also to frame forms for every proceeding in the said Courts for which it shall think necessary that a form be provided, and for keeping all books, entries, and accounts to be kept by the Officers, and from time to time to alter any such rule or form; provided that such rules and forms be not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act or of any other law in force.

Provided such rules are not inconsistent with this or any other law.

Act not to extend, except in certain cases, to Supreme and Presidency Small Cause Courts.

382. Except so far as relates to the examination of witnesses under Commission and to the execution of decrees out of the jurisdiction of the Courts by which they were passed, this Act shall not extend to any suit instituted in any Court of Judicature established by Royal Charter or in any Court for the more easy recovery of small debts and demands in Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay.

Saving of jurisdiction and procedure of Village Moonsiffs and Village or District Punchayets in Madras—

383. Nothing in this Act shall be held to alter or affect the jurisdiction or procedure in Civil cases of Village Moonsiffs or Village or District Punchayets under the provisions of the Madras Code; or the jurisdiction or procedure

of Military Courts of Request—

of Military Courts of Request; or the jurisdiction or procedure of a single Officer duly authorized and appointed under the rules in force in the Presidencies of Fort St. George and Bombay respectively, for the trial of small suits in Military Bazars at Cantonments and Stations occupied by the Troops of those Presidencies respectively; or by Punchayets in regard to suits against Military persons, according to the rules in force under the Presidency of Fort St. George.

of single Officers appointed to try small suits in Madras and Bombay.

and of Military Punchayets in Madras.

Saving of certain special or local Laws.

384. Nothing in this Act shall be held to affect the jurisdiction exercised by certain Jagheerdars and other authorities invested with powers under the provisions of Regulation XIII. 1830 of the Bombay Code (for vesting certain Jagheerdars, Surinjameedars, and Enamdars with the power of deciding suits within the boundaries of their respective estates) and Act XV of 1840 (for extending Regulations XI. 1827 and XIII. 1830 of the Bombay Code to the Agents of Foreign Sovereigns), or their procedure in the exercise of such jurisdiction; or to affect suits instituted under Regulation XI. 1816 of the Bengal Code (for receiving, trying, and deciding claims to the right of inheritance or succession in certain Tributary estates in Zillah Cuttack), or cases of the nature defined in Regulation XXIX. 1827 (for bringing under the operation of the Regulations the Bombay Territories in the Dekkan and Khandesh), Regulation VII. 1830 (for bringing under the operation of the Regulations the Territories comprised in the Southern Mahratta Country), Regulations I and XVI. 1831 of the Bombay Code (for extending the jurisdiction of the Agent of Government in the Dekkan and Khandesh and of the Political Agent in the Southern Mahratta Country over suits in which certain privileged persons are concerned), Act XIX of 1835 (relating to the jurisdiction and authority of the Assistant to the Agent for Sirdars in the Dekkan), and Act XIII of 1842 (to enable the holders of revenue which has been alienated to them by the state to collect that revenue within the Presidency of Bombay), except that such suits and cases and the regular and special appeals to the Civil Courts allowed therein, shall be received, heard, and determined under the rules laid down in this Act, unless where those rules are inconsistent with any specific provisions contained in the Regulations and Acts above quoted.

Act not to take effect in places not subject to the general Regulations until extended thereto.

385. This Act shall not take effect in any part of the territories not subject to the general Regulations of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, until the same shall be extended thereto by the Governor General of India in Council or by the Local Government to which such territory is subordinate, and notified in the Gazette.

Interpretation.

386. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction (that to is say)—

Number.

Words importing the singular number shall include the plural number, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular number.

Gender.

Words importing the masculine gender shall include females.

"District."

The local jurisdiction of a Principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction shall be deemed a District for the purposes of this Act; and the words "District Court" shall mean such Court.

"District Court."

"Sudder Court."

In any part of the British territories in India to which this Act may be extended under the provisions of Section 385, the expression "Sudder Court" shall be deemed to include the highest Civil Court of Appeal in such part of the said territories.

Commencement of operation of Act.

387. This Act shall come into operation in the Presidency of Bengal from the 1st day of July 1859 and in the Presidencies of Madras and Bombay from the 1st day of January 1860 or from such earlier day as the Local Government in those Presidencies respectively shall fix and shall publicly notify in the Gazette of the Presidency three months at least before the date so fixed. But if in any suit pending at the time when this Act shall come into operation it shall appear to the Court that the application of any provision of this Act would deprive any party to the suit of any right in reference to the procedure of the suit, whether of appeal or otherwise, which but for the passing of this Act would have belonged to him, the Court shall proceed according to the law in force before this Act takes effect.

Pending suits.

Where Act comes into operation, procedure of Civil Courts to be regulated by it only.

388. From and after the time when this Act shall come into operation in any part of the British territories in India, the procedure of the Civil Courts in such part of the said territories shall be regulated by this Act, and except as otherwise provided by this Act, by no other Law or Regulation.

The following Rules for the transmission of Service Messages by Electric Telegraph, passed by His Excellency the Governor General of India in Council, on the 1st April 1859, in supersession of all previous Rules on the subject, are published for general information:—

I. From the 1st May 1859, all messages sent on service by public functionaries of all classes, must be paid for in cash previous to despatch.

II. The rates payable for the number of words and distances will be the same in all respects as those charged to private individuals.

III. Repetition price will be charged whenever the message contains numbers or refers to financial matters.

IV. The privilege of precedence in despatch for all Service Messages will cease, except in cases of pressing public emergency and importance, when priority of despatch may be claimed by the sender. The Superintendent will bring to the notice of the Government of India, any case of a Public Officer insisting in priority of despatch without reason.

V. One exception only will be made to the Rule of cash payments. Officers in Command of Troops employed in operations in the Field may send their messages without payment But this privilege does not extend to the case of Troops marching to join, or to moveable columns while halted, and with funds available for contingent expenses.

VI. The sums paid by public functionaries for the despatch of messages will be recovered from Government by the sender, by contingent bills countersigned as usual.

VII. The above Rules do not apply to the Hooghly River Lines and Offices, which are employed for special purposes.

VIII. The Governors of Pondicherry and Goa shall also continue to enjoy the privilege of free transmission of messages conceded to their Governments.

FORT WILLIAM,
The 28th March 1859.

No. 257.

Notice.

TENDERS for the transportation of Salt from the Central and Southern Agencies of Orissa, to the Government Golahs at Sulkea, will be received at this Office until 2 P. M., of the 17th of May next.

2. The Tenders must be drawn up according to a form which may be obtained on application at this Office.

3. Distinct contracts must be entered into for the removal of the Salt in each of the three following localities, to wit Hunsoah (in Central Cuttack) and the Ustrung Aurungs and the Chilka Lake Aurungs, in the Southern or Poorce Agency.

4. Parties tendering must satisfy the Board of Revenue and the Commissioner of Cuttack, that they possess the means of conveying the full quantity of Salt tendered for, and with this object a list of the vessels intended to be employed must accompany each Tender.

5. The quantity of Salt to be shipped at the Hunsoah Golahs will probably not exceed 1,00,000 maunds in each year; that from the Ustrungs is roughly estimated at 80,000 maunds for the ensuing season, and that from the Chilka Aurungs at maunds 3,20,000. The tenderer may apply for the whole quantity for which freight is required at each locality, or for any part not less than a quarter of such quantity.

6. Contractors must engage to ship the Salt allotted to them, during the period between the last spring tides of October and the end of February.

7. Parties whose tenders are accepted will be required to make a deposit of Government Promissory Notes, or to furnish other unexceptionable Security for the performance of their contracts.

8. The Board reserve to themselves the right of rejecting any Tender without assigning a reason.

By order of the Board of Revenue,

E. T. TREVOR,
Secretary.

Legislative Council of India.

THE 26TH MARCH 1859.

THE following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Honorable the Governor General on the 22nd March 1859, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. VIII OF 1859.

An Act for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to simplify the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter, It is enacted as follows :—

CHAPTER I.

OF THE JURISDICTION OF THE CIVIL COURTS.

Civil Courts have cognizance of all suits unless specially barred.

1. The Civil Courts shall take cognizance of all suits of a Civil nature, with the exception of suits of which their cognizance is barred by any Act of Parliament, or by any Regulation of the Codes of Bengal, Madras and Bombay respectively, or by any Act of the Governor General of India in Council.

Unless suits previously heard and determined.

2. The Civil Courts shall not take cognizance of any suit brought on a cause of action which shall have been heard and determined by a Court of competent jurisdiction in a former suit between the same parties or between parties under whom they claim.

Revision of judgments of the Civil Courts.

3. The judgments of the Civil Courts shall not be subject to revision, otherwise than by those Courts under the rules contained in this Act applicable to reviews of judgment, and by the constituted Courts of Appellate Jurisdiction.

No person exempted from Jurisdiction by reason of place of birth or of descent.

4. No person whatever shall, by reason of place of birth, or by reason of descent, be in any Civil proceeding whatever excepted from the jurisdiction of any of the Civil Courts.

Jurisdiction of Civil Courts.

5. Subject to such pecuniary or other limitations as are or shall be prescribed by any law for the time being in force, the Civil Courts of each grade shall receive, try, and determine all suits hereby declared to be cognizable by those Courts, if in the case of suits for land or other immoveable property such land or property shall be situate within the limits to which their respective jurisdictions may extend, and in all other cases if the cause of action shall have arisen, or the defendant at the time of commencement of the suit shall dwell, or personally work for gain, within such limits.

Court in which suit to be instituted.

Transfer of suits.

6. Every suit shall be instituted in the Court of the lowest grade competent to try it. But it shall be lawful for the District Court to withdraw any suit instituted in any Court subordinate to such District Court and to try such suit itself or to refer it for trial to any other Court subordinate to its authority and competent in respect of the value of the suit to try the same, whenever it may see sufficient cause for so doing. In like manner the Sudder Court may order that the cognizance of any suit or appeal which may be instituted in any Court subordinate to such Sudder Court shall be transferred to any other Court subordinate to its authority and competent in respect of the value of the suit or appeal to try the same.

Suit to include the whole claim.

Relinquishment of part of claim.

7. Every suit shall include the whole of the claim arising out of the cause of action, but a plaintiff may relinquish any portion of his claim in order to bring the suit within the jurisdiction of any Court. If a plaintiff relinquish or omit to sue for any portion of his claim, a suit for the portion so relinquished or omitted, shall not afterwards be entertained.

Joinder of causes of action in the same suit.

8. Causes of action by and against the same parties, and cognizable by the same Court, may be joined in the same suit, provided the entire claim in respect of the amount or value of the property in suit do not exceed the jurisdiction of such Court.

Court may in certain cases order separate trials of such causes of action.

9. If two or more causes of action be joined in one suit, and the Court shall be of opinion that they cannot conveniently be tried together, the Court may order separate trials of such causes of action to be held.

Claim for recovery of land & for mesne profits to be deemed distinct causes of action.

10. A claim for the recovery of land and a claim or the mesne profits of such land shall be deemed to be distinct causes of action within the meaning of the two last preceding Sections.

Suits for immoveable property situate within different jurisdictions of the same District.

11. If the suit be for land or other immoveable property situate within the limits of a single District, but within the jurisdiction of different Courts, the suit may be brought in the Court within the jurisdiction of which any portion of such land or other immoveable property is situate, provided the entire claim in respect of the value of the property in suit be cognizable by such Court; but in such case the Court in which the suit is brought shall apply to the District Court for authority to proceed with the same.

Suits for immoveable property situate in different Districts.

12. In like manner, if the property be situate within the limits of different Districts, the suit may be brought in any Court, otherwise competent to try it, within the jurisdiction of which any portion of the land or other immoveable property in suit is situate, but in such case the Court in which the suit is brought shall apply to the Sudder Court for authority to proceed with the same; if the suit is brought in any Court subordinate to a District Court, the application shall be submitted through the District Court to which such Court is subordinate.

Suits for immoveable property situate in Districts subject to different Sudder Courts.

13. If the Districts within the limits of which the property is situate, are subject to different Sudder Courts, the application shall be submitted to the Sudder Court to which the District, in which the suit is brought, is subject; and the Sudder Court to which such application is made, may, with the concurrence of the Sudder Court to which the other District is subject, give authority to proceed with the same.

Suit for land situate on the borders of the Court's local jurisdiction and alleged by the defendant to be within another local jurisdiction.

14. If, in a suit for land situate on the borders of the Court's local jurisdiction, the defendant object to the hearing of the suit on the ground that the land is not included within the local jurisdiction of the Court, the Court shall have power to determine the point; and if the Court shall find that the land is included within its local jurisdiction, it shall proceed to try the suit. Provided that, if it be shown that the land in dispute has been adjudged by competent authority to belong to an estate, village, or other known division of land situate within the local jurisdiction of another Court, the Court in which the suit is brought shall reject the plaint, or return it to the plaintiff in order to its being presented in the proper Court.

Proviso.

Declaratory suit.

15. No suit shall be open to objection on the ground that a merely declaratory decree or order is sought thereby, and it shall be lawful for the Civil Courts to make binding declarations of right without granting consequential relief.

CHAPTER II.

Preliminary Rules.

Parties may appear in person or by recognized agent or by pleader.

16. All applications to any Civil Court, and all appearances of parties in any Civil Court, except when otherwise specially provided by this Act, shall be made by the party in person, or by his recognized agent, or by a pleader duly appointed to act on his behalf.

Recognized agents.

17. The recognized agents of parties by whom such applications and appearances may be made are—

Persons holding powers of attorney.

1*st*. Persons holding general powers of attorney from parties not within the jurisdiction of the Court, authorizing them to make such applications and appearances on behalf of such parties.

Persons carrying on trade or business for absent persons.

2*ndly*. Persons carrying on trade or business for and in the name of parties not within the jurisdiction of the Court in matters connected with such trade or business only, where no other agent is expressly authorized to make such applications or appearances.

Persons authorized to act for Government.

3*rdly*. Persons being ex-officio or otherwise authorized to act for Government in respect of any suit or judicial proceeding.

Persons specially appointed to prosecute a suit for any Sovereign Prince.

4*thly*. Persons specially appointed by order of Government at the request of any Sovereign Prince, or Independent Chief, whether residing within or without the British Territories, to prosecute or defend a suit on his behalf.

Acts required to be done by a party to a suit in person may be done by his recognized agent.

Whenever the personal appearance of a party to a suit is required by this Act, such appearance may be made by his recognized agent, unless the Court shall otherwise direct; and anything which by this Act is required or permitted to be done by a party in person may be done by his recognized agent. Notices given to or processes served on a recognized agent relative to a suit shall be as effectual for all purposes in relation to the suit as if the same had been given to or served on the party in person, unless the Court shall otherwise direct; and all the provisions of this Act relative to the service of notices or processes on a party to a suit shall be applicable to the service of notices and processes on such recognized agent.

Service of notices, &c., on recognized agents.

Appointment of pleader.

18. The appointment of a pleader to make any such application or appearance as aforesaid shall be in writing, and shall be filed in the Court. When so filed, it shall be considered to be in full force until revoked by a writing filed in the Court. All notices given to, or processes served on the pleader of any party, or left at the office or ordinary residence of such pleader, relative to a suit, and whether the same be for the personal attendance of the party or not, shall be presumed to be duly communicated and made known to the party whom the pleader represents, and shall be as effectual for all purposes in relation to the suit as if the same had been given to or served on the party in person, unless the Court shall otherwise direct.

Service of notices on pleaders.

Officers or Soldiers who cannot obtain leave of absence may authorize any person to appear for them.

19. When an Officer or Soldier in the service of the Government is a party to a suit, and cannot obtain a furlough or leave of absence for the purpose of prosecuting or defending the suit in person, he may authorize any member of his family or any other person to commence, conduct, and manage the suit or the defence, as the case may be, in his stead. The authority shall be in writing, and shall be signed by the Officer or Soldier in the presence of his Commanding Officer, who shall countersign the same, and it shall be filed in the Court. When so filed, the counter-signature of the Commanding Officer shall be sufficient proof that the authority was duly executed, and that the Officer or Soldier by whom it was granted could not obtain a furlough or leave of absence for the purpose of prosecuting or defending the suit in person.

The person so authorized may appear personally, or appoint pleader.

20. Any person who may be authorized, as in the last preceding Section mentioned, by an Officer or Soldier to prosecute or defend a suit in his stead, shall be competent to prosecute or defend it in person in the same manner as the Officer or Soldier could do if present; or he may appoint a pleader of the Court to prosecute or defend the suit on behalf of such Officer or Soldier. And all notices or processes relative to the suit which may be served upon any person who shall be so authorized as aforesaid by an Officer or Soldier, or upon any pleader who shall be appointed as aforesaid by such person to act for or on behalf of such Officer or Soldier, shall be as effectual for all purposes relative to the suit as if the same had been served on the party in person or on a pleader appointed by him.

Exemption of certain women from personal appearance.

21. Women, who according to the custom and manners of the country ought not to be compelled to appear in public, shall be exempt from personal appearance in Court.

Government may exempt certain persons from personal appearance.

22. The Government may at its discretion exempt from personal appearance in Court any person whose rank in the opinion of the Government entitles him to the privilege of exemption, and may at its discretion withdraw such privilege. The names of the persons so exempted (if any) residing within the jurisdiction of the Principal Civil Court of each District shall from time to time be forwarded to such Court by the local Government, and a list of such persons (if any) shall be kept in such Court and in the several subordinate Courts of the District.

Cost of serving process.

Requisite sum to be paid into Court before process issued.

23. Every process required to be issued under this Act, shall be served at the expense of the party at whose instance it is issued, unless otherwise specially directed by the Court; and the sum required to defray the cost of such service shall be paid into Court before the process is issued.

Punishment for false verification of plaint, statement, &c.

24. If any plaint, written statement, or declaration in writing required by this Act to be verified shall contain any averment which the person making the verification shall know or believe to be false, or shall not know or believe to be true, such person shall be subject to punishment according to the provision of the law for the time being in force for the punishment of giving or fabricating false evidence.

CHAPTER III.

OF A SUIT TILL FINAL DECREE.

Of the Institution of Suits.

Suits to be commenced by plaint.

25. All suits shall be commenced by a plaint which, except when otherwise specially provided by this Act, shall be presented to the Court by the plaintiff in person, or by his recognized agent, or by a pleader duly appointed to act on his behalf.

Particulars to be given in the plaint.

26. The plaint shall be distinctly written in the language in ordinary use in proceedings before the Court and shall contain the following particulars:—

1.—The name, description, and place of abode of the plaintiff.

2.—The name, description, and place of abode of the defendant, so far as they can be ascertained.

3.—The relief sought for, the subject of the claim, the cause of action and when it accrued: and, if the cause of action accrued beyond the period ordinarily allowed by any law for commencing such a suit, the ground upon which exemption from the law is claimed.

The following are instances:

If the suit be for money due on a bond or other written instrument:—Payment of due on (a bond or other written instrument as the case may be), for the sum of , bearing date the day of , and payable on the day of , namely,—

Principal .. ..
Interest ... ...

If the suit be for the price of goods sold:—Payment of on account of maunds of (rice, indigo, sugar, or as the case may be) sold on the day of , and the price of which became payable on the day of as per account at foot.

If the suit be for damages for an injury done:—Payment of on account of injury done to the plaintiff, [here set out the nature of the injury, and state the particulars of the pecuniary loss (if any).]

4.—When the claim is for any property other than money, its estimated value.

The following is an instance:

If the suit be for an estate or for a share in an estate paying Revenue to Government:—Possession of the estate or of share in the estate, called , situate in the Zillah of the sudder jumma of which is and estimated value (of which the plaintiff was dispossessed (or forcibly or fraudulently dispossessed, if the case be so) on the day of ; or to which the plaintiff became entitled by inheritance from (or by gift, purchase, or otherwise, as the case may be) on or about the day of .

5.—When the claim is for land or for any interest in land, the nature of the tenure or interest must be specified; and if the claim be for land forming part of a village or other known division, or for a house, garden, or the like, its situation shall be described by the setting forth of boundaries, or in such other manner as may suffice for its identification.

6.—In all suits by or against the Government, or one of its Officers in his official capacity, or any Corporation, or any Company authorized to sue and be sued in the name of an Officer or Trustees, the words "The Government," or "The Collector of ," or otherwise as the case may be, or the name of the Corporation, or the name or names of the Officer or Trustees of the Company, shall be inserted in Nos. 1 and 2 instead of the name and description of the plaintiff or defendant. But in all other cases it shall be necessary to specify the names of all the parties.

Plaint to be subscribed and verified.

27. The plaint shall be subscribed by the plaintiff and his pleader (if any), and shall be verified at the foot by the plaintiff in the manner following or to the like effect:—

I (A. B.) the plaintiff named in the above plaint do declare that what is stated therein is true to the best of my information and belief.

If plaintiff by reason of absence be unable to subscribe and verify the plaint.

28. If the plaintiff, by reason of absence or for other good cause, be unable to subscribe and verify the plaint, the Court may allow the plaint to be subscribed and verified on behalf of the plaintiff by any person whom the Court may consider competent to make the verification. In suits by a Corporation or a Company authorized to sue and be sued in the name of an Officer or Trustees, the plaint shall be subscribed and verified on behalf of the Corporation or Company by any Director, Secretary, or other principal Officer of the Corporation or Company who may be able to depose to the facts of the case.

In suits by a Corporation or Company, a Director or Secretary shall verify the plaint.

Court may reject plaint, if it do not contain the required particulars, &c.

29. If the plaint do not contain the several particulars hereinbefore required to be specified therein, or if it contain particulars other than those required to be specified whether relevant to the suit or not, or if the statement of particulars be unnecessarily prolix, or if the plaint be not subscribed and verified as hereinbefore required, the Court may reject the plaint, or at its discretion may allow the plaint to be amended.

Plaint to be returned, if the claim is beyond the jurisdiction of the Court.

30. If the amount or estimated value of the claim, as stated by the plaintiff, be beyond the jurisdiction of the Court, the plaint shall be returned to the plaintiff in order to its being presented in the proper Court.

Plaint to be rejected, if improperly or insufficiently valued.

31. If it appear to the Court that the claim is improperly valued, or being properly valued that the plaint is written upon stamped paper of inadequate value, and the plaintiff, on being required by the Court to correct such improper valuation or to supply such additional stamp paper as may be necessary, shall not comply with the requisition, the Court shall reject the plaint.

Plaint to be rejected, if it appear to the Court that plaintiff has no cause of action or that right of action is barred by lapse of time.

32. If upon the face of the plaint, or after questioning the plaintiff, it appear to the Court that the subject matter of the plaint does not constitute a cause of action, or that the right of action is barred by lapse of time, the Court shall reject the plaint

Amendment of plaint.

Provided that the Court may in any case allow the plaint to be amended, if it appear proper to do so.

Plaint to be returned, if it appear to the Court that it has not jurisdiction.

33. If it appear to the Court that the cause of action did not arise, or that the defendant is not dwelling or personally working for gain within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or, if the claim relate to land or other immoveable property, that such land or other property is not situate within such limits, the Court shall return the plaint to the plaintiff in order to its being presented in the proper Court.

Security for costs to be furnished by plaintiff at the time of presenting the plaint, if he resides out of the British territories in India.

34. A suit by a party ordinarily residing out of the British territories in India, and not possessing any land or other immoveable property within those territories independent of the property in suit, shall not be entertained unless the plaintiff, at the time of presenting the plaint or within such time as the Court shall order, furnish security for the payment of all costs that may be incurred by the defendant in the suit. In the event of such security not being furnished, the Court shall return the plaint to the plaintiff.

Plaint to be rejected if security be not furnished.

35. If in any stage of a suit it shall appear to the Court that the plaintiff (being sole plaintiff) is a person residing out of the British territories in India, the Court may order him, within a time to be fixed by such order, to furnish security for the payment of all costs incurred and to be incurred by the defendant in the suit. In the event of such security not being furnished within the time so fixed, the Court shall pass judgment against the plaintiff by default, unless he be permitted to withdraw from the suit under the provisions of Section 97.

Security for costs may be required in any stage of suit, if it appear that plaintiff resides out of India.

36. Whenever a plaint is rejected under any of the foregoing Sections, an appeal shall lie from the order rejecting the plaint. The rejection of a plaint on any of the grounds mentioned in Sections 29 and 31 shall not preclude a plaintiff from presenting a fresh plaint in respect of the same cause of action.

Appeal from order rejecting plaint.

37. If the suit be for land or other immoveable property situate partly within the jurisdiction of the Court and partly within the jurisdiction of some other Court or Courts, the Court shall proceed according to the rules contained in Section 11, Section 12, or Section 13, as the case may be.

Proceeding in a suit for immoveable property in different jurisdictions.

38. If the Court consider the plaint admissible, the particulars mentioned in Section 26 shall be entered in a book to be kept for the purpose, and called the Register of Civil Suits; and the entries shall be numbered in every year according to the order in which the plaint is presented. The Register shall be kept in the form contained in the Schedule (A) hereunto annexed.

When the plaint is admissible, particulars to be entered in a Register.

Form of the Register

39. When the plaintiff sues upon any written document or relies upon any such document as evidence in support of his claim, he shall produce the same in Court when the plaint is presented, and shall at the same time deliver a copy of the document to be filed with the plaint; if the document be an entry in a shop-book or other book, the plaintiff shall produce the book to the Court together with a copy of the entry on which he relies. The Court shall forthwith mark the document for the purpose of identification; and after examining and comparing the copy with the original, shall return the document to the plaintiff. The plaintiff may, if he think proper, deliver the original document to be filed instead of the copy. The Court may, if it see sufficient cause, direct any written document so produced to be impounded and kept in the custody of some Officer of the Court, for such period and subject to such conditions as to the Court shall seem meet. Any document not produced in Court by the plaintiff when the plaint is presented, shall not be received in evidence on his behalf at the hearing of the suit without the sanction of the Court.

Written document to be produced in Court when plaint is presented.

And copy filed with plaint.

Original to be marked and returned.

If plaintiff wish, original may be filed instead of copy.

Court may order document to be impounded.

Document not produced when plaint filed, to be inadmissible in evidence.

40. If the plaintiff require the production of any written document in the possession or power of the defendant, he may, at the time of presenting the plaint, deliver to the Court a description of the document, in order that the defendant may be required to produce the same.

If plaintiff require production of document in possession of defendant.

Of Summoning the Defendant.

41. When the plaint has been registered, a summons under the signature of the Judge and the seal of the Court shall be issued to the defendant to appear and answer the claim, on a day to be therein specified, in person or by a pleader of the Court duly instructed and able to answer all material questions relating to the suit, or by a pleader who shall be accompanied by some other person able to answer all such questions. The Court shall determine at the time of issuing the summons whether it shall be for the settlement of issues only or for the final disposal of the suit, and the summons shall contain a direction accordingly

On plaint being registered, summons to issue to defendant.

Summons to be either to settle the issues, or for the final disposal of the case.

42. If the Court see reason to require the personal attendance of the defendant, the summons shall order the defendant to appear personally in Court on the day therein specified. If the Court see reason to require the personal attendance of the plaintiff on that day, it may make an order for such attendance. Provided that no plaintiff or defendant shall be ordered to attend in person, who at the time is bonâ fide residing at a distance of more than fifty miles from the place where the Court is held, unless he be resident within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court.

Personal appearance of defendant or plaintiff.

If resident within 50 miles.

Or within the local jurisdiction of the Court.

43. The summons to appear shall order the defendant to produce any written document in his possession or power, of which the plaintiff demands inspection, or upon which the defendant intends to rely in support of his defence.

Summons shall order defendant to produce documents.

Form of summons.

44. The summons shall be in the Form contained in the Schedule (B) hereunto annexed or to the like effect.

45. The day for the appearance of the defendant shall be fixed by the Court with reference to the place of residence of the defendant, and the time necessary for the service of the summons; and the day shall be so fixed as to allow the defendant a sufficient time to enable him to appear and answer in person or by a pleader on such day.

The day for appearance of defendant how to be fixed.

Court may order personal appearance of a Director or Secretary in suits against a Corporation or Company.

46. In suits against a Corporation or a Company authorized to sue and be sued in the name of an Officer or Trustees, the Court may, if it think proper, require the personal attendance of any Director, Secretary, or other principal Officer of the Corporation or Company who may be able to answer all material questions relating to the suit.

SERVICE OF SUMMONS ON THE DEFENDANT.

Summons shall be served by Officer of Court.

47. The summons shall be delivered to the Nazir or other proper Officer of the Court to be served by himself or one of his subordinates, and such Officer shall be responsible for its due service.

How service shall be made.

48. Service of the summons shall be made by delivering or tendering a copy thereof under the signature of the Judge and seal of the Court; and when there are more defendants than one, service of the summons shall be made on each defendant.

When there are several defendants.

Service to be on defendant in person, when practicable.

Service on agent sufficient.

49. Whenever it may be practicable the service shall be on the defendant in person, unless he have an agent empowered to accept the service, in which case service on such agent shall be sufficient.

Who may be an agent to receive service.

50. Besides the recognized agents described in Section 17, any person residing within the jurisdiction of the Court may be appointed an agent to receive the service of summonses and other processes.

Appointment of such agent to be in writing and to be filed in Court.

51. The appointment of such agent shall be in writing, and the original appointment, or a copy thereof if the appointment be a general one, shall be filed in the Court.

Agent of Government.

52. The Government pleader in each Court shall be accounted the agent of the Government for the purpose of receiving services of summonses and other judicial processes against the Government, issuing out of the Court in which he may be the pleader of Government.

If defendant cannot be found, and has no agent, service may be made on a male member of his family.

53. When the defendant cannot be found, and has no agent empowered to accept the service of the summons, it may be made on any adult male member of his family residing with him.

In all cases the person served is to be required to endorse the summons.

54. In all cases where the summons is served on the defendant personally or any agent or other person on his behalf, the serving Officer shall require the signature of the person on whom the service may be made, to an acknowledgment of service, to be endorsed on the original summons or on a copy thereof under the seal of the Court. If such person refuse to sign the acknowledgment, the service of the summons shall nevertheless be held sufficient, if it be otherwise proved to the satisfaction of the Court.

But service is sufficient without.

If the summons cannot be served, a copy shall be fixed to the door of the dwelling house.

55. When the defendant cannot be found, and there is no agent empowered to accept the service, nor and other person on whom the service can be made, the serving Officer shall fix the copy of the summons on the outer door of the house in which the defendant is dwelling; and if he is not dwelling in the place mentioned in the summons, the serving Officer shall return the summons to the Court from whence it issued with an endorsement thereon that he has been unable to serve it. Provided that, if the serving Officer is informed that the defendant is to be found or has his dwelling in a place within the jurisdiction of the Court other than that indicated in the summons, the Officer may proceed to that place to serve the summons.

If defendant do not dwell in the place mentioned, the summons shall be returned with an endorsement of non-service.

Proviso.

If served, time and manner of service to be endorsed on summons.

56. The serving Officer shall, in all cases in which the summons has been served, endorse on the original summons or on a copy thereof under the seal of the Court, the time when and the manner in which it was served.

When summons is returned unserved, Court to order substituted service, if satisfied that the defendant is avoiding service.

57. When a summons is returned to the Court without having been served, if the plaintiff shall satisfy the Court that there is reasonable ground for believing that the defendant is keeping out of the way of its Officer for the purpose of avoiding the service of the summons, the Court shall order the summons to be served by fixing up a copy thereof upon some conspicuous place in the Court-house, and also upon the door of the house in which the defendant shall have last resided, if it be known where he last resided; or that the summons shall be served in such other manner as the Court shall think proper. And the service which shall be substituted by order of the Court, shall be as effectual to all intents and purposes as if it had been effected in the manner above specified.

When service is substituted, the time for appearance to be fixed.

58. Whenever service shall be substituted by order of the Court by virtue of the power contained in the last preceding Section, the Court shall fix such time for the appearance of the defendant as the case may require.

How the summons is to be served when the defendant is resident within the jurisdiction of another Court and has no agent to accept service.

59. If the defendant be resident within the jurisdiction of any Court other than that in which the suit is instituted, and have no agent empowered to accept the service, the Court in which the suit is instituted shall transmit the summons, either by an Officer of the Court or by post, to any Court having jurisdiction at the place where the defendant resides, by which it can be most conveniently served, and shall fix such time for the appearance of the defendant as the case may require; and the Court to which the summons is transmitted, shall, upon receipt of the summons, deliver the same to the Nazir or other proper Officer of such Court, to be served in the manner above directed; and upon the return of the summons by the serving Officer, it shall be re-transmitted to the Court from whence it originally issued.

How the summons is to be served when the defendant resides out of the British territories in India and has no agent to accept service.

60. If the defendant be resident out of the British territories in India, and have no agent empowered to accept the service, the summons shall be addressed to the defendant at the place where he may reside, and forwarded to him by post: in such case the time for the appearance of the defendant shall be regulated by the time which may be required for communication by post between the place at which the Court is held and the place where the defendant resides; and if, on the day fixed for the hearing of the suit or on any day to which the hearing may be adjourned, the defendant shall not appear in person or by pleader, the plaintiff may apply to the Court, and it shall be lawful for the Court to direct that the plaintiff shall be at liberty to proceed with his suit in such manner and subject to such conditions as to the Court may seem meet.

Time for appearance.

In case of non-appearance of defendant, Court may direct suit to proceed subject to conditions.

In suits for immoveable property, service may in certain cases be made on agent in charge of such property.

61. When the suit is for land or other immoveable property, and the summons for any reason cannot be served on the defendant in person, and the defendant has no agent empowered to accept the service, the summons may be served on any agent of the defendant in charge of such land or other immoveable property.

How service may be made on Government Servants.

62. When the defendant is in the service of the Government, the Court may transmit a copy of the summons to the head Officer of the Office in which the defendant is employed, for the purpose of being served on him, if it shall appear to the Court that the summons may be most conveniently so served. If the defendant be an Officer or Soldier, the Court shall transmit a copy of the summons to the Commanding Officer of the Corps to which the defendant belongs, for the purpose of being served on him. The Officer to whom the summons is transmitted, after causing the summons to be served on the person to whom it is addressed if practicable, shall return it to the Court with the written acknowledgment of such person endorsed thereon. If from any cause the summons cannot be served upon the person to whom it is addressed, it shall be returned to the Court by which it was transmitted with information of the cause which has prevented the service. In such case the Court shall adopt such other means of serving the summons as it may deem proper.

Service on Officers and Soldiers.

Service on a Corporation or Company.

63. When the suit is against a Corporation or a Company authorized to sue and be sued in the name of an Officer or Trustees, the summons may be served by leaving the same at the registered Office (if any) of the Company, or sending it through the Post Office by a letter addressed to such Office, or by giving it to any Director, Secretary, or other principal Officer of the Corporation or Company.

In what case a letter may be substituted for a summons.

64. Nothing contained in the preceding rules shall be construed to prevent the Court from substituting for the summons, a letter or other appropriate communication under the signature of the Judge and seal of the Court, when the person whose appearance is required is of a rank which entitles him to such mark of consideration. The letter or other communication shall contain all the particulars required to be stated in the summons, and shall be treated in all respects as a summons.

Service how to be made in such case.

65. When a letter or other communication is substituted for a summons under the authority of the last preceding Section, it may be transmitted through the Post Office, or by a special messenger selected by the Court, or in any other manner which the Court may deem sufficient; unless the party shall have an agent empowered to accept service of judicial process, in which case delivery to such agent shall be deemed sufficient service.

Proof of due service and delivery of summons, letter, &c. transmitted through the post.

66. Whenever it is provided that any summons, letter, or other communication may be transmitted to the person to whom it is addressed through the Post Office, proof that the same was correctly addressed to such person at his place of residence, and that it was duly posted and registered according to Section XXXVIII of Act XVII of 1854 (for the management of the Post Office, for the regulation of the duties of Postage, and for the punishment of offences against the Post Office), shall be sufficient proof of the due service and delivery of the summons, letter, or other communication, in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

Of Suits against Government and Public Officers.

In suits against Government, summons to be served on Government Pleader.

67. If the suit be against the Government, the summons shall be served on the Government Pleader. The Court, in fixing the day for the Government to answer to the plaint, shall allow a reasonable time for the necessary communication with the Government through the proper channels, and for the issue of instructions to the Government Pleader to appear and answer on behalf of the Government, and may extend the time at its discretion on the application of the Government Pleader. The Court may also, if it think proper, direct the attendance of a person who may be able to answer all material questions relating to the suit.

Appearance and answer.

In suits against Government Officers for alleged official acts, summons to be served on them.

68. If the suit be against an Officer of the Government for an act which the plaintiff alleges to have been done by such Officer in his official capacity, the summons shall be served upon such Officer in the manner hereinbefore provided.

Court may grant extension of time to enable Officer to make a reference to Government.

69. If the Officer on receiving the summons shall consider it proper to make a reference to Government before answering to the plaint, he may move the Court to grant such extension of the time fixed in the summons as may be necessary to enable him to make such reference and to receive orders thereon through the proper channels; and the Court upon such motion may extend the time for so long as shall appear to it to be requisite.

70. If the Government shall undertake the defence of the suit, the Government Pleader shall be furnished with authority to appear and answer to the plaint; and, upon motion made by him, the Court shall order a note to that effect to be entered in the Register.

If Government undertake defence, Government Pleader to appear and move that a note of his appearance be entered in the Register.

71. If such motion shall not be made by the Government Pleader on or before the day fixed in the notice for the defendant to appear and answer to the plaint, the case shall proceed as in a suit between private parties except that the defendant shall not be liable to arrest before judgment.

If no such motion be made, case to proceed as in a suit between private parties.

But defendant not liable to arrest before judgment.

72. If in any such suit the Court shall require the personal appearance of the defendant, and the defendant shall satisfy the Court that he cannot absent himself from his duty without injury to the public service, the Court shall exempt him from such appearance, but he shall be liable to be examined in any way in which an absent witness may be examined.

Defendant may in certain cases be exempted from personal appearance.

How Persons not before the Court may be made Parties to a Suit.

73. If it appear to the Court, at any hearing of a suit, that all the persons who may be entitled to, or who claim some share or interest in the subject matter of the suit, and who may be likely to be affected by the result, have not been made parties to the suit, the Court may adjourn the hearing of the suit to a future day to be fixed by the Court, and direct that such persons shall be made either plaintiffs or defendants in the suit as the case may be. In such case the Court shall issue a notice to such persons in the manner provided in this Act for the service of a summons on a defendant.

Court may adjourn hearing and direct that parties appearing to be interested in a suit shall be made parties to the suit.

Of Arrest before Judgment.

74. If in any suit, not being a suit for land or other immoveable property, the defendant, with intent to avoid or delay the plaintiff, or to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree that may be passed against him, is about to leave the jurisdiction of the Court, or has disposed of or removed from the jurisdiction of the Court his property or any part thereof, the plaintiff may, either at the institution of the suit, or at any time thereafter until final judgment, make an application to the Court that security be taken for the appearance of the defendant to answer any judgment that may be passed against him in the suit.

In suits for moveable property, when defendant is about to leave the jurisdiction, &c., plaintiff may apply that security be taken.

75. If the Court, after examining the applicant and making such further investigation as it may consider necessary, shall be of opinion that there is probable cause for believing that the defendant is about to leave its jurisdiction with the intent of avoiding or delaying the plaintiff, or that he has disposed of or removed from the jurisdiction of the Court his property or any part thereof with the intent to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree, it shall be lawful for the Court to issue a warrant to the proper Officer, enjoining him to bring the defendant before the Court, that he may show cause why he should not give good and sufficient bail for his appearance.

Court may issue warrant to bring up defendant to show cause why he should not give bail.

76. If the defendant fail to show such cause, the Court shall order him to give bail for his appearance at any time when called upon while the suit is pending, and until execution or satisfaction of any decree that may be passed against him in the suit; and the surety or sureties shall undertake, in default of such appearance, to pay any sum of money that may be adjudged against the defendant in the suit, with costs. Any order made by the Court, under the provisions of this Section, shall be open to appeal by the defendant.

If defendant fail to show cause, Court may order him to give bail.

Appeal.

77. Should a defendant offer, in lieu of bail for his appearance, to deposit a sum of money or other valuable property sufficient to answer the claim against him, with the costs of the suit, the Court may accept such deposit.

Deposit in lieu of bail.

78. In the event of the defendant neither furnishing security nor offering a sufficient deposit, he may be committed to custody until the decision of the suit, or if judgment be given against the defendant until the execution of the decree, if the Court shall so order.

Defendant to be committed to custody if he cannot give security.

79. If it shall appear to the Court that the arrest of the defendant was applied for on insufficient grounds, or if the suit of the plaintiff is dismissed or judgment is given against him by default or otherwise and it shall appear to the Court that there was no probable ground for instituting the suit, the Court may (on the application of the defendant) award against the plaintiff in its decree such amount, not exceeding the sum of one thousand Rupees, as it may deem a reasonable compensation to the defendant for any injury or loss which he may have sustained by reason of such arrest. Provided that the Court shall not award a larger amount of compensation under this Section than it is competent to such Court to decree in an action for damages. An award of compensation under this Section shall bar any suit for damages in respect of such arrest.

Compensation to defendant arrested on insufficient grounds.

Proviso as to amount.

80. If in any suit the defendant is about to leave the British territories in India with intent to remain absent so long that the plaintiff will or may thereby be obstructed or delayed in the execution of any decree that may be passed against the defendant, the plaintiff may make an application to the Court to the effect and in the manner aforesaid, and the procedure thereupon shall be in all respects the same as hereinbefore provided.

When the defendant is about to leave India, the application to be made to the Court.

OF ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENT.

In what cases plaintiff may apply before judgment for security from defendant to fulfil decree, and in default for an attachment of defendant's property.

*81. If the defendant, with intent to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree that may be passed against him, is about to dispose of his property or any part thereof, or to remove any such property from the jurisdiction of the Court where the suit is pending, the plaintiff may apply to the Court, either at the time of the institution of the suit or at any time thereafter until final judgment, to call upon the defendant to furnish sufficient security to fulfil any decree that may be passed against him in the suit, and, on his failing to give such security, to direct that any property, moveable or immoveable, belonging to the defendant, shall be attached until the further order of the Court.

Application how to be made.

82. The application shall contain a specification of the property required to be attached, and the estimated value of each article or item thereof; and the plaintiff shall, at the time of making the application, declare that the defendant is about to dispose of or remove his property with such intent as aforesaid.

Form of warrant to be issued.

83. If the Court, after examining the applicant and making such further investigation as it may consider necessary, shall be satisfied that the defendant is about to dispose of or remove his property, with intent to obstruct or delay the execution of the decree, it shall be lawful for the Court to issue a warrant to the proper Officer, commanding him to call upon the defendant, within a time to be fixed by the Court, either to furnish security in such sum as may be specified in the order to produce and place at the disposal of the Court when required the said property or the value of the same or such portion thereof as may be sufficient to fulfil the decree, or to appear and show cause why he should not furnish security. The Court may also in the warrant direct the attachment until further order of the whole or any portion of the property specified in the application.

If cause be not shown or security be not furnished, property may be attached.

84. If the defendant fail to show such cause or to furnish the required security within the time fixed by the Court, the Court may direct that the property specified in the application, if not already attached, or such portion thereof as shall be sufficient to fulfil the decree, shall be attached until further order.

Withdrawal of attachment.

If the defendant show such cause or furnish the required security, and the property specified in the application or any portion of it shall have been attached, the Court shall order the attachment to be withdrawn.

How the attachment is to be made.

85. The attachment shall be made according to the nature of the property to be attached, in the manner hereinafter prescribed for the attachment of property in execution of a decree for money.

Appeal.

Any order for the attachment of property under the preceding Section shall be open to appeal by the defendant.

Claims to property attached before judgment, how to be investigated.

86. In the event of any claim being preferred to the property attached before judgment, such claim shall be investigated in the manner hereinafter prescribed for the investigation of claims to property attached in execution of a decree for money.

Attachment may be removed when security is furnished.

87. In all cases of attachment before judgment, the Court which passed the order for the attachment shall at any time remove the same, on the defendant furnishing security as above required, together with security for the costs of the attachment.

Compensation for attachment applied for on insufficient grounds, &c.

88. If it shall appear to the Court that the attachment was applied for on insufficient grounds, or if the suit of the plaintiff is dismissed or judgment is given against him by default or otherwise and it shall appear to the Court that there was no probable ground for instituting the suit, the Court may (on the application of the defendant) award against the plaintiff in its decree such amount, not exceeding the sum of one thousand Rupees, as it may deem a reasonable compensation to the defendant for the expense or injury occasioned to him by the attachment of his property.

Proviso.

Provided that the Court shall not award a larger amount of compensation under this Section than it is competent to such Court to decree in an action for damages. An award of compensation under this Section shall bar any suit for damages in respect of such attachment.

Attachment not to affect the rights of persons not parties to the suit, or bar the execution of decrees.

89. Attachments before judgment shall not affect the rights of persons not parties to the suit, nor bar any person holding a decree against the defendant from applying for the sale of the property under attachment in execution of such decree.

Court may stay the sale of property already under attachment, when execution of a decree fraudulently obtained is applied for.

90. If it shall appear to the Court by whose order the property may have been attached before judgment, that there is reasonable ground for supposing that the decree, in satisfaction of which the sale of the property is applied for, was obtained by fraud or other improper means, the Court may refuse to allow the property to be sold in execution, if the decree be a decree of that Court; or if it be a decree of another Court, may stay the proceedings for a reasonable time to enable the plaintiff in the pending suit to adopt proceedings to set aside the decree.

Special case in which party may be put in immediate possession of land the subject of suit.

91. Whenever lands paying revenue to Government or a tenure liable to summary sale under the provisions of Regulation VIII. 1819 of the Bengal Code (to declare the validity of certain tenures and to define the relative rights of Zemindars and Putnee Talookdars &c.) form the subject of a suit, if the party in possession of such lands or tenure shall neglect to pay the Government revenue or the rent due to the proprietor of the estate, as the case may be, and a public sale shall in consequence be ordered to take place, the party not in possession shall, upon payment of the revenue or rent due previously to the sale (and with or without security at the discretion of the Court), be put in immediate possession of the lands or tenure; and the Court in its decree may award against the defendant the amount so paid, with interest thereupon at such rate as to the Court may seem fit, or may charge the amount so paid, with interest thereupon, at such rate as the Court may order, in any adjustment of accounts which may be directed in the final decree upon the suit.

Of Injunctions.

92. In any suit in which it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Court that any property which is in dispute in the suit is in danger of being wasted, damaged, or alienated by any party to the suit, it shall be lawful for the Court to issue an injunction to such party, commanding him to refrain from doing the particular act complained of, or to give such other orders for the purpose of staying and preventing him from wasting, damaging, or alienating the property, as to the Court may seem meet. And in all cases in which it may appear to the Court to be necessary for the preservation or the better management or custody of any property which is in dispute in a suit, it shall be lawful for the Court to appoint a receiver or manager of such property, and, if need be, to remove the person in whose possession or custody the property may be from the possession or custody thereof, and to commit the same to the custody of such receiver or manager, and to grant to such receiver or manager all such powers for the management or the preservation and improvement of the property, and the collection of the rents and profits thereof, and the application and disposal of such rents and profits, as to the Court may seem proper. If the property be land paying revenue to Government, and it is considered that the interests of those concerned will be promoted by the management of the Collector, the Court may appoint the Collector to be receiver and manager of such land, unless the Government shall by any general order prohibit the appointment of Collectors for such purpose, or shall in any particular case prohibit the appointment of the Collector to be such receiver.

Cases in which an injunction to stay waste &c. may be granted.

Or in which a receiver or manager may be appointed.

When the Collector may be appointed receiver or manager.

93. In any suit for restraining the defendant from the committal of any breach of contract or other injury, and whether the same be accompanied with any claim for damages or not, it shall be lawful for the plaintiff, at any time after the commencement of the suit, and whether before or after judgment, to apply to the Court for an injunction to restrain the defendant from the repetition, or the continuance of the breach of contract or wrongful act complained of, or the committal of any breach of contract or injury of a like kind arising out of the same contract or relating to the same property or right; and such injunction may be granted by the Court on such terms as to the duration of the injunction, keeping an account, giving security, or otherwise, as to such Court shall seem reasonable and just, and in case of disobedience such injunction may be enforced by imprisonment in the same manner as a decree for specific performance: provided always that any order for an injunction may be discharged or varied or set aside by the Court, on application made thereto by any party dissatisfied with such order.

In suits to restrain breach of contract &c.

Injunction to restrain repetition or continuance of breach.

Proviso.

94. Any order made under either of the last two preceding Sections shall be open to appeal by the defendant.

Appeal.

95. The Court may in every case before granting an injunction direct such reasonable notice of the application for the same to be given to the opposite party as it shall see fit.

Before granting injunction, Court may direct reasonable notice to be given to the opposite party.

96. If it shall appear to the Court that the injunction was applied for on insufficient grounds, or if the claim of the plaintiff is dismissed or judgment is given against him by default or otherwise and it shall appear to the Court that there was no probable ground for instituting the suit, the Court may (on the application of the defendant) award against the plaintiff in its decree such sum, not exceeding one thousand Rupees, as it may deem a reasonable compensation to the defendant for the expense or injury occasioned to him by the issue of the injunction. Provided that the Court shall not award a larger amount of compensation under this Section than it is competent to such Court to decree in an action for damages. An award of compensation under this Section shall bar any suit for damages in respect of the issue of the injunction.

Compensation to defendant for needless issue of injunction.

Proviso.

Of the Withdrawal and Adjustment of Suits.

97. If the plaintiff at any time before final judgment satisfy the Court that there are sufficient grounds for permitting him to withdraw from the suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit for the same matter, it shall be competent to the Court to grant such permission on such terms as to costs or otherwise as it may deem proper. In any such fresh suit the plaintiff shall be bound by the rules for the limitation of actions in the same manner as if the first suit had not been brought. If the plaintiff withdraw from the suit without such permission, he shall be precluded from bringing a fresh suit for the same matter.

Court may allow plaintiff to withdraw from a suit, with liberty to bring a fresh suit.

98. If a suit shall be adjusted by mutual agreement or compromise, or if the defendant satisfy the plaintiff in respect to the matter of the suit, such agreement, compromise, or satisfaction shall be recorded, and the suit shall be disposed of in accordance therewith. On the application of the plaintiff reciting the substance of such agreement, compromise, or satisfaction, the Court, if satisfied that such agreement, compromise, or satisfaction has been actually entered into or made, shall grant a certificate to the plaintiff authorizing him to receive back from the Collector the full amount of stamp duty paid on the plaint if the application shall have been presented before the settlement of issues, or half the amount if presented at any time after the settlement of issues and before any witness has been

Adjustment or compromise.

Court may grant certificate for refund of stamp duty on plaint, if suit be adjusted.

examined. Provided however that no such certificate shall be granted if the adjustment between the parties be such as to require a decree to pass on which process of execution can be taken out.

Proviso.

Of the Death, Marriage, and Bankruptcy or Insolvency of Parties.

Suit not to abate by death in certain cases.

99. The death of a plaintiff or defendant shall not cause the suit to abate if the cause of action survive.

Proceeding in case of death of one of several plaintiffs or defendants, if the cause of action survives.

100. If there be two or more plaintiffs or defendants and one of them die, and if the cause of action survive to the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs alone, or against the surviving defendant or defendants alone, the suit shall proceed at the instance of the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs, and against the surviving defendant or defendants.

Proceeding in case of death of one of several plaintiffs, where the cause of action accrues to the survivor and the representative of the deceased.

101. If there be two or more plaintiffs, and one of them die, and if the cause of action shall not survive to the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs alone but shall survive to them and the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff jointly, the Court may, on the application of the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff, enter the name of such representative in the Register of the suit in the place of such deceased plaintiff, and the suit shall proceed at the instance of the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs and such legal representative of the deceased plaintiff If no application shall be made to the Court by any person claiming to be the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff, the suit shall proceed at the instance of the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs; and the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff shall be interested in and shall be bound by the judgment given in the suit in the same manner as if the suit had proceeded at his instance conjointly with the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs.

Proceeding in case of death of sole or sole surviving plaintiff.

102. In case of the death of a sole plaintiff or sole surviving plaintiff, the Court may, on the application of the legal representative of such plaintiff, enter the name of such representative in the place of such plaintiff in the Register of the suit, and the suit shall thereupon proceed; if no such application shall be made to the Court within what it may consider a reasonable time by any person claiming to be the legal representative of the deceased sole plaintiff or sole surviving plaintiff, it shall be competent to the Court to pass an order that the suit shall abate, and to award to the defendant the reasonable cost which he may have incurred in defending the suit, to be recovered from the estate of the deceased sole plaintiff or surviving plaintiff; or the Court may, if it think proper, on the application of the defendant, and upon such terms as to costs as may seem fit, pass such other order for bringing in the legal representative of the deceased sole plaintiff or surviving plaintiff, and for proceeding with the suit in order to a final determination of the matters in dispute, as may appear just and proper in the circumstances of the case.

Proceeding in case of dispute as to who is the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff.

103. If any dispute arise as to who is the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff, it shall be competent to the Court either to stay the suit until the fact has been duly determined in another suit, or to decide at or before the hearing of the suit who shall be admitted to be such legal representative for the purpose of prosecuting the suit.

Proceeding in case of death of one of several defendants or of a sole or sole surviving defendant.

104. If there be two or more defendants, and one of them die, and the cause of action shall not survive against the surviving defendant or defendants alone, and also in case of the death of a sole defendant or sole surviving defendant, where the action survives, the plaintiff may make an application to the Court specifying the name, description, and place of abode of any person whom the plaintiff alleges to be the legal representative of such defendant, and whom he desires to be made the defendant in his stead; and the Court shall thereupon enter the name of such representative in the Register of the suit in the place of such defendant, and shall issue a summons to him to appear on a day to be therein mentioned to defend the suit; and the case shall thereupon proceed in the same manner as if such representative had originally been made a defendant and had been a party to the former proceedings in the suit.

Marriage of a female plaintiff or defendant not to abate the suit.

105. The marriage of a woman, plaintiff or defendant, shall not cause the suit to abate, but the suit may notwithstanding be proceeded with to judgment, and the decree thereupon may be executed upon the wife alone; and if the case is one in which the husband is by law liable for the debts of his wife, the decree may, with the permission of the Court, be executed against the husband also; and in case of judgment for the wife, execution of the decree may, with the permission of the Court, be issued upon the application of the husband, where the husband is by law entitled to the money or thing which may be the subject of the decree.

Bankruptcy or insolvency when not to abate the suit.

106. The bankruptcy or insolvency of the plaintiff in any suit which the Assignee might maintain for the benefit of the creditors shall not be a valid objection to the continuance of such suit, unless the Assignee shall decline to continue the suit and to give security for the costs thereof within such reasonable time as the Court may order; if the Assignee neglect or refuse to continue the suit and to give such security within the time limited by the order, the defendant may, within eight days after such neglect or refusal, plead the bankruptcy or insolvency of the plaintiff as a reason for abating the suit.

Of Notices to produce, and how they are to be served.

Two notices in writing to be delivered to the proper Officer of the Court.

107. Whenever any of the parties to a suit is desirous that any document, writing, or other thing, which he believes to be in the possession or power of another of the parties thereto, should be produced at any hearing of the suit, and the production of such document, writing, or other thing has not previously been required, under the provisions of Sections 40 and 43, he shall at the earliest opportunity deliver to the Court two notices in writing to the party in whose possession or power he believes the document, writing, or other thing to be, calling upon him to produce the same; and one of such notices shall be filed in Court, and the other shall be delivered by the Court to the Nazir or other proper Officer, to be served upon such party.

Service of notices and other judicial process how to be made on a party who has not appointed a pleader to act for him.

108. In all cases in which a party to a suit has not appointed a pleader to act for him, all notices and other judicial processes shall be served upon such party in the manner hereinbefore provided for the service of a summons upon a defendant to appear and answer.

OF THE APPEARANCE OF THE PARTIES, AND CONSEQUENCES OF NON-APPEARANCE.

Parties must appear in person or by pleader.

109. On the day fixed in the summons for the defendant to appear and answer, the parties shall be in attendance at the Court-house in person or by a pleader, and the suit shall then be heard unless the hearing be adjourned to a future day which shall be fixed by the Court.

If neither party appear, suit to be dismissed with liberty to the plaintiff to bring a fresh suit.

110. If, on the day fixed for the defendant to appear and answer, or any other day subsequent thereto to which the hearing of the suit may be adjourned, neither party shall appear either in person or by a pleader when duly called upon by the Court, the suit shall be dismissed. Whenever a suit is dismissed under the provisions of this Section, the plaintiff shall be at liberty to bring a fresh suit unless precluded by the rules for the limitation of actions; or if he shall within the period of thirty days satisfy the Court that there was a sufficient excuse for his non-appearance, the Court may issue a fresh summons upon the plaint already filed.

Or if sufficient excuse for non-appearance, a fresh summons may be issued.

If plaintiff only appear, Court may proceed ex parte if due service of summons be proved.

111. If the plaintiff shall appear in person or by a pleader, and the defendant shall not appear in person or by a pleader, and it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the summons was duly served, the Court shall proceed to hear the suit ex parte. If the defendant appear on any subsequent day to which the hearing of the suit is adjourned, and shall assign good and sufficient cause for his previous non-appearance, he may, upon such terms as the Court may direct as to payment of costs or otherwise, be heard in answer to the suit in like manner as if he had appeared on the day fixed for his appearance.

If defendant appear on day of adjourned hearing, and assign good cause for his previous non-appearance, he may be heard.

If plaintiff only appear and due service of summons be not proved, Court may order issue of second summons.

112. If the plaintiff shall appear in person or by a pleader and the defendant shall not appear in person or by a pleader, and it shall not be proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the summons was duly served in any of the modes of service hereinbefore provided, the Court may direct a second summons to the defendant to be issued in any of the said modes.

If plaintiff only appear, and service of summons be proved, but the service was not in due time, Court may adjourn hearing and direct notice to be given to defendant.

113. If the plaintiff shall appear in person or by a pleader, and the defendant shall not appear in person or by a pleader, and it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the summons was served on the defendant but not in sufficient time to enable the defendant to appear and answer on the day fixed in the summons, the Court shall postpone the hearing of the suit to a future day to be fixed by the Court and may direct notice of such day to be given to the defendant.

If defendant only appear, Court to pass judgment by default against plaintiff, unless defendant admit the claim.

114. If the defendant shall appear in person or by a pleader, and the plaintiff shall not appear in person or by a pleader, the Court shall pass judgment against the plaintiff by default, unless the defendant admit the claim, in which case the Court shall pass judgment against the defendant upon such admission. When judgment is passed against a plaintiff by default, he shall be precluded from bringing a fresh suit in respect of the same cause of action.

No fresh suit after such judgment.

When there are several plaintiffs or defendants, each may authorize the other to appear for him.

Consequence of non-appearance of one or more of several plaintiffs.

116. If there are two or more plaintiffs, and one or more of them shall appear in person or by a pleader or by a co-plaintiff duly authorized, and the other or others of them shall not appear in person or by a pleader or by a co-plaintiff duly authorized, it shall be competent to the Court to proceed with the suit at the instance of the plaintiff or plaintiffs who shall have appeared, in the same way as if all the plaintiffs had appeared, and to pass such order as may be just and proper in the circumstances of the case; and if there are two or more defendants, and one or more of them shall appear in person or by a pleader or by a co-defendant duly authorized, and the other or others of them shall not appear in person or by a pleader or by a co-defendant duly authorized, the Court shall proceed with the suit to judgment, and shall at the time of passing judgment give such order with respect to the defendant or defendants who shall not have appeared as shall be just and proper in the circumstances of the case.

Consequence of non-appearance of one or more of several defendants.

117. If any plaintiff or defendant who shall have been ordered or summoned to appear personally under the provisions of Section 42, shall not appear in person, or show sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Court for failing so to appear, such plaintiff or defendant shall be subject to all the provisions of the foregoing Sections applicable to plaintiffs and defendants respectively, who do not appear either in person or by pleader.

Consequence of non-appearance, without sufficient cause shown, of any party to a suit summoned or ordered to appear in person.

118. In support of the cause shown by a plaintiff or defendant for failure to appear in person, the Court shall receive any declaration in writing on unstamped paper, if signed by such plaintiff or defendant and verified in the manner hereinbefore provided for the verification of plaints.

Court to receive declaration in support of cause shown.

119. No appeal shall lie from a judgment passed ex parte against a defendant who has not appeared, or from a judgment against a plaintiff by default for non-appearance. But in all cases in which judgment may be passed ex parte against a defendant, he may apply, within a reasonable time, not exceeding thirty days after any process for enforcing the judgment has been executed, to the Court by which the judgment was passed, for an order to set it aside; and if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the summons was not duly served, or that the defendant was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the suit was called on for hearing, the Court shall pass an order to set aside the judgment, and shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit. In all cases of judgment against a plaintiff by default, he may apply, within thirty days from the date of the judgment, for an order to set it aside; and if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the plaintiff was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the suit was called on for hearing, the Court shall pass an order to set aside the judgment by default, and shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit. But no judgment shall be set aside on any such application as aforesaid, unless notice thereof have been served on the opposite party. In all cases in which the Court shall pass an order under this Section for setting aside a judgment, the order shall be final; but in all appealable cases in which the Court shall reject the application, an appeal shall lie from the order of rejection to the tribunal to which the final decision in the suit would be appealable, provided that the appeal be preferred within the time allowed for an appeal from such final decision, and be written upon stamp paper of the value prescribed for petitions to the Court where a stamp is required for petitions.

No appeal from judgments passed ex parte or by default.

When and how judgment ex parte against a defendant may be set aside.

When and how judgment by default against a plaintiff may be set aside.

No judgment to be set aside, without notice to opposite party.

Order for setting aside judgment shall be final.

In appealable cases, an appeal from order of rejection.

Proviso.

Of Written Statements.

120. The parties or their pleaders may tender at the first hearing of the suit written statements of their respective cases, and the Court shall receive the same and put them on the record. Such statements shall be written on the stamp paper prescribed for petitions to the Court where a stamp is required for petitions.

Written statements may be tendered by the parties at the first hearing of the suit.

Written statements to be on stamp paper.

121. If in a suit for debt the defendant desire to set-off against the claim of the plaintiff the amount of any debt due to him from the plaintiff, he shall tender a written statement containing the particulars of his demand, and the Court shall thereupon enquire into the same. Provided that, if the sum claimed by the defendant exceed the amount cognizable by the Court, the defendant shall not be allowed to set-off the same unless he abandon the excess.

Particulars of set-off to be given in a written statement.

Abandonment of excess of set-off over claim.

122. No written statement shall be received after the first hearing of the suit, unless called for by the Court. But it shall be competent to the Court, at any time before final judgment, to call for a written statement, or an additional written statement from any of the parties. When such statements are called for by the Court, they shall be received on plain paper.

No written statement to be received after first hearing unless called for by the Court.

Court may at any time call for a written statement.

123. Written statements shall be as brief as the nature of the case will admit, and shall not be argumentative, nor by way of answer one to the other; but each statement shall be confined, as much as possible, to a simple narrative of the facts which the party by whom or on whose behalf the written statement is made believes to be material to the case, and which he believes he will be able to prove if called upon by the Court. Written statements shall be subscribed and verified in the manner hereinbefore provided for subscribing and verifying plaints, and no written statement shall be received unless it be so subscribed and verified.

How written statements are to be framed.

Written statements to be subscribed and verified.

124. If it shall appear to the Court that any written statement presented by or on behalf of a party, whether the same have been spontaneously tendered or have been called for by the Court, is argumentative or unnecessarily prolix, or that it contains matter irrevelant to the suit, the Court may reject the same, and return it to the party with the order of rejection endorsed thereon; and it shall not be competent to a party whose written statement has been rejected for any of these causes to present another written statement, unless it shall be expressly called for or allowed by the Court.

Court may reject a written statement which is argumentative, prolix, or irrelevant.

Of the Examination of the Parties.

Oral examination of party &c.

125. At the first hearing of the suit, and if necessary at any subsequent hearing, any party who appears in person or is present in Court, or the pleader of any party who appears by a pleader, or if the pleader be accompanied by another person able to answer all material questions relating to the suit, then such other person, may be examined orally by the Court. Such examination shall (unless the pleader be the person examined) be upon oath or affirmation or otherwise according to the provisions of the law for the time being in force in relation to the examination of witnesses. The substance of the examination shall be reduced to writing and form part of the record.

Oath.

Substance of the examination to be written.

Consequence of refusal of a party to answer.

126. If any party who appears in person or is present in Court shall without lawful excuse refuse to answer any material question relating to the suit which the Court may think proper to put to such party, the Court may pass judgment against him, or make such other order in relation to the suit as it may deem proper in the circumstances of the case.

Consequence of refusal or inability of pleader to answer.

127. If the pleader of any party who shall appear by a pleader shall refuse or be unable to answer any material question relating to the suit which the Court is of opinion that the party whom he represents ought to answer, and is likely to be able to answer, if interrogated in person, the Court may postpone the hearing of the suit to a future day and direct that such party shall attend in person on such day; and if the party so directed to attend shall without lawful excuse fail to appear in person on the day to be so appointed, the Court may pass judgment against him, or make such other order in relation to the suit as it may deem proper in the circumstances of the case.

Of the Production of Documents.

Documentary evidence to be produced at first hearing.

128. The parties or their pleaders shall bring with them, and have in readiness at the first hearing of the suit to be produced when called upon by the Court, all their documentary evidence of every description which may not already have been filed in Court, and all documents, writings, or other things which may have been specified in any notice which may have been served on them respectively within a reasonable time before the hearing of the suit; and no documentary evidence of any kind, which the parties or any of them may desire to produce, shall be received by the Court at any subsequent stage of the proceedings, unless good cause be shown to its satisfaction for the non-production thereof at the first hearing.

Exhibits to be received and inspected by the Court.

Rejection of exhibits.

129. All exhibits produced by the parties shall be received and inspected by the Court; but it shall be competent to the Court, after inspection, to reject any exhibit which it may consider irrelevant or otherwise inadmissible recording the grounds of such rejection.

Documents insufficiently stamped may be received on payment of deficient duty and penalty.

130. If the exhibit be a deed, instrument, or writing, chargeable with stamp duty under any Regulation or Act for the time being in force and it shall appear to the Court that the deed, instrument, or writing, although written on stamp paper, does not bear a sufficient stamp, the Court shall nevertheless receive the same in evidence, saving all just exceptions on other grounds, if the party producing it or requiring its production shall pay into Court the deficiency of the stamp duty and a penalty equal to ten times the amount of the deficiency. Provided that, if it shall appear to the Court that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the deed, instrument, or writing was not properly stamped with the intention of evading the stamp laws, the Court may reject the same.

Proviso.

Account of monies so received to be kept.

131. An entry of the fact of such payment and of the amount thereof shall be made in a book to be kept in the Court, and shall also be endorsed on the back of such deed, instrument, or writing under the signature of the Judge of the Court. The Court shall at the end of every month make a return to the Collector of Revenue of the District of the monies (if any) which it has so received by way of duty or penalty, distinguishing between such monies, and stating the number and title of the suit, and the name of the party from whom such monies were received, and the date (if any) and description of the document, for the purpose of identifying the same; and the Court shall pay over the said monies to the Collector of Revenue, or to such person as he may appoint to receive the same; and the Collector of Revenue or other proper authority shall, upon production of the deed, instrument, or writing, with the endorsement hereinbefore mentioned, cause such additional stamp as may be necessary to be affixed to such deed, instrument, or writing in respect of the sums so paid as aforesaid.

Monthly return to be made to Collector.

Admitted exhibits to be marked and filed.

132. When an exhibit is received by the Court and admitted in evidence, it shall be endorsed with the number and title of the suit, the name of the party producing it, and the date on which it was produced, and shall be filed as part of the record. Provided that, if the exhibit be an entry in any shop book or other book, the party on whose behalf such book is produced shall furnish a copy of the entry, which copy shall be endorsed as aforesaid, and shall be filed as part of the record, and the book shall be returned to the party producing it.

Proviso.

No stamp duty in respect of the production or filing of exhibits.

133. No stamp duty shall be leviable in respect of the production or filing of any exhibit, anything contained in any Regulation or Act notwithstanding.

Rejected exhibits to be marked and returned.

134. When an exhibit is rejected by the Court, it shall be endorsed in the manner specified in Section 132 with the addition of the word "rejected," and the endorsement shall be subscribed by the Judge. The exhibit shall then be returned to the party who produced it, unless the Court shall think proper, for special reasons (as on suspicion of forgery), to detain it.

Unless detained by the Court.

135. When the time for preferring an appeal from the decision passed in the suit has elapsed, or if an appeal has been preferred from such decision, then after the appeal has been finally disposed of, any person, whether a party to the suit or not, who may be desirous of receiving back any exhibit produced by him in the suit, shall be entitled, on application to the Court in which such exhibit may be, to receive back the same unless the further use of such exhibit has been superseded by the terms of the decree, or the Court has directed it to be detained for purposes of public justice.

After the time for appeal has elapsed, exhibit admitted in evidence may be returned.

136. Any exhibit may be returned before the time mentioned in the last preceding Section, if the Court in which the document may be shall think proper, for special reasons, to order its return. But in every case a copy, properly certified, and made at the expense of the applicant, shall be substituted for the original in the record of the suit.

Exhibit may be returned before the time limited for special reasons.

Certified copy to be kept.

137. Whenever an exhibit once received by a Court of Justice and admitted in evidence is returned, a receipt shall be given by the party receiving it in a receipt-book kept for the purpose.

Receipt to be given for returned exhibit.

138. Any Civil Court may of its own accord, or upon the application of any of the parties to a suit, send for, either from its own record or from any other public Office or Court, the record of any other suit or case, or any other official papers (not being documents relating to affairs of State the production of which would be contrary to good policy) and inspect the same, when the inspection of such record or papers shall appear likely to elucidate the facts of the suit before the Court, and to promote the ends of justice.

Court may send for papers from its own records or from other public Offices or Courts.

Except State papers.

Of the Settlement of Issues.

139. At the first hearing of the suit the Court shall enquire and ascertain upon what questions of law or fact the parties are at issue, and shall thereupon proceed to frame and record the issues of law and fact on which the right decision of the case may depend. The Court may frame the issues from the allegations of fact which it collects from the oral examination of the parties or their pleaders, notwithstanding any difference between such allegations of fact and the allegations of fact contained in the written statements, if any, tendered by the parties or their pleaders.

Framing of issues.

140. If the Court shall be of opinion that the issues cannot be correctly framed without the examination of some person other than the persons already before the Court or without the reading of some document not produced by any of such persons, it may adjourn the framing of the issues to a future day, to be fixed by the Court, and may compel the attendance of such person, or the production of the document by the person in whose hands it may be, by summons or other suitable process.

Court may examine witnesses or documents before framing the issues.

141. At any time before the decision of the case, the Court may amend the issues or frame additional issues on such terms as to it shall seem fit, and all such amendments as may be necessary for the purpose of determining the real question or controversy between the parties shall be so made.

Amendment of issues.

Additional issues.

Of Issues by Agreement of Parties.

142. When the parties to a suit are agreed as to the question or questions of fact or of law to be decided between them, they may state the same in the form of an issue, and enter into an agreement in writing, which shall not be subject to any stamp duty, that upon the finding of the Court in the affirmative or the negative of such issue, a sum of money specified in the agreement, or to be ascertained by the Court upon a question inserted in the issue for that purpose, shall be paid by one of the parties to the other of them, or that upon such finding some property specified in the agreement, and in dispute in the suit, shall be delivered by one of the parties to the other of them, or that upon such finding one or more of the parties shall do or perform some particular legal act, or shall refrain from doing or performing some particular act, specified in the agreement, and having reference to the matter in dispute.

Questions of fact or law may by agreement be stated by the parties in the form of an issue.

143. If the Court shall be satisfied, after an examination of the parties or their pleaders, and taking such evidence as it may deem proper, that the agreement was duly executed by the parties, and that the parties have a bonâ fide interest in the decision of such question, and that the same is fit to be tried and decided, it may proceed to record and try the same, and deliver its finding or opinion thereon in the same manner as if the issue had been framed by the Court, and may, upon the finding or decision on such issue, give judgment for the sum so agreed on or so ascertained as aforesaid, or otherwise according to the terms of the agreement; and upon the judgment which shall be so given, decree shall follow and may be executed in the same way as if the judgment had been pronounced in a contested suit.

Court, if satisfied that the agreement was executed bonâ fide, may decree accordingly.

When the Suit may be disposed of at the First Hearing.

144. If at the first hearing of a suit it shall appear that the parties are not at issue on any question of law or fact, the Court may at once give judgment.

If the parties are not at issue on any question of law or fact.

145. When the parties are at issue on some question of law or fact, and issues have been framed by the Court as hereinbefore provided, if the Court shall be satisfied that no further argument or evidence than such as the parties or their pleaders can at once supply is required upon any such of the issues of law or fact as may be sufficient for the decision of the suit, the Court, after hearing such argument and evidence, may proceed to determine such issue or issues, and if the finding thereon is sufficient for the decision, may pronounce judgment accordingly, whether the summons shall have been issued for the settlement of issues only or for the final disposal of the suit; otherwise the Court shall postpone the further hearing of the suit, and shall fix a day for the production of such further evidence or for such further argument as the case may require. Provided that if the summons shall have been issued for the final disposal of the suit and either party shall fail without sufficient cause to produce the evidence on which he relies, the Court may at once give judgment.

If the parties are at issue on questions of law or fact.

Court if satisfied may determine the issues and give judgment.

Proviso where summons is for final disposal.

Of Adjournments.

146. The Court may, if sufficient cause be shown, at any stage of the suit, grant time to the parties, or to either of them, and may from time to time adjourn the hearing of the suit; and in all such cases the Court shall fix a day for the further hearing of the suit. Provided that in all such cases the party applying for time shall pay the costs occasioned by such adjournment, unless the Court shall otherwise direct.

Court may grant time, or adjourn to a future day.

Proviso.

147. If, on any day to which the hearing of the suit may be adjourned, the parties or either of them shall not appear in person or by pleader, the Court may proceed to dispose of the suit in the manner specified in Section 110, Section 111, or Section 114 as the case may be, or may make such other order as may appear to be just and proper in the circumstances of the case.

How Court is to proceed if the parties fail to appear on the day fixed.

148. If either party to a suit to whom time may have been granted shall fail to produce his proofs, or to cause the attendance of his witnesses, or to perform any other act for which time may have been allowed, the Court shall proceed to a decision of the suit on the record, notwithstanding such default.

Court to proceed if either party fail to produce proofs or witnesses.

Of summoning Witnesses.

149. The parties or their pleaders may, at any time after the issue of the summons to the defendant, if the summons be for the final disposal of the suit, or after the issues have been recorded if the summons to the defendant be for the settlement of issues only, obtain, on application to the Court, summonses to witnesses or other persons to attend either to give evidence or to produce documents, and in any such summons the names of any number of persons may be inserted.

Application for summons.

150. No stamp duty shall be leviable in respect of any application for the summons of a witness or other person to attend either to give evidence or to produce a document, anything contained in any Regulation or Act notwithstanding.

No stamp duty on application for summons.

151. The person applying for a summons shall pay into Court such a sum of money as shall appear to the Court to be reasonable, to defray the travelling and other expenses of each witness, or other person mentioned in the summons, in passing to and from the Court in which he may be required to attend, and for one day's attendance. If the Court be a subordinate Court, regard shall be had, in fixing the scale of such expenses, to the rules (if any) established by the Court to which such Court shall be immediately subordinate. The sum so paid into Court shall be tendered to the witness or other person at the time of serving the summons, if it can be served personally. If it shall appear to the Court that the sum paid into Court on account of the travelling and other expenses of the witness or other person in passing to and from the Court is not sufficient to cover such expenses, the Court may direct such further sum to be paid to the witness or other person as may appear to be necessary on that account, and, in case of default in payment, may order such sum to be levied by attachment and sale of the goods of the person ordered to pay the same, or may discharge the witness without requiring him to give evidence. If it shall be necessary to detain the witness or other person summoned for a longer period than one day, the Court may from time to time order the party at whose instance he was summoned to pay into Court such sum as may be sufficient to defray the expenses of his detention for such further period, and, in default of such deposit being made, may order the witness to be discharged without requiring him to give evidence.

Expenses of witnesses to be paid before issue of summons.

Scale of expenses.

Tender of expenses to witness.

If sum be not sufficient.

Expenses if witness is detained.

152. Every summons for the attendance of a witness or other person shall specify the time and place at which he is required to attend, and also whether his attendance is required for the purpose of giving evidence or to produce a document, or for both purposes; and any particular document, which the witness or other person may be called on to produce shall be described in the summons with convenient certainty.

Time, place, and purpose of attendance to be specified in summons.

153. Any person whether a party to a suit or not may be summoned to produce a document, without being summoned to give evidence; and any person, summoned merely to produce a document, shall be deemed to have complied with the summons, if he cause such document to be produced instead of attending personally to produce the same.

Summons to produce a document.

Service of Summons on a Witness.

154. Every summons to a witness or other person shall be served by exhibiting the original, and delivering or tendering a copy; and the service shall in all cases be made a sufficient time before the time specified in the summons for the attendance of the witness or other person, to allow him a reasonable time for preparation, and for travelling to the place at which his attendance is required.

How and when the summons shall be served.

155. Whenever it may be practicable, the service of the summons shall be upon the person thereby required to attend; but when he cannot be found, the service may be made on any adult male member of his family residing with him.

Service to be on the witness, or a male member of his family.

156. When the person required to attend cannot be found, and there is no adult male member of his family on whom the summons can be served, the serving Officer shall return the summons to the Court from whence it issued, with an endorsement thereon that he has been unable to serve it.

When the summons cannot be served, it is to be returned to the Court.

157. The serving Officer shall, in all cases in which the summons has been served, endorse on the original summons the time when, and the manner in which it was served.

Time and manner of service to be endorsed on the summons.

158. If the person required to attend be resident within the jurisdiction of any other Court than that in which the suit is pending, the summons shall be transmitted by the Court in which the suit is pending, to any Court having jurisdiction at the place where the witness resides by which it can be most conveniently served; and the Court to which the summons is sent shall, upon receipt thereof, deliver the same to the Nazir or other proper Officer of such Court, to be served in the manner above directed; and upon the return of the summons by the serving Officer, it shall be transmitted to the Court from whence it originally issued.

How a summons on a witness who resides in another jurisdiction is to be served.

159. If the summons for the attendance of any person either to give evidence or to produce a document, cannot be served in either of the ways hereinbefore specified, the Court, on being certified thereof by the return of the serving Officer, and upon proof that the evidence of such witness or the production of the document is material, and that the witness or other person absconds or keeps out of the way for the purpose of avoiding the service of the summons, may cause a proclamation requiring the attendance of such person to give evidence, or produce the document, at a time and place to be named therein, to be affixed in some conspicuous place upon his house or place of abode; and if such person shall not attend at the time and place named in such proclamation, the Court may, at the instance of the party on whose application the summons was issued, make an order for the attachment of the moveable and immoveable property of such person, to such amount as the Court shall deem reasonable, not being in excess of the amount of the costs of attachment and of any fine to which the person may be liable under the provisions of the following Section.

When a witness absconds, his property may be attached.

160. If, on the attachment of the property, such witness or other person shall appear and satisfy the Court that he did not abscond or keep out of the way to avoid service of the summons, and that he had not notice of the proclamation in time to attend at the time and place named therein, the Court shall direct that the property be released from attachment, and shall make such order in regard to the costs of the attachment as it shall deem fit. If such witness or other person shall not appear, or appearing shall fail to satisfy the Court that he did not abscond or keep out of the way to avoid service of the summons, and that he had not such a notice of the proclamation as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the Court to order the property attached, or any part thereof, to be sold for the purpose of satisfying all costs incurred in consequence of such attachment, together with the amount of any fine which the Court may impose upon such witness or other person under the provisions of any law for the time being in force for the punishment of a witness who may abscond or keep out of the way in order to avoid the service of a summons. If the witness or other person shall pay into Court the costs and fine as aforesaid, the Court shall order the property to be released from attachment.

How the Court is to proceed with the witness on his appearance.

Of the Examination of Parties as Witnesses.

161. When a party to a suit appears in person at any hearing of the suit, he may be examined as a witness, either in his own behalf or on behalf of any other party to the suit, in the same way as if he were not a party thereto.

A party to a suit appearing in person may be examined either in his own behalf or on behalf of any other party.

162. If any party to a suit shall require to enforce the attendance of any other party thereto as a witness, he shall, by himself or his pleader, make a special application to the Court for an order requiring the attendance of the party, and shall show to the satisfaction of the Court sufficient grounds in support of such application, otherwise a summons shall not be issued.

Special application to be made for the examination of a party as a witness.

163. The Court, if it think fit, may, before making such order, cause notice to be given to the party or his pleader, fixing a day for such party to show cause why he should not attend and give evidence; and may also, from time to time, if necessary, for good and sufficient reason, enlarge the time for such purpose.

The Court may first issue a notice to show cause.

164. In support of the cause shown, the Court shall receive any declaration in writing of the party, on unstamped paper, if signed by him and verified in the manner hereinbefore provided for the verification of plaints, and delivered into the Court by himself or his pleader.

Court shall receive a written declaration in support of the cause shown.

165. If no sufficient cause be shown on the day fixed, or upon any subsequent day to which the Court shall enlarge the time for that purpose, the Court shall issue its order requiring the party to attend and give evidence.

If no sufficient cause be shown, summons to issue.

166. If the Court shall think it necessary for the ends of justice to examine any party to the suit or to inspect any document in his possession or power, the Court may of its own accord in any stage of the suit cause such party to be summoned to attend as a witness to give evidence or to produce such document if in his possession or power on a day to be appointed in the summons, and may examine such party as a witness in open Court, or may cause such party to be examined in such other manner as the Court may direct.

Court may of its own accord at any time summon a witness.

ATTENDANCE OF WITNESSES, AND CONSEQUENCE OF NON-ATTENDANCE.

Persons summoned to give evidence must attend.

167. Any person who shall be summoned to appear and give evidence in a suit shall be bound to attend at the time and place named in the summons for that purpose.

Consequences of non-attendance by a witness.

168. If any person, on whom any summons to give evidence or produce a document shall have been served in either of the ways specified in Section 155, shall, without lawful excuse, fail to comply with the summons, the Court may order such person to be apprehended and brought before the Court. If such person abscond or keep out of the way, so that he cannot be apprehended or brought before the Court, his property shall be liable to attachment and sale in the manner and subject to the rules provided in Sections 159 and 160 with respect to a witness or other person on whom the service of a summons cannot be effected.

Consequences of refusal to give evidence.

169. If any witness, attending or being present in Court, shall, without lawful excuse, refuse to give evidence, or to produce any document in his custody or possession named in such summons as aforesaid, upon being required by the Court so to do, the Court may commit such witness to close custody for such reasonable time as it may deem proper, unless he shall, in the meantime, consent to give his evidence, or to produce the document. If after the expiration of such time the witness shall persist in his refusal, the Court may proceed to deal with him according to the provisions of any law for the time being in force for the punishment of persons refusing to give evidence.

Consequence of non-attendance or refusal of a party to give evidence.

170. If any person, being a party to the suit, who shall be ordered to attend to give evidence or produce a document, shall, without lawful excuse, fail to comply with such order, or, attending or being present in Court, shall, without lawful excuse, refuse to give evidence, or to produce any document in his custody or possession named in such summons as aforesaid, upon being required by the Court so to do, the Court may either pass judgment against the party so failing or refusing, or make such other order in relation to the suit as the Court may deem proper in the circumstances of the case.

Any person present in Court may be called upon to give evidence though not summoned.

171. Any person present in Court, whether a party to the suit or not, may be called upon by the Court to give evidence and to produce any document then and there in his actual possession or in his power, in the same manner and subject to the same rules as if he had been summoned to attend and give evidence or to produce such document, and shall be liable to be dealt with by the Court as a party or witness, as the case may be, would, under any of the preceding provisions, be liable to be dealt with for any refusal to obey the order of the Court.

WHEN AND HOW WITNESSES ARE TO BE EXAMINED.

Witnesses to be examined at the hearing of the suit in open Court.

172. On the day appointed for the hearing of the suit or on some other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, the evidence of the witnesses in attendance shall be taken orally in open Court, in the presence and hearing, and under the personal direction and superintendence of the Judge. In cases in which an appeal lies to a higher tribunal, the evidence of each witness given upon such examination shall be taken down in writing, in the language in ordinary use in proceedings before the Court, by, or in the presence and under the personal direction and superintendence of the Judge, not ordinarily in the form of question and answer but in that of a narrative, and, when completed, shall be read over in the presence of the Judge and of the witness, and also in the presence of the parties to the suit or their pleaders, or such of them as are in attendance, and shall, if necessary, be corrected, and shall be signed by the Judge. If the evidence be taken down in a different language from that in which it has been given, and the witness does not understand the language in which it is taken down, the witness may require his deposition as taken down in writing to be interpreted to him in the language in which it was given. Where all the parties to the suit present, and the pleaders of such as are absent, consent to have such evidence as is given in English taken down in English, the Judge may so take it down in his own hand. It shall be in the discretion of the Court to take down, or cause to be taken down, any particular question and answer, if there shall appear any special reason for so doing, or any party or his pleader shall require it. If any question put to a witness be objected to by either of the parties or their pleaders, and the Court shall allow the same to be put, the question and answer shall be taken down, and the objection, and the name of the party making it, shall be noticed in taking down the depositions, together with the decision of the Court upon the objection. The Court shall record such remarks as it may think material respecting the demeanor of the witness while under examination. In cases in which the evidence is not taken down in writing by the Judge himself, he shall be bound, as the examination of each witness proceeds, to make a memorandum of the substance of what such witness deposes, and such memorandum shall be written and signed by the Judge with his own hand, and shall accompany the record. In cases in which an appeal does not lie to a higher tribunal, it shall not be necessary to take down the depositions of the witnesses in writing at length; but the Judge, as the examination of each witness proceeds, shall make a memorandum of the substance of what such witness deposes, and such memorandum shall be written and signed by the Judge with his own hand, and shall form part of the record. If the Judge shall be prevented from making a memorandum as above required, he shall record the reason of his inability to do so, and in cases not appealable shall cause such memorandum to be made in writing from his dictation in open Court, and shall sign the same, and such memorandum shall form part of the record.

If Judge be unable to make a memorandum of the evidence, reason of inability to be recorded.

173. If a witness be about to leave the jurisdiction of the Court, or other good and sufficient cause can be shown to the satisfaction of the Court why his examination should be taken immediately, it shall be competent to the Court, upon the application of either party or of the witness, at any time after the institution of the suit, to take the examination of such witness forthwith, or on any day that may be fixed for that purpose, of which due notice shall be given to the parties if the day be fixed in their absence. The witness shall be examined, and his deposition shall be taken down in writing, in the manner hereinbefore prescribed; and the deposition so taken down may be read in evidence at any hearing of the suit.

A witness may for sufficient cause be examined immediately.

174. All witnesses shall be examined upon oath or affirmation or otherwise according to the provisions of the law for the time being in force in relation to the examination of witnesses.

Witness to be examined upon oath or affirmation, or according to the law for the time being in force.

Of Commissions to examine absent Witnesses and make Local Enquiries.

175. When the evidence of a witness is required who is resident at some place distant more than a hundred miles from the place where the Court is held, or who is unable from sickness or infirmity to attend before the Court to be personally examined, or is a person exempted by reason of rank or sex from personal appearance in Court; the Court may, of its own motion, or on the application of any of the parties to the suit, or on the representation of the witness, order a Commission to issue for the examination of such witness on interrogatories or otherwise; and may, by the same or any subsequent order, give all such directions for taking such examinations as may appear reasonable and just. If the witness be resident within the jurisdiction of the Court issuing the Commission, the Commission may be issued to any Officer of the Court, or to any subordinate Court, or to any other person or persons whom the Court issuing the Commission may think proper to appoint. If the witness be resident at some place which is beyond the jurisdiction of the Court issuing the Commission, and not within the local jurisdiction of Her Majesty's Supreme Court, but within the jurisdiction of the Sudder Court, the Commission shall ordinarily be issued to the Court within whose jurisdiction the witness may reside, and which can most conveniently execute the same; but, under special circumstances, the Commission may be issued to any other person or persons whom the Court issuing the Commission may think proper to appoint.

Cases in which Court may issue a Commission to examine witnesses.

When the witness resides within the Court's jurisdiction.

When the witness resides beyond the Court's jurisdiction, and not within the Supreme Court's jurisdiction, but within the jurisdiction of the Sudder Court.

176. If the witness be resident within the local jurisdiction of Her Majesty's Supreme Court, the Commission shall ordinarily be issued to the Court of Small Causes held under Act IX of 1850 (for the more easy recovery of small debts and demands in Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay), but may, under special circumstances, be directed to any person or persons whom the Court issuing the Commission may think proper to appoint.

When the witness is within the local jurisdiction of the Supreme Court.

177. When the evidence of a witness is required, who is resident at some place not within the jurisdiction of the Sudder Court or of Her Majesty's Supreme Court, but within the British territories in India or within the territories of a Native Prince or State in alliance with the British Government, the Court, if it be satisfied that the evidence of such witness is necessary, may, of its own motion or on the representation of any of the parties to the suit, issue a Commission for the examination of the witness; provided that, if the suit be pending in any Court subordinate to the principal Civil Court of a District, such subordinate Court shall not issue the Commission, but the principal Civil Court of the District may issue the Commission on the application of the subordinate Court.

When the witness is not within the jurisdiction of the Sudder Court or the Supreme Court, but within the British territories or the territories of any Native Prince or State in alliance with the British Government.

178. When the evidence of a witness is required, who is resident at some place beyond the said territories and not within the territories of a Native Prince or State in alliance with the British Government, the Sudder Court, if the suit in which the evidence of the witness is required be pending in that Court and the Court be satisfied that such evidence is necessary, may, of its own motion or on the application of any of the parties to the suit, issue a Commission to examine the witness; if the suit be not pending in the Sudder Court, that Court may issue the Commission on the application of the Court in which the suit is pending. In all such cases, the Commission may be issued to any person or persons whom the Sudder Court may think proper to appoint.

When the witness is beyond the said territories and not within the territories of any Native Prince or State in alliance with the British Government.

179. After the Commission has been duly executed, it shall be returned, together with the depositions of the witness who may have been examined thereunder, to the Court out of which the Commission issued, unless otherwise directed by the order for issuing the Commission, in which case it shall be returned in terms of such order, and the Commission and the return thereto and the deposition of the witness who may have been examined under such Commission shall in all cases form part of the record of the suit. But no deposition taken under a Commission shall be read in evidence without the consent of the party against whom the same may be offered, unless it be proved that the deponent is beyond the jurisdiction of the Commission to be returned with the depositions of the witnesses.

When depositions may be read in evidence.

Court, or dead, or unable from sickness or infirmity to attend to be personally examined, or distant, without collusion, more than a hundred miles from the place where the Court is held, or exempted by reason of rank or sex from personal appearance in Court, or unless the Court shall, at its discretion, dispense with the proof of any of the above circumstances, or shall authorize the deposition of any witness being read in evidence, notwithstanding proof that the causes for taking such deposition have ceased at the time of reading the same.

Commission for local investigations.

180. In any suit or other judicial proceeding in which the Court may deem a local investigation to be requisite or proper for the purpose of elucidating the matters in dispute, or of ascertaining the amount of any mesne profits or damages, the Court may issue a Commission to an Officer of the Court appointed to execute such Commissions, or, if there be no such Officer, to any suitable person, directing him to make such investigation and to report thereon to the Court. In all such cases, unless otherwise directed by the order of appointment, the Commissioner shall have power to examine any witnesses who may be produced to him by the parties or any of them, the parties themselves, and any other persons whom he may think proper to call upon to give evidence in the matters referred to him; and also to call for and examine documents and other papers relevant to the subject of enquiry; and persons not attending on the requisition of the Commissioner, or refusing to give their testimony or to produce any documents or other papers, shall be subject to the like disadvantages, penalties, and punishments, by order of the Court on the report of the Commissioner, as they would incur for the same offences in suits tried before the Court. The Commissioner, after such local inspection as he may deem necessary, and after reducing to writing, in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for taking the depositions of witnesses in the presence of the Judge, the depositions taken by him, shall return the depositions, together with his report in writing, subscribed with his name, to the Court. The report and depositions shall be taken as evidence in the suit and shall form part of the record; but it shall be competent to the Court, or to the parties to the suit or any of them, with the permission of the Court, to examine the Commissioner personally in open Court, touching any of the matters referred to him or mentioned in his report, or the manner in which he may have conducted the investigation.

The report and depositions to be taken as evidence in the suit, but the Commissioner may be examined in person.

A Commissioner may be appointed to investigate and adjust accounts.

181. In any suit or other judicial proceeding in which an investigation or adjustment of accounts may be necessary, it shall be lawful for the Court to appoint such Officer or other person as aforesaid to be a Commissioner for the purpose of making such investigation or adjustment, and to direct that the parties or their attorneys or pleaders shall attend upon the Commissioner during such investigation or adjustment. In all such cases, the Court shall furnish the Commissioner with such part of the proceedings and such detailed instructions as may appear necessary for his information and guidance and the instructions shall distinctly specify whether the Commissioner is merely to transmit the proceedings which he may hold on the enquiry or also to report his own opinion on the point referred for his investigation. The proceedings of the Commissioner shall be received in evidence in the case, unless the Court may have reason to be dissatisfied with them; in which case the Court shall make such further enquiry as may be requisite, and shall pass such ultimate judgment or order as may appear to it to be right and proper in the circumstances of the case.

In cases of local investigation or investigation into accounts, expenses of Commission to be paid into Court, before issue thereof.

182. Whenever a Commission is issued either for taking evidence or for a local investigation or an investigation into accounts, the Court, before issuing the Commission, may order such sum as may be thought reasonable for the expenses of the Commission to be paid into Court by the party at whose instance or for whose benefit the Commission is issued.

Of Judgment and Decree.

When judgment is to be pronounced.

183. When the exhibits have been perused, the witnesses examined, and the parties heard in person or by their respective pleaders, the Court shall pronounce its judgment. The judgment shall be pronounced in open Court either immediately or on some future day of which due notice shall be given to the parties or their pleaders.

Judgment to be written in the vernacular language of the Judge.

Proviso.

184. The judgment shall be written in the vernacular language of the Judge. Provided that if the vernacular language of the Judge be not English and the Judge be sufficiently conversant with the English language to be able to write a clear and intelligible decision in that language, and prefer to write his judgment in it, the judgment may be written in English.

Judgment what to contain.

185. The judgment shall contain the point or points for determination, the decision thereupon, and the reasons for the decision, and shall be dated and signed by the Judge in open Court at the time of pronouncing it. Whenever the judgment is written in any other language than that which is in ordinary use in the Court, the judgment shall be translated into the language in ordinary use in the Court, and the translation shall also be signed by the Judge.

Judgment to be translated.

Court to state its decision on each issue.

Proviso.

186. In all suits in which issues have been framed, the Court shall state its finding or decision on each separate issue, unless the finding upon any one or more of the issues be sufficient for the decision of the suit.

Judgment to direct by whom costs are to be paid.

187. The judgment shall in all cases direct by whom the costs of each party are to be paid, whether by himself or by another party, and whether in whole or in what part or proportion; and the Court shall have full power to award and apportion costs in any manner it may deem proper.

What is included under the denomination of costs.

188. Under the denomination of costs are included the whole of the expenses necessarily incurred by either party on account of the suit, and in enforcing the decree passed therein, such as the expense of stamps, of summoning the defendants and witnesses, and of other processes, or of procuring copies of documents, fees of pleaders, charges of witnesses, and expenses of Commissioners either in taking evidence or in local investigations or in investigations into accounts.

Decree.

189. The decree shall bear date the day on which the judgment was passed. It shall contain the number of the suit, the names and descriptions of the parties, and particulars of the claim, as stated in the Register of the suit, and shall specify clearly the relief granted or other determination of the suit. It shall also state the amount of costs incurred in the suit and by what parties and in what proportions they are to be paid, and shall be signed by the Judge and sealed with the seal of the Court.

Decree for the recovery of a portion of immoveable property.

190. When the suit is for land or other immoveable property with specified boundaries, if the decree be for the recovery of a portion only of such property, it shall specify the boundaries of the land or property adjudged.

Decree for the delivery of moveable property.

191. When the suit is for moveable property, if the decree be for the delivery of such property, it shall also state the amount of money to be paid as an alternative if delivery cannot be had.

Decree for damages for breach of contract.

192. When the suit is for damages for breach of contract, if it appear that the defendant is able to perform the contract, the Court with the consent of the plaintiff may decree the specific performance of the contract within a time to be fixed by the Court, and in such case shall award an amount of damages to be paid as an alternative if the contract is not performed.

In suits for money, decree may order certain interest to be paid on the principal sum adjudged.

193. When the suit is for a sum of money due to the plaintiff, the Court may in the decree order interest to be paid on the principal sum adjudged from the date of suit to the date of payment at such rate as the Court may think proper.

Payment by instalments.

194. In all decrees for the payment of money, the Court may for any sufficient reason order that the amount shall be paid by instalments with or without interest.

If set-off be allowed.

195. If the defendant shall have been allowed to set-off any demand against the claim of the plaintiff, the decree shall state what amount is due to the plaintiff and what amount (if any) is due to the defendant, and shall be for the recovery of any sum which shall appear to be due to either party. The decree of the Court with respect to any sum awarded to the defendant shall have the same effect and be subject to the same rules as if such sum had been claimed by the defendant in a separate suit against the plaintiff.

Effect of decree.

When the suit is for land, the Court may provide in the decree for payment of mesne profits with interest.

196. When the suit is for land or other property paying rent, the Court may provide in the decree for the payment of mesne profits or rent on such land or other property from the date of the suit until the date of delivery of possession to the decree-holder with interest thereupon at such rate as the Court may think proper.

Court may determine amount of mesne profits prior to passing decree or may reserve enquiry.

197. When the suit is for land and for mesne profits which have accrued thereon during a period prior to the date of suit, and the amount of such profits is disputed, the Court may either determine the amount prior to passing a decree for the land, or may pass a decree for the land and reserve the enquiry into the amount of mesne profits for the execution of the decree according as may appear most convenient.

Certified copies of the decree and judgment to be furnished.

198. Certified copies of the decree and judgment shall be furnished to the parties or their pleaders on application to the Court, and on the production of the necessary stamps where stamps are required by any law for the time being in force. The application may be made either orally or by writing on unstamped paper.

CHAPTER IV.

Execution of Decrees.

Decree for immoveable property.

199. If the decree be for land or other immoveable property, the same shall be delivered over to the party to whom it shall have been adjudged.

Decree for moveable property, performance of contract, or alternative.

200. If the decree be for any specific moveable, or for the specific performance of any contract, or for the performance of any other particular act, it shall be enforced by the seizure, if practicable, of the specific moveable and the delivery thereof to the party to whom it shall have been adjudged, or by imprisonment of the party against whom the decree is made, or by attaching his property and keeping the same under attachment until further order of the Court, or by both imprisonment and attachment if necessary; or if alternative damages be awarded, by levying such damages in the mode hereinafter provided for the execution of a decree for money.

Decree for money.

201. If the decree be for money, it shall be enforced by the imprisonment of the party against whom the decree is made, or by the attachment and sale of his property, or by both if necessary; and if such party be other than a defendant, the decree may be enforced against him in the same manner as a decree may be enforced under the provisions of this Chapter against a defendant. When the decree is against Government or against any Officer acting on behalf of Government, if the Officer whose duty it is to satisfy the decree neglect or refuse to satisfy the same, the Court shall report the case through the Sudder

Court for the orders of Government, and execution shall not issue on the decree unless the same shall remain unsatisfied for the space of three months from the date of such report.

Decrees for execution of conveyances, or endorsement of negotiable instruments.

202. If the decree be for the execution of a conveyance or for the endorsement of a negotiable instrument, and the party ordered to execute or endorse such conveyance or negotiable instrument shall neglect or refuse so to do, any party interested in having the same executed or endorsed may prepare a conveyance or endorsement of the instrument in accordance with the terms of the decree, and tender the same to the Court, for execution upon the proper stamp (if any is required by law), and the signature thereof by the Judge shall have the same effect as the execution or endorsement thereof by the party ordered to execute.

Decree against representatives of deceased persons.

203. If the decree be against a party as the representative of a deceased person, and such decree be for money to be paid out of the property of the deceased person, it may be executed by the attachment and sale of any such property, or, if no such property can be found and the defendant fail to satisfy the Court that he has duly applied such property of the deceased as shall be proved to have come into his possession, the decree may be executed against the defendant to the extent of the property not duly applied by him, in the same manner as if the decree had been against the defendant personally.

Decree against sureties.

204. Whenever a person has become liable as security for the performance of a decree or of any part thereof, the decree may be executed against such person to the extent to which he has rendered himself liable, in the same manner as a decree may be enforced against a defendant.

What property liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree.

205. The following property is liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree, namely, lands, houses, goods, money, bank-notes, cheques, bills of exchange, promissory notes, Government securities, bonds, or other securities for money, debts, shares in the capital or joint-stock of any Railway, Banking, or other Public Company or Corporation, and all other property whatsoever, moveable or immoveable, belonging to the defendant, and whether the same be held in his own name or by another person in trust for him, or on his behalf.

Payment of monies under decrees &c.

206. All monies payable under a decree shall be paid into the Court, whose duty it is to execute the decree, unless such Court or the Court which passed the decree shall otherwise direct.

Adjustment of decree to be made through the Court.

No adjustment of a decree in part or in whole shall be recognized by the Court unless such adjustment be made through the Court or be certified to the Court by the person in whose favor the decree has been made or to whom it has been transferred.

Application for Execution.

Application for execution how to be made.

207. When any party in whose favor a decree has been made is desirous of enforcing the same, he shall apply to the Court whose duty it is to execute the decree either in person or through his pleader in the suit or some other pleader duly appointed to act for him in that behalf. If there be two or more decree-holders, one or more of them may make the application, if the Court shall see sufficient cause for allowing him or them to make such application; and the Court shall in such case pass such order as it may deem necessary for protecting the interests of the other decree-holders.

Application by whom to be made, if decree be transferred from original decree-holder to another person.

208. If a decree shall be transferred by assignment or by operation of law from the original decree-holder to any other person, application for the execution of the decree may be made by the person to whom it shall have been so transferred or his pleader; and if the Court shall think proper to grant such application, the decree may be executed in the same manner as if the application were made by the original decree-holder.

Cross-decrees.

209. If there be cross-decrees between the same parties for the payment of money, execution shall be taken out by that party only who shall have obtained a decree for the larger sum, and for so much only as shall remain after deducting the smaller sum, and satisfaction for the smaller sum shall be entered on the decree for the larger sum as well as satisfaction on the decree for the smaller sum, and if both sums shall be equal, satisfaction shall be entered upon both decrees.

The above rules shall apply to decrees sent to a Court for execution as well as to decrees in the same Court.

Whenever a suit shall be pending in any Court against the holder of a decree of such Court, by the person or persons against whom the decree was passed, the Court may, if it appear just and reasonable to do so, stay execution on the decree either absolutely or on such terms as it may think just, until a decree shall be passed in the pending suit.

If the person against whom a decree is made shall die before execution, application may be made against his legal representative or estate.

210. If any person against whom a decree has been made shall die before execution has been fully had thereon, application for execution thereof may be made against the legal representative or the estate of the person so dying as aforesaid; and if the Court shall think proper to grant such application, the decree may be executed accordingly.

Decree how to be executed against legal representative.

211. If the decree be ordered to be executed against the legal representative it shall be executed in the manner provided in Section 203 for the execution of a decree for money to be paid out of the property of a deceased person.

Form of application for execution of a decree.

212. The application for execution of a decree shall be in writing, and shall contain in a tabular form the following particulars, namely, the number of the suit, the names of the parties, the date of the decree, whether any appeal has been preferred from the decree, and whether any and what adjustment of the matter in dispute has been made between the parties subsequently to the decree; the amount of the debt or damages due upon it, or other relief granted by the decree; the amount of costs, if any were awarded; the name of the person against whom the enforcement of the decree is sought; and the mode in which the assistance of the Court is required, whether by the delivery of property specifically decreed, the arrest and imprisonment of the person named, or attachment of his property, or otherwise as the case may be.

Further particulars when the application is for an attachment of immoveable property.

213. When the application is for an attachment of any land or other immoveable property belonging to the defendant, it shall be accompanied with an inventory or list of such property, containing such a description of the property as may be sufficient to identify it, together with a specification of the defendant's share or interest therein, to the best of the applicant's belief and so far as he has been able to ascertain the same. And where the property is an estate paying revenue to Government or any portion of such estate, the application for an attachment shall be accompanied with an authenticated extract from the Register of the Collector's Office, specifying the revenue of such estate, and the names and (where registered) the shares of the registered proprietors.

The application for an attachment of moveable property may be general, or may be accompanied with an inventory of the property to be attached.

214. Where the application is for an attachment of the defendant's moveable property or any part thereof, it may be accompanied with an inventory or list of the property to be attached, containing a reasonably accurate description thereof; or the applicant may apply for a general attachment of the defendant's moveable property wheresoever the same can be found, to the amount of the judgment and costs.

Procedure on receiving the application.

215. The Court, on receiving any application for execution of a decree, containing the particulars above mentioned, or such of them as may be applicable to the case, shall cause the same to be compared with the original decree contained in the record of the suit, and if they shall be found to correspond therewith, shall enter a note of the application, and the date on which it was made in the Register of the suit. If the particulars shall not be found to correspond with the original decree, the Court shall either return the application for correction to the person making it, or shall, with the consent of such person, cause the necessary correction to be made. If the application be admitted, the Court shall order execution of the decree according to the nature of the application.

Measures required in certain cases preliminary to the issue of the Warrant.

In certain special cases, notice to show cause why the decree should not be executed shall be issued.

216. If an interval of more than one year shall have elapsed between the date of the decree and the application for its execution, or if the enforcement of the decree be applied for against the heir or representative of an original party to the suit, the Court shall issue a notice to the party against whom execution may be applied for requiring him to show cause, within a limited period to be fixed by the Court, why the decree should not be executed against him. Provided that no such notice shall be necessary in consequence of an interval of more than one year having elapsed between the date of the decree and the application for execution, if the application be made within one year from the date of the last order passed on any previous application for execution; and provided further that no such notice shall be necessary in consequence of the application being against an heir or representative, if upon a previous application for execution against the same person, the Court shall have ordered execution to issue against him.

Proviso.

Procedure after issue of notice.

217. When such notice is issued, if the party shall not attend in person or by a pleader, or shall not show sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Court why the decree should not be forthwith executed, the Court shall order it to be executed accordingly. If the party shall attend in person or by a pleader, and shall offer any objection to the enforcement of the decree, the Court shall pass such order as in the circumstances of the case may appear to be just and proper.

Application for a general attachment of moveable property.

218. Where the application is for a general attachment of the moveable property of the defendant, it shall be competent to the Court, if it shall think proper, before issuing an order for such attachment, to require the applicant to give security to the satisfaction of the Court, in such sum as may be considered adequate, for any injury that may be occasioned by the attachment of property belonging to any other person than the defendant.

Before granting order, Court may make certain enquiries as to the property to be attached.

219. Before granting the order for a general attachment or at the instance of the plaintiff at any time after judgment and before complete execution of the decree, the Court may summon the person against whom the application is made and examine him as to the property liable to be seized in satisfaction of the judgment. The Court may also, of its own motion or at the instance of any person interested in the enquiry, summon any other person whom it may think necessary and examine him in respect to such property, and may require the person summoned to produce all deeds and documents in his possession or power relating to such property.

Rules applicable to the summoning and examination of parties and witnesses after judgment.

220. In all cases in which a summons may be issued for the attendance of a party to a suit or any other person at any time after judgment, the rules applicable to the summoning and examination of parties and witnesses after issues recorded, shall apply to the party or witnesses so summoned.

Issue of the Warrant.

Warrant when to issue.

221. When all necessary preliminary measures have been taken, where any such are required, the Court, unless it see cause to the contrary, shall issue the proper warrants for the execution of the decree.

Latest day of execution to be written in warrant, and time and manner of execution to be endorsed.

222. Every warrant for the execution of a decree shall bear the date of the day on which it is issued, and shall be signed by the Judge and sealed with the seal of the Court, and delivered to the Nazir or other proper Officer of the Court. A day shall be specified in the warrant on or before which it must be executed, and the Nazir or other proper Officer shall endorse upon the warrant the day and the manner in which it was executed, or if it was not executed the reason why it was not executed, and shall return it with such endorsement to the Court from which it issued.

Of the execution of Decrees for Immoveable Property.

How immoveable property is to be delivered when in the occupancy of a defendant or of some person under him.

223. If the decree be for a house, land, or other immoveable property in the occupancy of a defendant or some person on his behalf, or of some person claiming under a title created by the defendant subsequently to the institution of the suit, the Court shall order delivery thereof to be made by putting the party to whom the house, land, or other immoveable property may have been adjudged, or any person whom he may appoint to receive delivery on his behalf, in possession thereof, and if need be, by removing any person who may refuse to vacate the same.

How it is to be delivered when in the occupancy of ryot.

224. If the decree be for land or other immoveable property in the occupancy of ryots or other persons entitled to occupy the same, the Court shall order delivery thereof to be made by affixing a copy of the warrant in some conspicuous place on the land or other immoveable property, and proclaiming to the occupants of the property by beat of drum, or in such other mode as may be customary, at some convenient place or places, the substance of the decree in regard to the property.

Division of estate or separation of share how to be made.

225. If the decree be for the division of an estate or for the separate possession of a share of an undivided estate paying revenue to Government, the division of the estate or the separation of the share shall be made by the Collector under the orders of the Court according to the rules in force for the partition of an estate paying revenue to Government.

Obstruction to execution of decree for immoveable property.

226. If in the execution of a decree for land or other immoveable property, the Officer executing the same shall be resisted or obstructed by any person, the person in whose favor such decree was made may apply to the Court at any time within one month from the time of such resistance or obstruction. The Court shall fix a day for investigating the complaint and shall summon the party against whom the complaint is made to answer the same.

Obstruction by defendant.

227. If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Court that the obstruction or resistance was occasioned by the defendant or by some person at his instigation on the ground that the land or other immoveable property is not included in the decree, or on any other ground, the Court shall enquire into the matter of the complaint and pass such order as may be proper under the circumstances of the case.

How defendant may be dealt with, if he persists in obstructing the complainant.

228. If the Court shall be satisfied, after such investigation of the facts of the case as it may deem proper, that the resistance or obstruction complained of was without any just cause and that the complainant is still resisted or obstructed in obtaining effectual possession of the property adjudged to him by the decree, by the defendant or some person at his instigation, the Court may, at the instance of the plaintiff and without prejudice to any proceedings to which such defendant or other person may be liable under any law for the time being in force for the punishment of such resistance or obstruction, commit the defendant or such other person to close custody for such period not exceeding thirty days as may be necessary to prevent the continuance of such obstruction or resistance.

Obstruction by a bonâ fide claimant other than the defendant.

229. If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Court that the resistance or obstruction to the execution of the decree has been occasioned by any person, other than the defendant, claiming bonâ fide to be in possession of the property on his own account or on account of some other person than the defendant, the claim shall be numbered and registered as a suit between the decree-holder as plaintiff and the claimant as defendant, and the Court shall, without prejudice to any proceedings to which the claimant may be liable under any law for the time being in force for the punishment of such resistance or obstruction, proceed to investigate the claim in the same manner and with the like power as if a suit for the property had been instituted by the decree-holder against the claimant under the provisions of this Act, and shall pass such order for staying execution of the decree, or executing the same, as it may deem proper in the circumstances of the case.

Procedure in certain cases if person dispossessed of immoveable property dispute the right of decree-holder to be put into possession of such property.

230. If any person other than the defendant shall be dispossessed of any land or other immoveable property in execution of a decree and such person shall dispute the right of the decree-holder to dispossess him of such property under the decree on the ground that the property was bonâ fide in his possession on his own account or on account of some other person than the defendant, and that it was not included in the decree, or, if included in the decree, that he was not a party to the suit in which the decree was passed he may apply to the Court within one month from the date of such dispossession; and if, after examining the applicant, it shall appear to the Court that there is probable cause for making the application, the application shall be numbered and registered as a suit between the applicant as plaintiff, and the decree-holder as defendant, and the Court shall proceed to investigate the matter in dispute in the same manner and with the like powers as if a suit for the property had been instituted by the applicant against the decree-holder.

Appeal from decision under the last two Sections.

231. The decision passed by the Court under either of the last two Sections shall be of the same force as a decree in an ordinary suit, and shall be subject to appeal under the rules applicable to appeals from decrees; and no fresh suit shall be entertained in any Court between the same party or parties claiming under them in respect of the same cause of action.

Of the Execution of Decrees for Money by Attachment of Property.

Attachment of property in execution of decree for money, to be as follows.

232. If the decree be for money, and the amount thereof is to be levied from the property of the person against whom the same may have been pronounced, the Court shall cause the property to be attached in the manner following.

Attachment of moveable property in possession of defendant, by seizure.

233. Where the property shall consist of goods, chattels, or other moveable property in the possession of the defendant, the attachment shall be made by actual seizure, and the Nazir or other Officer shall keep the same in his own custody, or in the custody of his subordinates, and shall be responsible for the due custody thereof.

Attachment by prohibitory order of moveable property, to which defendant is entitled subject to a lien.

234. Where the property shall consist of goods, chattels, or other moveable property to which the defendant is entitled subject to a lien or right of some other person to the immediate possession thereof, the attachment shall be made by a written order prohibiting the person in possession from giving over the property to the defendant.

Attachment of immoveable property by prohibitory order.

235. Where the property shall consist of lands, houses, or other immoveable property, the attachment shall be made by a written order prohibiting the defendant from alienating the property by sale, gift, or in any other way, and all persons from receiving the same by purchase, gift, or otherwise.

Attachment of debts not being negotiable instruments, and of shares in public Companies &c., by prohibitory order.

236. Where the property shall consist of debts not being negotiable instruments, or of shares in any Railway, Banking, or other public Company or Corporation, the attachment shall be made by a written order prohibiting the creditor from receiving the debts, and the debtor from making payment thereof to any person whomsoever, until the further order of the Court, or prohibiting the person in whose name the shares may be standing from making any transfer of the shares or receiving payment of any dividends thereof, and the Manager, Secretary, or other proper Officer of the Company or Corporation from permitting any such transfer or making any such payment until such further order.

Attachment of money or securities in deposit in a Court of Justice or with a Government Officer, by notice.

237. Where the property shall consist of money, or of any security, in deposit in any Court of Justice or in the hands of any Officer of Government, which is or may become payable to the defendant or on his behalf, the attachment shall be made by a notice to such Court or Officer requesting that the money or security may be held subject to the further order of the Court by which the notice may be issued. Provided that, if such money or security is in deposit in any Court of Justice, any question of title or priority which may arise between the decree-holder and any other person, not being the defendant, claiming to be interested in such money or security by virtue of any assignment, attachment, or otherwise, shall be determined by the Court in which such money or security is in deposit.

Proviso.

Attachment of negotiable instruments by seizure.

238. Where the property shall consist of a negotiable instrument, the attachment shall be made by actual seizure, and the Nazir or other Officer shall bring the same into Court, and such instrument shall be held subject to the further orders of the Court.

When the attachment is by prohibitory order, how the order is to be made known.

239. In the case of goods, chattels, or other moveable property not in the possession of the defendant, the written order shall be fixed up in some conspicuous part of the Court-house, and a copy of the order shall be delivered or sent registered by post to the person in possession of the property. In the case of lands, houses, or other immoveable property, the written order shall be read aloud at some place on or adjacent to such lands, houses, or other property, and shall be fixed up in some conspicuous part of the Court-house; and when the property is land or any interest in land, the written order shall also be fixed up in the Office of the Collector of the Zillah in which the land may be situated. In the case of debts, the written order shall be fixed up in some conspicuous part of the Court-house, and copies of the written order shall be delivered or sent registered by post to each individual debtor. And in the case of shares in the capital or joint-stock of any Railway, Banking, or other public Company or Corporation, the written order shall in like manner be fixed up in some conspicuous part of the Court-house, and a copy of the order shall be delivered or sent registered by post to the Manager, Secretary, or other proper Officer of the Company or Corporation.

Any private alienation of property after attachment to be null and void.

240. After any attachment shall have been made by actual seizure, or by written order as aforesaid, and in the case of an attachment by written order after it shall have been duly intimated and made known in manner aforesaid, any private alienation of the property attached, whether by sale, gift, or otherwise, and any payment of the debt or debts or dividends or shares to the defendant during the continuance of the attachment, shall be null and void.

Payment by a debtor who has been prohibited from making payment to his creditor.

241. In every case in which a debtor shall be prohibited from making payment of his debt to the creditor, he may pay the amount into Court and such payment shall have the same effect as payment to the party entitled to receive the debt.

The Court may direct money or bank-notes to be paid to the plaintiff;

242. In all cases of attachment under the preceding Sections, it shall be competent to the Court, at any time during the attachment, to direct that any part of the property so attached as shall con-

Sale of other attached property to be sold, and proceeds to be paid to him.

213. When the property attached shall consist of debts due to the party who may be answerable for the amount of the decree, or of any lands, houses, or other immoveable property, it shall be competent to the Court to appoint a manager of the said property, with power to sue for the debts, and to collect the rents or other receipts and profits of the land or other immoveable property, and to execute such deeds or instruments in writing as may be necessary for the purpose, and to pay and apply such rents, profits, or receipts towards the payment of the amount of the decree and costs; or when the property attached shall consist of land, if the judgment debtor can satisfy the Court that there is reasonable ground to believe that the amount of the judgment may be raised by the mortgage of the land, or by letting it on lease, or by disposing by private sale of a portion of the land or of any other property belonging to the judgment debtor, it shall be competent to the Court, on the application of the judgment debtor, to postpone the sale for such period as it may think proper to enable the judgment debtor to raise the amount. In any case in which a manager shall be appointed under this Section, such manager shall be bound to render due and proper accounts of his receipts and disbursements from time to time as the Court may direct.

Where the property attached consists of debts or immoveable property, a manager may be appointed.

Court may postpone sale of land if satisfied that amount of judgment may be raised by mortgage, &c.

Manager to render accounts.

244. When in any District, where land paying revenue to Government is ordinarily sold by the Collector, as provided in Section 248, the property attached shall consist of any such land, or of a share in any such land, if the Collector shall represent to the Court that the public sale of the land or share is objectionable, and that satisfaction of the decree may be made within a reasonable period by a temporary alienation of the land or share, the Court may authorize the Collector, on security for the amount of the decree or for the value of such land or share being given, to make provision for such satisfaction in the manner recommended by the Collector, instead of proceeding to a public sale of the land or share.

When Court may authorize Collectors to stay public sale of land.

On security being given.

245. If the amount decreed with costs and all charges and expenses which may be incurred by the attachment be paid into Court, or if satisfaction of the decree be otherwise made, an order shall be issued for the withdrawal of the attachment; and if the defendant shall desire it and shall deposit in Court a sum sufficient to cover the expense, the order shall be proclaimed or intimated in the same manner as hereinbefore prescribed for the proclamation or intimation of the attachment; and such steps shall be taken as may be necessary for staying further proceedings in execution of the decree.

Order for withdrawal of attachment after satisfaction of the decree.

Of Claims to Attached Property.

246. In the event of any claim being preferred to, or objection offered against the sale of lands or any other immoveable or moveable property which may have been attached in execution of a decree or under any order for attachment passed before judgment, as not liable to be sold in execution of a decree against the defendant, the Court shall, subject to the proviso contained in the next succeeding Section, proceed to investigate the same with the like powers as if the claimant had been originally made a defendant to the suit, and also with such powers as regards the summoning of the original defendant as are contained in Section 220. And if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Court that the land or other immoveable or moveable property was not in the possession of the party against whom execution is sought, or of some other person in trust for him, or in the occupancy of ryots or cultivators or other persons paying rent to him at the time when the property was attached, or that, being in the possession of the party himself at such time, it was so in his possession not on his own account or as his own property, but on account of or in trust for some other person, the Court shall pass an order for releasing the said property from attachment. But if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Court that the land or other immoveable or moveable property was in possession of the party against whom execution is sought, as his own property, and not on account of any other person, or was in the possession of some other person in trust for him, or in the occupancy of ryots or cultivators or other persons paying rent to him at the time when the property was attached, the Court shall disallow the claim. The order which may be passed by the Court under this Section shall not be subject to appeal, but the party against whom the order may be given shall be at liberty to bring a suit to establish his right at any time within one year from the date of the order.

How claims and objections to sale of attached property are to be investigated.

247. The claim or objection shall be made at the earliest opportunity to the Court which shall have ordered the attachment; and if the property to which the claim or objection applies, shall have been advertized for sale, the sale may (if it appears necessary) be postponed for the purpose of making the investigation mentioned in the last preceding Section. Provided that no such investigation shall be made if it appear that the making of the claim or objection was designedly and unnecessarily delayed, with a view to obstruct the ends of justice. The order disallowing the investigation shall not be subject to appeal, and the claimant shall be left to prosecute his claim by a regular suit.

Claims and objections should be preferred at the earliest opportunity.

Of Sales in execution of Decrees.

248. Sales in execution of decrees shall be conducted by an Officer of the Court or by any other person whom the Court may appoint, and shall in all cases be made by public auction in manner hereinafter mentioned. Provided that if the property to be sold shall consist of negotiable securities or of shares in any Railway, Banking, or other public Company or Corporation, it shall be competent to the Court, instead of directing the sale to be made by public auction, to authorize the sale of such securities or shares through a broker at the market-rate of the day. If the property to be sold shall be land paying revenue to Government and the Government shall so direct, the sale shall be conducted by the Collector on the requisition of the Court.

Sales to be by public auction.

Exception as to negotiable securities and shares in public Companies.

Sale by Collector of lands paying revenue to Government.

249. In all cases of intended sale by public auction, whether of moveable or immoveable property, in execution of a decree, a proclamation of the intended sale, specifying the time and place of sale, the property to be sold, the revenue assessed upon the estate when the property to be sold is an estate or a part of an estate paying revenue to Government, and the amount for the recovery of which the sale is ordered, together with any other particulars that the Court may think necessary, shall be made in the current language of the District. The proclamation shall also declare that the sale extends only to the right, title, and interest of the defendant in the property specified therein. Such proclamation shall be made on the spot where the property is attached by beat of drum or in such other mode as may be customary; and a written notification to the same effect shall be affixed in the Court-house of the Judge who shall have ordered the sale, and in some conspicuous spot in the town or village in which the attachment may have taken place. When the property ordered to be sold may consist of land or of any right or interest in land, the written notification shall also be affixed in the Office of the Collector of the District in which such land is situate and in the Court-house of the principal Civil Court of the District where the Court which ordered the sale is subordinate to such Court. The sale shall not take place until after the expiration of at least thirty days in the case of immoveable property, and of at least fifteen days in the case of moveable property, calculated from the date on which the notification shall have been affixed in the Court-house of the Judge ordering the sale.

Notification of sales by public auction.

Time of sale.

250. The usual process for attachment and sale when the property to be attached consists of goods, chattels, or other personal estate other than debts, may be issued either successively or simultaneously as the Court directing the sale may in each instance think proper.

The process for attachment and sale may in certain cases be issued simultaneously.

251. In all cases of sale of moveable property, the price of every lot shall be paid for at the time of sale or as soon after as the Officer holding the sale shall direct, and in default of such payment the property shall forthwith be again put up and sold. On payment of the purchase money, the Officer holding the sale shall grant a receipt for the same, and the sale shall become absolute.

Mode of payment on sale of moveable property

252. No irregularity in the sale of moveable property under an execution, shall vitiate the sale; but any person who may sustain any injury by reason of such irregularity may recover damages by a suit in Court.

Irregularity not to vitiate sale of moveable property, but any person injured may recover damages by suit.

253. In all cases of sale of immoveable property, the party who is declared to be the purchaser shall be required to deposit immediately twenty-five per centum on the amount of his bid, and in default of such deposit the property shall forthwith be again put up and sold.

Deposit by purchaser in case of sale of immoveable property.

254. The full amount of purchase money shall be made good by the purchaser before sunset of the fifteenth day from that on which the sale of the property took place, or if the fifteenth day be a Sunday or other close holiday, then on the first office day after the fifteenth day; and in default of payment within such period, the deposit, after defraying the expenses of the sale, shall be forfeited to Government, and the property shall be resold and the defaulting purchaser shall forfeit all claim to the property or to any part of the sum for which it may subsequently be sold. If the proceeds of the sale which is eventually consummated be less than the price bid by such defaulting purchaser, the difference shall be leviable from him under the rules for enforcing the payment of money in satisfaction of a decree of Court.

When full amount of purchase money to be made good.

Procedure on default.

Defaulting purchaser answerable for loss by re-sale.

255. Every re-sale of immoveable property in default of payment of the purchase money shall be made after the issue of a fresh notification in the manner and for the period prescribed for original sales.

Notification on re-sale of immoveable property.

256. No sale of immoveable property shall become absolute until the sale has been confirmed by the Court. At any time within thirty days from the date of the sale, application may be made to the Court to set aside the sale on the ground of any material irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale, but no sale shall be set aside on the ground of such irregularity unless the applicant shall prove to the satisfaction of the Court that he has sustained substantial injury by reason of such irregularity.

Confirmation of sale.

257. If no such application as is mentioned in the last preceding Section be made, or if such application be made and the objection be disallowed, the Court shall pass an order confirming the sale; and in like manner if such application be made, and if the objection be allowed, the Court shall pass an order setting aside the sale for irregularity. If the objection be allowed, the order made to set aside the sale shall be final; if the objection be disallowed, the order confirming the sale shall be open to appeal; and such order, unless appealed from, and if appealed from, then the order passed on the appeal, shall be final; and the party against whom the same has been given

The sale, if not objected to for irregularity, or if the objection is disallowed, shall become absolute.

When the order to set aside a sale shall be open to appeal.

shall be precluded from bringing a suit for establishing his claim.

If the sale be set aside, price to be returned to purchaser.

258. Whenever a sale of immoveable property is set aside, the purchaser shall be entitled to receive back his purchase money with or without interest, in such manner as it may appear proper to the Court to direct in each instance.

Certificate to be granted to the purchasers of land.

259. After a sale of immoveable property shall have become absolute in manner aforesaid, the Court shall grant a certificate to the person who may have been declared the purchaser at such sale, to the effect that he has purchased the right, title, and interest of the defendant in the property sold, and such certificate shall be taken and deemed to be a valid transfer of such right, title, and interest.

Certificate to state the name of actual purchaser.

260. The certificate shall state the name of the person who at the time of sale is declared to be the actual purchaser, and any suit brought against the certified purchaser on the ground that the purchase was made on behalf of another person not the certified purchaser, though by agreement the name of the certified purchaser was used, shall be dismissed with costs.

Delivery of moveable property in the possession of defendant.

261. Where the property sold shall consist of goods, chattels, or other moveable property in the possession of the defendant, or to the immediate possession of which the defendant is entitled, and of which actual seizure has been made, the property shall be delivered to the purchaser.

Delivery of moveable property to which defendant is entitled subject to lien.

262. Where the property sold shall consist of goods, chattels, or other moveable property to which the defendant is entitled subject to a lien or right of any person to the immediate possession thereof, the delivery to the purchaser shall as far as practicable be made by giving notice to the person in possession prohibiting him from delivering possession of the property to any person except the purchaser thereof.

Delivery of immoveable property in the occupancy of defendants, &c.

263. If the property sold shall consist of a house, land, or other immoveable property, in the occupancy of a defendant or some person on his behalf or of some person claiming under a title created by the defendant subsequently to the attachment of such property, the Court shall order delivery thereof to be made by putting the party to whom the house, land, or other immoveable property may have been sold, or any person whom he may appoint to receive delivery on his behalf, in possession thereof, and, if need be, by removing any person who may refuse to vacate the same.

Delivery o immoveable property in the occupancy of ryots, &c.

264. If the property sold shall consist of land or other immoveable property in the occupancy of ryots or other persons entitled to occupy the same, the Court shall order delivery thereof to be made by affixing a copy of the certificate of sale in some conspicuous place on the land or other immoveable property, and proclaiming to the occupants of the property by beat of drum, or in such other mode as may be customary, at some convenient place or places, that the right, title, and interest of the defendant has been transferred to the purchaser.

Delivery of debts not being negotiable instruments, and of shares in public Companies.

265. Where the property sold shall consist of debts not being negotiable instruments or of shares in any Railway, Banking, or other public Company or Corporation, the delivery thereof shall be by a written order of the Court prohibiting the creditor from receiving the debts and the debtor from making payment thereof to any person or persons except the purchaser, or prohibiting the person in whose name the shares may be standing, from making any transfer of the shares to any person except the purchaser, or receiving payment of any dividends thereon, and the Manager, Secretary, or other proper Officer of the Company or Corporation from permitting any such transfer or making any such payment to any person except the purchaser.

Delivery of negotiable securities of which actual seizure has been made.

266. Where the property sold shall consist of negotiable securites of which actual seizure has been made, the same shall be delivered to the purchaser thereof.

Transfer of securities and shares.

267. If the endorsement or conveyance of the party in whose name any negotiable security or any share in a public Company or Corporation is standing, shall be required to transfer the same, the Judge may endorse the security or the certificate of the share or may execute such other document as may be necessary for transferring the same. The endorsement or execution shall be in the following form or to the like effect—" A. B. by C D. Judge of the Court of (or as the case may be); in a suit by E. F. versus A. B." Until the transfer of such security or share, the Judge may, by order, appoint some person to receive any interest or dividend due thereon, and to sign receipts for the same; and any endorsement made or document executed or receipts signed as aforesaid shall be as valid and effectual for all purposes, as if the same had been made or executed or signed by the party himself.

Resisting or obstructing purchasers in obtaining possession of property.

268. If the purchaser of any immoveable property sold in execution of a decree shall be resisted or obstructed in obtaining possession of the property, the provisions contained in Sections 226, 227, and 228 relating to resistance or obstruction to a party in whose favor a suit has been decreed in obtaining possession of the property adjudged to him, shall be applicable in the case of such resistance or obstruction.

Obstruction by claimants other than defendants.

269. If it shall appear that the resistance or obstruction to the delivery of possession was occasioned by any person other than the defendant claiming a right to the possession of the property sold as proprietor, mortgagee, lessee, or under any other title, or if in the delivery of possession to the purchaser any such person claiming as aforesaid shall be dispossessed, the Court, on the complaint of the purchaser, or of such person claiming as aforesaid, if made within one month from the date of such resistance or obstruction or of such dispossession as the case may be, shall enquire into the matter of the complaint and pass such order as may be proper in the circumstances of the case. The order shall not be subject to appeal; but the party against whom it is given shall be at liberty to bring a suit to establish his right at any time within one year from the date thereof.

Attaching creditor to be first paid out of property attached.

270. Whenever property is sold in execution of a decree, the person on whose application such property was attached shall be entitled to be first paid out of the proceeds thereof, notwithstanding a subsequent attachment of the same property by another party in execution of a prior decree.

Surplus to be rateably distributed among decree-holders who have taken out execution prior to the order for distribution.

271. If, after the claim of the person on whose application the property was attached has been satisfied in full from the proceeds of the sale, any surplus remain, such surplus shall be distributed rateably amongst any other persons who prior to the order for such distribution may have taken out execution of decrees against the same defendant and not obtained satisfaction thereof.

Proviso where property is sold subject to a mortgage.

Provided that, when any property is sold subject to a mortgage, the mortgagee shall not be entitled to share in any surplus arising from such sale.

Court may on application order another decree-holder to be satisfied out of proceeds of property attached under a decree obtained fraudulently.

272. If it shall appear to the Court, upon the application of a decree-holder, that any other decree under which property has been attached was obtained by fraud or other improper means, the Court may order that the applicant shall be satisfied out of the proceeds of the property attached so far as the same may suffice for the purpose if such other decree be a decree of that Court, or, if it be a decree of another Court, may stay the proceedings to enable the applicant to obtain a similar order from the Court by which the decree was made.

Of Arrest in execution of Decrees for Money.

On what grounds, application for discharge may be made.

273. Any person arrested under a warrant in execution of a decree for money may, on being brought before the Court, apply for his discharge on the ground that he has no present means of paying the debt, either wholly or in part, or, if possessed of any property, that he is willing to place whatever property he possesses at the disposal of the Court.

Form of application.

The application shall contain a full account of all property of whatever nature belonging to the applicant, whether in expectancy or in possession, and whether held exclusively by himself or jointly with others, or by others in trust for him (except the necessary wearing apparel of himself and his family and the necessary implements of his trade), and of the places respectively where such property is to be found, or shall state that, with the exceptions above-mentioned, the applicant is not possessed of any property, and the application shall be subscribed and verified by the applicant in the manner herein before prescribed for subscribing and verifying plaints.

Verification.

Procedure on application.

274. Upon such application being made, the Court shall examine the applicant in the presence of the plaintiff or his pleader as to his then circumstances, and as to his future means of payment, and shall call upon the plaintiff to show cause why he does not proceed against any property of which the defendant is possessed and why the defendant should not be discharged; and should the plaintiff fail to show such cause, the Court may direct the discharge of the defendant from custody. Pending any enquiry which the Court may consider it necessary to make into the allegations of either party, the Court may leave the defendant in the custody of the Officer of the Court to whom the service of the warrant was entrusted, on the defendant making the necessary deposit for paying the fees of such Officer; or if the defendant furnish good and sufficient security for his appearance at any time when called upon while such enquiry is being made, his surety or surties undertaking in default of such appearance to pay the amount mentioned in the warrant, the Court may release the defendant on such security.

Defendant liable to be again arrested if proved guilty of fraudulent concealment of property, &c.

275. The discharge of the defendant under the last preceding Section shall not protect him from being arrested again and imprisoned if it should be shown that, in the application made by him, he had been guilty of any concealment or of wilfully making any false statement respecting the property belonging to him, whether in possession or in expectancy or held for him in trust, or had fraudulently concealed, transferred, or removed any property, or had committed any other act of bad faith; nor shall such discharge exempt from attachment and sale any property then in the possession of the defendant, or of which he may afterwards become possessed.

Of the execution of Decrees by Imprisonment.

Subsistence-money of a defendant in gaol how fixed and furnished.

276. When a defendant is committed to prison in execution of a decree, the Court shall fix whatever monthly allowance it shall think sufficient for his subsistence, not exceeding four annas per day, which shall be supplied by the party at whose instance the decree may have been executed, to the proper Officer of the Court or of the gaol where the defendant may be in custody, by monthly payments in advance, before the first day of each month; the first payment to be made for such portion of the current month as may remain unexpired before the defendant is committed to prison.

Court may vary the allowance in case of illness or for other special cause.

277. The Court may, in case of illness or for other special cause, fix the monthly allowance at such sum not exceeding six annas per day as shall appear necessary. The order fixing such allowance may from time to time be revised and altered on due cause being shown.

Release of defendant.

278. A defendant shall be released at any time on the decree being fully satisfied, or at the request of the person at whose instance he may have been imprisoned, or on such person omitting to pay the allowance as above direct-

ed. No person shall be imprisoned on account of a decree for a longer period than two years, or for a longer period than six months if the decree be for the payment of money not exceeding five hundred Rupees, or for a longer period than three months if the decree be for the payment of money not exceeding fifty Rupees.

Imprisonment not to be longer than 2 years.

6 months if decree for money not exceeding 500 Rs.

3 months if not exceeding 50 Rs.

279. Sums disbursed by a plaintiff for the subsistence of a defendant in gaol shall be added to the costs of the decree and shall be recoverable by the attachment and sale of the property of the defendant under the foregoing rules; but the defendant shall not be detained in custody or arrested on account of any sums so disbursed.

Subsistence-money to be added to amount of decree.

280. Any person in confinement under a decree may apply to the Court for his discharge. The application shall contain a full account of all property of whatever nature belonging to the applicant, whether in expectancy or in possession, and whether held exclusively by himself or jointly with others, or by others in trust for him (except the necessary wearing apparel of himself and his family and the necessary implements of his trade), and of the places respectively where such property is to be found; and such application shall be subscribed and verified by the applicant in the manner hereinbefore provided for subscribing and verifying plaints.

Application may be made for discharge on a surrender of the whole of the debtor's property.

281. On such application being made, the Court shall cause the plaintiff to be furnished with a copy of the account of the defendant's property, and shall fix a reasonable period within which the plaintiff may cause the whole or any part of such property to be attached and sold or may make proof that the defendant, for the purpose of procuring his discharge without satisfying the decree, has wilfully concealed property, or his right or interest therein, or fraudulently transferred or removed property, or committed any other act of bad faith. If within such period the plaintiff shall fail to make such proof, the Court shall cause the defendant to be set at liberty. If the plaintiff shall within the time specified or at any subsequent period prove to the satisfaction of the Court that the defendant has been guilty of any of the acts above-mentioned, the Court shall, at the instance of the plaintiff, either retain the defendant in confinement, or commit him to prison, as the case may be, unless he shall have already been in confinement two years on account of the decree; and may also, if it shall think proper, send the defendant to the Magistrate to be dealt with according to law.

Procedure on such application.

Defendant to be discharged on plaintiff failing to prove fraud or concealment by defendant.

If guilty of fraud or concealment, debtor's imprisonment may be extended to two years;

and he may be further dealt with criminally.

282. A defendant once discharged shall not again be imprisoned on account of the same decree, except under the operation of the last preceding Section, but his property shall continue liable, under the ordinary rules, to attachment and sale until the decree shall be fully satisfied, unless the decree shall be for a sum less than one hundred Rupees and on account of a transaction bearing date subsequently to the passing of this Act. When the decree shall be for a sum less than one hundred Rupees, and on account of a transaction bearing date as above, the Court may declare a defendant who shall be discharged as aforesaid absolved from further liability under that decree.

Though the defendant be discharged, his property is liable for the decree.

283. All questions regarding the amount of any mesne profits which by the terms of the decree may have been reserved for adjustment in the execution of the decree, or of any mesne profits or interest which may be payable in respect of the subject matter of a suit between the date of the institution of the suit and execution of the decree, as well as questions relating to sums alleged to have been paid in discharge or satisfaction of the decree or the like, shall be determined by order of the Court executing the decree and not by separate suit; and the order passed by the Court shall be open to appeal.

How questions regarding amount of mesne profits and interest, and sums paid in satisfaction of decree, are to be determined.

Of Execution of a Decree out of the Jurisdiction of the Court by which it was passed.

284. A decree of any Civil Court within any part of the British territories in India, or established by the authority of the Governor General of India in Council in the territories of any Foreign Prince or State, which cannot be executed within the jurisdiction of the Court whose duty it is to execute the same, may be executed within the jurisdiction of any other such Court in the manner following.

How a decree of one Court may be executed within the jurisdiction of another Court.

285. The plaintiff in such case may apply to the Court whose duty it is to execute the decree, to transmit a copy thereof, together with a certificate that satisfaction of such decree has not been obtained by execution within the jurisdiction of the said Court, and a copy of any order for execution of such decree that may have been passed, to the Court by which the applicant may wish the decree to be executed.

Application for such execution.

286. The Court, unless there be any sufficient reason to the contrary, shall cause such copies and certificate to be prepared: and the same, after being signed by the Judge and sealed with the seal of the Court, shall be transmitted to the Court indicated by the applicant if that Court be within the same District, otherwise to the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in the District in which the applicant may wish the decree to be executed; and the Court to which such copies and certificates are transmitted shall cause the same to be filed therein, without any proof of the judgment or order for execution, or of the copies thereof, or of the seal or jurisdiction of any Court, or of the signature of any Judge, unless it shall, under any peculiar circumstances to be specified in an order, require such proof.

Copy of decree and order for execution to be transmitted.

287. The copy of any decree, or of any order for execution, when filed in the Court to which it shall have been transmitted for the purpose of being executed as aforesaid, shall for such purpose have the same effect as a decree or order for execution made by such Court, and may, if the Court be the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in the District, be executed by such Court, or any Court subordinate thereto, to which it may entrust the execution of the same.

Decree or order transmitted, to be executed as that of the Court.

288. When application shall be made to any Court to execute the decree of any other Court as aforesaid, the Court to which the application shall be made or referred shall proceed to execute the same according to its own rules in the like cases; provided that such Court shall have no power to inquire into the validity of the decree unless it appear upon the face of the decree that the Court by which it was made had no jurisdiction to make the same.

Execution how to be enforced by Court applied to.

289. The Court to which such application is made or referred for execution as aforesaid, shall take cognizance of and punish all wrongful acts or irregularities done or committed in executing such decree; and all persons disobeying or obstructing the execution of such decree shall be punishable by such Court in the same manner as if the decree had been made by such Court.

Wrongful acts or irregularities in executing decree to be punished by Court applied to.

290. The Court to which such application is made may, upon good and sufficient cause being shown, stay the execution of the decree for a reasonable time, to enable the defendant to apply to the Court by which the decree was passed or to any Court having appellate jurisdiction in respect of the decree or the execution thereof, for an order to stay the execution, or for any other order relating to the decree or the execution thereof, which such Court of first instance or Court of Appeal might have made if execution had been issued by such Court of first instance, or if application for execution had been made to such Court; and in case the property or person of the defendant shall have been seized under an execution, the Court which issued the execution may order the restitution of the property or the discharge of the person of the defendant pending the result of such application.

Court applied to may in certain cases stay execution or order restitution of property or discharge of defendant.

291. Before making an order to stay execution or for the restitution of property or the discharge of the defendant under the last preceding Section, the Court may require such security from or impose such conditions upon the defendant as it may deem reasonable.

Before staying execution, Court may require security from, or impose conditions upon defendant.

292. Any order of the Court in which the decree was passed or of such Court of Appeal as aforesaid, shall be binding upon the Court to which the application for execution was made, and shall be a sufficient indemnity for all persons acting in execution of process issued by such last mentioned Court.

Order of Court passing decree or of Appellate Court to be binding upon Court applied to.

293. No discharge of a defendant under the provisions of Section 290 shall prevent him from being retaken in execution of the decree.

Liability of defendant discharged, to be re-taken.

294. All orders of a Court for executing the decree of another Court shall be subject to the same rules, in respect to appeal, as if the decree had been originally passed by the Court making such order.

What appeal from orders for execution under this Act.

295. If, in execution of a decree, a warrant of arrest or other process is to be enforced within the limits of a Garrison, Cantonment, Military Station, or Military Bazar, the Officer entrusted with the execution of such warrant or other process shall carry the same to the Commanding Officer, or in his absence to the Senior Officer actually present in the Garrison, Cantonment, Station, or Military Bazar; and the Commanding Officer or such Senior Officer, upon such warrant or other process being produced to him, shall back the same with his signature, and, in the case of a warrant of arrest, shall cause the person named in the warrant to be arrested if within the limits of his command and delivered, according to the exigency of the warrant, to the Civil Officer charged with the execution thereof.

Warrant of arrest or other process in execution of decrees, how to be enforced in Military Cantonments, &c.

296. The rules contained in this Chapter shall be applicable to the execution of any judicial process for the sale of property or for the payment of money which may be ordered by a Civil Court in any Civil proceeding.

Rules contained in this Chapter to be applicable to all Civil process.

CHAPTER V.

Of Pauper Suits.

297. A suit may be brought in formâ pauperis in the Court having jurisdiction over the claim, subject to the following rules.

Suits may be brought in formâ pauperis.

298. No pauper suit shall be brought for the recovery of any sum of money on account of damages for loss of caste, slander, abusive language, or assault.

What suits excepted.

299. The application to the Court for permission to sue in formâ pauperis shall be by petition, which shall be written on a stamp paper of the value of eight annas.

Application to be by petition on stamp paper.

300. The petition shall contain the particulars required by Section 26 of this Act, in regard to plaints, and shall have annexed to it a Schedule of any moveable or immoveable property belonging to the petitioner, with the estimated value thereof, and shall be subscribed and verified in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for the subscription and verification of plaints.

Petition what to contain.

301. The petition shall be presented to the Court by the petitioner in person; but if the petitioner satisfy the Court that he is prevented by sickness from attending the Court in person, or if the petitioner be a female, who, according to the custom and manners of the country ought not to be compelled to appear in public, the petition may be presented by a duly authorized agent who may be able to answer all material questions relating to the application and who shall be liable to be examined in the same manner as the party represented by him might have been examined had such party attended in person.

How to be presented.

Examination of petitioner, if a female, how to be taken.

302. If the petition be not framed or presented in the manner laid down in the last two preceding Sections, the Court shall reject the petition.

Petition to be rejected if not in form.

303. If the petition be in form and duly presented, the Court shall proceed to examine the petitioner, or the agent of the petitioner as the case may be, regarding the merits of the claim and the property of the petitioner. When the petition is presented by an agent, the Court may also, if it think proper order that the petitioner be examined in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for the examination of absent witnesses.

If in form, Court how to proceed.

If presented by an agent, Court may order petitioner to be examined in like manner as an absent witness.

304. If it appear to the Court upon such examination that the defendant, or the matter of the suit, is not within the jurisdiction of the Court, or that the claim is barred by the Statute of Limitations, or that the allegations of the petitioner do not constitute a reasonable ground of action, or (if none of the objections above stated exist) that the petitioner has failed to show that he is not possessed of sufficient means to enable him to pay for the stamps required for the institution and prosecution of the suit, or that the petitioner has recently disposed of any property fraudulently or with a view to obtain the benefit of this Chapter, the Court shall refuse to allow the petitioner to sue as a pauper.

Court may reject the application.

305. If upon such examination the Court shall see no reason to refuse the application on any of the grounds stated in the last preceding Section, it shall fix a day (of which at least ten days' previous notice shall be given to the opposite party) for receiving such evidence as the petitioner may adduce in proof of his pauperism, and for hearing any evidence which the opposite party may bring forward in disproof of the pauperism of the petitioner.

Notice to opposite party.

306. On the day appointed for the hearing, or as soon after as the business of the Court will permit, the Court shall consider any objections made by the opposite party, and shall examine any witnesses produced by either party and make a memorandum of the substance of their evidence, and shall either allow or refuse to allow the petitioner to sue as a pauper.

After a summary enquiry, the Court to pass a final order.

307. Previously to passing a final order in the case, the Court may, if it deem fit, institute a local enquiry, in the manner laid down in Section 180 of this Act, regarding the property of the petitioner or regarding the amount or value of any property claimed.

Court may direct a local enquiry.

308. If the application of the petitioner be granted, it shall be registered and shall be deemed the plaint in the suit, and the suit shall proceed in all other respects as an ordinary suit, except that the plaintiff shall not be liable to any further stamp duty in respect of any petition, appointment of a pleader, or other proceeding connected with the suit or with the execution of any decree passed in it.

Course of proceeding to be observed, if application be admitted.

309. On the decision of the suit, the Court shall calculate the amount of stamps which would have been paid by the plaintiff if he had not been permitted to sue as a pauper, and such amount shall be recoverable by Government from any party ordered by the decree to pay the same, in the same manner as costs of suit are recoverable.

On the decision of the suit, costs how to be calculated.

310. The refusal to allow the petitioner to sue as a pauper shall be a bar to any subsequent application of the like nature in respect of the same cause of action; but the plaintiff shall be at liberty to institute a suit in the usual manner in respect of such cause of action, unless precluded by the rules for the limitation of suits.

Refusal to allow to sue as a pauper, to bar any subsequent application of the like nature.

311. The orders passed by the Court under the provisions of this Chapter shall not be subject to appeal.

No appeals from orders under this Chapter.

CHAPTER VI.

Reference to Arbitration.

312. If the parties to a suit are desirous that the matters in difference between them in the suit, or any of such matters, shall be referred to the final decision of one or more arbitrator or arbitrators, they may apply to the Court at any time before final judgment for an order of reference.

Reference to arbitration on application of the parties.

313. The application shall be made by the parties in person or by their pleaders specially authorized in that behalf by an instrument in writing, which shall be presented to the Court at the time of making the application, and shall be filed with the proceedings in the suit.

Application how to be made.

314. The arbitrator or arbitrators shall be nominated by the parties in such manner as may be agreed upon between them. If the parties cannot agree with respect to the nomination of the arbitrator or arbitrators, or if the person or persons nominated by them shall refuse to accept the arbitration, and the parties are desirous that the nomination shall be made by the Court, the Court shall appoint the arbitrator or arbitrators.

Nomination and appointment of arbitrators.

315. The Court shall, by an order under its seal, refer to the arbitrator or arbitrators the matters in difference in the suit which he or they may be required to determine, and shall fix such time as it may think reasonable for the delivery of the award, and the time so fixed shall be specified in the order.

Order of reference.

316. If the reference be to two or more arbitrators, provision shall be made in the order for a difference of opinion among the arbitrators, by the appointment of an umpire, or by declaring that the decision shall be with the majority, or by empowering the arbitrators to appoint an umpire, or otherwise as may be agreed upon between the parties; or if they cannot agree, as the Court may determine.

When the reference is to two or more, the order shall provide for difference of opinion.

317. When a reference is made to arbitration by an order of Court, the Court shall issue the same processes to the parties and witnesses whom the arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire may desire to have examined, as the Court is authorized to issue in suits tried before it; and persons not attending in consequence of such process, or making any other default, or refusing to give their testimony, or being guilty of any contempt to the arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire during the investigation of the suit, shall be subject to the like disadvantages, penalties, and punishments, by order of the Court on the representation of the arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire, as they would incur for the same offences in suits tried before the Court.

Powers of arbitrators.

318. When the arbitrator or arbitrators shall not have been able to complete the award within the period specified in the order from the want of the necessary evidence or information or other good and sufficient cause, the Court may from time to time enlarge the period for the delivery of the award, if it shall think proper. In any case in which an umpire shall have been appointed, it shall be lawful for him to enter on the reference in lieu of the arbitrators, if they shall have allowed their time or their extended time to expire without making an award, or shall have delivered to the Court or to the umpire a notice in writing stating that they cannot agree. Provided that an award shall not be liable to be set aside only by reason of its not having been completed within the period allowed by the Court, unless on proof that the delay in completing the award arose from corruption or misconduct of the arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire, or unless the award shall have been made after the issue of an order by the Court superseding the arbitration and recalling the suit.

Extension of time for making award.

319. If, in any case of reference to arbitration by an order of Court, the arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire shall die, or refuse or become incapable to act, it shall be lawful for the Court to appoint a new arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire, in the place of the person or persons so dying, or refusing or becoming incapable to act. Where the arbitrators are empowered by the terms of the order of reference to appoint an umpire and do not appoint an umpire, any of the parties may serve the arbitrators with a written notice to appoint an umpire; and if within seven days after such notice shall have been served, no umpire be appointed, it shall be lawful for the Court, upon the application of the party having served such notice as aforesaid, and upon proof to its satisfaction of such notice having been served, to appoint an umpire. In any case of appointment under this Section, the arbitrator or arbitrators, or umpire so appointed, shall have the like power to act in the reference, as if their name or names had been inserted in the original order of reference.

In case of death, incapacity, or refusal to act of arbitrators or umpire, Court may appoint others in stead.

320. When an award in a suit shall be made either by the arbitrator or arbitrators, or by the umpire, it shall be submitted to the Court under the signature of the person or persons by whom it may be made, together with all the proceedings, depositions, and exhibits in the suit.

Award how to be submitted to Court.

321. It shall be lawful for the arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire, upon any reference, by an order of Court if he or they shall think fit, and if it is not provided to the contrary, to state his or their award as to the whole or any part thereof in the form of a special case for the opinion of the Court.

Arbitrator may state special case.

322. The Court may on the application of either party modify or correct an award where it appears that a part of the award is upon matters not referred to the arbitrators, provided such part can be separated from the other part and does not affect the decision on the matter referred; or where the award is imperfect in form or contains any obvious error which can be amended without affecting such decision. The Court may also on such application make such order as it thinks just respecting the costs of the arbitration, if any question arise respecting such costs and the award contain no sufficient provision concerning them.

Court may, on application, modify or correct an award in certain cases.

And make order respecting the costs of arbitration.

323. In any of the following cases the Court shall have power to remit the award or any of the matters referred to arbitration to the re-consideration of the same arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire, upon such terms as it may think proper (that is to say)—

In what cases Court may remit the award or any of the matters referred to arbitration, for re-consideration.

If the award has left undetermined some of the matters referred to arbitration, or if it determine matters not referred to arbitration.

If the award is so indefinite as to be incapable of execution.

If an objection to the legality of the award is apparent upon the face of the award.

324. No award shall be liable to be set aside except on the ground of corruption or misconduct of the arbitrators or umpire. Any application to set aside an award shall be made within ten days after the same has been submitted to the Court.

Award not to be set aside except on ground of corruption.

Application to set aside the award.

325. If the Court shall not see cause to remit the award or any of the matters referred to arbitration for re-consideration in manner aforesaid, and if no application shall have been made to set aside the award, or if the Court shall have refused such application, the Court shall proceed to pass judgment according to the award or according to its own opinion on the special case if the award shall have been submitted to it in the form of a special case; and upon the judgment which shall be so given decree shall follow and shall be carried into execution in the same manner as other decrees of the Court. In every case in which judgment shall be given according to the award, the judgment shall be final.

Judgment to be according to the award.

326. When any persons shall by an instrument in writing agree that any differences between them or any of them shall be referred to the arbitration of any person or persons named in the agreement or to be appointed by any Court having jurisdiction in the matter to which it relates, application may be made by the parties thereto or any of them that the agreement be filed in such Court. On such application being made, the Court shall direct such notice to be given to any of the parties to the agreement, other than the applicants, as it may think necessary, requiring such parties to show cause, within a time to be specified, why the agreement should not be filed. The application shall be written on a stamp paper of one-fourth of the value prescribed for plaints in suits, and shall be numbered and registered as a suit between some or one of the parties interested or claiming to be interested as plaintiffs or plaintiff, and the others or other of them as defendants or defendant, if the application have been presented by all the parties or, if otherwise, between the applicant as plaintiff and the other parties as defendants. If no sufficient cause be shown against the agreement, the agreement shall be filed and an order of reference to arbitration shall be made thereon. The several provisions of this Chapter, so far as they are not inconsistent with the terms of any agreement so filed, shall be applicable to all proceedings under an order of reference made by the Court and to the award of arbitration and to the enforcement of such award.

Agreement of parties to refer to arbitration may be filed in the Court.

Provisions of this Chapter applicable.

327. When any matter has been referred to arbitration without the intervention of any Court of Justice, and an award has been made, any person interested in the award may within six months from the date of the award make application to the Court having jurisdiction in the matter to which the award relates, that the award be filed in Court. The Court shall direct notice to be given to the parties to the arbitration other than the applicant, requiring such parties to show cause, within a time to be specified, why the award should not be filed. The application shall be written on the stamp paper required for petitions to the Court where a stamp is required for petitions by any law for the time being in force, and shall be numbered and registered as a suit between the applicant as plaintiff and the other parties as defendants. If no sufficient cause be shown against the award, the award shall be filed and may be enforced as an award made under the provisions of this Chapter.

Filing in Court an award when the matter was referred to arbitration without intervention of Court

Enforcement of such award.

CHAPTER VII.

OF PROCEEDINGS ON AGREEMENT OF PARTIES.

How questions may be raised for the decision of a Civil Court by any Persons interested.

328. Parties interested or claiming to be interested in the decision of any question of fact or law, may enter into an agreement, which shall be subject to the same stamp duty as prescribed for plaints in suits, that upon the finding of a Court in the affirmative or negative of such question of fact or law, a sum of money fixed by the parties, or to be determined by the Court, shall be paid by one of the parties to the other of them; or that some property, moveable or immoveable, specified in the agreement, shall be delivered by one of the parties to the other of them; or that one or more of the parties shall do or perform some particular legal act or shall refrain from doing or performing some particular act specified in the agreement. Where the agreement is for the delivery of some property moveable or immoveable, or for the doing or performing, or the refraining to do or perform any particular act, the estimated value of the property to be delivered, or to which the act specified may have reference, shall be stated in the agreement.

Questions of fact, or of law or equity, may be raised by agreement for the decision of any Court having jurisdiction.

329. The agreement may be filed in any Court having jurisdiction in the matter, and, when so filed, shall be numbered and registered as a suit between some or one of the parties interested or claiming to be interested as plaintiffs or plaintiff, and the others or other of them as defendants or defendant; and notice shall be given to all the parties to the agreement other than the party or parties by whom it was presented.

Agreement to be filed and numbered as a suit.

330. After the agreement shall have been filed, all the parties to it shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the Court, and shall be bound by the statements contained therein.

Parties to be subject to the Court's jurisdiction.

331. The case shall be set down for hearing as an ordinary suit; and if the Court shall be satisfied, after an examination of the parties or their pleaders, or taking such evidence as it may deem proper, that the agreement was duly executed by the parties, and that they have a bonâ fide interest in the question of fact or law stated therein, and that the same is fit to be tried or decided, it shall proceed to record and try, or hear the same, and deliver its finding or opinion thereon, in the same way as in an ordinary suit; and shall, upon its finding or deciding upon the question of fact or law, give judgment for the sum fixed by the parties, or so ascertained as aforesaid, or otherwise, according to the terms of the agreement, and upon the judgment which shall be so given, decree shall follow and may be executed in the same way as if the judgment had been pronounced in a contested suit.

Hearing and disposal of the case.

CHAPTER VIII.

Of Appeals.

332. Except when otherwise expressly provided in this or any other Regulation or Act for the time being in force, an appeal shall lie from the decrees of the Courts of original jurisdiction to the Courts authorized to hear appeals from the decisions of those Courts. If the appeal lie to the Sudder Court it shall be heard and determined by a Court consisting of three or more Judges of that Court.

Appeal to lie from all decrees except when expressly prohibited.

Appeal to Sudder Court to be heard by three or more Judges.

HOW APPEALS ARE TO BE PREFERRED.

Appeal to be preferred by a memorandum to be presented to the Appellate Court within specified time.

333. Appeals shall be made in the form of a memorandum which shall be presented in the Appellate Court within the period hereinafter specified, unless the appellant shall show sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Appellate Court for not having presented it within such limited period; that is to say, within thirty days if the appeal be to a District Court, and within ninety days if the appeal be to the Sudder Court. The days shall be reckoned from and exclusive of the day on which judgment was pronounced, and also exclusive of such time as may be requisite for obtaining a copy of the decree appealed against.

What the memorandum is to contain.

334. The memorandum of appeal shall set forth concisely, and under distinct heads, the grounds of objection to the decision appealed against, without any argument or narrative, and such grounds shall be numbered consecutively. The appellant shall not without the leave of the Court urge or be heard in support of any other ground of objection, but the Court in deciding the appeal shall not be confined to the grounds set forth by the appellant.

Form of memorandum.

335. The memorandum of appeal shall be in the following form, or to the following effect, and shall be accompanied by a copy of the decree appealed against—

Memorandum of Appeal.

(Name, &c. as in Register.) Plaintiff.
(Name, &c. as in Register.) Defendant.

[Name of Appellant] Plaintiff [or Defendant] above-named appeals to the Sudder Court at [or Zillah Court at as the case may be], against the decree of in the above suit, dated the day of ; for the following reasons, namely, [here state the reasons.]

If memorandum be not in form or duly presented.

336. If the memorandum be not drawn up in the manner hereinbefore prescribed, the Court may reject it or may return it to the party for the purpose of being corrected. If the memorandum be not presented within the prescribed period and no sufficient cause be shown for the delay, the appeal shall be rejected.

One of several plaintiffs or defendants may appeal and obtain a reversal of the whole decree if it proceed on a ground common to all.

337. If there be two or more plaintiffs or two or more defendants in a suit, and the decision of the Lower Court proceed on any ground common to all, any one of the plaintiffs or defendants may appeal against the whole decree, and the Appellate Court may reverse or modify the decree in favor of all the plaintiffs or defendants.

OF STAYING AND EXECUTING DECREES UNDER APPEAL.

Execution of decree not to be stayed by appeal; but if sufficient cause be shown, execution may be stayed.

338. Execution of a decree shall not be stayed by reason only of an appeal having been preferred against such decree; but the Appellate Court may, for sufficient cause shown, order that execution be stayed. If application for execution be made before the time allowed for appeal has expired, and the Lower Court has not received intimation of an appeal having been preferred, the Lower Court, if sufficient cause be shown, may stay the execution. Before making an order to stay execution, the Court making the order shall require security to be given by the party against whom the decree was passed for the due performance of the decree or order of the Appellate Court.

Court, before making order to stay execution, shall require security for due performance of decree or order of Appellate Court.

Court making an order for execution of a decree against which an appeal has been preferred, may require security for restitution of property, &c.

339. When an order is made for the execution of a decree against which an appeal has been preferred, it shall be lawful for the Court which pronounced the decree to require security to be given for the restitution of any property which may be taken in execution of the decree or of the value thereof, and for the due performance of the decree or order of the Appellate Court.

No such security to be required from Government or any Public Officer.

340. In suits instituted or defended under the authority and at the expense of Government, no such security as is mentioned in the last two preceding Sections shall in any case be required from Government or from any public Officer.

OF PROCEDURE IN APPEALS FROM DECREES.

How the appeal is to be entered.

341. When a memorandum of appeal is presented in the prescribed form and within the time allowed, the Appellate Court, or the proper Officer of that Court, shall endorse thereon the date of presentment, and shall register the appeal in a book to be kept for the purpose, and called the Register of Appeals.

Form of the Register.

Such Register shall be in the form contained in the Schedule (C) hereunto annexed.

Appellate Court may, at its discretion, require security for costs from appellant.

342. It shall be in the discretion of the Appellate Court to demand security for costs from the appellant or not, as it shall see fit, before the respondent is called upon to appear and answer.

Proviso.

Provided that the Court shall demand such security in all cases in which the appellant is residing out of the British Territories in India and is not possessed of any land or other immoveable property within those territories independent of the property to which the appeal relates; and in the event of such security not being furnished at the time of presenting the memorandum of appeal or within such time as the Court shall order, the Court shall reject the appeal.

Appellate Court to send intimation to Lower Court of appeal being registered.

343. When the memorandum of appeal has been registered, the Appellate Court shall send intimation thereof to the Lower Court. If the appeal be from a Court the records of which are not deposited in the Appellate Court, the Lower Court shall, upon the receipt of the intimation, transmit to the Appellate Court with all practicable despatch all material papers in the suit, or such papers as may be specially called for by the Appellate Court. Either party may give notice in writing to the Lower Court specifying any exhibits of which he requires copies to be made and deposited in the Lower Court, and copies of such exhibits shall be prepared at the expense of the party giving the notice and shall be deposited in the Lower Court.

Either party may give notice of exhibits of which he requires copies to be made and deposited in the Lower Court.

344. A day shall be fixed by the Appellate Court for the hearing of the appeal. The day shall be so fixed, with reference to the place of residence of the respondent and the time necessary for the service of the notice of appeal, as to allow the respondent a sufficient time to enable him to appear in person or by a pleader on such day.

Day for hearing the appeal, how to be fixed.

345. Notice of the day which has been fixed for hearing the appeal shall be affixed in the Appellate Court, and a like notice shall be sent by the Appellate Court to the Lower Court and shall be served on the respondent in the same way as herein before provided for the service of a summons to a defendant to appear and answer, and all rules applicable to such summons and to proceedings with reference to the service thereof, shall apply to the service of such notice. The notice to the respondent shall contain an intimation that, if he does not appear in the Appellate Court on the day so fixed for the hearing of the appeal, the case will be heard and decided ex parte in his absence. Provided that, if the respondent has appointed a pleader to appear in his behalf in the Appellate Court, the service of the notice on such pleader shall be sufficient.

Publication and service of notice of the day fixed for hearing the appeal.

Form of notice.

346. If on the day fixed for hearing the appeal or any other day subsequent thereto to which the hearing of the appeal may be adjourned, the appellant shall not appear in person or by a pleader, the appeal shall be dismissed for default. If the appellant shall appear in person or by a pleader, and the respondent shall not appear in person or by a pleader, the appeal shall be heard ex parte in his absence.

Consequence of non-appearance.

347. If an appeal be dismissed for default of prosecution, the appellant may, within thirty days from the date of the dismissal, apply to the Appellate Court for the re-admission of the appeal; and if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the appellant was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the appeal was called on for hearing, the Court may re-admit the appeal.

Re-admission of appeals dismissed for default of prosecution.

348. Upon the hearing of the appeal, the respondent may take any objection to the decision of the Lower Court which he might have taken if he had preferred a separate appeal from such decision.

Respondent may object to decision of Lower Court in the same manner as if he had preferred a separate appeal.

349. The Appellate Court, after hearing the appeal, shall proceed to give its judgment in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for giving judgment in Courts of original jurisdiction.

The Appellate Court how to give judgment.

350. The judgment may be for confirming or reversing or modifying the decree of the Lower Court. But no decree shall be reversed or modified nor shall any case be remanded to the Lower Court on account of any error, defect, or irregularity either in the decision or in any interlocutory order passed in the suit not affecting the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court.

No decision to be reversed for irregularity.

351. If the Lower Court shall have disposed of the case upon any preliminary point so as to exclude any evidence of fact which shall appear to the Appellate Court essential to the rights of the parties, and the decree of the Lower Court upon such preliminary point shall be reversed by the decree in appeal, the Appellate Court may, if it think right, remand the case, together with a copy of the decree in appeal, to the Lower Court, with directions to restore the suit to its original number in the Register and proceed to investigate the merits of the case, and pass a decree therein.

When a case may be remanded by Appellate Court.

352. It shall not be competent to the Appellate Court to remand a case for a second decision by the Lower Court, except as provided in the last preceding Section.

Power to remand limited as above.

353. When the evidence upon the record of the Lower Court is sufficient to enable the Appellate Court to pronounce a satisfactory judgment, the Appellate Court shall finally determine the case, notwithstanding that the judgment of the Lower Court has proceeded wholly upon some other ground.

When the evidence is sufficient, the Appellate Court must determine the case though the Lower Court has decided on other grounds.

354. If the Lower Court shall have omitted to raise or try any issue or to determine any question of fact which shall appear to the Appellate Court essential to the right determination of the suit upon the merits, and the evidence upon the record is not sufficient to enable the Appellate Court to determine such issue or question of fact, the Appellate Court may frame an issue or issues for trial by the Lower Court and may refer the same to the Lower Court for trial. Thereupon the Lower Court shall proceed to try such issue or issues and shall return to the Appellate Court its finding thereon together with the evidence. Such finding and evidence shall become part of the record in the suit; and either party may, within a time to be fixed by the Appellate Court, file a memorandum of any objection to the finding; and after the expiration of the period so fixed, the Appellate Court shall proceed to determine the appeal.

Trial of issues by Lower Court on reference from Appellate Court.

355. It shall not be competent to the parties in an appeal to produce additional evidence in the Appellate Court, whether of exhibits or witnesses; but if it appear that the Lower

When the Appellate Court may call for fresh evidence.

Court refused to admit competent evidence, or if the Appellate Court require any exhibits to be produced or witnesses examined to enable it to pronounce a satisfactory judgment, or for any other substantial cause, the Appellate Court may allow additional exhibits to be received and any necessary witnesses to be examined, whether such witnesses shall have been previously examined in the Court below or not; provided that, whenever additional evidence is admitted by an Appellate Court, the reasons for the admission shall be recorded on the proceedings of such Court.

How additional evidence is to be taken.

356. Whenever additional evidence is permitted to be received, it shall be competent to the Appellate Court to take such evidence before itself, or to require the Lower or any other Court or to empower any person to take such evidence, and to transmit the evidence so taken to the Appellate Court. It shall also be competent to the Appellate Court to prescribe the manner in which such evidence shall be taken.

Points to be defined.

357. In all cases where additional evidence is permitted to be taken, the Appellate Court shall define the point or points to which the evidence is to be confined, and record the same on its proceedings.

Powers of Appellate Court.

358. The Appellate Court shall have all the like powers in regard to the granting of time, adjourning the hearing of the suit, examining the parties or their pleaders, and awarding costs, or otherwise, as are hereinbefore contained in regard to Courts of original jurisdiction.

Judgment of the Appellate Court. In what language it is to be written.

359. The judgment of the Appellate Court shall be pronounced in open Court. It shall contain the point or points for determination, the decision thereupon, and the reasons for the decision, and shall be dated and signed by the Judge or by the Judges concurring therein at the time of pronouncing it. The judgment shall be written in the English language; but if the Judge shall not be able to write an intelligible judgment in that language, the judgment shall be written in the vernacular language of the Judge. When the language in which the judgment is written is not the language in ordinary use in proceedings before the Court, the judgment shall be translated into such language, and the translation shall be signed by the Judge or Judges. Any Judge dissenting from the judgment of the Court shall state his opinion in writing, which shall form part of the record.

Dissent to be recorded.

What the decree is to contain.

360. The decree of the Appellate Court shall bear date the day on which the judgment was passed. It shall contain the number of the suit, the names and description of the parties appellant and respondent, and the memorandum of appeal, and shall specify clearly the relief granted or other determination of the appeal. It shall also state the amount of costs incurred in the appeal, and by what parties and in what proportions such costs and the costs in the original suit are to be paid. The decree shall be signed by the Judge or Judges who passed it and shall be sealed with the seal of the Court. If there be a difference of opinion among the Judges of the Court, it shall not be necessary for any Judge dissenting from the judgment of the Court to sign the decree, but the opinion of such Judge shall be recited in the decree. Certified copies of the decree shall be furnished to the parties in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in regard to the decrees of Courts of original jurisdiction.

A certified copy of the decree to be transmitted to the Lower Court.

361. A copy of the decree or other order disposing of the appeal, certified by the Appellate Court or the proper Officer of such Court, and sealed with the seal of the Court, shall be transmitted to the Court which passed the first decree in the suit appealed from, and shall be filed with the original proceedings in the suit, and an entry of the judgment of the Appellate Court shall be made in the original Register of the suit.

How to be executed.

362. Application for execution of the decree of an Appellate Court shall be made to the Court which passed the first decree in the suit, and shall be executed by that Court, in the manner and according to the rules hereinbefore contained for the execution of original decrees.

Appeals from Orders.

No appeal from order passed before decree, but error or defect therein may be set forth as an objection if the decree be appealed against.

363. No appeal shall lie from any order passed in the course of a suit and relating thereto prior to decree; but if the decree be appealed against, any error, defect, or irregularity in any such order affecting the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court, may be set forth as a ground of objection in the memorandum of appeal.

No appeal from order passed after decree and relating to the execution thereof except as provided.

364. No appeal shall lie from any order passed after decree and relating to the execution thereof except as is hereinbefore expressly provided.

Appeal from orders as to fines or imprisonment.

365. All orders as to fines or the levying thereof or as to imprisonment under this Act (except when the imprisonment is in execution of a decree) shall be subject to appeal.

Procedure in appeals from orders.

366. When an appeal from any order is allowed, the period for preferring the appeal and the procedure thereon shall be in all respects the same as in an appeal from a decree.

CHAPTER IX.

Of Appeals in Forma Pauperis.

Who may appeal as pauper.

367. Any party to a suit who may be unable to pay for the stamps required for the prosecution of an appeal from the decision passed therein, may be allowed to appeal as a pauper from such decision subject to all the rules contained in the last preceding Chapter and in Chapter V in so far as they are applicable.

368. The application to be allowed to appeal in formâ pauperis shall be written on a stamp paper of the value of one Rupee if the appeal lie to the District Court, and on a stamp paper of the value of two Rupees if the appeal lie to the Sudder Court, and shall be presented in the Appellate Court within the period allowed for the presentation of a memorandum of appeal.

Application to whom and when to be presented.

369. The application shall contain the particulars required to be set forth in the memorandum of appeal and shall be drawn up in the like manner. It shall have annexed to it a Schedule of any moveable or immoveable property belonging to the applicant with the estimated value thereof, and shall also be accompanied by copies of the judgment and decree from which the appeal is made.

Form of application.

370. If the Appellate Court, upon a perusal of the application and of the judgment and decree of the Court below, shall see no reason to think that the decision of that Court is contrary to law or to some usage having the force of law or is otherwise erroneous or unjust, it shall reject the application If the application be not rejected upon any of the grounds abovementioned, enquiry shall be made into the alleged pauperism of the applicant, and such enquiry may be conducted either by the Appellate Court or by the Court from whose decision the appeal is made under the orders of the Appellate Court. Provided that, if the applicant was allowed to sue in formâ pauperis in the Court below, no further enquiry in respect of his pauperism shall be necessary, unless the Appellate Court shall see special cause to direct such enquiry.

Procedure.

371. The order passed by the Appellate Court on an application to be allowed to appeal in formâ pauperis, whether for the admission or rejection of the application, shall be final; but, if the application be rejected, the Appellate Court may, if it think proper, allow the applicant a reasonable time for preferring an appeal on a stamp of the value prescribed for appeals from decrees.

Effect of order by Appellate Court.

CHAPTER X.

Of Special Appeals.

372. Unless otherwise provided by any law for the time being in force, a special appeal shall lie to the Sudder Court from all decisions passed in regular appeal by the Courts subordinate to the Sudder Court, on the ground of the decision being contrary to some law or usage having the force of law, or of a substantial error or defect in law in the procedure or investigation of the case which may have produced error or defect in the decision of the case upon the merits, and on no other ground.

Special appeals allowed on what grounds.

373. The application for the admission of a special appeal shall be presented in the Sudder Court within the period prescribed for the presentation of a memorandum of appeal, and shall be accompanied by copies of the judgments and decrees of the Lower Appellate Court and of the Court of first instance. The application shall be written on a stamp paper of the value prescribed for regular appeals; but if the applicant be unable to pay for the stamps required for the prosecution of the appeal, the Sudder Court may admit him to appeal as a pauper, subject to all the rules contained in Chapter IX in respect to appeals from decrees in formâ pauperis in so far as the same may be applicable.

Application to be presented to the Sudder Court.

374. The application shall set forth concisely the grounds of objection to the decision appealed against without argument or narrative, and such grounds shall be numbered consecutively. The applicant shall not, without the leave of the Court, be heard in support of any other ground of objection; but the determination of the Court may be upon any ground on which a special appeal would lie.

Form of application.

375. If the application be not drawn up in the manner hereinbefore prescribed, the Court may reject it or may return it to the party for the purpose of being corrected. When the application is correctly drawn up, it shall be registered in a book to be kept for that purpose. which shall be in the form contained in the Schedule D. hereunto annexed and the case shall proceed in all other respects as a regular appeal, and shall be subject to all the rules hereinbefore provided for such appeals so far as the same may be applicable.

Application how to be dealt with.

CHAPTER XI.

Review of Judgment.

376. Any person considering himself aggrieved by a decree of a Court of original jurisdiction, from which no appeal shall have been preferred to a Superior Court—or by a decree of a District Court in appeal, from which no special appeal shall have been admitted by the Sudder Court—or by a decree of the Sudder Court from which either no appeal may have been preferred to Her Majesty in Council, or an appeal having been preferred, no proceedings in the suit have been transmitted to Her Majesty in Council—and who from the discovery of new matter or evidence which was not within his knowledge, or could not be adduced by him at the time when such decree was passed, or from any other good and sufficient reason, may be desirous of obtaining a review of the judgment passed against him—may apply for a review of judgment by the Court which passed the decree.

Review of judgment.

On discovery of new evidence &c.

377. The application shall be made within ninety days from the date of the decree unless the party preferring the same shall be able to show just and reasonable cause, to the satisfaction of the Court, for not having preferred such application within the limited period. If the application be made within the period above-mentioned, it shall be written on the stamp paper prescribed for petitions to the Court where a stamp is required; but if made after the expiration of that period, it shall be written on the stamp paper prescribed for plaints.

Within what time and on what paper the application should be made.

The order of the Court for granting or refusing the review is final.

378. If the Court shall be of opinion that there are not any sufficient grounds for a review, it shall reject the application, but if it shall be of opinion that the review desired is necessary to correct an evident error or omission, or is otherwise requisite for the ends of justice, the Court shall grant the review, and its order in either case, whether for rejecting the application or granting the review, shall be final. Provided that no review of judgment shall be granted without previous notice to the opposite party to enable him to appear and be heard in support of the decree of which a review is solicited.

Proviso.

Application for a review in the Sudder Court must be made to the Judge or Judges that passed the decree.

379. If the Court to which the application for a review of its judgment has been presented by a Court consisting of two or more Judges, whenever the Judge or Judges who may have passed the decree, or if the decree have been passed by two or more Judges, when any of such Judges shall continue attached to the Court at the time when the application for a review is presented, and shall not be precluded by absence or other cause, for a period of six months after the application, from considering the judgment to which the application refers, it shall not be competent to any other Judge or Judges of the same Court to enter upon a consideration of the merits of the application, and record an order or opinion thereon.

Procedure on application for a review being granted.

380. When an application for a review of judgment is granted, a note thereof shall be made in the Register of Suits or appeals (as the case may be), and the Court shall give such order in regard to the re-hearing of the suit as it may deem proper in the circumstances of the case.

CHAPTER XII.

Miscellaneous.

Sudder Court empowered to make rules of practice &c., for the Subordinate Civil Courts.

381. The Sudder Court shall have power to make and issue general rules for regulating the practice and proceedings of the Subordinate Civil Courts, and also to frame forms for every proceeding in the said Courts for which it shall think necessary that a form be provided, and for keeping all books, entries, and accounts to be kept by the Officers, and from time to time to alter any such rule or form; provided that such rules and forms be not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act or of any other law in force.

Provided such rules are not inconsistent with this or any other law.

Act not to extend, except in certain cases, to Supreme and Presidency Small Cause Courts.

382. Except so far as relates to the examination of witnesses under Commission and to the execution of decrees out of the jurisdiction of the Courts by which they were passed, this Act shall not extend to any suit instituted in any Court of Judicature established by Royal Charter or in any Court for the more easy recovery of small debts and demands in Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay.

Saving of jurisdiction and procedure of Village Moonsiffs and Village or District Punchayets in Madras—

of Military Courts of Request—

of single Officers appointed to try small suits in Madras and Bombay.

Troops of those

and of Military Punchayets in Madras.

383. Nothing in this Act shall be held to alter or affect the jurisdiction or procedure in Civil cases of Village Moonsiffs or Village or District Punchayets under the provisions of the Madras Code; or the jurisdiction or procedure of Military Courts of Request; or the jurisdiction or procedure of a single Officer duly authorized and appointed under the rules in force in the Presidencies of Fort St. George and Bombay respectively, for the trial of small suits in Military Bazars at Cantonments and Stations occupied by the Presidencies respectively; or by Punchayets in regard to suits against Military persons, according to the rules in force under the Presidency of Fort St. George.

Saving of certain special or local Laws.

384. Nothing in this Act shall be held to affect the jurisdiction exercised by certain Jagheerdars and other authorities invested with powers under the provisions of Regulation XIII. 1830 of the Bombay Code (for vesting certain Jagheerdars, Surinjameedars, and Enamdars with the power of deciding suits within the boundaries of their respective estates) and Act XV of 1840 (for extending Regulations XV. 1827 and XIII. 1830 of the Bombay Code to the Agents of Foreign Sovereigns), or their procedure in the exercise of such jurisdiction; or to affect suits instituted under Regulation XI. 1816 of the Bengal Code (for receiving, trying, and deciding claims to the right of inheritance or succession in certain Tributary estates in Zillah Cuttack), or cases of the nature defined in Regulation XXIX. 1827 (for bringing under the operation of the Regulations the Bombay Territories in the Dekkan and Khandesh), Regulation VII. 1830 (for bringing under the operation of the Regulations the Territories comprised in the Southern Mahratta Country), Regulations I and XVI. 1831 of the Bombay Code (for extending the jurisdiction of the Agent of Government in the Dekkan and Khandesh and of the Political Agent in the Southern Mahratta Country over suits in which certain privileged persons are concerned), Act XIX of 1835 (relating to the jurisdiction and authority of the Assistant to the Agent for Sirdars in the Dekkan), and Act XIII of 1842 (to enable the holders of revenue which has been alienated to them by the state to collect that revenue within the Presidency of Bombay), except that such suits and cases and the regular and special appeals to the Civil Courts allowed therein, shall be received, heard, and determined under the rules laid down in this Act, unless where those rules are inconsistent with any specific provisions contained in the Regulations and Acts above quoted.

385. This Act shall not take effect in any part of the territories not subject to the general Regulations of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, until the same shall be extended thereto by the Governor General of India in Council or by the Local Government to which such territory is subordinate, and notified in the Gazette.

Act not to take effect in places not subject to the general Regulations until extended thereto.

386. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction (that to is say)—

Interpretation.

Words importing the singular number shall include the plural number, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular number.

Number.

Words importing the masculine gender shall include females.

Gender.

The local jurisdiction of a Principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction shall be deemed a District for the purposes of this Act; and the words "District Court" shall mean such Court.

"District."

"District Court."

In any part of the British territories in India to which this Act may be extended under the provisions of Section 385, the expression "Sudder Court" shall be deemed to include the highest Civil Court of Appeal in such part of the said territories.

"Sudder Court."

387. This Act shall come into operation in the Presidency of Bengal from the 1st day of July 1859 and in the Presidencies of Madras and Bombay from the 1st day of January 1860 or from such earlier day as the Local Government in those Presidencies respectively shall fix and shall publicly notify in the Gazette of the Presidency three months at least before the date so fixed. But if in any suit pending at the time when this Act shall come into operation it shall appear to the Court that the application of any provision of this Act would deprive any party to the suit of any right in reference to the procedure of the suit, whether of appeal or otherwise, which but for the passing of this Act would have belonged to him, the Court shall proceed according to the law in force before this Act takes effect.

Commencement of operation of Act.

Pending suits.

388. From and after the time when this Act shall come into operation in any part of the British territories in India, the procedure of the Civil Courts in such part of the said territories shall be regulated by this Act, and except as otherwise provided by this Act, by no other Law or Regulation.

Where Act comes into operation, procedure of Civil Courts to be regulated by it only.

W. Morgan,
Clerk of the Council.

THE 2ND APRIL 1859.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 26th March 1859, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 6th of June next :—

A Bill to regulate the appointment, employment, and dismissal of Village Watchmen in the Territories under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to regulate by enactment the administration of the rural police ; It is enacted as follows :—

Number of village watchmen.

I. In default of any special rule or custom, the requisite number of village watchmen shall be held to be one watchman for every hundred houses. Where villages are small and scattered so that one man cannot watch one hundred houses, the number of watchmen relatively with the number of houses may be increased by the Magistrate with the approval of the Commissioner ; provided always that a watchman shall not be appointed to fewer than sixty houses.

Nomination of village watchmen.

II. The nomination of village watchmen shall rest with those who have heretofore nominated them, whether Zemindars, Gomastahs, or village headmen, or villagers. If they fail to nominate on the requisition of the Magistrate, or if their nomination shall be disapproved by the Magistrate, and shall not be cancelled on requisition by the Magistrate, the Magistrate shall nominate, and his nomination shall be final.

Responsibility of appointing or paying watchmen, if disputed, by whom to be determined.

III. If it be disputed with whom the responsibility of appointing, or of paying a village watchman lies, the Magistrate, after hearing all the parties concerned, shall determine. The decision of the Magistrate shall be open to appeal within thirty days to the Commissioner, whose decision shall be final.

Remuneration of watchmen.

IV. The proper pay of a village watchman shall be held to be not more than five, and not less than three Rupees per mensem. Whatever has been the nature of the remuneration of a watchman, whether by land, or money, or clothes, or grain, the nature of such remuneration shall not be changed without the consent of the payers, but the Magistrate shall encourage payment in money, and whatever the nature of the remuneration, the total value of the same shall not be less than three Rupees per mensem for each watchman.

If remuneration falls short of three Rupees per mensem.

V. If the sum hitherto paid by the inhabitants of a watchman's beat does not amount to three Rupees per mensem, the Magistrate may cause the parties responsible to make good that sum, or may amalgamate such watchman's beat with the beat of another watchman or other watchmen, and make the pay of the watchman dispensed with payable to such other watchman or to such other watchmen in such portions as may appear proper. The decisions of a Magistrate under this Section shall not be appealable by right to the Commissioner, but the Commissioner shall have authority to call for the Magistrate's proceedings in any such cases in which he may see cause to interfere, and to pass such orders as he may deem proper.

Punchayet.

VI. In places where the village watchmen are paid by the inhabitants, circles of villages shall be formed comprising about one thousand houses, and in every circle there shall be a Punchayet of five respectable persons, to be elected every third year by the inhabitants. If any member of a Punchayet shall die, or resign, or become disqualified, his place shall be filled up by the election of another person by the inhabitants.

Assessment of cess.

VII. The Punchayet shall determine the cess necessary for the payment of the village watchmen, and shall cause a statement of the sum payable by each inhabitant to be prepared and forwarded to the Thannah where it shall be hung up in a conspicuous place for fifteen days. Any party dissatisfied with the assessment imposed on him may appeal to the Magistrate whose order shall be final.

Collection of tax.

VIII. Clause 1. The Punchayet shall collect the tax monthly, and pay it to the watchmen, and forward their receipts to the Darogah If any party fail to pay the tax assessed on him for the period of two months, the Punchayet shall, through the Darogah, report the defaulter to the Magistrate. The Magistrate shall issue a summons to the defaulter to appear in person before him, and show cause why attachment should not issue. Should the party fail to appear, or appearing, fail to show good cause for not paying the arrear, the Magistrate shall, by warrant to the Darogah of Police to whom such watchman may be subordinate, cause the amount due, with costs, to be recovered by distress and sale of any goods and chattels belonging to or found on the premises of the defaulter.

If defaulter be an absentee land holder.

Clause 2. Or if, by reason of the defaulter being an absentee land-holder, the realization of the arrear by means of summons and attachment is impracticable, it shall be competent to the Magistrate to call on the Collector to levy the arrear, and the Collector shall levy the sum called for by the Magistrate as he would levy an arrear of revenue due by such absentee land-holder. There shall be no appeal of right from the orders of a Magistrate under this Section, but they shall be subject to the review of the Commissioner as provided for in Section V.

Appointment of one or more watchmen may in certain cases be dispensed with.

IX. It shall be lawful for a Magistrate, when he may consider it conducive to the efficiency of the Police, to dispense with the appointment of one or more watchmen, and to cause the money leviable as the pay of the watchman or watchmen dispensed with to be paid to another watchman with a view to the increase of the pay of such watchman, and to his appointment as a head watchman.

X. It shall be lawful for a Magistrate, whenever he may consider it needful to collect the watchmen of several contiguous villages or beats in order to the establishment of a watch-post, and to make one of the watchmen so collected head of the watch-post, and to place several contiguous villages or beats under such head watchman, and to make such head watchman and the watchmen placed under him, answerable for the peace of all the villages or beats included in the tract of country under such watch-post.

Magistrate may collect watchmen of several villages to form a watch-post.

XI. Should the parties responsible for the appointment of a watchman desire the removal of an incumbent, and the appointment of a another watchman in his place, they shall apply to the Magistrate, either through the Darogah of Police, or direct, and the Magistrate shall comply with their request, or reject the application, as he may think proper, and his order shall be final. It shall be competent to a Magistrate, whenever he may think it necessary, to dismiss a village watchman from employment, and to direct the parties responsible, to appoint another watchman in the room of the watchman dismissed, and his order shall be final.

Removal of watchmen.

XII. Any village watchman who may be convicted before a Magistrate of any wilful neglect or misconduct in the discharge of his duty as a Police Officer, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty Rupees, or to imprisonment with or without hard labor for a period not exceeding one month, or to both, provided that he shall not be so liable if he shall have been punished for the same act as a criminal offence. Provided further that punishment for neglect shall not bar prosecution for a criminal offence should it be found that a village watchman, besides neglecting his duty as a watchman, has committed a criminal offence.

Punishment for watchmen guilty of neglect or misconduct.

XIII. It shall be lawful for a Magistrate to cause such a percentage from the aggregate sum collected for the pay of watchmen as shall suffice to pay the Officers necessary to make the collections, conduct the disbursements, and keep the accounts, to be set apart for that purpose.

Renumeration of collecting Officers.

XIV. It shall be lawful for the Magistrate to assign any of his duties under this Act to a Joint, or Deputy, or Assistant Magistrate.

Magistrate may assign any of his duties under this Act to a Joint, Deputy, or Assistant Magistrate.

XV. It shall be lawful for the Government of Bengal, to appoint a Commissioner or Commissioners for settling the liabilities of landowners, headmen, villagers, &c., in respect to the appointment of village watchmen under this Act, and to vest such Commissioner or Commissioners with the powers of a Magistrate in that behalf Military. No. 58.

To His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council.

My Lord,

Great difficulty having been experienced in dealing with claims advanced by Officers of short periods of service to retire on half pay under the clause of the Retiring Regulations established by the late Court of Directors of the East India Company, by their Despatch to the Governor General of India, dated 11th May 1836, No. 3, as quoted in the margin, I have resolved with the concurrence of the Council of India to recommend to Her Majesty the substitution of the following modified Rule, which Her Majesty has been pleased to sanction:—

"Officers who are compelled to quit "the service by wounds received in "action or by ill health contracted "on duty after three years' service "in India, are permitted to retire on "the half pay of their Rank, viz:— "2nd Lieutenants, Cornets or "Ensigns 3s. a day, Lieutenants 4s."

"Officers on producing the prescribed Medical "Certificates, countersigned by the Commanding "Officer, that they are compelled to quit the ser- "vice by wounds received in action, or by ill-health, "contracted on active service, or on Detachment "or out-post, or any Military duty in notoriously "unhealthy localities, after three years' service in "India, are permitted to retire on the half pay "of their Rank."

I have, &c.,
(Signed) Stanley.

No. 257.

Notice.

TENDERS for the transportation of Salt from the Central and Southern Agencies of Orissa, to the Government Golahs at Sulkea, will be received at this Office until 2 P. M., of the 17th of May next.

2. The Tenders must be drawn up according to a form which may be obtained on application at this Office.

3. Distinct contracts must be entered into for the removal of the Salt in each of the three following localities, to wit Hunsoah (in Central Cuttack) and the Ustrung Aurungs and the Chilka Lake Aurungs, in the Southern or Poorie Agency.

4. Parties tendering must satisfy the Board of Revenue and the Commissioner of Cuttack, that they possess the means of conveying the full quantity of Salt tendered for, and with this object a list of the vessels intended to be employed must accompany each Tender.

5. The quantity of Salt to be shipped at the Hunsoah Golahs will probably not exceed 1,00,000 maunds in each year; that from the Ustrungs is roughly estimated at 80,000 maunds for the ensuing season, and that from the Chilka Aurungs at maunds 3,20,000. The tenderer may apply for the whole quantity for which freight is required at each locality, or for any part not less than a quarter of such quantity.

6. Contractors must engage to ship the Salt allotted to them, during the period between the last spring tides of October and the end of February.

7. Parties whose tenders are accepted will be required to make a deposit of Government Promissory Notes, or to furnish other unexceptionable Security for the performance of their contracts.

8. The Board reserve to themselves the right of rejecting any Tender without assigning a reason.

By order of the Board of Revenue,

E. T. TREVOR,
Secretary.

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF THE POST IN INDIA,
January 1st 1859.

THE following Conditions are to be observed in sending Book-Packets by Post:—

1*st*.—The Postage must be pre-paid in full, by means of Postage Stamps affixed outside the Packet on its cover.

2*nd*.—Every Packet must be sent either without a cover, or in a cover open at the ends or sides, so as to admit of the enclosures being removed for examination.

3*rd*.—The Packet may contain any number of separate books or other publications, prints, or maps, and any quantity of paper, parchment or vellum (to the exclusion, however, of letters whether sealed or open) and the books or other publications, prints, maps, &c., may be either printed, written or plain, or any mixture of the three. Further, all legitimate binding, mounting, or covering of a book, publication, &c., or of a portion thereof, will be allowed, whether such binding, &c. be loose or attached; as also rollers in the case of prints or maps, markers (whether of paper or otherwise) in the case of books; and in short whatever is necessary for the safe transmission of literary or artistic matter or usually appertains thereto.

4*th*.—The Packet must not contain any letter, closed or open, or any enclosure sealed or otherwise closed against inspection, nor must there be any letter, or any communication of the nature of a letter, written or printed in any such Packet or on its cover. Entries, however, merely stating who sends the book, &c., or to whom it is given, are not regarded as a letter.

5*th*.—No Book-Packet can be received if it exceeds two feet in length, width, or depth.

6*th*.—Any Packet which shall not be open at the ends or sides, or shall have any letter or any communication of the nature of a letter written or printed in it or upon its cover will be charged with Letter Postage.

7*th*.—If a Packet be found to contain any letter, whether closed or open, or any enclosure sealed or otherwise closed against inspection, or any other unauthorized enclosure, the letter or enclosure will be taken out and forwarded to the address on the Packet, charged with full Postage as an unpaid letter together with an additional Book-rate; that is, with the Postage chargeable on a Book weighing not more than half a lb the remainder of the Packet, if duly pre-paid with Stamps, will then be forwarded to its address.

8*th*.—If a Packet be not sufficiently pre-paid with Stamps but nevertheless bear Stamps equal to a single Book-rate, it will be forwarded charged with the deficient Book-Postage together with an additional Book-rate; but any Packet which shall not bear Postage Stamps equal to a single Book-rate will be detained and charged with the Letter Postage.

9*th*.—No Book-Packet weighing more than three lbs can be sent to or from the East Indies or to New South Wales.

10*th*.—The Colonial Book-Post extends to those Colonies only which are so marked in the Table of Colonial and Foreign Postage.

11*th*.—In no case can a Book-Packet be sent to the Colonies (except at the letter rate of Postage,) through a Foreign Country.

Special Notice is directed to the subjoined Clauses of Rules, the want of attention to which has occasioned the Post Office much inconvenience.

2*nd*.—A separate instruction will be required for every change of address, and no instruction will be attended to for more than three months after its receipt.

3*rd*.—Under Section XXIII. of Act XVII. of 1854, Forward Postage will be charged in addition to all other Postage due or paid thereon upon every letter without exception, which may be re-directed in any Post Office. For example, if a letter posted in Calcutta and addressed to Hooghly is, under instructions which may have been received from the addressee, re-directed in the Calcutta Post Office and sent to Barrackpore, Forward Postage will be charged in addition to the Postage which would have been due, had the letter been despatched to Hooghly according to its original address.

4*th*.—The practice of giving instructions to the Officers of the Post Office to intercept and re-direct letters, not only imposes much labor upon them, but in large Offices seriously retards the delivery and despatch of the Mails. A register of instructions regarding changes of address will be kept in every Post Office, but it must be understood, that it is impossible to guarantee that they shall be attended to, except in the case of letters received for delivery.

The Railway Trains leave Howrah, at 9-20 A. M. daily (Sundays excepted.) Letters and Papers are sent to Bally, Coonnughur, Barrackpore, Serampore, Chandernagore, Hooghly, Burdwan, Bood Bood, Pundooah, Panaghur, Soorool, Raneegunge, Bancoorah, Beerbhoom, Bousee and Nyadoomka. By the 5-40 P. M. Train, Mails for Bally, Coonnughur, Barrackpore, Serampore, Chandernagore, Hooghly and Pundooah are again made up and despatched. By the Express Mail Train which leaves Howrah at 8-45 P. M. the above Packets are also made up and forwarded, together with Mails for the North-Western Provinces and Gya, Ghazeepore, and Bombay Lines.

Noon Despatch for Serampore and Barrackpore are also made up and forwarded by Runners, and at 1 P. M. a Mail for Dum-Dum is made up and forwarded in a similar manner.

Letters, &c., posted at the Thannahs, Pillar Boxes, and the several Receiving Houses up to 1 P. M. will reach the General Post Office in time for Train Despatch at 4 P. M.

The Receiving Houses are opened daily from 9½ A. M. to 4 P. M.

Letters posted at the Receiving Houses and Pillar Boxes for delivery at Calcutta before 9 A. M. will be sent out by the second delivery, those posted before 1 P. M. will be sent out by the third delivery and after that hour the delivery will take place the following morning.

There is only one delivery of letters at the General Post Office on Sundays, and Banghy Parcels are neither received nor despatched on that day.

Letters and Newspapers despatched to and from the United Kingdom by private Vessels are liable to the following rates of Postage which must be pre-paid by Stamps:—

	Rs.	As.	Pie.
Letters not exceeding ½ oz. in weight	0	4	0
Ditto exceeding ½ oz. but not exceeding 1 oz.	0	8	0

And so on adding 8 annas for each oz. or fraction thereof which includes Inland Postage.

Newspapers not exceeding 4 oz. in weight, 1*d*. or 9 pie must be pre-paid in cash, and no Inland Postage is required upon such papers.

Parcels conveyed by the above opportunity for the United Kingdom are liable to Letter rates of Postage.

Notice.

The following Extract of an Order of the Government of India, No. 884, of the 13th July 1855.

"No Public Officer is authorized to send Covers on the Public Service by Post, without payment of Postage, unless he is at the time on active duty and in charge of the Office by virtue of which the privilege is enjoyed. All letters superscribed as 'on the Public Service only' must, even though the Postage thereon be not paid, be received and opened by the Officer to whom they are addressed, but if any such, or partially paid letter so superscribed, and addressed to any Officer except a Secretary to Government be found when opened, to relate to the private affairs of the Sender, the Postage will be debited to him and he will be further liable to be dealt with under Section XLVII. Act No. XVII. of 1854.

His Honor in Council further directs that unpaid or insufficiently paid letters addressed to any such Officer or Department and not superscribed 'on the Public Service only' be refused, or if opened that it be at the risk and cost of the opener."

IRON Pillar Letter Boxes have been placed in the following localities:—

Rada Bazar, Bonded Ware-house, Wellington Square, Mangoe Lane, Park Street, Gowkhannah, Scott Thomson's, General Treasury, Prinsep's Ghaut, Fort near Main Guard, Watgunge, Salt Golah Ghaut, Matia Poruze, Ballygunge, General Hospital, Theatre Road, Strand Flour Mills, Prossono Coomar's Ghaut, College Square and Chitpore Road, and are opened three times a day at 9 A. M., 1 and 4 P. M.

Letters, &c., intended for Calcutta posted in the above Box up to 9 A. M. and 1 P. M. will be brought in time for the second and third deliveries respectively, and those dropped into the Box after 1 P. M. and up to 4 P. M. will be distributed the next morning at the first delivery.

Letters, &c., intended for the Train Mail, found in the Pillar Box at 9 A. M. and 1 P. M. will arrive in time for 4 P. M. Despatch, and those posted after the last mentioned hour and up to 5 P. M. will be forwarded by the Express Mail Train at 8-45 P. M.

Letters, &c., for Eastern and Southern routes posted up to 5 P. M. will be forwarded to their destination at 8 P. M.

On Sundays, the Letter Box will be cleared twice, viz., 12 noon and 4 P. M., and letters, &c., posted after the latter hour will be brought to the Calcutta Post Office the following morning.

LETTERS arriving at the Presidency Towns, by Mail Steamers will be immediately sorted for delivery according to the address alone, without any reference to instructions which may have been received regarding change of address; such changes will be left to be discovered by the Delivery Officers, and be corrected in the forward and unclaimed Departments of the Office.

Forward Postage will be charged in addition to all other Postage due or paid thereon, upon every letter, without exception, which may be re-directed in the Post Office.

Letters, &c., received by the Steamer will be delivered at the Window of the Post Office only to parties who have registered their names. Applications to the Post Office on the day of the Steamer's arrival to intercept and re-direct letters, &c., cannot be attended to, as they are found not only to impose much labour but seriously retard the delivery and despatch of the Mails.

ALL Banghy Parcels being registered before despatch it is needless to have a Banghy Parcel specially registered by payment of the Fee of 4 annas as no additional precaution can be taken of a specially Registered Parcel which is not taken in the case of every ordinary Banghy Parcel.

UNDER the orders of Government, no fourth delivery of letters by the Post Office is allowed. Mails which are received by Steamers from Suez at so late an hour in the day as not to admit of the letters being taken out for delivery by 6 P. M. are detained till the following morning, but parties who have registered their names under the usual fee, are entitled to receive their letters, and Marseilles Newspapers so soon as the Mails are sorted, and which is generally about 2½ hours after receipt of the Mail at the Post Office.

A NUMBER of Letters and Newspapers for parties residing at Calcutta are from their being directed to the Suburbs* of the Town, mistaken for places in the Mofussil, and are enclosed in the Boxes superscribed "Inland" by the London Post Office and are not in consequence discovered by the Calcutta Post Office, till after the local delivery has taken place. This will account for some of the letters, &c., reaching the Addressees at a late hour.

* Kidderpore. Alipore. Belvidere. Bhowanipore. Simlah. Mirzapore. Cossipore. Chitpore. Garden Reach.

THE exemption allowed to Officers with the Army from the charge of Forward Postage on re-directed letters has been continued by the Governor General "until further orders."

Forward Newspapers.—Extra or Forward Postage is chargeable on every Newspaper re-directed at the Post Office of original address and forwarded to another Post Office.

Replies to Petitions.—The receipt at all District Post Offices of Bearing Letters superscribed "Replies to Petitions" and franked by any Public Officer is authorized.

MAILS for Akyab, Rangoon and Moulmein are made up on the 3rd and 19th of each month, for transmission by the Contract Steamers or by Government Vessels, which sail on the morning of the 4th and 20th, unless the Contractors choose to postpone the departure for 48 hours, of which they have the power on making a requisition.

THE following additions have been made by Government to the List No. 1.:—

The Assistant Presidency Pay Master.

The Assistant Superintendent of Marine at Madras.

The arrangements for the Despatch of the Indian Mails will hereafter be as follows:—

NOTIFICATION.

Fort William, Military Department.

THE 8TH APRIL 1859.

HER MAJESTY'S 84th Regiment of Infantry will embark to-day from Calcutta on their return to England.

Of all the Regiments of the Royal Army which in 1857 were drawn to Bengal from distant Stations, the 84th is that which was first in the Field.

The good work of this Regiment is recorded in many Gazettes, from the first outbreak of Mutiny, through the Capture of Lucknow, and finally in the arduous and exhausting Campaign of Behar during the Summer of last year.

The Governor-General in Council requests the Officers and Men of Her Majesty's 84th Regiment to accept his best Thanks for their valuable and protracted Service, and he cordially congratulates them upon having closed their career of seventeen years in India with marked Distinction and Honor.

The 84th Regiment will be saluted from the Battery of Fort William upon leaving Calcutta.

By Order of His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council,

R. J. H. BIRCH, MAJOR-GENERAL,
Secretary to the Government of India.

Legislative Council of India.

THE 2ND APRIL 1859.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 26th March 1859, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 6th of June next :—

A Bill to regulate the appointment, employment, and dismissal of Village Watchmen in the Territories under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

Preamble. WHEREAS it is expedient to regulate by enactment the administration of the rural police; It is enacted as follows :—

Number of village watchmen. I. In default of any special rule or custom, the requisite number of village watchmen shall be held to be one watchman for every hundred houses. Where villages are small and scattered so that one man cannot watch one hundred houses, the number of watchmen relatively with the number of houses may be increased by the Magistrate with the approval of the Commissioner; provided always that a watchman shall not be appointed to fewer than sixty houses.

Nomination of village watchmen. II. The nomination of village watchmen shall rest with those who have heretofore nominated them, whether Zemindars, Gomastahs, or village headmen, or villagers. If they fail to nominate on the requisition of the Magistrate, or if their nomination shall be disapproved by the Magistrate, and shall not be cancelled on requisition by the Magistrate, the Magistrate shall nominate, and his nomination shall be final.

Responsibility of appointing or paying watchmen, if disputed, by whom to be determined. III. If it be disputed with whom the responsibility of appointing, or of paying a village watchman lies, the Magistrate, after hearing all the parties concerned, shall determine. The decision of the Magistrate shall be open to appeal within thirty days to the Commissioner, whose decision shall be final.

Remuneration of watchmen. IV. The proper pay of a village watchman shall be held to be not more than five, and not less than three Rupees per mensem. Whatever has been the nature of the remuneration of a watchman, whether by land, or money, or clothes, or grain, the nature of such remuneration shall not be changed without the consent of the payers, but the Magistrate shall encourage payment in money, and whatever the nature of the remuneration, the total value of the same shall not be less than three Rupees per mensem for each watchman.

If remuneration falls short of three Rupees per mensem. V. If the sum hitherto paid by the inhabitants of a watchman's beat does not amount to three Rupees per mensem, the Magistrate may cause the parties responsible to make good that sum, or may amalgamate such watchman's beat with the beat of another watchman or other watchmen, and make the pay of the watchman dispensed with payable to such other watchman or to such other watchmen in such portions as may appear proper. The decisions of a Magistrate under this Section shall not be appealable by right to the Commissioner, but the Commissioner shall have authority to call for the Magistrate's proceedings in any such cases in which he may see cause to interfere, and to pass such orders as he may deem proper.

Punchayet. VI. In places where the village watchmen are paid by the inhabitants, circles of villages shall be formed comprising about one thousand houses, and in every circle there shall be a Punchayet of five respectable persons, to be elected every third year by the inhabitants. If any member of a Punchayet shall die, or resign, or become disqualified, his place shall be filled up by the election of another person by the inhabitants.

Assessment of cess. VII. The Punchayet shall determine the cess necessary for the payment of the village watchmen, and shall cause a statement of the sum payable by each inhabitant to be prepared and forwarded to the Thannah where it shall be hung up in a conspicuous place for fifteen days. Any party dissatisfied with the assessment imposed on him may appeal to the Magistrate whose order shall be final.

Collection of tax.

VIII. Clause 1. The Punchayet shall collect the tax monthly, and pay it to the watchmen, and forward their receipts to the Darogah. If any party fail to pay the tax assessed on him for the period of two months, the Punchayet shall, through the Darogah, report the defaulter to the Magistrate. The Magistrate shall issue a summons to the defaulter to appear in person before him, and show cause why attachment should not issue. Should the party fail to appear, or appearing, fail to show good cause for not paying the arrear, the Magistrate shall, by warrant to the Darogah of Police to whom such watchman may be subordinate, cause the amount due, with costs, to be recovered by distress and sale of any goods and chattels belonging to or found on the premises of the defaulter.

If defaulter be an absentee land-holder.

Clause 2. Or if, by reason of the defaulter being an absentee land-holder, the realization of the arrear by means of summons and attachment is impracticable, it shall be competent to the Magistrate to call on the Collector to levy the arrear, and the Collector shall levy the sum called for by the Magistrate as he would levy an arrear of revenue due by such absentee land-holder. There shall be no appeal of right from the orders of a Magistrate under this Section, but they shall be subject to the review of the Commissioner as provided for in Section V.

Appointment of one or more watchmen may in certain cases be dispensed with.

IX. It shall be lawful for a Magistrate, when he may consider it conducive to the efficiency of the Police, to dispense with the appointment of one or more watchmen, and to cause the money leviable as the pay of the watchman or watchmen dispensed with to be paid to another watchman with a view to the increase of the pay of such watchman, and to his appointment as a head watchman.

Magistrate may collect watchmen of several villages to form a watch-post.

X. It shall be lawful for a Magistrate, whenever he may consider it needful to collect the watchmen of several contiguous villages or beats in order to the establishment of a watch-post, and to make one of the watchmen so collected head of the watch-post, and to place several contiguous villages or beats under such head watchman, and to make such head watchman and the watchmen placed under him, answerable for the peace of all the villages or beats included in the tract of country under such watch-post.

Removal of watchmen.

XI. Should the parties responsible for the appointment of a watchman desire the removal of an incumbent, and the appointment of a another watchman in his place, they shall apply to the Magistrate, either through the Darogah of Police, or direct, and the Magistrate shall comply with their request, or reject the application, as he may think proper, and his order shall be final. It shall be competent to a Magistrate, whenever he may think it necessary, to dismiss a village watchman from employment, and to direct the parties responsible, to appoint another watchman in the room of the watchman dismissed, and his order shall be final.

Punishment for watchmen guilty of neglect or misconduct.

XII. Any village watchman who may be convicted before a Magistrate of any wilful neglect or misconduct in the discharge of his duty as a Police Officer, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty Rupees, or to imprisonment with or without hard labor for a period not exceeding one month, or to both, provided that he shall not be so liable if he shall have been punished for the same act as a criminal offence. Provided further that punishment for neglect shall not bar prosecution for a criminal offence should it be found that a village watchman, besides neglecting his duty as a watchman, has committed a criminal offence.

Renumeration of collecting Officers.

XIII. It shall be lawful for a Magistrate to cause such a percentage from the aggregate sum collected for the pay of watchmen as shall suffice to pay the Officers necessary to make the collections, conduct the disbursements, and keep the accounts, to be set apart for that purpose.

Magistrate may assign any of his duties under this Act to a Joint, Deputy, or Assistant Magistrate.

XIV. It shall be lawful for the Magistrate to assign any of his duties under this Act to a Joint, or Deputy, or Assistant Magistrate.

Appointment of Commissioners.

XV. It shall be lawful for the Government of Bengal, to appoint a Commissioner or Commissioners for settling the liabilities of landowners, headmen, villagers, &c., in respect to the appointment of village watchmen under this Act, and to vest such Commissioner or Commissioners with the powers of a Magistrate in that behalf.

Fort William, the 4th April 1859.

Notifications.—The following Ordinance No. 30 of 1858, enacted by the Legislature of the Colony of Mauritius on the 20th October last, and the Regulations made by the Governor of the said Colony in Council, in pursuance of the aforesaid Ordinance, are published for general information :—

ORDINANCE No. 30 OF 1858.

ENACTED by the Governor of Mauritius, with the advice and consent of the Council of Government thereof.

W. STEVENSON.

AN ORDINANCE to legalize Contracts of Service made in India, and authorize Government to allot Newly Arrived Immigrants.

(20th October 1858.)

WHEREAS it is expedient to legalize Contracts of Service to be entered into in India with Immigrants to Mauritius;

And whereas it is also expedient to enable the Government of Mauritius to allot to employers

Indian Immigrants newly arrived in Mauritius who shall not have entered into such Contracts; Be it therefore enacted by His Excellency the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Council of Government, as follows:

Contracts of Service in India legalized.

I.—From and after the date when this Ordinance shall come into operation, Contracts of Service to be performed in Mauritius for periods not exceeding three years may be lawfully entered into in India between Immigrants from India to Mauritius and persons residing or having landed property in the Colony, provided that such Contracts shall be entered into in the manner prescribed by this Ordinance, and by any Regulations to be made and published as hereinafter provided.

Such Contracts valid if made according to law.

II. Every such Contract of Service entered into in terms of this Ordinance and of the said Regulations, shall be equally valid and effectual (except as hereinafter provided) as if it had been entered into in Mauritius, according to the law and practice existing there at the date of such Contract.

Employer to pay passage money, &c.

III.—In every case in which a passage to Mauritius shall have been taken for any Immigrant, who shall have entered into a Contract as hereinaforesaid, the party whom such Immigrant shall have engaged to serve, shall pay to the Government of Mauritius the passage money and all other expenses which may be incurred on account of such Immigrant, together with the proportional expense chargeable upon him on account of females accompanying Immigrants, under Regulations existing at the time.

Arrival of engaged Immigrants to be published.

IV.—The arrival at the Immigration Depôt in Mauritius of every Immigrant who shall have entered into a Contract in India, as aforesaid, shall, as soon as possible, be published or notified to the intended employer under such Contract, in terms of the Regulations to be framed under this Ordinance.

Immigrant engaged in India to be free from stamp-duty for Contract with first employer.

V.—Every Immigrant who shall have made a Contract in India, as aforesaid, and who shall enter on service with the original or substituted employer under the same, shall be free from stamp duty or other impost on account of the same or any subsequent Contract of Service which he may make with such employer or those in his right.

Employer may release Immigrant from Contract.

It shall also be in the power of such employer or those in his right so long as the Immigrant shall remain in his or their service, with the consent of such Immigrant to release him from all obligation to serve under the said Contract made in India; and every such Immigrant if released in the form to be prescribed by regulation, shall be free from the said Contract, and from all obligation of industrial residence or otherwise under the same.

If not re-engaging to be subject to stamp duty, or to buy up industrial residence.

VI.—If such Immigrant shall at the termination of his said Contract of Service, refuse to re-engage with the employer under the same, he shall either enter into a Contract of Service with another employer or other employers successively, subject to a stamp duty of £1-12-0 per annum, to be paid by such new employer or employers for the time required to complete the Immigrant's full term of five years industrial residence in the Colony: Or if he shall desire to redeem the residue of his industrial residence, he shall pay to the Colonial Treasury a sum at the said rate of £1-12-0 per annum for every year or part thereof remaining unexpired of his said term of industrial residence.

Such amount to be paid to first employer.

VII.—Any sums which may be recovered by Government under the preceding Article shall in each case be paid on demand to the employer under the said first mentioned Contract, or to those in his right, upon sufficient evidence to be by them produced of the right to receive the same.

Magistrate may cancel Contracts made in India.

VIII.—Nothing contained in the preceding articles shall be held to prevent or restrict the power of the Magistrate having jurisdiction therein, upon lawful grounds from ordering the cancellation of any Contract of Service hereinaforesaid. But when such cancellation shall have been ordered on account of an fault or wrong on the part of the employer, or those for whom he is responsible, he shall have no right to any sum which may be received by Government for the Immigrant by way of stamp duty on engagement, or for redemption of industrial residence.

Immigrant not claimed within seven days may elect to be free from Contract.

IX.—In case the services of any Immigrant who shall have entered in India into a Contract, as aforesaid, shall not be claimed by the intended employer under the same, within seven days after the Immigrant's arrival at the Depôt in Mauritius; (such arrival being duly published or notified in terms of Regulations) such Immigrant may elect either to enforce the Contract by proceeding before the proper Stipendiary Magistrate against the intended employer under the same, or to be entirely free from the obligations of the said Contract, subject to claim of damages for any loss which may arise to him in consequence of non-fulfilment of the Contract, which damages may be recovered before the properStipendiary Magistrate.

Every such election shall be intimated to the Protector of Immigrants, and shall by him be recorded in terms of Regulations to be framed under this Ordinance.

In such case intended employer to pay half expense of introduction.

X.—In case the Immigrant shall elect to be free from his Contract, the party on behalf of whom he shall have been introduced, shall forfeit and pay to the Government one-half of the passage money and other expenses applicable to such Immigrant, and of the proportional expense chargeable on him on account of the introduction of females; and every such Immigrant shall be in the same position in all respects as if he had been introduced into the Colony without having made any Contract in India with an individual employed.

Contract made in India may be transferred.

XI.—It shall moreover be lawful to any Immigrant and intended employer under a Contract made in India to transfer the same with all its rights and obligations to a substitute employer; and every such transfer shall assign and transfer to the substituted employer the whole rights and interest under such Contract and all the obligations incumbent upon the intended employer therein.

Such transfer shall only be valid if made with the full consent of the original and substituted employer and of the Immigrant, and with the approval and concurrence of the Government upon satisfactory reasons being assigned therefore.

Every such transfer shall be in the form and be executed in the manner prescribed by Regulations under this Ordinance.

Such transfer may be made either on the Immigrant's arrival in Mauritius or at any time during the currency of his engagement.

Engaged Immigrant to be maintained at Depôt.

XII.—During the interval between the arrival at the "Depôt" in Mauritius of any Immigrant who shall have entered into a Contract in India, and his entering the service of his original or substituted employer under the Contract or of any employer to whom he may be allotted, he shall be maintained by the Government; and the expense of such maintenance shall be recovered from the intended employer under the Contract or those in his right.

Governor authorized to allot Immigrants not engaged in India.

XIII.—When any Immigrant shall arrive at Mauritius without having contracted in India, as hereinaforesaid, it shall be lawful to the Governor, by such Officer as may be entrusted with the duty, to allot such Immigrant to any person applying for his services who may be selected therefore, and who shall be able and willing, and shall oblige himself to pay and provide a fair rate of wages and allowances for such Immigrant.

All such allotments shall be made in terms of Regulations to be proclaimed from time to time under this Ordinance.

Immigrant allotted to be in same position as if engaged.

XIV.—Every Immigrant who shall thus be allotted to an employer shall be subject to the law existing in the Colony at the time as to his industrial residence, and his allotment to or engagement with such employer shall be subject to the stamp duty now payable on Contracts with new Immigrants introduced entirely at the expense of the Colonial Treasury, except such allotment shall be made in excess of the number to which the employer would be entitled by Regulation.

Governor in Executive Council to make Regulations.

XV.—It shall be lawful to the Governor in Executive Council from time to time to make Regulations for carrying out the purposes of this Ordinance, and from time to time to alter the same; and all such Regulations, on being published in the Government Gazette, shall have the same effect as if they had been contained verbatim herein; provided that they are not inconsistent with the spirit and meaning of any of the provisions hereof.

Ordinance No. 12 of 1855 repealed.

XVI.—Ordinance No. 12 of 1855, entitled "An Ordinance to enable persons to procure at their own expense Immigrants from India," is hereby repealed, except in so far as it relates to any Immigrants already introduced, or who may be introduced, or embarked under its provision before the present Ordinance shall have been known at the agency in India whence they shall have been transmitted, and all powers and remedies thereunder in such respects.

Promulgation.

XVII. This Ordinance shall take effect from the twenty-third day of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

PASSED in Council at Port Louis, Island of Mauritius, this twentieth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

R. Y. Cummins,
Secretary to the Council.

Published by order of His Excellency the Governor,

Humphry Sandwith,
Colonial Secretary.

PROCLAMATION.

In the Name of Her Majesty VICTORIA, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, QUEEN, &c., &c., &c.

W. Stevenson. By His Excellency William Stevenson, Esquire, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Island of Mauritius and its Dependencies, &c., &c., &c.

WHEREAS by Ordinance No. 30 of 1858, entitled "An Ordinance to legalize Contracts of Service made in India, and to authorize Government to allot newly arrived Immigrants," the Governor in Executive Council is authorized from time to time to make Regulations for carrying out the purposes of the said Ordinance; and whereas it is necessary to make such Regulations;

In virtue, therefore, of the powers conferred by the aforesaid Ordinance:

I do hereby, in Executive Council, order and proclaim as follows:—

REGULATIONS.

Engagement of Immigrants in India.

I. Every person desiring to engage Immigrants in India, under the provisions of the said Ordinance shall deposit with the Protector of Immigrants in Mauritius a requisition (as nearly as may be in the Form A) specifying the number of Immigrants required by him,—in what District in Mauritius, and for what kind of service or labor they shall be required, the Presidency of India from which he wishes them to be sent, and whether he is willing to give wages and allowances on the Government scale for the time being, or any other and what wages and allowances.

Every such requisition shall be available for the period of fifteen calendar months to be calculated from its date.

II. Every such requisition may at any time be withdrawn by the party who shall have made it, by written notice left with the Protector of Immigrants; and such withdrawal shall be intimated by the Protector to the Emigration Agent at the Presidency from which the Immigrants shall be required.

But in such case the requisition shall remain in full effect so far as regards any action that shall have taken place upon it before notice of such withdrawal was received by the said Emigration Agent.

III. The party making such requisition shall also give security to the Protector by bond, with one surety (as nearly as may be in the Form B) for payment of the passage money and other expenses of the Immigrants to be engaged under his requisition.

The Protector may refuse to deliver any Immigrant to his intended employer, until the said payment shall have been made.

In these expenses no charge shall be made on account of Quarantine, if incurred on account of the said Immigrants; but the same shall in all cases be borne by Government.

IV. As soon as possible after the said requisition and bond shall have been deposited with the Protector of Immigrants, that Officer shall transmit a certified copy of the requisition to the Emigration Agent for Mauritius at the Presidency from which the Immigrants are required, with instructions to forward the subject of the requisition with all convenient speed.

The Protector shall at the same time transmit to such Emigration Agent the name and description of any Special Agent who may have been selected by the Requisitionist, and whom the Protector shall not have rejected for that duty.

V. In all cases where a Licensed Special Agent is not employed, the recruiting for Immigrants to be engaged in India shall be conducted only by Recruiting Agents employed and paid by the Government of Mauritius.

VI. Special Agents for employers in Mauritius may recruit Immigrants for their principals who shall have complied with the aforesaid requisites, provided that the following conditions be observed:

(1o.) The names of every such Agent and of the person or persons for whom he is to recruit shall be given at full length to the Protector of Immigrants who shall transmit the same to the Emigration Agent at the Presidency to which the Agent is to be accredited, unless he knows of good reason to the contrary.

(2o.) The Emigration Agent, on receipt of the communication, shall (unless he knows of good reason to the contrary) grant to the Special Agent a license, as nearly as may be in the Form C, to recruit for the said party; every such license being for a specified time not exceeding one year from its date.

(3o.) Every Special Agent shall be under the direction and control of the Emigration Agent at the Presidency for which he shall be licensed, who shall have full power to suspend and withdraw the license, in case of misconduct.

(4o.) Every Principal shall be responsible for the wrongs and breaches of Regulations committed by his Agent, in so far as that the Government may refuse to accept future nominations of Agents by employers, whose Agents shall have more than once wilfully committed any such wrongs or breaches.

VII. When Special Agents have been employed and licensed, no recruiting by any Government Recruiting Agent or any of his Subordinates shall be expected or relied on by the employers; but that portion of the service shall rest entirely with the licensed Special Agent and those employed by him, subject to the control of the Government Emigration Agent at the Presidency.

VIII. In case, however, the Special Agent shall die or withdraw from his Agency, or in case license shall be refused to such Agent, the Emigration Agent may and shall allow the Government Recruiting Agents to act in regard to the requisition of the principal of such Agent in the same way as if no Special Agent had been appointed.

IX. When Special Agents are employed, the engagement of Immigrants for agricultural labor may be either at the rate of wages and allowances in the Government Scale for the time being, or at any other rate which shall be at least equivalent thereto; and which shall be set forth in the requisition.

When Special Agents are not employed, the engagement of ordinary agricultural laborers shall be at the wages and allowances in the said Government Scale.

X. Skilled laborers of any kind may be engaged upon any terms which shall be set forth in the requisition, and shall in no case be less than the minimum rate specified by the Government Scale.

XI. Whether Special Agents shall be employed or not, the engagement shall in every case be upon the terms set forth in the requisition, without any deviation whatever; and if the requisition shall not be in accordance with the Rules above specified, it will be rejected, and no engagement will be made in pursuance thereof.

XII. The Emigration Agent at each dependency shall, before any Contract shall be completed, explain the same fully to the Immigrant, with the aid (if necessary) of a duly qualified Interpreter, and shall take all proper precautions to prevent the Immigrant from being induced to contract by any fraud, falsehood or unfair means or representations.

XIII. If the Emigration Agent shall be satisfied that the Contract is fully understood by the Immigrant, and, if not upon the Government Scale, that it is fair and reasonable, he shall as soon as possible have the same signed in his presence by the Immigrant and by the Special Agent (if any) of the employer, with their names or marks, and he shall certify the same by a docket signed by himself.

XIV. If the Special Agent for the employer shall not be present at the time, the Emigration Agent may sign the Contract in his absence, and the Contract shall, in that case, be equally valid and binding as if signed also by the Special Agent; and no Contract bearing to be so signed shall be challengeable on the ground that the Special Agent not subscribing was present at the time.

XV. The Contract and Docket shall contain all the items, and shall be, as nearly as may be, in the terms of Form D. But no such Contract shall be void or voidable on account of any informality, which does not affect it in substance.

XVI. The Emigration Agent shall, upon the first opportunity after the completion of each Contract, despatch the Immigrant engaged therein to the Protector of Immigrants in Mauritius, along with the original of his Contract; and he shall also, with every band of male Immigrants so despatched, send the number of females required by Regulations at the time.

XVII. The Emigration Agent shall also, whenever he may see occasion, transmit to the Protector certified copies, one or more, of any Contract; and the same, if bearing to be certified by him as true copies and to be subscribed by him, shall have the same effect in law as the original Contracts to which they apply, subject only to proof that they are false or inaccurate.

XVIII. The arrival at Mauritius of any Immigrant who shall have entered into a Contract in India with an individual employer, shall, as soon as possible, be published by the Protector by written or printed notice, as nearly as may be in the Form E, in conspicuous places in and outside of the Immigration Depôt.

XIX. The Protector of Immigrants as soon as possible after the arrival at the Depôt of any Immigrants, and their Contracts, shall cause the same respectively to be registered in the Books of his Office, after which he shall deliver a certified copy of each Contract to the employer under the same, or any one having his authority, along with the Immigrants one or more thereby engaged.

XX. The Protector shall transmit the original Contract to the Stipendiary Magistrate of the District in which the service is to be performed, and the employer shall be entitled to retain the certified copy thereof; which, if bearing to be certified as a true copy and to be signed by the Protector, shall have the same force and effect as an original, subject only to proof that it is false or inaccurate.

XXI. The Protector of Immigrants shall also deliver to each Immigrant a Ticket bearing his name, number and marks, along with the name of his employer, the place where he is to be employed, and the date of registration of his Contract.

XXII. Whenever the Protector of Immigrants shall have delivered any Contract and Ticket as above-mentioned, both parties to the Contract shall be entitled to enforce the same by all lawful procedure, in the same way as if it had been entered into in Mauritius, according to the Law and Practice existing there at the time.

XXIII. When any Immigrant shall (under Arts. 9 and 10 of the aforesaid Ordinance) elect to be free from the obligations of his Contract, in consequence of his intended employer not having claimed his services, such election shall be intimated to the Protector of Immigrants, and a note thereof (Form F) shall by him be indorsed upon the entry of the Contract of such Immigrant in the Register of the Depôt.

XXIV. Every transfer (under Art. 11 of the Ordinance) of a Contract shall be in the Form G.

If made upon the Immigrant's arrival in Mauritius, and before he shall have entered upon his service, it shall be made before and authenticated by the Protector of Immigrants or other Officer to be appointed by the Governor to the duty.

If made during the currency of the engagement, it shall be made before and authenticated by the Stipendiary Magistrate of the District.

Before any such transfer shall have been signed, its nature and effect shall be fully explained to the Immigrant by the Protector or Magistrate, as the case may be.

XXV. The Protector or Magistrate shall have the power to express the approval and concurrence of the Government in the transfer, provided he shall be satisfied with the reasons assigned therefore.

XXVI. In no case shall such approval or concurrence be expressed where there is reason to believe that the original engagement with the Immigrant was not made with the bonâ fide intention of his serving the employer therein.

XXVII. Wherever the transaction shall appear to be a speculation or trafficking in the services of Immigrants through the medium of a pretended employer, the approval or concurrence abovementioned shall be withheld.

XXVIII. Any employer who shall (under Art. 5 of the Ordinance) desire to release from Contract an Immigrant engaged to him in India, shall either personally or by one having his written authority appear along with the Immigrant before the Stipendiary Magistrate of the District; who shall thereupon explain to the Immigrant the object and effect of the said release; and if the Immigrant shall understand and agree to the same, he shall cause both parties to sign a memorandum of such release in his presence, authenticating it also by his signed docket, all as in Form H. in the Schedule.

The Magistrate shall then deliver to the Immigrant a certified copy of such memorandum, after which he shall transmit the original thereof to the Protector of Immigrants, by whom an entry of the same shall be made on the registry of the said Immigrant in the books at the Depôt.

II.

Allotment of Immigrants not specially engaged in India.

XXIX. The wages and allowances of all Immigrants, who shall not have engaged in India to individual employers, shall for their first period of service for three years or otherwise be upon the scale to be fixed by Government in the mode after described; and no alteration which may come into operation upon the said scale after the date of any allotment shall have any effect upon the wages and allowances of the Immigrant allotted previously thereto.

XXX. When their first service shall have terminated by the said Immigrants having served during its whole period, with any extension on account of unlicensed absences, they will be free to engage with any employer upon any terms that may be mutually agreed to.

XXXI. But in case the first service of any allotted Immigrant shall terminate prematurely, such Immigrant shall be again allotted to another employer or employers, successively, for the residue of his original allotment; provided that he shall receive the same wages and allowances as if he had continued in his first employment.

XXXII. Every Immigrant who shall not have been engaged in India to an individual employer shall, in presence of the Emigration Agent at the Presidency from which he shall be embarked, sign a Contract, as nearly as may be in the Form of Schedule I, which Contract the said Agent shall transmit to Mauritius, along with the Immigrant, and his name, number and marks.

XXXIII. Every person intending to apply for an allotment of Immigrants one or more shall lodge with the Protector a requisition containing the items of his proposed Contract, in the Form K of Schedule; which requisition may be withdrawn or altered any time before an allotment shall have been made and duly certified upon it.

XXXIV. The Protector of Immigrants, as soon as possible, after the arrival of any Immigrants not engaged in India to individual employers, shall register them and give them tickets as by the practice at the date hereof.

XXXV. When any such Immigrant shall have been recruited for an individual employer, the Protector shall allot him to such employers, provided both parties consent to such allotment. He shall follow the same course in regard to any Immigrant who shall express his preference for an individual employer.

In both of these cases when the Immigrants allotted are in excess of the proportion to which the employer would be entitled by Regulations, the employer shall pay the expenses applicable to such Immigrants in excess, in terms of Ordinance No. 22 of 1857.

XXXVI. But in the cases mentioned in the preceding Articles, the Protector shall not give effect to any recruiting or selection which shall have been induced by improper agency or artifice in any place whatever.

XXXVII. Whenever it shall appear to the Protector that an Immigrant has selected a particular employer in consequence of the intervention of any person habitually making a trade, business or speculation of interposing between employers and Immigrants, the Protector shall not allot him to the employer so selected.

XXXVIII. The Protector shall not recognise any recruiting for or selection of any individual employer, unless the same shall have been intimated to the Protector, or a duly qualified Officer of his Department, either on board the vessel which shall have brought the Immigrant, or upon the Immigrant's giving his name to the Protector at the Depôt on his arrival, and the Protector shall take the earliest opportunity of ascertaining whether any and which of the Immigrants arriving in any vessel have been recruited for or have selected their employers.

XXXIX. Upon any vessel arriving with Immigrants not engaged in India to individual employers, the Protector shall, either on board the vessel, or as soon as possible after the landing of the Immigrants, set aside all such as shall declare themselves to have been recruited for or to have selected individual employers, and to be ready to engage with them, and he shall without delay prepare, execute and deliver their certificates of allotment as aftermentioned.

XL. Immigrants who shall not have specially engaged in India and who shall not have declared that they have been recruited for, or have selected individual employers shall be allotted to persons applying for them according to the proportions specified in the Government Gazette of 17th April 1858, or in any Proclamation upon the subject to be made by the Governor in Executive Council.

XLI. In reckoning the proportion of each employer, account shall be taken of Immigrants allotted to him in consequence of recruiting or selection, but not of Immigrants who shall have been engaged to him under Contracts in India.

XLII. No allotment shall be made to any middleman coming within the description of Art. 37 or to any person trafficking in the services of Immigrants.

XLIII. The Immigrants arriving in each ship without previous recruiting or selection shall be regarded as one group, and shall be distributed among the parties entitled to them in one or more Districts; the several Districts being for this purpose arranged in Alphabetical order, and following each other in regular rotation.

XLIV. When any such group shall not suffice to give one-fourth part of their quota to the Requisitionists in any District, they shall be distributed proportionally among those Requisitionists in Alphabetical order who shall be entitled together to four times the number for distribution; and the remaining Requisitionists in such District shall not be entitled to their allotments until one group shall have been distributed in like manner among the Requisitionists in the other Districts.

XLV. After all the Districts shall have been gone over, distribution shall again be made in the same rotation, those employers in each District among whom no distribution has been made being supplied first, and afterwards those who shall only have received part of their quota.

XLVI. After all employers throughout the Colony shall have received their full quotas, allotments shall be made to those who may be willing to pay (in terms of Ordinance No. 22 of 1857) for the passage money and other expenses of additional Immigrants so to be allotted, and in such allotment each group of Immigrants shall be distributed in the order and proportions above specified.

XLVII. The Protector shall arrange the Immigrants so as to carry out the above mode of allotment with as little disturbance as possible to their association among themselves in bands, he shall also have and shall exercise a discretionary power to deviate from the strict order above specified whenever such deviation may be necessary to prevent Immigrants who are connected by family ties from being allotted against their will to different employers.

XLVIII. Every allotment shall be made by written certificate in the terms, and executed as in the Form L hereunto annexed; which certificate shall be appended to the requisition abovementioned.

XLIX. Upon being so executed, and being delivered by the Protector to the intended employer or his authorized Agent, it shall operate as a binding obligation on the parties to enter into a formal Contract of Service in the terms mentioned in the requisition.

L. The Protector at the time with delivering to the employer of his Agent the certificate of allotment shall also deliver the whole Immigrants thereby allotted.

LI. Every such certificate shall be full authority to the Stipendiary Magistrate having jurisdiction in the premises, to make out and execute a formal written Contract of Service in terms of the requisition and certificate; and in so doing he shall not enquire whether the Immigrant and employer consents to such Contract: nor shall it be necessary for the separate parties to attend before the Magistrate for the purpose of executing the same.

LII. The service shall be held to have commenced at the date of the certificate of allotment.

III.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

LIII. The Protector of Immigrants shall as soon as possible, after the passing of these Regulations, procure and furnish to the Governor for transmission to the Government Emigration Agents in India a full and accurate statement as to the average rates of wages and allowances for different kinds of agricultural laborers, tradesmen, artisans and domestic servants in the Colony distinguishing the rates applicable: 1*st.*, to newly arrived Immigrants; 2*nd.* to Immigrants who have been three years in the Colony, and 3*rd.* to old Immigrants.

LIV. From these materials there shall be fixed under authority of the Governor the rate of wages and allowances of ordinary agricultural laborers to be allotted during the ensuing year, and of those to be engaged without the intervention of Special Agents.

There shall also be prepared a scale of the minimum and maximum rates of wages and allowances of tradesmen, artisans and household servants current at the time.

The said scales may be graduated so as to increase year by year throughout the first period of service.

The scales so prepared shall as soon as possible be published in the Government Gazette.

LV. Similar scales shall be made not later than the month of August in each succeeding year from which a similar scale of wages and allowances shall in like manner be prepared and published.

LVI. The scales specified in the preceding Articles shall upon the earliest opportunity the transmitted to the Emigration Agents at be several Presidencies in order to be posted up in conspicuous places in or near their Depôts in the several dialects commonly understood in the Presidencies, respectively.

They shall also be posted up in and near the Depôt in Mauritius in the different dialects commonly known in the Colony.

LVII. All communication, directly or indirectly, by or on behalf of any intended employer, with newly arrived Immigrants, previous to their arrival at the Immigration Depôt, is strictly prohibited.

LVIII. Whenever it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Protector that such communication has taken place, he may refuse to allot any Immigrant to the employer for whom such Immigrant shall have been induced to declare a preference in consequence of such communication.

LIX. The Protector shall also have full power to exclude from the Depôt every person who shall have reason to believe shall have come there for the purpose or with the intention of inducing Immigrants to engage with an employer for whom they shall not have been recruited in India, or whom they shall not have selected before arrival at the Depôt.

LX. All Contracts and other documents mentioned in the Schedule shall as far as possible be upon printed forms to be furnished by a duly authorized Officer of Government; and when such forms can be obtained, none other shall be used for the purpose.

LXI. When any document requiring to have any official signature of any Magistrate or Public Officer under these Regulations, shall bear ex facie to have such signature, it shall be received in all Courts of Justice as genuine, without such signature requiring to be proved; and it shall continue to be so received until the said signature shall have been proved to be a forgery.

LXII. The present Regulations shall take effect from the thirteenth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

Given in Executive Council at Government House, this twelfth day of November 1858.

R. Y. CUMMINS,
Secretary to the Council.

By Command,

HUMPHRY SANDWITH,
Colonial Secretary.

List of Immigrants allotted.

With reference to the above Ordinance and Regulations, it is hereby declared that any Special Agent accredited by the Protector of Immigrants at Mauritius and licensed by the Emigration Agent at any of the Ports at Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, may at any of the said Ports make with any Native of India a Contract for labor to be performed in the Colony of Mauritius for a period not exceeding three years, provided that such Contract shall be executed in the presence of the Emigration Agent and in that of the Protector of Immigrants.

In like manner the Emigration Agent at any one of the three Ports aforesaid may, on behalf of the Government of Mauritius, enter into a Contract in accordance with the provisions of Clause 32 of the abovementioned Regulations with any Native of India for labor to be performed in the said Colony for a period not exceeding three years, provided that every such Contract shall be executed in the presence of the Protector of Immigrants.

It is the duty of the Protector of Immigrants to see that the Regulations are precisely observed, and that every Native of India with whom a Contract is entered into in India for service in Mauritius, either by a private person or by the Emigration Agent on behalf of the Government of Mauritius, fully understands the nature and terms of the Contract, and that he is not induced to enter into it by any unfair means.

All the provisions of the existing law applicable to the Emigration of Native laborers to the Colony of Mauritius are applicable also to Native laborers with whom Contracts may be made in India for service in the Colony.

No. 691, the 1*st April* 1859.—The following Rules for the transmission of Service Messages by Electric Telegraph, passed by His Excellency the Governor General of India in Council on the 1st April 1859, in supercession of all previous Rules on the subject, are published for general information:—

I. From the 1st May 1859, all Messages sent on Service by public functionaries of all classes must be paid for in cash previous to despatch.

II. The rates payable for the number of words and distances will be the same in all respects as those charged to private individuals.

III. Repetition price will be charged whenever the Message contains numbers, or refers to financial matters.

IV. The privilege of precedence in despatch for all Service Messages will cease, except in cases of pressing public emergency and importance, when priority of despatch may be claimed by the sender. The Superintendent will bring to the notice of the Government of India any case of a Public Officer insisting in priority of despatch without reason.

V. One exception only will be made to the Rules of cash payments. Officers in Command of Troops employed in operations in the Field may send their Messages without payment. But this privilege does not extend to the case of Troops marching to join, or to movable columns while halted, and with funds available for contingent expenses.

VI. The sums paid by public functionaries for the despatch of Messages will be recovered from Government by the sender, by contingent bills countersigned as usual.

VII. The above Rules do not apply to the Hooghly River Lines and Offices, which are employed for special purposes.

VIII. The Governors of Pondicherry and Goa shall also continue to enjoy the privilege of free transmission of Messages conceded to their Governments.

assign and transfer to the substituted employer the whole rights and interest under such Contract and all the obligations incumbent upon the intended employer therein.

Such transfer shall only be valid if made with the full consent of the original and substituted employer and of the Immigrant, and with the approval and concurrence of the Government upon satisfactory reasons being assigned therefore.

Every such transfer shall be in the form and be executed in the manner prescribed by Regulations under this Ordinance.

Such transfer may be made either on the Immigrant's arrival in Mauritius or at any time during the currency of his engagement.

Engaged Immigrant to be maintained at Depôt.

XII.—During the interval between the arrival at the "Depôt" in Mauritius of any Immigrant who shall have entered into a Contract in India, and his entering the service of his original or substituted employer under the Contract or of any employer to whom he may be allotted, he shall be maintained by the Government; and the expense of such maintenance shall be recovered from the intended employer under the Contract or those in his right.

Governor authorized to allot Immigrants not engaged in India.

XIII.—When any Immigrant shall arrive at Mauritius without having contracted in India, as hereinaforesaid, it shall be lawful to the Governor, by such Officer as may be entrusted with the duty, to allot such Immigrant to any person applying for his services who may be selected therefore, and who shall be able and willing, and shall oblige himself to pay and provide a fair rate of wages and allowances for such Immigrant.

All such allotments shall be made in terms of Regulations to be proclaimed from time to time under this Ordinance.

Immigrant allotted to be in same position as if engaged.

XIV.—Every Immigrant who shall thus be allotted to an employer shall be subject to the law existing in the Colony at the time as to his industrial residence, and his allotment to or engagement with such employer shall be subject to the stamp duty now payable on Contracts with new Immigrants introduced entirely at the expense of the Colonial Treasury, except such allotment shall be made in excess of the number to which the employer would be entitled by Regulation.

Governor in Executive Council to make Regulations.

XV.—It shall be lawful to the Governor in Executive Council from time to time to make Regulations for carrying out the purposes of this Ordinance, and from time to time to alter the same; and all such Regulations, on being published in the Government Gazette, shall have the same effect as if they had been contained verbatim herein; provided that they are not inconsistent with the spirit and meaning of any of the provisions hereof.

Ordinance No. 12 of 1855 repealed.

XVI.—Ordinance No. 12 of 1855, entitled "An Ordinance to enable persons to procure at their own expense Immigrants from India," is hereby repealed, except in so far as it relates to any Immigrants already introduced, or who may be introduced, or embarked under its provisions before the present Ordinance shall have been known at the agency in India whence they shall have been transmitted, and all powers and remedies thereunder in such respects.

Promulgation

XVII. This Ordinance shall take effect from the twenty-third day of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

PASSED in Council at Port Louis, Island of Mauritius, this twentieth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

R. Y. Cummins,
Secretary to the Council.

Published by order of His Excellency the Governor,

Humphry Sandwith,
Colonial Secretary.

PROCLAMATION.

In the Name of Her Majesty VICTORIA, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, QUEEN, &c., &c., &c.

W. Stevenson. By His Excellency William Stevenson, Esquire, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Island of Mauritius and its Dependencies, &c., &c., &c.

WHEREAS by Ordinance No. 30 of 1858, entitled "An Ordinance to legalize Contracts of Service made in India, and to authorize Government to allot newly arrived Immigrants," the Governor in Executive Council is authorized from time to time to make Regulations for carrying out the purposes of the said Ordinance; and whereas it is necessary to make such Regulations;

In virtue, therefore, of the powers conferred by the aforesaid Ordinance:

I do hereby, in Executive Council, order and proclaim as follows:—

REGULATIONS.

I.

Engagement of Immigrants in India.

I. Every person desiring to engage Immigrants in India, under the provisions of the said Ordinance shall deposit with the Protector of Immigrants in Mauritius a requisition (as nearly as may be in the Form A) specifying the number of Immigrants required by him,—in what District in Mauritius, and for what kind of service or labor they shall be required, the Presidency of India from which he wishes them to be sent, and whether he is willing to give wages and allowances on the Government scale for the time being, or any other and what wages and allowances.

Every such requisition shall be available for the period of fifteen calendar months to be calculated from its date.

II. Every such requisition may at any time be withdrawn by the party who shall have made it, by written notice left with the Protector of Immigrants; and such withdrawal shall be intimated by the Protector to the Emigration Agent at the Presidency from which the Immigrants shall be required.

But in such case the requisition shall remain in full effect so far as regards any action that shall have taken place upon it before notice of such withdrawal was received by the said Emigration Agent.

III. The party making such requisition shall also give security to the Protector by bond, with one surety (as nearly as may be in the Form B) for payment of the passage money and other expenses of the Immigrants to be engaged under his requisition.

The Protector may refuse to deliver any Immigrant to his intended employer, until the said payment shall have been made.

In these expenses no charge shall be made on account of Quarantine, if incurred on account of the said Immigrants; but the same shall in all cases be borne by Government.

IV. As soon as possible after the said requisition and bond shall have been deposited with the Protector of Immigrants, that Officer shall transmit a certified copy of the requisition to the Emigration Agent for Mauritius at the Presidency from which the Immigrants are required, with instructions to forward the subject of the requisition with all convenient speed.

The Protector shall at the same time transmit to such Emigration Agent the name and description of any Special Agent who may have been selected by the Requisitionist, and whom the Protector shall not have rejected for that duty.

V. In all cases where a Licensed Special Agent is not employed, the recruiting for Immigrants to be engaged in India shall be conducted only by Recruiting Agents employed and paid by the Government of Mauritius.

VI. Special Agents for employers in Mauritius may recruit Immigrants for their principals who shall have complied with the aforesaid requisites, provided that the following conditions be observed:

(1o.) The names of every such Agent and of the person or persons for whom he is to recruit shall be given at full length to the Protector of Immigrants who shall transmit the same to the Emigration Agent at the Presidency to which the Agent is to be accredited, unless he knows of good reason to the contrary.

(2o.) The Emigration Agent, on receipt of the communication, shall (unless he knows of good reason to the contrary) grant to the Special Agent a license, as nearly as may be in the Form C, to recruit for the said party; every such license being for a specified time not exceeding one year from its date.

(3o.) Every Special Agent shall be under the direction and control of the Emigration Agent at the Presidency for which he shall be licensed, who shall have full power to suspend and withdraw the license, in case of misconduct.

(4o.) Every Principal shall be responsible for the wrongs and breaches of Regulations committed by his Agent, in so far as that the Government may refuse to accept future nominations of Agents by employers, whose Agents shall have more than once wilfully committed any such wrongs or breaches.

VII. When Special Agents have been employed and licensed, no recruiting by any Government Recruiting Agent or any of his Subordinates shall be expected or relied on by the employers; but that portion of the service shall rest entirely with the licensed Special Agent and those employed by him, subject to the control of the Government Emigration Agent at the Presidency.

VIII. In case, however, the Special Agent shall die or withdraw from his Agency, or in case license shall be refused to such Agent, the Emigration Agent may and shall allow the Government Recruiting Agents to act in regard to the requisition of the principal of such Agent in the same way as if no Special Agent had been appointed.

IX. When Special Agents are employed, the engagement of Immigrants for agricultural labor may be either at the rate of wages and allowances in the Government Scale for the time being, or at any other rate which shall be at least equivalent thereto; and which shall be set forth in the requisition.

When Special Agents are not employed, the engagement of ordinary agricultural laborers shall be at the wages and allowances in the said Government Scale.

X. Skilled laborers of any kind may be engaged upon any terms which shall be set forth in the requisition, and shall in no case be less than the minimum rate specified by the Government Scale.

XI. Whether Special Agents shall be employed or not, the engagement shall in every case be upon the terms set forth in the requisition, without any deviation whatever; and if the requisition shall not be in accordance with the Rules above specified, it will be rejected and no engagement will be made in pursuance thereof.

XII. The Emigration Agent at each dependency shall, before any Contract shall be completed, explain the same fully to the Immigrant, with the aid (if necessary) of a duly qualified Interpreter, and shall take all proper precautions to prevent the Immigrant from being induced to contract by any fraud, falsehood or unfair means or representations.

XIII. If the Emigration Agent shall be satisfied that the Contract is fully understood by the Immigrant, and, if not upon the Government Scale, that it is fair and reasonable, he shall as soon as possible have the same signed in his presence by the Immigrant and by the Special Agent (if any) of the employer, with their names or marks, and he shall certify the same by a docket signed by himself.

XIV. If the Special Agent for the employer shall not be present at the time, the Emigration Agent may sign the Contract in his absence, and the Contract shall, in that case, be equally valid and binding as if signed also by the Special Agent; and no Contract bearing to be so signed shall be challengeable on the ground that the Special Agent not subscribing was present at the time.

XV. The Contract and Docket shall contain all the items, and shall be, as nearly as may be, in the terms of Form D. But no such Contract shall be void or voidable on account of any informality, which does not affect it in substance.

XVI. The Emigration Agent shall, upon the first opportunity after the completion of each Contract, despatch the Immigrant engaged therein to the Protector of Immigrants in Mauritius, along with the original of his Contract; and he shall also, with every band of male Immigrants so despatched, send the number of females required by Regulations at the time.

XVII. The Emigration Agent shall also, whenever he may see occasion, transmit to the Protector certified copies, one or more, of any Contract; and the same, if bearing to be certified by him as true copies and to be subscribed by him, shall have the same effect in law as the original Contracts to which they apply, subject only to proof that they are false or inaccurate.

XVIII. The arrival at Mauritius of any Immigrant who shall have entered into a Contract in India with an individual employer, shall, as soon as possible, be published by the Protector by written or printed notice, as nearly as may be in the Form E, in conspicuous places in and outside of the Immigration Depôt.

XIX. The Protector of Immigrants as soon as possible after the arrival at the Depôt of any Immigrants, and their Contracts, shall cause the same respectively to be registered in the Books of his Office, after which he shall deliver a certified copy of each Contract to the employer under the same, or any one having his authority, along with the Immigrants one or more thereby engaged.

XX. The Protector shall transmit the original Contract to the Stipendiary Magistrate of the District in which the service is to be performed, and the employer shall be entitled to retain the certified copy thereof; which, if bearing to be certified as a true copy and to be signed by the Protector, shall have the same force and effect as an original, subject only to proof that it is false or inaccurate.

XXI. The Protector of Immigrants shall also deliver to each Immigrant a Ticket bearing his name, number and marks, along with the name of his employer, the place where he is to be employed, and the date of registration of his Contract.

XXII. Whenever the Protector of Immigrants shall have delivered any Contract and Ticket as above-mentioned, both parties to the Contract shall be entitled to enforce the same by all lawful procedure, in the same way as if it had been entered into in Mauritius, according to the Law and Practice existing there at the time.

XXIII. When any Immigrant shall (under Arts. 9 and 10 of the aforesaid Ordinance) elect to be free from the obligations of his Contract, in consequence of his intended employer not having claimed his services, such election shall be intimated to the Protector of Immigrants, and a note thereof (Form F) shall by him be indorsed upon the entry of the Contract of such Immigrant in the Register of the Depôt.

XXIV. Every transfer (under Art. 11 of the Ordinance) of a Contract shall be in the Form G.

If made upon the Immigrant's arrival in Mauritius, and before he shall have entered upon his service, it shall be made before and authenticated by the Protector of Immigrants or other Officer to be appointed by the Governor to the duty.

If made during the currency of the engagement, it shall be made before and authenticated by the Stipendiary Magistrate of the District.

Before any such transfer shall have been signed, its nature and effect shall be fully explained to the Immigrant by the Protector or Magistrate, as the case may be.

XXV. The Protector or Magistrate shall have the power to express the approval and concurrence of the Government in the transfer, provided he shall be satisfied with the reasons assigned therefore.

XXVI. In no case shall such approval or concurrence be expressed where there is reason to believe that the original engagement with the Immigrant was not made with the bonâ fide intention of his serving the employer therein.

XXVII. Wherever the transaction shall appear to be a speculation or trafficking in the services of Immigrants through the medium of a pretended employer, the approval or concurrence abovementioned shall be withheld.

XXVIII. Any employer who shall (under Art. 5 of the Ordinance) desire to release from Contract an Immigrant engaged to him in India, shall either personally or by one having his written authority appear along with the Immigrant before the Stipendiary Magistrate of the District; who shall thereupon explain to the Immigrant the object and effect of the said release; and if the Immigrant shall understand and agree to the same, he shall cause both parties to sign a memorandum of such release in his presence, authenticating it also by his signed docket, all as in Form H. in the Schedule.

The Magistrate shall then deliver to the Immigrant a certified copy of such memorandum, after which he shall transmit the original thereof to the Protector of Immigrants, by whom an entry of the same shall be made on the registry of the said Immigrant in the books at the Depot.

II.

ALLOTMENT OF IMMIGRANTS NOT SPECIALLY ENGAGED IN INDIA.

XXIX. The wages and allowances of all Immigrants, who shall not have engaged in India to individual employers, shall for their first period of service for three years or otherwise be upon the scale to be fixed by Government in the mode after described; and no alteration which may come into operation upon the said scale after the date of any allotment shall have any effect upon the wages and allowances of the Immigrant allotted previously thereto.

XXX. When their first service shall have terminated by the said Immigrants having served during its whole period, with any extension on account of unlicensed absences, they will be free to engage with any employer upon any terms that may be mutually agreed to.

XXXI. But in case the first service of any allotted Immigrant shall terminate prematurely, such Immigrant shall be again allotted to another employer or employers, successively, for the residue of his original allotment; provided that he shall receive the same wages and allowances as if he had continued in his first employment.

XXXII. Every Immigrant who shall not have been engaged in India to an individual employer shall, in presence of the Emigration Agent at the Presidency from which he shall be embarked, sign a Contract, as nearly as may be in the Form of Schedule I, which Contract the said Agent shall transmit to Mauritius, along with the Immigrant, and his name, number and marks.

XXXIII. Every person intending to apply for an allotment of Immigrants one or more shall lodge with the Protector a requisition containing the items of his proposed Contract, in the Form K of Schedule; which requisition may be withdrawn or altered any time before an allotment shall have been made and duly certified upon it.

XXXIV. The Protector of Immigrants, as soon as possible, after the arrival of any Immigrants not engaged in India to individual employers, shall register them and give them tickets as by the practice at the date hereof.

XXXV. When any such Immigrant shall have been recruited for an individual employer, the Protector shall allot him to such employers, provided both parties consent to such allotment. He shall follow the same course in regard to any Immigrant who shall express his preference for an individual employer.

In both of these cases when the Immigrants allotted are in excess of the proportion to which the employer would be entitled by Regulations, the employer shall pay the expenses applicable to such Immigrants in excess, in terms of Ordinance No. 22 of 1857.

XXXVI. But in the cases mentioned in the preceding Articles, the Protector shall not give effect to any recruiting or selection which shall have been induced by improper agency or artifice in any place whatever.

XXXVII. Whenever it shall appear to the Protector that an Immigrant has selected a particular employer in consequence of the intervention of any person habitually making a trade, business or speculation of interposing between employers and Immigrants, the Protector shall not allot him to the employer so selected.

XXXVIII. The Protector shall not recognise any recruiting for or selection of any individual employer, unless the same shall have been intimated to the Protector, or a duly qualified Officer of his Department, either on board the vessel which shall have brought the Immigrant, or upon the Immigrant's giving his name to the Protector at the Depôt on his arrival, and the Protector shall take the earliest opportunity of ascertaining whether any and which of the Immigrants arriving in any vessel have been recruited for or have selected their employers.

XXXIX. Upon any vessel arriving with Immigrants not engaged in India to individual employers, the Protector shall, either on board the vessel, or as soon as possible after the landing of the Immigrants, set aside all such as shall declare themselves to have been recruited for or to have selected individual employers, and to be ready to engage with them, and he shall without delay prepare, execute and deliver their certificates of allotment as aftermentioned.

XL. Immigrants who shall not have specially engaged in India and who shall not have declared that they have been recruited for, or have selected individual employers shall be allotted to persons applying for them according to the proportions specified in the Government Gazette of 17th April 1858, or in any Proclamation upon the subject to be made by the Governor in Executive Council.

XLI. In reckoning the proportion of each employer, account shall be taken of Immigrants allotted to him in consequence of recruiting or selection, but not of Immigrants who shall have been engaged to him under Contracts in India.

XLII. No allotment shall be made to any middleman coming within the description of Art. 37 or to any person trafficking in the services of Immigrants.

XLIII. The Immigrants arriving in each ship without previous recruiting or selection shall be regarded as one group, and shall be distributed among the parties entitled to them in one or more Districts; the several Districts being for this purpose arranged in Alphabetical order, and following each other in regular rotation.

XLIV. When any such group shall not suffice to give one-fourth part of their quota to the Requisitionists in any District, they shall be distributed proportionally among those Requisitionists in Alphabetical order who shall be entitled together to four times the number for distribution; and the remaining Requisitionists in such District shall not be entitled to their allotments until one group shall have been distributed in like manner among the Requisitionists in the other Districts.

XLV. After all the Districts shall have been gone over, distribution shall again be made in the same rotation, those employers in each District among whom no distribution has been made being supplied first, and afterwards those who shall only have received part of their quota.

XLVI. After all employers throughout the Colony shall have received their full quotas, allotments shall be made to those who may be willing to pay (in terms of Ordinance No. 22 of 1857) for the passage money and other expenses of additional Immigrants so to be allotted, and in such allotment each group of Immigrants shall be distributed in the order and proportions above specified.

XLVII. The Protector shall arrange the Immigrants so as to carry out the above mode of allotment with as little disturbance as possible to their association among themselves in bands, he shall also have and shall exercise a discretionary power to deviate from the strict order above specified whenever such deviation may be necessary to prevent Immigrants who are connected by family ties from being allotted against their will to different employers.

XLVIII. Every allotment shall be made by written certificate in the terms, and executed as in the Form L hereunto annexed; which certificate shall be appended to the requisition abovementioned.

XLIX. Upon being so executed, and being delivered by the Protector to the intended employer or his authorized Agent, it shall operate as a binding obligation on the parties to enter into a formal Contract of Service in the terms mentioned in the requisition.

L. The Protector at the time with delivering to the employer of his Agent the certificate of allotment shall also deliver the whole Immigrants thereby allotted.

LI. Every such certificate shall be full authority to the Stipendiary Magistrate having jurisdiction in the premises, to make out and execute a formal written Contract of Service in terms of the requisition and certificate; and in so doing he shall not enquire whether the Immigrant and employer consents to such Contract: nor shall it be necessary for the separate parties to attend before the Magistrate for the purpose of executing the same.

LII. The service shall be held to have commenced at the date of the certificate of allotment.

III.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

LIII. The Protector of Immigrants shall as soon as possible, after the passing of these Regulations, procure and furnish to the Governor for transmission to the Government Emigration Agents in India a full and accurate statement as to the average rates of wages and allowances for different kinds of agricultural laborers, tradesmen, artisans and domestic servants in the Colony distinguishing the rates applicable: 1*st.*, to newly arrived Immigrants; 2*nd.* to Immigrants who have been three years in the Colony, and 3*rd.* to old Immigrants.

LIV. From these materials there shall be fixed under authority of the Governor the rate of wages and allowances of ordinary agricultural laborers to be allotted during the ensuing year, and of those to be engaged without the intervention of Special Agents.

There shall also be prepared a scale of the minimum and maximum rates of wages and allowances of tradesmen, artisans and household servants current at the time.

The said scales may be graduated so as to increase year by year throughout the first period of service.

The scales so prepared shall as soon as possible be published in the Government Gazette.

LV. Similar scales shall be made not later than the month of August in each succeeding year from which a similar scale of wages and allowances shall in like manner be prepared and published.

LVI. The scales specified in the preceding Articles shall upon the earliest opportunity the transmitted to the Emigration Agents at be several Presidencies in order to be posted up in conspicuous places in or near their Depôts in the several dialects commonly understood in the Presidencies, respectively.

They shall also be posted up in and near the Depôt in Mauritius in the different dialects commonly known in the Colony.

LVII. All communication, directly or indirectly, by or on behalf of any intended employer, with newly arrived Immigrants, previous to their arrival at the Immigration Depôt, is strictly prohibited.

LVIII. Whenever it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Protector that such communication has taken place, he may refuse to allot any Immigrant to the employer for whom such Immigrant shall have been induced to declare a preference in consequence of such communication.

LIX. The Protector shall also have full power to exclude from the Depôt every person who shall have reason to believe shall have come there for the purpose or with the intention of inducing Immigrants to engage with an employer for whom they shall not have been recruited in India, or whom they shall not have selected before arrival at the Depot.

LX. All Contracts and other documents mentioned in the Schedule shall as far as possible be upon printed forms to be furnished by a duly authorized Officer of Government; and when such forms can be obtained, none other shall be used for the purpose.

LXI. When any document requiring to have any official signature of any Magistrate or Public Officer under these Regulations, shall bear ex facie to have such signature, it shall be received in all Courts of Justice as genuine, without such signature requiring to be proved; and it shall continue to be so received until the said signature shall have been proved to be a forgery.

LXII. The present Regulations shall take effect from the thirteenth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

Given in Executive Council at Government House, this twelfth day of November 1858.

R. Y. CUMMINS,
Secretary to the Council.

By Command,

HUMPHRY SANDWITH,
Colonial Secretary.

List of Immigrants allotted.

With reference to the above Ordinance and Regulations, it is hereby declared that any Special Agent accredited by the Protector of Immigrants at Mauritius and licensed by the Emigration Agent at any of the Ports at Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, may at any of the said Ports make with any Native of India a Contract for labor to be performed in the Colony of Mauritius for a period not exceeding three years, provided that such Contract shall be executed in the presence of the Emigration Agent and in that of the Protector of Emigrants.

In like manner the Emigration Agent at any one of the three Ports aforesaid may, on behalf of the Government of Mauritius, enter into a Contract in accordance with the provisions of Clause 32 of the abovementioned Regulations with any Native of India for labor to be performed in the said Colony for a period not exceeding three years, provided that every such Contract shall be executed in the presence of the Protector of Emigrants.

It is the duty of the Protector of Emigrants to see that the Regulations are precisely observed, and that every Native of India with whom a Contract is entered into in India for service in Mauritius, either by a private person or by the Emigration Agent on behalf of the Government of Mauritius, fully understands the nature and terms of the Contract, and that he is not induced to enter into it by any unfair means.

All the provisions of the existing law applicable to the Emigration of Native laborers to the Colony of Mauritius are applicable also to Native laborers with whom Contracts may be made in India for service in the Colony.

INDIA OFFICE,
London, the 24th February 1859.

To

HIS EXCELLENCY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

MY LORD,

I TRANSMIT herewith a printed copy of a Treaty of Commerce and Navigation between Her Majesty and the Emperor of Russia.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) STANLEY.

TREATY of Commerce and Navigation between HER MAJESTY and the Emperor of all the Russias; with three Separate Articles thereunto annexed.

Signed at St. Petersburgh, January 12, 1859.

[Ratifications exchanged at London, February 1, 1859.]

In the Name of the Most Holy and Indivisible Trinity.

HER Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias, being desirous of extending and facilitating the relations of commerce between their respective dominions and subjects, have resolved to conclude a Treaty for that purpose, and have named as their respective Plenipotentiaries, that is to say:

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Sir John Fiennes Crampton, Baronet of the United Kingdom, Knight Commander of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias;

And His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias, Prince Alexander Gortchacow, his actual Privy Councillor and Minister for Foreign Affairs, Knight of the Orders of Russia and of St. Vladimir of the First Class, Grand Cross of the Legion of Honour of France, of the Golden Fleece of Spain, of St. Stephen of Hungary, of the Black Eagle and of the Red Eagle of Prussia, of Ferdinand and of Merit of Naples, of the Crown of Wurtemberg, of the Elephant and of the Dannebrog of Denmark, of St. Hubert of Bavaria, of Fidelity and of the Lion of Zähringen of Baden, of the Guelfs of Hanover, of Louis of Hesse-Darmstadt, the Crown of Saxony, of Ernest of Saxe-Altenburg, of the White Falcon of Saxe-Weimar, of Leopold of Belgium, of the Saviour of Greece, of St. Joseph of Tuscany, of the Pianum, of the Medjidié of Turkey, decorated with the portrait of the Shah of Persia, of the First Class, adorned with diamonds;

Who after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following Articles:—

ARTICLE I.

There shall be between all the dominions and possessions of the two High Contracting Parties,

Au Nom de la Très Sainte et Indivisible Trinité.

SA Majesté la Reine du Royaume Uni de la Grande Bretagne et d'Irlande, et Sa Majesté l'Empereur de toutes les Russies, animés du désir d'étendre et de faciliter les relations commerciales entre leurs Etats et sujets respectifs, ont résolu de conclure un Traité à cet effet, et ont nommé pour leurs Plénipotentiaires respectifs, savoir:

Sa Majesté la Reine du Royaume Uni de la Grande Bretagne et d'Irlande, Sir John Fiennes Crampton, Chevalier Baronet du Royaume Uni, Chevalier Commandeur du Très Honorable Ordre du Bain, Envoyé Extraordinaire et Ministre Plénipotentiaire de Sa Majesté près Sa Majesté l'Empereur de toutes les Russies;

Et Sa Majesté l'Empereur de toutes les Russies, le Prince Alexandre Gortchacow, son Conseiller Privé actuel et Ministre des Affaires Etrangères, Chevalier des Ordres de Russie et de St. Vladimir de la première classe, Grand-Croix de la Légion d'Honneur de France, de la Toison d'Or d'Espagne, de St. Etienne de Hongrie, de l'Aigle Noir et de l'Aigle Rouge de Prusse, de Ferdinand et du Mérite de Naples, de la Couronne de Wurtemberg, de l'Eléphant et du Dannebrog de Danemarc, de St. Hubert de Bavière, de la Fidélité et du Lion de Zähringen de Bade, des Guelfes de Hanovre, de Louis de Hesse-Darmstadt, de la Couronne de Saxe, d'Ernest de Saxe-Altenbourg, du Faucon Blanc de Saxe-Weimar, de Léopold de Belgique, du Sauveur de Grèce, de St. Joseph de Toscane, du Pianum, du Medjidié de Turquie, ayant le portrait du Schah de Perse de la première classe orné de diamants;

Lesquels, après s'être communiqué leurs pleins-pouvoirs respectifs, trouvés en bonne et due forme, ont arrêté et conclu les Articles suivants:—

ARTICLE I.

Il y aura entre tous les états et possessions des deux Hautes Parties Contractantes, liberté réciproque reciprocal freedom of commerce and navigation. The subjects of each of the two Contracting Parties, respectively, shall have liberty freely and securely to come, with their ships and cargoes, to all places, ports, and rivers in the dominions and possessions of the other, to which other foreigners are or may be permitted to come; and shall, throughout the whole extent of the dominions and possessions of the other, enjoy the same rights, privileges, liberties, favours, immunities, and exemptions in matters of commerce and navigation, which are or may be enjoyed by native subjects generally.

It is understood, however, that the preceding stipulations in no wise affect the laws, decrees, and special regulations regarding commerce, industry, and police, in vigour in each of the two countries, and generally applicable to all foreigners.

ARTICLE II.

No other or higher duties shall be imposed on the importation into the dominions and possessions of Her Britannic Majesty, of any article the growth, produce, or manufacture of the dominions and possessions of His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias, from whatever place arriving, and no other or higher duties shall be imposed on the importation into the dominions and possessions of His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias, of any article the growth, produce, or manufacture of Her Britannic Majesty's dominions and possessions, from whatever place arriving, than are or shall be payable on the like article, the growth, produce, or manufacture of any other foreign country; nor shall any prohibition be imposed on the importation of any article the growth, produce, or manufacture of the dominions and possessions of either of the two Contracting Parties into the dominions and possessions of the other, which shall not equally extend to the importation of the like articles being the growth, produce, or manufacture of any other country.

ARTICLE III.

No other or higher duties or charges shall be imposed in the dominions and possessions of either of the Contracting Parties, on the exportation of any article to the dominions and possessions of the other, than such as are, or may be, payable on the exportation of the like article to any foreign country; nor shall any prohibition be imposed on the exportation of any article from the dominions and possessions of either of the two Contracting Parties to the dominions and possessions of the other, which shall not equally extend to the exportation of the like article to any other country.

ARTICLE IV.

The same reciprocal equality of treatment shall take effect in regard to warehousing, and to the transit trade, and also in regard to bounties, facilities, and drawbacks, which are or may be hereafter granted by the legislation of either country.

ARTICLE V.

All merchandize and articles of commerce, the produce or manufacture either of the dominions and possessions of His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias, or of any other country, which are or may be legally importable into the ports of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, its domique de commerce et de navigation. Les sujets de chacune des deux Hautes Parties Contractantes pourront respectivement entrer en toute liberté et sécurité, avec leurs navires et cargaisons, dans toutes les places, ports, et rivières des états et possessions de l'autre dont l'entrée est ou pourra être permise à d'autres étrangers; et dans toute l'étendue des états et possessions de l'autre ils jouiront, en matière de commerce et de navigation, des mêmes droits, privilèges, libertés, faveurs, immunités, et exemptions, dont jouissent ou jouiront les nationaux.

Il est entendu, toutefois, que les stipulations qui précèdent ne dérogent en rien aux lois, ordonnances, et réglements spéciaux en matière de commerce, d'industrie, et de police, en vigueur dans chacun des deux pays, et applicables à tous les étrangers en général.

ARTICLE II.

Il ne sera imposé d'autres ni de plus forts droits sur l'importation dans les états et possessions de Sa Majesté Britannique, d'un article quelconque, produit du sol ou de l'industrie des états et possessions de Sa Majesté l'Empereur de toutes les Russies, de quelque place qu'il arrive, et il ne sera imposé d'autres ni de plus forts droits sur l'importation dans les états et possessions de Sa Majesté l'Empereur de toutes les Russies, d'un article quelconque, produit du sol ou de l'industrie des états et possessions de Sa Majesté Britannique, de quelque place qu'il arrive, que ceux qui sont ou seront payés pour le même article produit du sol ou de l'industrie d'un autre pays étranger quelconque; et il n'y aura aucune prohibition pour l'importation d'un article quelconque, produit du sol ou de l'industrie des états et possessions de l'une des deux Hautes Parties Contractantes dans les états et possessions de l'autre, laquelle ne s'étendra pas également à l'importation des mêmes articles produits du sol ou de l'industrie d'un autre pays quelconque.

ARTICLE III.

Il ne sera imposé d'autres ni de plus forts droits ou charges dans les états et possessions de l'une des Parties Contractantes, sur l'exportation pour les états et possessions de l'autre, d'un article quelconque, que ceux qui sont ou seront payés à l'exportation du même article pour un autre pays étranger quelconque; et l'exportation d'un article quelconque des états et possessions de l'une des deux Parties Contractantes pour les états et possessions de l'autre, ne sera frappée d'aucune prohibition qui ne s'étendra pas également à l'exportation du même article pour tout autre pays.

ARTICLE IV.

Il y aura réciproquement la même égalité de traitement pour l'entrepôt, pour le commerce de transit, ainsi que pour les primes, facilités, et remboursements de droits qui sont ou qui pourraient être accordés par la législation de l'un ou l'autre pays.

ARTICLE V.

Toutes les marchandises et tout article de commerce, produits du sol ou de l'industrie soit des états et possessions de Sa Majesté l'Empereur de toutes les Russies, soit d'un autre pays quelconque, qui peuvent ou qui pourront être légalement importés dans les ports du Royaume

nions and possessions, in British vessels, may likewise be imported into those ports in Russian vessels, without being liable to any other or higher duties, of whatever denomination, than if such merchandize and articles were imported in British vessels; and reciprocally, all merchandize and articles of commerce, the produce or manufacture either of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, its dominions and possessions, or of any other country, which are or may be legally importable into the ports of the dominions and possessions of His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias, in Russian vessels, may likewise be imported into those ports in British vessels, without being liable to any other or higher duties, of whatever denomination, than if such merchandize and articles were imported in Russian vessels. Such reciprocal equality of treatment shall take effect without distinction, whether such merchandize and articles come directly from the place of origin, or from any other place.

In the same manner, there shall be perfect equality of treatment in regard to exportation, so that the same export duties shall be paid, and the same bounties and drawbacks allowed, in the dominions and possessions of either of the High Contracting Parties, on the exportation of any article which is or may be legally exportable therefrom, without distinction, whether such exportation shall take place in Russian or in British vessels, and whatever may be the place of destination, whether a port of the other Contracting Party, or of any third Power.

ARTICLE VI.

No duties of tonnage, harbour, pilotage, lighthouse, quarantine, or other similar or corresponding duties of whatever nature or under whatever denomination, levied in the name or for the profit of Government, public functionaries, private individuals, corporations, or establishments of any kind, shall be imposed in the ports of either country upon the vessels of the other country, which shall not equally and under the same conditions be imposed in the like cases on national vessels in general; the intention of the two High Contracting Parties being that, save certain exemptions which the shipping of some ports of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland enjoys from old times, in this respect there shall not exist in their respective dominions and possessions, in regard to the above-mentioned duties, any privilege or preference whatever favouring the national flag to the prejudice of the flag of the other party. Such equality of treatment shall apply reciprocally to the respective vessels, from whatever port or place they may arrive, and whatever may be their place of destination.

ARTICLE VII.

In all that regards the stationing, loading and unloading of vessels in the ports, basins, docks, roadsteads, harbours, or rivers of the two countries, no privilege shall be granted to national vessels which shall not be equally granted to vessels of the other country; the intention of the Contracting Parties being that in this respect also the respective vessels shall be treated on the footing of perfect equality.

Uni de la Grande Bretagne et d'Irlande, et de ses états et possessions, par navires Britanniques, pourront également y être importés par navires Russes, sans payer d'autres ni de plus forts droits, sous quelque dénomination que ce soit, que si ces marchandises et articles de commerce étaient importés par navires Britanniques; et réciproquement, toutes les marchandises et tout article de commerce produits du sol ou de l'industrie, soit du Royaume Uni de la Grande Bretagne et d'Irlande, de ses états et possessions, soit d'un autre pays quelconque, qui peuvent ou qui pourront être légalement importés dans les ports des états et possessions de Sa Majesté l'Empereur de toutes les Russies par navires Russes, pourront également y être importés par navires Britanniques, sans payer d'autres ni de plus forts droits, sous quelque dénomination que ce soit, que si ces marchandises et articles de commerce étaient importés par navires Russes. Cette réciproque égalité de traitement aura son effet sans distinction de provenance, soit que la marchandise ou article de commerce arrive directement du pays de son origine, soit qu'il arrive de tout autre pays.

De la même manière il y aura parfaite égalité de traitement pour l'exportation, de sorte que les mêmes droits de sortie seront payés, et les mêmes primes et remboursements de droits seront accordés dans les états et possessions de chacune des deux Hautes Parties Contractantes à l'exportation d'un article quelconque qui peut ou qui pourra en être légalement exporté, sans distinction que l'exportation se fasse par navires Russes ou par navires Britanniques, et quelle qu'en soit la destination, soit pour un port de l'autre Partie Contractante, soit pour un port d'une Puissance tierce quelconque.

ARTICLE VI.

Aucun droit de tonnage, de port, de pilotage, de fanaux, de quarantaine, ni autre droit semblable ou correspondant, de quelque nature ou sous quelque dénomination que ce soit, perçu au nom ou au profit du Gouvernement, de fonctionnaires publics, de particuliers, de corporations ou d'établissements quelconques, ne sera imposé dans les ports de l'un des deux pays aux navires de l'autre, qui ne serait pas également, et dans les mêmes conditions, imposé aux navires nationaux en général; l'intention des deux Hautes Parties Contractantes étant que, sauf certaines exemptions locales dont jouit d'ancienne date la navigation de quelques uns des ports du Royaume Uni de la Grande Bretagne et d'Irlande, il n'existe dans leurs Etats et possessions respectifs, sous le rapport des droits mentionnés ci-dessus, aucun privilège, ni aucune prérogative quelconque, favorisant exclusivement le pavillon national au préjudice du pavillon de l'autre Partie Contractante. Cette égalité de traitement aura réciproquement son effet à l'égard des navires respectifs, de quelque port ou place qu'ils arrivent, et quelle que soit leur destination à leur départ.

ARTICLE VII.

En tout ce qui concerne le placement, le chargement, et le déchargement des navires dans les ports, bassins, docks, rades, ou rivières des deux pays, aucun privilège ne sera accordé aux navires nationaux qui ne sera également accordé aux navires de l'autre pays; l'intention des Hautes Parties Contractantes étant que sous ce rapport aussi les navires respectifs soient traités sur le pied d'une parfaite égalité.

ARTICLE VIII.

The stipulations of the preceding Articles shall not apply to the coasting trade, which each of the High Contracting Parties shall regulate according to its own laws.

The vessels of each of the two Contracting Parties shall, however, be at liberty, according as the captain, proprietor, or other person duly authorized to act as agent for the vessel or cargo, shall consider advisable, to proceed from one port of one of the two States to one or several ports of the same State, in order to discharge the whole or part of their cargo brought from abroad, or in order to take in or complete their cargo, without paying other duties than those to which national vessels are, or may hereafter be, liable in similar cases.

ARTICLE IX.

All vessels which according to the laws of Great Britain are to be deemed British vessels, and all vessels which according to the laws of the Empire of Russia are to be deemed Russian vessels, shall for the purposes of this Treaty be deemed British and Russian vessels respectively.

ARTICLE X.

Her Britannic Majesty engages that in all matters relating to commerce and navigation, the subjects of His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias shall, in the British dominions, be entitled to every privilege, favour and immunity which is actually granted, or may hereafter be granted, by Her Britannic Majesty to the subjects or citizens of any other Power; and His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias, actuated by a desire to foster and extend the commercial relations of the two countries, engages that any privilege, favour, or immunity whatever, in regard to commerce and navigation, which his Imperial Majesty has actually granted, or may hereafter grant, to the subjects or citizens of any other State, shall be extended to the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty.

ARTICLE XI.

The subjects of either of the two High Contracting Parties, conforming themselves to the laws of the country, shall have—

1. Full liberty, with their families, to enter, travel, or reside in any part of the dominions and possessions of the other Contracting Party.

2. They shall be permitted, in the towns and ports, to hire or possess the houses, warehouses, shops, and premises, which may be necessary for them.

3. They may carry on their commerce, either in person or by any agents whom they may think fit to employ.

4. They shall not be subject, in respect of their persons or property, or in respect of passports, licenses for residence or establishment, nor in respect of their commerce or industry, to any taxes, whether general or local, nor to imposts or

ARTICLE VIII.

Les stipulations des Articles qui précèdent ne s'appliqueront point au commerce de cabotage, que chacune des Hautes Parties Contractantes réglera conformément à ses propres lois.

Toutefois, il sera libre aux navires de chacun des deux pays, selon que le capitaine, le propriétaire, ou une autre personne dûment autorisée à agir comme agent pour le navire ou la cargaison, le jugera à propos, de passer d'un port de l'un des deux Etats dans un ou plusieurs ports du même Etat, soit pour y débarquer toute ou partie de leur cargaison apportée de l'étranger, soit pour y compléter ou compléter leur chargement, sans payer d'autres droits que ceux auxquels sont ou seront soumis, en pareil cas, les bâtiments nationaux.

ARTICLE IX.

Tous les navires qui, en conformité des lois de la Grande Bretagne, doivent être considérés comme navires Britanniques, et tous les navires qui, en conformité des lois de l'Empire de Russie, doivent être considérés comme navires Russes, seront, pour l'application du présent Traité, respectivement considérés comme navires Britanniques ou Russes.

ARTICLE X.

Sa Majesté Britannique promet qu'en tout ce qui concerne le commerce et la navigation, les sujets de Sa Majesté l'Empereur de toutes les Russies jouiront dans les états et possessions Britanniques de tous les privilèges, faveurs, et immunités qui sont actuellement ou qui pourraient être par la suite accordés par Sa Majesté Britannique aux sujets ou citoyens d'une autre Puissance quelconque; et Sa Majesté l'Empereur de toutes les Russies, animé du désir de favoriser et d'étendre les relations commerciales des deux pays, promet, de son côté, que tout privilège, toute faveur ou immunité quelconque que Sa Majesté Impériale accorde actuellement, ou qu'elle pourrait accorder par la suite, en matière de commerce et de navigation, aux sujets ou citoyens d'un autre Etat quelconque, sera étendu aux sujets de Sa Majesté Britannique.

ARTICLE XI.

Les sujets de chacune des deux Hautes Parties Contractantes, en se conformant aux lois du pays, auront—

1. Pleine liberté, avec leurs familles, d'entrer, de voyager, ou séjourner dans quelque partie que ce soit des états et possessions de l'autre Partie Contractante.

2. Ils auront la faculté, dans les villes et ports, de louer ou posséder les maisons, magasins, boutiques, et terrains qui leur seront nécessaires.

3. Ils pourront exercer leur commerce, soit en personne soit par l'intermédiaire d'agents de leur choix. Enfin,

4. Ils ne seront assujettis pour leurs personnes ou propriétés, ni pour leurs passeports, permis de séjour ou d'établissement, ni en raison de leur commerce ou de leur industrie, à des taxes, soit générales soit locales, ni à des impôts ou obligaobligations of any kind whatever, other or greater than those which are or may be imposed upon native subjects.

ARTICLE XII.

The dwellings and warehouses of the subjects of either of the two High Contracting Parties in the dominions and possessions of the other, and all premises appertaining thereto, destined for purposes of residence or commerce, shall be respected. If there should be occasion to make a search of, or a domiciliatory visit to, such dwellings and premises, or to examine or inspect books, papers, or accounts, such measure shall be executed only in conformity with the legal warrant or order in writing of a tribunal, or of the competent authority.

The subjects of either of the two Contracting Parties in the dominions and possessions of the other shall have free access to the courts of justice for the prosecution and defence of their rights. They shall enjoy in this respect the same rights and privileges as subjects of the country, and shall, like them, be at liberty to employ, in all causes, their advocates, attorneys, or agents from among the persons admitted to the exercise of those professions according to the laws of the country.

ARTICLE XIII.

The subjects of either of the two Contracting Parties in the dominions and possessions of the other shall be at full liberty to acquire, possess, and dispose of every description of property which the laws of the country may permit any foreigners, of whatsoever nation, to acquire and possess. They may acquire and dispose of the same, whether by purchase, sale, donation, exchange, marriage, testament, succession ab intestato, or in any other manner, under the same conditions as are established by the laws of the country for all foreigners. Their heirs and representatives may succeed to and take possession of such property, either in person or by agents acting on their behalf, in the same manner and in the same legal forms as subjects of the country. In the absence of heirs and representatives the property shall be treated in the same manner as the like property belonging to a subject of the country under similar circumstances.

In none of these respects shall they pay upon the value of such property any other or higher impost, duty, or charge, than is payable by subjects of the country. In every case the subjects of the Contracting Parties shall be permitted to export their property, or the proceeds thereof if sold, freely, and without being subjected on such exportation to pay any duty as foreigners, or any other or higher duties than those to which subjects of the country are liable under similar circumstances.

ARTICLE XIV.

The subjects of either of the two High Contracting Parties in the dominions and possessions of the other, shall be exempted from all compulsory Military Service whatever, whether in the army, navy, or national guard or militia. They shall be equally exempted from all judicial and municipal charges and functions whatever, as well as from all contributions, whether pecuniary or tions de quelque nature que ce soit, autres ni plus onéreux que ceux qui sont ou pourront être établis pour les nationaux.

ARTICLE XII.

Seront respectés les habitations et magasins des sujets de chacune des deux Hautes Parties Contractantes dans les états et possessions de l'autre, ainsi que tous les terrains qui en dépendent, servant soit à la demeure soit au commerce. S'il y avait lieu à faire une perquisition ou visite domiciliaire dans ces habitations et terrains, ou bien à inspecter ou visiter les livres, papiers, ou comptes, il ne sera procédé à une telle mesure qu'en vertu d'un arrêt légal, ou d'un ordre par écrit d'un tribunal, ou de l'autorité compétente.

Les sujets de chacune des deux Hautes Parties Contractantes dans les états et possessions de l'autre auront libre accès dans les tribunaux pour défendre ou poursuivre leurs droits. Ils jouiront, sous ce rapport, des mêmes droits et privilèges que les sujets du pays, et seront, comme ceux-ci, libres de se servir en toute cause de leurs avocats, fondés de pouvoirs, ou agents pris parmi les personnes que les lois du pays autorisent à exercer cette espèce de profession.

ARTICLE XIII.

Les sujets de chacune des deux Parties Contractantes, dans les états et possessions de l'autre, auront pleine liberté d'acquérir, de posséder, et d'aliéner toute espèce de propriété que les lois du pays permettent aux étrangers, de quelque nation que ce soit, d'acquérir et de posséder. Ils pourront en faire l'acquisition et en disposer, soit par achat, vente, donation, échange, mariage, testament, succession ab intestato, soit de toute autre manière, sous les mêmes conditions que les lois du pays établissent pour tous les étrangers. Leurs héritiers et ayants cause pourront hériter et prendre possession d'une telle propriété, soit en personne, soit par des agents agissant en leur nom, de la même manière et dans les mêmes formes légales que les sujets du pays.

En l'absence d'héritiers et ayants cause, il sera procédé, à l'égard de la propriété, de la même manière qu'à l'egard d'une propriété semblable appartenant à un sujet du pays et se trouvant dans les mêmes conditions.

Dans aucun des cas précités il ne sera payé, à raison de la valeur de la propriété, d'autres ni de plus forts impôts, droits, ou charges, que ceux que payent les sujets du pays. Dans tous les cas il sera permis aux sujets des Parties Contractantes d'exporter librement leur propriété, ou le produit de la vente si elle a été vendue sans être assujettis, à cause de l'exportation, à payer un droit quelconque comme étrangers, ni en général des droits autres ou plus élevés que ceux auxquels les sujets du pays sont assujettis en pareille circonstance.

ARTICLE XIV.

Les sujets de chacune des deux Hautes Parties Contractantes, dans les états et possessions de l'autre, seront exempts de tout service militaire forcé, soit dans les armées de terre ou dans la marine, soit dans les gardes ou milices nationales. Ils seront également dispensés de toute charge et fonction judiciaire ou municipale quelconque, ainsi que de toute contribution, soit pécuniaire soit en in kind, imposed as a compensation for personal service; and finally, from forced loans and military exactions or requisitions.

In regard, however, to judicial and municipal charges and functions, those shall be excepted which are consequent upon the possession of real property or of a lease; and in regard to military exactions and requisitions, those which all subjects of the country may be required to furnish as landed proprietors or as farmers.

ARTICLE XV.

It shall be free for each of the two High Contracting Parties to appoint Consuls-General, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents, to reside in the towns and ports of the dominions and possessions of the other. Such Consuls-General, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents, however, shall not enter upon their functions until after they shall have been approved and admitted, in the usual form, by the Government to which they are sent. They shall exercise whatever functions, and enjoy whatever privileges, exemptions, and immunities are or shall be granted there to Consuls of the most favoured nation.

ARTICLE XVI.

Any ship of war or merchant-vessel of either of the High Contracting Parties which may be compelled by stress of weather or by accident to take shelter in a port of the other, shall be at liberty to refit therein, to procure all necessary stores, and to put to sea again, without paying any dues other than such as would be payable in a similar case by a national vessel. In case, however, the master of a merchant-vessel should be under the necessity of disposing of a part of his merchandize in order to defray his expenses, he shall be bound to conform to the regulations and tariffs of the place to which he may have come.

If any ship of war or merchant-vessel of one of the High Contracting Parties should run aground or be wrecked upon the coasts of the other, such ship or vessel, and all parts thereof, and all furniture and appurtenances belonging thereunto, and all goods and merchandize saved therefrom, including any which may have been cast into the sea, or the proceeds thereof if sold as well as all papers found on board such stranded or wrecked ship or vessel, shall be given up to the owners or their agents when claimed by them. If there are no such owners or agents on the spot, then the same shall be delivered to the British or Russian Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul in whose district the wreck or stranding may have taken place, upon being claimed by him within the period fixed by the laws of the country; and such Consuls, owners, or agents, shall pay only the expenses incurred in the preservation of the property, together with the salvage, or other expenses, which would have been payable in the like case of a wreck of a national vessel.

The goods and merchandize saved from the wreck shall be exempt from all duties of custom, unless cleared for consumption, in which case they shall pay the same rate of duty as if they had been imported in a national vessel.

In the case either of a vessel being driven in by stress of weather, run aground, or wrecked, the respective Consuls-General, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents shall, if the owner nature, établi à titre d'équivalent du service personnel; enfin, de tout emprunt forcé et de toute prestation ou réquisition militaire.

Seront toutefois exceptées, quant aux charges et fonctions judiciaires ou municipales, celles qui sont attachées à la possession d'un bien fonds ou d'un bail; et quant aux prestations et réquisitions militaires, celles auxquelles tous les sujets du pays peuvent être appelés à concourir comme propriétaires fonciers ou comme fermiers.

ARTICLE XV.

Il sera libre à chacune des deux Hautes Parties Contractantes d'établir des Consuls-Généraux, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, et Agents Consulaires, dans les villes et ports des états et possessions de l'autre. Toutefois, ces Consuls-Généraux, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, et Agents Consulaires, n'entreront en fonctions qu'après avoir été approuvés et admis, dans les formes usitées, par le Gouvernement auquel ils sont envoyés. Ils exerceront toutes les fonctions et jouiront de tous les privilèges, exemptions, et immunités qui appartiennent ou qui pourront appartenir aux Consuls de la nation la plus favorisée.

ARTICLE XVI.

Tout vaisseau de guerre ou navire marchand de l'une des Hautes Parties Contractantes qui sera forcé par des tempêtes ou par quelque accident de se réfugier dans un port de l'autre, aura la liberté de s'y radouber, de s'y pourvoir de tous les objets qui lui seront nécessaires, et de se remettre en mer, sans payer d'autres droits que ceux qui seraient payés en pareil cas par un bâtiment national. Si, cependant, le patron d'un navire marchand se trouvait dans la nécessité de se défaire d'une partie de ses marchandises pour subvenir à ses dépenses, il sera tenu de se conformer aux ordonnances et aux tarifs de l'endroit où il aura abordé.

S'il arrivait qu'un vaisseau de guerre ou navire marchand de l'une des Hautes Parties Contractantes échouât ou fît naufrage sur les côtes de l'autre, ce vaisseau ou navire, ainsi que ses débris, ses proviaions et gréémens, et tous les biens et marchandises qui en auront été sauvés, y compris ceux qui auraient été jetés à la mer, ou le produit de la vente s'ils étaient vendus, de même que tous les papiers trouvés à bord d'un tel vaisseau ou navire échoué ou naufragé, seront remis aux propriétaires ou à leurs agents sur leur réclamation. Au défaut de propriétaire ou d'agents sur les lieux, cette remise se fera entre les mains du Consul-Général, Consul, Vice-Consul, ou Agent Consulaire Britannique ou Russe, dans le district duquel le naufrage ou échouement aura eu lieu, et ce sur sa réclamation présentée dans le délai que fixent les lois du pays. Les dits Consuls, propriétaires, ou agents, ne payeront que les frais occasionnés par la conservation de la propriété, ainsi que les mêmes droits de sauvetage, et autres, que payerait en pareil cas de naufrage un bâtiment national.

Les biens et marchandises sauvés du naufrage seront exempts de tous droits de douane, à moins qu'ils ne soient admis à la consommation, et dans ce cas ils payeront les mêmes droits que s'ils étaient importés par navire national.

Dans le cas soit de relâche forcée, soit d'échouement ou de naufrage, si le propriétaire ou le patron ou un autre agent du propriétaire n'est pas présent, ou bien s'il est présent et qu'il le demande, or master or other agent of the owner is not present, or is present and requires it, be authorized to interpose in order to afford the necessary assistance to their fellow-countrymen.

ARTICLE XVII.

The Consuls-General, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents of either of the High Contracting Parties, residing in the dominions and possessions of the other, shall receive from the local authorities such assistance as can by law be given to them for the recovery of deserters from ships of war or merchant-vessels of their respective countries.

ARTICLE XVIII.

The Ionian Islands being under the protection of Her Britannic Majesty, the subjects and vessels of those Islands shall enjoy, in the dominions and possessions of His Majesty the Emperor of Russia, all the advantages which are granted by the present Treaty to the subjects and vessels of Great Britain, as soon as the Government of the Ionian Islands shall have agreed to grant the same reciprocal advantages in those Islands to Russian subjects and vessels; it being understood that, in order to prevent abuses, every Ionian vessel claiming the benefits of the present Treaty shall be furnished with a patent signed by the Lord High Commissioner or his Representative.

ARTICLE XIX.

The stipulations of the present Treaty shall be applicable to all vessels navigating under the Russian flag, without any distinction between the Russian Mercantile Marine, properly so called, and that which belongs more particularly to the Grand Duchy of Finland, which forms an integral part of the Empire of Russia.

In regard to commerce and navigation in the Russian Possessions on the North-West Coast of America, the Convention concluded at St. Petersburgh on the $\frac{1}{13}$th of February, 1825, shall continue in force.

ARTICLE XX.

The High Contracting Parties being desirous to secure, each within its own dominions, complete and effectual protection against fraud for the manufactures of the other, have agreed that any piracy or fraudulent imitation in one of the two countries of the manufacturers' or tradesmen's mark originally affixed, bonâ fide, to goods produced in the other, in attestation of their origin and quality, shall be strictly prohibited and repressed. Her Britannic Majesty engages to recommend to Her Parliament to adopt such measures as may be required to enable Her to give the more complete execution to the stipulations of this Article.

ARTICLE XXI.

The High Contracting Parties reserve to themselves to determine hereafter, by a special Convention, the means of reciprocally protecting copyright in works of literature and of the fine arts, within their respective dominions.

les Consuls-Généraux, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, et Agents Consulaires, seront autorisés à intervenir pour prêter l'assistance nécessaire à leurs nationaux.

ARTICLE XVII.

Les Consuls-Généraux, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, et Agents Consulaires de chacune des Hautes Parties Contractantes dans les états et possessions de l'autre, recevront des autorités locales toute l'assistance qui pourra légalement leur être accordée pour la restitution des déserteurs des vaisseaux de guerre ou navires marchands de leurs pays respectifs.

ARTICLE XVIII.

Les Iles Ioniennes se trouvant sous la protection de Sa Majesté Britannique, les sujets et navires des dites Iles jouiront, dans les états et possessions de Sa Majesté l'Empereur de Russie, de tous les avantages que le présent Traité accorde aux sujets et navires de la Grande Bretagne, aussitôt que le Gouvernement des Iles Ioniennes aura déclaré vouloir réciproquement accorder les mêmes avantages dans les dites îles aux sujets et navires Russes; et pour qu'il n'y ait pas d'abus, il est entendu que tout navire Ionien qui voudra participer au bénéfice du présent Traité devra être muni d'une patente signée par le Lord Haut Commissaire ou son Représentant.

ARTICLE XIX.

Les stipulations du présent Traité seront applicables à tous les bâtiments naviguant sous pavillon Russe, sans distinction aucune entre la Marine Marchande Russe, proprement dite, et celle qui appartient plus particulièrement au Grand Duché de Finlande, lequel forme une partie intégrante de l'Empire de Russie.

Pour ce qui concerne le commerce et la navigation dans les possessions Russes sur la Côte Nord-Ouest de l'Amerique, la Convention conclue à St. Pétersbourg, le $\frac{1}{13}$ Février, 1825, est maintenue en vigueur.

ARTICLE XX.

Les Hautes Parties Contractantes désirant, assurer, chacune dans ses propres Etats, une complète et efficace protection contre la fraude, à l'industrie manufacturière de l'autre, sont convenus que toute contrefaçon ou imitation frauduleuse, dans l'un des deux pays, des marques de fabrique ou de métier, primitivement apposées bonâ fide à des marchandises, produits de l'autre pays, pour constater leur origine et leure qualité, sera sévèrement interdite et réprimée. Sa Majesté Britannique s'engage à recommander à son Parlement d'adopter telles mesures qui pourront mettre Sa Majesté à même de faire exécuter de la maniere la plus complète les stipulations du présent Article.

ARTICLE XXI.

Les Hautes Parties Contractantes se réservent de déterminer par la suite, dans une Convention spéciale, les moyens de protéger réciproquement, dans leurs Etats respectifs, les droits d'auteur pour les œuvres de littérature et des beaux arts.

ARTICLE XXII.

The present Treaty of Commerce and Navigation shall remain in force for ten years from the date of the exchange ratifications; and further, until the expiration of twelve months after either of the High Contracting Parties shall have given notice to the other of its intention to terminate the same; each of the High Contracting Parties reserving to itself the right of giving such notice to the other at the expiration of the first nine years, or at any time afterwards.

The present Treaty shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at London in six weeks, or sooner if possible.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the seal of their arms.

Done at St. Petersburgh, this twelfth/thirty-first day of January/December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty nine/eight.

JOHN F. CRAMPTON. (L.S.)

ARTICLE XXII.

Le présent Traité de Commerce et de Navigation restera en vigueur pendant dix ans à dater de l'échange des ratifications, et au delà de ce terme jusqu' à l'expiration de douze mois après que l'une des Hautes Parties Contractantes aura notifié à l'autre son intention d'en faire cesser l'effet; chacune des Hautes Parties Contractantes se réservant le droit de faire cette notification à l'autre à l'expiration des neuf premières années, ou à toute époque postérieure.

Le présent Traité sera ratifié, et les ratifications en seront échangées à Londres dans le délai de six semaines, ou plus tôt si faire se peut.

En foi de quoi les Plénipotentiaires respectifs l'ont signé, et y ont apposé le cachet de leurs armes.

Fait à Saint Pétersbourg, ce douze Janvier/trente un Décembre de l'an de grace mil huit cent cinquante neuf/huit.

PRINCE A. GORTCHACOW (L.S.)

SEPARATE ARTICLE I.

The commercial intercourse of Russia with the Kingdoms of Sweden and Norway being regulated by special stipulations, which may hereafter be renewed, and which do not form part of the regulations applicable to foreign commerce in general, the two High Contracting Parties, being desirous of removing from their commercial relations every kind of doubt or cause for discussion, have agreed that those special stipulations granted in favour of the commerce of Sweden and Norway, in consideration of equivalent advantages granted in those countries to the commerce of the Grand Duchy of Finland, shall in no case apply to the relations of Commerce and Navigation established between the two High Contracting Parties by the present Treaty.

ARTICLE SEPARE I.

Les relations commerciales de la Russie avec les Royaumes de Suède et de Norvège étant réglées par des stipulations spéciales, qui pourront être renouvelées dans la suite, sans que les dites stipulations soient liées aux règlements existants pour le commerce étranger en général, les deux Hautes Parties Contractantes, voulant écarter de leurs relations commerciales toute espèce d'équivoque ou de motif de discussion, sont tombées d'accord que ces stipulations spéciales accordées au commerce de la Suède et de la Norvège, en considération d'avantages équivalents accordés dans ces pays au commerce du Grand Duché de Finlande, ne pourront dans aucun cas être invoquées en faveur des relations de commerce et de navigation établies entre les deux Hautes Parties Contractantes par le présent Traité.

SEPARATE ARTICLE II.

It is equally understood that the exemptions, immunities, and privileges hereinafter mentioned, shall not be considered as at variance with the principle of reciprocity which forms the basis of the Treaty of this date, that is to say:—

1. The exemption from navigation dues during the first three years, which is enjoyed by vessels built in Russia, and belonging to Russian subjects;

2. The permission granted to the inhabitants of the coast of the Government of Archangel, to import duty free, or on payment of moderate duties, into the ports of the said Government, dried or salted fish, as likewise certain kinds of furs, and to export therefrom, in the same manner, corn, rope and cordage, pitch, and ravensduck;

3. The privilege of the Russian American Company;

4. The immunities granted in Russia to certain English and Netherland Companies, called "Yacht Clubs."

ARTICLE SEPARE II.

Il est également entendu, que ne seront pas censés déroger au principe de réciprocité qui est la base du Traité de ce jour, les franchises, immunités, et privilèges mentionnés ci-après, savoir:—

1. La franchise dont jouissent les navires construits en Russie, et appartenant à des sujets Russes, lesquels, pendant les trois premières années, sont exempts des droits de navigation;

2. La faculté accordée aux habitants de la côte du Gouvernement d'Archangel, d'importer en franchise ou moyennant des droits modérés, dans les ports du dit Gouvernement, du poisson sec ou salé, ainsi que certaines espèces de fourrures, et d'en exporter de la même manière des blés, cordes et cordages, du goudron, et du ravendouc;

3. Le privilège de la Compagnie Russe Américaine;

4. Les immunités accordées en Russie à différentes Compagnies Anglaises et Néerlandaises, dites "Yacht Clubs."

SEPARATE ARTICLE III.

The present Separate Articles shall have the same force and validity as if they were inserted, word for word, in the Treaty signed this day. They shall be ratified, and the ratifications thereof exchanged at the same time.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the seals of their arms.

Done at St. Petersburgh, this twelfth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty nine.

JOHN F. CRAMPTON.
(L. S.)

ARTICLE SEPARE III

Les présents Articles Séparés auront la même force et valeur que s'ils étaient insérés, mot à mot, dans le Traité de ce jour. Ils seront ratifiés, et les ratifications en seront échangées en même temps.

En foi de quoi les Plénipotentiaires respectifs les ont signés, et y ont apposé le cachet de leurs armes.

Fait à Saint Pétersbourg, le douze Janvier de l'an de grace mil huit cent cinquante neuf.

Read an Endorsement from the Home Department, No. 806, dated the 23rd ultimo, forwarding for consideration and orders a Despatch from the Government of Fort St. George, No. 86, dated the 3rd idem, submitting a question connected with the leave of absence to Chaplains and Assistant Chaplains.

Resolution.—With reference to the order of the late Hon'ble the Court of Directors, dated 15th August 1855, No. 23, which directs that no deduction be made from the allowance of a Chaplain or Assistant Chaplain in the Provinces during the leave granted anterior to embarkation on Sick Certificate, provided that the extent of the leave is in proportion to the distance to be travelled to the Presidency, the Madras Government now enquires whether Chaplains and Assistant Chaplains stationed at the Presidency and proceeding home on Medical Certificate, are entitled to leave preparatory to embarkation and, if so, on what terms.

The Governor General in Council considers it reasonable in such cases to allow Chaplains and Assistant Chaplains preparatory leave for fifteen days on full pay.

Order.—Ordered, that a copy of the foregoing Resolution be sent to the Home Department, for communication to the Government of Fort St. George.

Ordered also, that a transcript of the Resolution be sent to the Departments,* Governments,† and Officers‡ noted in the margin, for information and guidance.

Ordered further, that a copy of the Resolution be published in the Official Gazette, for general information.

No. 493 of 1859.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication for general information of the following documents regarding the services rendered by the Officers of the Corps of Bengal Engineers during the Mutinies:—

Military Department.

TO THE HON'BLE THE COURT OF DIRECTORS OF THE EAST INDIA COMPANY.

HON'BLE SIRS,

I BEG leave to lay before your Hon'ble Court a List of the Engineer Corps of Bengal, setting forth briefly the aggregate services rendered by its Officers during the Mutinies, and the Casualties among them, up to the month of June last.

2. This List has been compiled from official documents by Captain Yule, an Officer of the Corps.

3. It shows that more than one-half of the Officers have been actually engaged with the Rebels, and that of those so engaged more than one-half have met their death, or have been wounded.

4. It mentions shortly the chief duties upon which the Officers have been severally engaged, and amongst these your Hon'ble Court will recognize the construction of works of great magnitude and importance which have been carried out with invariable success in the face of many difficulties.

5. The record is very honorable to the Corps of Bengal Engineers, and cannot, I think, fail to be interesting to your Hon'ble Court.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) CANNING.

Letter dated 19*th August* 1858.
List of the Engineer Corps of Bengal, stating the aggregate services rendered by the Officers of the Corps during the Mutinies, and the Casualties which have occurred amongst them up to the month of June 1858.

Extract of letter from the Secretary of State for India, No. 109, dated the 31*st of December* 1858, paragraphs 8 and 9.

Para. 8.—I entirely concur with you in considering this record of the services of the Officers of the Corps of Engineers, during the late eventful occurrences as highly honorable to that distinguished Corps. I deeply regret that so large a number of these Officers, viz., more than one-half of those engaged with the Rebels, have met their death, or have been wounded. The public service has thus sustained a loss which is most deeply to be deplored.

9. The compilation of this lucid Statement is highly creditable to Captain Yule.

No. 494 of 1859.—Lieutenant E. A. C. Lambert, of the 1st European Bengal Fusiliers, Officiating Sub-Assistant Commissary General, is allowed leave of absence for one month, from the 28th March 1859, to visit the Presidency, preparatory to applying for leave of absence, on Sick Certificate to Europe, under the old Regulations.

Notice.

Tenders for the transportation of Salt from the Central and Southern Agencies of Orissa, to the Government Golahs at Sulkea, will be received at this Office until 2 P. M., of the 17th of May next.

2. The Tenders must be drawn up according to a form which may be obtained on application at this Office.

3. Distinct contracts must be entered into for the removal of the Salt in each of the three following localities, to wit Hunsooah (in Central Cuttack) and the Ustrung Aurungs and the Chilka Lake Aurungs, in the Southern or Poorce Agency.

4. Parties tendering must satisfy the Board of Revenue and the Commissioner of Cuttack, that they possess the means of conveying the full quantity of Salt tendered for, and with this object a list of the vessels intended to be employed must accompany each Tender.

5. The quantity of Salt to be shipped at the Hunsooah Golahs will probably not exceed 1,00,000 maunds in each year; that from the Ustrungs is roughly estimated at 80,000 maunds for the ensuing season, and that from the Chilka Aurungs at maunds 3,20,000. The tenderer may apply for the whole quantity for which freight is required at each locality, or for any part not less than a quarter of such quantity.

6. Contractors must engage to ship the Salt allotted to them, during the period between the last spring tides of October and the end of February.

7. Parties whose tenders are accepted will be required to make a deposit of Government Promissory Notes, or to furnish other unexceptionable Security for the performance of their contracts.

8. The Board reserve to themselves the right of rejecting any Tender without assigning a reason.

Notification.

With the sanction of the Governor General of India in Council, it is hereby declared that the Port of Rangoon, and the Navigable River and Channels leading to that Port, are subject to Act XXII. of 1855.

The limits of the said Port of Rangoon are as follows:—

To the West.—A Line drawn South-West from the boundary pillar at Kummendine across the Rangoon River, to the boundary pillar on the opposite bank at the entrance of the Panlaug Creek.

To the South-East.—A Line drawn East from King's Point on the Dallah side of the Rangoon River, to the boundary pillar on the Syriam side.

To the North-East.—A Line running North-West and South-East drawn from the boundary pillar on the Rangoon or West side of the Pegu River, to a boundary pillar on the Syriam or East side, so much of Puzzondoung Creek as lies South of a Line drawn from a pillar on the East above Kyeezeik Village to a pillar opposide to the West bank of the Creek.

The limits of the said Port include to the North and South, so much of the Rangoon River and of the Shores thereof, and so much of the Puzzondoung Creek, and the Shores thereof as are within fifty yards of high-water mark spring tides.

The limits of the Navigable River and Channels leading to the said Port, made subject to the said Act, are as follows:

To the North.—The Port of Rangoon as above defined.

To the South.—A Line drawn East and West from the Light Ship.

All Ports of the Rangoon River between the said limits and below high-water line at spring tides are subject to the said Act.

PORT RULES.

I. No vessel, if above 200 tons, shall enter within the limits of the Port of Rangoon, or move from one place to another within the Port, between sun-set and sun-rise, without the special permission of the Master Attendant.

II. The Commanders of all vessels arriving at the Port of Rangoon are desired to enter correctly in the Columns of the Report Book of the Master Attendant, as soon as presented to them, the information therein required, regarding their vessels. They will also report in writing to the Master Attendant twenty-four hours before their departure the particulars noted in the forms appended hereto.

III. All Commanders of vessels arriving at Rangoon shall anchor in such a position as the Master Attendant or his Assistant shall direct. All vessels above 100 tons' burthen shall moor with two bower anchors and 30 fathoms of cable each way, and shall not move from their position without a Pilot, except with the express permission of the same authority.

IV. All Commanders of vessels shall have their jib and driver booms rigged in, when required by the Master Attendant, and shall strike their yard and masts if required so to do by, or by order of the same Officer.

V. Every ship or vessel within the Port of Rangoon shall have removed any anchor or spar or other substance projecting from her side, when so required by the Master Attendant, or other Officer of the Port.

VI. The Commanders of all vessels entering the Port of Rangoon, with ballast on board, shall without delay send to the Master Attendant a report in writing, stating the description of ballast on board, the quantity in tons, and the port of shipment; application must be made by the Commander to the Master Attendant for permission to tranship or land ballast, and no ballast shall be transhipped or landed except under the sanction of the Master Attendant and only at such Stations as he shall direct.

SATURDAY, APRIL 16, 1859.

Legislative Council of India.

THE 9TH APRIL 1859.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 9th April 1859, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 13th of July next:—

A Bill to amend Act XIII of 1856 (for regulating the Police of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and the several stations of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca.)

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend certain provisions of Act XIII of 1856: It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

1. Sections XIII, L, LIX, LXXVI, LXXVIII, and Clause 13 of Section LXXXI of Act XIII of 1856 (for regulating the Police of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and the several stations of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca) are repealed, and the following Sections are substituted in lieu thereof.

Sections repealed.

II. Whoever, being a member of the Police Force or being employed in any Police Office, asks for or takes any bribe or unauthorized reward, shall be dismissed by order of the Commissioner, and upon conviction before a Magistrate, shall be liable to fine not exceeding five hundred Rupees, or to imprisonment, with or without hard labor, for any term not exceeding six months.

Police Officers taking bribes.

III. Whoever in the Towns of Calcutta and Madras, or in any Station of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, has or keeps any hotel, tavern, punch-house, ale-house, arrack or toddy-shop, or place for smoking chandoo or other preparation of opium; or any eating-house, coffee-house, boarding-house, lodging-house, or other place of public resort and entertainment, wherein provisions, liquors, or refreshments of any kind are sold or consumed (whether the same be kept or retailed therein or procured elsewhere), without a license from the Commissioner of Police; and whoever, in the Town of Bombay has or keeps any such hotel, tavern house, shop, or place, or who sells by retail in any place any spirituous or fermented liquors without such license, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty Rupees for every day that such unlicensed house or place is kept open or that such unlicensed sale by retail is continued.

(CALCUTTA, MADRAS, AND THE STRAITS' SETTLEMENT.)

Penalty for keeping taverns and places of public entertainment without a license from the Commissioner of Police.

(BOMBAY.)

Penalty for keeping such house and for retailing spirits in any place without a license.

IV. When any cards, dice, gaming-table or cloth, board, or other instruments of gaming, which are found in any house, room, or place, of which information has been given on oath to the Commissioner of Police that it is suspected of being used as a common gaming-house, or about the person of any of those who are found therein, it shall be evidence, until the contrary is made to appear, that such house, room, or place is used as a common gaming-house, and that the persons found therein were there present for the purpose of gaming, although no play was actually seen by the Police Officer, or any of his assistants.

Common gaming-houses.

V. Any Inspector or superior Officer of Police may enter any shop or premises for the purpose of inspecting the weights and measures and instruments for weighing, kept or used therein, and may seize any weight, measure, or instrument for weighing which he may have reason to believe is false.

Powers of Inspector, &c., to enter shops to seize false weights and measures.

VI. No boat shall ply for passengers in the Port of Calcutta, or in any of the Ports of the said Settlement, unless duly registered at the Police Office. The following particulars shall be entered in the Register.

In Calcutta and the Ports of the Straits' Settlement, passenger boats to be registered.

First.—Number of the boat.

Second.—Name and residence of the owner, and of the manjee.

Third.—Number of the crew.

Fourth.—Number of persons the boat is permitted to carry.

Registration.

The registration shall be in force for one year; and every change of the owner or manjee within that time shall be therein noted. A fee of one Rupee shall be paid on registration.

Name of owner or manjee, number, &c. to be painted.

The owner or manjee of every such registered boat shall cause to be painted on a conspicuous part of it, in the English and Vernacular languages, the registered number thereof, the number of the crew, and the number of passengers permitted to be carried.

Penalty.

The owner or manjee of a boat plying for passengers without being duly registered, or carrying more passengers, or with a less crew, than is stated in the register, or not having the prescribed particulars painted on it, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty Rupees.

Discharging fire-arms, fire-works, &c.

VII. Whoever sets fire to, or burns any straw or other matter, or lights any bon-fire, or wantonly discharges any fire-arm, or air-gun, or lets off or throws any fire-work, or sends up any fire-balloon, in or near any public street, road, or thoroughfare, except at such times and places as shall be from time to time allowed by the Commissioner of Police, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty Rupees.

Construction.

VIII. This Act shall be read with and taken as part of the said Act XIII of 1856.

W. Morgan,
Clerk of the Council.

No. 502 of 1859.—After a long and brilliant Career in India the 9th, "Queen's Royal," Lancers are on the eve of leaving Calcutta for England.

From the beginning of the Hostilities in which the British Army in India has recently been engaged, this Regiment has held a foremost place in the Contest.

Its name is inseparably connected with the Siege of Delhi, during which the Services rendered by its Officers and Men were various and most important: and in the latter Campaigns in Rohilcund and Oude it has closed its term with much Honor.

In taking leave of the 9th Lancers, the Viceroy and Governor General in Council desires to offer to this distinguished Regiment his hearty Thanks, not only for its good Services before the Enemy, but for the admirable Example which it has presented to the young Soldiers of the Indian Army by its perfection of Discipline, Conduct, and Efficiency.

The Regiment will be saluted by the Guns of Fort William on its departure.

Notice.

Tenders for the transportation of Salt from the Central and Southern Agencies of Orissa, to the Government Golahs at Sulkea, will be received at this Office until 2 P. M., of the 17th of May next.

2. The Tenders must be drawn up according to a form which may be obtained on application at this Office.

3. Distinct contracts must be entered into for the removal of the Salt in each of the three following localities, to wit Hunsooah (in Central Cuttack) and the Ustrung Aurungs and the Chilka Lake Aurungs, in the Southern or Poorce Agency.

4. Parties tendering must satisfy the Board of Revenue and the Commissioner of Cuttack, that they possess the means of conveying the full quantity of Salt tendered for, and with this object a list of the vessels intended to be employed must accompany each Tender.

5. The quantity of Salt to be shipped at the Hunsooah Golahs will probably not exceed 1,00,000 maunds in each year; that from the Ustrungs is roughly estimated at 80,000 maunds for the ensuing season, and that from the Chilka Aurungs at maunds 3,20,000. The tenderer may apply for the whole quantity for which freight is required at each locality, or for any part not less than a quarter of such quantity.

6. Contractors must engage to ship the Salt allotted to them, during the period between the last spring tides of October and the end of February.

7. Parties whose tenders are accepted will be required to make a deposit of Government Promissory Notes, or to furnish other unexceptionable Security for the performance of their contracts.

8. The Board reserve to themselves the right of rejecting any Tender without assigning a reason.

By order of the Board of Revenue,

E. T. TREVOR,
Secretary.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 20, 1859.

Legislative Council of India.

THE 9TH APRIL 1859.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 9th April 1859, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 13th of July next:—

A Bill to amend Act XIII of 1856 (for regulating the Police of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and the several stations of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca.)

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend certain provisions of Act XIII of 1856: It is enacted as follows:—

Sections repealed.

I. Sections XIII, L, LIX, LXXVI, LXXVIII, and Clause 13 of Section LXXXI of Act XIII of 1856 (for regulating the Police of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and the several stations of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca) are repealed, and the following Sections are substituted in lieu thereof.

Police Officers taking bribes.

II. Whoever, being a member of the Police Force or being employed in any Police Office, asks for or takes any bribe or unauthorized reward, shall be dismissed by order of the Commissioner, and upon conviction before a Magistrate, shall be liable to fine not exceeding five hundred Rupees, or to imprisonment, with or without hard labor, for any term not exceeding six months.

(CALCUTTA, MADRAS, AND THE STRAITS' SETTLEMENT.)

Penalty for keeping taverns and places of public entertainment without a license from the Commissioner of Police.

III. Whoever in the Towns of Calcutta and Madras, or in any Station of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, has or keeps any hotel, tavern, punch-house, ale-house, arrack or toddy-shop, or place for smoking chundoo or other preparation of opium; or any eating-house, coffee-house, boarding-house, lodging-house, or other place of public resort and entertainment, wherein provisions, liquors, or refreshments of any kind are sold or consumed (whether the same be kept or retailed therein or procured elsewhere), without a license from the Commissioner of Police; and whoever, in the Town of Bombay has or keeps any such hotel, tavern house, shop, or place, or who sells by retail in any place any spirituous or fermented liquors without such license, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty Rupees for every day that such unlicensed house or place is kept open or that such unlicensed sale by retail is continued.

(BOMBAY.)

Penalty for keeping such house and for retailing spirits in any place without a license.

Common gaming-houses.

IV. When any cards, dice, gaming-table or cloth, board, or other instruments of gaming, which are found in any house, room, or place, of which information has been given on oath to the Commissioner of Police that it is suspected of being used as a common gaming-house, or about the person of any of those who are found therein, it shall be evidence, until the contrary is made to appear, that such house, room, or place is used as a common gaming-house, and that the persons found therein were there present for the purpose of gaming, although no play was actually seen by the Police Officer, or any of his assistants.

Powers of Inspector, &c., to enter shops to seize false weights and measures.

V. Any Inspector or superior Officer of Police may enter any shop or premises for the purpose of inspecting the weights and measures and instruments for weighing, kept or used therein, and may seize any weight, measure, or instrument for weighing which he may have reason to believe is false.

In Calcutta and the Ports of the Straits' Settlement, passenger boats to be registered.

VI. No boat shall ply for passengers in the Port of Calcutta, or in any of the Ports of the said Settlement, unless duly registered at the Police Office. The following particulars shall be entered in the Register.

First.—Number of the boat.

Second.—Name and residence of the owner, and of the manjee.

Third.—Number of the crew.

Fourth.—Number of persons the boat is permitted to carry.

Registration.

The registration shall be in force for one year; and every change of the owner or manjee within that time shall be therein noted. A fee of one Rupee shall be paid on registration.

Name of owner or manjee, number, &c. to be painted.

The owner or manjee of every such registered boat shall cause to be painted on a conspicuous part of it, in the English and Vernacular languages, the registered number thereof, the number of the crew, and the number of passengers permitted to be carried.

Penalty.

The owner or manjee of a boat plying for passengers without being duly registered, or carrying more passengers, or with a less crew, than is stated in the register, or not having the prescribed particulars painted on it, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty Rupees.

Discharging fire-arms, fire-works, &c.

VII. Whoever sets fire to, or burns any straw or other matter, or lights any bon-fire, or wantonly discharges any fire-arm, or air-gun, or lets off or throws any fire-work, or sends up any fire-balloon, in or near any public street, road, or thoroughfare, except at such times and places as shall be from time to time allowed by the Commissioner of Police, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty Rupees.

Construction.

VIII. This Act shall be read with and taken as part of the said Act XIII of 1856.

W. Morgan,

Clerk of the Council.

The 16th April 1859.

The following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 16th April 1859, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 20th of July next:—

A Bill for regulating the establishment of Markets.

Preamble.

Whereas the establishment of new markets in the neighbourhood of places where markets have been previously established, leads to disputes between the owners of the lands on which such new and previously established markets are held, and such disputes not unfrequently occasion breaches of the peace, and serious inconvenience to the frequenters of such markets; It is enacted as follows:—

No new market to be established without permission of Magistrate.

I. After the passing of this Act no person shall establish a new market without permission in writing from the Magistrate of the District. If any person shall attempt to establish a new market without such license, he shall on conviction by the Magistrate be subject to a fine not exceeding two hundred Rupees.

Application for permission.

II. When any person desires to establish a new market, he shall make application in writing to the Magistrate. The application shall specify the name of the place at which it is proposed to establish such new market, the days on which it is to be held, the name of the place where the nearest existing market is held, and the days on which it is held, the distance in English miles between the two places, and the reasons of the applicant for desiring to establish the new market.

Issue of proclamation and notice.

III. On receipt of the application the Magistrate shall issue a proclamation stating the desire of the applicant to establish a market at the place named by him and the days on which it is proposed to be held, and calling upon any person who may have any objection to the establishment of the market, to state his objection in writing within six weeks from the date of the proclamation. The proclamation shall be affixed in a conspicuous place in the village or town in or near to which it is proposed that the new market shall be held; and a copy of the same shall be affixed at the Police Station within the jurisdiction of which the village or town is situate and in the Court of the Magistrate. If it shall appear that any existing market is held within a distance of four miles from the place where it is proposed that the new market shall be established, the Magistrate shall cause a notice to the effect of the proclamation to be served upon the owner of the land where such existing market is held. The proclamation and notice (if any) shall be issued and served at the expense of the applicant.

Magistrate's order.

IV. If within the time specified in the proclamation and notice (if any), no objection is preferred to the establishment of the proposed market, the Magistrate shall pass an order permitting it to be established.

If objection be made.

If within the time specified any objection is preferred, the Magistrate shall enquire into the objection, and pass such order as may appear proper in the circumstances of the case.

Markets established two years before the passing of this Act.

V. If within six months from the passing of this Act any objection shall be preferred to the Magistrate in respect of any market which has been newly established within a period of two years before the passing of this Act, the Magistrate shall enquire into the objection, and if it shall appear that such new market has been established within a distance of four miles from any previously existing market, and that the establishment of the new market has been the cause of disturbances or other inconvenience to the people of the neigbourhood, the Magistrate may, if he think necessary, change the days upon which such new market is held, or at his discretion order that it be discontinued.

Appeal.

VI. Every order passed by a Magistrate under this Act shall be open to appeal to the Commissioner of Police, and the order of the Commissioner, subject to the control of the local Government, shall be final.

VII. Every person who shall contravene any order duly passed under this Act shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred Rupees. .

Penalty for contravening order.

VIII. All the provisions of this Act relative to the establishment of new markets shall be applicable also to the establishment of new fairs.

Act applicable to the establishment of new fairs.

FROM THE ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,
TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,

Military Department.

SIR,

Submits a Despatch from Major-General Whitlock, detailing operations against the Rebels at Kentee.

I HAVE the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward for submission to His Excellency the Governor General, the accompanying letter, in original, No. 167, of the 12th ultimo, from Major-General G. C. Whitlock, Commanding the Saugor Field Division, with annexures, relating to an engagement with the Rebels at Kentee, in Bundlecund, and I am to beg you will express Lord Clyde's approbation of the conduct of Brigadier Faddy, and the Troops engaged under his Command.

3. His Lordship desires specially to recommend for favorable notice the conduct of Captain Boileau, and the party of 2nd Seikh Cavalry under his Command, also to express his approval of the services of Captain Wright, Commandant of the 2nd Seikh Cavalry, as brought to notice by Major-General Whitlock.

3. The Commander-in-Chief desires further to recommend the admission to the Order of Merit, of the men named in the 17th paragraph of Brigadier Faddy's Despatch.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) W. MAYHEW, Lieut.-Col.,
Adjt. Genl. of the Army.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE ;
Calcutta,
The 6th April 1859.

No. 167.

FROM MAJOR-GENERAL G. C. WHITLOCK,
Commanding Saugor Field Division,
TO MAJOR-GENERAL SIR R. W. MANSFIELD, K. C. B.
Chief of the Staff,
With Army Head Quarters.
Camp near Nagode, 12th March 1859.

SIR,

I HAD the honor to communicate to the Right Honorable the Commander-in-Chief, in my letter No. 60, and dated 3rd March, to the address of the Quarter-Master General, my having detached every available Soldier from this place to try to fall in, if possible, with the Rebels under Munzoor Ally and Runmutt Sing, who had committed two murders and other atrocities in this neighbourhood, I beg now to enclose a copy of a Despatch from Brigadier Faddy, who had the good fortune to encounter them in force at the village of Kentee. The prompt and decisive measures taken on this occasion by the Brigadier, the gallantry with which that Officer's orders were executed, call for the highest commendations, and I do indeed most cordially and warmly recommend to the special notice of His Lordship, Brigadier Faddy and those Officers named in his Despatch. A Detachment of the A Troop Horse Artillery well merit the praise bestowed upon them by the Brigadier. I well know the keen disappointment it must have been to them not to have brought their guns into action.

The Columns under Lieutenant-Colonel Oakes, Her Majesty's 12th Lancers; Major Chichester, Her Majesty's 97th Regiment; Major Middleton, of the 17th Native Infantry; Major Babington, of the 17th Native Infantry, although not having met with the Rebels, still performed the responsible duties allotted to them in the most satisfactory manner. Captain Wright, Commanding the 2nd Seikh Cavalry, and his gallant body have done their duty well. Captain Wright has been on the constant move and kept that part of the country entrusted to his care quite free from Rebels. A Roll shall be sent to the Commander-in-Chief of the men recommended for the Order of Merit. I have been inconstant communication with Mr. Mayne, the Collector of Banda, and whose information again has been most useful to me. Brigadier Faddy has recorded his sense of the services of Lieutenant Osborne, the Political Agent of Rewah, in enabling him to learn the movements of the Rebels.

I would beg permission to mention, that the information that I have received from a valuable and intelligent Officer, Mr. Coles, the Deputy Political Agent at Nagode, was of the greatest assistance to me.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) G. C. WHITLOCK, Major-General,
Commanding Saugor Field Division,

FROM BRIGADIER P. P. FADDY,
Comdg. Artillery Brigade and Field Detachment,
Saugor Field Division,
TO THE ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL,
Saugor Field Division, Nagode.
Camp Kentee, 5th March 1859.

SIR,

Artillery.
Captain Heneagan.
Lieutenant Anderson.
Troop Quarter Master Knox.
3 Serjeants.
49 Rank and File.
83 Horses.
2 6-pounder Guns.
1 12-pounder Howitzer.
2nd Seikh Cavalry.
Captain Boileau.
6 Native Officers.
162 Non-Commissioned Rank and File.

ON the 3rd instant, I reported my arrival at Rewah. I have now the honor to state that at 2 P. M. on that afternoon, I marched for Simereah with the half A. Troop Madras Horse Artillery and one Squadron of Seikh Cavalry, strength as per margin, arriving there by 9 P. M.

2. Early on the morning of the 4th, intelligence was received by Captain Osborne, the Political Agent, that the Rebels had moved from their positions at Mynhna and Kutchereea with the intention of proceeding towards Myaqurhee. Orders were sent off to Major McDonell, 27th Madras Native Infantry, Commanding the Infantry Detachments at Rewah to proceed immediately to Mungowah on the Mirzapore Road, and there await orders, and I marched at 10½ A. M. with Horse Artillery and Seikhs towards Kentee. At 4 miles from Camp I received intelligence that the Rebels had been at a village about six miles ahead and were then encamped at a village a short distance beyond. I pushed on a Troop of Cavalry to reconnoitre, following as rapidly as I could with the Artillery and remaining Troop.

3. About three miles on we crossed the "Tons" River, a most difficult passage for the guns, and three miles further on, met the River Beehur or Gogur, a branch of the Tons. Here we were delayed a considerable time, the usual ford at the village of Chachye being impassable for guns ; another ford was found half a mile lower down by which we crossed, the Artillery with excessive difficulty being obliged to drag the guns up nearly a perpendicular bank by hand.

4. While the guns were crossing, I pushed on the Cavalry to Sirmoul, and shortly after had the gratification of hearing from Captain Boileau, who commanded them, that the enemy were halted a short distance ahead of him.

5. As soon as the guns were over the River, I again pushed on at a sharp trob and came up with the Cavalry, halted about one mile from the village of Kentee where the enemy were in position.

6. I moved on to the attack, the Cavalry on the right, and guns on the left, but was brought up by the Mahanna Nuddee, a wide and rocky branch of the Tons River with very steep banks.

7. The enemy were drawn up in position with this River on their front, flanked by the village of Kentee on their right, and a deep impassable Nullah on their left.

8. On first approaching the River, they seemed inclined to stand, but on the guns nearing them, they moved off slowly towards the village.

9. I proceeded with the Cavalry across the Nuddee and up the bank of the nullah, which I crossed about quarter of a mile in rear of the enemy's first position, with the intention of keeping them in view till the guns could be brought up, the River and Nullah forming almost an impracticable hindrance for guns.

10. Having crossed the Nullah and got well in rear of their position, I brought my right shoulders forward and halted in line to watch the enemy's movements. After a few minutes we observed the enemy advancing from the village to take possession of a tope in our front.

11 From the dense mass in which the enemy came on, I should estimate their numbers at from twelve to sixteen hundred men, including a few Sowars.

12. On reconnoitring their position in the tope, it was observed the enemy were moving out and showed intention of coming down on the Cavalry, but suddenly changing their direction, they moved off in a compact body to their left, apparently in the direction of Gurh. I immediately sent back an Officer to the rear to bring up the guns with the utmost expedition, but by this time it was near 4 P. M., and no signs of the guns coming on, and fearing from the lateness of the hour, I should be unable to inflict any punishment on the enemy were I to wait for them, I determined to attack with the Cavalry, strength as per margin, and accordingly ordered them to form up in line and placing myself at their head accompanied by Captain Howlett, Lieutenants Ward and Shaw, I directed their Commanding Officer, Captain F. W. Boileau to charge; and from personal observation can testify to the dashing manner in which the Squadron carried out my orders led by their gallant Commander.

13. After a gallop of 400 yards we crossed a high bank with a ditch on the other side, from behind which we were greeted with a heavy discharge of musketry, but this had no effect in checking the advance of the Seikhs, who plied their swords most vigorously and effectually, continuing the pursuit for about two miles, when I considered it prudent to recall them, and we rejoined the guns at about half past five, just as they were dragging the last one across the Nullah. I think the Major General will agree with me, that the dashing charge of so small a body of Cavalry against such superior numbers was a most gallant exploit, and reflects the greatest credit on the Seikh Cavalry.

14. I cannot speak too highly of the manner in which the half A Troop Madras Horse Artillery overcame every difficulty and brought their guns over ground which, had they not effected it, I should have considered impassable for Artillery, and which requires to be seen to form a correct idea of the obstacles they surmounted. It is to me a matter of the deepest regret that after all their exertions, they had not an opportunity of showing the enemy what metal they were made of, and I feel well assured that very few of the enemy would have escaped, had this desirable point been effected, as it was 102 bodies were counted dead on the field, most of whom were Sepoys, and several wounded men have since been brought in.

15. Sixty Stands of Arms, nearly all percussion, one Enfield Rifle, 17 Matchlocks and 15 Swords have been collected from the Field, and the Seikh Cavalry have had the high honor of capturing the Regimental Colour of the late 30th Bengal Native Infantry, also several articles, the property of the Engineers who were lately murdered by these Rebels, have been recovered.

16. I beg to enclose a Return of Killed and Wounded which considering the smallness of the body engaged, I regret to say is heavy.

17. Captain Boileau has brought prominently to my notice the under-mentioned men. Naib Ressaldar, Khan Sing, 6th Troop; Jemadar Acbar Khan, 5th Troop, Jemadar Goolab Sing, 6th Troop, Duffadar Mahomed Khan, 5th Troop; and Lance Duffadar Shiojee Sing, 6th Troop; and I beg that Major General Whitlock will do me the favor to recommend them to the Right Honorable the Commender-in-Chief as fitting candidates for the Order of Merit.

18. I cannot speak too highly of the cheerfulness and alacrity with which all ranks of the small Column under my command have undergone the fatigues of the severe marches from Nagode, a distance of 106 miles which we have accomplished in sixty-nine hours, the last fifteen being across-country at a trot and a canter.

19. I beg to bring to the favorable notice of the Major General the Officers who acted on my Staff, namely* Captain A. Howlett, 27th Madras Native Infantry, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master General; Captain C. H. Harrison, Madras Artillery, Brigade Major; Lieutenant Ward, Madras Rifles, and Lieutenant Shaw, Madras Artillery, Orderly Officers, whose zeal and energy deserve every commendation, and my best thanks are also due to Captain Henegan, Commanding the Artillery, and Captain Boileau, Commanding the Seikhs.

* Captain A. Howlett, 27th Madras Native Infantry.
Captain C. H. Harrison, Madras Artillery.
Lieutenant Ward, Madras Rifles.

" Boileau, Seikhs.

20. I would also wish to bring to notice Dr. Abbott, of the Bengal Service, whose kindness and attention to the wounded has been unremitting.

Dr. Abbott.

21. I must not omit to mention that the whole of this success must be atributed to the excellent information afforded by W. Osborne, Esq., Political Agent of Rewah, to whom I beg to tender my sincere thanks.

Captain Osborne.

22. I march this evening from Kentee to Gurh, where the Infantry under Major McDonell have been ordered to join, and where I hope Captain Osborne will receive further intelligence by which I shall be guided.

23. Hoping that these movements will meet with the Major General's approval.

I have, &c.,

Commanding Artillery Brigade, and Field Detachment, Saugor Field Division.

P. S.—Since my Despatch was written, Captain Osborne has succeeded in gaining the following specific intelligence from some of the prisoners who were examined separately, that Runmutt Sing is the Commander-in-Chief of the Rebel Army, and Mundroog Sing, Commander of the Mutineers, who are men of the 2nd Grenadiers, 7th, 11th, 30th, 38th, 40th and 53rd Regiments Native Infantry to the number of five hundred men, and that Furzund Ally and Lopal Sing, with a party of 50 mounted men, keep half a mile in advance of the main body to reconnoitre.

No. 257.

Notice.

TENDERS for the transportation of Salt from the Central and Southern Agencies of Orissa, to the Government Golahs at Sulkea, will be received at this Office until 2 P. M., of the 17th of May next.

2. The Tenders must be drawn up according to a form which may be obtained on application at this Office.

3. Distinct contracts must be entered into for the removal of the Salt in each of the three following localities, to wit Hunsooah (in Central Cuttack) and the Ustrung Aurungs and the Chilka Lake Aurungs, in the Southern or Poorce Agency.

4. Parties tendering must satisfy the Board of Revenue and the Commissioner of Cuttack, that they possess the means of conveying the full quantity of Salt tendered for, and with this object a list of the vessels intended to be employed must accompany each Tender.

5. The quantity of Salt to be shipped at the Hunsooah Golahs will probably not exceed 1,00,000 maunds in each year; that from the Ustrungs is roughly estimated at 80,000 maunds for the ensuing season, and that from the Chilka Aurungs at maunds 3,20,000. The tenderer may apply for the whole quantity for which freight is required at each locality, or for any part not less than a quarter of such quantity.

6. Contractors must engage to ship the Salt allotted to them, during the period between the last spring tides of October and the end of February.

7. Parties whose tenders are accepted will be required to make a deposit of Government Promissory Notes, or to furnish other unexceptionable Security for the performance of their contracts.

Notification.

WITH the sanction of the Governor General of India in Council, it is hereby declared that the Port of Rangoon, and the Navigable River and Channels leading to that Port, are subject to Act XXII. of 1855.

The limits of the said Port of Rangoon are as follows:—

To the West.—A Line drawn South-West from the boundary pillar at Kemmendine across the Rangoon River, to the boundary pillar on the opposite bank at the entrance of the Panlang Creek.

To the South-East.—A Line drawn East from King's Point on the Dallah side of the Rangoon River, to the boundary pillar on the Syriam side.

To the North-East.—A Line running North-West and South-East drawn from the boundary pillar on the Rangoon or West side of the Pegu River, to a boundary pillar on the Syriam or East side, so much of Puzzomdoung Creek as lies South of a Line drawn from a pillar on the East above Kyeezeik Village to a pillar opposide to the West bank of the Creek.

The limits of the said Port include to the North and South, so much of the Rangoon River and of the Shores thereof, and so much of the Puzzomdoung Creek, and the Shores thereof as are within fifty yards of high-water mark spring tides.

The limits of the Navigable River and Channels leading to the said Port, made subject to the said Act, are as follows:

To the North.—The Port of Rangoon as above defined.

To the South.—A Line drawn East and West from the Light Ship.

All Ports of the Rangoon River between the said limits and below high-water line at spring tides are subject to the said Act.

PORT RULES.

I. No vessel, if above 200 tons, shall enter within the limits of the Port of Rangoon, or move from one place to another within the Port, between sun-set and sun-rise, without the special permission of the Master Attendant.

II. The Commanders of all vessels arriving at the Port of Rangoon are desired to enter correctly in the Columns of the Report Book of the Master Attendant, as soon as presented to them, the information therein required, regarding their vessels. They will also report in writing to the Master Attendant twenty-four hours before their departure the particulars noted in the forms appended hereto.

III. All Commanders of vessels arriving at Rangoon shall anchor in such a position as the Master Attendant or his Assistant shall direct. All vessels above 100 tons' burthen shall moor with two bower anchors and 30 fathoms of cable each way, and shall not move from their position without a Pilot, except with the express permission of the same authority.

IV. All Commanders of vessels shall have their jib and driver booms rigged in, when required by the Master Attendant, and shall strike their yard and masts if required so to do by, or by order of the same Officer.

V. Every ship or vessel within the Port of Rangoon shall have removed any anchor or spar or other substance projecting from her side, when so required by the Master Attendant, or other Officer of the Port.

VI. The Commanders of all vessels entering the Port of Rangoon, with ballast on board, shall without delay send to the Master Attendant a report in writing, stating the description of ballast on board, the quantity in tons, and the port of shipment; application must be made by the Commander to the Master Attendant for permission to tranship or land ballast, and no ballast shall be transhipped or landed except under the sanction of the Master Attendant and only at such Stations as he shall direct.

VII. A free channel of 240 yards which is to be kept for ships moving up or down the River within the Port, and also free passages to Piers, Jetties, Landing places, Wharves, Quays, Docks and Moorings, and all vessels shall be bound to move when required to clear such channels or passages.

VIII. All vessels within the Port of Rangoon shall be moored or warped from place to place as required by the Master Attendant, or other Officer of the Port, and no vessels shall cast off a warp that has been made fast to her to assist a vessel in mooring without being required to do so by the Pilot or Officer in charge of the vessel mooring.

IX. No vessels within the limits of the Port of Rangoon shall boil any pitch or dammer on board, or shall draw off spirits by candle or other artificial lights.

X. All vessels within the limits of the Channels leading to the Port of Rangoon shall when at anchor, between sun-set and sun-rise, have a good light hoisted at the starboard fore-yard arm; and all vessels under weigh at night shall show a good light at the fore-royal or upper foremast head, and when under weigh in tow of a steamer shall in addition to the masthead light, show a good light at each fore-yard arm; the steamer showing the usual light prescribed by the Admiralty Regulations.

XI. No vessel shall use any of the Government chain moorings, whether fixed or swinging, without permission of the Master Attendant.

XII. All vessels occupying Government mooring fixed or swinging, shall be liable to pay for the same, according to the following scale and no more:—

	From 1st November to 30th May, being seven months. Per Diem, Rs.	From 1st June to 31st October, being five months. Per Diem, Rs.

SATURDAY, APRIL 23, 1859.

Legislative Council of India.

THE 16TH APRIL 1859.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 16th April 1859, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 20th of July next:—

A Bill for regulating the establishment of Markets.

Preamble.

WHEREAS the establishment of new markets in the neighbourhood of places where markets have been previously established, leads to disputes between the owners of the lands on which such new and previously established markets are held, and such disputes not unfrequently occasion breaches of the peace, and serious inconvenience to the frequenters of such markets; It is enacted as follows:—

No new market to be established without permission of Magistrate.

I. After the passing of this Act no person shall establish a new market without permission in writing from the Magistrate of the District. If any person shall attempt to establish a new market without such license, he shall on conviction by the Magistrate be subject to a fine not exceeding two hundred Rupees.

Application for permission.

II. When any person desires to establish a new market, he shall make application in writing to the Magistrate. The application shall specify the name of the place at which it is proposed to establish such new market, the days on which it is to be held, the name of the place where the nearest existing market is held, and the days on which it is held, the distance in English miles between the two places, and the reasons of the applicant for desiring to establish the new market.

Issue of proclamation and notice.

III. On receipt of the application the Magistrate shall issue a proclamation stating the desire of the applicant to establish a market at the place named by him and the days on which it is proposed to be held, and calling upon any person who may have any objection to the establishment of the market, to state his objection in writing within six weeks from the date of the proclamation. The proclamation shall be affixed in a conspicuous place in the village or town in or near to which it is proposed that the new market shall be held; and a copy of the same shall be affixed at the Police Station within the jurisdiction of which the village or town is situate and in the Court of the Magistrate. If it shall appear that any existing market is held within a distance of four miles from the place where it is proposed that the new market shall be established, the Magistrate shall cause a notice to the effect of the proclamation to be served upon the owner of the land where such existing market is held. The proclamation and notice (if any) shall be issued and served at the expense of the applicant.

Magistrate's order.

IV. If within the time specified in the proclamation and notice (if any), no objection is preferred to the establishment of the proposed market, the Magistrate shall pass an order permitting it to be established. If within the time specified any objection is preferred, the Magistrate shall enquire into the objection, and pass such order as may appear proper in the circumstances of the case.

If objection be made.

V. If within six months from the passing of this Act any objection shall be preferred to the Magistrate in respect of any market which has been newly established within a period of two years before the passing of this Act, the Magistrate shall enquire into the objection, and if it shall appear that such new market has been established within a distance of four miles from any previously existing market, and that the establishment of the new market has been the cause of disturbances or other inconvenience to the people of the neigbourhood, the Magistrate may, if he think necessary, change the days upon which such new market is held, or at his discretion order that it be discontinued.

Markets established two years before the passing of this Act.

VII. Every person who shall contravene any order duly passed under this Act shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred Rupees.

Penalty for contravening order.

VIII. All the provisions of this Act relative to the establishment of new markets shall be applicable also to the establishment of new fairs.

Act applicable to the establishment of new fairs.

No. 28 of 1859.

Fort William, 20th April 1859.

Notifications.—With reference to paragraph 14 of the Notification of this Department, No. 14, dated 21st February last, notice is hereby given, that the Sub-Treasurers at Fort William, Fort St. George and Bombay, the several Residents at Native Courts, and the several Collectors and other Officers in charge of Treasuries under the several Presidencies and Governments, and in the Provinces subordinate to the Government of India, have been authorized to receive from the 1st of May next, any sums of money in hundreds of Rupees, each being for not less than 500 of Company's Rupees which may be tendered on Loan to the Secretary of State in Council of India, at an interest of Five-and-a-half per Cent. per annum, subject to the provisions hereinafter specified.

Subscriptions to this Loan will be received from Holders of Five per Cent. Promissory Notes of this Government, half in Cash and half in the said Promissory Notes.

All authorized public demands, including audited Bills for arrears of Salary and Bills of Exchange on the Public Treasuries, these last being subject to a deduction at the rate of Five-and-a-half per Centum per annum for the period they may have to run, will be received as Cash at par.

The Pay-Masters of the Army under the several Presidencies are also authorized to transfer any demands which may be payable by them respectively to this Loan, and to grant Drafts for the amounts in Bengal and Madras on the Accountant General, and in Bombay on the Military Pay-Master General, which Drafts shall be received by those Officers in payment of subscriptions to this Loan, on being tendered to them for that purpose.

The several Public Officers, authorized to receive subscriptions into this Loan, will grant Acknowledgments in the following form, for all sums received by them respectively:—

" I hereby acknowledge that has this day paid into the Treasury at the sum of Company's Rupees for which entitled to receive a Promissory Note of the Secretary of State in Council of India, bearing Interest, from the of the tenor, and subject to the conditions of the Loan specified in the Advertisement published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 1859."

The Accountant General at Fort William will, on the said Acknowledgments being delivered, forthwith cause to be prepared and issued to the parties entitled thereto, Promissory Notes under the signature of the Secretary to the Government of India, in the following form:—

Fort William, the 31st May 1859.

Promissory Note at 5½ per Centum for Company's Rupees.

The Governor General of India in Council does hereby acknowledge to have received from the sum of Company's Rupees as a Loan to the Secretary of State in Council of India, and does hereby promise for and on behalf of the said Secretary of State in Council, to re-pay the said Loan by paying the said sum of Company's Rupees to the said his (or "her" or "their" as the case may be) Executors or Administrators, or his (or "her" as the case may be) or their order, on demand, at the General Treasury of Fort William, after the expiration of three months' notice of payment, to be given by the Governor General of India in Council in the Calcutta Gazette, and to pay the interest accruing on the said sum of Company's Rupees at the rate of Five-and-a-half per Cent. per annum, by Half-yearly payments at the General Treasury of Fort William to the said or his (or "her" or "their" as the case may be,) Executors or Administrators or his (or "her" as the case may be) or their order, until the expiration of three months after such notice of payment as aforesaid, when the amount of Interest due will be payable with the Principal, and (such notice being considered as equivalent to a tender of payment at the period appointed for the discharge of this Note) all further Interest shall cease. The Governor General in Council hereby further engages that the said Loan shall not be paid off before the 1st of May 1879.

Signed by the authority of the Governor General of India in Council,

Accountant General's Office; } Secretary to the Government."
Registered as No. of }

The several Officers authorized to receive subscriptions will, on application from the Holders of Acknowledgments, transmit them (free of every expense whatever) to the Accountant General at Fort William, to be exchanged for Promissory Notes bearing Interest from the 31st of May or the 30th of November next ensuing after the date of subscription. The Interest accruing on the broken period of the Half-year that may intervene between the date of subscription and the 31st of May or 30th of November next ensuing, as the case may be, will be paid up at the time of granting the Acknowledgment.

Proprietors of Notes or Acknowledgments, who may desire to have the Interest payable at any other Public Treasury than at the General Treasury of Calcutta, shall be entitled to receive it accordingly, provided they notify ther wish to the Accountant General at Fort William, and transmit the Notes or Acknowledgments to him, to have an order for the payment of Interest at the said Treasury, written on the face of the Notes under the signature of the said Officer or that of his Assistant; and after such order shall, on the application of the Proprietor, be inscribed on any note, the Interest shall be payable only from the said Treasury, unless the Proprietor shall present the Note, with an application for the purpose of transferring the payment elsewhere, to the Accountant General at Fort William.

If desired, Interest will also be made payable at the General Treasury at Fort William, for the period for which the Loan is guaranteed, by Coupons payable to Bearer. Promissory Notes with Coupons attached will be granted on application, instead of Promissory Notes in the usual form.

Or, if it be desired, Interest will be made payable at the East India House in London, by Bills payable to order on demand, on the General Treasuries of Calcutta or Madras, subject to the Rules and Regulations at present in force, or that may hereafter be issued by the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, or by this Government.

The Promissory Notes of this Loan shall not be renewed, sub-divided, or consolidated, except by the Accountant General of Fort William. The practice and rules heretofore in use in regard to the renewal, sub-division and consolidation of Promissory Notes will be adhered to in respect to the Promissory Notes of this Loan.

This Loan is limited to Five Crores of Rupees. No part of this Loan will be paid off before the 1st May 1879, nor without a previous notice of three months, to be issued at any time after the 31st January 1879.

The Five per Cent. Loan opened under Notification, dated 16th January 1857, will be closed from the 30th instant, after which date no further subscriptions to that Loan will be received, except in the cases of parties resident in Europe, who may have forwarded by the Mail which was to have left London on the 10th of April 1859, or by any previous Mail that left London after the 3rd of March 1859, written instructions for the immediate transfer to the said Loan of Promissory Notes of the 4 per Cent, 3½ per Cent and 4½ per Cent Loans, or Transfer Loan Securities. Subscriptions to the said Loan tendered under such instructions, on account of such parties, will be received at the General Treasuries of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, if the tender is made before the 1st of June next.

With the above exception Promissory Notes of the 4 per Cent, 3½ per Cent, and 4½ per Cent, Loans and Transfer Loan Securities, will not be receivable in subscription to any Loan after the 30th instant.

No. 29 of 1859.

It is hereby notified that from and after the 1st of May 1859, Interest on Government Promissory Notes of the Loans noted in the margin will, at the option of the Holders, be made payable for the period for which the said Loans have respectively been guaranteed, either in the manner heretofore observed, or by Coupons payable to Bearer signed by the Accountant General to the Government of India.

5 Per Cent. Public Works Loan of 1854-55.
5 Per Cent. Loan of 1856-57.
5½ Per Cent. Loan of 1859-60.

His Excellency in Council highly commends the conduct of Colonel Kelly, and of the Officers and Troops employed on the occasion.

No. 93.

FROM THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,
TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,
Military Department.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor by desire of the Commander in Chief to transmit, for the information of His Excellency the Governor General in Council, documents as per margin, relative to the recent operations of a column employed under Colonel R. D. Kelly, C. B., of Her Majesty's 34th Regiment, against the Rebels who had taken refuge in the borders of Nepaul.

1. Despatch (in original) from Colonel R. D. Kelly, C. B., dated 20th March 1859, with returns of casualties and captured Ordnance.
2. Despatch (in original) of Colonel R. D. Kelly, C. B., dated 28th March 1859.
3. Copy of a telegram from Brigadier F. Rowcroft, C. B., dated 4th April 1859.

2. Lord Clyde considers that Colonel Kelly has discharged the duty entrusted to him in a most successful manner; and that he and the Officers and Troops employed under him are deserving of the approbation of the Government.

3. I am to beg you will submit His Lordship's recommendation in favor of the men of the Jat Horse, whose gallantry is reported by Colonel Kelly.

4. As the reports of Majors Henry and Murray contain no information of importance, the Commander in Chief has not considered it necessary to send them.

I have, &c.,

HEAD QUARTERS' CAMP, DELHI;
The 6th April 1859.

No. 176 A.

FROM COLONEL R. D. KELLY,

Commdg. Troops, Nepal Frontier.

TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF,

Army Head Quarters.

Camp near Bootwul, Nepal, 26th March 1859.

SIR,

With reference to my letter No. 156, of 24th instant, to the Quarter-Master General of the Army, I have now the honor to report for the information of His Lordship the Commander-in-Chief that I left Karjooreah at 4 A. M. on the 25th instant for the purpose of attacking the Rebels, said to be in force at a place called Jouraha in the heart of the Terai, with the Force named in the margin.

J. Field Battery, R. A.

4 Officers.
88 N. C. O. & Gunners.
4 Guns.

Jât Horse.

4 English Officers.
13 Native Ditto.
464 Sabres.

3rd Sikh Infantry.

4 English Officers.
16 Native Ditto.
766 N. C. O. & Privates.

7th Punjaub Infantry.

4 English Officers.
15 Native Ditto.
573 N. C. O. Rank & File.

2. At Beturhee I halted the Column for about an hour whilst I went forward with a Troop of Cavalry to reconnoitre the jungle about three (3) miles in our front, but could see nothing of the Enemy's outposts, although the villagers told us they had been there early that morning.

3. I accordingly advanced the Column, and covered by a strong line of skirmishers of the 3rd Sikh Infantry, we proceeded through a thick jungle with occasional open spaces, where a resolute Enemy might have occasioned us heavy loss.

4. On reaching Jouraha we learnt that some of the Rebels had proceeded West, while others had gone on towards Bootwul I determined to continue my march towards that place, being of opinion that the majority of them would try to escape by a road running West from Bootwul through the jungle under the first range of hills, being the same by which they entered Nepal.

5. Here I was obliged to leave the Detachment Her Majesty 13th Light Infantry, as by some misapprehension they had not brought cooked rations with them, and had to halt to give the men a meal, and I considered the Force with me sufficiently strong for pursuit, and was anxious to lose no time.

6. When within two or three miles of Bootwul, about 4 P. M., the Cavalry flankers on our left reported the Enemy as being in force in some topes in the open country on our left skirting the jungle.

7. I immediately desired Captain Rennie to cover our advance in that direction with the 3rd Sikhs thrown out in skirmishing order. I formed the rest of the Column in line to the left; the four guns of the J. Field Battery, Royal Artillery, being on the left of the 7th Punjaub Infantry, and a squadron of Murray's Jât Horse on each flank of the line, and in that order proceeded towards the Enemy.

8. I left the baggage in rear in charge of two Companies 7th Punjaub Infantry, and one Troop Jât Horse. I also sent an express to Jouraha to bring up the Detachment 13th Light Infantry, who, although they used every exertion, were not able to arrive till after the affair was over, much to the regret of Lieutenant-Colonel King, his Officers and men.

9. After proceeding about half a mile we came on the Enemy posted in a good position, his right resting on a elevated ridge, and his line extending through topes strongly occupied by Infantry to the jungle on which their left rested, and in which they had large bodies of men. They had guns on both flanks, which were also covered by strong bodies of Cavalry, of whom they had at least 1,200 in the field with about 4,000 Infantry visible. Indeed prisoners have since informed us that the whole of the Rebel Army was on the ground under the command of Bala Roa. The ground in their front was intersected by Nullahs and deep irrigation Channels, which offered great obstacles to the rapid progress of the guns.

10. The skirmishers of the 3rd Sikhs, ably directed by Captain Rennie, soon drove the left of the Enemy into the jungle while the sharp fire of Major Henry's guns made them leave the topes. Their Cavalry on each flanks made an attempt to turn our flanks and get at the baggage in the rear, but were promptly stopped on our right by the fire of two Companies of 7th Punjaub Infantry under the command of Lieutenant Gordon, H. M. 61st Regiment, the Second in Command, whom Captain Stafford had most judiciously ordered to change front to the right, and by a dashing charge made on them by Major Murray with a Squadron Jât Horse.

11. The Rebel Cavalry on the left were similarly dispersed by a charge which I directed Lieutenant Chalmers, 2nd in Command, Jât Horse, to make on them with his Squadron which he led most gallantly killing two men with his own hand. The Squadron then wheeled to the right and took a gun on the ridge, and a general advance of the whole line and guns drove the Enemy across the Nullah into the jungle, several of them being cut down in the open Plain by our Cavalry.

12. On the edge of the jungle, the Sepoys made a stand for some time, and their fire I regret to say caused several casualties among men and Horses of our Cavalry who were then in advance, but the skirmishers of the 3d Sikhs and 7th Punjaub Infantry, and the discharge of some rounds of case from the guns which rapidly came up inflicted heavy loss on them and put them to flight.

13. It was now nearly 6 o'clock and would soon be too dark to act in the jungle; the men and horses had been out since 4 A. M. and had marched from 18 to 20 miles mostly under a burning sun, besides being engaged for two hours. We had taken four guns on the Field, besides two which were found the following day abandoned by the Enemy, together with 15 cart loads of ammunition and a gilded howdah, supposed from the royal fish of Oude carved on it, to have belonged to the Begum.

14 I accordingly pitched my camp having previously sent patrols of Cavalry along the road leading West. The Rebels retired through the jungle into the Hills where we saw their fires burning at a considerable elevation. Their loss must have been severe in killed and wounded, judging from the bodies found in the open Plain, and the number stated by native reports to be in the jungle. Our casualties amounted to thirty-six, of which I enclose a numerical and nominal Return, together with a list of captured Ordnance.

15. It only remains for me to draw the attention of His Excellency to the admirable manner in which Officers and Soldiers of all ranks, both British and Native, behaved in their steadiness under fire and their patient endurance of heat and fatigue, and to bring to the favorable notice of Lord Clyde the names of Major Henry, R. A., Commanding J. Field Battery; Major Murray, Commanding Jât Horse, to whom I am particularly indebted, not only for the able manner in which he commanded his Corps on this occasion, but also for the zeal and readiness which he has invariably displayed since he has been under my command in reconnoitring and procuring intelligence;

Captain Rennie, Commanding 3rd Sikh Infantry, a most admirable Light Infantry Corps; and Captain Stafford, Commanding 7th Punjaub Infantry; Lieutenant Cochrane, Her Majesty 34th Regiment, my Staff Officer, who is always most indefatigable in the discharge of his duty; Lieutenant Fitzgerald, Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, who acted as my Orderly Officer.

16. I have also to express my sense of the exertions of all the Medical Officers of Corps in their attention to the wounded, particularly to Assistant Surgeon McKellar, Jât Horse, the senior present, and whose Corps had by far the greatest number wounded. Major Murray also mentioned his being most useful and active in carrying orders for him during the action. I must also mention the name of Ensign Hennessy, Her Majesty 24th Regiment, Adjutant of the Jât Horse, a most promising young Officer, and who by remaining on Picquet for three days watching the Enemy's outposts before I entered the Terai, was able to furnish me with reliable intelligence and a sketch of the Country.

I am also much indebted to Mr. Pipe, Deputy Magistrate, who accompained me into Nepal, for the very useful information he has afforded me respecting this part of the country. Sheikh Khyroodeen Ahmud, Deputy Magistrate, attached to this Force, has also been most useful in procuring intelligence.

17. Major Murray has also brought to my notice the names of the following Native Officers and men of the Jât Horse, who particularly distinguished themselves on this occasion on charging a gun, viz.:—

4th Troop.

Resaldar Chona Man.
Duffadar Totaram.
Sowar Sirreeram.

6th Troop.

Resaldar Ramrutton.
Jemadar Mookram, who saved Lieutenant Chalmers' life in the charge when attacked by superior numbers.
Sowar Mahoo Sing Sreekrissen, who lost his arm charging the gun.

And I trust they may be suitably rewarded.

I enclose Major Murray's letter forwarding their names, and also a letter from Major Henry, R. A. detailing the proceedings of the J. Field Battery during the day.

I have, &c.,

From Colonel R. D. Kelly,
Commanding Field Force,

To the Quarter-Master General of the Army,
Army Head Quarters.

Camp near Bootwul, 28th March 1859.

Sir,

I have the honor to report to you for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief that the Force under Lieutenant-Colonel Simpson having joined me yesterday, I carried out my plan of attacking the Rebels in the first range of hills whither they had retreated after their defeat on the 25th.

2. At day-light this morning having established a chain of picquets of Infantry, Cavalry and Artillery, skirting the jungle in order to cut off their retreat, I formed two Columns, composed of the 3rd Sikhs and 7th Punjaub Infantry respectively, 100 Rank and File of Her Majesty's 13th Regiment Light Infantry being attached to each, which ascended the hills at different points and beat the jungle to the summit of the ridge, driving the mass of the Rebels completely over the first range of hills, killing from 3 to 400 of them, and taking a quantity of arms of all sorts, 6 Elephants and about 25 Camels and 300 Horses and Ponies.

The Columns were most ably led by Captains Rennie and Stafford, Commanding respectively the 3rd Sikhs and 7th Punjaub Infantry, and they deserve the greatest credit for the manner in which they so successfully carried out my instructions. All Officers and men engaged were animated with the greatest ardor, and seemed entirely to disregard the toil of fighting their way up a steep hill side covered with dense jungle under a burning sun, and opposed by a numerous if not a resolute Foe, who had also the advantage of a superior position I trust soon to be able to transmit for His Excellency's information a report of their proceedings from Captains Stafford and Rennie. Our casualties amounted to, I regret to say, 5 killed and 9 wounded; among the latter was Lieutenant and Adjutant Baillie, 7th Punjaub Infantry, a most excellent Officer. He received a severe scalp wound on the back of his head from a musket ball. The wound I am happy to say is not considered dangerous and he is going on well. The mass of the Rebels are I hear now between the 1st and 2nd ranges of hills, where they will find it difficult to get food, which I hope will soon oblige them to surrender. The Nawab Mirza Nadir of Lucknow gave himself up to day with about 50 followers, and Mahomoned Hussein has sent in to ask for terms. The health of the Troops continues very good.

Notice.

Tenders for the transportation of Salt from the Central and Southern Agencies of Orissa, to the Government Golahs at Sulkea, will be received at this Office until 2 P. M., of the 17th of May next.

2. The Tenders must be drawn up according to a form which may be obtained on application at this Office.

3. Distinct contracts must be entered into for the removal of the Salt in each of the three following localities, to wit Hunsooah (in Central Cuttack) and the Ustrung Aurungs and the Chilka Lake Aurungs, in the Southern or Pooree Agency.

4. Parties tendering must satisfy the Board of Revenue and the Commissioner of Cuttack, that they possess the means of conveying the full quantity of Salt tendered for, and with this object a list of the vessels intended to be employed must accompany each Tender.

5. The quantity of Salt to be shipped at the Hunsooah Golahs will probably not exceed 1,00,000 maunds in each year; that from the Ustrungs is roughly estimated at 80,000 maunds for the ensuing season, and that from the Chilka Aurungs at maunds 3,20,000. The tenderer may apply for the whole quantity for which freight is required at each locality, or for any part not less than a quarter of such quantity.

6. Contractors must engage to ship the Salt allotted to them, during the period between the last spring tides of October and the end of February.

7. Parties whose tenders are accepted will be required to make a deposit of Government Promissory Notes, or to furnish other unexceptionable Security for the performance of their contracts.

8. The Board reserve to themselves the right of rejecting any Tender without assigning a reason.

By order of the Board of Revenue,

E. T. Trevor,

Secretary.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 27, 1859.

Legislative Council of India.

THE 16TH APRIL 1859.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 16th April 1859, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 20th of July next:—

A Bill for regulating the establishment of Markets.

WHEREAS the establishment of new markets in the neighbourhood of places where markets have been previously established, leads to disputes between the owners of the lands on which such new and previously established markets are held, and such disputes not unfrequently occasion breaches of the peace, and serious inconvenience to the frequenters of such markets; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. After the passing of this Act no person shall establish a new market without permission in writing from the Magistrate of the District If any person shall attempt to establish a new market without such license, he shall on conviction by the Magistrate be subject to a fine not exceeding two hundred Rupees.

No new market to be established without permission of Magistrate.

II. When any person desires to establish a new market, he shall make application in writing to the Magistrate. The application shall specify the name of the place at which it is proposed to establish such new market, the days on which it is to be held, the name of the place where the nearest existing market is held, and the days on which it is held, the distance in English miles between the two places, and the reasons of the applicant for desiring to establish the new market.

Application for permission.

III. On receipt of the application the Magistrate shall issue a proclamation stating the desire of the applicant to establish a market at the place named by him and the days on which it is proposed to be held, and calling upon any person who may have any objection to the establishment of the market, to state his objection in writing within six weeks from the date of the proclamation. The proclamation shall be affixed in a conspicuous place in the village or town in or near to which it is proposed that the new market shall be held; and a copy of the same shall be affixed at the Police Station within the jurisdiction of which the village or town is situate and in the Court of the Magistrate. If it shall appear that any existing market is held within a distance of four miles from the place where it is proposed that the new market shall be established, the Magistrate shall cause a notice to the effect of the proclamation to be served upon the owner of the land where such existing market is held. The proclamation and notice (if any) shall be issued and served at the expense of the applicant.

Issue of proclamation and notice.

IV. If within the time specified in the proclamation and notice (if any), no objection is preferred to the establishment of the proposed market, the Magistrate shall pass an order permitting it to be established. If within the time specified any objection is preferred, the Magistrate shall enquire into the objection, and pass such order as may appear proper in the circumstances of the case.

Magistrate's order.

If objection be made.

V. If within six months from the passing of this Act any objection shall be preferred to the Magistrate in respect of any market which has been newly established within a period of two years before the passing of this Act, the Magistrate shall enquire into the objection, and if it shall appear that such new market has been established within a distance of four miles from any previously existing market, and that the establishment of the new market has been the cause of disturbances or other inconvenience to the people of the neigbourhood, the Magistrate may, if he think necessary, change the days upon which such new market is held, or at his discretion order that it be discontinued.

Markets established two years before the passing of this Act.

VII. Every person who shall contravene any order duly passed under this Act shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred Rupees.

Penalty for contravening order.

VIII. All the provisions of this Act relative to the establishment of new markets shall be applicable also to the establishment of new fairs.

PROMISSORY NOTE AT 5½ PER CENTUM FOR COMPANY'S RUPEES.

The Governor General of India in Council does hereby acknowledge to have received from the sum of Company's Rupees as a Loan to the Secretary of State in Council of India, and does hereby promise for and on behalf of the said Secretary of State in Council, to re-pay the said Loan by paying the said sum of Company's Rupees to the said his (or "her" or "their" as the case may be) Executors or Administrators, or his (or "her" as the case may be) or their order, on demand, at the General Treasury of Fort William, after the expiration of three months' notice of payment, to be given by the Governor General of India in Council in the Calcutta Gazette, and to pay the interest accruing on the said sum of Company's Rupees at the rate of Five-and-a-half per Cent. per annum, by Half-yearly payments at the General Treasury of Fort William to the said or his (or "her" or "their" as the case may be,) Executors or Administrators or his (or "her" as the case may be) or their order, until the expiration of three months after such notice of payment as aforesaid, when the amount of Interest due will be payable with the Principal, and (such notice being considered as equivalent to a tender of payment at the period appointed for the discharge of this Note) all further Interest shall cease. The Governor General in Council hereby further engages that the said Loan shall not be paid off before the 1st of May 1879.

Signed by the authority of the Governor General of India in Council,

Registered as No. of

Secretary to the Government."

The several Officers authorized to receive subscriptions will, on application from the Holders of Acknowledgments, transmit them (free of every expense whatever) to the Accountant General at Fort William to be exchanged for Promissory Notes bearing Interest from the 31st of May or the 30th of November next ensuing after the date of subscription. The Interest accruing on the broken period of the Half-year that may intervene between the date of subscription and the 31st of May or 30th of November next ensuing, as the case may be, will be paid up at the time of granting the Acknowledgment.

Proprietors of Notes or Acknowledgments, who may desire to have the Interest payable at any other Public Treasury than at the General Treasury of Calcutta, shall be entitled to receive it according ly, provided they notify ther wish to the Accountant General at Fort William, and transmit the Notes or Acknowledgments to him, to have an order for the payment of Interest at the said Treasury written on the face of the Notes under the signature of the said Officer or that of his Assistant; and after such order shall, on the application of the Proprietor, be inscribed on any note, the Interest shall be payable only from the said Treasury, unless the Proprietor shall present the Note, with an application for the purpose of transferring the payment elsewhere, to the Accountant General at Fort William.

If desired, Interest will also be made payable at the General Treasury at Fort William, for the period for which the Loan is guaranteed, by Coupons payable to Bearer. Promissory Notes with Coupons attached will be granted on application, instead of Promissory Notes in the usual form.

Or, if it be desired, Interest will be made payable at the East India House in London, by Bills payable to order on demand, on the General Treasuries of Calcutta or Madras, subject to the Rules and Regulations at present in force, or that may hereafter be issued by the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, or by this Government.

The Promissory Notes of this Loan shall not be renewed, sub-divided, or consolidated, except by the Accountant General of Fort William. The practice and rules heretofore in use in regard to the renewal, sub-division and consolidation of Promissory Notes will be adhered to in respect to the Promissory Notes of this Loan.

This Loan is limited to Five Crores of Rupees. No part of this Loan will be paid off before the 1st May 1879, nor without a previous notice of three months, to be issued at any time after the 31st January 1879.

The Five per Cent. Loan opened under Notification, dated 16th January 1857, will be closed from the 30th instant, after which date no further subscriptions to that Loan will be received, except in the cases of parties resident in Europe, who may have forwarded by the Mail which was to have left London on the 10th of April 1859, or by any previous Mail that left London after the 3rd of March 1859, written instructions for the immediate transfer to the said Loan of Promissory Notes of the 4 per Cent, 3½ per Cent and 4½ per Cent Loans, or Transfer Loan Securities. Subscriptions to the said Loan tendered under such instructions, on account of such parties, will be received at the General Treasuries of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, if the tender is made before the 1st of June next.

With the above exception Promissory Notes of the 4 per Cent, 3½ per Cent, and 4½ per Cent, Loans and Transfer Loan Securities, will not be receivable in subscription to any Loan after the 30th instant.

No. 29 of 1859.

It is hereby notified that from and after the 1st of May 1859, Interest on Government Promissory Notes of the Loans noted in the margin will, at the option of the Holders, be made payable for the period for which the said Loans have respectively been guaranteed, either in the manner heretofore observed, or by Coupons payable to Bearer signed by the Accountant General to the Government of India.

5 Per Cent. Public Works Loan of 1854-55.
5 Per Cent. Loan of 1856-57.
5½ Per Cent. Loan of 1859-60.

Promissory Notes in the form heretofore in use can be exchanged on renewal for Promissory Notes having Coupons attached. The Coupons will be in the following form :—

Fort William, 22nd April 1859.

No. 573 of 1859.—The Second Battalion Military Train is under orders for immediate Embarkation for England.

The Career in India of this Corps has been short, but brilliant and eminently serviceable to its Country.

Upon arriving at the Presidency it was at once converted into a Cavalry Force, and sent untrained into the Field under the late Sir Henry Havelock.

Throughout the glorious and most trying Summer Campaign of which the first Relief of Lucknow was the fruit, the Military Train bore a part which would have reflected Credit upon the oldest and most experienced Cavalry Soldiers.

It has since served with distinction in various affairs under Lieutenant-General Sir James Outram, at the Capture of Lucknow, in the Operations about Azimghur, and lastly in the harassing Campaign of Shahabad.

The Military Train leaves India with the best Wishes of the Viceroy and Governor General in Council for the future Honor and Prosperity of the Battalion.

A Salute will be fired from the Guns of Fort William on the departure of the Corps.

Fort William, 25th April 1859.

No. 574 of 1859.—Captain Charles Metcalfe Young, of the Regiment of Artillery, is permitted to proceed to Europe on private affairs under the new Regulations for the residue of the Furlough, on the same account, granted to him in Government General Order No. 1300, of the 20th October 1856.

No. 575 of 1859.—The under-mentioned Officers are permitted to proceed to Europe on Furlough, on private affairs :—

Captain Alexander Irvine, of the 24th Regiment Native Infantry ...	For two years, under the new Regulations.
Captain Arthur Innis Shuldham, of the 20th Regiment Native Infantry ...	For three years, under the old Regulations.

No. 576 of 1859.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following letter from the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army No. 75, of the 7th April, submitting a report of the particulars of an Action in which a Detachment of Troops under Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, Commanding 1st Sikh Infantry, were engaged with a vastly superior body of Rebels in the neighbourhood of Toolseepore.

His Excellency in Council notifies his entire approval of the service rendered by Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon and by those under his Command on this occasion; and participates in the regret expressed by the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief at the death of Lieutenant Grant and of the other gallant soldiers who fell in this Action.

No. 75.

From the Depy. Adjt. General of the Army,
To the Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Military Department.

Sir,

I have the honor by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward, for the information of His Excellency the Governor General in Council, a letter dated the 1st instant, from Brigadier A. H. Horsford, C. B., Commanding Troops Trans Gogra, detailing the particulars of an Action in which a Detachment of Troops under Lieutenant-Colonel G. Gordon, Commanding 1st Sikh Infantry, were seriously engaged with a vastly superior body of the Rebels, in the neighbourhood of Toolseepore.

2. Lord Clyde very highly appreciates the conduct of Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon and those under his Command on this occasion; and His Lordship considers that a very important service has been rendered by the Troops.

3. I am to express the regret of Lord Clyde at the death of a promising Officer, Lieutenant R. J. Grant, and of the other gallant soldiers who fell in this Action.

4. The Commander-in Chief would earnestly recommend the reward of the Native Soldiers mentioned by Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, in paragraph 8 of his letter, and in the manner suggested.

I have, &c.,

Deputy Adjutant General of the Army.

Head Quarters; Camp Delhi, 7th April 1859.

No. 194.

From Brigadier A. Horsford, C. B.,
Commanding Trans Gogra,
To the Depy. Asst. Adjutant General,
&c., &c., &c.,
Oude Force, Lucknow.
Camp near Jerwah Pass, the 1st April 1859.

Sir,—I have the honor to report for the information of Major-General Sir Hope Grant, K. C. B., Commanding in Oudh, that on the evening of the 30th March 1859, I learned that certain bodies of the Rebels having evaded the post at Dhukkuree had crossed into the Oude District, and intended to pass from East to West of it, under the hills which divide the British from the Nepaulese Territory.

Toolseepore I felt should not be abandoned, but to watch the forest under the hills, I detached a Force Commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, 1st Seikh Infantry, whose report I enclose. The arduous duty which this Officer found himself unexpectedly called upon to perform was most ably carried out, and I trust that the Major-General Commanding may deem his name worthy of being brought to the notice of His Excellency Lord Clyde.

On the receipt of a report from Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, of the strength of the approaching enemy, I instantly hastened to his support, taking with me, one Wing of 1st Regiment Hodson's Horse, the remaining Wing escorting 4 Guns Q Field Battery, having 20 men of the 53rd Regiment on the limbers followed with all possible speed. A Wing of the 53rd Regiment was also put in movement as a reserve.

The sudden appearance on the Field of the leading portion of this force was at once felt, the enemy hesitated, and a general advance turned their hesitation into a rapid retreat, pursued by the Cavalry until they found refuge in the dense forest, and I learn that they did not halt until they had reached the Arrah Nuddee on the Nepaul Frontier, East of this.

One hundred and fifty dead, all Sepoys armed with muskets, were counted on the Field and four Elephants were captured.

The wounded and prisoners and 120 Cavalry who subsequently surrendered, report the enemy's numbers to have been 13,000 Telingahs and 700 Sowars.

Too much praise cannot be awarded to the Officers and Men, of the 1st Seikh Infantry, who with great gallantry maintained a most unequal fight, until the arrival of the relieving force. I fully sympathize with the Corps in the loss it has sustained in Lieutenant Grant, a young Officer whose forward conduct was remarkable.

I would bring to the Major-General's notice the Officers named in Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon's Report.

My thanks are due to Officers Commanding Corps and Detachments, to Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, 1st Sikh Infantry, of whom I need make no further mention; Lieutenant-Colonel Daly, C. B., not only for his activity in the Field, but also for the general assistance he has always rendered me; Captain Johnson, Royal Artillery, and Captain Walter, 53rd Regiment.

I cannot speak too highly of the zeal of my Brigade Major, Major Dillon. My thanks are also due to Captain Hoste, my Officiating Quarter-Master General, and to Lieutenant Stainforth, Military Police, who on this occasion acted as my Orderly Officer.

From Captain Ross, Deputy Commissioner, I have received every aid and support.

I enclose herewith a return of Casualties.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) J. Hope Grant, Major-General, Comdg. Oude Force.

From Lieut.-Colonel G. Gordon,
Comdg. Advance Post of Brigadier Horsford's Field Force,

To Major Dillon,
Major of Brigade,
Brigdr. Horsford's C. B. Column.
Camp near Jerwah, the 1st April 1859.

Sir,—Pursuant to Brigade Orders, of the 30th ultimo, I have the honor to inform you, for the information of Brigadier Horsford, C. B., Commanding, that I encamped yesterday morning at Jerwah, with a Detachment as per margin, in such a position, as to enable me to watch that Pass, and to prevent the Rebels slipping Westward unobserved.

1st Sekh Infantry.
5 European Officers.
15 Native Officers.
95 Non-Commd. Officers.
663 Privates.

Hodson's Horse.
1 Naib Ressaldar.
4 Duffadars.
25 Sowars.

2. About 9 A. M., I received information that the Rebels were within a mile of my Camp, I immediately got my Detachment under arms, and proceeded to meet the enemy, which I did, about one thousand yards or so from my Camp, and here I encountered a very severe opposition from them, but succeeded in driving their force, beyond a line of hillocks, flanked on the left, by a dense jungle swarming with the enemy; and on the right, by broken ground and scrubby jungle. I took possession of this position, as far as my means would allow, and held it although hard pressed, from several determined attacks of the enemy, I kept possession of this position for abour three and a half hours, when a check, appeared to have taken place among the Rebels on my right rear (in which direction I had been totally out-flanked). This check was occasioned by the arrival of Brigadier Horsford, leading an advance of Hodson's Horse. Seeing this I immediately ordered my Detachment to advance on the flank of the retreating enemy.

3. I cannot say with accuracy the number of the Rebels disposed of, but from the numerous dead bodies lying about, should conceive that their loss must have been severe.

4. I regret to say, that the number of Casualties in my Detachment is large, but this event could not be avoided, on account of the numerical disparity of my force, and that of the enemy, which is said by spies and prisoners taken, to have amounted to between seven and eight thousand men.

5. I have to deplore the loss of my Officiating Second in Command Lieutenant R. J. Grant, a most promising Officer, who gallantly fell at the head of his men. My best thanks are due to Lieutenant Colonel C. D. P. Nott, Officiating Adjutant, who gave me every assistance and satisfaction. I have to regret the dangerous wounds received by Lieutenant J. Beckett, "doing Duty," who with Lieutenant R. J. Grant, I cannot praise too highly,

6. It affords me the greatest pleasure to bring to the notice of the Brigadier Assistant Surgeon C. A. Poole's conduct on this occasion, his attentions to the numerous wounded, although exposed to a heavy fire were beyond all praise, he was also useful to me in carrying orders from one position to another in the early part of the day.

7. I cannot speak too highly of the conduct of the Detachment which accompanied me, and which under very trying circumstances behaved most admirably, and displayed a courage most creditable to it.

8. I would, amongst the Natives engaged, more particularly bring to the notice of the Brigadier, for recommendation to, and advancement in, the "Order of Merit," the following Commissioned and Non-Commissioned Officers:—

Jemadar Hedayutoollah, Light Company, 1st Seikhs.

Havildar Moosuddee Khan, No. 1 Company, 1st Seikhs.

Also Duffadar Chungun, of Hodson's Horse, who is already possessed of the 2nd Clasp.

I have, &c.,

Notice.

TENDERS for the transportation of Salt from the Central and Southern Agencies of Orissa, to the Government Golahs at Sulkea, will be received at this Office until 2 P. M., of the 17th of May next.

2. The Tenders must be drawn up according to a form which may be obtained on application at this Office.

3. Distinct contracts must be entered into for the removal of the Salt in each of the three following localities, to wit Hunsooah (in Central Cuttack) and the Ustrung Aurungs and the Chilka Lake Aurungs, in the Southern or Poorce Agency.

4. Parties tendering must satisfy the Board of Revenue and the Commissioner of Cuttack, that they possess the means of conveying the full quantity of Salt tendered for, and with this object a list of the vessels intended to be employed must accompany each Tender.

5. The quantity of Salt to be shipped at the Hunsooah Golahs will probably not exceed 1,00,000 maunds in each year; that from the Ustrungs is roughly estimated at 80,000 maunds for the ensuing season, and that from the Chilka Aurungs at maunds 3,20,000. The tenderer may apply for the whole quantity for which freight is required at each locality, or for any part not less than a quarter of such quantity.

6. Contractors must engage to ship the Salt allotted to them, during the period between the last spring tides of October and the end of February.

7. Parties whose tenders are accepted will be required to make a deposit of Government Promissory Notes, or to furnish other unexceptionable Security for the performance of their contracts.

8. The Board reserve to themselves the right of rejecting any Tender without assigning a reason.

By order of the Board of Revenue,

E. T. TREVOR,
Secretary.

Notification.

THE Civil Auditor, North-Western Provinces has the honor to repeat his annual call to all Disbursing Officers in charge of Civil Establishments in the North-Western Provinces, for the submission (as soon after the 1st May next, as practicable, with the April Abstract) of their regular Annual Detailed Statement, containing the names and full particulars of the whole of the Establishment; and to observe that, with reference to the orders of Government, dated 15th October 1842, published in the Agra Government Gazette, of the 15th November 1842, the audit of their Abstracts for April next will be withheld until the receipt of the required Returns.

2. To facilitate check, it is particularly requested that the Abstract for April be sub-divided into distinct headings, so that each description of Office with its total shall correspond with the details given in the Statement of Establishment or the 1st May, agreeably to the Form furnished.

3. It is also requested that the three separate Lists prescribed for all Uncovenanted Civil Servants (Europeans and East Indians) and Native, (in the last the names of only those holding appointments of trust and responsibility should be inserted,) employed on their Establishments, be furnished for 1st May 1859, without delay.

H. LOCH,
Offg. Civil Auditor.

CIVIL AUDITOR'S OFFICE;
N. W. P., Allahabad,
The 31st March 1859.

Notification.

WITH the sanction of the Governor General of India in Council, it is hereby declared that the Port of Rangoon, and the Navigable River and Channels leading to that Port, are subject to Act XXII. of 1855.

The limits of the said Port of Rangoon are as follows:—

To the West.—A Line drawn South-West from the boundary pillar at Kemmendine across the Rangoon River, to the boundary pillar on the opposite bank at the entrance of the Panlang Creek.

To the South-East.—A Line drawn East from King's Point on the Dallah side of the Rangoon River, to the boundary pillar on the Syriam side.

To the North-East.—A Line running North-West and South-East drawn from the boundary pillar on the Rangoon or West side of the Pegu River, to a boundary pillar on the Syriam or East side, so much of Puzzomdoung Creek as lies South of a Line drawn from a pillar on the East above Kyeezeik Village to a pillar opposide to the West bank of the Creek.

The limits of the said Port include to the North and South, so much of the Rangoon River and of the Shores thereof, and so much of the Puzzomdoung Creek, and the Shores thereof as are within fifty yards of high-water mark spring tides.

The limits of the Navigable River and Channels leading to the said Port, made subject to the said Act, are as follows:

To the North.—The Port of Rangoon as above defined.

To the South.—A Line drawn East and West from the Light Ship.

All Ports of the Rangoon River between the said limits and below high-water line at spring tides are subject to the said Act.

PORT RULES.

I. No vessel, if above 200 tons, shall enter within the limits of the Port of Rangoon, or move from one place to another within the Port, between sun-set and sun-rise, without the special permission of the Master Attendant.

II. The Commanders of all vessels arriving at the Port of Rangoon are desired to enter correctly in the Columns of the Report Book of the Master Attendant, as soon as presented to them, the information therein required, regarding their vessels. They will also report in writing to the Master Attendant twenty-four hours before their departure the particulars noted in the forms appended hereto.

III. All Commanders of vessels arriving at Rangoon shall anchor in such a position as the Master Attendant or his Assistant shall direct. All vessels above 100 tons' burthen shall moor with two bower anchors and 30 fathoms of cable each way, and shall not move from their position without a Pilot, except with the express permission of the same authority.

IV. All Commanders of vessels shall have their jib and driver booms rigged in, when required by the Master Attendant, and shall strike their yard and masts if required so to do by, or by order of the same Officer.

V. Every ship or vessel within the Port of Rangoon shall have removed any anchor or spar or other substance projecting from her side, when so required by the Master Attendant, or other Officer of the Port.

VI. The Commanders of all vessels entering the Port of Rangoon, with ballast on board, shall without delay send to the Master Attendant a report in writing, stating the description of ballast on board, the quantity in tons, and the port of shipment; application must be made by the Commander to the Master Attendant for permission to tranship or land ballast, and no ballast shall be transhipped or landed except under the sanction of the Master Attendant and only at such Stations as he shall direct.

VII. A free channel of 240 yards which is to be kept for ships moving up or down the River within the Port, and also free passages to Piers, Jetties, Landing places, Wharves, Quays, Docks and Moorings, and all vessels shall be bound to move when required to clear such channels or passages.

VIII. All vessels within the Port of Rangoon shall be moored or warped from place to place as required by the Master Attendant, or other Officer of the Port, and no vessels shall cast off a warp that has been made fast to her to assist a vessel in mooring without being required to do so by the Pilot or Officer in charge of the vessel mooring.

IX. No vessels within the limits of the Port of Rangoon shall boil any pitch or dammer on board, or shall draw off spirits by candle or other artificial lights.

X. All vessels within the limits of the Channels leading to the Port of Rangoon shall when at anchor, between sun-set and sun rise, have a good light hoisted at the starboard fore-yard arm; and all vessels under weigh at night shall show a good light at the fore-royal or upper foremast head, and when under weigh in tow of a steamer shall in addition to the masthead light, show a good light at each fore-yard arm; the steamer showing the usual light prescribed by the Admiralty Regulations.

XI. No vessel shall use any of the Government chain moorings, whether fixed or swinging, without permission of the Master Attendant

XII. All vessels occupying Government moorings fixed or swinging, shall be liable to pay for the same, according to the following scale and no more:—

	From 1st November to 30th May, being seven months. Per Diem, Rs.	From 1st June to 31st October, being five months. Per Diem, Rs.

SATURDAY, APRIL 30, 1859.

Legislative Council of India.

THE 23rd APRIL 1859.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India, on the 23rd April 1859, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 30th of July next :—

A Bill to amend Act III of 1857 (relating to trespasses by Cattle).

Preamble.

WHEREAS, under the provisions of Act III of 1857, fines may be levied from the owners of Cattle found trespassing and doing damage or straying in any public place, and all unclaimed Cattle so found may be sold after sufficient notice; and whereas it is provided in the said Act that the sums received on account of fines and the unclaimed proceeds of the sale of unclaimed Cattle shall be applied to the payment of the salaries of pound-keepers and other purposes connected with the execution of the Act; and whereas the amount of the said sums may be larger than is required for the said purposes, and it is expedient to provide for their legal application to other purposes; It is enacted as follows :—

Appropriation of surplus fines, &c.

I. When the amount of the sums received on account of fines and the unclaimed proceeds of the sale of unclaimed Cattle is larger than is required for the payment of the salaries allowed to pound-keepers and the expenses incurred for the construction and maintenance of pounds and other purposes connected with the execution of the said Act, any surplus which may remain after making full provision for the said salaries and expenses may be applied, under the direction of the local Government, to the construction and repair of roads and bridges, and other works of a like nature.

Act to be read as part of Act III of 1857.

II. This Act shall be read with and taken as part of Act III of 1857.

W. MORGAN,
Clerk of the Council.

THE 23RD APRIL 1859.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India, on the 23rd April 1859, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 30th of July next :—

A Bill to empower Magistrates to decide certain disputes between contractors and workmen engaged in Railway and other works.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to empower Magistrates to decide disputes concerning wages and certain other disputes between contractors and workmen engaged in Railway and other works; It is enacted as follows :—

Who shall be deemed a contractor within this Act.

I. Any person who has contracted or who may hereafter contract to construct any portion of a Railway, canal, or other public work, the construction of which is or shall be sanctioned by Parliament or by the Government of India, shall be deemed a contractor within the meaning of this Act.

Magistrate to take cognizance of cases of non-payment of wages to workmen by contractors.

II. If any person being a contractor within the meaning of this Act shall employ or engage with any artificer, workman, or laborer for the execution of any work connected with or incidental to the performance of his contract (whether such work is to be performed by the person so employed or engaged or by others to be employed with, by or under him), and shall not from time to time pay all such sums of money and wages as shall be justly due to the person or persons so employed, it shall be lawful for the Magistrate of the Zillah or District where the work is performed, to take cognizance of the matter.

To decide summarily after summoning the parties &c.

III. The Magistrate shall summon such contractor (or in his absence his local manager or agent) to appear at a time and place to be named in the summons; and it shall be lawful for the Magistrate to examine witnesses upon oath or solemn affirmation and in a summary way to decide between the parties, which decision shall be final and conclusive to all intents and purposes.

Order for payment.

IV. The Magistrate shall order the payment of such sum of money as shall apppear to him to be justly due to the person or persons so employed as aforesaid, and in default of payment of such sum immediately or within such time as the Magistrate shall direct, he shall issue his warrant to levy the same by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the defaulting contractor.

Distress.

Property distrained.

V. If any question shall arise whether any goods or chattels seized under the warrant of distress belong to the defaulter or are liable to be distrained and sold as aforesaid, the decision and order of the Magistrate shall be final and conclusive with respect thereto.

Penalty for workmen neglecting or refusing to work.

VI. Any artificer, workman, or laborer employed or engaged by a contractor within the meaning of this Act to execute any work of the nature mentioned in Section I, who shall wilfully and without lawful or reasonable excuse neglect or refuse to perform such work, shall be liable on conviction before the Magistrate to a fine not exceeding Rupees. The Magistrate may, at the request of the complainant or of any one authorized to act on his behalf, instead of fining such artificer, workman, or laborer, order him to perform or get performed the work according to the terms of his contract, and if he shall fail to comply with the order, the Magistrate may, upon proof to his satisfaction of such non-compliance, sentence such artificer, workman, or laborer to be imprisoned with hard labor for any term not exceeding months.

Interpretation. 'Magistrate.'

VII. The word "Magistrate" in this Act shall include any person who may be specially empowered by the Executive Government to exercise the powers vested in a Magistrate by this Act.

Operation of Act.

VIII. This Act shall take effect only in those Districts or places to which it shall be extended by order of the Governor General of India in Council or of the Executive Government of any Presidency or place.

No. 28 of 1859.

Fort William, 20th April 1859.

Notifications.—With reference to paragraph 11 of the Notification of this Department, No. 14, dated 21st February last, notice is hereby given, that the Sub-Treasurers at Fort William, Fort St. George and Bombay, the several Residents at Native Courts, and the several Collectors and other Officers in charge of Treasuries under the several Presidencies and Governments, and in the Provinces subordinate to the Government of India, have been authorized to receive from the 1st of May next, any sums of money in hundreds of Rupees, each being for not less than 500 of Company's Rupees which may be tendered on Loan to the Secretary of State in Council of India, at an interest of Five-and-a-half per Cent. per annum, subject to the provisions hereinafter specified.

Subscriptions to this Loan will be received from Holders of Five per Cent. Promissory Notes of this Government, half in Cash and half in the said Promissory Notes.

All authorized public demands, including audited Bills for arrears of Salary and Bills of Exchange on the Public Treasuries, these last being subject to a deduction at the rate of Five-and-a-half per Centum per annum for the period they may have to run, will be received as Cash at par.

The Pay-Masters of the Army under the several Presidencies are also authorized to transfer any demands which may be payable by them respectively to this Loan, and to grant Drafts for the amounts in Bengal and Madras on the Accountant General, and in Bombay on the Military Pay-Master General, which Drafts shall be received by those Officers in payment of subscriptions to this Loan, on being tendered to them for that purpose.

The several Public Officers, authorized to receive subscriptions into this Loan, will grant Acknowledgments in the following form, for all sums received by them respectively:—

" I hereby acknowledge that has this day paid into the Treasury at the sum of Company's Rupees for which entitled to receive a Promissory Note of the Secretary of State in Council of India, bearing Interest from the of the tenor, and subject to the conditions of the Loan specified in the Advertisement published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 1859."

The Accountant General at Fort William will, on the said Acknowledgments being delivered, forthwith cause to be prepared and issued to the parties entitled thereto, Promissory Notes under the signature of the Secretary to the Government of India, in the following form :—

Fort William, the 31st May 1859.

Promissory Note at 5½ per Centum for Company's Rupees.

The Governor General of India in Council does hereby acknowledge to have received from the sum of Company's Rupees as a Loan to the Secretary of State in Council of India, and does hereby promise for and on behalf of the said Secretary of State in Council, to re-pay the said Loan by paying the said sum of Company's Rupees to the said his (or " her" or " their" as the case may be) Executors or Administrators, or his (or " her" as the case may be) or their order, on demand, at the General Treasury of Fort William, after the expiration of three months' notice of payment, to be given by the Governor General of India in Council in the Calcutta Gazette, and to pay the interest accruing on the said sum of Company's Rupees at the rate of Five-and-a-half per Cent. per annum, by Half-yearly payments at the General Treasury of Fort William to the said or his (or " her" or " their" as the case may be,) Executors or Administrators or his (or " her" as the case may be) or their order, until the expiration of three months after such notice of payment as aforesaid, when the amount of Interest due will be payable with the Principal, and (such notice being considered as equivalent to a tender of payment at the period appointed for the discharge of this Note) all further Interest shall cease. The Governor General in Council hereby further engages that the said Loan shall not be paid off before the 1st of May 1879.

Signed by the authority of the Governor General of India in Council,

Accountant General's Office ;
Registered as No. of

Secretary to the Government."

The several Officers authorized to receive subscriptions will, on application from the Holders of Acknowledgments, transmit them (free of every expense whatever) to the Accountant General at Fort William, to be exchanged for Promissory Notes bearing Interest from the 31st of May or the 30th of November next ensuing after the date of subscription. The Interest accruing on the broken period of the Half-year that may intervene between the date of subscription and the 31st of May or 30th of November next ensuing, as the case may be, will be paid up at the time of granting the Acknowledgment.

Proprietors of Notes or Acknowledgments, who may desire to have the Interest payable at any other Public Treasury than at the General Treasury of Calcutta, shall be entitled to receive it accordingly, provided they notify ther wish to the Accountant General at Fort William, and transmit the Notes or Acknowledgments to him, to have an order for the payment of Interest at the said Treasury written on the face of the Notes under the signature of the said Officer or that of his Assistant; and after such order shall, on the application of the Proprietor, be inscribed on any note, the Interest shall be payable only from the said Treasury, unless the Proprietor shall present the Note, with an application for the purpose of transferring the payment elsewhere, to the Accountant General at Fort William.

If desired, Interest will also be made payable at the General Treasury at Fort William, for the period for which the Loan is guaranteed, by Coupons payable to Bearer. Promissory Notes with Coupons attached will be granted on application, instead of Promissory Notes in the usual form.

Or, if it be desired, Interest will be made payable at the East India House in London, by Bills payable to order on demand, on the General Treasuries of Calcutta or Madras, subject to the Rules and Regulations at present in force, or that may hereafter be issued by the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, or by this Government.

The Promissory Notes of this Loan shall not be renewed, sub-divided, or consolidated, except by the Accountant General of Fort William. The practice and rules heretofore in use in regard to the renewal, sub-division and consolidation of Promissory Notes will be adhered to in respect to the Promissory Notes of this Loan.

This Loan is limited to Five Crores of Rupees. No part of this Loan will be paid off before the 1st May 1879, nor without a previous notice of three months, to be issued at any time after the 31st January 1879.

The Five per Cent. Loan opened under Notification, dated 16th January 1857, will be closed from the 30th instant, after which date no further subscriptions to that Loan will be received, except in the cases of parties resident in Europe, who may have forwarded by the Mail which was to have left London on the 10th of April 1859, or by any previous Mail that left London after the 3rd of March 1859, written instructions for the immediate transfer to the said Loan of Promissory Notes of the 4 per Cent, 3½ per Cent and 4½ per Cent Loans, or Transfer Loan Securities. Subscriptions to the said Loan tendered under such instructions, on account of such parties, will be received at the General Treasuries of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, if the tender is made before the 1st of June next.

With the above exception Promissory Notes of the 4 per Cent, 3½ per Cent, and 4½ per Cent, Loans and Transfer Loan Securities, will not be receivable in subscription to any Loan after the 30th instant.

No. 29 OF 1859.

IT is hereby notified that from and after the 1st of May 1859, Interest on Government Promissory Notes of the Loans noted in the margin will, at the option of the Holders, be made payable for the period for which the said Loans have respectively been guaranteed, either in the manner heretofore observed, or by Coupons payable to Bearer signed by the Accountant General to the Government of India.

4 Per Cent. Public Works Loan of 1854-55.
5 Per Cent. Loan of 1856-57.
5½ Per Cent. Loan of 1859-60.

Promissory Notes in the form heretofore in use can be exchanged on renewal for Promissory Notes having Coupons attached. The Coupons will be in the following form :—

COUPON.

Accountant General to the Government of India.

WHEN the last of the Coupons attached to any Note shall have become payable, the Interest payable on the Note, until the expiration of three months after notice of payment of the Principal, will be paid at the General Treasury at Fort William, to the lawful Holder of the Note, on his presenting the same and writing his receipt thereon; or at the option of the lawful Holder, the Note may be enfaced for payment of Interest at the East India House in London by Bills on demand on the General Treasuries of Calcutta or Madras, subject to the Rules and Regulations at present in force, or that may hereafter be issued by the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, or by this Government.

By Order of His Excellency the Governor General of India in Council,

C. HUGH LUSHINGTON,
Secretary to the Govt. of India.

No. 33.

The 29th April 1859.

READ again the following papers on the subject of the Deputation Allowance receivable by Covenanted Officers, Civil or Military, acting for Uncovenanted Officers and vice versâ.

Order contained in the Financial Resolution No. 5701, dated 8th October 1858.

Paragraph 4 of Financial Resolution No. 1431, dated 11th February 1859.

Read the under-mentioned papers on the same subject:

Letter from Civil Auditor, Fort William, No. 985, dated 4th instant.

Letter from the Punjab Civil Auditor, No. [illegible], dated 23rd ultimo.

RESOLUTION.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to pass, experimentally for one year, the following Rules in respect to the Deputation Allowance receivable by the Officers mentioned below:

When Covenanted Officers, Civil or Military, officiate for Uncovenanted Officers and when Uncovenanted Officers act for Covenanted Officers Civil or Military, the Deputation Allowance in such cases will be regulated according to the principle laid down in Chapter VI. Sections 25, 26 and 27, of the Covenanted Civil Absentee Rules, it being understood however that Section 27 shall not apply to Ministerial Officers acting for Covenanted Officers, who are entitled to Acting Allowance from the date they commence to officiate and not after the expiration of one month as in the case of other Uncovenanted Officers of superior grade.

When an Officer of the Uncovenanted Service acts for another of the same Service or when a Military Officer acts for another Military Officer, he shall be governed by the Rules of the respective Services to which he belongs.

In passing the foregoing Rules, the Governor General in Council directs that the Audit Offices in the several Presidences and Governments, should submit, at the expiration of the experimental year for which the Rules are sanctioned, a Return showing in juxta-position the amount forfeited by the Absentees of the Military (so far as it is concerned with the Civil Department) and Uncovenanted Services, as well as that defrayed in the remuneration of their Substitutes in the same manner as is done at present, with regard to the forfeited Salary and the Deputation Allowance of Covenanted Civil Servants.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a Copy of the foregoing Resolution be sent to the Civil Auditors, Fort William, Fort St George, Bombay and North-Western Provinces for information and guidance, and to the Punjab Civil Auditor, in reply to his reference above adverted to.

Ordered further, that a transcript of the Resolution be published in the Official Gazette for general information.

No. 257.

Notice.

TENDERS for the transportation of Salt from the Central and Southern Agencies of Orissa, to the Government Golahs at Sulkea, will be received at this Office until 2 P. M., of the 17th of May next.

2. The Tenders must be drawn up according to a form which may be obtained on application at this Office.

3. Distinct contracts must be entered into for the removal of the Salt in each of the three following localities, to wit Hunsooah (in Central Cuttack) and the Ustrung Aurungs and the Chilka Lake Aurungs, in the Southern or Poorce Agency.

4. Parties tendering must satisfy the Board of Revenue and the Commissioner of Cuttack, that they possess the means of conveying the full quantity of Salt tendered for, and with this object a list of the vessels intended to be employed must accompany each Tender.

5. The quantity of Salt to be shipped at the Hunsooah Golahs will probably not exceed 1,00,000 maunds in each year; that from the Ustrungs is roughly estimated at 80,000 maunds for the ensuing season, and that from the Chilka Aurungs at maunds 3,20,000. The tenderer may apply for the whole quantity for which freight is required at each locality, or for any part not less than a quarter of such quantity.

6. Contractors must engage to ship the Salt allotted to them, during the period between the last spring tides of October and the end of February.

7. Parties whose tenders are accepted will be required to make a deposit of Government Promissory Notes, or to furnish other unexceptionable Security for the performance of their contracts.

8. The Board reserve to themselves the right of rejecting any Tender without assigning a reason.

Notification.

Fort William, Civil Auditor's Office, the 20th April 1859.

To the Officers of the Political, Judicial, Revenue, Customs, Salt, Opium, and other branches of Service.

The Civil Auditor has the honor to request that Disbursing Officers, in charge of Civil Establishments, will be good enough to submit, as soon after 1st of May next as may be practicable, separate from their April Pay Abstracts, the Annual Detailed Statements of the respective Establishments as per Forms Nos. 1, 2, and 3, furnished for their guidance in 1848, annexing a note to each of the above Statements showing the items of expenditure which, though sanctioned, have not been actually incurred with reference to Financial Resolution of 29th October 1857, No. 4751. Pending the receipt of these documents, the audit of their April Abstracts will, under Financial Resolution of 7th September 1842, be withheld.

The usual Annual Returns of Uncovenanted Servants up to May 1859, as well as separate Statements showing the periods of leave granted to Uncovenanted Assistants, are also requested to be furnished in Forms Nos. 4 and 5, with the above Annual Detailed Statements.

W. P. Palmer,

Civil Auditor.

Civil Engineering College, Fort William.

Notice.

The next Annual Session will commence on the 1st of June. Candidates for admission should submit their Applications not later than the 20th May, forms of which may be obtained at the College between the hours of 10 and 4 daily.

Candidates must have either passed the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University, or must pass successfully a similar Examination, which will be held at the College on Monday the 23rd May, and following days.

George Chesney, Major,
Offg. Principal.

Notification.

The Civil Auditor, North-Western Provinces, has the honor to repeat his annual call to all Disbursing Officers in charge of Civil Establishments in the North-Western Provinces, for the submission (as soon after the 1st May next, as practicable, with the April Abstract) of their regular Annual Detailed Statement, containing the names and full particulars of the whole of the Establishment; and to observe that, with reference to the orders of Government, dated 15th October 1812, published in the Agra Government Gazette, of the 15th November 1842, the audit of their Abstracts for April next will be withheld until the receipt of the required Returns.

2. To facilitate check, it is particularly requested that the Abstract for April be sub-divided into distinct headings, so that each description of Office with its total shall correspond with the details given in the Statement of Establishment or the 1st May, agreeably to the Form furnished.

3. It is also requested that the three separate Lists prescribed for all Uncovenanted Civil Servants (Europeans and East Indians) and Native, (in the last the names of only those holding appointments of trust and responsibility should be inserted,) employed on their Establishments, be furnished for 1st May 1859, without delay.

H. Loch,
Offg. Civil Auditor.

Calcutta Drainage.

The Public are hereby informed that the Drainage Works are about to be commenced, for which purpose it will be necessary to deposit Materials, excavate Trenches, &c., in the Streets of the Town. Every precaution will be used to prevent accidents at night from these obstructions. The work will be commenced in Durrumtollah, and it is hoped this Notice by drawing attention thereto, will ensure caution on the part of those who travel through the Street after dark.

By order of the Board of Municipal Commissioners.

W. Clark,
Engineer to the Municipal Commissioners.

Calcutta,
The 30th April 1859.

Notification.

With the sanction of the Governor General of India in Council, it is hereby declared that the Port of Rangoon, and the Navigable River and Channels leading to that Port, are subject to Act XXII. of 1855.

The limits of the said Port of Rangoon are as follows:—

To the West.—A Line drawn South-West from the boundary pillar at Kemmendine across the Rangoon River, to the boundary pillar on the opposite bank at the entrance of the Panlang Creek.

To the South-East.—A Line drawn East from King's Point on the Dallah side of the Rangoon River, to the boundary pillar on the Syriam side.

To the North-East.—A Line running North-West and South-East drawn from the boundary pillar on the Rangoon or West side of the Pegu Rivers to a boundary pillar on the Syriam or East side, so much of Puzzomdoung Creek as lies South of a Line drawn from a pillar on the East above Kyeezeik Village to a pillar opposide to the West bank of the Creek.

The limits of the said Port include to the North and South, so much of the Rangoon River and of the Shores thereof, and so much of the Puzzomdoung Creek, and the Shores thereof as are within fifty yards of high-water mark spring tides.

The limits of the Navigable River and Channels leading to the said Port, made subject to the said Act, are as follows:

To the North.—The Port of Rangoon as above defined.

To the South.—A Line drawn East and West from the Light Ship.

All Ports of the Rangoon River between the said limits and below high-water line at spring tides are subject to the said Act.

PORT RULES.

I. No vessel, if above 200 tons, shall enter within the limits of the Port of Rangoon, or move from one place to another within the Port, between sun-set and sun-rise, without the special permission of the Master Attendant.

II. The Commanders of all vessels arriving at the Port of Rangoon are desired to enter correctly in the Columns of the Report Book of the Master Attendant, as soon as presented to them, the information therein required, regarding their vessels. They will also report in writing to the Master Attendant twenty-four hours before their departure the particulars noted in the forms appended hereto.

III. All Commanders of vessels arriving at Rangoon shall anchor in such a position as the Master Attendant or his Assistant shall direct. All vessels above 100 tons' burthen shall moor with two bower anchors and 30 fathoms of cable each way, and shall not move from their position without a Pilot, except with the express permission of the same authority.

IV. All Commanders of vessels shall have their jib and driver booms rigged in, when required by the Master Attendant, and shall strike their yard and masts if required so to do by, or by order of the same Officer.

V. Every ship or vessel within the Port of Rangoon shall have removed any anchor or spar or other substance projecting from her side, when so required by the Master Attendant, or other Officer of the Port.

VI. The Commanders of all vessels entering the Port of Rangoon, with ballast on board, shall without delay send to the Master Attendant a report in writing, stating the description of ballast on board, the quantity in tons, and the port of shipment; application must be made by the Commander to the Master Attendant for permission to tranship or land ballast, and no ballast shall be transhipped or landed except under the sanction of the Master Attendant and only at such Stations as he shall direct.

VII. A free channel of 240 yards which is to be kept for ships moving up or down the River within the Port, and also free passages to Piers, Jetties, Landing places, Wharves, Quays, Docks and Moorings, and all vessels shall be bound to move when required to clear such channels or passages.

VIII. All vessels within the Port of Rangoon shall be moored or warped from place to place as required by the Master Attendant, or other Officer of the Port, and no vessels shall cast off a warp that has been made fast to her to assist a vessel in mooring without being required to do so by the Pilot or Officer in charge of the vessel mooring.

IX. No vessels within the limits of the Port of Rangoon shall boil any pitch or dammer on board, or shall draw off spirits by candle or other artificial lights.

X. All vessels within the limits of the Channels leading to the Port of Rangoon shall when at anchor, between sun-set and sun rise, have a good light hoisted at the starboard fore-yard arm; and all vessels under weigh at night shall show a good light at the fore-royal or upper foremast head, and when under weigh in tow of a steamer shall in addition to the masthead light, show a good light at each fore-yard arm; the steamer showing the usual light prescribed by the Admiralty Regulations.

XI. No vessel shall use any of the Government chain moorings, whether fixed or swinging, without permission of the Master Attendant.

XII. All vessels occupying Government mooring fixed or swinging, shall be liable to pay for the same, according to the following scale and no more:—

	From 1st November to 30th May, being seven months. Per Diem, Rs.	From 1st June to 31st October, being five months. Per Diem, Rs.

Legislative Council of India.

The 30th April 1859.

The following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Honorable the Governor General on the 30th April 1859, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

Act No. IX of 1859.

An Act to provide for the adjudication of claims to property seized as forfeited.

Preamble.

Whereas it is expedient to make provision for the adjudication of claims to property seized as forfeited, with a view to the speedy determination of the same; and whereas it is also expedient to remove doubts concerning the powers of Officers or other persons to whom Commissions may have been issued for the trial of heinous offences in certain districts, and concerning the validity of convictions and adjudications of forfeiture made by such Officers or other persons ; It is enacted as follows :—

Courts of Special Commission to be established.

I. It shall be lawful for the Executive Governments of the Lower and North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Bengal, to establish within any part of the Territories subject to their respective Governments, Courts of Special Commission for the trial and determination of claims to property seized as forfeited, and to assign, from time to time, such local jurisdiction to the Courts so established as may appear proper. Provided that no additional expense shall be incurred by the establishment of any such Court without the previous sanction of the Governor General of India in Council.

Proviso.

Court to consist of three Commissioners.

II. Every Court established under this Act shall consist of not less than three Commissioners who shall sit together for the trial and determination of claims; but any one or more of them shall have power to make all such orders as may be necessary for preparing the cases that may be instituted for trial and decision.

Notification of establishment of Court in any District.

III. Whenever any Court shall be established under the provisions of this Act, with jurisdiction in any district or districts, notice thereof shall be given by a written proclamation, of which copies shall be affixed in the several Courts and in the Offices of the several Collectors and Magistrates of such district or districts ; and the powers heretofore vested in the Courts of such district or districts in respect of all cases cognizable by the Courts established under this Act, shall be suspended until such Courts shall be informed, by an order under the signature of the Secretary to Government, that the local jurisdiction of such Court of Special Commission has ceased, of which notice shall be given by proclamation in the manner aforesaid.

Transfer of pending suits.

IV. Any case pending before any Court sitting as a Court of original jurisdiction at the time of the passing of this Act, in respect of a matter made cognizable by Courts established under its provisions, shall be transferred to the Court of Special Commission, within the limits of whose jurisdiction the property in dispute is situate, and such Court shall summon the defendant and proceed to dispose of the case in the same manner as if it had been instituted before it.

Court where to be held.

V. The Courts established under this Act shall be held at such place within the limits of their respective jurisdiction, as shall from time to time be appointed by the local Government.

Form of plaint.

VI. The plaint in suits instituted under this Act shall be written on the stamp paper prescribed for petitions of plaint in regular suits, and shall contain the following particulars, namely,

The name, description, and place of abode of the plaintiff, the relief sought for, the subject of the claim, and the cause of action ; and if the suit be brought against a defendant other than the Government or some Officer on the part of Government, the name, description, and place of abode of such defendant.

Verification of plaint.

VII. The plaint shall be verified in the manner prescribed for the verification of plaints in Section XXVII. Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) ; and if the plaint contain any averment which the person making the verification shall know or believe to be false, or shall not know or believe to be true, such person shall be subject to punishment according to the provisions of Punishment for false averment in plaint.

the law for the time being in force for the punishment of giving or fabricating false evidence.

Presentation of plaint

VIII. The plaint may be presented by the plaintiff in person or by his duly constituted representative, either in the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in the district in which the property or any part of the property in dispute is situate, or in the Court of Special Commission having jurisdiction over the claim under this Act. If the plaint be not presented in the Court of Special Commi-sion, it shall be forwarded to such Court without delay.

Procedure before hearing of suit.

IX. The Court shall fix a day for the appearance of the parties and for the hearing of the suit, of which due notice shall be given to the parties or their representatives, and on the day so fixed the parties shall bring their witnesses into Court, together with any documents on which they may intend to rely in support of their respective statements If either party require the assistance of the Court to procure the attendance of a witness on such day, he shall apply to the Court in sufficient time before the day fixed for the hearing of the suit, and the Court shall issue a subpœna requiring such witness to attend the Court on that day. It shall be competent to the Court to require the personal attendance of the plaintiff on the day fixed for the hearing of the suit or at any subsequent stage.

Procedure on hearing.

X. On the day fixed for the hearing of the suit or as soon after as may be practicable, the Court shall proceed to examine the plaintiff or his representative (when his personal attendance is not required) and the witnesses of the parties, and upon such examination and after inspecting the documents of the parties and making any further enquiry that may appear necessary, shall proceed to pass such order in the case in respect both to the claim and to the costs of suit as it may consider just and proper.

Examination, &c., of witnesses.

XI. It shall not be necessary to take down the depositions of the witnesses in writing at length; but the Court, as the examination of each witness proceeds, shall reduce into writing the substance of what such witness deposes, and the deposition so taken shall form part of the record. In all other respects the provisions of the Regulations and Acts for procuring the attendance of witnesses and for the examination, remuneration, and punishment of witnesses in suits before the Civil Courts, shall be of equal force and effect in cases tried under this Act.

Decisions.

XII. The rules contained in Act XII of 1813 (concerning the time at which and the language in which the decisions of the Judges in the Courts of the East India Company are to be written) shall be applicable to decisions passed under this Act.

No appeal.

XIII. No appeal shall lie from any decision passed under this Act, nor shall any such decision be open to revision.

Execution of decrees.

XIV. The decrees of the Courts of Special Commission established under this Act shall be enforced by the Civil Courts of the district in which the property in dispute is situate, under the rules applicable to the execution of decrees passed by those Courts.

Records of cases where to be deposited.

XV. The records of cases disposed of by Courts established under this Act shall be deposited amongst the records of the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in the district in which the property in dispute is situate.

Validity of convictions of offences involving forfeiture of property not to be questioned by any Court.

XVI. Whenever any person shall have been convicted of an offence for which his property was forfeited to Government, no Court has power in any suit or proceeding relating to such property, to question the validity of the conviction.

Validity of conviction not to be questioned because the record does not show in what capacity the convicting Officer acted.

XVII. Whenever any person shall have been convicted as above by an Officer having power to try and convict, the validity of any such conviction shall not be questioned upon the ground that the record of the conviction does not show in what capacity such Officer acted, or that it represents him to have acted in a different capacity from that in which he had power to convict.

Property attached without adjudication of forfeiture.

XVIII. Whenever any property shall have been attached or seized without either conviction or an adjudication of forfeiture by any Officer of Government as property forfeited or liable to be forfeited to Government for an offence for which upon conviction the property of the offender would be forfeited, the validity of such attachment or seizure shall not be called in question by any Court or other authority in any suit or proceeding, unless the offender or alleged offender shall, within one year after the seizure of his property, have surrendered himself for trial and upon trial before a competent Court shall have been or shall be acquitted of the offence and shall prove to the satisfaction of the Court that he did not escape or keep out of the way for the purpose of evading justice. Nothing in this Section shall extend to persons entitled to pardon under Her Majesty's proclamation published in the Calcutta Gazette Extraordinary dated the 1st November 1858, or to any person who, having surrendered himself within the period of one year after the seizure of his property, shall be discharged by order of Government without a prosecution.

Validity of such attachment not to be questioned unless offender surrender within one year and be acquitted, &c.

Proviso.

Release of property attached as forfeited.

XIX. No Judge or other person acting as Commissioner under the provisions of Acts XIV and XVI of 1857 has power to release property attached or seized as forfeited or as liable to be forfeited to Government except under the provisions of Section VIII Act

XXV of 1857, when the offender or alleged offender shall have surrendered himself for trial and shall be tried and acquitted by such Judge or Commissioner, and shall prove that he did not escape or keep out of the way for the purpose of evading justice; and any order passed by any such Judge or Commissioner for the release of any property attached or seized as forfeited or liable to be forfeited to Government, except upon the acquittal before him of the person accused, and upon proof that he did not escape or keep out of the way for the purpose of evading justice, is hereby declared null and void.

Act not affect the rights of parties not charged with an offence punishable by forfeiture of property.

XX. Nothing in this Act shall be held to affect the rights of parties not charged with any offence for which upon conviction the property of the offender is forfeited, in respect of any property attached or seized as forfeited or liable to be forfeited to Government; provided that no suit brought by any party in respect of such property shall be entertained unless it be instituted within the period of one year from the date of the attachment or seizure of the property to which the suit relates.

Proviso.

W. MORGAN,
Clerk of the Council.

THE 23rd APRIL 1859.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India, on the 23rd April 1859, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 30th of July next:—

A Bill to amend Act III of 1857 (relating to trespasses by Cattle).

Preamble.

WHEREAS, under the provisions of Act III of 1857, fines may be levied from the owners of Cattle found trespassing and doing damage or straying in any public place, and all unclaimed Cattle so found may be sold after sufficient notice; and whereas it is provided in the said Act that the sums received on account of fines and the unclaimed proceeds of the sale of unclaimed Cattle shall be applied to the payment of the salaries of pound-keepers and other purposes connected with the execution of the Act; and whereas the amount of the said sums may be larger than is required for the said purposes, and it is expedient to provide for their legal application to other purposes; It is enacted as follows:—

Appropriation of surplus fines, &c.

I. When the amount of the sums received on account of fines and the unclaimed proceeds of the sale of unclaimed Cattle is larger than is required for the payment of the salaries allowed to pound-keepers and the expenses incurred for the construction and maintenance of pounds and other purposes connected with the execution of the said Act, any surplus which may remain after making full provision for the said salaries and expenses may be applied, under the direction of the local Government, to the construction and repair of roads and bridges, and other works of a like nature.

Act to be read as part of Act III of 1857.

II. This Act shall be read with and taken as part of Act. III of 1857.

W. MORGAN,
Clerk of the Council.

THE 23RD APRIL 1859.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to empower Magistrates to decide disputes concerning wages and certain other disputes between contractors and workmen engaged in Railway and other works; It is enacted as follows:—

Who shall be deemed a contractor within this Act.

I. Any person who has contracted or who may hereafter contract to construct any portion of a Railway, canal, or other public work, the construction of which is or shall be sanctioned by Parliament or by the Government of India, shall be deemed a contractor within the meaning of this Act.

Magistrate to take cognizance of cases of non-payment of wages to workmen by contractors.

II. If any person being a contractor within the meaning of this Act shall employ or engage with any artificer, workman, or laborer for the execution of any work connected with or incidental to the performance of his contract (whether such work is to be performed by the person so employed or engaged or by others to be employed with, by or under him), and shall not from time to time pay all such sums of money and wages as shall be justly due to the person or persons so employed, it shall be lawful for the Magistrate of the Zillah or District where the work is performed, to take cognizance of the matter.

To decide summarily after summoning the parties, &c.

III. The Magistrate shall summon such contractor (or in his absence his local manager or agent) to appear at a time and place to be named in the summons; and it shall be lawful for the Magistrate to examine witnesses upon oath or solemn affirmation and in a summary way to decide between the parties, which decision shall be final and conclusive to all intents and purposes.

Order for payment.

IV. The Magistrate shall order the payment of such sum of money as shall appear to him to be justly due to the person or persons so employed as aforesaid, and in default of payment of such sum immediately or within such time as the Magistrate shall direct, he shall issue his warrant to levy the same by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the defaulting contractor.

Distress.

V. If any question shall arise whether any goods or chattels seized under the warrant of distress belong to the defaulter or are liable to be distrained and sold as aforesaid, the decision and order of the Magistrate shall be final and conclusive with respect thereto.

Property distrained.

VI. Any artificer, workman, or laborer employed or engaged by a contractor within the meaning of this Act to execute any work of the nature mentioned in Section I, who shall wilfully and without lawful or reasonable excuse neglect or refuse to perform such work, shall be liable on conviction before the Magistrate to a fine not exceeding Rupees. The Magistrate may, at the request of the complainant or of any one authorized to act on his behalf, instead of fining such artificer, workman, or laborer, order him to perform or get performed the work according to the terms of his contract, and if he shall fail to comply with the order, the Magistrate may, upon proof to his satisfaction of such non-compliance, sentence such artificer, workman, or laborer to be imprisoned with hard labor for any term not exceeding months.

Penalty for workmen neglecting or refusing to work.

VII. The word "Magistrate" in this Act shall include any person who may be specially empowered by the Executive Government to exercise the powers vested in a Magistrate by this Act.

Interpretation. 'Magistrate.'

VIII. This Act shall take effect only in those Districts or places to which it shall be extended by order of the Governor General of India in Council or of the Executive Government of any Presidency or place.

Operation of Act.

W. Morgan,
Clerk of the Council.

The 30th April 1859.

The following Bill was read a first and second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 30th April 1859, and referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon within a month:—

A Bill to provide for the more speedy disposal of Appeals in cases appealable to the Sudder Court and of applications for Special Appeals.

Whereas by reason of the large number of regular appeals preferred in the Sudder Courts of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, much delay occurs in the hearing and determination of such Appeals; and it is expedient that measures should be provided for the more speedy disposal of the same: and whereas it is also expedient that in cases of application for special appeal any order passed by a single Judge of either of the said Courts for the admission or the rejection of any such appeal should be final; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. In suits decided by Principal Sudder Ameens in any part of the said Presidency where the amount or value of the suit shall be less than ten thousand Rupees, the appeal shall lie to the Zillah Judge, and shall not lie to the Sudder Court, any thing in Section IV Act XXV of 1837 to the contrary notwithstanding.

Appeals, in suits decided by Principal Sudder Ameens below Rupees 10,000, to lie to Zillah Judge.

II. All applications for special appeal, which are now pending in either of the said Sudder Courts, or which have been presented in any subordinate Court for transmission to the Sudder Court, and all such applications which may be hereafter presented under the provisions of Act XVI of 1853, may be heard, and on hearing may be either admitted or rejected by a single Judge of the Sudder Court, and the order passed by such Judge either for the admission or the rejection of the appeal shall be final, any thing in Clause 4 Section VIII of Act XVI of 1853 to the contrary notwithstanding. Provided always that, except under the circumstances and for the purpose described in Clause 1 of the said Section, no case shall be remanded to the Court which passed the decree by the order of a single Judge; but when such Judge shall make an order for remand, the case shall be dealt with in the manner provided in Clauses 4 and 5 of the said Section.

Applications for special appeals to be heard by a single Judge of the Sudder Court.

Proviso.

W. Morgan,
Clerk of the Council.

The 30th April 1859.

The following Bill, as settled in Committee of the whole Council, was ordered to be published for general information, and to be re-considered after two months:—

A Bill for the establishment of Courts of Small Causes beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Courts of Judicature established by Royal Charter.

Whereas, with a view to the more easy recovery of small debts and demands, it is expedient to establish Courts of Small Causes beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Courts of Judicature established by Royal Charter at the several Presidencies of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. It shall be lawful for the Executive Government of any of the said Presidencies or of any place, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, to constitute Courts of Small Causes, with the required establishment of Officers, at any place within the limits of their respective Governments, for the trial of suits under this Act. Whenever any such Court may be so constituted, the Executive Government shall fix the territorial jurisdiction of such Court, and may, from time to time, alter the same as may appear proper.

Constitution of Small Cause Courts.

Limits of territorial jurisdiction to be fixed.

II. The following are the suits which shall be cognizable by Courts of Small Causes constituted under this Act, namely, claims for money due, whether on bond or other contract, or for rent, or for personal property, or for the value of such property, or for damages, when the debt, damage, or demand does not exceed in amount or value the sum of five hundred Rupees. Provided that no action shall lie in any such Court on a balance of partnership account, unless the balance shall have been struck by the parties or their agents; or for a share or part of a share under an intestacy, or for a legacy or part of a legacy under a will; or for any claim for the rent of land or any other claim for which a suit may be brought before a Revenue Officer, if commenced in due time; or for the recovery of damages on account of alleged personal injuries, unless special damage of a pecuniary nature shall have resulted from such injury.

Description of suits cognizable by Small Cause Courts.

Proviso.

III. Every Court of Small Causes constituted under this Act shall have cognizance of all such suits as are mentioned in the last preceding Section, if the cause of action shall have arisen or the defendant at the time of the commencement of the suit shall dwell or personally work for gain within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court.

Jurisdiction of the Courts.

IV. Every Court constituted under this Act shall use a seal, bearing the following inscription in English and in the language of the Court—"Court of Small Causes of ;" and every such Court shall be subject to the general control and orders of the Judge of the District and of the Sudder Court.

Seal of the Court.

Court to be generally subject to the Zillah Judge and Sudder Court.

V. Whenever a Court of Small Causes is constituted under this Act, all suits cognizable under the provisions of this Act, for any amount exceeding twenty Rupees which shall arise within the limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, shall be heard and determined in such Court and shall not be cognizable in any other Court.

Suits cognizable by a Small Cause Court under this Act not to be cognizable in any other Court.

VI. Nothing in this Act shall be held to take away the jurisdiction which a Magistrate, or a person exercising the powers of a Magistrate, or an Assistant or a Deputy Magistrate, can now exercise in regard to debts or other claims of a Civil nature; or the jurisdiction which can be exercised by Village Moonsiffs or Village or District Punchayets under the provisions of the Madras Code, or by Military Courts of Request, or by Cantonment Joint Magistrates invested with Civil jurisdiction under Act III of 1850, or by a single Officer duly authorized and appointed under the rules in force in the Presidencies of Fort St. George and Bombay respectively, for the trial of small suits in Military Bazars, in Cantonments, and Stations occupied by the troops of those Presidencies respectively, or by Punchayets in regard to suits against Military persons, according to the rules in force under the Presidency of Fort St, George.

Saving of jurisdiction of Magistrates, &c.

of Village Moonsiffs and Village or District Punchayets in Madras.

of Military Courts of Request—

of single Officers appointed to try small suits in Madras and Bombay.

and of Military Punchayets in Madras

VII. Courts of Small Causes constituted under this Act shall be held at such place or places within the local limits of their respective jurisdictions as shall from time to time be appointed by the local Government to which such Courts are subordinate.

Courts where to be held.

VIII. Whenever any such Court is directed to be held at more places than one within the local limits of its jurisdiction, the Judge of such Court, subject to the control of the Judge of the District, shall appoint the time at which the Court shall hold its sittings in every such place. Due notice of the time so appointed shall be given by a proclamation to be fixed up in some conspicuous place in the Court-house or other building in which the sittings of the Court are to be held.

Time of holding Courts, if they be directed to be held in more places than one.

IX. The procedure to be observed in the trial of cases cognizable under this Act, shall be that prescribed in Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter), in so far as the same may be applicable and necessary. Provided that in all suits under this Act the summons to the defendant shall be for the final disposal of the suit, and provided also that, at the time of passing a decree under this Act, the Court may on the verbal application of the party in whose favor the decree is passed direct immediate execution of the same by the issue of a warrant directed either generally against the personal property of the judgment debtor wherever it may be found within the local limits of the Court's jurisdiction, or specially against any personal property belonging to the judgment debtor within the same limits which may be indicated by the judgment creditor.

Procedure.

Proviso.

X. In the execution of a decree under this Act, if, after the sale of the moveable property of a judgment debtor, any portion of a judgment shall remain due and the holder of such judgment desire to issue execution upon any immoveable property belonging to the judgment debtor, the Court, on the application of such judgment creditor, shall grant him a copy of the judgment and a certificate of any sum remaining due under it, and on the presentation of such copy and certificate to any Civil Court having general jurisdiction in which the immoveable property of the judgment debtor is situate, such Court shall proceed to enforce such judgment according to its own rules and mode of procedure in like cases.

Execution against immoveable property, if moveable property not sufficient.

XI. In suits tried under this Act, all decisions and orders of the Court shall be final. Provided that it shall be competent to the Court, if it shall think fit, to grant a new trial if applied for within the period of thirty days from the date of the decision.

Decision in certain suits to be final.

Proviso.

XII. If in the trial of any suit under this Act any question of law or usage having the force of law or the construction of a document affecting the merits of the decision shall arise, on which the Court may entertain reasonable doubts, the Court may, either of its own motion or on the application of any of the parties to the suit, draw up a statement of the Court may refer questions of law &c. to Sudder Court case and submit it, with its own opinion, for the decision of the Sudder Court.

Court may pass decree contingent upon the opinion of the Sudder Court, pending which execution not to issue.

XIII. The Court may proceed in the case, notwithstanding a reference to the Sudder Court, and may pass a decree contingent upon the opinion of the Sudder Court on the point referred; but no execution shall be issued in any case in which a reference may be made to the Sudder Court, until the receipt of the order of that Court.

Full bench of the Sudder Court to decide cases referred under this Act.

XIV. Cases referred for the opinion of the Sudder Court shall be dealt with by a full bench of that Court.

Sudder Court to fix an early day for the hearing of the case. Proclamation thereof.

XV. The Sudder Court shall fix an early day for the hearing of the case, and shall notify the same by a proclamation to be fixed up in the Court-house of that Court.

Parties may appear and be heard in person or by pleader.

XVI. The parties to the case may appear and be heard in the Sudder Court in person or by pleader.

Decision of Sudder Court how to be transmitted.

XVII. The Sudder Court, when it has heard and considered the case, shall transmit a copy of its judgment, under the seal of the Court and the signature of the Register, to the Court by which the reference was made; and such Court shall, on the receipt thereof, proceed to dispose of the case conformably to the decision of the Sudder Court.

Costs of reference to Sudder Court.

XVIII. Costs, if any, consequent on the reference of a case for the opinion of the Sudder Court shall be costs in the suit.

No appeal from decision of any existing Court subordinate to a District Court in suits below 20 Rupees.

XIX. No appeal shall lie from a decree of any existing Court subordinate to a District Court in any suit of the description contained in Section II, when the debt, damage, or demand shall not exceed twenty Rupees, but every such decree shall be final. Provided that the provisions of Section IX and the proviso in Section XI shall be applicable to every suit in which the decree is by this Section made final.

Proviso.

No special appeal from decision of any Court subordinate to the Sudder Court in suits below 500 Rupees.

XX. No special appeal shall lie from any decision or order passed on regular appeal by any Court subordinate to the Sudder Court in any suit of the nature described in Section II, when the debt, damage, or demand for which the original suit shall be instituted shall not exceed five hundred Rupees. But every such order or decision shall be final.

Reference of questions to Sudder Court under two last preceding Sections.

XXI. In every case in which a decree or decision is by the two last preceding Sections made final, the Court passing the final decree or decision shall have the same power to draw up a statement of the case for the opinion of the Sudder Court as is hereby vested in a Court of Small Causes, and all the provisions of this Act relative to statements drawn up by Courts of Small Causes shall be applicable to statements drawn up under the provisions of this Section.

Sir,

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 844, dated the 21st ultimo, suggesting that one month's preparatory leave be granted on half-pay to Uncovenanted Servants, desirous of retiring from the Service on Pension.

In reply, I am desired to state that Uncovenanted Servants about to resign the Service, who are residents in India, and have no voyage to prepare for, have not, in the opinion of the Governor General in Council, any reasonable claim to a month's "preparatory" leave; but he thinks that this indulgence, which is granted on half pay to Covenanted Servants, may be extended to European Uncovenanted Servants, intending to proceed to Europe immediately on retirement, on the understanding, however, that it shall subject to the same condition as the leave to Convenanted Officers, viz. that it shall be granted only in case it can be given without detriment to the Public Service.

Camp near Bootwul, the 30th March 1859.

Sir,

In my letter No. 186, of 28th instant, to the address of the Quarter-Master General of the Army, I gave a short statement of the successful attack made, on the morning of the 28th instant, by a portion of the Force under my Command on the Rebels posted in the first range of the Nepal Hills; and I have now the honor to forward for the information of Major-General Sir Hope Grant, K. C. B., a more detailed account of the affair, which I request he will have the goodness to transmit for submission to his Lordship the Commander-in-Chief.

2. The Force intended for the attack was divided into two Columns; that on the right Commanded by Captain Stafford 7th Punjaub Infantry, consisted of that Regiment and a Detachment of 92 men of Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, Commanded by Lieutenant Gilbert. The left under Captain Renny, of his own Regiment the 3rd Seikh Infantry, and a Detachment of 92 men, of Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, under Captain Peel: the strength of these Columns is given in the margin.

3rd Seikh Infantry.
4 European Officers.
15 Native "
44 Havildars.
623 Rank and file.

3. The remainder of the Force consisting of the Field Battery Royal Artillery under Major Henry; the remainder of the Wing Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry under Lieutenant-Colonel King; Her Majesty's 31th Regiment under Lieutenant-Colonel Simpson; the Jât Horse under Major Murray; Lahore Light Horse under Captain Jackson, Her Majesty's 70th Regiment; and Pathan Horse under Lieutenant Vivian, were distributed in a chain of Picquets skirting the jungle to cut off the escape of the enemy should they attempt it from the direction of the base of the hills; 3 Companies of Her Majesty's 31th Regiment under Major Maxwell were left to guard our Camps which were left standing.

4. At day-break the attacking Columns left the Camp and pushing through the dense belt of jungle skirting the base of the hills, commenced their steep ascent at the points selected by me the previous evening, and skilfully led by Captains Stafford and Renny, they ascended the spurs of the hills by which they commanded the Gorges on either side, and notwithstanding the opposition made by the Rebels greatly superior to them in numbers, with all the advantages of position in their favor, fairly drove them from ridge to ridge completely over the crest of the range, inflicting on them a loss of at least four hundred in killed alone, and a quantity of Arms of all sorts thrown away by them, six Elephants and about twenty five Camels and three hundred Horses and Ponies were also captured.

5. Our loss amounted to five men killed and one European Officer Lieutenant and Adjutant Baillie, 7th Punjaub Infantry, (who although severely wounded is I am glad to say doing well) one Native Officer and eight men wounded, total five killed and ten wounded, which although to be regretted, will not I hope be considered out of proportion to the advantage gained.

6 I enclose for the information of the Major-General the Reports of their operations made to me by Captains Renny and Stafford, and I trust that he will support my recommendation that their valuable services on this occasion as well as on that of the affair of 25th instant, may receive some recognition. The conduct of all engaged both Officers and Men was admirable.

7. The difficulties of a steep ascent through a thick jungle, and under a burning sun, and exposed to a heavy fire, were overcome with cheerfulness and with a resolution which overcame all opposition, and left the enemy no resource but flight, and I beg to recommend to the notice of Sir Hope Grant the names of the Officers and Men mentioned by Captains Renny and Stafford, viz., Captain Peel and Lieutenant Gilbert, Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry; Lieutenant Roberts, Her Majesty's 87th Regiment, 2nd in Command 3rd Sikh Infantry; Lieutenant Gordon, Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, 2nd in Command 7th Punjaub Infantry; Lieutenant and Adjutant Baillie of the same Corps (severely wounded;) also—

8. The enemy made some attempts to escape on our right and left flanks through the jungle, but a fire being opened on them by the Picquets of Her Majesty's 13th and 34th Regiments stationed there about twenty were killed, and I think few escaped.

In addition to the Officers Commanding Corps and Detachments I have already mentioned, I beg to express my sense of the services rendered by Lieutenant-Colonel Gwilt and Major Maxwell who Commanded post on this occasion, and Lieutenant Cochrane the Staff Officer to the Column. I have also to thank Captain Haig, the Commissariat Officer, with the Column, for his indefatigable exertions to feed the Troops which has been attended with unusual difficulty on account of our being at present in a foreign State.

I enclose Nominal and Numerical Returns of the Killed and wounded, and also a present state of the Force.

No. 61.

From Captain R. Renny,
Commanding Left Column of Attack,

To Lieut. Cochrane,
Staff Officer.

Camp Field Force, the 29th March 1859

Sir,

For the information of Colonel Kelly, C. B., Commanding the Field Force, I have the honor to report that agreeably to instructions received from him on the previous evening, I marched yesterday morning at ½ o'clock A. M., with the Troops noted in the margin, for the purpose of attacking the enemy's position in the Hills North of Camp.

H. M.'s 13th Light Infantry.
2 Officers.
4 Serjeants.
1 Bugler.
87 Privates.
3rd Sikh Infantry
4 Officers.
15 Native Officers.
44 Havildars.
623 Rank and File.

On reaching the edge of the jungle a little to the Westward, I drew up the Troops in the following order:—

One Company of the 3rd Sikh Infantry extended as skirmishers in front with a Sub-Division in the same order on either flank. The Detachment of H. M.'s 13th Light Infantry and another Company of the 3rd Sikhs in support.

In this order we advanced through the heavy jungle and ascended the ridge of the steep Hill to the North-West.

When half way up the Hill, I was enabled to reconnoitre the position of the enemy and determine my plan of attack.

Two Columns consisting of two Companies of the 3rd Sikh Infantry, with a Section of H. M.'s 13th Light Infantry attached to each were detached to the right, with orders to proceed along the spur of the Hill running out to the North-East. These Detachments were Commanded by Captain Peel, of H. M.'s 13th Light Infantry, and Lieutenant Roberts, 2nd in Command, 3rd Sikh Infantry.

I advanced with the remainder of the Column along the ridge to the top of the Hill, from whence two more parties were detached under Lieutenant Harrison, Adjutant, 3rd Sikh Infantry, and Lieutenant Sartorius, 72nd N. I., attached to H. M.'s 13th Light Infantry.

The enemy were now completely surrounded, and the different Columns commenced the descent simultaneously, and although we had to pass down the face of the Hill through a most dense and difficult jungle, the enemy were driven from every position with great slaughter into the valley below. Owing to the nature of the ground, the few European Officers were all employed in command of separate Detachments. My thanks are due to all, but more particularly to Captain Peel, of H. M.'s 13th Light Infantry, and Lieutenant Roberts, 3rd Sikh Infantry, on whose Detachments fell the principal share of the fighting.

No Troops could have behaved better than those entrusted to my Command, both European and Native.

The practice of the Enfield Rifles of H. M.'s 13th Light Infantry, was admirable, the duty was most orduous over steep hills, precipices, and a heavy impenetrable jungle.

Our loss was small owing, I believe, to the heights being occupied before commencing the action, that of the enemy could not have been under three hundred and fifty.

I beg to recommend to the favorable consideration of Colonel Kelly, C. B., Commanding—

Soubadar and Native Adjutant Heerah Sing, 3rd Sikhs.
Soubadar Koodah Sing, ... Ditto.
Naick Abah Khan, ... Ditto.
Sepoy Sobah Sing, ... Ditto.

The conduct of these Native Officers and Men was conspicuous both on this occasion and in the Action of the 25th instant.

A Nominal Roll of Killed and Wounded is enclosed.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) R. Renny, Captain,
Commanding Left Column of Attack.

FROM CAPTAIN J. F. STAFFORD,
7th Punjaub Infantry,
Commanding Right Column of Attack,

TO LIEUTENANT COCHRANE,
Her Majesty's 34th Regiment,
Staff Officer.
Camp Field Force, the 28th March 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report for the information of Brigadier Kelly, C. B., Commanding the Frontier, that agreeably to his instructions, I marched from Camp this morning at 4 o'clock, with the Troops marginally noted, for the purpose of attacking the Rebels in the low range of the Nepaul Hills.

H. M.'s 13th Light Infantry.
Lieutenant Gilbert
" Sandeson
6 Sergeants.
1 Bugler.
85 Privates.

7th Punjaub Infantry.
3 European Officers.
9 Native Officers.
44 " Havildars.
4 " Buglers.
471 " Sepoys.

2. I entered the belt of heavy jungle which here skirts the hills to a depth of about 4 miles at break of day, and having thrown out four Companies of the 7th Punjaub Infantry, two extended and two as supports, under Lieutenants Gordon and Baillie to cover the advance of the Column, I pouched on through the dense jungle as rapidly as possible. After proceeding about 4 miles and reaching the foot of the hills, the skirmishers surprised and cut up a Cavalry Picquet capturing their horses.

The Rebels having then become aware of our approach, opened a heavy fire from the left front, from which, however, they were speedily dislodged, but finding that my skirmishers, though gradually forcing their way up the first range, were greatly out numbered and exposed to an overwhelming fire, I determined upon occupying an elevated ridge on the right, from which after a rapid but toilsome ascent, I was enabled materially to assist the skirmishers by a protecting fire form the Rifles of the Company of Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, under Lieutenant Gilbert.

4. The Rebel Force fully numbered 5,000 fighting men well supplied with ammunition, as was apparent from the continued heavy fire which they kept up till driven over the highest range.

The bodies of the enemy killed which lay directly in the path of the Troops, amounted to about 50, but there can be no doubt but that in the dense jungle to the right and left of our advance, and into which the fire was chiefly directed many must have fallen.

5. No Troops could have behaved better, and I am much indebted to Lieutenant Gilbert, Commanding Detachment Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, for his support. Also to Lieutenants Gordon and Baillie, 7th Punjab Infantry, for the gallant manner in which they led their respective Detachments. I regret to say the latter Officer was wounded in the head by a musket ball.

6. I beg further to bring to the notice of the Brigadier Commanding the names of the under-mentioned Native Officers, who were distinguished by their cool bravery and exertions in encouraging the men and keeping them together :—

Subadar Esur Sing, 7th Punjaub Infantry.
" Sirbaz Khan " Jemadar Ahmedjee "
" Lalloo "

I annex a Return of Killed and Wounded.

I have, &c.,
Signed J. F. STAFFORD, Captain.,

No. 257.

Notice.

TENDERS for the transportation of Salt from the Central and Southern Agencies of Orissa, to the Government Golahs at Sulkea, will be received at this Office until 2 P. M., of the 17th of May next.

2. The Tenders must be drawn up according to a form which may be obtained on application at this Office.

3. Distinct contracts must be entered into for the removal of the Salt in each of the three following localities, to wit, Hunsoosh (in Central Cuttack) and the Ustrung Aurungs and the Chilka Lake Aurungs, in the Southern or Poorce Agency.

4. Parties tendering must satisfy the Board of Revenue and the Commissioner of Cuttack, that they possess the means of conveying the full quantity of Salt tendered for, and with this object a list of the vessels intended to be employed must accompany each Tender.

5. The quantity of Salt to be shipped at the Hunsoosh Golahs will probably not exceed 1,00,000 maunds in each year; that from the Ustrungs is roughly estimated at 80,000 maunds for the ensuing season, and that from the Chilka Aurungs at maunds 3,20,000. The tenderer may apply for the whole quantity for which freight is required at each locality, or for any part not less than a quarter of such quantity.

6. Contractors must engage to ship the Salt allotted to them, during the period between the last spring tides of October and the end of February.

7. Parties whose tenders are accepted will be required to make a deposit of Government Promissory Notes, or to furnish other unexceptionable Security for the performance of their contracts.

8. The Board reserve to themselves the right of rejecting any Tender without assigning a reason.

By order of the Board of Revenue,

E. T. TREVOR,
Secretary.

Notification.

Fort William, Civil Auditor's Office, the 20th April 1859.

To the Officers of the Political, Judicial, Revenue, Customs, Salt, Opium, and other branches of Service.

The Civil Auditor has the honor to request that Disbursing Officers, in charge of Civil Establishments, will be good enough to submit, as soon after 1st of May next as may be practicable, separate from their April Pay Abstracts, the Annual Detailed Statements of the respective Establishments as per Forms Nos. 1, 2, and 3, furnished for their guidance in 1848, annexing a note to each of the above Statements showing the items of expenditure which, though sanctioned, have not been actually incurred with reference to Financial Resolution of 29th October 1857, No. 4751. Pending the receipt of these documents, the audit of their April Abstracts will, under Financial Resolution of 7th September 1842, be withheld.

The usual Annual Returns of Uncovenanted Servants up to May 1859, as well as separate Statements showing the periods of leave granted to Uncovenanted Assistants, are also requested to be furnished in Forms Nos. 4 and 5, with the above Annual Detailed Statements.

W. P. Palmer,
Civil Auditor.

Medical College.

The Session of 1859-60 will commence in the Medical College on the 15th June next.

2. Students who may be desirous of entering the College are requested to apply to the Principal, at the Medical College, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M., on or before the 10th of June next.

3. The possession of the "Entrance Examination" Certificate of the Calcutta University, will entitle Students to enter the Medical College without further Examination.

4. Under certain conditions (which may be learned on application to the Principal) Students will be admitted in anticipation of passing the University Entrance Examination, but under the clear proviso of their going up for that Examination before the commencement of the Session of 1860-61.

5. The course of Instruction given in the Calcutta Medical College is framed to meet the requirements of the Calcutta University for obtaining its Degrees in Medicine and Surgery.

6 The Certificates of Lectures and Hospital Attendance of the College are likewise recognised by the University of London, the Royal College of Surgeons of England, and the Worshipful Society of Apothecaries of London, as entitling the possessors of such to compete in London for the Degree, Diploma and License of those bodies, under the Rules which regulate the granting of the same.

Notice.

The next Annual Session will commence on the 1st of June. Candidates for admission should submit their Applications not later than the 20th May, forms of which may be obtained at the College between the hours of 10 and 4 daily.

Candidates must have either passed the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University, or must pass successfully a similar Examination, which will be held at the College on Monday the 23rd May, and following days.

George Chesney, Major,
Offg. Principal.

Notification.

The Civil Auditor, North-Western Provinces, has the honor to repeat his annual call to all Disbursing Officers in charge of Civil Establishments in the North-Western Provinces, for the submission (as soon after the 1st May next, as practicable, with the April Abstract) of their regular Annual Detailed Statement, containing the names and full particulars of the whole of the Establishment; and to observe that, with reference to the orders of Government, dated 15th October 1842, published in the Agra Government Gazette, of the 15th November 1842, the audit of their Abstracts for April next will be withheld until the receipt of the required Returns.

2. To facilitate check, it is particularly requested that the Abstract for April be sub-divided into distinct headings, so that each description of Office with its total shall correspond with the details given in the Statement of Establishment or the 1st May, agreeably to the Form furnished.

3. It is also requested that the three separate Lists prescribed for all Uncovenanted Civil Servants (Europeans and East Indians) and Native, (in the last the names of only those holding appointments of trust and responsibility should be inserted,) employed on their Establishments, be furnished for 1st May 1859, without delay.

Calcutta Drainage.

The Public are hereby informed that the Drainage Works are about to be commenced, for which purpose it will be necessary to deposit Materials, excavate Trenches, &c., in the Streets of the Town. Every precaution will be used to prevent accidents at night from these obstructions. The work will be commenced in Durrumtollah, and it is hoped this Notice by drawing attention thereto, will ensure caution on the part of those who travel through the Street after dark.

By order of the Board of Municipal Commissioners.

W. Clark,
Engineer to the Municipal Commissioners.

Calcutta,
The 30th April 1859.

Notification.

With the sanction of the Governor General of India in Council, it is hereby declared that the Port of Rangoon, and the Navigable River and Channels leading to that Port, are subject to Act XXII. of 1855.

The limits of the said Port of Rangoon are as follows:—

To the West.—A Line drawn South-West from the boundary pillar at Kemmendine across the Rangoon River, to the boundary pillar on the opposite bank at the entrance of the Panlang Creek.

To the South-East.—A Line drawn East from King's Point on the Dallah side of the Rangoon River, to the boundary pillar on the Syriam side.

To the North-East.—A Line running North-West and South-East drawn from the boundary pillar on the Rangoon or West side of the Pegu Rivers to a boundary pillar on the Syriam or East side, so much of Puzzomdoung Creek as lies South of a Line drawn from a pillar on the East above Kyeezeik Village to a pillar opposite to the West bank of the Creek.

The limits of the said Port include to the North and South, so much of the Rangoon River and of the Shores thereof, and so much of the Puzzomdoung Creek, and the Shores thereof as are within fifty yards of high-water mark spring tides.

The limits of the Navigable River and Channels leading to the said Port, made subject to the said Act, are as follows:—

To the North.—The Port of Rangoon as above defined.

To the South.—A Line drawn East and West from the Light Ship.

All Ports of the Rangoon River between the said limits and below high-water line at spring tides are subject to the said Act.

PORT RULES.

I. No vessel, if above 200 tons, shall enter within the limits of the Port of Rangoon, or move from one place to another within the Port, between sun-set and sun-rise, without the special permission of the Master Attendant.

II. The Commanders of all vessels arriving at the Port of Rangoon are desired to enter correctly in the Columns of the Report Book of the Master Attendant, as soon as presented to them, the information therein required, regarding their vessels. They will also report in writing to the Master Attendant twenty-four hours before their departure the particulars noted in the forms appended hereto.

III. All Commanders of vessels arriving at Rangoon shall anchor in such a position as the Master Attendant or his Assistant shall direct. All vessels above 100 tons' burthen shall moor with two bower anchors and 30 fathoms of cable each way, and shall not move from their position without a Pilot, except with the express permission of the same authority.

IV. All Commanders of vessels shall have their jib and driver booms rigged in, when required by the Master Attendant, and shall strike their yard and masts if required so to do by, or by order of the same Officer.

V. Every ship or vessel within the Port of Rangoon shall have removed any anchor or spar or other substance projecting from her side, when so required by the Master Attendant, or other Officer of the Port.

VI. The Commanders of all vessels entering the Port of Rangoon, with ballast on board, shall without delay send to the Master Attendant a report in writing, stating the description of ballast on board, the quantity in tons, and the port of shipment; application must be made by the Commander to the Master Attendant for permission to tranship or land ballast, and no ballast shall be transhipped or landed except under the sanction of the Master Attendant and only at such Stations as he shall direct.

VII. A free channel of 240 yards which is to be kept for ships moving up or down the River within the Port, and also free passages to Piers, Jetties, Landing places, Wharves, Quays, Docks and Moorings, and all vessels shall be bound to move when required to clear such channels or passages.

VIII. All vessels within the Port of Rangoon shall be moored or warped from place to place as required by the Master Attendant, or other Officer of the Port, and no vessels shall cast off a warp that has been made fast to her to assist a vessel in mooring without being required to do so by the Pilot or Officer in charge of the vessel mooring.

IX. No vessels within the limits of the Port of Rangoon shall boil any pitch or dammer on board, or shall draw off spirits by candle or other artificial lights.

X. All vessels within the limits of the Channels leading to the Port of Rangoon shall when at anchor, between sun-set and sun rise, have a good light hoisted at the starboard fore-yard arm; and all vessels under weigh at night shall show a good light at the fore-royal or upper foremast head, and when under weigh in tow of a steamer shall in addition to the masthead light, show a good light at each fore-yard arm; the steamer showing the usual light prescribed by the Admiralty Regulations.

XI. No vessel shall use any of the Government chain moorings, whether fixed or swinging, without permission of the Master Attendant

XII. All vessels occupying Government mooring fixed or swinging, shall be liable to pay for the same, according to the following scale and no more:—

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF THE POST IN INDIA,
January 1st 1859.

THE following Conditions are to be observed in sending Book-Packets by Post:—

1*st*.—The Postage must be pre-paid in full, by means of Postage Stamps affixed outside the Packet on its cover.

2*nd*.—Every Packet must be sent either without a cover, or in a cover open at the ends or sides, so as to admit of the enclosures being removed for examination.

3*rd*.—The Packet may contain any number of separate books or other publications, prints, or maps, and any quantity of paper, parchment or vellum (to the exclusion, however, of letters whether sealed or open) and the books or other publications, prints, maps, &c., may be either printed, written or plain, or any mixture of the three. Further, all legitimate binding, mounting, or covering of a book, publication, &c., or of a portion thereof, will be allowed, whether such binding, &c. be loose or attached; as also rollers in the case of prints or maps, markers (whether of paper or otherwise) in the case of books; and in short whatever is necessary for the safe transmission of literary or artistic matter or usually appertains thereto.

4*th*.—The Packet must not contain any letter, closed or open, or any enclosure sealed or otherwise closed against inspection, nor must there be any letter, or any communication of the nature of a letter, written or printed in any such Packet or on its cover. Entries, however, merely stating who sends the book, &c., or to whom it is given, are not regarded as a letter.

5*th*.—No Book-Packet can be received if it exceeds two feet in length, width, or depth.

6*th*.—Any Packet which shall not be open at the ends or sides, or shall have any letter or any communication of the nature of a letter written or printed in it or upon its cover will be charged with Letter Postage.

7*th*.—If a Packet be found to contain any letter, whether closed or open, or any enclosure sealed or otherwise closed against inspection, or any other unauthorized enclosure, the letter or enclosure will be taken out and forwarded to the address on the Packet, charged with full Postage as an unpaid letter together with an additional Book-rate; that is, with the Postage chargeable on a Book weighing not more than half a lb the remainder of the Packet, if duly pre-paid with Stamps, will then be forwarded to its address.

8*th*.—If a Packet be not sufficiently pre-paid with Stamps but nevertheless bear Stamps equal to a single Book-rate, it will be forwarded charged with the deficient Book-Postage together with an additional Book-rate; but any Packet which shall not bear Postage Stamps equal to a single Book-rate will be detained and charged with the Letter Postage.

9*th*.—No Book-Packet weighing more than three lbs can be sent to or from the East Indies or to New South Wales.

10*th*.—The Colonial Book-Post extends to those Colonies only which are so marked in the Table of Colonial and Foreign Postage.

11*th*.—In no case can a Book-Packet be sent to the Colonies (except at the letter rate of Postage,) through a Foreign Country.

Special Notice is directed to the subjoined Clauses of Rules, the want of attention to which has occasioned the Post Office much inconvenience.

2*nd*.—A separate instruction will be required for every change of address, and no instruction will be attended to for more than three months after its receipt.

3*rd*.—Under Section XXIII. of Act XVII. of 1854, Forward Postage will be charged in addition to all other Postage due or paid thereon upon every letter without exception, which may be re-directed in any Post Office. For example, if a letter posted in Calcutta and addressed to Hooghly is, under instructions which may have been received from the addressee, re-directed in the Calcutta Post Office and sent to Barrackpore, Forward Postage will be charged in addition to the Postage which would have been due, had the letter been despatched to Hooghly according to its original address.

4*th*.—The practice of giving instructions to the Officers of the Post Office to intercept and re-direct letters, not only imposes much labor upon them, but in large Offices seriously retards the delivery and despatch of the Mails. A register of instructions regarding changes of address will be kept in every Post Office, but it must be understood, that it is impossible to guarantee that they shall be attended to, except in the case of letters received for delivery.

There is only one delivery of letters at the General Post Office on Sundays, and Banghy Parcels are neither received nor despatched on that day.

Letters and Newspapers despatched to and from the United Kingdom by private Vessels are liable to the following rates of Postage which must be pre-paid by Stamps:—

	Rs.	As.	Pie.
Letters not exceeding ½ oz. in weight	0	4	0
Ditto exceeding ½ oz. but not exceeding 1 oz.	0	8	0

And so on adding 8 annas for each oz. or fraction thereof which includes Inland Postage.

Newspapers not exceeding 4 oz. in weight, 1*d*. or 9 pie must be pre-paid in cash, and no Inland Postage is required upon such papers.

Parcels conveyed by the above opportunity for the United Kingdom are liable to Letter rates of Postage.

Notice.

The following Extract of an Order of the Government of India, No. 884, of the 13th July 1855.

"No Public Officer is authorized to send Covers on the Public Service by Post, without payment of Postage, unless he is at the time on active duty and in charge of the Office by virtue of which the privilege is enjoyed. All letters superscribed as 'on the Public Service only' must, even though the Postage thereon be not paid, be received and opened by the Officer to whom they are addressed, but if any such, or partially paid letter so superscribed, and addressed to any Officer except a Secretary to Government be found when opened, to relate to the private affairs of the Sender, the Postage will be debited to him and he will be further liable to be dealt with under Section XLVII. Act No. XVII. of 1851.

His Honor in Council further directs that unpaid or insufficiently paid letters addressed to any such Officer or Department and not superscribed "on the Public Service only' be refused, or if opened that it be at the risk and cost of the opener."

Letters arriving at the Presidency Towns, by Mail Steamers will be immediately sorted for delivery according to the address alone, without any reference to instructions which may have been received regarding change of address; such changes will be left to be discovered by the Delivery Officers, and be corrected in the forward and unclaimed Departments of the Office.

Forward Postage will be charged in addition to all other Postage due or paid thereon, upon every letter, without exception, which may be re-directed in the Post Office.

Letters, &c., received by the Steamer will be delivered at the Window of the Post Office only to parties who have registered their names. Applications to the Post Office on the day of the Steamer's arrival to intercept and re-direct letters, &c., cannot be attended to, as they are found not only to impose much labour but seriously retard the delivery and despatch of the Mails.

ALL Banghy Parcels being registered before despatch it is needless to have a Banghy Parcel specially registered by payment of the Fee of 4 annas as no additional precaution can be taken of a specially Registered Parcel which is not taken in the case of every ordinary Banghy Parcel.

UNDER the orders of Government, no fourth delivery of letters by the Post Office is allowed. Mails which are received by Steamers from Suez at so late an hour in the day as not to admit of the letters being taken out for delivery by 6 P. M. are detained till the following morning, but parties who have registered their names under the usual fee, are entitled to receive their letters, and Marseilles Newspapers so soon as the Mails are sorted, and which is generally about 2½ hours after receipt of the Mail, at the Post Office.

THE exemption allowed to Officers with the Army from the charge of Forward Postage on re-directed letters has been continued by the Governor General "until further orders."

Forward Newspapers.—Extra or Forward Postage is chargeable on every Newspaper re-directed at the Post Office of original address and forwarded to another Post Office.

MAILS for Akyab, Rangoon and Moulmein are made up on the 3rd and 19th of each month, for transmission by the Contract Steamers or by Government Vessels, which sail on the morning of the 4th and 20th, unless the Contractors choose to postpone the departure for 48 hours, of which they have the power on making a requisition.

Notice.

No. 8189.

ON Letters and Newspapers sent in the Alexandria Packet for Jaffa, Jerusalem, Bagdad, Beyrout, Constantinople, and other places in Turkey or Syria, the following rates of Postage must be pre-paid:—

FOR LETTERS.

	Rs.	As.	P.
When not exceeding half an ounce ...	0	11	6
When above half an ounce and under one ounce	1	7	0
When above one ounce and not exceeding two ounces	2	14	0

FOR NEWSPAPERS.

When not exceeding two ounces ...	0	0	9
When exceeding two ounces and under four ounces	0	1	6
When exceeding four ounces and under eight ounces	0	3	0
When exceeding eight ounces and under 1lb	0	6	0
When exceeding 1lb and under 1½lb ...	0	8	0

The above rates are those chargeable upon letters and papers posted at the Presidency Towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay. On letters and papers posted in the interior, as also when posted at Calcutta or Madras for transmission viâ Bombay, Indian Inland Postage must be pre-paid in addition to the above rates.

Notice.

No. 8199.

LETTERS for all the States of Italy, (except Tuscany), may in future be pre-paid in India, and if pre-paid, will be sent in the Malta Mail for direct despatch from that place to Italy. Newspapers may be similarly sent.

The rates of Postage are as follows:—

On Letters	To Sardinia.	To any other State of Italy, except Tuscany.
Weighing less than ½ of an ounce	0 6 0	0 14 0
More than ½ of an ounce, but less than ¾ an ounce	0 9 0	1 0 0
More than ¾ an ounce, but less than ¼ of an ounce	0 15 0	1 14 0
More than ¼ of an ounce, but less than 1 ounce . .	1 2 0	2 0 0

The above rates comprise the Indian Postage as well as the British and Foreign Postage.

On Newspapers and Printed Papers	To Sardinia.	To any other State of Italy, except Tuscany.
Weighing less than 2 ounces	Newspapers, &c., to Sardinia cannot be prepaid.	0 1 6
More than 2 ounces, less than 4 ounces		0 2 0
More than 4 ounces, less than 6 ounces		0 3 6
More than 6 ounces, less than 8 ounces		0 4 0

In addition to the above rates on Newspapers and Printed Papers, Inland Indian Postage must be paid on all papers posted elsewhere than at the Post Offices of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and likewise on all papers posted in Calcutta or Madras when they are intended for transmission viâ Bombay.

Unpaid Letters for Tuscany and Unpaid Letters for any other part of Italy, (except Sardinia) will be forwarded as heretofore through France.

For Sardinia, Unpaid Letters, as well as Paid Letters, will be sent in the Mail for Malta.

Upon Unpaid Letters for any part of Italy, except Sardinia, Indian Inland Postage must be paid, as heretofore, according to the Indian Scale of weight, vide Section XIX of Act XVII of 1854.

SATURDAY, MAY 7, 1859.

Legislative Council of India.

THE 30TH APRIL 1859.

THE following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Honorable the Governor General on the 30th April 1859, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. IX OF 1859.

An Act to provide for the adjudication of claims to property seized as forfeited.

Preamble.

Courts of Special Commission to be established.

I. It shall be lawful for the Executive Governments of the Lower and North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Bengal, to establish within any part of the Territories subject to their respective Governments, Courts of Special Commission for the trial and determination of claims to property seized as forfeited, and to assign, from time to time, such local jurisdiction to the Courts so established as may appear proper. Provided that no additional expense shall be incurred by the establishment of any such Court without the previous sanction of the Governor General of India in Council.

Proviso.

Court to consist of three Commissioners.

II. Every Court established under this Act shall consist of not less than three Commissioners who shall sit together for the trial and determination of claims; but any one or more of them shall have power to make all such orders as may be necessary for preparing the cases that may be instituted for trial and decision.

Notification of establishment of Court in any District.

III. Whenever any Court shall be established under the provisions of this Act, with jurisdiction in any district or districts, notice thereof shall be given by a written proclamation, of which copies shall be affixed in the several Courts and in the Offices of the several Collectors and Magistrates of such district or districts; and the powers heretofore vested in the Courts of such district or districts in respect of all cases cognizable by the Courts established under this Act, shall be suspended until such Courts shall be informed, by an order under the signature of the Secretary to Government, that the local jurisdiction of such Court of Special Commission has ceased, of which notice shall be given by proclamation in the manner aforesaid.

Transfer of pending suits.

IV. Any case pending before any Court sitting as a Court of original jurisdiction at the time of the passing of this Act, in respect of a matter made cognizable by Courts established under its provisions, shall be transferred to the Court of Special Commission, within the limits of whose jurisdiction the property in dispute is situate, and such Court shall summon the defendant and proceed to dispose of the case in the same manner as if it had been instituted before it.

Court where to be held.

V. The Courts established under this Act shall be held at such place within the limits of their respective jurisdiction, as shall from time to time be appointed by the local Government.

Form of plaint.

VI. The plaint in suits instituted under this Act shall be written on the stamp paper prescribed for petitions of plaint in regular suits, and shall contain the following particulars, namely,

The name, description, and place of abode of the plaintiff, the relief sought for, the subject of the claim, and the cause of action ; and if the suit be brought against a defendant other than the Government or some Officer on the part of Government, the name, description, and place of abode of such defendant.

Verification of plaint.

VII. The plaint shall be verified in the manner prescribed for the verification of plaints in Section XXVII. Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) ; and if the plaint contain any averment which the person making the verification shall know or believe to be false, or shall not know or believe to be true, such person shall be subject to punishment according to the provisions of the law for the time being in force for the punishment of giving or fabricating false evidence.

Punishment for false averment in plaint.

Presentation of plaint.

VIII. The plaint may be presented by the plaintiff in person or by his duly constituted representative, either in the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in the district in which the property or any part of the property in dispute is situate, or in the Court of Special Commission having jurisdiction over the claim under this Act. If the plaint be not presented in the Court of Special Commission, it shall be forwarded to such Court without delay.

Procedure before hearing of suit.

IX. The Court shall fix a day for the appearance of the parties and for the hearing of the suit, of which due notice shall be given to the parties or their representatives, and on the day so fixed the parties shall bring their witnesses into Court, together with any documents on which they may intend to rely in support of their respective statements. If either party require the assistance of the Court to procure the attendance of a witness on such day, he shall apply to the Court in sufficient time before the day fixed for the hearing of the suit, and the Court shall issue a subpœna requiring such witness to attend the Court on that day. It shall be competent to the Court to require the personal attendance of the plaintiff on the day fixed for the hearing of the suit or at any subsequent stage.

Procedure on hearing.

X. On the day fixed for the hearing of the suit or as soon after as may be practicable, the Court shall proceed to examine the plaintiff or his representative (when his personal attendance is not required) and the witnesses of the parties, and upon such examination and after inspecting the documents of the parties and making any further enquiry that may appear necessary, shall proceed to pass such order in the case in respect both to the claim and to the costs of suit as it may consider just and proper.

Examination, &c., of witnesses.

XI. It shall not be necessary to take down the depositions of the witnesses in writing at length ; but the Court, as the examination of each witness proceeds, shall reduce into writing the substance of what such witness deposes, and the deposition so taken shall form part of the record. In all other respects the provisions of the Regulations and Acts for procuring the attendance of witnesses and for the examination, remuneration, and punishment of witnesses in suits before the Civil Courts, shall be of equal force and effect in cases tried under this Act.

Decisions.

XII. The rules contained in Act XII of 1843 (concerning the time at which and the language in which the decisions of the Judges in the Courts of the East India Company are to be written) shall be applicable to decisions passed under this Act.

No appeal.

XIII. No appeal shall lie from any decision passed under this Act, nor shall any such decision be open to revision.

Execution of decrees.

XIV. The decrees of the Courts of Special Commission established under this Act shall be enforced by the Civil Courts of the district in which the property in dispute is situate, under the rules applicable to the execution of decrees passed by those Courts.

Records of cases where to be deposited.

XV. The records of cases disposed of by Courts established under this Act shall be deposited amongst the records of the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in the district in which the property in dispute is situate.

Validity of convictions of offences involving forfeiture of property not to be questioned by any Court.

XVI. Whenever any person shall have been convicted of an offence for which his property was forfeited to Government, no Court has power in any suit or proceeding relating to such property, to question the validity of the conviction.

Validity of conviction not to be questioned because the record does not show in what capacity the convicting Officer acted.

XVII. Whenever any person shall have been convicted as above by an Officer having power to try and convict, the validity of any such conviction shall not be questioned upon the ground that the record of the conviction does not show in what capacity such Officer acted, or that it represents him to have acted in a different capacity from that in which he had power to convict.

Property attached without adjudication of forfeiture.

XVIII. Whenever any property shall have been attached or seized without either conviction or an adjudication of forfeiture by any Officer of Government as property forfeited or liable to be forfeited to Government for an offence for which upon conviction the property of the offender would be forfeited, the validity of such attachment or seizure shall not be called in question by any Court or other authority in any suit or proceeding, unless the offender or alleged offender shall, within one year after the seizure of his property, have surrendered himself for trial and upon trial before a competent Court shall have been or shall be acquitted of the offence and shall prove to the satisfaction of the Court that he did not escape or keep out of the way for the purpose of evading justice. Nothing in this Section shall extend to persons entitled to pardon under Her Majesty's proclamation published in the Calcutta Gazette Extraordinary dated the 1st

Validity of such attachment not to be questioned unless offender surrender within one year and be acquitted, &c.

Proviso.

November 1858, or to any person who, having surrendered himself within the period of one year after the seizure of his property, shall be discharged by order of Government without a prosecution.

Release of property attached as forfeited.

XIX. No Judge or other person acting as Commissioner under the provisions of Acts XIV and XVI of 1857 has power to release property attached or seized as forfeited or as liable to be forfeited to Government except under the provisions of Section VIII Act XXV of 1857, when the offender or alleged offender shall have surrendered himself for trial and shall be tried and acquitted by such Judge or Commissioner, and shall prove that he did not escape or keep out of the way for the purpose of evading justice; and any order passed by any such Judge or Commissioner for the release of any property attached or seized as forfeited or liable to be forfeited to Government, except upon the acquittal before him of the person accused, and upon proof that he did not escape or keep out of the way for the purpose of evading justice, is hereby declared null and void.

Act not affect the rights of parties not charged with an offence punishable by forfeiture of property.

XX. Nothing in this Act shall be held to affect the rights of parties not charged with any offence for which upon conviction the property of the offender is forfeited, in respect of any property attached or seized as forfeited or liable to be forfeited to Government; provided that no suit brought by any party in respect of such property shall be entertained unless it be instituted within the period of one year from the date of the attachment or seizure of the property to which the suit relates.

Proviso.

W. MORGAN,
Clerk of the Council.

THE 30TH APRIL 1859.

THE following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Honorable the Governor General on the 29th April 1859, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. X OF 1859.

An Act to amend the law relating to the recovery of Rent in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to re-enact with certain modifications the provisions of the existing law relative to the rights of ryots with respect to the delivery of pottahs and the occupancy of land, to the prevention of illegal exaction and extortion in connection with demands of rent, and to other questions connected with the same; to extend the jurisdiction of Collectors, and to prescribe rules for the trial of such questions, as well as of suits for the recovery of arrears of rent, and of suits arising out of the distraint of property for such arrears; and to amend the law relating to distraint; It is enacted as follows:—

Laws repealed.

I. The following Regulations and Acts and portions of Regulations and Acts are hereby repealed, except in so far as they repeal any other Regulation or Act, and except as to proceedings commenced before the date of this Act coming into force, namely—

Regulation XVII. 1793 (to empower landholders to distrain and sell the personal property of ryots &c.),

So much of Regulation IV. 1794 (to determine disputes regarding the grant of pottahs to ryots &c.,) as is still in force,

Regulation XXXV. 1795 (for better enabling individuals to recover arrears of rent or revenue due to them),

Regulation XLV. 1795 (to empower landholders in the Province of Benares to distrain &c.),

Sections IX and X Regulation LI. 1795 (respecting tyotty pottahs in the Province of Benares.),

Sections I to XX Regulation VII. 1799 (to enable landholders to realize their rents with greater punctuality &c.),

Sections I to XX Regulation V. 1800 (to enable landholders in the Province of Benares to realize their rents with greater punctuality &c.),

Regulation XXVIII. 1803 (to empower landholders in the Ceded Provinces to distrain &c.),

Sections IX and X Regulation XXX. 1803 (prescribing rules for the grant in the Ceded Provinces of pottahs to ryots &c.),

Section IV Regulation II. 1805 (to provide a limitation of time for certain suits &c.),

Section XIX Regulation VIII. 1805 (for extending certain Regulations to the Ceded and Conquered Provinces &c.),

Sections V to XXIII Regulation V. 1812 (for amending some of the rules at present in force for the collection of the Land Revenue),

Sections XV and XVI Regulation XIX. 1817 (for amending certain Regulations in force relative to process for recovery of arrears of rent),

Section XXVII Regulation XX. 1817 (relating to resistance to distraint for arrears of rent &c.),

Sections XVIII and XIX Regulation VIII. 1819 (relating to Putnee Talooks and the system established for the collection of rents generally &c.),

Section IV Regulation II. 1821 (relating to the duties of City and Zillah Judges &c.),

Section XXII, and so much of Section XX and the following Sections of Regulation VII. 1822 (relating to the settlement of the Land Revenue in the Ceded Provinces and Cuttack) as apply to suits for rent, to complaints of excessive demand or undue exaction of rent, or of the non-delivery of pottahs or receipts, to suits against agents for money or accounts, or to any other suits or complaints arising out of disputes between landholders or farmers and their under-tenants respecting the rent and occupancy of land,

Regulation XIV. 1824 (for modifying the rules in force for referring to the Collectors summary suits in cases of arrear or exaction of rent),

Regulation VIII. 1831 (for amending the existing provisions relative to the trial of summary suits and claims for arrears or exactions of rent),

Act I of 1839 (relating to the appointment of persons to sell property distrained for the recovery of arrears of rent),

Act X of 1846 (for regulating the proceedings in certain cases of distraint for arrears of rent), and

Act VIII of 1848 (to modify the provisions of Sections IX, X, XI, and XIII of Regulation V. 1812 of the Bengal Code).

Sections XIV and XV Regulation IX. 1833 (for the more speedy decision of certain suits, and for enforcing the production of village accounts,) so far as the same are applicable to the territories under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, are also repealed.

Such parts of Regulation VIII. 1793 (prescribing rules for the decennial settlement of the public Revenue in Bengal, Behar, and Orissa), and Regulation XXX. 1803, as relate to the adjudication of penalties for the refusal of pottahs and receipts for rent and for the exaction of any sums as abwab or in excess of the amount specified in any engagements for the payment of rent, and such parts of Section XXVI Act I of 1845 (to amend Act No. XII of 1841, entitled "an Act for amending the Bengal Code in regard to sales of land for arrears of Revenue)", as relate to the enhancement of rents and the ejectment of tenants by the purchaser of an estate sold for arrears of Government Revenue, are declared subject to the following modifications.

Ryot entitled to a pottah.

II. Every ryot is entitled to receive from the person to whom the rent of the land held or cultivated by him is payable, a pottah containing the following particulars:

The quantity of land; and where fields have been numbered in a Government survey, the number of each field.

The amount of annual rent.

The instalments in which the same is to be paid.

And any special conditions of the lease.

If the rent is payable in kind, the proportion of produce to be delivered, and the time and manner of delivery.

Ryots holding land at fixed rates to receive pottahs.

III. Ryots who, in the Provinces of Bengal, Behar, Orissa, and Benares, hold lands at fixed rates of rent, which have not been changed from the time of the permanent settlement, are entitled to receive pottahs at those rates.

If rent of land be not changed for 20 years

IV. Whenever, in any suit under this Act, it shall be proved that the rent at which land is held by a ryot in the said Provinces, has not been changed for a period of twenty years before the commencement of the suit, it shall be presumed that the land has been held at that rent from the time of the permanent settlement, unless the contrary be shown, or unless it be proved that such rent was fixed at some later period.

Ryots having right of occupancy but not holding at fixed rates, to receive pottahs.

V. Ryots having rights of occupancy, but not holding at fixed rates, as described in the two preceding Sections, are entitled to receive pottahs at fair and equitable rates. In case of dispute, the rate previously paid by the ryot shall be deemed to be fair and equitable, unless the contrary be shown in a suit by either party under the provisions of this Act.

Right of occupancy of ryot cultivating or holding land for 12 years.

VI. Every ryot who has cultivated or held land for a period of twelve years has a right of occupancy in the land so cultivated or held by him, whether it be held under pottah or not, so long as he pays the rent payable on account of the same; but this rule does not apply to khomar, neejjote, or seer land belonging to the proprietor of the estate or tenure and let by him on lease for a term or year by year, nor (as respects the actual cultivator) to lands sublet for a term or year by year by a ryot having a right of occupancy. The holding of the father, or other person from whom a ryot inherits, shall be deemed to be the holding of the ryot within the meaning of this Section.

Saving of terms of written contracts.

VII. Nothing contained in the last preceding Section shall be held to affect the terms of any written contract for the cultivation of land entered into between a landholder and a ryot when it contains any express stipulation contrary thereto.

Pottahs to which ryots not having rights of occupancy are entitled.

VIII. Ryots not having rights of occupancy are entitled to pottahs only at such rates as may be agreed on between them and the persons to whom the rent is payable.

Person granting pottah entitled to a counterpart engagement.

IX. Every person who grants a pottah is entitled to receive from the person to whom the pottah is granted a kubooliyet or counterpart engagement in conformity with the terms of the pottah. The tender to any ryot of a pottah such as the ryot is entitled to receive shall be held to entitle the person to whom the rent is payable to receive a kubooliyet from such ryot.

Exactions in excess of rent or receipt withheld.

X. Every under-tenant or ryot, from whom any sum is exacted in excess of the rent specified in his pottah, or payable under the provisions of this Act, whether as abwab or under any other pretext, and every under-tenant, ryot, or cultivator from whom a receipt is withheld for any sum of money paid by him as rent, shall be entitled to recover from the person receiving such rent damages not exceeding double the amount so exacted or paid. Receipts for rent shall specify the year or years on account of which the rent is acknowledged to have been paid; and any refusal to make such specification shall be held to be a withholding of a receipt.

Form of receipt.

Landholder not to compel the attendance of tenant for adjustment of rent or for any other purpose.

XI. The power heretofore vested in Zemindars and other landholders of compelling the attendance of their tenants for the adjustment of their rents or for any other purpose is withdrawn, and all such persons are prohibited from adopting any means of compulsion for enforcing payment of the rents due to them other than are authorized by the provisions of this Act.

Payment of rent to be enforced only under this Act.

Damages for extorting payment of rent by duress

XII. If payment of rent, whether the same be legally due or not, is extorted from any under-tenant or ryot by illegal confinement or other duress, such under-tenant or ryot shall be entitled to recover such damages, not exceeding in any case the sum of two hundred Rupees, as may be deemed a reasonable compensation for the injury done him by such extortion.

An award of compensation under this Section shall not bar or affect any penalty or punishment to which the person practising such extortion may be subject by law.

Enhancement of rent of ryot holding without, or after expiry &c. of written engagement.

XIII. No under-tenant or ryot, who holds or cultivates land without a written engagement not specifying the period of such engagement, or whose engagement has expired, or has become cancelled in consequence of the sale for arrears of rent or revenue of the tenure or estate in which the land held cultivated by him is situate, and has not been renewed, shall be liable to pay any higher rent for such land than the rent payable for the previous year, unless a written notice shall have been served on such under-tenant or ryot, in or before the month of Cheit, specifying the rent to which he will be subject for the ensuing year, and the ground on which an enhancement of rent is claimed. Such notice shall be served by order of the Collector on the application (which may be on plain paper) of the person to whom the rent is payable, and shall, if practicable, be served personally on the under-tenant or ryot. If for any reason the notice cannot be served personally upon the under-tenant or ryot, it shall be affixed at his usual place of residence, or if he have no such place of residence in the District in which the land is situate, the mode of service of such notice shall be by affixing it at the Mal cutcherry of such land or other conspicuous place thereon, or at the village Chowree or Chowpul or at some other conspicuous place in the village in which the land is situate.

Mode of contesting enhancement of rent.

XIV. Any under-tenant or ryot, on whom such notice as aforesaid has been served, may contest his liability to pay the enhanced rent demanded of him, either by complaint of excessive demand of rent as hereinafter provided, or in answer to any suit preferred against him for recovery of arrears of the enhanced rent.

Dependent talookdar &c. holding land at fixed rent without change since permanent settlement not liable to enhancement of rent.

XV. No dependent talookdar or other person possessing a permanent transferable interest in land, intermediate between the proprietor of an estate and the ryots, who, in the Provinces of Bengal, Behar, Orissa, and Benares, holds his talook or tenure (otherwise than under a terminable lease) at a fixed rent, which has not been changed from the time of the permanent settlement, shall be liable to any enhancement of such rent, anything in Section LI Regulation VIII. 1793, or in any other law, to the contrary notwithstanding.

Rent of talookdar &c., not changed for twenty years to be prima facie evidence of occupancy at that rent since permanent settlement.

XVI. Whenever, in any suit under this Act, it shall be proved that the rent at which a talook or other tenure is held in the said Provinces has not been changed for a period of twenty years before the commencement of the suit, it shall be presumed that such talook or tenure has been held at that rent from the time of the permanent settlement, unless the contrary be shown, or it be proved that such rent was fixed at some later period.

Grounds on which ryot having right of occupancy is liable to enhanced rent.

XVII. No ryot having a right of occupancy shall be liable to an enhancement of the rent previously paid by him except on some one of the following grounds, namely :—

That the rate paid by him is below that prevailing in adjacent places.

That the rate of rent paid by such ryot is below the prevailing rate payable by the same class of ryots for land of a similar description and with similar advantages in the places adjacent.

That the value of the land &c. has increased independently of the ryot.

That the value of the produce or the productive powers of the land have been increased otherwise than by the agency or at the expense of the ryot.

That the quantity of land held by the ryot is greater than he has paid rent for.

That the quantity of land held by the ryot has been proved by measurement to be greater than the quantity for which rent has been previously paid by him.

When ryot may claim abatement of rent.

XVIII. Every ryot having a right of occupancy shall be entitled to claim an abatement of the rent previously paid by him, if the area of the land has been diminished by diluvion or otherwise, or if the value of the produce or the productive powers of the land have been decreased by any cause beyond the power of the ryot, or if the quantity of land held by the ryot has been proved by measurement to be less than the quantity for which rent has been previously paid by him.

Relinquishment of land by ryot after notice given.

XIX. Any ryot who desires to relinquish the land held or cultivated by him, shall be at liberty to do so, provided he gives notice of his intention in writing to the person entitled to the rent of the land or his authorized agent in or before the month of Cheit of the year preceding that in which the relinquishment is to have effect. If he fail to give such notice, and the land is not let to any other person, he shall continue liable for the rent of the land. If the person entitled to the rent of the land or his agent refuse to receive any such notice and to sign a receipt for the same, the ryot may make an application on plain paper to the Collector who shall thereupon cause the notice to be served on such person or his agent in the manner provided in Section XIII.

What to be deemed an arrear of rent under this Act.

XX. Any instalment of rent which is not paid on or before the day when the same is payable according to the pottah or engagement, or, if there be no written specification of the time of payment, at or before the time when such instalment is payable according to established usage, shall be held to be an arrear of rent under this Act, and unless otherwise provided by written agreement, shall be liable to interest at twelve per centum per annum.

Liability of ryot to be ejected for arrear due.

XXI. When an arrear of rent remains due from any ryot at the end of the Bengal year or at the end of the month of Jeth of the Fusly or Willayutee year as the case may be, such ryot shall be liable to be ejected from the land in respect of which the arrear is due.

Proviso.

Provided that no ryot, having a right of occupancy or holding under a pottah the term of which has not expired, shall be ejected otherwise than in execution of a decree or order under the provisions of this Act.

Liability of farmer to have his lease cancelled for arrear adjudged due.

XXII. When an arrear of rent shall be adjudged to be due from any farmer or other lease-holder not having a permanent or transferable interest in the land, the lease of such lease-holder shall be liable to be cancelled, and the lease-holder to be ejected. Provided that no such lease shall be cancelled nor the lease-holder ejected otherwise than in execution of a decree or order under the provisions of this Act.

Proviso.

Cognizance of suits under this Act.

XXIII. 1. All suits for the delivery of pottahs or kubooliyets or for the determination of the rates of rent at which such pottahs or kubooliyets are to be delivered;

2. All suits for damages on account of the illegal exaction of rent or of any unauthorized cess or impost, or on account of the refusal of receipts for rent paid, or on account of the extortion of rent by confinement or other duress;

3. All complaints of excessive demand of rent, and all claims to abatement of rent;

4. All suits for arrears of rent due on account of land either kherajee or lakheraj, or on account of any rights of pasturage, forest-rights, fisheries, or the like;

5. All suits to eject any ryot or to cancel any lease on account of the non-payment of arrears of rent, or on account of a breach of the conditions of any contract by which a ryot may be liable to ejectment or a lease may be liable to be cancelled;

6. All suits to recover the occupancy or possession of any land, farm, or tenure, from which a ryot, farmer, or tenant has been illegally ejected by the person entitled to receive rent for the same;

7. All suits arising out of the exercise of the power of distraint conferred on Zemindars and others by Sections CXII and CXIV of this Act, or out of any acts done under color of the exercise of the said power as hereinafter particularly provided;

shall be cognizable by the Collectors of land revenue and shall be instituted and tried under the provisions of this Act and, except in the way of appeal as provided in this Act, shall not be cognizable in any other Court or by any other Officer or in any other manner.

Suits by Zemindars against their agents for money or accounts.

XXIV. Suits by Zemindars and others in receipt of the rent of land, against any agents employed by them in the management of land or collection of rents, or the sureties of such agents, for money received or accounts kept by such agents in the course of such employment, or for papers in their possession, shall be cognizable by the Collectors, and shall be instituted and tried under the provisions of this Act, and shall not be cognizable in any other Court except in the way of appeal as provided in this Act.

Ejectment of cultivators, farmer, &c. by Zemindars.

XXV. If any Zemindar or other person in receipt of the rent of land requires assistance to eject any cultivator not having a right of occupancy, or to eject any farmer or other tenant holding only for a limited period after the determination of his lease or tenancy, or any agent after the determination of his agency, or to enforce any attachment or ejectment expressly authorized by any Regulation or Act, he shall make application to the Collector, and the Collector shall proceed thereupon to enquire into the case and pass orders in the manner provided for suits under this Act. Provided that no such application for the ejectment of a farmer on the determination of a lease shall be received, if the lease be of the kind denominated ticca zur-i-peshgee or the like, in which an advance has been made by the lease-holder, and the proprietor's right of re-entry at the end of the term is contingent on the re-payment of such advance either in money or by the usufruct of the land. In all such cases the parties must proceed by suit in the Civil Court.

Proviso.

Measurement of lands.

XXVI. When rent is payable by an under-tenant or ryot at a certain rate or rates according to the quantity of land held or cultivated by him, or when any written engagement conditioned for the payment of a certain amount of rent on account of land held or cultivated by an under-tenant or ryot has expired or become cancelled by the sale for arrears of revenue or rent of the estate or tenure in which the land is situate, the person to whom the rent is payable has a right to measure such land for the purpose of ascertaining the quantity of land actually held or cultivated by such under-tenant or ryot. And every proprietor of an estate or tenure has a right of making a general survey or measurement of the lands comprised in such estate or tenure unless restrained from doing so by express engagement with the occupants of the lands. If any person intending to measure any land which he has a right to measure is opposed in making such measurement by the occupant of the land, or if any under-tenant or ryot, having received notice of the intended measurement of land held or cultivated by him which is liable to such measurement, refuses to attend and point out such land, such person may make application to the Collector, and the Collector shall thereupon proceed to enquire into the case in the manner provided for suits under this Act, and shall pass an order either allowing or disallowing the measurement, and, if the case so require, enjoining or excusing the attendance of any such under-tenant or ryot. If any under-tenant or ryot after the issue of an order enjoining his attendance neglects to attend, it shall not be competent to him to contest the correctness of the measurement made in his absence.

Registry of transfers of talooks &c.

XXVII. All dependent talookdars and other persons possessing a permanent transferable interest in land intermediate between the Zemindar and the cultivator are required to register, in the Sherishtch of the Zemindar or superior tenant to whom the rents of their talooks or tenures are payable, all transfers of such talooks or tenures, or portions of them, by sale, gift, or otherwise, as well as all successions thereto, and divisions among heirs in cases of inheritance. And every Zemindar or superior tenant is required to admit to registry and otherwise give effect to all such transfers, when made in good faith, and all such successions and divisions. If any Zemindar or superior tenant refuse to admit to registry or otherwise give effect to any such transfer or succession, the transferree or successor may make application to the Collector and the Collector shall thereupon proceed to enquire into the case in the manner provided for suits under this Act, and if no sufficient grounds are shown for the refusal, shall pass an order enjoining the Zemindar or superior tenant to admit to registry and otherwise give effect to such transfer or succession. Provided that no Zemindar or superior tenant shall be required to admit to registry or give effect to any division or distribution of the rent payable on account of any such tenure, nor shall any such division or distribution of rent be valid and binding without the consent in writing of the Zemindar or superior tenant.

Proviso.

XXVIII. So much of Section X Regulation XIX. 1793, Section X Regulation XLI. 1795, Section VI Regulation XXXI. 1803, Section XXI Regulation VIII. 1805, and Section XXIV Regulation XII. 1805, as authorizes and requires proprietors and farmers of estates and dependent talooks, in cases in which grants for holding land exempt from the payment of revenue have been made subsequent to the dates specified in the said Sections, of their own authority to collect the rents of such land and to dispossess the grantees of the proprietary right in the land and to re-annex it to the estate or talook in which it may be situate, is repealed; and any proprietor or farmer who may desire to assess any such land or to dispossess any such grantee shall make application to the Collector, and such application shall be dealt with as a suit under the provisions of this Act. Every such suit shall be instituted within the period of twelve years from the time when the title of the person claiming the right to assess the land or dispossess the grantee, or of some person claiming under him, first accrued. If such period has already elapsed, or will elapse within two years from the date of the passing of this Act, such suit may be brought at any time within two years from such date.

Applications to dispossess grantees of land exempt from revenue.

XXIX. All suits which under the provisions of this Act may be brought by or against Zemindars or other persons in the receipt of the rent of land, may be brought by or against Surburakars or Tuhseeldars of estates held under khas management, whether such estates are the property of Government or of individuals. If the Collector or the Suburakar or Tuhseeldar of any such estate in the Provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa proceed against any defaulting ryot or under-tenant of such estate under the powers vested in him by Section XXV Regulation VII. 1799, and not according to the provisions of this Act, such ryot or under-tenant may contest the demand on account of which he is so proceeded against by suit in the Civil Court.

Suits by or against Surburakars or Tuhseeldars of estates held khas.

XXX. Except as otherwise herein provided, all suits instituted under this Act shall be commenced within the period of one year from the date of the accruing of the cause of action.

Time for commencement of suits generally.

XXXI. Suits for the delivery of pottahs or kubooliyets and for the determination of the rates of rent at which such pottahs or kubooliyets are to be delivered, may be instituted at any time during the tenancy.

Time for commencement of suits for grant of pottahs, &c.

XXXII. Suits for the recovery of arrears of rent shall be instituted within three years from the last day of the Bengal year, or from the last day of the month of Jeth of the Fusly or Willayuttee year in which the arrear claimed shall have become due. For arrears of rent due at the passing of this Act, suit shall be brought within three years after the passing of this Act; or within the period now allowed for the institution of such suits in the Civil Court, whichever may first expire. Provided that, if the suit be for the recovery of rent at a higher rate than was payable in the previous year, such rent having been enhanced after issue of notice under Section XIII and the enhancement not having been confirmed by any competent Court, the suit shall be instituted within three months from the end of the Bengal year or of the month of Jeth of the Fusly or Willayuttee year, on account of which such enhanced rent is claimed.

Time for the commencement of suits for arrears of rent.

Proviso.

XXXIII. Suits for the recovery of money in the hands of an agent or for the delivery of accounts or papers by an agent, may be brought at any time during the agency, or within one year after the determination of the agency of such agent, or in the case of claims now existing within one year after the passing of this Act or within the period now allowed for the institution of such suits in the Civil Court whichever may first expire. Provided that if the person having the right to sue shall, by means of fraud, have been kept from the knowledge of the receipt of any such money by the agent, or if any fraudulent account shall have been rendered by the agent, the suit may be brought within one year from the time when the fraud shall have been first known to such person; but no such suit shall in any case (except the case of claims now existing as aforesaid) be brought at any time exceeding three years from the termination of the agency.

Time for the commencement of suits against agents for money, papers, or accounts.

Proviso.

XXXIV. Suits under this Act shall be instituted by presenting to the Collector a plaint or statement of claim which shall contain the name, description, and place of abode of the plaintiff; the name, description, and place of abode of the defendant, so far as they can be ascertained, the substance of the claim, and the date of the cause of action.

Mode of instituting suits. Form of plaint or statement of claim.

XXXV. The statement of claim shall be presented by the plaintiff, or by an authorized agent of the plaintiff who has personal knowledge of the facts of the case, or by an agent who shall be accompanied by a person who has such knowledge.

Statement by whom to be presented.

XXXVI. The statement of claim shall be subscribed and verified at the foot by the plaintiff or his agent in the manner following, or to the like effect:

Verification of statement.

I. A. B. do declare that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

If the statement shall contain any averment which the person making the verification shall know or believe to be false, or shall not know or believe to be true, such person shall be subject to punishment according to the law for the time being in force for the punishment of giving or fabricating false evidence.

Punishment for false verification.

XXXVII. In suits for the recovery of arrears of rent or of money in the hands of an agent, the statement of claim shall be written on paper bearing a stamp of one-fourth the value prescribed for suits instituted in the Civil Court. In all other suits the statement shall be written on paper bearing a stamp of the value of eight annas. No stamp shall be required in respect of the production or filing of any document, or the summoning of any witness, or of any application for the execution of any order or judgment passed in a suit under this Act.

Statement of claim to be written on stamped paper.

No stamp duty to be required for filing documents &c.

XXXVIII. If the plaintiff rely in support of his claim on any document in his possession, he shall deliver the same to the Collector at the time of presenting his statement of claim. Unless such document be delivered in, or its non-production be sufficiently excused, or unless the Collector see fit to extend the time for producing the same, it shall not afterwards be admitted.

Documentary evidence to be produced by plaintiff.

XXXIX. If the plaintiff require the production of any document in the possession or power of the defendant, he may at the time of presenting his statement of claim, deliver to the Collector a description of the document in order that the defendant may be required to produce the same.

If plaintiff require production of document from defendant.

XL. If the suit be for the recovery of an arrear of rent, the statement shall specify the name of the village and estate, and of the Pergunnah or other local division in which the land is situate; and if the arrear is alleged to be due from any ryot, the quantity of land, and where fields have been numbered in a Government Survey, the number of each field; the yearly rent of the land, the amount (if any) received on account of the year for which the claim is made, the amount in arrear, and the time in respect of which it is alleged to be due.

Form of plaint in suits for arrears of rent.

XLI. If the suit be for the ejectment of a ryot, farmer, or tenant, from any land, farm, or tenure, or for the recovery of the occupancy or possession of any land, farm, or tenure, the statement shall describe (as circumstances may require) the extent, situation, and designation of the same; and if necessary for the identification of the land, shall set forth the boundaries of such land.

Form of plaint in suits for ejectment of ryot, &c., or for recovery of occupancy or possession of land, &c.

XLII. If the statement of claim do not contain the several particulars herein before required to be specified therein, or be not subscribed and verified as hereinbefore required, the Collector may return the statement to the plaintiff, or at his discretion allow it to be amended.

Statement may be returned or allowed to be amended.

XLIII. If the statement of claim be in proper form, the Collector, except as otherwise hereinafter especially provided, shall direct the issue of a summons to the defendant, and if the plaintiff require the personal attendance of the defendant, and satisfy the Collector that such personal attendance is necessary, or the Collector of his own accord require such personal attendance, the summons shall contain an order for the defendant to appear personally on a day to be specified in the summons, otherwise the summons shall order the defendant to appear personally or by an agent duly authorized on his behalf, who has personal knowledge of the subject, or who shall be accompanied by a person who has such personal knowledge.

Issue of summons; personal attendance of defendant may be required.

XLIV. The day to be specified in the summons shall be fixed with reference to the state of the file and the distance that the defendant may be or be supposed to be at the time from the place where the Court is held, and the summons shall order the defendant to produce any document which he may have in his possession, of which the plaintiff demands inspection, or upon which the defendant may intend to rely in support of his defence. It shall also enjoin him to bring with him his witnesses if they are willing to attend without issue of process; and shall be in the form A contained in the Schedule to this Act, or to the like effect.

The day to be specified in the summons how to be fixed. Defendant to be ordered to produce necessary documents, and to bring witnesses willing to attend without process.

XLV. The summons shall be served by delivering a copy of the summons to the defendant personally when practicable; or if the summons cannot be served on the defendant personally, by affixing a copy of it to some conspicuous part of his usual place of abode, and also affixing a copy of the same in the Collector's Office.

Summons how to be served.

XLVI. If the summons be served personally, the Nazir shall endorse on the summons the fact of such service. If personal service be not effected, the Nazir shall endorse on the summons the reason of not serving it personally, and how it has been served.

Endorsement by Nazir if summons has been personally served or not.

XLVII. If the usual place of abode of the defendant be in another District, the summons, together with the cost of the service thereof, shall be sent by the public post to the Collector of such District, who shall issue the summons, and return the same, after service, with the prescribed endorsement, to the Officer by whom it was transmitted to him.

Execution of process in another District.

XLVIII. The amount of the cost of serving the summons, or if a warrant be issued as provided in the next succeeding Section, of serving the warrant, shall in all cases be deposited in Court upon the same day or the day next following that on which the plaint or statement of claim is presented to the Collector. If the said amount be not so deposited (except in cases in which the Collector may allow the issue of summons free of cost under the discretion reserved to him in Section CXLVI), the case shall not be brought on the file of suits: but in such case the plaintiff may present another plaint at any time within the period allowed by the rules for the limitation of actions.

Cost of serving summons or warrant to be deposited in Court.

XLIX. If in any suit against an under-tenant or ryot for the recovery of an arrear of rent, or against an agent for the recovery of any money, papers, or accounts, the plaintiff desires a warrant of arrest to be issued against the defendant, such defendant being resident within the district in which the suit is instituted, he shall present with his statement of claim an application for the issue of such warrant. When such application is presented, the Collector shall examine the plaintiff or his agent, on his oath or affirmation or otherwise according to the law for the time being in force in relation to the examination of witnesses, and inspect the documents adduced by him in support of his claim, and if there be primâ facie grounds for believing the claim to be well-founded, and that, if a summons be issued, the defendant will abscond instead of appearing to answer the claim, the Collector may issue a warrant for the arrest of the defendant. The Collector shall fix a reasonable time for the return of the warrant which shall be in the form (B) contained in the Schedule to this Act, or to the like effect, and the Officer entrusted with the service of the warrant shall at the time of arresting the defendant deliver to him a notice addressed to the defendant (which shall be in the form (C) in the Schedule or to the like effect) containing the particulars of the claim, and requiring the defendant, if he contest the claim, to bring with him any document upon which he may intend to rely in support of his defence. But no such warrant shall be issued in a suit for arrears of rent due in respect of a dependent talook or other transferable tenure, which, as hereinafter provided, is liable to sale in execution of any decree which may be passed in the case.

Warrant of arrest in what cases to be issued.

L. If a defendant be arrested under the warrant of arrest, he shall be brought with all convenient speed before the Collector, and the Collector shall commit him to custody unless he deposit in Court such sum as may be specified in the notice.

Procedure after arrest of defendant.

LI. When a defendant is brought before the Collector under warrant, the Collector shall with all convenient speed proceed to try the case in the manner hereinafter provided; and if the suit cannot be at once adjudicated, the Collector may, if he think fit, require the defendant to give security for his appearance whenever the same may be required at any time whilst the suit is depending or until execution of the final decree which may be passed thereon, and may commit the defendant to the Civil jail to be there detained until he shall furnish such security or deposit such sum as the Collector shall order. The security bond shall be in the form (D) contained in the Schedule to this Act or to the like effect.

Procedure when defendant is brought before the Collector under warrant.

Form of security bond.

LII. If the defendant cannot be arrested under the warrant, the Collector, on the application of the plaintiff, shall either postpone the case for such period as he may think proper in order that the plaintiff may apply within the said period for another warrant to be issued for the arrest of the defendant, or shall forthwith issue a proclamation to be affixed in his own Office and at the residence of the defendant fixing a day for the hearing of the case, which shall not be less than ten days from the date of the publication of the notice at the residence of the defendant. If the defendant shall appear in pursuance of the proclamation, he shall be dealt with as provided in the last preceding Section.

Procedure if warrant of arrest cannot be served upon the defendant.

LIII. If it shall appear to the Collector that the arrest of the defendant was applied for without reasonable cause, the Collector may in his decree award to the defendant such sum not exceeding one hundred Rupees as he may deem a reasonable compensation for any injury or loss which the defendant may have sustained by reason of such arrest, or of his detention in jail during the pendency of the suit.

Compensation for arrest applied for without reasonable cause.

LIV. If on the day fixed by the summons or proclamation for the appearance of the defendant, or on any subsequent day to which the hearing of the case may be adjourned prior to the recording of an issue for trial as hereinafter provided, neither of the parties appear in person or by an agent, the case shall be struck off, with liberty to the plaintiff to bring a fresh suit unless precluded by the rules for the limitation of action.

Consequence of neither party appearing on the day of trial.

LV. If on any such day the defendant only appear, the Collector shall pass judgment against the plaintiff by default unless the defendant admit the cause of action, in which case the Collector shall proceed to give judgment for the plaintiff upon such admission without costs; provided that such judgment, if there be more than one defendant, shall be only against the defendant who makes the admission.

If defendant only appear to dispute the demand, Collector shall pass judgment by default, but if defendant admit the claim, Collector shall decree upon such admission.

Proviso.

LVI. If on any such day the plaintiff only appear, the Collector, upon proof that the summons or proclamation has been duly served according to the provisions of this Act, shall proceed to examine the plaintiff or his agent, and after considering the allegations of the plaintiff, and any documentary or oral evidence adduced by him, may either dismiss the case or postpone the hearing of it to a future day for the attendance of any witness the plaintiff may wish to call, or may pass judgment ex parte against the defendant.

If plaintiff only appear, Collector may proceed ex parte.

LVII. If the defendant shall appear on any subsequent day to which the hearing of the suit may be postponed under the last preceding Section, the Collector may, upon such conditions, if any, as to costs or otherwise as he may think proper, allow the defendant to be heard in answer to the suit as if he had appeared on the day fixed for his attendance.

If defendant appear on a day to which the case is postponed, Collector may allow him to be heard in answer to the suit.

LVIII. No appeal shall lie from a judgment passed ex parte against a defendant who has not appeared, or from a judgment against a plaintiff by default for non-appearance. But in all such cases if the party against whom judgment has been given shall appear, either in person or by agent, if a plaintiff within fifteen days from the date of the Collector's order, and if a defendant within fifteen days after any process for enforcing the judgment has been executed, or at any earlier period, and shall show good and sufficient cause for his previous non-appearance and shall satisfy the Collector that there has been a failure of justice, the Collector may, upon such terms and conditions as to costs or otherwise as he may think proper, revive the suit and alter or rescind the decree, according to the justice of the case. But no decree shall be reversed or altered without previously summoning the adverse party to appear and be heard in support of it.

Revival, reversal, and alteration of decrees ex parte or by default.

LIX. When both parties appear in person or by agent on the day named in the summons, or upon any subsequent day to which the hearing of the case may be adjourned, for sufficient reason to be recorded by the Collector, the Collector shall proceed to examine such of the parties as may be present, and either party or his agent may cross-examine the other. If either of the parties be not bound to attend personally, any agent by whom he shall appear, or any person who shall accompany such agent, shall be examined and cross-examined in like manner as the party himself would have been if he had attended personally. At the time of examination the defendant, if he think fit, may file a written statement of his defence.

On appearance of parties, the parties to be examined by the Collector, and may cross-examine each other.

LX. The examination of the parties or their agents or such other persons as aforesaid shall be upon oath or affirmation or otherwise according to the law for the time being in force relative to the examination of witnesses. The substance of the examination shall be reduced to writing in the vernacular language of the Collector and filed with the record.

Examination of parties, &c.

LXI. If either of the parties shall bring forward a witness on such day, the Collector may take the evidence of such witness.

Witnesses to be examined.

LXII. If the defendant rely on any document in support of his defence, he shall deliver the same into Court at the first hearing of the suit; and unless such document be so delivered in, or its non-production be sufficiently excused, or unless the Collector see fit to extend the time for producing the same, it shall not afterwards be admitted.

Documentary evidence to be produced by defendant

LXIII. If after the examination required by Section LIX and also the examination of any witness who may attend to give evidence on behalf of either of the parties, and after a consideration of the documentary evidence adduced, a decree can be properly made without further evidence, the Collector shall make his decree accordingly.

After examination, Collector may make his decree if no further evidence is required.

LXIV. If on such examination as aforesaid the agent of either party be unable to answer any material question relating to the case which the Collector is of opinion that the party whom he represents ought to answer, and is likely to be able to answer if interrogated in person, the Collector may postpone the hearing of the case to a future day, and direct that the party whose agent may have been unable to answer as aforesaid shall attend in person on such day; and if the party so directed to attend shall fail to appear in person on the day appointed, the Collector may pass judgment as in case of default or make such other order as he may deem proper in the circumstances of the case.

Consequence of inability of agent to answer.

LXV. If on such examination as aforesaid it appear that the parties are at issue on any question upon which it is necessary to hear further evidence, the Collector shall declare and record such issue, and shall fix a convenient day for the examination of witnesses and the trial of the suit; and the trial shall take place on that day unless there be sufficient reason for adjourning it, which reason shall be recorded by the Collector.

If necessary, Collector to record issue and to fix a day for hearing further evidence.

LXVI. The parties shall bring forward their witnesses on the day of trial, and if either party require assistance to procure the attendance of a witness on such day either to give evidence or to produce a document, he shall apply to the Collector in sufficient time before the day fixed for the trial, to enable the witness to be summoned to attend on that day; and the Collector shall issue a summons requiring such witness to attend.

Parties shall produce their witnesses on the day of trial; or Collector on application of either party, shall issue summons for the attendance of a witness.

LXVII. The provisions of the Regulations and Acts and all other rules for the time being in force relating to the evidence of witnesses, for procuring the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents, and for the examination, remuneration, and punishment of witnesses, whether parties to the case or not, in cases before the Civil Courts of the Presidency of Bengal, shall, except so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, apply to and be of equal force and effect in suits under this Act.

Rules regarding attendance, examination, &c. of witnesses.

LXVIII. If on the day fixed for the trial of any issue neither of the parties appear, the case shall be struck off under the conditions provided in Section LIV. If on any such day one only of the parties appear, the issue may be tried and deter-

Consequence of parties not appearing on the day fixed for the trial of any issue.

mined in the absence of the other party upon such proof as may be then before the Court.

Suits instituted or defended by Naibs, Gomastahs, &c.

LXIX. When suits under this Act are instituted or defended by Naibs, Gomastahs, or other persons employed in the collection of rent or management of land in the name and on the behalf of the landholders by whom they are so employed, all the provisions of this Act, by which the personal appearance or attendance of parties to a suit is or may be required, shall be applicable to such Naibs, Gomastahs, or other persons; and any thing which by this Act is required or permitted to be done by a party in person, may be done by any such person as aforesaid. Processes served on any such person shall be as effectual for all purposes in relation to the suit as if the same had been served on the landholder in person, and all the provisions of this Act relative to the service of processes on a party to the suit shall be applicable to the service of processes on such person.

Personal attendance of plaintiff or defendant not required in certain cases.

LXX. A plaintiff or defendant shall not be required to attend in person if of the female sex and of a rank or class which according to the custom and manners of the country would render it improper for her to appear in public.

Employment of authorized agents or mookhtars.

LXXI. Any party to a suit may employ an authorized agent or mookhtar to conduct the case on his behalf, but the appointment of such agent or mookhtar shall not excuse the personal attendance of the plaintiff or defendant in cases where his personal attendance is required by the summons or any order of the Court; and no fee for any agent shall be charged as part of the costs of suit in any case under this Act.

Collector may grant time or adjourn hearing.

LXXII. The Collector may in any case grant time to the plaintiff or defendant to proceed in the prosecution or defence of a suit, and may also from time to time, in order to the production of further proof or for other sufficient reason to be recorded by the Collector, adjourn the hearing or further hearing of any case in such manner as to him may seem fit.

Collector may cause local enquiry to be made.

LXXIII. The Collector may at any stage of a case cause a local enquiry and report respecting the matter in dispute to be made by any Officer subordinate to him, or by any other Officer of Government with the consent of the authority to whom such Officer is subordinate, or may himself proceed to the spot and make such local enquiry in person. The provisions of the law for the time being in force relative to local enquiries by Amins or Commissioners under orders of the Civil Courts shall apply to any local enquiry made by any Officer under this Section, and, so far as they are applicable, to enquiries made by the Collector in person. In the latter case the Collector, after completing the enquiry, shall record on the proceedings such observations as appear to him appropriate, and the observations so recorded shall be received as evidence in the suit.

Defendant may pay money into Court in satisfaction of the demand.

LXXIV. The defendant in any action under this Act may pay into Court such sum of money as he shall think a full satisfaction for the demand of the plaintiff, together with the costs incurred by the plaintiff up to the time of such payment, and such sum shall be paid to the plaintiff. If the defendant deposit less than the sum claimed and the plaintiff elect to proceed in the case, and ultimately recover no further sum than shall have been paid into Court, the plaintiff shall be charged with any costs incurred by the defendant in the suit after such payment.

If plaintiff elect to proceed and ultimately recover no further sum than that paid into Court, he shall be liable to the subsequent costs.

No interest on deposits.

LXXV. No interest shall be allowed to a plaintiff on any sum paid by the defendant into Court from the date of such payment, whether such sum be in full of the plaintiff's claim or fall short thereof.

If on trial of suit for delivery of pottah parties do not agree as to the time for which the pottah is granted, Collector to fix the time.

LXXVI. If on the trial of a suit for the delivery of a pottah instituted by a ryot having a right of occupancy the parties do not agree as to the term for which the pottah is to be granted, the Collector shall fix such term as under the circumstances of the case he may think just and proper. Provided that the term shall not in any case be longer than ten years, and in estates not permanently settled shall not extend beyond the period for which the proprietor of the estate has engaged with Government. Provided also that, if the defendant be a farmer or other person having only a temporary interest in the land, the term of the pottah shall not extend beyond the period of the continuance of such interest. For cultivators not having a right of occupancy, the term of pottah shall be exclusively in the discretion of the person entitled to the rent of the land.

Proviso.

If in actions for rent a third claimant appear, he is to be made a party to the suit.

LXXVII. When in any suit between a landholder and a ryot or under-tenant under this Act, the right to receive the rent of the land or tenure cultivated or held by the ryot or under-tenant is disputed, and such right is claimed by or on behalf of a third person on the ground that such third person or a person through whom he claims has actually and in good faith received and enjoyed such rent before and up to the time of the commencement of the suit, such third person shall be made a party to the suit, and the question of the actual receipt and enjoyment of the rent by such third person shall be enquired into and the suit shall be decided according to the result of such enquiry. Provided always that the decision of the Collector shall not affect the right of either party, who may have a legal title to the rent of such land or tenure, to establish his title by suit in the Civil Court if instituted within one year from the date of the decision.

Proviso.

Suits for ejectment or cancelment of lease.

LXXVIII. Any person desiring to eject a ryot or to cancel a lease on account of non-payment of arrears of rent, may sue for such ejectment or cancelment and for recovery of the arrear in the same action, or may adduce any unexecuted decree for arrears of rent as evidence of the existence of such arrear in a suit for such ejectment or cancelment. In all cases of suits for the ejectment of a ryot or the cancelment of a lease, the decree shall specify the amount of the arrear, and if such amount together with interests and costs of suit be paid into Court within fifteen days from the date of the decree, execution shall be stayed.

Judgment how to be pronounced.

LXXIX. The Collector shall pronounce judgment in open Court. The judgment shall be written in the Vernacular language of the Collector and shall contain the reasons for the same, and shall be dated and signed by the Collector at the time when it is pronounced.

If person required by the decree refuse to grant pottah, Collector may do so.

LXXX. When a decree is given for the delivery of a pottah, if the person required by the decree to grant such pottah refuse or delay to grant the same, the Collector may grant a pottah in conformity with the terms of the decree under his own hand and seal, and such pottah shall be of the same force and effect as if granted by the person aforesaid.

Refusal of person to execute kubooliyet as required by the decree.

LXXXI. When a decree is given for the delivery of a kubooliyet, if the person required by the decree to execute such kubooliyet shall refuse to execute the same, the decree shall be evidence of the amount of rent claimable from such person, and a copy of the decree under the hand and seal of the Collector shall be of the same force and effect as a kubooliyet executed by the said person.

Mode of executing decree for ejectment or re-instatement of ryot.

LXXXII. If the decree be for the ejectment of any ryot from land occupied by him, or for the re-instatement of any ryot in the occupancy of land from which he has been ejected, the decree shall be executed by giving the possession or occupancy of the land to the person entitled by the decree to such possession or occupancy. If any opposition is made to the execution of the order for giving such possession or occupancy by the party against whom the order is made, the Magistrate, on the application of the Collector, shall give effect to the same.

Punishment for obstructing execution.

Mode of executing decree for cancelment of a lease or for ejectment or re-instatement of a farmer or tenant.

LXXXIII. If the decree be for the cancelment of any lease or the ejectment of any farmer or other person (not being an actual cultivator) or for the re-instatement of any farmer or other such person in the possession of a farm or tenure from which he has been ejected, the decree shall be executed by proclaiming the substance of the decree to the cultivators or other occupants by beat of drum or in such other manner as may be customary, and affixing the same in some conspicuous place within or adjacent to the farm or tenure.

In what case a judgment debtor may be detained or imprisoned without issue of process of execution.

LXXXIV. If the decree be for arrears of rent or for money, papers, or accounts, and the defendant have been committed to jail or appear pursuant to the conditions of any security bond given under Section LI, the Collector may order that he be detained in or committed to the Civil jail, unless he immediately pay into Court the amount of the decree with costs, or otherwise comply with the terms of the decree.

Liability of surety on failure to deliver judgment-debtor into custody.

LXXXV. If the judgment-debtor have given security for his appearance and be not present when judgment is pronounced, and the surety shall fail to deliver him into custody when required so to do, process of execution may be taken out against the surety in the same manner as if a decree for the amount due by the debtor had been passed against the surety. If the decree be for the delivery of papers or accounts, and the defendant be not present when judgment is pronounced and the surety shall fail to deliver him into custody when required so to do, execution may be taken out against the surety for the sum due under the bond in the same manner as if a decree for that sum had been passed against the surety.

Issue of process of execution.

LXXXVI. Process of execution may be issued against either the person or the property of a judgment-debtor; but process shall not be issued simultaneously against both person and property. Process of execution against the person or moveable property of a debtor shall be in the form (E) or (F) contained in the Schedule to this Act, or to the like effect.

Application for execution against moveable property.

LXXXVII. Any moveable property required to be seized under an execution shall, if practicable, be described in a list to be furnished by the judgment-creditor, but if the creditor is unable to furnish such list he may apply for a general attachment of the debtor's effects to the amount of the judgment and costs. In either case the property to be seized shall be pointed out to the Officer entrusted with the execution of the process by the creditor or his agent.

How long warrant shall continue in force.

LXXXVIII. Every warrant of execution shall bear date on the day on which it is signed by the Collector and shall continue in force for such period as the Collector may direct, not being more than sixty days calculated from such date.

Second and successive warrants.

LXXXIX. Second and successive warrants of execution may be issued by order of the Collector on the application of the judgment-creditor after the expiration of the period fixed for the continuance in force of a previous warrant.

After one year execution not to issue without notice.

XC. Process of execution shall not be issued upon any judgment without previous notice to the party against whom execution is applied for, if, when application for the issue of the process is made, a period of more than one year shall have elapsed from the date of the judgment or from the date of the last previous application for execution.

Execution not to issue against heir or representative of a deceased party without notice.

XCI. Execution on a judgment shall not issue against the heir or other representative of a deceased party without notice to such heir or other representative to appear and be heard.

XCII. No process of execution of any description whatsoever shall be issued, on a judgment under this Act, after the lapse of three years from the date of such judgment, unless the judgment be for a sum exceeding five hundred Rupees, in which case the period within which execution may be had shall be regulated by the general rules in force in respect to the period allowed for the execution of decrees of the Civil Courts.

No process of execution to be issued three years after date of judgment

XCIII. If a warrant issue for taking in execution the body of any person, the Officer charged with the execution of the warrant shall bring him with all convenient speed before the Collector. If such person shall not then deposit in Court the full amount specified in the warrant or make such arrangement for the payment of the same as shall be satisfactory to the judgment-creditor, or satisfy the Collector that he has no present means of paying the debt, the Collector shall send him to the Civil jail there to remain for such time as shall be directed by a warrant addressed to the keeper of the jail, unless he shall in the meantime pay the full amount for the payment of which he is liable under the decree. Provided that the time for which a debtor may be confined in execution of a decree under this Act shall not exceed three calendar months when the amount decreed exclusive of costs does not exceed fifty Rupees, or six calendar months when such amount does not exceed five hundred Rupees, or two years in any other case. If the decree against any person arrested under a warrant be for the delivery of papers or accounts and the papers or accounts shall not be delivered by him when he is brought before the Collector, such person may be committed to the Civil Jail there to remain for such time not exceeding six calendar months as the Collector shall direct, unless he shall in the meantime deliver the papers or accounts according to the terms of the decree.

Warrant against the person.

Limit of imprisonment.

If arrest be for non Delivery of accounts.

XCIV. Any person once discharged from jail shall not be imprisoned a second time under the same judgment. If the amount due under the decree do not exceed one hundred Rupees, the Collector may declare such discharged person absolved from further liability under that decree. In other cases the discharge shall not extinguish the liability of the discharged person under the decree, or exempt any property belonging to such person from attachment in execution of the same.

No person to be imprisoned a second time under same judgment.

XCV. Any person applying for a warrant of arrest under Section XLIX or suing out process of execution against the body of any person, shall deposit in Court, at the time of issue of the warrant, diet-money for one month of thirty days at such rate as the Collector may direct, not exceeding two annas per diem, unless the Collector for any special reason direct that deposit be made at a higher rate, which shall not exceed four annas per diem.

Diet-money to be deposited at the time of issue of warrant.

XCVI. Payment of diet-money at the same rate shall be made previously to the commencement of each succeeding month of the imprisonment, in failure of which the party confined shall be discharged.

Payment of diet-money in advance during imprisonment.

XCVII. All diet money spent in providing subsistence for any prisoner shall be added to the costs in the suit, and any diet-money not so spent shall be returned to the person who deposited the same.

Diet-money to be costs in suit.

XCVIII. In executing a writ of execution against the moveable property of a debtor liable under this Act, the Officer charged with the execution of the writ shall prepare a list of the property pointed out by the judgment-creditor, and shall publish a proclamation specifying the day upon which the sale is intended to be held together with a copy of the said list at the intended place of sale and at the residence of the debtor. A copy of the said proclamation and list shall be transmitted to the Collector and shall be affixed in his Office.

List of property to be prepared and proclamation of sale to be published &c.

XCIX. No sale of any moveable property taken in execution shall be made until after the end of ten days next following the day on which such property may have been so taken. Until such sale the property shall be deposited in some fit place or it may remain in custody of some fit person approved by the Officer executing the writ. The provisions of Sections CXXIX to CXXXIII, so far as the same are applicable, shall be applied to sales under this Section.

Custody and sale of moveable property taken in execution.

C. If before the day fixed for the sale a third party appear before the Collector and claim a right or interest in any of the moveable property taken in execution, the Collector shall examine such party or his agent on oath or affirmation or otherwise, according to the law for the time being in force relative to the examination of witnesses, and if he see sufficient reason for so doing may stay the sale of such property.

Collector may stay sale of moveable property seized if a third party claim any interest therein.

CI. The Collector shall adjudicate upon such claim and make such order between the claimant and the plaintiff and defendant in the original suit as shall seem fit. In trying such claim the Collector shall be guided by the rules contained in this Act so far as they may be applicable.

Collector to adjudicate such claims.

CII. If the claimant shall fail to establish his right to the property taken in execution, the Collector at the time of disposing of the case may award to the judgment-creditor against such claimant as part of the costs such sum as he may consider sufficient to cover any loss of interest or damage which the judgment-creditor may have sustained by reason of the postponement of the sale of the property.

Claimant failing to establish his right, liable to pay compensation to judgment creditor.

CIII. No appeal shall lie from any order passed by the Collector under the two last preceding Sections. But the party against whom the same may be given shall be at liberty to bring a suit in the Civil Court to establish his right at any time within one year from the date of the order; provided that, if the order be for the sale of the property, the suit shall not be for the recovery of the property, but shall be for damages against the judgment-creditor by whom the property was brought to sale.

No appeal from order of Collector under the two last preceding Sections.

Proviso.

CIV. No irregularity in publishing or conducting a sale of moveable property under an execution shall vitiate such sale, but this rule shall not be held to deprive any person who may sustain damage by reason of such irregularity from recovering such damage by action in the Civil Court; provided such action be brought within one year from the date of sale.

Sale not vitiated by irregularity in publishing or conducting the same.

Proviso.

CV. If the decree be for an arrear of rent due in respect of an under-tenure, which by the title-deeds or the custom of the country is transferable by sale, the judgment-creditor may make application for the sale of the tenure, and the tenure may thereupon be brought to sale in execution of the decree, according to the rules for the sale of under-tenures for the recovery of arrears of rent due in respect thereof contained in any law for the time being in force. But no such application shall be received when a warrant of execution has been previously issued against the person or moveable property of the judgment-debtor, so long as such warrant remains in force. If after sale of an under-tenure any portion of the amount decreed remains due, process may be applied for against any other property, moveable or immoveable, belonging to the debtor, and any such immoveable property may be brought to sale in the manner provided in Section CX of this Act.

Sale of transferable tenures in execution of decrees for arrears of rent.

CVI. If before the day fixed for the sale of any such under-tenure as aforesaid in execution of a decree for arrears of rent due in respect of such under-tenure, a third party appear before the Collector, and allege that such third party and not the person against whom the decree has been obtained, is the proprietor of such under-tenure, and was in lawful possession of the same at the time when such decree was obtained, the Collector shall examine such party in the manner provided in Section C for the examination of third parties, and if he see sufficient reason for so doing, and such party shall deposit in Court the amount of the decree or give sufficient security for the same, the Collector shall stay the sale and proceed to enquire into and adjudicate upon the claim. Provided that no transfer of an under-tenure which by the provisions of this Act or any other law for the time being in force is required to be registered in the Sherishteh of the Zemindar or superior tenant shall be recognized unless it have been so registered, or unless sufficient cause for non-registration be shown to the satisfaction of the Collector.

If third party claim to be the proprietor and lawful possessor of such under-tenure, Collector to stay the sale and to enquire into and adjudicate upon the claim.

Proviso.

CVII. In trying such claim the Collector shall be guided by the rules contained in this Act, so far as the same may be applicable and the judgment passed by the Collector on such claim shall not be subject to appeal, but the party against whom it is given may bring a suit in the Civil Court to establish his right at any time within one year from the date of the judgment.

Mode of adjudicating such claims.

CVIII. If a decree is given in favor of a sharer in a joint undivided estate, dependent talook, or other similar tenure for money due to him on account of his share of the rent of an under-tenure situate in such undivided estate or talook or tenure, application for the sale of such under-tenure shall not be received unless execution shall have been first taken out against any moveable property which the judgment-debtor may possess within the District in which the suit was instituted and the sale of such property, if any, shall have proved insufficient to satisfy the judgment. In such case such under-tenure, if of the nature described in Section CV, may be brought to sale in execution of the decree in the same manner as any other immoveable property may be sold in execution of a decree for money under the provisions of the two next following Sections.

Execution of decrees given in favor of sharers in undivided estates or tenures.

CIX. In the execution of any decree for the payment of money under this Act not being money due as arrears of rent of a saleable under-tenure, if satisfaction of the judgment cannot be obtained by execution against the person or moveable property of the debtor within the District in which the suit was instituted, the judgment-creditor may apply for execution against any immoveable property belonging to such debtor.

In all cases of decrees for money, if judgment cannot be satisfied by sale of debtor's moveable property, execution may be had against his immoveable property.

CX. If the immoveable property against which execution is applied for be a house or other building, process shall be issued in the same manner as for the attachment and sale of moveable property, and the provisions of Sections XCVIII and XCIX shall be applicable to the execution of such process. If the property be a saleable under-tenure it shall be sold under the provisions of the law for the time being in force applicable to the sale of such under-tenures for demands other than those of arrears of rent due in respect thereof. If the property be an estate or a share of an estate, it shall be sold under the rules in force for the sale of estates for the recovery of demands recoverable by the same process as arrears of land revenue.

Mode of executing process if immoveable property be a house or other building.

If it be a saleable under-tenure.

If it be an estate or a share of an estate.

CXI. If, before the day fixed for the sale of any immoveable property as aforesaid, objection shall be offered to the sale on the ground of such property not belonging to the judgment-

Consequence of objection being offered before the sale of any immoveable property.

debtor, and consequently not being liable to be sold in execution of a decree against him, the Collector shall examine the party making the objection in the manner prescribed in Section C for the examination of third parties, and if satisfied that there is sufficient ground for so doing, shall stay the sale and proceed to enquire into and adjudicate upon the objection, in the same manner, and subject to the same right of suit by the party against whom judgment may be given, as is provided in Section CVII.

CXII. The produce of the land is held to be hypothecated for the rent payable in respect thereof; and when an arrear of rent as defined in Section XX of this Act, is due from any cultivator of land, the zemindar, lakherajdar, farmer, dependent talookdar, under-farmer, or other person entitled to receive rent immediately from such cultivator, instead of bringing suit for the arrear as hereinbefore provided, may recover the same by distraint and sale of the produce of the land on account of which the arrear is due under the following rules. Provided always that, when a cultivator has given security for the payment of his rent, the produce of the land for the rent of which security has been given, shall not be liable to distraint. Provided also that no sharer, in a joint estate, dependent talook, or other tenure, in which a division of lands has not been made amongst the sharers, shall exercise the power of distraint otherwise than through a manager authorized to collect the rents of the whole estate, talook, or tenure, on behalf of all the sharers in the same. Provided further that in putteedaree estates situated in districts under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces distraint shall be made only through a lumberdar.

Produce of the land to be held hypothecated for the rent.

Arrears of rent may be recovered by distraint under the following rules.

Cultivators who have given security to be exempt from distraint

CXIII. Distraint shall not be made for any arrear which has been due for a longer period than one year; nor for the recovery of any sum in excess of the rent payable for the same land in the preceding year, unless a written engagement for the payment of such excess has been executed by the cultivator.

No distraint in certain cases.

CXIV. The power of distraint vested by Section CXII in Zemindars and other persons entitled to receive rent from cultivators of land, may be exercised by managers under the Court of Wards, Surburakars, and Tehsildars of estates held under khas management, and other persons lawfully entrusted with the charge of landed property; and also by the naibs, gomashtahs, and other agents employed by any such persons as aforesaid in the collection of rent if expressly authorized by power of attorney in that behalf. Provided that if any illegal act is committed by any such Naib, Gomashtah, or other agent under color of the exercise of the said power, the person employing such agent shall be liable, as well as the agent, for any damages accruing by reason of such act.

Power of distraint to be exercised by managers under the Court of Wards, &c.

Proviso.

CXV. Standing crops and other ungathered products of the earth, and crops or other products when reaped or gathered, and deposited in any threshing floor or place for treading out grain or the like, whether in the field or within a homestead, may be distrained by persons invested with the powers of distraint under the provisions of this Act. But no such crops or products other than the produce of the land in respect of which an arrear of rent is due or of land held under the same engagement, and no grain or other produce after it has been stored by the cultivator, and no other property whatsoever, shall be liable to distraint under this Act.

Standing crops and crops gathered but not stored liable to distraint.

CXVI. Before or at the time when distraint is made under this Act, the distrainer shall cause the defaulter to be served with a written demand for the amount of the arrear, together with an account exhibiting the grounds on which the demand is made. The demand and account shall, if practicable, be served personally on the defaulter, or if he abscond or conceal himself so that they cannot be so served, shall be affixed at his usual place of residence.

Defaulter to be served with a written demand, &c., before or at the time of distraint.

CXVII. Unless the amount of the demand is immediately paid or tendered, the distrainer may distrain property as aforesaid of value proportionate to the amount of the arrear with costs of the distress; and shall prepare a list or description of the said property, and deliver a copy of the same to the owner, or if he be absent affix it at his usual place of residence.

Distress to be proportionate to the arrear if not paid or tendered.

List of property to be distrained, to be served on owner.

CXVIII. Standing crops and other ungathered products may, notwithstanding the distraint, be reaped and gathered by the cultivator, and may be stored in such granaries or other places as are commonly used by him for the purpose. If the cultivator neglect to do so, the distrainer shall cause the said crops or products to be reaped or gathered, and in such case shall store the same either in such granaries or other places as aforesaid, or in some other convenient place in the neighbourhood. In either case the distrained property shall be placed in the charge of some person appointed by the distrainer for the purpose. Crops or products which from their nature do not admit of being stored, may be sold before they are cut or gathered, under the rules hereinafter provided; but in such case the distraint shall be made at least twenty days before the time when the crops or products or any part of the same would be fit for cutting or gathering.

Standing crops &c. when attached, to be reaped and stored by the cultivator, or, if he neglect to do so, by the distrainer.

CXIX. If a distrainer shall be opposed, or shall apprehend resistance, and shall desire to obtain the assistance of a public Officer, he may apply to the Collector, and the Collector may, if he thinks necessary, depute an Officer to support the distrainer in making the distraint.

Distrainer may apply for aid to the Collector upon occasion of resistance made or apprehended.

CXX. When any person, empowered to distrain property under Section CXII or Section CXIV, shall employ a servant or other person to make the distress, he shall give to such servant or person a written authority (which may be on plain paper) for the same, and the distress shall be made in the name and on the responsibility of the person giving such authority.

Person empowered to distrain may give written authority to their servants to do so.

CXXI. If at any time after property has been distrained, and prior to the day fixed for its being put up to sale as hereinafter provided, the owner of the property shall tender payment of the arrear demanded of him and of the expenses of the distress, the distrainer shall receive the same, and shall forthwith withdraw the distress.

Distress to be withdrawn if defaulter tender payment of arrear and expenses of attachment prior to the day of sale.

CXXII. Within five days from the time of the storing of any distrained crops or products, or if the crops or products do not, from their nature, admit of being stored, within five days from the time of making the distress, the distrainer shall apply for sale of the same to the Civil Court Ameen, or other Officer authorized to sell property in satisfaction of decrees of the Civil Court within the circle in which the distrained property is situate, or to such other public Officer as the local Government shall appoint for the purpose.

Application for sale

CXXIII. The application shall be in writing, and shall contain an inventory or description of the property distrained, the name of the defaulter and his place of residence, the amount due, and the date of the distress, and the place in which the distrained property is deposited. Together with the application, the distrainer shall deliver to the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer the amount necessary for the service of a notice upon the defaulter as hereinafter provided.

Form of application.

Cost of notice upon defaulter to be deposited by distrainer.

CXXIV. Immediately on receipt of the application the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer shall transmit a copy of it to the Collector; and shall serve a notice (which shall be in the form (G) contained in the Schedule to this Act, or to the like effect) on the person whose property has been distrained, requiring him either to pay the amount demanded, or to institute a suit to contest the demand before the Collector within the period of fifteen days from the receipt of the notice. He shall at the same time send to the Collector for the purpose of being put up in his Office, and if in the North-Western Provinces in the cutcherry of the Tuhseeldar, a proclamation fixing a day for the sale of the distrained property, which shall not be less than twenty days from the date of the application; and shall deliver a copy of the proclamation to the peon charged with the service of the notice, to be put up by him in the place where the distrained property is deposited. The proclamation shall contain a description of the property, the demand for which it is to be sold, and the place where the sale is to be held.

Procedure by Civil Court Ameen &c. on receipt of application.

CXXV. If a suit shall be instituted before the Collector in pursuance of the aforesaid notice, the Collector shall transmit to the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer, or if so requested shall deliver to the owner of the distrained property, a certificate of the institution of such suit; and on such certificate being received by or presented to the Ameen or other Officer, he shall suspend proceedings in regard to the sale of the distrained property.

Ameen to suspend sale on receipt of Collector's certificate of the institution of a suit.

CXXVI. A person whose property has been distrained in the manner hereinbefore provided, may institute a suit to contest the demand of the distrainer immediately after the distraint of his property, and before the issue of notice of sale. When such suit is instituted, the Collector shall proceed in the manner prescribed in the last preceding Section. If thereafter application for the sale of the property is made to the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer, he shall transmit a copy of the application to the Collector, and suspend further proceedings pending the decision of the case.

Suit to contest distrainer's demand before issue of notice of sale.

CXXVII. The person whose property has been distrained may, at the time of instituting any such suit as aforesaid, or at any subsequent period, execute a bond with security binding himself to pay whatever sum may be adjudged to be due from him with interest and costs of suit, and when such bond is executed the Collector shall give to the owner of the property a certificate to that effect, or if so requested shall serve the distrainer with notice of the same; and upon such certificate being presented to the distrainer by the owner of the property or served on him by order of the Collector the property shall be released from distraint.

Distress to be withdrawn on receipt of Collector's certificate that the owner has executed a bond with security to pay amount of decree with interest and costs.

CXXVIII. On the expiration of the period fixed in the proclamation of sale, if the institution of a suit to contest the demand of the distrainer has not been certified to the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer in the manner hereinbefore provided, he shall, unless the said demand, with such costs of the distress as shall be allowed by him, be discharged in full, proceed to sell the property or such part of it as may be necessary in the manner following.

On expiration of period fixed in the proclamation of sale, if institution of suit to contest distrainer's demand have not been certified, sale may be proceeded with.

CXXIX. The sale shall be held at the place where the distrained property is deposited, or at the nearest gunge, bazar, haut, or other place of public resort, if the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer should be of opinion that it is likely to sell there to better advantage. The property shall be sold by public auction in one or more lots as the Officer holding the sale may think advisable, and if the demand with the costs of distress and sale be satisfied by the sale of a portion of the property, the distress shall be immediately withdrawn with respect to the remainder.

Place and manner of sale.

CXXX. If on the property being put up for sale a fair price in the estimation of the Officer holding the sale be not offered for it, and the owner of the property or some person authorized to act on his behalf apply to have the sale postponed until the next day, or the next market day if a market be held at the place of sale, the sale shall be postponed until such day and shall be then completed whatever price may be offered for the property.

If fair price be not offered, sale may be postponed to another day, and shall be then completed at whatever price may be offered.

CXXXI. The price of every lot shall be paid for in ready money at the time of sale or as soon after as the Officer holding the sale shall think necessary; and in default of such payment the property shall be put up again and sold. When the purchase money has been paid in full, the Officer holding the sale shall give the purchaser a certificate describing the property purchased by him and the price paid.

Payment of purchase money.

CXXXII. From the proceeds of the sale of distrained property the Officer holding the sale shall make a deduction at the rate of one anna in the Rupee on account of the costs of the sale, and shall transmit the amount to the Collector in order that it may be credited to Government. He shall then then pay to the distrainer the expenses incurred by the distrainer on account of the distress and of the issue of the notice and proclamation of sale prescribed in Section CXXIV, to such amount as, after examination of the statement of expenses furnished by the distrainer, he shall think proper to allow. The remainder shall be applied to the discharge of the arrear for which the distraint was made with interest thereon up to the day of sale, and if there be any overplus it shall be delivered to the person whose property shall have been sold.

Proceeds of sale.

CXXXIII. Officers holding sales of property under this Act, and all persons employed by or subordinate to such Officers, are prohibited from purchasing either directly or indirectly any property sold by such Officers.

Officers holding sales prohibited from purchasing.

CXXXIV. Civil Court Ameens and other Officers as aforesaid are required to bring to the notice of Collectors any material irregularities committed by distrainers under color of this Act; and if in any case, on proceeding to hold a sale of property, the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer shall find that the owner of the property has not received due notice of the distress and intended sale, he shall postpone the sale and report the case to the Collector, and the Collector shall direct the issue of another notice and proclamation of sale under Section CXXIV or pass such other order as he may think proper.

All irregularities to be reported to the Collector.

Officer not to proceed to sale, if he find that defaulter has not received due notice.

CXXXV. When a Civil Court Ameen or other Officer has proceeded to any place for the purpose of holding a sale and no sale takes place either for the reason stated in the last preceding Section, or because the demand of the distrainer has been previously satisfied, no intimation of such satisfaction having been given by the distrainer to the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer, the charge of one anna in the Rupee on account of expenses shall be leviable and shall be calculated on the estimated value of the distrained property. If the demand of the distrainer be not satisfied until the day fixed for the sale, the charge for expenses shall be paid by the owner of the property and may be recovered by the sale of such portion thereof as may be necessary. In every other case it shall be paid by the distrainer and may be recovered by attachment and sale of the property of the distrainer under the warrant of the Collector. Provided always that in no case shall a larger amount than ten Rupees be recoverable under this Section.

Recovery of expenses if Ameen proceeds to place of sale and no sale takes place.

CXXXVI. All proceedings under this Act of the Civil Court Ameens and other Officers as aforesaid shall be subject to the revision and orders of the Collectors, and the Collectors, with the sanction of the Boards of Revenue, may require the submission of such periodical reports and statements of business performed by the Civil Court Ameens and other Officers as may be thought necessary.

Proceedings of Civil Court Ameens &c. subject to revision and orders of Collectors.

CXXXVII. When a suit has been instituted to contest the demand of a distrainer and the property has not been released on security, if the demand or any portion of it shall be adjudged to be due, the Collector shall issue an order to the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer authorizing the sale of the property, and on the application of the distrainer, which shall be made within five days from the receipt of such order by the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer, such Ameen or Officer shall publish a second proclamation in the manner prescribed in Section CXXIV, fixing another day for the sale of the distrained property, which shall not be less than five nor more than ten days from the date of the proclamation; and unless the amount adjudged to be due with the costs of distress be paid intermediately, shall proceed to sell the property in the manner hereinbefore provided.

Second proclamation of sale.

CXXXVIII. In all suits instituted to contest the demand of a distrainer, the distrainer shall be required to prove the arrear in the same manner as if he had himself brought suit for the amount under the foregoing provisions of this Act. If the demand or any part thereof is found to be due, the Collector shall make a decree for the amount in favor of the distrainer, and the amount may be recovered by sale of the property as provided in the last preceding Section if the distress has not been withdrawn, and if any balance remain due after such sale by execution of the decree against the person and any other property of the defaulter, or if the property have been released on security by execution of the decree against the person and property of the default and of his surety. If on the other hand the distraint is adjudged to be vexatious or groundless, the Collector, besides directing the release of the distrained property, may award such damages in favor of the plaintiff as the circumstances of the case shall seem to require.

Procedure after institution of suit to contest distrainer's demand.

CXXXIX. If any person shall claim as his own, property which has been distrained for arrears of rent alleged to be due from any other person, such person may institute a suit against the distrainer and such other person, to try the right to the property, in the same manner and under the same conditions as to the time of instituting the suit and to the consequent postponement of sale, as a person whose property has been distrained for an arrear of rent alleged to be due from him may institute a suit to contest the demand. When any such suit is instituted the property may be released upon security being given for the value of the same. If the claim is dismissed the Collector shall make an order for the sale of the property or the recovery of the value thereof, as the case may be, for the benefit of the distrainer. If the claim is upheld, the Collector shall decree the release of the distrained property with costs, and such damages (if any) as the circumstances of the case may seem to require. Provided always that no claim to any produce of land, liable to distraint under this Act, which at the time of the distress may have been found in the possession of a defaulting cultivator, whether such claim be in respect of a previous sale, mortgage, or otherwise, shall bar the prior claim of the person entitled to the rent of the land, nor shall any attachment in execution of a judgment of any Civil Court prevail against such prior claim.

Any person, whose property has been distrained for arrears of rent alleged to be due from another, may institute a suit against the distrainer, &c.

Proviso.

CXL. If in any case in which property has been distrained for an arrear of rent and a suit has been instituted to contest the demand, the right to distrain for such arrear is claimed by or on behalf of any person other than the distrainer on the ground of such other person being actually and in good faith in the receipt and enjoyment of the rent of the land, such other person shall be made a party to the suit, and the question of the actual receipt and enjoyment of the rent by such other person before and up to the time of the commencement of the suit shall be enquired into, and the suit shall be decided according to the result of such enquiry. Provided always that the decision of the Collector shall not affect the right of either party who may have a legal title to the rent of the land, to establish his title by suit in the Civil Court if instituted within one year from the date of the decision.

Procedure if distrainer's right to distrain be disputed.

CXLI. If any person, whose property has been distrained for the recovery of a demand not justly due, or of a demand due or alleged to be due from some other person, is prevented by any sufficient cause from bringing suit to contest the demand or to try the right to the property as the case may be within the period allowed by Sections CXXIV and CXXXIX and his property is in consequence brought to sale, he may nevertheless institute a suit under this Act to recover damages for the illegal distress and sale of his property.

Persons prevented from suing in time to save their property from sale, may sue for damages.

CXLII. If any person empowered to distrain property or employed for the purpose under a written authority by a person so empowered, shall distrain or sell, or cause to be sold, any property for the recovery of an arrear of rent alleged to be due, otherwise than according to the provisions of this Act, or if any distrained property shall be lost, damaged, or destroyed by reason of the distrainer not having taken proper precaution for the due keeping and preservation thereof, or if the distraint shall not be immediately withdrawn when it is required to be withdrawn by any provision of this Act, the owner of the property may institute a suit under this Act to recover damages for any injury which he may have thereby sustained.

Also persons aggrieved by any illegal act of distrainer.

CXLIII. If any person not empowered to distrain property under Sections CXII and CXIV of this Act, nor employed for the purpose under a written authority by a person so empowered, shall distrain or sell or cause to be sold any property under color of this Act, the owner of the property may institute a suit under this Act to recover damages from such person for any injury which he may have sustained from the distraint or sale. The said person shall be held to have committed criminal trespass, and shall be subject to the penalties for that offence in addition to any damages which may be awarded against him in such suit.

Unlawful distraint.

CXLIV. Provided always that any suit which may be instituted under any of the last three Sections shall be commenced within three months from the date of the occurrence of the cause of action.

Time for commencing suits for damages.

CXLV. If any person shall resist a distraint of property duly made under this Act, or shall forcibly or clandestinely remove any distrained property, the Collector upon complaint being made within fifteen days from the date of such resistance or removal, shall cause the person accused to be arrested, and if the offence be proved and the offender be the owner of the property, shall order him to be imprisoned in the Civil jail for six months, or until the whole arrear due to the distrainer with all expenses and costs shall sooner be paid or levied by distress and sale of the property of the offender under warrant of the Collector. If the person convicted of the offence be any other than the owner of the property, he shall make good to the distrainer the value of the same, and shall further be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred Rupees, or in default of payment thereof to imprisonment for a period not exceeding two months.

Resistance of distraint.

CXLVI. Every process issued by a Collector under this Act shall be under the seal and signature of the Collector, and shall be served or executed by the Nazir or by such other Officer as the Collector may direct at the cost of the party at whose instance it issued. The amount of such cost, and, in the case of summons to a witness, any sum required for the travelling expenses of such witness, shall be deposited in Court before the process is issued. Provided that if in any case the Collector is satisfied that a party is unable to pay the cost of Service of process.

any necessary process, he may direct such process to be served free of charge.

Resistance of process.

CXLVII. Any resistance or opposition to the lawful process of a Collector under this Act may be punished by the Collector according to the provisions of the law for the time being in force for the punishment of resistance or opposition to the processes of the Courts of Civil justice. When in any such case the offender is not present in Court, the Collector may summon him to answer to the charge, and if after due service of the summons he fail to attend, may issue a warrant for his apprehension. Orders passed by Collectors under this Section shall not be deemed to be orders relating to the trial of suits or to the execution of decrees within the meaning of Section CLI

Collector competent to hold a Court in any part of his jurisdiction.

CXLVIII. It shall be competent to the Collector to hold a Court for hearing and determining suits under this Act in any place within the limits of his District or local jurisdiction, provided that every hearing and decision shall be in open Court, and that the parties to the suit or their authorized agents shall have had due notice to attend at such place.

Proviso.

Agents or mookhtars.

CXLIX. Any person may practise as an agent or mookhtar in a Court held by a Collector under this Act without any formal license from the Collector. But it shall be competent to the Collector to prohibit any person, who has been convicted by a competent Court of a criminal offence, or who has been found guilty of fraudulent or dishonest conduct in the discharge of his duty as agent or mookhtar, to practice as an agent or mookhtar in his Court. When any agent or mookhtar is charged by the Collector or any other person with fraudulent or dishonest conduct in the discharge of his duty, the Collector shall proceed in the manner prescribed in Section IV Act XVIII of 1852, or any other law for the time being in force for the trial of charges against pleaders.

Powers of Deputy Collectors.

CL. All the powers vested in the Collector by the preceding Sections of this Act may be exercised by any Deputy Collector in cases referred to him by a Collector; and in all cases without such reference, by any Deputy Collector placed in charge of any Sub-division of a District; and all applications and reports allowed or required by this Act to be made to the Collector may be made to any Deputy Collector having such local jurisdiction.

Collectors and Deputy Collectors to be subject to general direction and control of the Commissioners and the Boards of Revenue.

CLI. In the performance of their duties under this Act the Collectors and Deputy Collectors shall be subject to the general direction and control of the Commissioners and the Boards of Revenue; and the Deputy Collector shall be subject to the direction and control of the Collectors to whom they are subordinate. All orders passed by a Collector under this Act, not being judgments in suits or orders passed in the course of suits and relating to the trial thereof or orders passed after decree and relating to the execution thereof, shall be appealable to the Commissioner; and all such orders passed by a Deputy Collector shall be appealable to the Collector; but no judgment of a Collector or Deputy Collector in any suit, and no order of a Collector or Deputy Collector passed in any suit and relating to the trial thereof, or after decree and relating to the execution thereof, shall be open to revision or appeal otherwise than as expressly provided in this Act.

No appeal from orders of Collectors and Deputy Collectors in certain cases.

Time for presenting appeals from orders.

CLII. Every appeal against the order of a Collector shall be presented to the Commissioner within thirty days, and every appeal against the order of a Deputy Collector shall be presented to the Collector within fifteen days from the date of the order. Orders passed in appeal by a Commissioner or a Collector shall not be open to any further appeal, but the Board of Revenue or the Commissioner may call for any case, and pass such orders thereon as they may think proper.

No appeal from any decree of Collector for money below 100 Rupees unless the decision involve some question of right to enhance rent or some question relating to a title to land.

CLIII. In suits under Clauses 2, 4, and 7 of Section XXIII and under Section XXIV of this Act, tried and decided by a Collector, if the amount sued for or the value of the property claimed does not exceed one hundred Rupees, the judgment of the Collector shall be final, and not open to revision or appeal except as hereinafter provided, unless in any such suit a question of right to enhance or otherwise vary the rent of a ryot or tenant, or any question relating to a title to land, or to some interest in land as between parties having conflicting claims thereto, has been determined by the judgment, in which case the judgment shall be open to appeal in the manner provided in Sections CLX and CLXI of this Act.

In suits not open to appeal, Collector may grant a re-hearing upon the discovery of new evidence, &c.

CLIV. In suits in which the judgment of the Collector is final as provided in the last preceding Section, the Collector may, upon the application of either party, if preferred within thirty days from the date of the decision, order the re-hearing of a suit, upon the ground of the discovery of new evidence or matter material to the issue of the case which the applicant had no knowledge of, or could not produce at the time of trial.

Appeal from decision of Deputy Collector.

CLV. When any such suit as aforesaid, in which if tried and decided by a Collector the judgment of the Collector would be final, is tried and decided by a Deputy Collector, an appeal from the judgment of the Deputy Collector shall lie to the Collector.

Petition of appeal to be on stamp paper, &c.

CLVI. The petition of appeal shall be written on stamp paper of eight annas value and shall be presented to the Collector within fifteen days from the date of the decree, provided that such time as may be requisite for procuring a copy of the decree appealed against shall not be reckoned as part of the fifteen days.

Procedure in appeal.

CLVII. The Collector shall fix a day for hearing the appeal, and at all cause notice of the same to be served on the respondent in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for the service of summons. If on the day fixed for hearing the appeal, or any other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, the appellant shall not appear in person or by an agent, the appeal shall be dismissed for default. If the appellant shall appear and the respondent shall not appear in person or by an agent, the appeal shall be heard ex parte.

Re-admission of appeal.

CLVIII. If an appeal be dismissed for default of prosecution the appellant may within fifteen days from the date of the dismissal apply to the Collector for the re-admission of the appeal, and if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that the appellant was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the appeal was called on for hearing, the Collector may re-admit the appeal.

Judgment in appeal.

CLIX. After hearing the appeal the Collector shall give judgment in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for giving judgment in original suits, and the judgment of the Collector shall be final.

In what suits appeal to lie to Zillah Judge.

CLX. In all suits other than those in which when tried and decided by a Collector the judgment of the Collector is declared to be final or when tried and decided by a Deputy Collector an appeal is allowed to the Collector, an appeal from the judgment of the Collector or Deputy Collector shall lie to the Zillah Judge; unless the amount or value in dispute exceed five thousand Rupees, in which case the appeal shall lie to the Sudder Court.

To Sudder Court.

Rules regarding presentation and hearing of appeals.

CLXI. The petition of appeal shall be written on the stamp paper prescribed for appeals from the subordinate Civil Courts with reference to the amount or value of the property involved in the appeal, and the rules in force in regard to the time within which appeals from the decisions of such Courts may be received, and to the manner in which such appeals are heard and determined, and to all proceedings which may be had in respect of such appeals, shall be applicable to appeals to the Zillah Judge or Sudder Court under this Act.

Suits to be preferred in the Revenue Office of the District or Sub-division in which the greater part of the land is situate.

CLXII. Suits under this Act shall be preferred in the Revenue Office of the District, or when a Sub-division of a District has been placed under the jurisdiction of a Deputy Collector, in the Revenue Office of the Sub-division in which the cause of action shall have arisen. Provided always that the Collector may withdraw any suit from any Deputy Collector and try it himself, or refer it to another Deputy Collector. If the lands comprised in any talook, farm, or other tenure, or any lands held under one lease or engagement or at one entire rent in respect of which arrears of rent may be due, are situated in more than one District or Sub-division, the District or Sub-division in which the greater part of such lands is situate shall be held to be the District or Sub-division in which the cause of action has arisen; and if any question shall be raised respecting the District or Sub-division in which the greater part of the lands is situate, the Board of Revenue, or if all the lands be situate in one District the Collector of the District shall decide the question, and such decision shall be conclusive on the point of jurisdiction.

Except as above, Collector not to exercise jurisdiction in respect to lands situate beyond his District.

CLXIII. Except as provided in the last preceeding Section, no Collector shall exercise any jurisdiction under this Act in respect to any lands situate beyond the limits of the District to which he is appointed, by reason of such lands forming part of an estate the revenue of which is paid into the Treasury of the said District.

Deputy Collector entrusted with Police functions, not to exercise judicial powers under this Act.

CLXIV. No Deputy Collector appointed under Regulation IX of 1833 of the Bengal Code, shall exercise any judicial powers or other jurisdiction under this Act if entrusted with any Police functions.

What powers to be exercised by Assistants to Collectors.

CLXV. Assistants to Collectors shall not exercise any powers under this Act unless invested by Government with the powers of Deputy Collectors, in which case they may exercise the powers hereby assigned to Deputy Collectors.

Saving of rights of proprietors in respect of Putnee Talooks, &c. under Regulation VIII. 1819.

CLXVI. Nothing contained in this Act shall be held to affect the right vested in proprietors of land under direct engagements with Government, of bringing to sale for arrears of rent Putnee Talooks and other similar tenures under the provisions of Regulation VIII. 1819.

Commencement of Act.

CLXVII. This Act shall commence and have effect from and after the 1st day of August 1859.

THE 23rd APRIL 1859.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India, on the 23rd April 1859, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 30th of July next:—

A Bill to amend Act III of 1857 (relating to trespasses by Cattle).

Preamble.

WHEREAS, under the provisions of Act III of 1857, fines may be levied from the owners of Cattle found trespassing and doing damage or straying in any public place, and all unclaimed Cattle so found may be sold after sufficient notice; and whereas it is provided in the said Act that the sums received on account of fines and the unclaimed proceeds of the sale of unclaimed Cattle shall be applied to the payment of the salaries of pound-keepers and other purposes connected with the execution of the Act; and whereas the amount of the said sums may be larger than is required for the said purposes, and it is expedient to provide for their legal application to other purposes; It is enacted as follows:—

Appropriation of surplus fines, &c.

I. When the amount of the sums received on account of fines and the unclaimed proceeds of the sale of unclaimed Cattle is larger than is required for the payment of the salaries allowed to pound-keepers and the expenses incurred for the construction and maintenance of pounds and other purposes connected with the execution of the said Act, any surplus which may remain after making full provision for the said salaries and expenses may be applied, under the direction of the local Government, to the construction and repair of roads and bridges, and other works of a like nature.

Act to be read as part of Act III of 1857.

II. This Act shall be read with and taken as part of Act III of 1857.

W. MORGAN,
Clerk of the Council.

THE 23RD APRIL 1859.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India, on the 23rd April 1859, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 30th of July next:—

A Bill to empower Magistrates to decide certain disputes between contractors and workmen engaged in Railway and other works.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to empower Magistrates to decide disputes concerning wages and certain other disputes between contractors and workmen engaged in Railway and other works; It is enacted as follows:—

Who shall be deemed a contractor within this Act.

I. Any person who has contracted or who may hereafter contract to construct any portion of a Railway, canal, or other public work, the construction of which is or shall be sanctioned by Parliament or by the Government of India, shall be deemed a contractor within the meaning of this Act.

Magistrate to take cognizance of cases of non-payment of wages to workmen by contractors.

II. If any person being a contractor within the meaning of this Act shall employ or engage with any artificer, workman, or laborer for the execution of any work connected with or incidental to the performance of his contract (whether such work is to be performed by the person so employed or engaged or by others to be employed with, by or under him), and shall not from time to time pay all such sums of money and wages as shall be justly due to the person or persons so employed, it shall be lawful for the Magistrate of the Zillah or District where the work is performed, to take cognizance of the matter.

To decide summarily after summoning the parties, &c.

III. The Magistrate shall summon such contractor (or in his absence his local manager or agent) to appear at a time and place to be named in the summons; and it shall be lawful for the Magistrate to examine witnesses upon oath or solemn affirmation and in a summary way to decide between the parties, which decision shall be final and conclusive to all intents and purposes.

Order for payment.

IV. The Magistrate shall order the payment of such sum of money as shall appear to him to be justly due to the person or persons so employed as aforesaid, and in default of payment of such sum immediately or within such time as the Magistrate shall direct, he shall issue his warrant to levy the same by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the defaulting contractor.

Property distrained.

V. If any question shall arise whether any goods or chattels seized under the warrant of distress belong to the defaulter or are liable to be distrained and sold as aforesaid, the decision and order of the Magistrate shall be final and conclusive with respect thereto.

VI. Any artificer, workman, or laborer employed or engaged by a contractor within the meaning of this Act to execute any work of the nature mentioned in Section I, who shall wilfully and without lawful or reasonable excuse neglect or refuse to perform such work, shall be liable on conviction before the Magistrate to a fine not exceeding Rupees. The Magistrate may, at the request of the complainant or of any one authorized to act on his behalf, instead of fining such artificer, workman, or laborer, order him to perform or get performed the work according to the terms of his contract, and if he shall fail to comply with the order, the Magistrate may, upon proof to his satisfaction of such non-compliance, sentence such artificer, workman, or laborer to be imprisoned with hard labor for any term not exceeding months.

Penalty for workmen neglecting or refusing to work.

VII. The word "Magistrate" in this Act shall include any person who may be specially empowered by the Executive Government to exercise the powers vested in a Magistrate by this Act.

Interpretation. 'Magistrate.'

VIII. This Act shall take effect only in those Districts or places to which it shall be extended by order of the Governor General of India in Council or of the Executive Government of any Presidency or place.

Operation of Act.

W. Morgan,
Clerk of the Council.

THE 30TH APRIL 1859.

THE following Bill was read a first and second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 30th April 1859, and referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon within a month:—

A Bill to provide for the more speedy disposal of Appeals in cases appealable to the Sudder Court and of applications for Special Appeals.

WHEREAS by reason of the large number of regular appeals preferred in the Sudder Courts of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, much delay occurs in the hearing and determination of such Appeals; and it is expedient that measures should be provided for the more speedy disposal of the same: and whereas it is also expedient that in cases of application for special appeal any order passed by a single Judge of either of the said Courts for the admission or the rejection of any such appeal should be final; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. In suits decided by Principal Sudder Ameens in any part of the said Presidency where the amount or value of the suit shall be less than ten thousand Rupees, the appeal shall lie to the Zillah Judge, and shall not lie to the Sudder Court, any thing in Section IV Act XXV of 1837 to the contrary notwithstanding.

Appeals, in suits decided by Principal Sudder Ameens below Rupees 10,000, to lie to Zillah Judge.

II. All applications for special appeal, which are now pending in either of the said Sudder Courts, or which have been presented in any subordinate Court for transmission to the Sudder Court, and all such applications which may be hereafter presented under the provisions of Act XVI of 1853, may be heard, and on hearing may be either admitted or rejected by a single Judge of the Sudder Court, and the order passed by such Judge either for the admission or the rejection of the appeal shall be final, any thing in Clause 4 Section VIII of Act XVI of 1858 to the contrary notwithstanding. Provided always that, except under the circumstances and for the purpose described in Clause 1 of the said Section, no case shall be remanded to the Court which passed the decree by the order of a single Judge; but when such Judge shall make an order for remand, the case shall be dealt with in the manner provided in Clauses 4 and 5 of the said Section.

Applications for special appeals to be heard by a single Judge of the Sudder Court.

Proviso.

W. Morgan,
Clerk of the Council.

THE 30TH APRIL 1859.

THE following Bill, as settled in Committee of the whole Council, was ordered to be published for general information, and to be re-considered after two months:—

A Bill for the establishment of Courts of Small Causes beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Courts of Judicature established by Royal Charter.

WHEREAS, with a view to the more easy recovery of small debts and demands, it is expedient to establish Courts of Small Causes beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Courts of Judicature established by Royal Charter at the several Presidencies of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. It shall be lawful for the Executive Government of any of the said Presidencies or of any place, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, to constitute Courts of Small Causes, with the required establishment of Officers, at any place within the limits of their respective Governments, for the trial of suits under this Act. Whenever any such Court may be so constituted the Executive Government shall fix the territorial jurisdiction of such Court, and may, from time to time, alter the same as may appear proper.

Constitution of Small Cause Courts.

Limits of territorial jurisdiction to be fixed.

II. The following are the suits which shall be cognizable by Courts of Small Causes constituted under this Act, namely, claims for money due, whether on bond or other contract, or for rent, or for personal property, or for the value of such property, or for damages, where the debt, damage, or demand does not exceed in amount or value the sum of five hundred Rupees. Provided that no action shall lie in any such Court on balance of partnership account, unless the balance shall have been struck by the parties or their agents; or for a share or part of a share under an intestacy, or for a legacy or part of a legacy under a will; or for any claim for the rent of land or any other claim for which a suit may be brought before a Revenue Officer, if commenced in due time; or for the recovery of damages on account of alleged personal injuries, unless special damage of a pecuniary nature shall have resulted from such injury.

Jurisdiction of the Courts.

III. Every Court of Small Causes constituted under this Act shall have cognizance of all such suits as are mentioned in the last preceding Section, if the cause of action shall have arisen or the defendant at the time of the commencement of the suit shall dwell or personally work for gain within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court.

Seal of the Court.

Court to be generally subject to the Zillah Judge and Sudder Court.

IV. Every Court constituted under this Act shall use a seal, bearing the following inscription in English and in the language of the Court—"Court of Small Causes of ;" and every such Court shall be subject to the general control and orders of the Judge of the District and of the Sudder Court.

Suits for an amount exceeding 20 Rupees to be cognizable only by a Small Cause Court, where such a Court is established.

V. Whenever a Court of Small Causes is constituted under this Act, all suits cognizable under the provisions of this Act, for any amount exceeding twenty Rupees which shall arise within the limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, shall be heard and determined in such Court and shall not be cognizable in any other Court.

Saving of jurisdiction of Magistrates, &c.

of Village Moonsiffs and Village or District Punchayets in Madras.

of Military Courts of Request—

of single Officers appointed to try small suits in Madras and Bombay.

and of Military Punchayets in Madras.

VI. Nothing in this Act shall be held to take away the jurisdiction which a Magistrate, or a person exercising the powers of a Magistrate, or an Assistant or a Deputy Magistrate, can now exercise in regard to debts or other claims of a Civil nature; or the jurisdiction which can be exercised by Village Moonsiffs or Village or District Punchayets under the provisions of the Madras Code, or by Military Courts of Request, or by Cantonment Joint Magistrates invested with Civil jurisdiction under Act III of 1859, or by a single Officer duly authorized and appointed under the rules in force in the Presidencies of Fort St. George and Bombay respectively, for the trial of small suits in Military Bazars, in Cantonments, and Stations occupied by the troops of those Presidencies respectively, or by Punchayets in regard to suits against Military persons, according to the rules in force under the Presidency of Fort St. George.

Courts where to be held.

VII. Courts of Small Causes constituted under this Act shall be held at such place or places within the local limits of their respective jurisdictions as shall from time to time be appointed by the local Government to which such Courts are subordinate.

Time of holding Courts, if they be directed to be held in more places than one.

VIII. Whenever any such Court is directed to be held at more places than one within the local limits of its jurisdiction, the Judge of such Court, subject to the control of the Judge of the District, shall appoint the time at which the Court shall hold its sittings in every such place. Due notice of the time so appointed shall be given by a proclamation to be fixed up in some conspicuous place in the Court-house or other building in which the sittings of the Court are to be held.

Procedure.

Proviso.

IX. The procedure to be observed in the trial of cases cognizable under this Act, shall be that prescribed in Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter), in so far as the same may be applicable and necessary. Provided that in all suits under this Act the summons to the defendant shall be for the final disposal of the suit, and provided also that, at the time of passing a decree under this Act, the Court may on the verbal application of the party in whose favor the decree is passed direct immediate execution of the same by the issue of a warrant directed either generally against the personal property of the judgment debtor wherever it may be found within the local limits of the Court's jurisdiction, or specially against any personal property belonging to the judgment debtor within the same limits which may be indicated by the judgment creditor.

Execution against immoveable property, if moveable property not sufficient.

X. In the execution of a decree under this Act, if, after the sale of the moveable property of a judgment debtor, any portion of a judgment shall remain due and the holder of such judgment desire to issue execution upon any immoveable property belonging to the judgment debtor, the Court, on the application of such judgment creditor, shall grant him a copy of the judgment and a certificate of any sum remaining due under it, and on the presentation of such copy and certificate to any Civil Court having general jurisdiction in which the immoveable property of the judgment debtor is situate, such Court shall proceed to enforce such judgment according to its own rules and mode of procedure in like cases.

Decision in certain suits to be final.

Proviso.

XI. In suits tried under this Act, all decisions and orders of the Court shall be final. Provided that it shall be competent to the Court, if it shall think fit, to grant a new trial if applied for within the period of thirty days from the date of the decision.

Court may refer questions of law &c. to Sudder Court.

XII. If in the trial of any suit under this Act any question of law or usage having the force of law or the construction of a document affecting the merits of the decision shall arise, on which the Court may entertain reasonable doubts, the Court may, either of its own motion or on the application of any of the parties to the suit, draw up a statement of the case and submit it, with its own opinion, for the decision of the Sudder Court.

XIII. The Court may proceed in the case, notwithstanding a reference to the Sudder Court, and may pass a decree contingent upon the opinion of the Sudder Court on the point referred; but no execution shall be issued in any case in which a reference may be made to the Sudder Court, until the receipt of the order of that Court.

Court may pass decree contingent upon the opinion of the Sudder Court, pending which execution not to issue.

XIV. Cases referred for the opinion of the Sudder Court shall be dealt with by a full bench of that Court.

Full bench of the Sudder Court to decide cases referred under this Act.

XV. The Sudder Court shall fix an early day for the hearing of the case, and shall notify the same by a proclamation to be fixed up in the Court-house of that Court.

Sudder Court to fix an early day for the hearing of the case. Proclamation thereof.

XVI. The parties to the case may appear and be heard in the Sudder Court in person or by pleader.

Parties may appear and be heard in person or by pleader.

XVII. The Sudder Court, when it has heard and considered the case, shall transmit a copy of its judgment, under the seal of the Court and the signature of the Register, to the Court by which the reference was made; and such Court shall, on the receipt thereof, proceed to dispose of the case conformably to the decision of the Sudder Court.

Decision of Sudder Court how to be transmitted.

XVIII. Costs, if any, consequent on the reference of a case for the opinion of the Sudder Court shall be costs in the suit.

Costs of reference to Sudder Court.

XIX. No appeal shall lie from a decree of any existing Court subordinate to a District Court in any suit of the description contained in Section II, when the debt, damage, or demand shall not exceed twenty Rupees, but every such decree shall be final. Provided that the provisions of Section IX and the proviso in Section XI shall be applicable to every suit in which the decree is by this Section made final.

No appeal from decision of any existing Court subordinate to a District Court in suits below 20 Rupees.

Proviso.

XX. No special appeal shall lie from any decision or order passed on regular appeal by any Court subordinate to the Sudder Court in any suit of the nature described in Section II, when the debt, damage, or demand for which the original suit shall be instituted shall not exceed five hundred Rupees. But every such order or decision shall be final.

No special appeal from decision of any Court subordinate to the Sudder Court in suits below 500 Rupees.

XXI. In every case in which a decree or decision is by the two last preceding Sections made final, the Court passing the final decree or decision shall have the same power to draw up a statement of the case for the opinion of the Sudder Court as is hereby vested in a Court of Small Causes, and all the provisions of this Act relative to statements drawn up by Courts of Small Causes shall be applicable to statements drawn up under the provisions of this Section.

Reference of questions to Sudder Court under two last preceding Sections.

Resident at Hyderabad,

To Major-General Birch, C. B.,

Secy. to the Govt. of India, in the Mily. Dept.,

with the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

Camp Hyderabad Residency, 20th December 1858.

Sir,

I have the honor to forward the correspondence noted in the margin, received from Brigadier Hill, Commanding Hyderabad Contingent, reporting his having fallen in and dispersed parties of the Rebels in the Hills West of Gawilghur.

No. (146,) dated 9th December 1858.
No (148,) dated 10th December 1858, with enclosures.

2. I have much pleasure in bringing to the favorable notice of His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General of India, the gallant conduct of Captain Clogstoun, Second in Command, 2nd Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, in a successful attack made by him on a large body of Rebels.

3. His Lordship is aware that this Officer was unable to take a share in the late Central India Campaign with his comrades in the Hyderabad Contingent, his services being required in the Dekhan where he was usefully employed in maintaining the peace of the Districts against predatory irruptions of the Rohillahs.

4. Captain Clogstoun brings to notice the gallant conduct of Trooper Shaik Hyder, 2nd Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, in attacking the Rebels, and Lance Naique Seewoo Buksh, 6th Infantry, Hyderabad Contingent, is prominently noticed on the same occasion by Lieutenant Henchy, of the Artillery, Commanding the party of 6th Infantry, Hyderabad Contingent.

5. I beg to recommend that Trooper Shaik Hyder, 2nd Cavalry, Hyderabad Contingent, may be promoted to Dufladar, and Lance Naique Seewoo Buksh, 6th Infantry, Hyderabad Contingent, to Havildar.

I have, &c.,

No. 446.

From Brigadier W. Hill,

Comdg. H. C. and Berar Field Force,

To the Military Secretary to the Resident,

Hyderabad.

Dated the 9th December 1858.

Sir,

I have the honor to report for the information of the Resident, that yesterday I came upon the track of a Rebel Force which I was in the hope of encountering from the information which was brought to me by a few grasscutters who had preceded my Force by about half an hour.

I now came up with the Advance Guard of the force numbering 30 or 40 Cavalry on Horses and Tattoos—on being surprised by my Column coming up with them, the greater portion fled in all directions in the jungles which was so dense from trees, grass and bamboos, that we soon lost sight of them.

Concluding that the main body could not be very far off, I ordered Captain Clogstoun, Commanding 2nd Cavalry, to pursue and both Captain Hoseason, my Brigade Major, and myself accompanied the Cavalry, and for a few miles we found the road strewed with baggage and nearly blocked up with Horses, Tattoos and Bullocks which had just been left by their riders, who had escaped to the jungles; but still hoping to meet the main force, we did not draw rein for a distance of 12 miles, but in vain as no trace of them could be discovered.

I had left Captain Scott, Commanding 6th Infantry, with the Artillery and Infantry. He extended his Infantry on both sides of the road to ascertain if any Rebels were secreting themselves in the jungles, and several prisoners were brought into Camp in the evening.

Although I was not successful in bringing the Rebels into action, I consider that an important point has followed my having remained in this range of Hills, as I have been able to ascertain beyond a doubt, the intention of Tantia Topee, when he took the line of the Taptee through these Hills towards Poonah, as the Resident will observe by the copy of a letter I have this day addressed to Major General Michell which may probably guide the General in making the present movements of his force in co-operation with the Troops now in the Field South of the Nerbuddah.

I cannot speak too highly of the high spirit evinced by Captain Clogstoun and all his men, who though they unfortunately did not encounter the Rebel Force in such strength as to make a greater example of them, they nevertheless upheld the name they have won for themselves for intrepidity and celerity in all they do.

The enemy's loss was three killed, among whom was a Sowar of the 14th Bengal Irregular Cavalry, as indicated by the Carbine which was taken from him after he was shot. Of the prisoners, four were Sowars of Scindiah's Body Guard, one of the Gwalior Contingent Infantry, and a Sepoy supposed from a button found in his Havresack to be a man of the 70th Bengal Native Infantry. These were shot this morning by sentence of a Court Martial which tried them yesterday.

There was no loss on our side, as the reports I have received lead me to infer that not four hundred men including Camp Followers have escaped me.

I have written to Colonel Becher who has a Force near Peeplode to stop their further progress, and as Captain McKinnon, Commanding at Elichpoor, wrote to me on the 6th instant, to state that a Dufladar's party of the 4th Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, had observed a large body (about 1,000) had crossed the road near Sawulmainda, and were taking the road Tantia did, which is immediately in our front. I march to-morrow to Mootah, and next day to Maisdy.

No. 448.

From Brigadier W. Hill,
Commanding Hyderabad Contingent,

To the Military Secretary to the Resident,

Head Quarters, Hyderabad Contingent,
Dated Camp Mootah, 10th December 1858.

Sir,

In continuation of my letter of yesterday's date, reporting my having fallen in with a small body of Rebels while on my march to Hurldee, I have the honor to state that as some of my supplies had not arrived in consequence of having marched 32 miles on that day, I directed a party as per margin, under the Command of Captain Clogstoun, of the 2nd Cavalry, Hyderabad Contingent, to be held in readiness to march back the following morning to escort them into my Camp.

2nd Cavalry.
1 Ressaldar.
2 Jemadars.
8 Duffadars.
80 Troopers.
1 Trumpet Major
2 Trumpeters.
1 2nd Dresser.
6th Regiment Infantry.
Lieutenant Henchy, Artillery, in Charge.
2 Native Officers.
4 Havildars
80 Rank and File
1 Bugler.

2. Having received a letter from the Officer Commanding Ellichpoor, dated only three days before stating, that Captain Prescott, Commanding an outpost at Savulmondee, had reported that a considerable body of Rebels had there been seen by his Irregular Cavalry, and that they were moving in the direction of Meizday, which was on the direct track, as that which was taken by Tantia Topee, and which was immediately in my front. I considered it necessary to halt at Hurldee while this Detachment was out, as well as another Detachment under the Command of Lieutenant Sinclair, of the 6th Infantry, which I had sent round another road to prevent any party of Rebels getting to my rear.

3. The successful termination of Captain Clogstoun's duty is described in the accompanying Report from that Officer, which I have the honor to forward.

4. It was very pleasing to me in having been able to speak in the highest terms of Captain Clogstoun and his Cavalry, when pursuing the enemy on the 8th under my own observation, and though in the present instance thick jungles and ravines threw the greatest difficulties in their way as described by Captain Clogstoun, nothing could obstruct them in anticipation of meeting with an enemy, and I feel much gratified in being able to report that the gallantry and intrepidity of Captain Clogstoun and his men were rewarded by falling upon a part of the Rebels again and driving them into the hills in the direction of Charwar and Hurdar

The Infantry are entitled to equal praise with the Cavalry, having marched 32 miles the day previous and nearly 37 miles, besides engaging the Rebels, when Captain Clogstoun reports they acted with much energy and courage, and this party joined me at 3 P M., on the 10th at Motah, having marched a distance of 101 miles since daylight on the 8th instant.

I have very great pleasure in recommending both Captain Clogstoun and Lieutenant Henchy (who was the only available European Officer to Command the Infantry as the Ajutant was ill) to the notice of the Resident, as well as the men they commanded.

I beg also strongly to recommend for promotion the men brought to my notice in Captain Clogstoun's Report.

In consequence of my having for some days been compelled to place the Troops upon short rations, as well as to limit the Cavalry in gram which was absolutely necessary to enable me to march through this deserted part of the country, all the inhabitants having fled from their villages into the jungles after having been plundered by Tantia Topee, and as I expected a large force in my front, I was reluctantly compelled to leave the complete dispersion of this small party of Rebels to the force which is under the Command of Colonel Becher who protects the line from Peeplode to Hurdar, who has informed me that he would send out Detachments in the several directions. I recommended to him to intercept the Rebels, and I hope he will be successful in the object in view.

Sir,

I have the honor to report for the information of Brigadier Hill, Commanding Hyderabad Contingent and Berar Field Force, that I left the Camp at Hindee at 6 o'Clock A. M., on the 9th instant, with the Detachment as per margin to proceed as ordered towards Sindwah to reconnoitre and also to escort supplies expected by that route.

2nd Cavalry.
1 Ressaldar,
2 Jemadars.
8 Duffadars.
80 Troopers.

2 Native Officers.
4 Havildars
80 Rank and File.

Fifteen miles from Hindee the track taken by the Rebels repulsed by Brigadier Hill's Force on the day previous was pointed out to me. I halted the Detachment and having personally ascertained that a large body of men and horses had very recently entered the jungle at the spot indicated, I determined and followed up the track, more particularly as the danger which threatened the supplies, the immediate object of the duty I was on, proceeded from the very party on whose line of retreat I had struck

I sent on the baggage under a Guard to the village of Dawar Takrai, four miles in advance on the road to Sindeewall and commenced the pursuit. The retreat of the Rebel Force from the first mile followed the course of a dry and stony nullah, then continued through dense jungles and over a succession of low hills and rocky ravines clothed with bamboo and long grass, to crop the ravines the Cavalry had frequently to dismount, having proceeded for some 8 miles the close vicinity of the enemy became apparent, I therefore ordered 20 men of the Infantry to the front to precede the Rissallah, which had hitherto led, and the advance was continued with as little noise as possible. On emerging from a thick mass of jungles into a comparatively clear space of some hundreds of yards in extent to the front and right, and intersected by bushy nullahs, the enemy were seen slowly filing through the long g ass and quite unconscious of our approach I at once d shed at them followed by my Orderly Sowar Shaik Hyder The Troop led by Ressaidar Mahomed Shah as it cleared the wood galloped by the party of the Infantry who were in advance and joined in the attack and Melee which ensued. The enemy completely taken by surprise made but a short resistance, broke and fled to the surrounding jungles.

Lieutenant Henchy observing a party of the enemy moving off to the right by a rapid advance with the Infantry under his command, intercepted their retreat and beat them back into the nullahs above mentioned when a number were shot down. The affair was soon over, the nature of the ground afforded every facility for the escape of the enemy who taking advantage of the cover at hand soon evaded us, leaving 12 of their number dead on the path, besides those in the Nullah and long grass. It is impossible to say how many escaped wounded into the adjacent jungle. The enemy's Infantry alone suffered, the mounted portion of this Force Sowars dressed in red Ulkaluks were in advance and made off at the outset. I followed as soon as we had defeated the former and pursued the latter for several miles, further to a range of high hills up a ghat of which they had ascended. A reference here to Lieutenant Henchy's watch warned me that I had but time to get back to the road before dark, and having no guide I deemed it advisable to discontinue the pursuit and return. The Cavalry reached the village of Dawan Mikra at 5 o'clock P. M., the Infantry some time later.

No description of mine can convey a just idea of the difficulties surmounted by the Cavalry and Infantry in the pursuit and rocky ravines through which there was no path, at first sight appeared to present impassable ravines to further progress, but as it was evident that the enemy's horse had scrampled through, the Hyderabad Cavalry essayed and succeeded in doing so too. The banks of the rivers and nullahs were covered with high reeds through which horse and foot had to force a way with an exertion which added considerably to the fatigue of a long day's work, which was so cheerfully and zealously accomplished by the five fellows I had the honor to command. From the distance traversed in pursuit of the enemy without coming across animals laden with kit or supplies, I am led to conclude that the report regarding the enemy being so well provided with provisions is much exaggerated.

I beg to bring to the notice of Brigadier Hill, the gallantry and dash shown by my Orderly Trooper Shaik Hyder, who I saw spear two of the enemy at the commencement of the attack, Ressaidar Mahomed Shah came well to the front and showed great bravery and zeal throughout. Lieutenant Henchy brought to my notice the conduct of Lance Naique Seewoo Buksh who exhibited great courage and set an excellent example to the men.

I beg also to mention that I received every support from Lieutenant Henchy.

The enemy's Force as far as I could judge was composed of Williaties and Purdasees.

No. 627 of 1859.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following letter from the Officiating Adjutant General of the Army, No. 131, dated 17th April 1859, with its enclosed Report of an engagement with the Rebels by a detachment of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry under Captain Millett :—

No. 131.

FROM THE OFFG. ADJT. GENERAL OF THE ARMY,
TO THE SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,
Military Department.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward, for the information of His Excellency the Governor General in Council, a Report dated 4th instant, No. 76, from Major R. A. Ramsay, Commanding the Kumaon Battalion, of his having relieved the Thanna of Chowradee, and enclosing a letter from Captain H. L. Millett, of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry, describing an affair with the enemy in which the Detachment under his Command, consisting of a Squadron 1st Punjaub Cavalry and detail of Oude Mounted Military Police, behaved with much spirit.

2. Lord Clyde begs to recommend Duffadar Sufdur Khan and Lance Duffadar Kummeroodeen Khan, of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry, for the 3rd Class Order of Merit, for their gallantry in this affair.

HEAD QUARTERS;
Camp Bootana,
The 17th April 1859.

FROM CAPTAIN HUGH LEY MILLETT,
Comdg. Detachment, 1st Punjaub Cavalry,

TO LIEUTENANT A. B. TEMPLE,
Staff Officer, with Major Ramsay's Force.
Camp Mustra, 4th April 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report for the information of Major Ramsay, Commanding, that agreeably to instructions I received from you, I proceeded yesterday in advance of the Kumaon Battalion with Detachments 1st Punjaub Cavalry and Oude Military Police (as per margin) at a sharp pace to endeavour to intercept a body of Rebels (reported to be 500 Cavalry and 1500 Infantry) who had left the jungle at the foot of the hills, and were threatening (and as was afterwards ascertained by me, had attacked) the Thannah of Chowradee.

1st Punjaub Cavalry.
2 European Officers.
108 Sabres.
Oude Military Police.
1 European Officer.
22 Sabres.

On arriving within 3 or 4 miles of the Thannah, my advanced skirmishers suddenly came upon a body of the Rebel Cavalry (their outlying picquet) to whom we immediately gave chase. They, and an Infantry picquet which joined them, retiring as precipitately as possible on their main body in the vicinity of the jungle. The skirmishers under Duffadar Sufdur Khan, 2nd Troop, 1st Punjaub Cavalry, closed in and charged them in the most gallant manner. The odds being about 7 to 1. The gallantry of Duffadar Sufdur Khan, and Lance Duffadar Kummeroodeen Khan, 2nd Troop, 1st Punjaub Cavalry, was most conspicuous. I myself saw them engage four men (Cavalry); all of whom they killed, but I regret that Lance Duffadar Kummeroodeen Khan received a severe sabre wound on his left temple, and had it not been for the gallantry displayed by Duffadar Sufdur Khan, he would have been killed.

Fourteen of the enemy were left dead on the field, and the Detachment had four men and four horses wounded (as per accompanying Return)

I continued the pursuit at the gallop until brought up suddenly by a nuddee with very steep banks. Being now close on the main body of the Rebels, who held a position on the opposite bank, we sustained for a short time a very heavy fire from musketry and rifles. My advance being thus checked, I retired with a view of drawing the enemy out into the open country, where I could again charge them with effect. In this I was disappointed, as they clung to the jungle. Being unable to act further, I immediately despatched a request that the Infantry might be brought up as quickly as possible, to dislodge them.

My thanks are due to Lieutenant A. F. Danvers, 1st Punjaub Cavalry, who accompanied the Detachment and showed his usual zeal, and also to Lieutenant W. L. P. Drummond, of the Oude Military Police, for the able assistance rendered by himself and his men. One of whom slew four of the enemy with his own hand.

The Thannah of Chowradee held its own against the Rebels and the Sikh Police who fought from within its walls, killed thirteen of the enemy.

I regret to add that owing to the severity of the pace maintained throughout, two Horses of my Detachment died from exhaustion, and a few were lamed.

Enclosed, I beg to forward a Numerical Casualty of Return of the Detachment under my Command.

No. 76.

FROM MAJOR R. A. RAMSAY,
Comdg. Kumaon Battalion and Detachment,

TO THE MAJOR OF BRIGADE,
Field Force Trans Gogra.

Dated Camp Musha, 11 A. M., 4th April 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report for the information of Brigadier Horsford, C. B., Commanding Trans Gogra, that yesterday at 11 A. M., while changing Camp from the village Chunderpoor to the Thanna of Musha where the Police were located, a distance of two miles, Lieutenant Drummond, Commanding the Military Police, acquainted me that the Rebels in force had attacked the Thanna of Chouridee, some twelve miles Eastward, and requested me to march at once to its relief.

At 12 o'Clock I moved out with the Detachment under my command, strength as per margin, and when about five miles on my road, I directed Captain Millett, Commanding Squadron 1st Punjaub Cavalry, to proceed in advance of the Infantry accompanied by Lieutenant Drummond, who with a small party of his own Sowars volunteered his services five miles further on. I received a note from Captain Millett informing me that he had engaged a body of the Rebels computed at 1500 Infantry and 500 Cavalry on the border of the belt of tree jungle skirting the foot of the hills, and driven them into the forest. I pushed on rapidly to join him, and on reaching the spot, I found the Rebels had retired into a dense jungle intersected with deep ravines. It being late in the afternoon, and Lieutenant Drummond having reported the enemy's Cavalry had been seen to take the direction of our Camp at the Thanna of Musha, and it was imperative for me to detach my Cavalry to the aid of the Thanna of Chouridee, I determined to return with the Infantry to the support of my own position, Captain Millett and Lieutenant Drummond proceeding on to the post threatened.

Total ...	691

I have the honor to enclose Captain Millett's Report.

In conclusion, I beg respectfully to bring prominently to the favorable notice of Brigadier Horsford, C. B., the gallant and dashing conduct of Captain Millett and his Squadron, in having attacked and routed an enemy so far superior in strength to his own Detachment.

My Detachment returned into Camp at 8 P. M. fatigued, having marched twenty miles under a burning sun.

List of Casualties enclosed.

No. 118.

FROM BRIGADIER W. HILL,
Commanding Hyderabad Contingent,

TO THE MILITARY SECRETARY TO THE RESIDENT,
Hyderabad.

Head Quarters, Hyderabad Contingent,
Bolarum, 9th April 1859

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to forward a letter received from Captain Cadell, Commanding B. Troop Madras Horse Artillery, soliciting permission to correct an omission which was inadvertently made when writing his Report of the part taken by the Horse Artillery in the action at Chichumba, in which the name of Captain Swete has unfortunately not been inserted.

As I can bear testimony to the gallantry and endurance of Captain Swete on the occasion of his fighting his Guns when wounded; I hope that this circumstance may meet with a favorable recognition of the Government by the insertion in the Gazette of Captain Cadell's letter, which I now forward for submission to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India for His Lordship's consideration.

I have, &c.,

FROM CAPTAIN CADELL,
Commanding B. Troop M. H. Artillery,

TO CAPTAIN HOSEASON,
Brigade Major,
Late Berar Field Force.

Jaulnah, 4th April 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to represent for the information of Brigadier Hill, lately Commanding the Berar Field Force, that on seeing the publication in a Bombay paper of the Chichumba Despatches, it occurred to me I had inadvertently omitted in the Report I sent in of the operations of the Detachment under my Command on the 15th January last, to mention the efficient assistance I received from Second Captain Swete who was the only Officer present for duty with my Troop, and I respectfully request if the Brigadier will allow of the correction being made at this late date, that an addition may be made to my Report to the effect that—"I beg to mention "favorably the conduct of Second Captain Swete, the "only Officer available for duty with my Troop, who "gave me every assistance, and although he received "a wound in his thigh from a matchlock ball, he "remained at his post till the operations of the day "ceased. The conduct of the Non-Commissioned "Officers and Men of my Troop was all that I could "wish." I regret much that it should have been necessary for me to trouble the Brigadier with my request to repair the omission I made, but trust it may meet with his favorable consideration.

I have, &c.,

No. 257.

Notice.

Tenders for the transportation of Salt from the Central and Southern Agencies of Orissa, to the Government Golahs at Sulkea, will be received at this Office until 2 P. M., of the 17th of May next.

2. The Tenders must be drawn up according to a form which may be obtained on application at this Office.

3. Distinct contracts must be entered into for the removal of the Salt in each of the three following localities, to wit, Hunsoah (in Central Cuttack) and the Ustrung Aurungs and the Chilka Lake Aurungs, in the Southern or Poorce Agency.

4. Parties tendering must satisfy the Board of Revenue and the Commissioner of Cuttack, that they possess the means of conveying the full quantity of Salt tendered for, and with this object a list of the vessels intended to be employed must accompany each Tender.

5. The quantity of Salt to be shipped at the Hunsoah Golahs will probably not exceed 1,00,000 maunds in each year; that from the Ustrungs is roughly estimated at 80,000 maunds for the ensuing season, and that from the Chilka Aurungs at maunds 3,20,000. The tenderer may apply for the whole quantity for which freight is required at each locality, or for any part not less than a quarter of such quantity.

6. Contractors must engage to ship the Salt allotted to them, during the period between the last spring tides of October and the end of February.

7. Parties whose tenders are accepted will be required to make a deposit of Government Promissory Notes, or to furnish other unexceptionable Security for the performance of their contracts.

8. The Board reserve to themselves the right of rejecting any Tender without assigning a reason.

By order of the Board of Revenue,

Notification.

Fort William, Civil Auditor's Office, the 20th April 1859.

To the Officers of the Political, Judicial, Revenue, Customs, Salt, Opium, and other branches of Service.

The Civil Auditor has the honor to request that Disbursing Officers, in charge of Civil Establishments, will be good enough to submit, as soon after 1st of May next as may be practicable, separate from their April Pay Abstracts, the Annual Detailed Statements of the respective Establishments as per Forms Nos. 1, 2, and 3, furnished for their guidance in 1848, annexing a note to each of the above Statements showing the items of expenditure which, though sanctioned, have not been actually incurred with reference to Financial Resolution of 29th October 1857, No. 4751. Pending the receipt of these documents, the audit of their April Abstracts will, under Financial Resolution of 7th September 1842, be withheld.

The usual Annual Returns of Uncovenanted Servants up to May 1859, as well as separate Statements showing the periods of leave granted to Uncovenanted Assistants, are also requested to be furnished in Forms Nos. 4 and 5, with the above Annual Detailed Statements.

W. P. PALMER,
Civil Auditor.

Notification.

THE Civil Auditor, North-Western Provinces, has the honor to repeat his annual call to all Disbursing Officers in charge of Civil Establishments in the North-Western Provinces, for the submission (as soon after the 1st May next, as practicable, with the April Abstract) of their regular Annual Detailed Statement, containing the names and full particulars of the whole of the Establishment; and to observe that, with reference to the orders of Government, dated 15th October 1842, published in the Agra Government Gazette, of the 15th November 1842, the audit of their Abstracts for April next will be withheld until the receipt of the required Returns.

2. To facilitate check, it is particularly requested that the Abstract for April be sub-divided into distinct headings, so that each description of Office with its total shall correspond with the details given in the Statement of Establishment or the 1st May, agreeably to the Form furnished.

3. It is also requested that the three separate Lists prescribed for all Uncovenanted Civil Servants (Europeans and East Indians) and Native, (in the last the names of only those holding appointments of trust and responsibility should be inserted,) employed on their Establishments, be furnished for 1st May 1859, without delay.

H. LOCH,
Offg. Civil Auditor.

Notification.

WITH the sanction of the Governor General of India in Council, it is hereby declared that the Port of Rangoon, and the Navigable River and Channels leading to that Port, are subject to Act XXII. of 1855.

The limits of the said Port of Rangoon are as follows:—

To the West.—A Line drawn South-West from the boundary pillar at Kemmendine across the Rangoon River, to the boundary pillar on the opposite bank at the entrance of the Panlang Creek.

To the South-East.—A Line drawn East from King's Point on the Dallah side of the Rangoon River, to the boundary pillar on the Syriam side.

To the North-East.—A Line running North-West and South-East drawn from the boundary pillar on the Rangoon or West side of the Pegu Rivers to a boundary pillar on the Syriam or East side, so much of Puzzomdoung Creek as lies South of a Line drawn from a pillar on the East above Kyeezeik Village to a pillar opposite to the West bank of the Creek.

The limits of the said Port include to the North and South, so much of the Rangoon River and of the Shores thereof, and so much of the Puzzomdoung Creek, and the Shores thereof as are within fifty yards of high-water mark spring tides.

The limits of the Navigable River and Channels leading to the said Port, made subject to the said Act, are as follows:—

To the North.—The Port of Rangoon as above defined.

To the South.—A Line drawn East and West from the Light Ship.

All Ports of the Rangoon River between the said limits and below high-water line at spring tides are subject to the said Act.

PORT RULES.

I. No vessel, if above 200 tons, shall enter within the limits of the Port of Rangoon, or move from one place to another within the Port, between sun-set and sun-rise, without the special permission of the Master Attendant.

II. The Commanders of all vessels arriving at the Port of Rangoon are desired to enter correctly in the Columns of the Report Book of the Master Attendant, as soon as presented to them, the information therein required, regarding their vessels. They will also report in writing to the Master Attendant twenty-four hours before their departure the particulars noted in the forms appended hereto.

III. All Commanders of vessels arriving at Rangoon shall anchor in such a position as the Master Attendant or his Assistant shall direct. All vessels above 100 tons' burthen shall moor with two bower anchors and 30 fathoms of cable each way, and shall not move from their position without a Pilot, except with the express permission of the same authority.

IV. All Commanders of vessels shall have their jib and driver booms rigged in, when required by the Master Attendant, and shall strike their yard and masts if required so to do by, or by order of the same Officer.

V. Every ship or vessel within the Port of Rangoon shall have removed any anchor or spar or other substance projecting from her side, when so required by the Master Attendant, or other Officer of the Port.

VI. The Commanders of all vessels entering the Port of Rangoon, with ballast on board, shall without delay send to the Master Attendant a report in writing, stating the description of ballast on board, the quantity in tons, and the port of shipment; application must be made by the Commander to the Master Attendant for permission to tranship or land ballast, and no ballast shall be transhipped or landed except under the sanction of the Master Attendant and only at such Stations as he shall direct.

VII. A free channel of 240 yards which is to be kept for ships moving up or down the River within the Port, and also free passages to Piers, Jetties, Landing places, Wharves, Quays, Docks and Moorings, and all vessels shall be bound to move when required to clear such channels or passages.

VIII. All vessels within the Port of Rangoon shall be moored or warped from place to place as required by the Master Attendant, or other Officer of the Port, and no vessels shall cast off a warp that has been made fast to her to assist a vessel in mooring without being required to do so by the Pilot or Officer in charge of the vessel mooring.

IX. No vessels within the limits of the Port of Rangoon shall boil any pitch or dammer on board, or shall draw off spirits by candle or other artificial lights.

X. All vessels within the limits of the Channels leading to the Port of Rangoon shall when at anchor, between sun-set and sun-rise, have a good light hoisted at the starboard fore-yard arm; and all vessels under weigh at night shall show a good light at the fore-royal or upper foremast head, and when under weigh in tow of a steamer shall in addition to the masthead light, show a good light at each fore-yard arm; the steamer showing the usual light prescribed by the Admiralty Regulations.

XI. No vessel shall use any of the Government chain moorings, whether fixed or swinging, without permission of the Master Attendant.

XII. All vessels occupying Government mooring fixed or swinging, shall be liable to pay for the same, according to the following scale and no more:—

	From 1st November to 30th May, being seven months. Per Diem, Rs.	From 1st June to 31st October, being five months. Per Diem, Rs.

Legislative Council of India.

THE 30TH APRIL 1859.

THE following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Honorable the Governor General on the 30th April 1859, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. IX OF 1859.

An Act to provide for the adjudication of claims to property seized as forfeited.

Preamble.

Courts of Special Commission to be established.

I. It shall be lawful for the Executive Governments of the Lower and North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Bengal, to establish within any part of the Territories subject to their respective Governments, Courts of Special Commission for the trial and determination of claims to property seized as forfeited, and to assign, from time to time, such local jurisdiction to the Courts so established as may appear proper. Provided that no additional expense shall be incurred by the establishment of any such Court without the previous sanction of the Governor General of India in Council.

Proviso.

Court to consist of three Commissioners.

II. Every Court established under this Act shall consist of not less than three Commissioners who shall sit together for the trial and determination of claims; but any one or more of them shall have power to make all such orders as may be necessary for preparing the cases that may be instituted for trial and decision.

Notification of establishment of Court in any District.

III. Whenever any Court shall be established under the provisions of this Act, with jurisdiction in any district or districts, notice thereof shall be given by a written proclamation, of which copies shall be affixed in the several Courts and in the Offices of the several Collectors and Magistrates of such district or districts; and the powers heretofore vested in the Courts of such district or districts in respect of all cases cognizable by the Courts established under this Act, shall be suspended until such Courts shall be informed, by an order under the signature of the Secretary to Government, that the local jurisdiction of such Court of Special Commission has ceased, of which notice shall be given by proclamation in the manner aforesaid.

Transfer of pending suits.

IV. Any case pending before any Court sitting as a Court of original jurisdiction at the time of the passing of this Act, in respect of a matter made cognizable by Courts established under its provisions, shall be transferred to the Court of Special Commission, within the limits of whose jurisdiction the property in dispute is situate, and such Court shall summon the defendant and proceed to dispose of the case in the same manner as if it had been instituted before it.

Court where to be held.

V. The Courts established under this Act shall be held at such place within the limits of their respective jurisdiction, as shall from time to time be appointed by the local Government.

Form of plaint.

VI. The plaint in suits instituted under this Act shall be written on the stamp paper prescribed for petitions of plaint in regular suits, and shall contain the following particulars, namely,

The name, description, and place of abode of the plaintiff, the relief sought for, the subject of the claim, and the cause of action ; and if the suit be brought against a defendant other than the Government or some Officer on the part of Government, the name, description, and place of abode of such defendant.

Verification of plaint.

VII. The plaint shall be verified in the manner prescribed for the verification of plaints in Section XXVII. Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) ; and if the plaint contain any averment which the person making the verification shall know or believe to be false, or shall not know or believe to be true, such person shall be subject to punishment according to the provisions of the law for the time being in force for the punishment of giving or fabricating false evidence.

Punishment for false averment in plaint.

Presentation of plaint.

VIII. The plaint may be presented by the plaintiff in person or by his duly constituted representative, either in the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in the district in which the property or any part of the property in dispute is situate, or in the Court of Special Commission having jurisdiction over the claim under this Act. If the plaint be not presented in the Court of Special Commission, it shall be forwarded to such Court without delay.

Procedure before hearing of suit.

IX. The Court shall fix a day for the appearance of the parties and for the hearing of the suit, of which due notice shall be given to the parties or their representatives, and on the day so fixed the parties shall bring their witnesses into Court, together with any documents on which they may intend to rely in support of their respective statements. If either party require the assistance of the Court to procure the attendance of a witness on such day, he shall apply to the Court in sufficient time before the day fixed for the hearing of the suit, and the Court shall issue a subpœna requiring such witness to attend the Court on that day. It shall be competent to the Court to require the personal attendance of the plaintiff on the day fixed for the hearing of the suit or at any subsequent stage.

Procedure on hearing.

X. On the day fixed for the hearing of the suit or as soon after as may be practicable, the Court shall proceed to examine the plaintiff or his representative (when his personal attendance is not required) and the witnesses of the parties, and upon such examination and after inspecting the documents of the parties and making any further enquiry that may appear necessary, shall proceed to pass such order in the case in respect both to the claim and to the costs of suit as it may consider just and proper.

Examination, &c., of witnesses.

XI. It shall not be necessary to take down the depositions of the witnesses in writing at length ; but the Court, as the examination of each witness proceeds, shall reduce into writing the substance of what such witness deposes, and the deposition so taken shall form part of the record. In all other respects the provisions of the Regulations and Acts for procuring the attendance of witnesses and for the examination, remuneration, and punishment of witnesses in suits before the Civil Courts, shall be of equal force and effect in cases tried under this Act.

Decisions.

XII. The rules contained in Act XII of 1843 (concerning the time at which and the language in which the decisions of the Judges in the Courts of the East India Company are to be written) shall be applicable to decisions passed under this Act.

No appeal.

XIII. No appeal shall lie from any decision passed under this Act, nor shall any such decision be open to revision.

Execution of decrees.

XIV. The decrees of the Courts of Special Commission established under this Act shall be enforced by the Civil Courts of the district in which the property in dispute is situate, under the rules applicable to the execution of decrees passed by those Courts.

Records of cases where to be deposited.

XV. The records of cases disposed of by Courts established under this Act shall be deposited amongst the records of the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in the district in which the property in dispute is situate.

Validity of convictions of offences involving forfeiture of property not to be questioned by any Court.

XVI. Whenever any person shall have been convicted of an offence for which his property was forfeited to Government, no Court has power in any suit or proceeding relating to such property, to question the validity of the conviction.

Validity of conviction not to be questioned because the record does not show in what capacity the convicting Officer acted.

XVII. Whenever any person shall have been convicted as above by an Officer having power to try and convict, the validity of any such conviction shall not be questioned upon the ground that the record of the conviction does not show in what capacity such Officer acted, or that it represents him to have acted in a different capacity from that in which he had power to convict.

Property attached without adjudication of forfeiture.

XVIII. Whenever any property shall have been attached or seized without either conviction or an adjudication of forfeiture by any Officer of Government as property forfeited or liable to be forfeited to Government for an offence for which upon conviction the property of the offender would be forfeited, the validity of such attachment or seizure shall not be called in question by any Court or other authority in any suit or proceeding, unless

Validity of such attachment not to be questioned unless offender surrender within one year and be acquitted, &c.

the offender or alleged offender shall, within one year after the seizure of his property, have surrendered himself for trial and upon trial before a competent Court shall have been or shall be acquitted of the offence and shall prove to the satisfaction of the Court that he did not escape or keep out of the way for the purpose of evading justice. Nothing in this Section shall extend to persons entitled to pardon under Her Majesty's proclamation published in the Calcutta Gazette Extraordinary dated the 1st

Proviso.

November 1858, or to any person who, having surrendered himself within the period of one year after the seizure of his property, shall be discharged by order of Government without a prosecution.

Release of property attached as forfeited.

XIX. No Judge or other person acting as Commissioner under the provisions of Acts XIV and XVI of 1857 has power to release property attached or seized as forfeited or as liable to be forfeited to Government except under the provisions of Section VIII Act XXV of 1857, when the offender or alleged offender shall have surrendered himself for trial and shall be tried and acquitted by such Judge or Commissioner, and shall prove that he did not escape or keep out of the way for the purpose of evading justice; and any order passed by any such Judge or Commissioner for the release of any property attached or seized as forfeited or liable to be forfeited to Government, except upon the acquittal before him of the person accused, and upon proof that he did not escape or keep out of the way for the purpose of evading justice, is hereby declared null and void.

Act not affect the rights of parties not charged with an offence punishable by forfeiture of property.

XX. Nothing in this Act shall be held to affect the rights of parties not charged with any offence for which upon conviction the property of the offender is forfeited, in respect of any property attached or seized as forfeited or liable to be forfeited to Government; provided that no suit brought by any party in respect of such property shall be entertained unless it be instituted within the period of one year from the date of the attachment or seizure of the property to which the suit relates.

Proviso.

W. MORGAN,

Clerk of the Council.

THE 30TH APRIL 1859.

THE following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Honorable the Governor General on the 29th April 1859, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. X OF 1859.

An Act to amend the law relating to the recovery of Rent in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to re-enact with certain modifications the provisions of the existing law relative to the rights of ryots with respect to the delivery of pottahs and the occupancy of land, to the prevention of illegal exaction and extortion in connection with demands of rent, and to other questions connected with the same; to extend the jurisdiction of Collectors, and to prescribe rules for the trial of such questions, as well as of suits for the recovery of arrears of rent, and of suits arising out of the distraint of property for such arrears; and to amend the law relating to distraint; It is enacted as follows:—

Laws repealed.

I. The following Regulations and Acts and portions of Regulations and Acts are hereby repealed, except in so far as they repeal any other Regulation or Act, and except as to proceedings commenced before the date of this Act coming into force, namely—

Act VIII of 1848 (to modify the provisions of Sections IX, X, XI, and XIII of Regulation V. 1812 of the Bengal Code).

Sections XIV and XV Regulation IX. 1833 (for the more speedy decision of certain suits, and for enforcing the production of village accounts,) so far as the same are applicable to the territories under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, are also repealed.

Such parts of Regulation VIII. 1793 (prescribing rules for the decennial settlement of the public Revenue in Bengal, Behar, and Orissa), and Regulation XXX. 1803, as relate to the adjudication of penalties for the refusal of pottahs and receipts for rent and for the exaction of any sums as abwab or in excess of the amount specified in any engagements for the payment of rent, and such parts of Section XXVI Act I of 1845 (to amend Act No. XII of 1841, entitled "an Act for amending the Bengal Code in regard to sales of land for arrears of Revenue)", as relate to the enhancement of rents and the ejectment of tenants by the purchaser of an estate sold for arrears of Government Revenue, are declared subject to the following modifications.

Ryot entitled to a pottah.

II. Every ryot is entitled to receive from the person to whom the rent of the land held or cultivated by him is payable, a pottah containing the following particulars:

The quantity of land; and where fields have been numbered in a Government survey, the number of each field.

The amount of annual rent.

The instalments in which the same is to be paid.

And any special conditions of the lease.

If the rent is payable in kind, the proportion of produce to be delivered, and the time and manner of delivery.

Ryots holding land at fixed rates to receive pottahs.

III. Ryots who, in the Provinces of Bengal, Behar, Orissa, and Benares, hold lands at fixed rates of rent, which have not been changed from the time of the permanent settlement, are entitled to receive pottahs at those rates.

If rent of land be not changed for 20 years.

IV. Whenever, in any suit under this Act, it shall be proved that the rent at which land is held by a ryot in the said Provinces, has not been changed for a period of twenty years before the commencement of the suit, it shall be presumed that the land has been held at that rent from the time of the permanent settlement, unless the contrary be shown, or unless it be proved that such rent was fixed at some later period.

Ryots having right of occupancy but not holding at fixed rates, to receive pottahs.

V. Ryots having rights of occupancy, but not holding at fixed rates, as described in the two preceding Sections, are entitled to receive pottahs at fair and equitable rates. In case of dispute, the rate previously paid by the ryot shall be deemed to be fair and equitable, unless the contrary be shown in a suit by either party under the provisions of this Act.

Right of occupancy of ryot cultivating or holding land for 12 years

VI. Every ryot who has cultivated or held land for a period of twelve years has a right of occupancy in the land so cultivated or held by him, whether it be held under pottah or not, so long as he pays the rent payable on account of the same; but this rule does not apply to khomar, neejjote, or seer land belonging to the proprietor of the estate or tenure and let by him on lease for a term or year by year, nor (as respects the actual cultivator) to lands sublet for a term or year by year by a ryot having a right of occupancy. The holding of the father, or other person from whom a ryot inherits, shall be deemed to be the holding of the ryot within the meaning of this Section.

Saving of terms of written contracts.

VII. Nothing contained in the last preceding Section shall be held to affect the terms of any written contract for the cultivation of land entered into between a landholder and a ryot when it contains any express stipulation contrary thereto.

Pottahs to which ryots not having rights of occupancy are entitled.

VIII. Ryots not having rights of occupancy are entitled to pottahs only at such rates as may be agreed on between them and the persons to whom the rent is payable.

Person granting pottah entitled to a counterpart engagement.

IX. Every person who grants a pottah is entitled to receive from the person to whom the pottah is granted a kubooliyet or counterpart engagement in conformity with the terms of the pottah. The tender to any ryot of a pottah such as the ryot is entitled to receive shall be held to entitle the person to whom the rent is payable to receive a kubooliyet from such ryot.

Exactions in excess of rent or receipt withheld.

X. Every under-tenant or ryot, from whom any sum is exacted in excess of the rent specified in his pottah, or payable under the provisions of this Act, whether as abwab or under any other pretext, and every under-tenant, ryot, or cultivator from whom a receipt is withheld for any sum of money paid by him as rent, shall be entitled to recover from the person receiving such rent damages not exceeding double the amount so exacted or paid.

Form of receipt.

Receipts for rent shall specify the year or years on account of which the rent is acknowledged to have been paid; and any refusal to make such specification shall be held to be a withholding of a receipt.

Landholder not to compel the attendance of tenant for adjustment of rent or for any other purpose.

XI. The power heretofore vested in Zemindars and other landholders of compelling the attendance of their tenants for the adjustment of their rents or for any other purpose is withdrawn, and all such persons are prohibited from adopting any means of compulsion for enforcing payment of the rents due to them other than are authorized by the provisions of this Act.

Payment of rent to be enforced only under this Act.

Damages for extorting payment of rent by duress.

XII. If payment of rent, whether the same be legally due or not, is extorted from any under-tenant or ryot by illegal confinement or other duress, such under-tenant or ryot shall be entitled to recover such damages, not exceeding in any case the sum of two hundred Rupees, as may be deemed a reasonable compensation for the injury done him by such extortion.

An award of compensation under this Section shall not bar or affect any penalty or punishment to which the person practising such extortion may be subject by law.

Enhancement of rent of ryot holding without, or after expiry &c. of written engagement.

XIII. No under-tenant or ryot, who holds or cultivates land without a written engagement not specifying the period of such engagement, or whose engagement has expired, or has become cancelled in consequence of the sale for arrears of rent or revenue of the tenure or estate in which the land held cultivated by him is situate, and has not been renewed, shall be liable to pay any higher rent for such land than the rent payable for the previous year, unless a written notice shall have been served on such under-tenant or ryot, in or before the month of Cheit, specifying the rent to which he will be subject for the ensuing year, and the ground on which an enhancement of rent is claimed. Such notice shall be served by order of the Collector on the application (which may be on plain paper) of the person to whom the rent is payable, and shall, if practicable, be served personally on the under-tenant or ryot. If for any reason the notice cannot be served personally upon the under-tenant or ryot, it shall be affixed at his usual place of residence, or if he have no such place of residence in the District in which the land is situate, the mode of service of such notice shall be by affixing it at the Mal cutcherry of such land or other conspicuous place thereon, or at the village Chowree or Chowpal or at some other conspicuous place in the village in which the land is situate.

Mode of contesting enhancement of rent.

XIV. Any under-tenant or ryot, on whom such notice as aforesaid has been served, may contest his liability to pay the enhanced rent demanded of him, either by complaint of excessive demand of rent as hereinafter provided, or in answer to any suit preferred against him for recovery of arrears of the enhanced rent.

Dependent talookdar &c. holding land at fixed rent without change since permanent settlement not liable to enhancement of rent.

XV. No dependent talookdar or other person possessing a permanent transferable interest in land, intermediate between the proprietor of an estate and the ryots, who, in the Provinces of Bengal, Behar, Orissa, and Benares, holds his talook or tenure (otherwise than under a terminable lease) at a fixed rent, which has not been changed from the time of the permanent settlement, shall be liable to any enhancement of such rent, anything in Section LI Regulation VIII. 1793, or in any other law, to the contrary notwithstanding.

Rent of talookdar &c., not changed for twenty years to be prima facie evidence of occupancy at that rent since permanent settlement.

XVI. Whenever, in any suit under this Act, it shall be proved that the rent at which a talook or other tenure is held in the said Provinces has not been changed for a period of twenty years before the commencement of the suit, it shall be presumed that such talook or tenure has been held at that rent from the time of the permanent settlement, unless the contrary be shown, or it be proved that such rent was fixed at some later period.

Grounds on which ryot having right of occupancy is liable to enhanced rent.

XVII. No ryot having a right of occupancy shall be liable to an enhancement of the rent previously paid by him except on some one of the following grounds, namely :—

That the rate paid by him is below that prevailing in adjacent places.

That the rate of rent paid by such ryot is below the prevailing rate payable by the same class of ryots for land of a similar description and with similar advantages in the places adjacent.

That the value of the land &c. has increased independently of the ryot.

That the value of the produce or the productive powers of the land have been increased otherwise than by the agency or at the expense of the ryot.

That the quantity of land held by the ryot is greater than he has paid rent for.

That the quantity of land held by the ryot has been proved by measurement to be greater than the quantity for which rent has been previously paid by him.

When ryot may claim abatement of rent.

XVIII. Every ryot having a right of occupancy shall be entitled to claim an abatement of the rent previously paid by him, if the area of the land has been diminished by diluvion or otherwise, or if the value of the produce or the productive powers of the land have been decreased by any cause beyond the power of the ryot, or if the quantity of land held by the ryot has been proved by measurement to be less than the quantity for which rent has been previously paid by him.

Relinquishment of land by ryot after notice given.

XIX. Any ryot who desires to relinquish the land held or cultivated by him, shall be at liberty to do so, provided he gives notice of his intention in writing to the person entitled to the rent of the land or his authorized agent in or before the month of Cheit of the year preceding that in which the relinquishment is to have effect. If he fail to give such notice, and the land is not let to any other person, he shall continue liable for the rent of the land. If the person entitled to the rent of the land or his agent refuse to receive any such notice and to sign a receipt for the same, the ryot may make an application on plain paper to the Collector who shall thereupon cause the notice to be served on such person or his agent in the manner provided in Section XIII.

What to be deemed an arrear of rent under this Act.

XX. Any instalment of rent which is not paid on or before the day when the same is payable according to the pottah or engagement, or, if there be no written specification of the time of payment, at or before the time when such instalment is payable according to established usage, shall be held to be an arrear of rent under this Act, and unless otherwise provided by written agreement, shall be liable to interest at twelve per centum per annum.

Liability of ryot to be ejected for arrear due.

XXI. When an arrear of rent remains due from any ryot at the end of the Bengal year or at the end of the month of Jeth of the Fusly or Willayutee year as the case may be, such ryot shall be liable to be ejected from the land in respect of which the arrear is due.

Proviso.

Provided that no ryot, having a right of occupancy or holding under a pottah the term of which has not expired, shall be ejected otherwise than in execution of a decree or order under the provisions of this Act.

Liability of farmer to have his lease cancelled for arrear adjudged due.

XXII. When an arrear of rent shall be adjudged to be due from any farmer or other lease-holder not having a permanent or transferable interest in the land, the lease of such lease-holder shall be liable to be cancelled, and the lease-holder to be ejected. Provided that no such lease shall be cancelled nor the lease-holder ejected otherwise than in execution of a decree or order under the provisions of this Act.

Proviso.

Cognizance of suits under this Act.

XXIII. 1. All suits for the delivery of pottahs or kubooliyets or for the determination of the rates of rent at which such pottahs or kubooliyets are to be delivered;

2. All suits for damages on account of the illegal exaction of rent or of any unauthorized cess or impost, or on account of the refusal of receipts for rent paid, or on account of the extortion of rent by confinement or other duress;

3. All complaints of excessive demand of rent, and all claims to abatement of rent;

4. All suits for arrears of rent due on account of land either kherajee or lakheraj, or on account of any rights of pasturage, forest-rights, fisheries, or the like;

5. All suits to eject any ryot or to cancel any lease on account of the non-payment of arrears of rent, or on account of a breach of the conditions of any contract by which a ryot may be liable to ejectment or a lease may be liable to be cancelled;

6. All suits to recover the occupancy or possession of any land, farm, or tenure, from which a ryot, farmer, or tenant has been illegally ejected by the person entitled to receive rent for the same;

7. All suits arising out of the exercise of the power of distraint conferred on Zemindars and others by Sections CXII and CXIV of this Act, or out of any acts done under color of the exercise of the said power as hereinafter particularly provided;

shall be cognizable by the Collectors of land revenue and shall be instituted and tried under the provisions of this Act and, except in the way of appeal as provided in this Act, shall not be cognizable in any other Court or by any other Officer or in any other manner.

Suits by Zemindars against their agents for money or accounts.

XXIV. Suits by Zemindars and others in receipt of the rent of land, against any agents employed by them in the management of land or collection of rents, or the sureties of such agents, for money received or accounts kept by such agents in the course of such employment, or for papers in their possession, shall be cognizable by the Collectors, and shall be instituted and tried under the provisions of this Act, and shall not be cognizable in any other Court except in the way of appeal as provided in this Act.

Ejectment of cultivators, farmer, &c. by Zemindars.

XXV. If any Zemindar or other person in receipt of the rent of land requires assistance to eject any cultivator not having a right of occupancy, or to eject any farmer or other tenant holding only for a limited period after the determination of his lease or tenancy, or any agent after the determination of his agency, or to enforce any attachment or ejectment expressly authorized by any Regulation or Act, he shall make application to the Collector, and the Collector shall proceed thereupon to enquire into the case and pass orders in the manner provided for suits under this Act. Provided that no such application for the ejectment of a farmer on the determination of a lease shall be received, if the lease be of the kind denominated ticca zur-i-peshgee or the like, in which an advance has been made by the lease-holder, and the proprietor's right of re-entry at the end of the term is contingent on the re-payment of such advance either in money or by the usufruct of the land. In all such cases the parties must proceed by suit in the Civil Court.

Proviso.

Measurement of lands.

XXVI. When rent is payable by an under-tenant or ryot at a certain rate or rates according to the quantity of land held or cultivated by him, or when any written engagement conditioned for the payment of a certain amount of rent on account of land held or cultivated by an under-tenant or ryot has expired or become cancelled by the sale for arrears of revenue or rent of the estate or tenure in which the land is situate, the person to whom the rent is payable has a right to measure such land for the purpose of ascertaining the quantity of land actually held or cultivated by such under-tenant or ryot. And every proprietor of an estate or tenure has a right of making a general survey or measurement of the lands comprised in such estate or tenure unless restrained from doing so by express engagement with the occupants of the lands. If any person intending to measure any land which he has a right to measure is opposed in making such measurement by the occupant of the land, or if any under-tenant or ryot, having received notice of the intended measurement of land held or cultivated by him which is liable to such measurement, refuses to attend and point out such land, such person may make application to the Collector, and the Collector shall thereupon proceed to enquire into the case in the manner provided for suits under this Act, and shall pass an order either allowing or disallowing the measurement, and, if the case so require, enjoining or excusing the attendance of any such under-tenant or ryot. If any under-tenant or ryot after the issue of an order enjoining his attendance neglects to attend, it shall not be competent to him to contest the correctness of the measurement made in his absence.

Registry of transfers of talooks &c.

XXVII. All dependent talookdars and other persons possessing a permanent transferable interest in land intermediate between the Zemindar and the cultivator are required to register, in the Sherishteh of the Zemindar or superior tenant to whom the rents of their talooks or tenures are payable, all transfers of such talooks or tenures, or portions of them, by sale, gift, or otherwise, as well as all successions thereto, and divisions among heirs in cases of inheritance. And every Zemindar or superior tenant is required to admit to registry and otherwise give effect to all such transfers, when made in good faith, and all such successions and divisions. If any Zemindar or superior tenant refuse to admit to registry or otherwise give effect to any such transfer or succession, the transferree or successor may make application to the Collector and the Collector shall thereupon proceed to enquire into the case in the manner provided for suits under this Act, and if no sufficient grounds are shown for the refusal, shall pass an order enjoining the Zemindar or superior tenant to admit to registry and otherwise give effect to such transfer or succession. Provided that no Zemindar or superior tenant shall be required to admit to registry or give effect to any division or distribution of the rent payable on account of any such tenure, nor shall any such division or distribution of rent be valid and binding without the consent in writing of the Zemindar or superior tenant.

Proviso.

XXVIII. So much of Section X Regulation XIX. 1793, Section X Regulation XLI. 1795, Section VI Regulation XXXI. 1803, Section XXI Regulation VIII. 1805, and Section XXIV Regulation XII. 1805, as authorizes and requires proprietors and farmers of estates and dependent talooks, in cases in which grants for holding land exempt from the payment of revenue have been made subsequent to the dates specified in the said Sections, of their own authority to collect the rents of such land and to dispossess the grantees of the proprietary right in the land and to re-annex it to the estate or talook in which it may be situate, is repealed; and any proprietor or farmer who may desire to assess any such land or to dispossess any such grantee shall make application to the Collector, and such application shall be dealt with as a suit under the provisions of this Act. Every such suit shall be instituted within the period of twelve years from the time when the title of the person claiming the right to assess the land or dispossess the grantee, or of some person claiming under him, first accrued. If such period has already elapsed, or will elapse within two years from the date of the passing of this Act, such suit may be brought at any time within two years from such date.

Applications to dispossess grantees of land exempt from revenue.

XXIX. All suits which under the provisions of this Act may be brought by or against Zemindars or other persons in the receipt of the rent of land, may be brought by or against Surburakars or Tuhseeldars of estates held under khas management, whether such estates are the property of Government or of individuals. If the Collector or the Suburnkar or Tuhseeldar of any such estate in the Provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa proceed against any defaulting ryot or under-tenant of such estate under the powers vested in him by Section XXV Regulation VII. 1799, and not according to the provisions of this Act, such ryot or under-tenant may contest the demand on account of which he is so proceeded against by suit in the Civil Court.

Suits by or against Surburakars or Tuhseeldars of estates held khas.

XXX. Except as otherwise herein provided, all suits instituted under this Act shall be commenced within the period of one year from the date of the accruing of the cause of action.

Time for commencement of suits generally.

XXXI. Suits for the delivery of pottahs or kubooliyets and for the determination of the rates of rent at which such pottahs or kubooliyets are to be delivered, may be instituted at any time during the tenancy.

Time for commencement of suits for grant of pottahs, &c,

XXXII. Suits for the recovery of arrears of rent shall be instituted within three years from the last day of the Bengal year, or from the last day of the month of Jeth of the Fusly or Willayuttee year in which the arrear claimed shall have become due. For arrears of rent due at the passing of this Act, suit shall be brought within three years after the passing of this Act; or within the period now allowed for the institution of such suits in the Civil Court, whichever may first expire. Provided that, if the suit be for the recovery of rent at a higher rate than was payable in the previous year, such rent having been enhanced after issue of notice under Section XIII and the enhancement not having been confirmed by any competent Court, the suit shall be instituted within three months from the end of the Bengal year or of the month of Jeth of the Fusly or Willayuttee year, on account of which such enhanced rent is claimed.

Time for the commencement of suits for arrears of rent.

Proviso.

XXXIII. Suits for the recovery of money in the hands of an agent or for the delivery of accounts or papers by an agent, may be brought at any time during the agency, or within one year after the determination of the agency of such agent, or in the case of claims now existing within one year after the passing of this Act or within the period now allowed for the institution of such suits in the Civil Court whichever may first expire. Provided that if the person having the right to sue shall, by means of fraud, have been kept from the knowledge of the receipt of any such money by the agent, or if any fraudulent account shall have been rendered by the agent, the suit may be brought within one year from the time when the fraud shall have been first known to such person; but no such suit shall in any case (except the case of claims now existing as aforesaid) be brought at any time exceeding three years from the termination of the agency.

Time for the commencement of suits against agents for money, papers, or accounts.

Proviso.

XXXIV. Suits under this Act shall be instituted by presenting to the Collector a plaint or statement of claim which shall contain the name, description, and place of abode of the plaintiff; the name, description, and place of abode of the defendant, so far as they can be ascertained; the substance of the claim, and the date of the cause of action.

Mode of instituting suits. Form of plaint or statement of claim.

XXXV. The statement of claim shall be presented by the plaintiff, or by an authorized agent of the plaintiff who has personal knowledge of the facts of the case, or by an agent who shall be accompanied by a person who has such knowledge.

Statement by whom to be presented.

Verification of statement.

XXXVI. The statement of claim shall be subscribed and verified at the foot by the plaintiff or his agent in the manner following, or to the like effect:

I. A. B. do declare that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Punishment for false verification.

If the statement shall contain any averment which the person making the verification shall know or believe to be false, or shall not know or believe to be true, such person shall be subject to punishment according to the law for the time being in force for the punishment of giving or fabricating false evidence.

Statement of claim to be written on stamped paper.

XXXVII. In suits for the recovery of arrears of rent or of money in the hands of an agent, the statement of claim shall be written on paper bearing a stamp of one-fourth the value prescribed for suits instituted in the Civil Court. In all other suits the statement shall be written on paper bearing a stamp of the value of eight annas. No stamp shall be required in respect of the production or filing of any document, or the summoning of any witness, or of any application for the execution of any order or judgment passed in a suit under this Act.

No stamp duty to be required for filing documents &c.

Documentary evidence to be produced by plaintiff.

XXXVIII. If the plaintiff rely in support of his claim on any document in his possession, he shall deliver the same to the Collector at the time of presenting his statement of claim. Unless such document be delivered in, or its non-production be sufficiently excused, or unless the Collector see fit to extend the time for producing the same, it shall not afterwards be admitted.

If plaintiff require production of document from defendant.

XXXIX. If the plaintiff require the production of any document in the possession or power of the defendant, he may at the time of presenting his statement of claim, deliver to the Collector a description of the document in order that the defendant may be required to produce the same.

Form of plaint in suits for arrears of rent.

XL. If the suit be for the recovery of an arrear of rent, the statement shall specify the name of the village and estate, and of the Pergunnah or other local division in which the land is situate; and if the arrear is alleged to be due from any ryot, the quantity of land, and where fields have been numbered in a Government Survey, the number of each field; the yearly rent of the land, the amount (if any) received on account of the year for which the claim is made, the amount in arrear, and the time in respect of which it is alleged to be due.

Form of plaint in suits for ejectment of ryot, &c., or for recovery of occupancy or possession of land, &c.

XLI. If the suit be for the ejectment of a ryot, farmer, or tenant, from any land, farm, or tenure, or for the recovery of the occupancy or possession of any land, farm, or tenure, the statement shall describe (as circumstances may require) the extent, situation, and designation of the same; and if necessary for the identification of the land, shall set forth the boundaries of such land.

Statement may be returned or allowed to be amended.

XLII. If the statement of claim do not contain the several particulars herein before required, to be specified therein, or be not subscribed and verified as hereinbefore required, the Collector may return the statement to the plaintiff, or at his discretion allow it to be amended.

Issue of summons; personal attendance of defendant may be required.

XLIII. If the statement of claim be in proper form, the Collector, except as otherwise hereinafter especially provided, shall direct the issue of a summons to the defendant, and if the plaintiff require the personal attendance of the defendant, and satisfy the Collector that such personal attendance is necessary, or the Collector of his own accord require such personal attendance, the summons shall contain an order for the defendant to appear personally on a day to be specified in the summons, otherwise the summons shall order the defendant to appear personally or by an agent duly authorized on his behalf, who has personal knowledge of the subject, or who shall be accompanied by a person who has such personal knowledge.

The day to be specified in the summons how to be fixed. Defendant to be ordered to produce necessary documents, and to bring witnesses willing to attend without process.

XLIV. The day to be specified in the summons shall be fixed with reference to the state of the file and the distance that the defendant may be or be supposed to be at the time from the place where the Court is held, and the summons shall order the defendant to produce any document which he may have in his possession, of which the plaintiff demands inspection, or upon which the defendant may intend to rely in support of his defence. It shall also enjoin him to bring with him his witnesses if they are willing to attend without issue of process; and shall be in the form A contained in the Schedule to this Act, or to the like effect.

Summons how to be served.

XLV. The summons shall be served by delivering a copy of the summons to the defendant personally when practicable; or if the summons cannot be served on the defendant personally, by affixing a copy of it to some conspicuous part of his usual place of abode, and also affixing a copy of the same in the Collector's Office.

Endorsement by Nazir if summons has been personally served or not.

XLVI. If the summons be served personally, the Nazir shall endorse on the summons the fact of such service. If personal service be not effected, the Nazir shall endorse on the summons the reason of not serving it personally, and how it has been served.

Execution of process in another District.

XLVII. If the usual place of abode of the defendant be in another District, the summons, together with the cost of the service thereof, shall be sent by the public post to the Collector of such District, who shall issue the summons, and return the same, after service, with the prescribed endorsement, to the Officer by whom it was transmitted to him.

XLVIII. The amount of the cost of serving the summons, or if a warrant be issued as provided in the next succeeding Section, of serving the warrant, shall in all cases be deposited in Court upon the same day or the day next following that on which the plaint or statement of claim is presented to the Collector. If the said amount be not so deposited (except in cases in which the Collector may allow the issue of summons free of cost under the discretion reserved to him in Section CXLVI), the case shall not be brought on the file of suits: but in such case the plaintiff may present another plaint at any time within the period allowed by the rules for the limitation of actions.

Cost of serving summons or warrant to be deposited in Court.

XLIX. If in any suit against an under-tenant or ryot for the recovery of an arrear of rent, or against an agent for the recovery of any money, papers, or accounts, the plaintiff desires a warrant of arrest to be issued against the defendant, such defendant being resident within the district in which the suit is instituted, he shall present with his statement of claim an application for the issue of such warrant. When such application is presented, the Collector shall examine the plaintiff or his agent, on his oath or affirmation or otherwise according to the law for the time being in force in relation to the examination of witnesses, and inspect the documents adduced by him in support of his claim, and if there be primâ facie grounds for believing the claim to be well-founded, and that, if a summons be issued, the defendant will abscond instead of appearing to answer the claim, the Collector may issue a warrant for the arrest of the defendant. The Collector shall fix a reasonable time for the return of the warrant which shall be in the form (B) contained in the Schedule to this Act, or to the like effect, and the Officer entrusted with the service of the warrant shall at the time of arresting the defendant deliver to him a notice addressed to the defendant (which shall be in the form (C) in the Schedule or to the like effect) containing the particulars of the claim, and requiring the defendant, if he contest the claim, to bring with him any document upon which he may intend to rely in support of his defence. But no such warrant shall be issued in a suit for arrears of rent due in respect of a dependent talook or other transferable tenure, which, as hereinafter provided, is liable to sale in execution of any decree which may be passed in the case.

Warrant of arrest in what cases to be issued.

L. If a defendant be arrested under the warrant of arrest, he shall be brought with all convenient speed before the Collector, and the Collector shall commit him to custody unless he deposit in Court such sum as may be specified in the notice.

Procedure after arrest of defendant.

LI. When a defendant is brought before the Collector under warrant, the Collector shall with all convenient speed proceed to try the case in the manner hereinafter provided; and if the suit cannot be at once adjudicated, the Collector may, if he think fit, require the defendant to give security for his appearance whenever the same may be required at any time whilst the suit is depending or until execution of the final decree which may be passed thereon, and may commit the defendant to the Civil jail to be there detained until he shall furnish such security or deposit such sum as the Collector shall order. The security bond shall be in the form (D) contained in the Schedule to this Act or to the like effect.

Procedure when defendant is brought before the Collector under warrant.

Form of security bond.

LII. If the defendant cannot be arrested under the warrant, the Collector, on the application of the plaintiff, shall either postpone the case for such period as he may think proper in order that the plaintiff may apply within the said period for another warrant to be issued for the arrest of the defendant, or shall forthwith issue a proclamation to be affixed in his own Office and at the residence of the defendant fixing a day for the hearing of the case, which shall not be less than ten days from the date of the publication of the notice at the residence of the defendant. If the defendant shall appear in pursuance of the proclamation, he shall be dealt with as provided in the last preceding Section.

Procedure if warrant of arrest cannot be served upon the defendant.

LIII. If it shall appear to the Collector that the arrest of the defendant was applied for without reasonable cause, the Collector may in his decree award to the defendant such sum not exceeding one hundred Rupees as he may deem a reasonable compensation for any injury or loss which the defendant may have sustained by reason of such arrest, or of his detention in jail during the pendency of the suit.

Compensation for arrest applied for without reasonable cause.

LIV. If on the day fixed by the summons or proclamation for the appearance of the defendant, or on any subsequent day to which the hearing of the case may be adjourned prior to the recording of an issue for trial as hereinafter provided, neither of the parties appear in person or by an agent, the case shall be struck off, with liberty to the plaintiff to bring a fresh suit unless precluded by the rules for the limitation of action.

Consequence of neither party appearing on the day of trial.

LV. If on any such day the defendant only appear, the Collector shall pass judgment against the plaintiff by default unless the defendant admit the cause of action, in which case the Collector shall proceed to give judgment for the plaintiff upon such admission without costs; provided that such judgment, if there be more than one defendant, shall be only against the defendant who makes the admission.

If defendant only appear to dispute the demand, Collector shall pass judgment by default; but if defendant admit the claim, Collector shall decree upon such admission.

Proviso.

LVI. If on any such day the plaintiff only appear, the Collector, upon proof that the summons or proclamation has been duly served according to the provisions of this Act, shall proceed to examine the plaintiff or his agent, and after considering the allegations of the plaintiff, and any documentary or oral evidence adduced by him, may either dismiss the case or postpone the hearing of it to a future day for the attendance of any witness the plaintiff may wish to call, or may pass judgment ex parte against the defendant.

If plaintiff only appear, Collector may proceed ex parte.

If defendant appear on a day to which the case is postponed, Collector may allow him to be heard in answer to the suit.

LVII. If the defendant shall appear on any subsequent day to which the hearing of the suit may be postponed under the last preceding Section, the Collector may, upon such conditions, if any, as to costs or otherwise as he may think proper, allow the defendant to be heard in answer to the suit as if he had appeared on the day fixed for his attendance.

Revival, reversal, and alteration of decrees ex parte or by default.

LVIII. No appeal shall lie from a judgment passed ex parte against a defendant who has not appeared, or from a judgment against a plaintiff by default for non-appearance. But in all such cases if the party against whom judgment has been given shall appear, either in person or by agent, if a plaintiff within fifteen days from the date of the Collector's order, and if a defendant within fifteen days after any process for enforcing the judgment has been executed, or at any earlier period, and shall show good and sufficient cause for his previous non-appearance and shall satisfy the Collector that there has been a failure of justice, the Collector may, upon such terms and conditions as to costs or otherwise as he may think proper, revive the suit and alter or rescind the decree, according to the justice of the case. But no decree shall be reversed or altered without previously summoning the adverse party to appear and be heard in support of it.

On appearance of parties, the parties to be examined by the Collector, and may cross examine each other.

LIX. When both parties appear in person or by agent on the day named in the summons, or upon any subsequent day to which the hearing of the case may be adjourned, for sufficient reason to be recorded by the Collector, the Collector shall proceed to examine such of the parties as may be present, and either party or his agent may cross-examine the other. If either of the parties be not bound to attend personally, any agent by whom he shall appear, or any person who shall accompany such agent, shall be examined and cross-examined in like manner as the party himself would have been if he had attended personally. At the time of examination the defendant, if he think fit, may file a written statement of his defence.

Examination of parties, &c.

LX. The examination of the parties or their agents or such other persons as aforesaid shall be upon oath or affirmation or otherwise according to the law for the time being in force relative to the examination of witnesses. The substance of the examination shall be reduced to writing in the vernacular language of the Collector and filed with the record.

Witnesses to be examined.

LXI. If either of the parties shall bring forward a witness on such day, the Collector may take the evidence of such witness.

Documentary evidence to be produced by defendant.

LXII. If the defendant rely on any document in support of his defence, he shall deliver the same into Court at the first hearing of the suit; and unless such document be so delivered in, or its non-production be sufficiently excused, or unless the Collector see fit to extend the time for producing the same, it shall not afterwards be admitted.

After examination, Collector may make his decree if no further evidence is required.

LXIII. If after the examination required by Section LIX and also the examination of any witness who may attend to give evidence on behalf of either of the parties, and after a consideration of the documentary evidence adduced, a decree can be properly made without further evidence, the Collector shall make his decree accordingly.

Consequence of inability of agent to answer.

LXIV. If on such examination as aforesaid the agent of either party be unable to answer any material question relating to the case which the Collector is of opinion that the party whom he represents ought to answer, and is likely to be able to answer if interrogated in person, the Collector may postpone the hearing of the case to a future day, and direct that the party whose agent may have been unable to answer as aforesaid shall attend in person on such day; and if the party so directed to attend shall fail to appear in person on the day appointed, the Collector may pass judgment as in case of default or make such other order as he may deem proper in the circumstances of the case.

If necessary, Collector to record issue and to fix a day for hearing further evidence.

LXV. If on such examination as aforesaid it appear that the parties are at issue on any question upon which it is necessary to hear further evidence, the Collector shall declare and record such issue, and shall fix a convenient day for the examination of witnesses and the trial of the suit; and the trial shall take place on that day unless there be sufficient reason for adjourning it, which reason shall be recorded by the Collector.

Parties shall produce their witnesses on the day of trial; or Collector on application of either party, shall issue summons for the attendance of a witness.

LXVI. The parties shall bring forward their witnesses on the day of trial, and if either party require assistance to procure the attendance of a witness on such day either to give evidence or to produce a document, he shall apply to the Collector in sufficient time before the day fixed for the trial, to enable the witness to be summoned to attend on that day; and the Collector shall issue a summons requiring such witness to attend.

Rules regarding attendance, examination, &c. of witnesses.

LXVII. The provisions of the Regulations and Acts and all other rules for the time being in force relating to the evidence of witnesses, for procuring the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents, and for the examination, remuneration, and punishment of witnesses, whether parties to the case or not, in cases before the Civil Courts of the Presidency of Bengal, shall, except so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, apply to and be of equal force and effect in suits under this Act.

Consequence of parties not appearing on the day fixed for the trial of any issue.

LXVIII. If on the day fixed for the trial of any issue neither of the parties appear, the case shall be struck off under the conditions provided in Section LIV. If on any such day one only of the parties appear, the issue may be tried and determined in the absence of the other party upon such proof as may be then before the Court.

Suits instituted or defended by Naibs, Gomastahs, &c.

LXIX. When suits under this Act are instituted or defended by Naibs, Gomastahs, or other persons employed in the collection of rent or management of land in the name and on the behalf of the landholders by whom they are so employed, all the provisions of this Act, by which the personal appearance or attendance of parties to a suit is or may be required, shall be applicable to such Naibs, Gomastahs, or other persons; and any thing which by this Act is required or permitted to be done by a party in person, may be done by any such person as aforesaid. Processes served on any such person shall be as effectual for all purposes in relation to the suit as if the same had been served on the landholder in person, and all the provisions of this Act relative to the service of processes on a party to the suit shall be applicable to the service of processes on such person.

Personal attendance of plaintiff or defendant not required in certain cases.

LXX. A plaintiff or defendant shall not be required to attend in person if of the female sex and of a rank or class which according to the custom and manners of the country would render it improper for her to appear in public.

Employment of authorized agents or mookhtars.

LXXI. Any party to a suit may employ an authorized agent or mookhtar to conduct the case on his behalf, but the appointment of such agent or mookhtar shall not excuse the personal attendance of the plaintiff or defendant in cases where his personal attendance is required by the summons or any order of the Court; and no fee for any agent shall be charged as part of the costs of suit in any case under this Act.

Collector may grant time or adjourn hearing.

LXXII. The Collector may in any case grant time to the plaintiff or defendant to proceed in the prosecution or defence of a suit, and may also from time to time, in order to the production of further proof or for other sufficient reason to be recorded by the Collector, adjourn the hearing or further hearing of any case in such manner as to him may seem fit.

Collector may cause local enquiry to be made.

LXXIII. The Collector may at any stage of a case cause a local enquiry and report respecting the matter in dispute to be made by any Officer subordinate to him, or by any other Officer of Government with the consent of the authority to whom such Officer is subordinate, or may himself proceed to the spot and make such local enquiry in person. The provisions of the law for the time being in force relative to local enquiries by Ameens or Commissioners under orders of the Civil Courts shall apply to any local enquiry made by any Officer under this Section, and, so far as they are applicable, to enquiries made by the Collector in person. In the latter case the Collector, after completing the enquiry, shall record on the proceedings such observations as appear to him appropriate, and the observations so recorded shall be received as evidence in the suit.

Defendant may pay money into Court in satisfaction of the demand.

If plaintiff elect to proceed and ultimately recover no further sum than that paid into Court, he shall be liable to the subsequent costs.

LXXIV. The defendant in any action under this Act may pay into Court such sum of money as he shall think a full satisfaction for the demand of the plaintiff, together with the costs incurred by the plaintiff up to the time of such payment, and such sum shall be paid to the plaintiff. If the defendant deposit less than the sum claimed and the plaintiff elect to proceed in the case, and ultimately recover no further sum than shall have been paid into Court, the plaintiff shall be charged with any costs incurred by the defendant in the suit after such payment.

No interest on deposits.

LXXV. No interest shall be allowed to a plaintiff on any sum paid by the defendant into Court from the date of such payment, whether such sum be in full of the plaintiff's claim or fall short thereof.

If on trial of suit for delivery of pottah parties do not agree as to the time for which the pottah is granted, Collector to fix the time.

Proviso.

LXXVI. If on the trial of a suit for the delivery of a pottah instituted by a ryot having a right of occupancy the parties do not agree as to the term for which the pottah is to be granted, the Collector shall fix such term as under the circumstances of the case he may think just and proper. Provided that the term shall not in any case be longer than ten years, and in estates not permanently settled shall not extend beyond the period for which the proprietor of the estate has engaged with Government. Provided also that, if the defendant be a farmer or other person having only a temporary interest in the land, the term of the pottah shall not extend beyond the period of the continuance of such interest. For cultivators not having a right of occupancy, the term of pottah shall be exclusively in the discretion of the person entitled to the rent of the land.

If in actions for rent a third claimant appear, he is to be made a party to the suit.

Proviso.

LXXVII. When in any suit between a landholder and a ryot or under-tenant under this Act, the right to receive the rent of the land or tenure cultivated or held by the ryot or under-tenant is disputed, and such right is claimed by or on behalf of a third person on the ground that such third person or a person through whom he claims has actually and in good faith received and enjoyed such rent before and up to the time of the commencement of the suit, such third person shall be made a party to the suit, and the question of the actual receipt and enjoyment of the rent by such third person shall be enquired into and the suit shall be decided according to the result of such enquiry. Provided always that the decision of the Collector shall not affect the right of either party, who may have a legal title to the rent of such land or tenure, to establish his title by suit in the Civil Court if instituted within one year from the date of the decision.

Suits for ejectment or cancelment of lease.

LXXVIII. Any person desiring to eject a ryot or to cancel a lease on account of non-payment of arrears of rent, may sue for such ejectment or cancelment and for recovery of the arrear in the same action, or may adduce any unexecuted decree for arrears of rent as evidence of the existence of such arrear in a suit for such ejectment or cancelment. In all cases of suits for the ejectment of a ryot or the cancelment of a lease, the decree shall specify the amount of the arrear, and if such amount together with interests and costs of suit be paid into Court within fifteen days from the date of the decree, execution shall be stayed.

Judgment how to be pronounced.

LXXIX. The Collector shall pronounce judgment in open Court. The judgment shall be written in the Vernacular language of the Collector and shall contain the reasons for the same, and shall be dated and signed by the Collector at the time when it is pronounced.

If person required by the decree refuse to grant pottah, Collector may do so.

LXXX. When a decree is given for the delivery of a pottah, if the person required by the decree to grant such pottah refuse or delay to grant the same, the Collector may grant a pottah in conformity with the terms of the decree under his own hand and seal, and such pottah shall be of the same force and effect as if granted by the person aforesaid.

Refusal of person to execute kubooliyet as required by the decree.

LXXXI. When a decree is given for the delivery of a kubooliyet, if the person required by the decree to execute such kubooliyet shall refuse to execute the same, the decree shall be evidence of the amount of rent claimable from such person, and a copy of the decree under the hand and seal of the Collector shall be of the same force and effect as a kubooliyet executed by the said person.

Mode of executing decree for ejectment or re-instatement of ryot.

LXXXII. If the decree be for the ejectment of any ryot from land occupied by him, or for the re-instatement of any ryot in the occupancy of land from which he has been ejected, the decree shall be executed by giving the possession or occupancy of the land to the person entitled by the decree to such possession or occupancy. If any opposition is made to the execution of the order for giving such possession or occupancy by the party against whom the order is made, the Magistrate, on the application of the Collector, shall give effect to the same.

Punishment for obstructing execution.

Mode of executing decree for cancelment of a lease or for ejectment or re-instatement of a farmer or tenant.

LXXXIII. If the decree be for the cancelment of any lease or the ejectment of any farmer or other person (not being an actual cultivator) or for the re-instatement of any farmer or other such person in the possession of a farm or tenure from which he has been ejected, the decree shall be executed by proclaiming the substance of the decree to the cultivators or other occupants by beat of drum or in such other manner as may be customary, and affixing the same in some conspicuous place within or adjacent to the farm or tenure.

In what case a judgment debtor may be detained or imprisoned without issue of process of execution.

LXXXIV. If the decree be for arrears of rent or for money, papers, or accounts, and the defendant have been committed to jail or appear pursuant to the conditions of any security bond given under Section LI, the Collector may order that he be detained in or committed to the Civil jail, unless he immediately pay into Court the amount of the decree with costs, or otherwise comply with the terms of the decree.

Liability of surety on failure to deliver judgment-debtor into custody.

LXXXV. If the judgment-debtor have given security for his appearance and be not present when judgment is pronounced, and the surety shall fail to deliver him into custody when required so to do, process of execution may be taken out against the surety in the same manner as if a decree for the amount due by the debtor had been passed against the surety. If the decree be for the delivery of papers or accounts, and the defendant be not present when judgment is pronounced and the surety shall fail to deliver him into custody when required so to do, execution may be taken out against the surety for the sum due under the bond in the same manner as if a decree for that sum had been passed against the surety.

Issue of process of execution.

LXXXVI. Process of execution may be issued against either the person or the property of a judgment-debtor; but process shall not be issued simultaneously against both person and property. Process of execution against the person or moveable property of a debtor shall be in the form (E) or (F) contained in the Schedule to this Act, or to the like effect.

Application for execution against moveable property.

LXXXVII. Any moveable property required to be seized under an execution shall, if practicable, be described in a list to be furnished by the judgment-creditor, but if the creditor is unable to furnish such list he may apply for a general attachment of the debtor's effects to the amount of the judgment and costs. In either case the property to be seized shall be pointed out to the Officer entrusted with the execution of the process by the creditor or his agent.

How long warrant shall continue in force.

LXXXVIII. Every warrant of execution shall bear date on the day on which it is signed by the Collector and shall continue in force for such period as the Collector may direct, not being more than sixty days calculated from such date.

Second and successive warrants.

LXXXIX. Second and successive warrants of execution may be issued by order of the Collector on the application of the judgment-creditor after the expiration of the period fixed for the continuance in force of a previous warrant.

After one year execution not to issue without notice.

XC. Process of execution shall not be issued upon any judgment without previous notice to the party against whom execution is applied for, if, when application for the issue of the process is made, a period of more than one year shall have elapsed from the date of the judgment or from the date of the last previous application for execution.

Execution not to issue against heir or representative of a deceased party without notice.

XCI. Execution on a judgment shall not issue against the heir or other representative of a deceased party without notice to such heir or other representative to appear and be heard.

No process of execution to be issued three years after date of judgment.

XCII. No process of execution of any description whatsoever shall be issued, on a judgment under this Act, after the lapse of three years from the date of such judgment, unless the judgment be for a sum exceeding five hundred Rupees, in which case the period within which execution may be had shall be regulated by the general rules in force in respect to the period allowed for the execution of decrees of the Civil Courts.

Warrant against the person.

XCIII. If a warrant issue for taking in execution the body of any person, the Officer charged with the execution of the warrant shall bring him with all convenient speed before the Collector. If such person shall not then deposit in Court the full amount specified in the warrant or make such arrangement for the payment of the same as shall be satisfactory to the judgment-creditor, or satisfy the Collector that he has no present means of paying the debt, the Collector shall send him to the Civil jail there to remain for such time as shall be directed by a warrant addressed to the keeper of the jail, unless he shall in the meantime pay the full amount for the payment of which he is liable under the decree. Provided that the time for which a debtor may be confined in execution of a decree under this Act shall not exceed three calendar months when the amount decreed exclusive of costs does not exceed fifty Rupees, or six calendar months when such amount does not exceed five hundred Rupees, or two years in any other case. If the decree against any person arrested under a warrant be for the delivery of papers or accounts and the papers or accounts shall not be delivered by him when he is brought before the Collector, such person may be committed to the Civil Jail there to remain for such time not exceeding six calendar months as the Collector shall direct, unless he shall in the meantime deliver the papers or accounts according to the terms of the decree.

Limit of imprisonment.

If arrest be for non Delivery of accounts.

No person to be imprisoned a second time under same judgment.

XCIV. Any person once discharged from jail shall not be imprisoned a second time under the same judgment. If the amount due under the decree do not exceed one hundred Rupees, the Collector may declare such discharged person absolved from further liability under that decree. In other cases the discharge shall not extinguish the liability of the discharged person under the decree, or exempt any property belonging to such person from attachment in execution of the same.

Diet-money to be deposited at the time of issue of warrant.

XCV. Any person applying for a warrant of arrest under Section XLIX or suing out process of execution against the body of any person, shall deposit in Court, at the time of issue of the warrant, diet-money for one month of thirty days at such rate as the Collector may direct, not exceeding two annas per diem, unless the Collector for any special reason direct that deposit be made at a higher rate, which shall not exceed four annas per diem.

Payment of diet-money in advance during imprisonment.

XCVI. Payment of diet-money at the same rate shall be made previously to the commencement of each succeeding month of the imprisonment, in failure of which the party confined shall be discharged.

Diet-money to be costs in suit.

XCVII. All diet money spent in providing subsistence for any prisoner shall be added to the costs in the suit, and any diet-money not so spent shall be returned to the person who deposited the same.

List of property to be prepared and proclamation of sale to be published &c.

XCVIII. In executing a writ of execution against the moveable property of a debtor liable under this Act, the Officer charged with the execution of the writ shall prepare a list of the property pointed out by the judgment-creditor, and shall publish a proclamation specifying the day upon which the sale is intended to be held together with a copy of the said list at the intended place of sale and at the residence of the debtor. A copy of the said proclamation and list shall be transmitted to the Collector and shall be affixed in his Office.

Custody and sale of moveable property taken in execution.

XCIX. No sale of any moveable property taken in execution shall be made until after the end of ten days next following the day on which such property may have been so taken. Until such sale the property shall be deposited in some fit place or it may remain in custody of some fit person approved by the Officer executing the writ. The provisions of Sections CXXIX to CXXXIII, so far as the same are applicable, shall be applied to sales under this Section.

Collector may stay sale of moveable property seized if a third party claim any interest therein.

C. If before the day fixed for the sale a third party appear before the Collector and claim a right or interest in any of the moveable property taken in execution, the Collector shall examine such party or his agent on oath or affirmation or otherwise, according to the law for the time being in force relative to the examination of witnesses, and if he see sufficient reason for so doing may stay the sale of such property.

Collector to adjudicate such claims.

CI. The Collector shall adjudicate upon such claim and make such order between the claimant and the plaintiff and defendant in the original suit as shall seem fit. In trying such claim the Collector shall be guided by the rules contained in this Act so far as they may be applicable.

Claimant failing to establish his right, liable to pay compensation to judgment creditor.

CII. If the claimant shall fail to establish his right to the property taken in execution, the Collector at the time of disposing of the case may award to the judgment-creditor against such claimant as part of the costs such sum as he may consider sufficient to cover any loss of interest or damage which the judgment-creditor may have sustained by reason of the postponement of the sale of the property.

CIII. No appeal shall lie from any order passed by the Collector under the two last preceding Sections. But the party against whom the same may be given shall be at liberty to bring a suit in the Civil Court to establish his right at any time within one year from the date of the order; provided that, if the order be for the sale of the property, the suit shall not be for the recovery of the property, but shall be for damages against the judgment-creditor by whom the property was brought to sale.

No appeal from order of Collector under the two last preceding Sections.

Proviso.

CIV. No irregularity in publishing or conducting a sale of moveable property under an execution shall vitiate such sale, but this rule shall not be held to deprive any person who may sustain damage by reason of such irregularity from recovering such damage by action in the Civil Court; provided such action be brought within one year from the date of sale.

Sale not vitiated by irregularity in publishing or conducting the same.

Proviso.

CV. If the decree be for an arrear of rent due in respect of an under-tenure, which by the title-deeds or the custom of the country is transferable by sale, the judgment-creditor may make application for the sale of the tenure, and the tenure may thereupon be brought to sale in execution of the decree, according to the rules for the sale of under-tenures for the recovery of arrears of rent due in respect thereof contained in any law for the time being in force. But no such application shall be received when a warrant of execution has been previously issued against the person or moveable property of the judgment-debtor, so long as such warrant remains in force. If after sale of an under-tenure any portion of the amount decreed remains due, process may be applied for against any other property, moveable or immoveable, belonging to the debtor, and any such immoveable property may be brought to sale in the manner provided in Section CX of this Act.

Sale of transferable tenures in execution of decrees for arrears of rent.

CVI. If before the day fixed for the sale of any such under-tenure as aforesaid in execution of a decree for arrears of rent due in respect of such under-tenure, a third party appear before the Collector, and allege that such third party and not the person against whom the decree has been obtained, is the proprietor of such under-tenure, and was in lawful possession of the same at the time when such decree was obtained, the Collector shall examine such party in the manner provided in Section C for the examination of third parties, and if he see sufficient reason for so doing, and such party shall deposit in Court the amount of the decree or give sufficient security for the same, the Collector shall stay the sale and proceed to enquire into and adjudicate upon the claim. Provided that no transfer of an under-tenure which by the provisions of this Act or any other law for the time being in force is required to be registered in the Sherishteh of the Zemindar or superior tenant shall be recognized unless it have been so registered, or unless sufficient cause for non-registration be shown to the satisfaction of the Collector.

If third party claim to be the proprietor and lawful possessor of such under-tenure, Collector to stay the sale and to enquire into and adjudicate upon the claim.

Proviso.

CVII. In trying such claim the Collector shall be guided by the rules contained in this Act, so far as the same may be applicable and the judgment passed by the Collector on such claim shall not be subject to appeal, but the party against whom it is given may bring a suit in the Civil Court to establish his right at any time within one year from the date of the judgment.

Mode of adjudicating such claims.

CVIII. If a decree is given in favor of a sharer in a joint undivided estate, dependent talook, or other similar tenure for money due to him on account of his share of the rent of an under-tenure situate in such undivided estate or talook or tenure, application for the sale of such under-tenure shall not be received unless execution shall have been first taken out against any moveable property which the judgment-debtor may possess within the District in which the suit was instituted and the sale of such property, if any, shall have proved insufficient to satisfy the judgment. In such case such under-tenure, if of the nature described in Section CV, may be brought to sale in execution of the decree in the same manner as any other immoveable property may be sold in execution of a decree for money under the provisions of the two next following Sections.

Execution of decrees given in favor of sharers in undivided estates or tenures.

CIX. In the execution of any decree for the payment of money under this Act not being money due as arrears of rent of a saleable under-tenure, if satisfaction of the judgment cannot be obtained by execution against the person or moveable property of the debtor within the District in which the suit was instituted, the judgment-creditor may apply for execution against any immoveable property belonging to such debtor.

In all cases of decrees for money, if judgment cannot be satisfied by sale of debtor's moveable property, execution may be had against his immoveable property.

CX. If the immoveable property against which execution is applied for be a house or other building, process shall be issued in the same manner as for the attachment and sale of moveable property, and the provisions of Sections XCVIII and XCIX shall be applicable to the execution of such process. If the property be a saleable under-tenure it shall be sold under the provisions of the law for the time being in force applicable to the sale of such under-tenures for demands other than those of arrears of rent due in respect thereof. If the property be an estate or a share of an estate, it shall be sold under the rules in force for the sale of estates for the recovery of demands recoverable by the same process as arrears of land revenue.

Mode of executing process if immoveable property be a house or other building.

If it be a saleable under-tenure.

If it be an estate or a share of an estate.

CXI. If, before the day fixed for the sale of any immoveable property as aforesaid, objection shall be offered to the sale on the ground of such property not belonging to the judgment-

Consequence of objection being offered before the sale of any immoveable property.

debtor, and consequently not being liable to be sold in execution of a decree against him, the Collector shall examine the party making the objection in the manner prescribed in Section C for the examination of third parties, and if satisfied that there is sufficient ground for so doing, shall stay the sale and proceed to enquire into and adjudicate upon the objection, in the same manner, and subject to the same right of suit by the party against whom judgment may be given, as is provided in Section CVII.

CXII. The produce of the land is held to be hypothecated for the rent payable in respect thereof; and when an arrear of rent as defined in Section XX of this Act, is due from any cultivator of land, the zemindar, lakhenajdar, farmer, dependent talookdar, under-farmer, or other person entitled to receive rent immediately from such cultivator, instead of bringing suit for the arrear as hereinbefore provided, may recover the same by distraint and sale of the produce of the land on account of which the arrear is due under the following rules. Provided always that, when a cultivator has given security for the payment of his rent, the produce of the land for the rent of which security has been given, shall not be liable to distraint. Provided also that no sharer, in a joint estate, dependent talook, or other tenure, in which a division of lands has not been made amongst the sharers, shall exercise the power of distraint otherwise than through a manager authorized to collect the rents of the whole estate, talook, or tenure, on behalf of all the sharers in the same. Provided further that in putteedaree estates situated in districts under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces distraint shall be made only through a lumberdar.

Produce of the land to be held hypothecated for the rent.

Arrears of rent may be recovered by distraint under the following rules.

Cultivators who have given security to be exempt from distraint

CXIII. Distraint shall not be made for any arrear which has been due for a longer period than one year; nor for the recovery of any sum in excess of the rent payable for the same land in the preceding year, unless a written engagement for the payment of such excess has been executed by the cultivator.

No distraint in certain cases.

CXIV. The power of distraint vested by Section CXII in Zemindars and other persons entitled to receive rent from cultivators of land, may be exercised by managers under the Court of Wards, Surburakars, and Tehsildars of estates held under khas management, and other persons lawfully entrusted with the charge of landed property; and also by the naibs, gomashtahs, and other agents employed by any such persons as aforesaid in the collection of rent if expressly authorized by power of attorney in that behalf. Provided that if any illegal act is committed by any such Naib, Gomashtah, or other agent under color of the exercise of the said power, the person employing such agent shall be liable, as well as the agent, for any damages accruing by reason of such act.

Power of distraint to be exercised by managers under the Court of Wards, &c.

Proviso.

CXV. Standing crops and other ungathered products of the earth, and crops or other products when reaped or gathered, and deposited in any threshing floor or place for treading out grain or the like, whether in the field or within a homestead, may be distrained by persons invested with the powers of distraint under the provisions of this Act. But no such crops or products other than the produce of the land in respect of which an arrear of rent is due or of land held under the same engagement, and no grain or other produce after it has been stored by the cultivator, and no other property whatsoever, shall be liable to distraint under this Act.

Standing crops and crops gathered but not stored liable to distraint.

CXVI. Before or at the time when distraint is made under this Act, the distrainer shall cause the defaulter to be served with a written demand for the amount of the arrear, together with an account exhibiting the grounds on which the demand is made. The demand and account shall, if practicable, be served personally on the defaulter, or if he abscond or conceal himself so that they cannot be so served, shall be affixed at his usual place of residence.

Defaulter to be served with a written demand, &c., before or at the time of distraint.

CXVII. Unless the amount of the demand is immediately paid or tendered, the distrainer may distrain property as aforesaid of value proportionate to the amount of the arrear with costs of the distress; and shall prepare a list or description of the said property, and deliver a copy of the same to the owner, or if he be absent affix it at his usual place of residence.

Distress to be proportionate to the arrear if not paid or tendered.

List of property to be distrained, to be served on owner.

CXVIII. Standing crops and other ungathered products may, notwithstanding the distraint, be reaped and gathered by the cultivator, and may be stored in such granaries or other places as are commonly used by him for the purpose. If the cultivator neglect to do so, the distrainer shall cause the said crops or products to be reaped or gathered, and in such case shall store the same either in such granaries or other places as aforesaid, or in some other convenient place in the neighbourhood. In either case the distrained property shall be placed in the charge of some person appointed by the distrainer for the purpose. Crops or products which from their nature do not admit of being stored, may be sold before they are cut or gathered, under the rules hereinafter provided; but in such case the distraint shall be made at least twenty days before the time when the crops or products or any part of the same would be fit for cutting or gathering.

Standing crops &c. when attached, to be reaped and stored by the cultivator, or, if he neglect to do so, by the distrainer.

CXIX. If a distrainer shall be opposed, or shall apprehend resistance, and shall desire to obtain the assistance of a public Officer, he may apply to the Collector, and the Collector may, if he thinks necessary, depute an Officer to support the distrainer in making the distraint.

Distrainer may apply for aid to the Collector upon occasion of resistance made or apprehended.

Person empowered to distrain may give written authority to their servants to do so.

CXX. When any person, empowered to distrain property under Section CXII or Section CXIV, shall employ a servant or other person to make the distress, he shall give to such servant or person a written authority (which may be on plain paper) for the same, and the distress shall be made in the name and on the responsibility of the person giving such authority.

Distress to be withdrawn if defaulter tender payment of arrear and expenses of attachment prior to the day of sale.

CXXI. If at any time after property has been distrained, and prior to the day fixed for its being put up to sale as hereinafter provided, the owner of the property shall tender payment of the arrear demanded of him and of the expenses of the distress, the distrainer shall receive the same, and shall forthwith withdraw the distress.

Application for sale

CXXII. Within five days from the time of the storing of any distrained crops or products, or if the crops or products do not, from their nature, admit of being stored, within five days from the time of making the distress, the distrainer shall apply for sale of the same to the Civil Court Ameen, or other Officer authorized to sell property in satisfaction of decrees of the Civil Court within the circle in which the distrained property is situate, or to such other public Officer as the local Government shall appoint for the purpose.

Form of application.

CXXIII. The application shall be in writing, and shall contain an inventory or description of the property distrained, the name of the defaulter and his place of residence, the amount due, and the date of the distress, and the place in which the distrained property is deposited. Together with the application, the distrainer shall deliver to the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer the amount necessary for the service of a notice upon the defaulter as hereinafter provided.

Cost of notice upon defaulter to be deposited by distrainer.

Procedure by Civil Court Ameen &c. on receipt of application.

CXXIV. Immediately on receipt of the application the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer shall transmit a copy of it to the Collector; and shall serve a notice (which shall be in the form (G) contained in the Schedule to this Act, or to the like effect) on the person whose property has been distrained, requiring him either to pay the amount demanded, or to institute a suit to contest the demand before the Collector within the period of fifteen days from the receipt of the notice. He shall at the same time send to the Collector for the purpose of being put up in his Office, and if in the North-Western Provinces in the cutcherry of the Tuhseeldar, a proclamation fixing a day for the sale of the distrained property, which shall not be less than twenty days from the date of the application; and shall deliver a copy of the proclamation to the peon charged with the service of the notice, to be put up by him in the place where the distrained property is deposited. The proclamation shall contain a description of the property, the demand for which it is to be sold, and the place where the sale is to be held.

Ameen to suspend sale on receipt of Collector's certificate of the institution of a suit.

CXXV. If a suit shall be instituted before the Collector in pursuance of the aforesaid notice, the Collector shall transmit to the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer, or if so requested shall deliver to the owner of the distrained property, a certificate of the institution of such suit; and on such certificate being received by or presented to the Ameen or other Officer, he shall suspend proceedings in regard to the sale of the distrained property.

Suit to contest distrainer's demand before issue of notice of sale.

CXXVI. A person whose property has been distrained in the manner hereinbefore provided, may institute a suit to contest the demand of the distrainer immediately after the distraint of his property, and before the issue of notice of sale. When such suit is instituted, the Collector shall proceed in the manner prescribed in the last preceding Section. If thereafter application for the sale of the property is made to the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer, he shall transmit a copy of the application to the Collector, and suspend further proceedings pending the decision of the case.

Distress to be withdrawn on receipt of Collector's certificate that the owner has executed a bond with security to pay amount of decree with interest and costs.

CXXVII. The person whose property has been distrained may, at the time of instituting any such suit as aforesaid, or at any subsequent period, execute a bond with security binding himself to pay whatever sum may be adjudged to be due from him with interest and costs of suit, and when such bond is executed the Collector shall give to the owner of the property a certificate to that effect, or if so requested shall serve the distrainer with notice of the same; and upon such certificate being presented to the distrainer by the owner of the property or served on him by order of the Collector the property shall be released from distraint.

On expiration of period fixed in the proclamation of sale, if institution of suit to contest distrainer's demand have not been certified, sale may be proceeded with.

CXXVIII. On the expiration of the period fixed in the proclamation of sale, if the institution of a suit to contest the demand of the distrainer has not been certified to the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer in the manner hereinbefore provided, he shall, unless the said demand, with such costs of the distress as shall be allowed by him, be discharged in full, proceed to sell the property or such part of it as may be necessary in the manner following.

Place and manner of sale.

CXXIX. The sale shall be held at the place where the distrained property is deposited, or at the nearest gunge, bazar, haut, or other place of public resort, if the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer should be of opinion that it is likely to sell there to better advantage. The property shall be sold by public auction in one or more lots as the Officer holding the sale may think advisable, and if the demand with the costs of distress and sale be satisfied by the sale of a portion of the property, the distress shall be immediately withdrawn with respect to the remainder.

CXXX. If on the property being put up for sale a fair price in the estimation of the Officer holding the sale be not offered for it, and the owner of the property or some person authorized to act on his behalf apply to have the sale postponed until the next day, or the next market day if a market be held at the place of sale, the sale shall be postponed until such day and shall be then completed whatever price may be offered for the property.

If fair price be not offered, sale may be postponed to another day, and shall be then completed at whatever price may be offered.

CXXXI. The price of every lot shall be paid for in ready money at the time of sale or as soon after as the Officer holding the sale shall think necessary; and in default of such payment the property shall be put up again and sold. When the purchase money has been paid in full, the Officer holding the sale shall give the purchaser a certificate describing the property purchased by him and the price paid.

Payment of purchase money.

CXXXII. From the proceeds of the sale of distrained property the Officer holding the sale shall make a deduction at the rate of one anna in the Rupee on account of the costs of the sale, and shall transmit the amount to the Collector in order that it may be credited to Government. He shall then then pay to the distrainer the expenses incurred by the distrainer on account of the distress and of the issue of the notice and proclamation of sale prescribed in Section CXXIV, to such amount as, after examination of the statement of expenses furnished by the distrainer, he shall think proper to allow. The remainder shall be applied to the discharge of the arrear for which the distraint was made with interest thereon up to the day of sale, and if there be any overplus it shall be delivered to the person whose property shall have been sold.

Proceeds of sale.

CXXXIII. Officers holding sales of property under this Act, and all persons employed by or subordinate to such Officers, are prohibited from purchasing either directly or indirectly any property sold by such Officers.

Officers holding sales prohibited from purchasing.

CXXXIV. Civil Court Ameens and other Officers as aforesaid are required to bring to the notice of Collectors any material irregularities committed by distrainers under color of this Act; and if in any case, on proceeding to hold a sale of property, the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer shall find that the owner of the property has not received due notice of the distress and intended sale, he shall postpone the sale and report the case to the Collector, and the Collector shall direct the issue of another notice and proclamation of sale under Section CXXIV or pass such other order as he may think proper.

All irregularities to be reported to the Collector.

Officer not to proceed to sale, if he find that defaulter has not received due notice.

CXXXV. When a Civil Court Ameen or other Officer has proceeded to any place for the purpose of holding a sale and no sale takes place either for the reason stated in the last preceding Section, or because the demand of the distrainer has been previously satisfied, no intimation of such satisfaction having been given by the distrainer to the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer, the charge of one anna in the Rupee on account of expenses shall be leviable and shall be calculated on the estimated value of the distrained property. If the demand of the distrainer be not satisfied until the day fixed for the sale, the charge for expenses shall be paid by the owner of the property and may be recovered by the sale of such portion thereof as may be necessary. In every other case it shall be paid by the distrainer and may be recovered by attachment and sale of the property of the distrainer under the warrant of the Collector. Provided always that in no case shall a larger amount than ten Rupees be recoverable under this Section.

Recovery of expenses if Ameen proceeds to place of sale and no sale takes place.

CXXXVI. All proceedings under this Act of the Civil Court Ameens and other Officers as aforesaid shall be subject to the revision and orders of the Collectors, and the Collectors, with the sanction of the Boards of Revenue, may require the submission of such periodical reports and statements of business performed by the Civil Court Ameens and other Officers as may be thought necessary.

Proceedings of Civil Court Ameens &c. subject to revision and orders of Collectors.

CXXXVII. When a suit has been instituted to contest the demand of a distrainer and the property has not been released on security, if the demand or any portion of it shall be adjudged to be due, the Collector shall issue an order to the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer authorizing the sale of the property, and on the application of the distrainer, which shall be made within five days from the receipt of such order by the Civil Court Ameen or other Officer, such Ameen or Officer shall publish a second proclamation in the manner prescribed in Section CXXIV, fixing another day for the sale of the distrained property, which shall not be less than five nor more than ten days from the date of the proclamation; and unless the amount adjudged to be due with the costs of distress be paid intermediately, shall proceed to sell the property in the manner hereinbefore provided.

Second proclamation of sale.

CXXXVIII. In all suits instituted to contest the demand of a distrainer, the distrainer shall be required to prove the arrear in the same manner as if he had himself brought suit for the amount under the foregoing provisions of this Act. If the demand or any part thereof is found to be due, the Collector shall make a decree for the amount in favor of the distrainer, and the amount may be recovered by sale of the property as provided in the last preceding Section if the distress has not been withdrawn, and if any balance remain due after such sale by execution of the decree against the person and any other property of the defaulter, or if the property have been released on security by execution of the decree against the person and property of the default and of his surety. If on the other hand the distraint is adjudged to be vexatious or groundless, the Collector, besides directing the release of the distrained property, may award such damages in favor of the plaintiff as the circumstances of the case shall seem to require.

Procedure after institution of suit to contest distrainer's demand.

CXXXIX. If any person shall claim as his own, property which has been distrained for arrears of rent alleged to be due from any other person, such person may institute a suit against the distrainer and such other person, to try the right to the property, in the same manner and under the same conditions as to the time of instituting the suit and to the consequent postponement of sale, as a person whose property has been distrained for an arrear of rent alleged to be due from him may institute a suit to contest the demand. When any such suit is instituted the property may be released upon security being given for the value of the same. If the claim is dismissed the Collector shall make an order for the sale of the property or the recovery of the value thereof, as the case may be, for the benefit of the distrainer. If the claim is upheld, the Collector shall decree the release of the distrained property with costs, and such damages (if any) as the circumstances of the case may seem to require. Provided always that no claim to any produce of land, liable to distraint under this Act, which at the time of the distress may have been found in the possession of a defaulting cultivator, whether such claim be in respect of a previous sale, mortgage, or otherwise, shall bar the prior claim of the person entitled to the rent of the land, nor shall any attachment in execution of a judgment of any Civil Court prevail against such prior claim.

Any person, whose property has been distrained for arrears of rent alleged to be due from another, may institute a suit against the distrainer, &c.

Proviso.

CXL. If in any case in which property has been distrained for an arrear of rent and a suit has been instituted to contest the demand, the right to distrain for such arrear is claimed by or on behalf of any person other than the distrainer on the ground of such other person being actually and in good faith in the receipt and enjoyment of the rent of the land, such other person shall be made a party to the suit, and the question of the actual receipt and enjoyment of the rent by such other person before and up to the time of the commencement of the suit shall be enquired into, and the suit shall be decided according to the result of such enquiry. Provided always that the decision of the Collector shall not affect the right of either party who may have a legal title to the rent of the land, to establish his title by suit in the Civil Court if instituted within one year from the date of the decision.

Procedure if distrainer's right to distrain be disputed.

CXLI. If any person, whose property has been distrained for the recovery of a demand not justly due, or of a demand due or alleged to be due from some other person, is prevented by any sufficient cause from bringing suit to contest the demand or to try the right to the property as the case may be within the period allowed by Sections CXXIV and CXXXIX and his property is in consequence brought to sale, he may nevertheless institute a suit under this Act to recover damages for the illegal distress and sale of his property.

Persons prevented from suing in time to save their property from sale, may sue for damages.

CXLII. If any person empowered to distrain property or employed for the purpose under a written authority by a person so empowered, shall distrain or sell, or cause to be sold, any property for the recovery of an arrear of rent alleged to be due, otherwise than according to the provisions of this Act, or if any distrained property shall be lost, damaged, or destroyed by reason of the distrainer not having taken proper precaution for the due keeping and preservation thereof, or if the distraint shall not be immediately withdrawn when it is required to be withdrawn by any provision of this Act, the owner of the property may institute a suit under this Act to recover damages for any injury which he may have thereby sustained.

Also persons aggrieved by any illegal act of distrainer.

CXLIII. If any person not empowered to distrain property under Sections CXII and CXIV of this Act, nor employed for the purpose under a written authority by a person so empowered, shall distrain or sell or cause to be sold any property under color of this Act, the owner of the property may institute a suit under this Act to recover damages from such person for any injury which he may have sustained from the distraint or sale. The said person shall be held to have committed criminal trespass, and shall be subject to the penalties for that offence in addition to any damages which may be awarded against him in such suit.

Unlawful distraint.
